AN ACT to incorporate the Mercantile Library Hall company of the city of Pittsburgh.

That George W. Jackson, James M'Cauley, Thomas M. Howe, James Park, junior, William Holmes, William M. Lyon, Isaac M. Pennock, J. K. Moorhead, Alexander Nimick, James M. Cooper, William Bagaley, John F. Singer, George Darsie, George Black, George W. Cass, William F. Johnston, Allen Kramer, John H. Shoenberger, Nathaniel Holmes, and Felix R. Brunot, all of the county of Allegheny, and their associates and successors, are hereby erected into a body corporate in deed and in law, by the name, style and title of the Mercantile Library Hall company, for the purpose of erecting a hall for the use and benefit of the Young Men's Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute of the city of Pittsburgh.

SEC. 2. That the said corporation, by the same name and title shall have perpetual succession, and be able to sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded in all courts of law, and elsewhere; and shall be capable and able in law and equity to take, purchase, hold and receive, to them and their successors, for the use of said company, lands, tenements, choses in action, goods and chattels, of whatever kind, nature or quality, real personal or mixed, which now are or hereafter may become, the property of said corporation, or be held for their use, by gift, grant, bargain, sale, conveyance, devise, bequest, or otherwise, from any person whomsoever, capable of making the same; and the same to grant, bargain, sell, mortgage, improve or dispose of for the use and benefit of the said company; may have a common seal, and at pleasure alter, change or renew the same; and in general do all things which may be necessary for the well-being and due management of said corporation.

SEC. 3. That the corporation hereby created shall have power to appoint such officers for its government, the management of its property and the superintendence of its affairs, as its members may deem proper and beneficial; and to make all by-laws which may seem proper to the same end; and to change or modify them at pleasure: Provided, That such by-laws and regulations shall not be contrary to the constitution of the State of Pennsylvania or the United States.

SEC. 4. That it shall be the duty of the corporation hereby created, as soon as a sufficient amount of stock shall have been subscribed, to purchase ground and proceed to erect thereon a suitable and commodious library building, for the use of the Young Men's Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute of the city of Pittsburgh, incorporated by act of Assembly approved the day of Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine; which said building shall be completed without unnecessary delay; and when ready for use shall, with the ground aforesaid, be perpetually leased to the Young Men's Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute on the following terms, viz:—The Young Men's Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute shall pay to the corporation hereby created, on or before the first day of January in each year, all necessary repairs and taxes to which said ground and buildings may be subjected; and in addition thereto, a sum not over six per centum per annum on the whole cost of said ground and building, or such part thereof as shall not have been repaid by the said Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute shall forever have entire possession and control of said ground, and the buildings erected thereon; and shall have power to sub-let the whole, or any portion thereof, and collect the rent and revenues, and make appropriation of the same; Provided nevertheless, That whatever rents and revenues they may receive, over and above the amount of taxes, interest and repairs, shall be paid to the corporation hereby created, to reimburse the same for the cost of the ground and buildings: And provided further, That if the Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute shall at any time be in arrears for two whole years for taxes, repairs and interest, then they shall forfeit their lease aforesaid, and the corporation hereby created may, after six months' notice to the president and managers of said Mercantile Library, take possession of the aforesaid ground and buildings; in that event, the corporation hereby created shall annually pay to the Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute such proportion of the net revenue from the aforesaid ground and buildings as the amount paid by the Mercantile Library towards the reimbursement of the cost of the ground and buildings shall be to the whole cost thereof; and in case of sale of the whole or any part, the said Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute shall be entitled to a like proportion of the proceeds of sale.

SEC. 5. That on or before the completion of said buildings, the corporation hereby created shall enter into good and sufficient covenant with the Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute to convey to said corporation all the right, title and interest of the corporation hereby created in the ground and buildings aforesaid, so soon as the Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute shall have reimbursed the corporation hereby created its cash outlay for the ground and buildings; and whenever the Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute shall tender to the Mercantile Library hall company hereby created any sum not less than one thousand dollars, in part payment of said cost, the same shall be received, and duplicate receipts given therefor, under the seal of the corporation; the date, amount and purpose of said payment shall be recorded in a book to be kept by the Library hall company for that purpose, which shall at all proper times be open for the inspection of the officers of the Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute, and which shall be carefully preserved by the Library hall company, in a place secure as may be from fire, theft or other dangers.

SEC. 6. That the corporation hereby created may borrow money to an amount not exceeding the sum actually paid in, and may issue its bonds therefor; and its funds shall be expended, as provided in this act, in buying suitable ground and erecting and furnishing proper and commodious buildings for the use of the Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute; the stock of said company shall be in shares of ten dollars, and shall be personal property, and transferable only on the books of the company, and each share shall be entitled to one vote in elections or the management of the affairs of the company.

SEC. 7. That on and after the first day of January in each year, the treasurer of the Library hall company shall pay over to the stockholders, pro rata the sum of money which shall have been received during the preceding year for interest from the Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute.

SEC. 8. That the Legislature hereby reserves the right to repeal, alter or amend this act, in such manner as shall do no injustice to the corporators.

No. 209.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BELL, Judiciary—Feb. 5.

AN ACT to erect the Twenty-seventh judicial district.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the counties of Lehigh and Carbon, be and they are hereby erected into a separate judicial district, to be called the Twenty-seventh judicial district; and it shall be the duty of the Governor of this Commonwealth, pursuant to the provisions of the constitution, to appoint and commission a person learned in the law, to be president judge of said district, who shall hold his office until the first Monday of December next.

SEC. 2. That the qualified electors of the said Twenty-seventh judicial district, shall, on the second Tuesday of October next, elect a president judge for said district, according to the constitution and laws of this Commonwealth, to serve for the term of ten years, from the first Monday of December next.

SEC. 3. That the January term of the several courts in the county of Lehigh, shall commence on the third Monday of January, in each and every year after the passage of this act.

No. 213.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BELL, Judiciary—Feb. 5.

A SUPPLEMENT to an act to give jurisdiction in equity to the supreme court and the court of common pleas for the county of Philadelphia, in cases of disputed boundaries, approved on the fifteenth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the jurisdiction and powers given by the act to which this act is a supplement, to the courts therein named, shall extend to and embrace the ascertainment and adjustment of disputed boundaries between adjoining and neighboring lands in the county of Philadelphia, where such boundaries are or shall have become confused or rendered uncertain, either by lapse of time, by natural causes, or by the act, neglect or default of any present or former owner or occupant thereof.

SEC. 2. That if upon bill filed in any such case, it shall appear that the whole or any part of the lands mentioned in such bill, have or has never been actually parted or divided, the court shall, without dismissing the bill, proceed thereupon to decree partition of such undivided land between the parties to the suit, according to their just rights, and the law and practice of courts of equity of this Commonwealth: Provided, That before any such decree or partition shall be made, all persons who shall appear to have title to the land, shall be made parties to the suit.

No. 215.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

SCOFIELD, Judiciary—Feb. 5.

AN ACT relating to partners.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in all cases where all the members of a firm are dead, or may hereafter die, it shall be lawful to bring suit in the name of the representative of the first deceased partner, or any other, as well as the last, on a claim due the firm of which the deceased partners were members.

No. 210.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BELL, Judiciary—Feb. 5.

AN ACT regulating the weighing of anthracite bituminous and semi-bituminous coal.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That on and after the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, all anthracite, bituminous and semi-bituminous coal, delivered for consumption in the several cities and incorporated boroughs of this Commonwealth, shall be conveyed or carried in such cart or other vehicle, as shall be provided, with a duly attested and sealed scale, of sufficient size or power to weigh correctly said load of anthracite, bituminous or semi-bituminous coal, at the place of delivery, when demanded by the purchaser or purchasers, or the agent of said purchaser or purchasers.

SEC. 2. That any cart, or other vehicle, not so provided with sealed scales as aforesaid, in which anthracite, bituminous, or semi-bituminous coal shall be hauled or delivered as aforesaid, shall be deemed illegal, and the owner thereof shall be liable to be fined in the sum of five dollars for each load of coal sold or delivered, on complaint being made by any person or persons aggrieved, to any alderman or justice of the peace of the proper city or borough in which the offence is committed; which fine shall be sued for in the name of the Commonwealth, and shall be recovered as debts of like amount are now recoverable by law; one-half thereof to be paid to the party prosecuting, and the other half to be paid to the proper authorities for the use of the poor, by the magistrate before whom the said suit shall be brought, to be distributed as out-door relief: Provided, That the foregoing provisions of this act shall not apply to such persons as haul coal purchased by themselves, or those in their employ, purchased for their own use.

No. 145.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

KETCHUM, Judiciary—Jan. 29.

AN ACT declaring dogs in this Commonwealth to be personal property.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act every dog or bitch, owned by or belonging to any person in this Commonwealth, is, and the same is hereby declared to be personal property; and such dogs or bitches shall be as much the subject of larceny as any other kind of personal property; and any person so stealing or taking away any such dog or bitch, shall be liable to prosecution and indictment in the court of quarter sessions of the proper county, and on conviction thereof, shall be punished as in other cases of larceny.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 31.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

SATURDAY, Feb. 12, 1859.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock, A. M., by the SPEAKER.

Prayer by Rev. Dr. Miles, of the Baptist church, Harrisburg.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal.

Mr. CHASE moved that the further reading of the Journal be dispensed with.

The question being put, it was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. HAMERSLY, however, insisted upon his right to call for the reading of the Journal, and it was accordingly ordered to be read by the SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the report of the Westmoreland Indiana bridge company.

The first business in order was the appeal which was yesterday taken from the decision of the Chair, by Messrs. M'CLURE and TAYLOR.

Mr. M'CLURE desired to make an explanation, and to read the appeal as he had corrected it, as follows:

Resolutions relative to the custody of bill No. 160 being before the House, the Chair decided the resolutions out of order, because they did not correctly recite the facts. The SPEAKER maintaining that all bills are in his custody until the House parts with the same.

From the above decision the undersigned appeal to the judgement of the House.

A. K. M'CLURE,
A. W. TAYLOR.

The SPEAKER called Mr. MILLER, of Crawford, to the Chair.

Mr. SMEAD took the floor.

The Chairman. The question now is, shall the decision of the SPEAKER stand as the judgment of the House?

Mr. WILSON called for the reading of the appeal. It was read.

Mr. SMEAD said that the subject had been fully argued yesterday.

Mr. M'CLURE rose to explain, that the question at issue was not the same one which had yesterday been argued.

Mr. SMEAD moved to lay the appeal upon the table, and called the previous question on the motion.

The call was seconded by Messrs. SMITH, (Berks,) MEHAFFEY, CHURCH, GOEPP, MANN, PENNELL, PRICE, GREEN, WALBORN, BURLEY, KENEAGY and ZOLLER.

The Chairman. The question now is, shall the main question now be put?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CLURE and Mr. NEALL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Chase, Church, Durhoraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Goepp, Graham, Green, Harding, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Miller, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Price, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stuart, Styer, Thompson, Wagonseller, Walhorn, Walker, Whitman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Zoller—53.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Bertolet, Custer, Dodds, Evans, Fisher, Galley, Gratz, Gray, Hamersly, Hottenstine, Jackson, McClure, McDowell, Neall, Rohrer, Shields, Stephens, Stonehack, Taylor, Thorn Warden, and Wiley—24.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. NEALL asked leave to record his vote.

Mr. GOEPP said that it was his right so to do.

The Chairman. The question now is, will the House agree to the motion to lay the appeal upon the table?

Mr. M'CLURE said that this was not the question before the House, and raised a point of order. A discussion ensued on this point, between Messrs. M'CLURE, LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) IRISH, SMITH, (Berks,) NEALL and others.

The Chairman. The question now is, shall the appeal be laid on the table?

On the question,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CLURE and Mr. NEALL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Chase, Church, Durhoraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Goepp, Graham, Green, Harding, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Miller, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Price, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Styer, Thompson, Wagonseller, Walhorn, Walker, Whitman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Zoller—52.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Bertolet, Brodhead, Custer, Diamant, Dodds, Fisher, Galley, Good, Gratz, Hamersly, Hottenstine, Jackson, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Neall, Rohrer, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Taylor, Thorn and Warden—25.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) offered the following:

Resolved, That after the morning orders are gone through with, for the purpose of further considering the motion to discharge the Committee on Railroads from Senate bill No. 132, entitled "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Germantown passenger railway company, approved April 21, 1858," and (if said committee be discharged) for the consideration of said bill, the hour of adjournment be this day extended.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that he should vote against the resolution, because neither the members of the House, nor himself, had seen the bill that was proposed to be called up, as it had passed the Senate. He repeated, that although he represented the district that was interested, he had not seen the bill, because it had been kept locked up in the possession of the Chairman of the Railroad Committee. True, he might have seen it, perhaps, had he asked it as a favor of the chairman.

Mr. WALBORN said that the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. HAMERSLY,) had again asserted that he had kept the bill locked up in his possession. He would hear this no longer. It was false.

Mr. HAMERSLY positively reiterated his statement, and pronounced the assertion of Mr. WALBORN as equally false.

Mr. WALBORN said that his actions as Chairman of the Railroad Committee had been impugned, and he did not intend to hear it any longer from any man. He threw the imputations into the teeth of those who uttered them. The Senate bill was on the desks of the members.

Mr. HAMERSLY repeated that the Chairman (Mr. WALBORN,) has had the Senate bill locked up in his desk since the time that it had come from the Senate. The bill which was on the Senate file, and purported to be the supplement to the Germantown company, was not the same as the one which had been reported from the Senate, and which it was now proposed to consider. They were materially different.

Mr. WALBORN said that he certainly had retained the Senate bill, which it was proposed to consider, in his possession. The committee had not had time to act upon it, because their hands had been tied by the resolution of the House, ordering the printing before any consideration could take place. The motion now pending and incorporated in the resolution was intended to take the bill out of the hands of the committee, and allow it to come before the House. That he had locked up the bill for a special purpose, he denied most positively.

Mr. HAMERSLY rose to explain. The gentleman, after he had been allowed to use the expression "false," had actually in his last speech admitted the truth of every word that he (Mr. HAMERSLY,) had uttered. He had not impugned the motives of the chairman, and there was no necessity for the defence which that gentleman had volunteered. He had too much respect for himself and the House to impugn the motives of any gentleman. But he need not attempt to intimidate any member, for he could not do it. Mr. HAMERSLY hoped that the House would make a distinction between the two bills, the difference in which he had already noticed. The Senate bill was not included in the resolution referred to by Mr. WALBORN, for it came from the Senate after the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) wished to inquire whether the Senate bill had not been on the file of the members for a week?

Mr. HAMERSLY. Not as it passed that body.

Mr. NEALL defended Mr. HAMERSLY, and coincided with him in the views which had been expressed. He contended that the resolution which was now pending, and which had been offered by the enemies of the Germantown bill, for the purpose of bringing it up before the House, was unfair. Some time since he recollected having objected to a certain bill, and having thereby brought down the wrath of some members, who had exclaimed, that "it was altogether a local matter, and did not affect the gentleman from Philadelphia." Yet now, the gentleman from Berks, (Mr. SMITH,) disregarding the precedent which he had himself established, attempted to call up a bill affecting altogether the locality of another member, viz: that of the speaker. Was it proper that the gentleman from Berks should thus act contrary to the views which he had previously expressed, and that, after having raised the cry of "locality," he should encroach upon the province of another, and by the mere exercise of the brute force of the majority, be successful in interfering with the bill? He wished to inquire who it was that was backing the members to proceed to the consideration of a bill to which they were opposed. Could two men be found outside of the House, who had any regard for Philadelphia interests, who were supporting the present movement?

As respectable men, representing intelligent constituents, he appealed to the members of the House not to exercise this brute force of the majority. Such an act would be inconsistent with the usages of the last fifty years, and would not only be unfair, but, he might say, would be mean and contemptible, notwithstanding that the member from Berks had asserted that the bill might be called up by its enemies "with perfect propriety." It was a right which the friends of that bill had to have it called up at a proper time, and not when it suited the views of its enemies. He hoped that in this matter, out of regard for the feelings of the minority, if for no other reason, the majority would suspend action, and the gentleman from Berks would withdraw his resolution.

He had heard the expression used that in this case the minority desired to "rule or ruin." This was reversible. It was the majority who evidently so desired. In the consideration of the bill which was antagonistic to the one now proposed to be brought forward, the just rights of all had received attention. Was this not to be done now?

Mr. SMEAD thought that there was no bill before the House, and the discussion had better be postponed until it came up in regular order. The only question now, he considered, was one of time—whether the House should fix a certain time for doing a certain piece of business. This was all that the resolution provided for.

Mr. SMEAD called the previous question on the passage of the resolution of the gentleman from Berks, (SMITH.)

The call was sustained by Messrs. STYER, ELLMAKER, PRICE, WILLIAMS, (Bedford,) KENEAGY, SMEAD, WALBORN, BURLEY, ZOLLER, PATTERSON, BOYER, (Clearfield,) and SMITH, (Berks.)

On the question, shall the main question now be put?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. STEPHENS and Mr. NEALL, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Chase, Church, Durboraw, Eekman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Fleming, Goepp, Graham, Green, Harding, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Miller, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Price, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stuart, Styer, Thompson, Wagonseller, Walborn, Walker, Whitman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—54.

NAYS.—Messrs. Abbott, Bertolet, Brodhead, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Evans, Fisher, Galley, Gratz, Gray, Hamorsly, Hottelustine, McClure, McDowell, Neall, Nill, Rohrer, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Taylor, Thorn, Warden, and Wiley—25.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The SPEAKER. The question now is on the final passage of the resolution of the gentleman from Berks, (Mr. SMITH.)

Mr. HAMERSLY said that he represented the district most immediately interested in the bill, and yet he had never seen it. He wished to appeal to the courtesy of the House, whether they intended to force him to vote upon the bill before he had seen it.

Mr. THORN said that as the previous question had been called, debate was certainly out of order.

The SPEAKER said that Mr. HAMERSLY had obtained leave to speak.

Mr. HAMERSLY only wished to reiterate that he hoped the House would allow him the courtesy of seeing the bill before he was called upon to vote upon it.

The SPEAKER. The question now is on the final passage of the resolution.

On this question,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THORN, and Mr. FISHER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Chase, Church, Eekman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Fleming, Goepp, Graham, Green, Harding, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Miller, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Price, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Styer, Thompson, Wagonseller, Walborn, Walker, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Zoller, and Lawrence, Speaker—50.

NAYS.—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Bertolet, Brodhead, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Evans, Fisher, Galley, Gratz, Gray, Hamersly, Jackson, McClure, McDowell, Neall, Nill, Rohrer, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Taylor, Thorn, Warden and Wiley—27.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

THE RECORD CONTRACT.

Mr. RAMSDELL asked leave to make a statement. Leave being given, he said that he understood that his absence on Thursday last, after the alteration in the Record contract with Geo. Bergner & Co., had been construed to evince an inclination on his part to shirk the responsibility of some act. He had vacated his seat on account of sickness in his family, and for that reason alone.

As far as the alteration in the contract was concerned, he knew nothing. It had not originally been written by him, but by a clerk, and had been read and compared with the old contract made with R. J. Haldeman. Whether any error had been made, he did not know. He had supposed, up to the time the contract was read by the Clerk, that the figures were 3000. When Bergner had come up to speak to him at his desk, Mr. R. was busily engaged in listening to the remarks of a gentleman upon the floor, and only recollected having exclaimed, with a wave of his hand, "well, well." He had never examined the contract, and how, or why the alteration was made, he did not know. He had previous to this entertained a high opinion of the honor and integrity of Mr. Bergner.

Mr. BERTOLET thought that Mr. RAMS-

DELL must be an efficient member of the committee, not to know whether the contract read two or three thousand.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Leave of absence was granted to the following named gentlemen on application:

Mr. CHASE for Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks.)

Mr. McDOWELL for Mr. FOSTER.

Mr. JACKSON for Mr. LAIRD.

Mr. ROHRER for Mr. WILCOX.

Mr. BARNSELY for the Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, Mr. Eels.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) asked that the Committee on Banks be discharged from the further consideration of a bill incorporating the Mutual deposit institution of Philadelphia, and that the same be otherwise referred. Agreed to.

Mr. PALM moved that when the House adjourns, it do so to meet on Monday next at 3 p. m. Agreed to.

Mr. NEALL moved that Mr. PROUDFOOT be chosen to fill places on two different committees, made vacant by the deporal of Mr. Porter. Agreed to.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. CHASE, (Ways and Means,) reported as committed, "An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Commonwealth, and other general and special appropriations."

Mr. IRISH, (Judiciary,) as committed, "An Act providing for the appointment of an additional notary public in Pittston, Luzerne county."

Mr. GRATZ, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act authorizing the guardian of the minor children of Wm. R. Oliver, late of Washington county, to sell and convey real estate."

Mr. GRITMAN, (same,) as committed, "An Act providing for an additional notary public in Chester county."

Mr. MCCLURE, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to the administration of justice in Mercer county."

Mr. CHASE, (same,) as committed, "An Act for the better regulation of bowling saloons, billiard rooms and ten pin alleys."

Mr. THOMPSON, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act relative to mechanics' liens on buildings."

Mr. ZOLLER, (Pensions and Gratuities,) with amendment, "An Act for the relief of Rachel Robinson, widow of an old soldier."

Mr. BRODHEAD asked that the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities be discharged from the consideration of the petition of Andrew McClelland, a soldier in the Indian war, and that the same be referred to the Committee on Claims. Agreed to.

Mr. DURBORAW, (same,) with amendment, "An Act for the relief of a certain person."

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, (same,) with amendment, "An Act for the relief of Mary Washington."

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Claims,) as committed, "An Act to pay the claim of James Bell, of Tyrone."

Also, asked that the Committee on Claims be discharged from the consideration of "An Act to provide for the payment of the claim of Jno. C. Couch, of Huntingdon;" which was agreed to.

Mr. WAGONSELLER, (same,) as committed, "An Act for the relief of W. Porter, for damages sustained by the Erie extension of the Pennsylvania canal."

Mr. WITHEROW, (same,) as committed, "An Act for the relief of Stephen Laughlin."

Mr. STYER, (Education,) as committed, "An Act to vest the Girard school house in the city of Philadelphia."

Mr. GRAHAM, (same,) with amendment, "An Act authorizing the school directors of Uniontown to borrow money."

Mr. SMITH, (same,) as committed, "An Act abolishing the separate school district erected out of a portion of Upper Salford township, in Montgomery county."

Also, with a negative recommendation, "An Act to erect a part of Carroll township, Washington county, into a new school district."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the school directors of Allegheny county, to select sites for school houses."

It was moved that this bill be considered. Consideration postponed.

Mr. OAKS, (Vice and Immorality,) as committed, "An Act relative to granting licenses to hotel and inn-keepers."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, "A supplement to an act incorporating the borough of Sunbury."

Mr. THORN, "An Act relative to promissory notes and bills of exchange."

Also, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Home manufacturing company."

Mr. HARDING, "An Act to incorporate the Market Street saving fund, Philadelphia."

Mr. PALM, "An Act authorizing the school directors of the borough of Auburn, Schuylkill county, to borrow money."

Mr. M'CLURE moved to re-consider a certain vote.

PRIVILEGED QUESTION.

Mr. HAMERSLY rose to a privileged question. In the course of the discussion, the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. WALBORN,) had been allowed to make use of an expression which, although, perhaps, elicited by the heat of the debate, was decidedly offensive. Mr. W. had, however, acknowledged that the charges made against him were substantially true. He desired to ask the gentleman whether he would retract?

Mr. WALBORN said that as he had understood the question at the time, he had nothing to retract. Mr. H. had said that he (Mr. W.) had kept the bill locked up. He did not have the House bill.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that the resolution before the House alluded solely to the Senate bill. If the gentleman had not capacity to understand the resolution he could not help it.

Mr. WALBORN said that he would not allow the attempt to impugn the motives of the chairman of the committee to be continued any longer. The assertions which the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. HAMERSLY) had made to-day were only a repetition of those previously made.

Mr. HAMERSLY. Am I to understand that the gentleman does not withdraw the offensive expression?

Mr. WALBORN. I withdraw nothing that I have said, with my understanding of what the gentleman has said.

Mr. HAMERSLY did not know how to consider this reply. It was partly a retraction, and partly not. I have stated that in my remarks I referred to the Senate bill. I ask the gentleman whether, with this understanding, he will not retract.

Mr. WALBORN. I withdraw nothing that I have said, with my understanding of what the gentleman has said.

Mr. HAMERSLY. Then, sir, if he applies that language to me, I fling it back into his teeth as ten times more foul than the source from which it proceeds.

The SPEAKER announced that the morning order was now gone through with, and that the next business would be the special order which had been made, viz:

The resolution to discharge the Railroad Committee from the consideration of railroad passenger bills in the city of Philadelphia, and to oblige them to report the same.

The first question was on the amendment which had been offered, viz: that the resolution should refer to all bills relative to the occupancy of Fourth and Eighth streets, in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. THORN took exception to the decision of the SPEAKER, that this was the next business in order, and in support of his position referred to page 99 of the Journal.

A discussion took place between the SPEAKER and Mr. THORN, during which the latter inquired whether the decision would be placed upon the Journal.

The SPEAKER said that it would.

Mr. M'CLURE rose to suggest to the friends of the Germantown supplement, that they should not oppose the action of the majority, who, it was evident, were determined by means of this resolution to call it up and defeat it. The conflict would only be longer postponed by opposition.

The SPEAKER. The question is now on the amendment.

The amendment was lost.

On the question, will the House agree to the original resolution?

It was decided in the affirmative.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) moved that the House proceed to the consideration of Senate bill No. 132, being "A supplement to the act incorporating the Germantown passenger railroad company."

Mr. CHASE took the chair.

The first section was read.

Mr. M'CLURE moved that the committee rise, report progress and ask leave to sit again. Agreed to.

The SPEAKER. Shall the committee of the whole have leave to sit again?

The question was decided in the negative.

The bill was read by the Clerk.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that it had been his original intention to have spoken upon the merits of this bill, but as the House had determined to kill it, there was of course nothing that he could say that would be of any effect.—He hoped that the friends of the bill would interpose no further obstacles to its defeat, but allow the majority to dispose of it, without voting upon it or taking any part in it. He regarded the course of the majority as an outrage upon the rights of his constituents, and as a gross want of courtesy toward himself.

On the question, shall the first section pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) and Mr. WALBORN, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Bertolet, Brodhead, Custer, Galloy, M'Clure, Ramsdell and Rohrer—8.

NAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Chase, Church, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Goepp, Graham, Green, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Miller, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Price, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Styer, Taylor, Wagon-seller, Walborn, Walker, Whitman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—50.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. THORN moved to adjourn; not agreed to.

Mr. PRICE moved to re-consider the vote had on the first section of the bill.

Mr. GOEPP moved to postpone the consideration of the bill indefinitely.

Mr. THORN moved to adjourn.

On this question,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CLURE and Mr. PRICE, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Bertolet, Brodhead,

Custer, Dismant, Galley, M'Clure, Neall, Thorn and Warden—10.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Chase, Church, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Fleming, Goepp, Graham, Green, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, M'Dowell, Miller, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Price, Rohrer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Wagon-seller, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—55.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The SPEAKER. The question now recurs on the motion of Mr. GOEPP to postpone the bill indefinitely.

On this Mr. PRICE called the previous question.

The call was sustained by Messrs. WALBORN, M'CLURE, KENEAGY, GREEN, BURLEY, SMEAD, SMITH, (Berks,) PATTERSON, GOEPP, PENNELL, STEVENS and WILSON.

The call was withdrawn.

The motion of Mr. GOEPP was agreed to.

Messrs. HAMERSLY, THORN, FISHER and other leading friends of the bill refrained from voting at all, during its progress and defeat.

Mr. THORN moved to adjourn. Agreed to.

The SPEAKER adjourned the House until 3 p. m., on Monday.

No. 221.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

FINNEY, Judiciary—Feb. 5.

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT to an act relating to inspections, passed the fifteenth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the first section of the act entitled, "A further supplement to an act relative to the inspection of liquors," passed the twenty-first day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty eight, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. That from and after the passage of this act, domestic distilled spirits for sale at the port of Philadelphia, not intended for exportation to a foreign port, shall not be required to be inspected and gauged by the inspector of domestic distilled spirits for the city and county of Philadelphia.

SEC. 3. That it shall and may be lawful for any person or persons hereafter, who may be selected or agreed upon by parties to contract for the sale of domestic distilled spirits within the city and county of Philadelphia, not intended for exportation to a foreign port, to inspect the same, and to decide as between the said parties the quantity of proof gallons thereof.

No. 218.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

CHASE, Judiciary—Feb. 4.

AN ACT relating to townships.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the provisions of the acts of assembly, passed on the fourteenth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, which require an election to be held in a township or townships, proposed to be divided upon the question of such division, shall not apply to cases in which the division had been reported to the court prior to the passage of said acts.

No. 214.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

NILL, Judiciary—Feb. 4.

AN ACT relating to the collection of taxes in the several counties of the State.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That hereafter it shall be the duty of the commissioners of every county of the State, in each and every year, immediately after the assessment of taxes for State and county purposes shall be completed in the manner prescribed by law, to cause their clerk to make fair duplicates thereof, in a convenient form, and deliver the same to the treasurer of the said county, together with a certificate under their hands, respectively, and attested by their clerk, certifying that the taxes charged in said duplicates have been duly assessed according to law.

SEC. 2. That it shall be the duty of the county treasurer of each county, after he shall receive the duplicates of assessment from the county commissioners as hereinbefore provided, to give at least thirty days' notice, by weekly publications in one or more newspapers printed in the county, for the purpose of collecting and receiving State and county taxes; and it shall be the duty of the said treasurer to attend at least two days in each township and borough in the county for the purpose aforesaid, previous to the twelfth day of July in each year; and he shall give receipts for taxes in all cases when required by the person paying the same: Provided, That if any person shall, on or before the twelfth day of July aforesaid, pay to such treasurer the amount of his or her taxes, such person shall be entitled to a deduction of five per centum on the amount thereof paid for State purposes, which shall be in lieu of the abatement of five per centum allowed the county by the forty-second section of the act to reduce the State debt, et cetera, passed the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and forty-four.

SEC. 3. That in case any State or county tax assessed in any township or borough within any county shall remain unpaid for a period of thirty days from and after the twelfth day of July aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the treasurer to issue his warrant, under his hand, accompanied by a schedule of all such unpaid taxes and the names of the persons respectively to whom the same are charged in the proper duplicate, directed to the constable of the proper township or borough, whose duty it is hereby made to receive the same, authorizing and requiring him to demand and receive from the persons named in the schedule the sums with which they are therein charged respectively; and the said warrants shall further authorize and require such constable, in case any person named in the schedule thereto annexed shall fail to pay the amount with which such person is therein charged, within ten days after demand therefor made by such constable, to levy the same by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such delinquent, giving ten days' public notice of such sale, by written or printed advertisements; and in such case the constable shall be entitled to retain out of the proceeds of such sale, after first deducting the taxes, the same fees are now allowed to constables by law for levy and sale upon a writ of execution.

SEC. 4. That upon the delivery by the county treasurer of his warrant to any constable, according to the provisions of this act, he shall charge such constable with the whole amount of taxes contained in the schedule thereto annexed in a book, to be provided for the purpose, from which liability such constable and his sureties, under the provisions of this act, shall only be discharged by payments of said amount, after deducting such exonerations as may be allowed to such constables and certified to the said treasurer by the county commissioners for mistakes, indigent persons, unseated lands and other cases wherein exonerations are now by law allowed to collectors of taxes.

SEC. 5. That it shall be the duty of the court of quarter sessions in and for the several counties of the Commonwealth, before they shall appoint constables to require from them a bond in the name of the Commonwealth, in such sum and with such sureties as shall be approved by the said court, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon such constables by this act, and for the payment to the proper county treasurer of the full amount of taxes contained in any warrant and schedule, which shall be delivered to them, or any of them, by the county treasurer of said county, after deducting exonerations, within four months from and after the date of the delivery of any such warrant as aforesaid.

SEC. 6. That it shall be the duty of the constables, who shall receive warrants from the county treasurer of such counties, under the provisions of this act, to settle their accounts, obtain their exonerations and pay over to the treasurer of said county, all moneys collected by them, in pursuance of the said warrants, within four months from and after the day of delivery of such warrants to them respectively; which day shall be endorsed on each warrant by the treasurer issuing the same, and shall also be by him entered in a book, to be by him kept for that purpose, which book, verified by the oath or affirmation of such treasurer, or in case of his death, absence out of the State or other inability to appear and testify, by the oath or affirmation of any credible person proving the hand writing of such treasurer, shall be competent evidence to establish the fact of the delivery of any warrant or warrants, to any constable or constables as aforesaid, in any court of law in this Commonwealth.

SEC. 7. That in case any constable shall fail to make the settlement and payment required in the preceding section of this act, within the time aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the treasurer of said county to cause an action of debt in the name of this Commonwealth, to be brought upon the bond of such constable; and if, upon the commencement of any such suit, it shall appear that such constable has not complied with the provisions of this act, judgment shall be rendered against the defendants therein, for the amount for which such constable is delinquent, together with interest, at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, from and after the expiration of the aforesaid period of four months, and full costs of suit; and in all such cases there shall be no stay of execution or other stay, any law to the contrary notwithstanding; but it shall be the duty of the said treasurer to prosecute such judgment to execution and satisfaction without delay.

SEC. 8. That if any treasurer or constable, shall fail or refuse to perform any of the duties required of them respectively by this act, he or they shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay a fine of fifty dollars, which shall be recoverable in the name of the Commonwealth, at the instance of any person who will sue therefor, in the same manner as debts of like amount are now by law recoverable with costs of suit; and one moiety thereof shall be paid to the treasurer of the Commonwealth, and the residue to the person suing for and recovering the same.

SEC. 9. That in lieu of the per centage now received by the treasurer of such counties, or State taxes by him paid into the treasury, he shall hereafter be entitled to deduct and retain out of the gross amount of monies collected and received by him, for the use of the Commonwealth, under the provisions of this act, the sum of six per centum on the amount accounted for and paid over by him to the State Treasurer; four per centum of which shall be passed by him to the credit of the county.

SEC. 10. That it shall be the duty of the commissioners of such counties to deliver the duplicates of assessment, for the present year, to the county treasurer, on or before the first day of May next, and to deliver the duplicates of assessments, for each succeeding year, on or before the first day of April.

SEC. 11. That so much of any law as requires the commissioners of the several counties of the State, to appoint collectors of taxes, and so much of any law as is hereby altered or supplied, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 12. That hereafter, the pay of assessors, in the several counties of the State, shall be two dollars per day for every day necessarily required to make the assessment for State and county purposes.

SEC. 13. That in all cases under the provisions of this act, in which constables shall receive taxes from tax-payers, without resorting to levy and sale of goods, they shall be entitled to demand and receive, from such tax-payers, the additional sum of five per centum on said taxes, to be retained by them as their compensation for such collections.

SEC. 14. That the assessors of the different townships, wards and boroughs, in the several counties of the State, in making the extra assessment provided for by the former acts of assembly, shall certify the name of the person applying to be assessed, with the amount of tax imposed both for State and county purposes, to the constable discharging the duties of collector, under the provisions of said act of the twenty-fifth of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three; and the said constables shall receive and receipt for all such taxes; which receipt shall be as valid as receipts given by collectors in like cases under existing acts of Assembly.

SEC. 15. That the provisions of this act shall not be deemed or taken to apply to the county of Philadelphia.

No. 180.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

GOEPP, Judiciary—January 31.

AN ACT to prevent the defacing of bank notes.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful for any person or persons, corporation or body corporate, within this Commonwealth, to deface any bank note, or acknowledgment of indebtedness, of the nature, character and appearance of a bank note, issued by any bank lawfully incorporated by the Legislature of this Commonwealth, and authorized to issue the same, by writing, printing, or in any other way impressing or inscribing thereon, either on the face or on the back thereof, any card, advertisement or other inscription calculated or intended to announce and make known the occupation or place of any person, firm or corporation, and to pass off, pay out or circulate any such bank note or other acknowledgment of indebtedness, as aforesaid, so defaced as aforesaid.

SEC. 2. That every person who shall violate the provisions of the first section of the act, shall be taken and deemed to have committed a misdemeanor; and shall, upon conviction thereof in the Court of quarter sessions of the peace of the county wherein which the said violation shall have been committed, be fined in any sum not less than twenty dollars, and not more than fifty dollars.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 32.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

SENATE.

MONDAY, Feb. 14, 1859.

The Senate met and was called to order by the SPEAKER at 3 o'clock, P. M.

The Journal of Friday was read and approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. WRIGHT asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. BLOOD, for a few days from to-day.

Also, for Mr. STEELE.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. RANDALL read in his place and presented to the Chair, "A supplement to an act relative to the Philadelphia and Trenton railroad company, approved April 6, 1848."

Also, the annual statement of the funds of the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. RUTHERFORD, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the Harrisburg female seminary."

Mr. MYER, "An Act to incorporate the Towanda and Athens telegraph company."

Mr. PALMER, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Minersville water company."

Also, "An Act appointing a place for holding elections in Foster township, in Schuylkill county."

Mr. BELL, "An Act authorizing boards of visitors for the several houses of employment and support for the poor in this Commonwealth."

Mr. YARDLEY, "An Act incorporating the Centreville and Pineville turnpike road company."

Also, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Hilltown and Sellersville turnpike road company."

Mr. PARKER, "An Act to incorporate the Warwick manufacturing company."

Mr. GREGG, "An Act relative to road and bridge viewers in Centre county."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. MILLER moved to reconsider the vote on the final passage of "An Act for the relief of certain tax collector in Washington county," which was agreed to.

Whereupon, on his motion the following proviso was added: And provided further, That nothing in this act shall, in any wise, affect the liability of Washington county to pay to the Commonwealth its full quota of tax as adjusted by the board of revenue commissioners. The bill as amended passed.

On motion of Mr. CRAIG, the Senate reconsidered the vote on the final passage of "A supplement to an act incorporating the borough of Allentown."

Whereupon, on his motion, the first section was stricken out, and the following inserted in the seventh line of the second section after the word "therefor," the words "for any sum not less than one hundred dollars."

The bill as amended passed.

Mr. WELSH moved to recommit "An Act for the relief of James Rankin, deceased" to the Committee on Judiciary; which was agreed to.

Mr. BALDWIN offered the following resolution, which lies over under the rule:

Resolved, That the State Treasurer be requested to inform the Senate, whether any demand has been made by him on the Pennsylvania railroad company, for the tonnage tax due from said company to the Commonwealth under their charter for the last year; and if so, whether the said company has refused to pay the same; and to communicate to the Senate any correspondence which may have taken place on the subject.

On leave given, Mr. RANDALL made a statement. He had, last week, offered a resolution making the bill relative to a general banking law the special order of to-day, and to continue its consideration until it was disposed of by the Senate. This was adopted. Whilst he was absent, the Senator from Chester had offered a resolution, which was also adopted, setting apart the afternoons of Mondays and Wednesdays for the consideration of private bills. He did not believe the Senator from Chester had any desire to interfere with the object contemplated by the previous resolution; and, as the establishment of a general banking law was a matter of vast importance, he hoped the Senate would see the propriety of at once proceeding to the consideration of the bill and dispose of it.

Mr. BELL, in looking at the file, observed that the bill was one of vast details and voluminous character. It would take a long time to dispose of it; and he would suggest that the Senate should set apart some morning, when they were all fresh, and when they could give the subject the attention which its merits demand.

Mr. RANDALL moved that the rule making private bills the order of the day be suspended, and that the Senate proceed to consider "An Act to establish a general banking law,"

On which,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WELSH and Mr. RANDALL, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Craig, Finney, Gazzam, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield, Sheaffer, Thompson and Cresswell, Speaker—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Brewer, Fetter, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Welsh, Wright and Yardley—10.

So the question was determined in the negative—a two-third vote being required.

PRIVATE BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

Mr. BELL called up Senate bill No. 89, "An Act to incorporate the American improvement and loan company."

The first section being under consideration, Mr. BELL moved to amend by adding the names of Harry Coggsall and Jacob Ziegler, and the following proviso:

Provided, That the said company shall not at any time hold in this State more real estate than may be requisite for the convenient transaction of their business, unless it be taken bona fide in payment of debts.

The amendments and the section as amended were adopted.

On motion of Mr. BELL, the second section was amended by striking out the words "contract for the construction and equipment of railways and public works and internal improvements, and also to;" also, striking out "construct railroads, public works and internal improvements, and to manufacture iron and machinery and rolling stock and to;" and the word "discount." The section as amended passed.

On motion of Mr. MILLER, the words "satisfactorily secured or," in the third section were stricken out; and on motion of Mr. BELL the names before mentioned were inserted in the same section.

Mr. BELL moved to strike out the fourth section; which was agreed to.

The fifth (now the fourth) having been read, Mr. BELL moved to insert in the fifth line after the word "not," the words "exercise the privilege of banking nor;" agreed to.

The fifth section was adopted, and the following added as the sixth:

"That the said company shall pay to the State Treasurer for the use of the State, a bonus of one-half of one per centum on the sum requisite to be paid in previous to the organization of the said company, payable in four equal annual instalments; the first payment to be made in one year after the payment on the capital stock shall be made; and also a like bonus on all subsequent payments, or amount of the capital of the said company, or any increase thereof, payable in like manner; and in addition to such bonus shall pay such tax upon dividends exceeding six per centum, as is or may be imposed by law.

This bill, as amended, having passed committee of the whole, lies over.

On leave given, Mr. WRIGHT, (Corporations,) reported as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the railroad car spring company;" which, on motion of Mr. MARSELIS, was taken up, and, after being slightly amended, passed finally.

Mr. COFFEY, (Railroads,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Buffalo and Bradford railroad company."

On motion of Mr. MYER, Senate bill No. 6, "An Act to incorporate the Towanda water company."

On motion of Mr. NUNNEMACHER, House bill No. 70, "An Act to incorporate the Fairview cemetery association in Berks county."

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented a message from the Governor, stating that he had nominated for the advice and consent of the Senate, Thomas S. Kirkbride, M. D., of Philadelphia, John L. Atlee, M. D., of Lancaster city, and Jacob R. Eby, of Dauphin county, to be trustees for the Pennsylvania State lunatic hospital, to serve for the period of three years, to compute from the 1st day of February last past.

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, the rule requiring nominations to lie over five days was suspended, and the Senate proceeded, according to the constitutional provision, to confirm the same by voting upon them separately.

Upon confirming the nomination of Thomas S. Kirkbride, M. D., the vote was as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Brewer, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield, Shaeffer, Thompson, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—27.

NAYS—None.

Upon confirming the nomination of John L. Atlee, M. D., the vote was as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Brewer, Coffey, Fetter, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield, Shaeffer, Thompson, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—26.

NAYS—None.

Upon confirming the nomination of Jacob R. Eby, the vote was as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Brewer, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield, Shaeffer, Thompson, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—27.

NAYS—None.

On motion of Mr. PALMER, Senate bill No. 38, "An Act to secure a stricter accountability of certain officers in Schuylkill county," was taken up, and after being amended in committee of the whole, was read a second and third time, and passed.

On motion of Mr. PARKER, House bill No. 86, "An Act relative to pawnbrokers in the city of Philadelphia."

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, House bill No. 71, "An Act to change the name of the Pittsburgh life, fire and marine insurance company."

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, House bill No. 161, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Buffalo and Bradford railroad company."

This bill lies over on third reading.

The hour of five having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the Senate until to-morrow morning at 10½ o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, Feb. 14, 1859.

The House was called to order at 3 o'clock by Mr. CHASE, Speaker pro tem.

The Clerk read the Journal of Saturday.

PETITIONS, &c., PRESENTED.

Mr. RAMSDELL, one from sundry citizens of Venango county, for a law authorizing the laying out of a State road from the mouth of Clarion river to Franklin.

Also, two for a change in the road laws of said county.

Also, one from citizens of Venango county for a change in the mode of collecting State and county taxes.

Also, one from citizens of Cherrytree township, same county, praying to be set off into the proposed new county of Marion.

Also, one relative to Big Sandy creek, in same county.

Also, three remonstrances against any change in the road laws in Venango county.

Also, two petitions for a law to restrict and limit the school directors in assessing taxes.

Also, four petitions asking for a law abolishing the office of county superintendent of common schools.

Also, four remonstrances against taking any parts of Venango county to form the proposed county of Marion.

Also, five petitions from the same, praying for a change in the mode of collecting taxes in Venango county.

Mr. MILLER, one from citizens of Crawford county, in favor of the erection of the new county of Marion.

Mr. ROUSE, one of like import.

Mr. DODDS, one from citizens of Butler county, for the passage of a law in relation to State tax.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, one from citizens of Sunbury, Northumberland county, for a supplement to their borough charter.

Also, one to compel officers of the railroad running from Shamokin to Mt. Carmel, Northumberland county, to fence their road.

Also, one from citizens of Union county, for an act to change the venue of a certain action from Union to Northumberland county.

Also, one from citizens of Northumberland county, of like import.

Mr. PROUDFOOT, one from citizens of Cambria county, for the removal of the seat of justice from Ebensburg to the borough of Wilmore.

Mr. SHAFER, one from citizens of Chester and Montgomery counties, in favor of the construction of a bridge over the Schuylkill river at or near Buckwalter's ferry.

Mr. BARLOW, one from sixty-seven citizens of Aaronsburg, for the passage of a law authorizing the trustees of the Aaronsburg school, to sell a certain house and lot of ground in said township.

Mr. GRITMAN, one from Jno. Richards, Jr., and other citizens of Pittston, Luzerne county, for an appropriation in aid of the Polytechnic college of Pennsylvania.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of Huntingdon township, Luzerne county, against the passage of an act authorizing the school directors of said township to borrow money to erect a graded school.

Mr. MEHAFFEY, a petition from citizens of Lycoming county, for a law requiring all railroad companies to erect and maintain fences along both sides of their roads through all improved land.

Also, one from citizens of Cambria, Clearfield, Indiana and Jefferson counties, in favor of the new county of Pine.

Also, one from citizens of Lycoming county, for the passage of an act securing more effectually prompt payment on the part of insurance companies.

Also, one from citizens of Lycoming and Northumberland counties, for a State road from Uniontown to Turbetsville in said county.

Mr. FLEMING, one from citizens of New Bethlehem borough, Clarion county, for power to sell a certain lot in said borough.

Mr. BAYARD, a remonstrance from eighty-five citizens of Moon township, Allegheny county, against changing the place of holding elections in said township.

Also, one from sixty-seven citizens of Pittsburgh, in favor of the incorporation of a passenger railway from Pittsburgh to East Liberty via Pennsylvania avenue.

Also, one from fifty-five citizens of Pittsburgh, of similar import.

Also, one from sixty-five citizens of Pittsburgh, of like import.

Mr. FOSTER, one from one hundred and nineteen citizens of Pittsburgh, of like import.

Mr. MANN, one from citizens of Potter county, for the repeal of the act of April 20th, 1858, regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Mr. GREEN, one from citizens of Lancaster county, for the incorporation of a company to construct a turnpike road between Marietta and Manheim, by way of Mount Joy and Sporting Hill, Lancaster county.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bedford,) a remonstrance against annexing Middle Woodbury township, Bedford county, to Blair county.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) one from the commissioners of Washington county, for a change in the manner of assessing damages on roads in said county.

Mr. WILSON, a remonstrance of the school directors and citizens of Darlington Township school district, Beaver county, against the division of the territory of the district for the purpose of annexing a portion to Darlington Borough school district, in said county.

Mr. BARNESLEY, three remonstrances from citizens of Bucks county, against the passage of the bill, now before the Legislature, for the incorporation of the Delaware canal company, in its present shape.

Also, a petition from same and citizens of Philadelphia, asking for a law to prevent negroes and mulattoes from coming into the State.

Mr. STONEBACK, ten remonstrances from citizens of Pottstown, Montgomery county, against the passage of any law changing the municipal laws of said borough.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) one from numerous citizens of the city of Reading, in Berks county, for the passage of an act for a horizontal survey of said city.

Mr. BURLEY, one from citizens of Blair county, for an act for an increased appropriation to the Polytechnic college of Pennsylvania.

Also, two from citizens of Bedford and Blair counties, for a charter for a railroad from Newry Siding, on the Allegheny Portage Railroad, to the town of Newry.

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) one from seventy-four citizens of Schuylkill, for the passage of the act for better securing the wages of labor in said county.

Mr. HARDING, one from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of an appropriation for the Polytechnic college of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HAMERSLY, a memorial from auctioneers in Philadelphia, in favor of the act proposing to modify the auction laws of this Commonwealth.

Also, one in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. PALM, one from the school directors of Auburn, Schuylkill county, asking for authority to borrow money.

Also, one from citizens of Schuylkill county, for the better protection of miners and laborers, &c., and for the repeal of all laws authorizing a stay of execution on judgments obtained for the wages of labor.

Mr. WARDEN, one from one hundred and four citizens of West Newton, Westmoreland county, against the new county of Monongahela.

Mr. GOEPP, two remonstrances from citizens of Northampton county, against the passage of an act relative to the Delaware Division canal company.

Also, two against the removal of the county seat.

Also, one petition in favor of a removal of the seat of justice.

Mr. CHASE, one from sixty-five citizens of Susquehanna county, for an increased appropriation to the deaf and dumb asylum, Philadelphia.

Also, one from L. P. Hinds and sixty-six others, of Susquehanna county, for a law to increase the criminal jurisdiction of justices of the peace.

Mr. CHURCH, one from the president and officers of Penn medical college, in favor of an appropriation.

Mr. STYER, one for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. GRATZ, a memorial from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, one from the same, to prevent the influx of colored persons into this Commonwealth.

Mr. ABBOTT, one for the vacation of certain streets in Philadelphia.

Mr. WAGONSELLER, one from citizens of Union county, to prevent fishing with seines and nets in Buffalo creek, said county.

Also, two remonstrances from citizens and the commissioners of Union county, against the passage of any act changing the venue of a certain action from Union to Northumberland county.

Mr. ROSE, a petition from citizens of the borough of Leesburg, in Mercer county, praying for the passage of an act annexing said borough to the township of Springfield, for school purposes.

Also, a petition from D. B. Packard and Celestia, his wife, and Orin B. Peck and Prescilla, his wife, praying for the passage of an act changing the name of Prescott Packard Peck to Daniel Prescott Packard.

Mr. SHIELDS, one from citizens of Westmoreland, Indiana, Cambria and Somerset counties, asking for the passage of an act in favor of the erection of a new county, to be called Ligonier.

Mr. PINKERTON, a petition from citizens of Minersville, Schuylkill county, praying for the passage of a law better securing the wages of labor in Schuylkill county.

Also, one from citizens of Pottsville, for the passage of a law appropriating aid toward the School of Mines organized in Philadelphia, under an act passed April 2nd, 1853.

Also, two petitions numerously signed by citizens of Tamaqua, Schuylkill county, for the passage of a law protecting the wages of miners, mechanics and laborers of Schuylkill county.

Also, two petitions, numerously signed by citizens of St. Clair, for the passage of a law better securing the payment of wages of labor in Schuylkill county.

Also, four petitions from citizens of Schuylkill county, asking a law for the better securing of labor in the county of Schuylkill; which were read at his request.

Mr. ECKMAN, one from citizens of North Lebanon and others, praying for the passage of an act annexing all that part of North Lebanon lying north of the Union canal to the township of North Lebanon, so that the same may form a part of said township.

Mr. FEARON, one from citizens of Lycoming county, for an act to secure prompt payment on the part of insurance companies.

Mr. WOLF, one from citizens of York county, for the abolition of the office of county superintendent of common schools, so far as relates to said county.

Also, one from the county commissioners of York county, to borrow a certain sum of money.

Mr. GALLEY, one from citizens and school directors of Uniontown, Fayette county, for a law to authorize them to borrow money.

Mr. JACKSON, presented a petition of citizens of Sullivan county, asking for the passage of an act to prevent hunting deer with dogs in said county.

Mr. STUART, a petition of sundry citizens of West Fairview, East Pennsborough township, Cumberland county, praying for act authorizing and empowering the school directors to sell a certain school house, and appropriate the proceeds to the purchase of a new school house in said township.

Mr. GRATZ, the annual statement of the funds of University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. PATTERSON, a remonstrance from citizens of Juniata county, against maintaining and keeping in order a certain mountain road.

Mr. ACKER, one from citizens of Chester county, in favor of the repeal of an act authorizing the appointment of commissioners to construct a certain State road in Chester and Lancaster counties.

Mr. CUSTER, five from citizens of Reading, Berks county, for an act authorizing a horizontal survey to be taken of said city.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the annual statement of the Bloomsburg iron company.

Also, of the Dimes' savings bank of Pittsburgh.

BILL CONSIDERED.

Mr. THORN called up House bill No. 195, relative to Samuel Hazzard, Editor of the Colonial Records.

The first section was read.

There being some opposition,

Mr. THORN moved so to amend the bill as not to continue Mr. Hazzard longer in office than the first of June, 1859.

Mr. KINNEY opposed because there was not a complete Record in the library.

Mr. ROSE thought, under the circumstances, that it looked as if the Editor was holding on and endeavoring to get a small sum from the State treasury.

Mr. THORN defended the Editor, (Mr. Hazzard.) He said that the duty of preparing an index had been assigned him.

Mr. NILL moved that the further consideration of the question be postponed for the present; which was agreed to.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. M'CLURE submitted the following:

WHEREAS, Private bills for the incorporation of City passenger railways are preventing the consideration of legitimate subjects of legislation; therefore

Resolved, That the House will hold night sessions on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of each week, commencing at half-past 7 o'clock, for the consideration of passenger railroad bills in their regular order.

And on the question, will the House proceed to the second reading and consideration of the same?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CLURE and Mr. PATTERSON, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Duboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fisher, Fleming, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Hamersly, Harding, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Mann, Mehaffey, M'Clure, Neall, Nill, Palm, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rose, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thorn, Warden, Witman, Wiley, Wilson, Withrow and Wolf—50.

NAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Barlow, Burley, Fearon, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Goepf, Good, Green, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) McDowell, Miller, Oaks, Patterson, Pennell, Price, Rouse, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Styer, Thompson, Wagonseller, Walborn, Walker, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston and Zoller—30.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. M'CLURE moved to amend the resolution so as to make it take effect on and after the twenty-third instant.

Mr. SHEPPARD moved that the further consideration of the question be postponed indefinitely on account of the preamble, which did not please.

Mr. THORN said he could not vote for the resolution unless this was done.

Mr. HAMERSLY expressed the same sentiments.

Mr. M'CLURE said that two weeks of the session had been already taken up by the consideration of city passenger railroad bills, and six weeks had passed during which no public business had been transacted. It was to gain time that he advocated night sessions.

Mr. PRICE said there would be no necessity for night sessions, if the gentleman would not quibble. He had consumed much of the valuable time of the House in raising points of order.

Mr. M'CLURE advocated the measure.

Mr. KINNEY said that passenger bills should take their chance for consideration.

Mr. HAMERSLY would favor the resolution.

Mr. GOEPP should advocate indefinite postponement.

The question being,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CLURE and Mr. PINKERTON, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Barnsley, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Ellmaker, Fearon, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Goepf, Good, Graham, Gray, Green, Harding, Hottenstine, Irish, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) McClean, McDowell, Miller, Oaks, Patterson, Pennell, Price, Rouse, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stoneback, Styer, Wagonseller, Walborn, Walker, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow and Zoller—41.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barlow, Brodhead, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Evans, Fisher, Fleming, Gratz, Hamersly, Jackson, Ketchum, Mann, Mehaffey, M'Clure, Neall, Nill, Palm, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Shafer, Shields, Stephens, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Warden, Witman, Wiley and Wolf—43.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. M'CLURE moved to amend the amendment by striking from the preamble the word "legitimate" and insert "public bills;" which was agreed to.

Mr. GRITMAN moved to amend, so that bills incorporating city passenger railroads shall not be considered until the Public Calendar and all other bills upon the Private Calendar, each will be considered and disposed of.

Mr. M'CLURE inquired whether this would not involve a suspension of the rule.

The Chair decided it would, and ruled the amendment out of order.

Mr. KINNEY moved further to amend by striking from the resolution the words "passenger railroads;" which was agreed to.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution as amended?

A motion was made by Mr. THORN that the further consideration of the question be postponed indefinitely; which was agreed to.

Mr. NILL offered a resolution that Wednesday next be set apart by special order for the consideration of public bills; which was adopted.

Mr. ZOLLER submitted the following:

WHEREAS, The publishers and editors of newspapers in this Commonwealth purpose to hold a State Convention at the seat of government on next Wednesday, the 16th instant; therefore

Resolved, That the use of this hall be granted to the said convention on next Wednesday and Thursday, and that this House meet at 10 o'clock, A. M., and adjourn at 12 o'clock, M., on said days; also, that any previous resolution conflicting with this be rescinded for the time being.

Which was twice read and adopted.

Mr. M'CLURE offered a resolution that this House hold night sessions hereafter each Tuesday and Thursday evening, convening at 7½ o'clock, and adjourning at 9½ o'clock.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved to amend, so as to have the evening sessions every Monday and Wednesday of each week.

Mr. THORN moved that the further consideration of the question be postponed for the present.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr.

THORN and Mr. GRATZ, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Balliet, Barnsley, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Burley, Ellmaker, Evans, Fearon, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Goepf, Good, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mehaffey, M'Clean, M'Dowell, Miller, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Pennell, Price, Quigley, Rohrer, Shepard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stuart, Styer, Thorn, Wagonseller, Walborn, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow and Zoller—52.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Barlow, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Fleming, Ketchum, Mann, McClure, Neall, Palm, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Rose, Shafer, Shields, Stoneback, Taylor, Thompson, Walker, Warden, Whitman, Wiley and Wolf—29.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Messrs. STEPHENS and JACKSON moved that the House proceed to the re-consideration of the vote by which bill No. 202, "Resolution relative to the payment into the State Treasury of certain moneys by the Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Bank of Philadelphia," passed the House.

And on the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

A motion was made by Mr. ROSE, that the further consideration of the question be postponed for the present.

Mr. SNEPPARD moved to amend by postponing indefinitely.

And on the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. STEPHENS and Mr. FLEMING, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Barlow, Bayard, Burley, Chase, Church, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Foster, Goepf, Glatz, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Mann, M'Clean, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Miller, Nill, Peirce, Proudfoot, Shafer, Shepard, Styer, Thompson, Thorn, Walborn, Walker, Whitman, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston and Zoller—36.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Fleming, Galley, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gray, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Neall, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Pinkerton, Quigley, Rohrer, Rose, Rouse, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Wagonseller, Warden, Wilson, Withrow and Wolf—40.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question now being, will the House agree to the motion to postpone for the present? it was agreed to.

Mr. M'CLURE moved that the House do now adjourn; which was not agreed to.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. NILL asked, and obtained, leave of absence for a few days, for the Speaker, Mr. Wm. C. A. LAWRENCE.

Mr. GOEPP for Mr. WOODRING.

Mr. GRATZ for Mr. PRICE.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. IRISH, "An Act for the better security of personal liberty; to prohibit the use of the jails and prisons of this Commonwealth in the recapture of fugitive slaves, and to prevent persons holding office under authority of the State, from engaging or assisting therein."

Mr. ZOLLER, "An Act to provide for the publication of general and local laws in English and German newspapers, and for the better accomplishment of the object in printing German State documents."

Mr. ROHRER, one to establish a ferry over the Allegheny river at Freeport, Armstrong county.

Mr. CUSTER, "An Act to authorize and require the treasurer of Reading to pay certain fees and costs."

Mr. ACKER, one for the relief of Joseph Danfield.

Mr. FLEMING, one for the sale of part of a graveyard lot in New Bethlehem borough, Clarion county.

Mr. NILL, one for the preservation of floating timber.

Also, "A further supplement to the act of April 16, 1850, regulating banks."

Mr. ROSE, "An Act changing the name of Prescott Packard Peck to Daniel Prescott Packard, and adopting him as the son of Daniel B. and Celestia Packard."

Also, "An Act annexing the borough of Leesburgh, in Mercer county, to the township of Springfield, in said county, for school purposes."

Mr. GRAY, one authorizing the election of two additional supervisors in certain townships, Greene county.

Also, one for the incorporation of the Waynesborough turnpike road company.

Mr. WAGONSELLER, one to prevent fishing with seines and nets in Buffalo creek, Union county.

Mr. ECKMAN, one to incorporate the Horticultural society of Lebanon county.

Mr. GRITMAN, "A further supplement to the act relative to the borough of Scranton."

Also, one relative to the connection of lateral railroads with the Lackawanna and Bloomsburg railroad company.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Milton savings bank."

On motion of Mr. CHURCH, the act reported some time since, to vest the Girard school house on Passyunk road, was ordered to be placed on the Private Calendar for to-morrow.

Mr. GRATZ read in his place "A supplement to the act incorporating the Pennsylvania fire insurance company."

Mr. HAMERSLY, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Philadelphia and Reading railroad."

Mr. HARDING, "An Act relative to the duties of port warden in Philadelphia."

Mr. RAMSDELL, one abolishing the office of county superintendent of common schools in Venango county.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) one relative to roads and bridges in Washington county.

Also, "An Act to extend the provisions of the act relative to elections to Washington county;" which, on his motion, was ordered to be placed on Private Calendar for to-morrow.

Mr. SHIELDS, one to regulate the standard weight of oats.

Mr. NEALL, on leave, moved that the Committee on Railroads be discharged from the consideration of the act to incorporate the Fairmount Park passenger railroad company; which was not agreed to.

Senate amendments to the House bill relative to the borough of Allentown, were read, and on motion of Mr. GOOD, concurred in.

On motion of Mr. GRITMAN, the act relative to the borough of Scranton, was ordered to be placed on the Private Calendar for to-morrow.

Mr. FEARON, on leave, read a bill to erect a sheer boom at the mouth of Loyalsock creek, Lycoming county.

On motion, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until to-morrow morning, at 10 o'clock A. M.

No. 221.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

FINNEY, Judiciary—Feb. 5.

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT to an act relating to inspections, passed the fifteenth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the first section of the act entitled, "A further supplement to an act relative to the inspection of liquors," passed the twenty-first day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty eight, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. That from and after the passage of this act, domestic distilled spirits for sale at the port of Philadelphia, not intended for exportation to a foreign port, shall not be required to be inspected and gnaged by the inspector of domestic distilled spirits for the city and county of Philadelphia.

SEC. 3. That it shall and may be lawful for any person or persons hereafter, who may be selected or agreed upon by parties to contract for the sale of domestic distilled spirits within the city and county of Philadelphia, not intended for exportation to a foreign port, to inspect the same, and to decide as between the said parties the quantity of proof gallons thereof.

No. 180.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

GOEPP, Judiciary—January 31.

AN ACT to prevent the defacing of bank notes.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful for any person or persons, corporation or body corporate, within this Commonwealth, to deface any bank note, or acknowledgment of indebtedness, of the nature, character and appearance of a bank note, issued by any bank lawfully incorporated by the Legislature of this Commonwealth, and authorized to issue the same, by writing, printing, or in any other way impressing or inscribing thereon, either on the face or on the back thereof, any card, advertisement or other inscription calculated or intended to announce and make known the occupation or place of any person, firm or corporation, and to pass off, pay out or circulate any such bank note or other acknowledgment of indebtedness, as aforesaid, so defaced as aforesaid.

SEC. 2. That every person who shall violate the provisions of the first section of the act, shall be taken and deemed to have committed a misdemeanor; and shall, upon conviction thereof in the Court of quarter sessions of the peace of the county wherein which the said violation shall have been committed, be fined in any sum not less than twenty dollars, and not more than fifty dollars.

No. 218.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

CHASE, Judiciary—Feb. 4.

AN ACT relating to townships.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the provisions of the acts of assembly, passed on the fourteenth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, which require an election to be held in a township or townships, proposed to be divided upon the question of such division, shall not apply to cases in which the division had been reported to the court prior to the passage of said acts.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 33.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, Feb. 15, 1859.

The Senate met at the usual hour.

The SPEAKER in the Chair.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. De Witt, of the New School Presbyterian church, of Harrisburg.

The Journal was read and approved.

The SPEAKER presented two petitions of citizens of Cambria county, in favor of the passage of a law changing the mode of collecting State and county taxes in said county.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, in favor of an alteration in the act of May 27, 1841, relative to the election of county treasurer.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, &c.

Mr. PALMER presented fifteen petitions signed by eight hundred and eighty-seven citizens of Schuylkill county, praying for "An Act for better securing the payment of the wages of labor in said county."

Also, a petition of citizens of Schuylkill Haven, in favor of a certain bill relating to said borough.

Also, a remonstrance of the burgess and town council of Schuylkill Haven, against the same.

Also, a petition of eighty citizens of Schuylkill county, for a railroad connecting the Little Schuylkill railroad with the Schuylkill Valley railroad, in said county.

Also, a petition of citizens of Foster township, in the same county, for a law fixing the place for holding their elections.

Mr. BALDWIN, a petition from citizens of Lancaster county, praying for the passage of a law requiring the sheriff's sales of real estate to be held on or near the premises.

Also, two petitions of citizens of the same county, praying for the repeal of an act authorizing the appointment of a sealer of weights and measures, so far as the same relates to said county.

Mr. PENNEY, two petitions signed by — citizens of Pittsburg and vicinity, in favor of the incorporation of the Pittsburg and East Liberty passenger railroad company.

Mr. YARDLEY, two remonstrances from one hundred and forty citizens of Bucks county, against the passage of an act incorporating the Delaware Division canal company; and, on his motion, ordered to be printed in the Record, viz:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met:

The subscribers, citizens of the county of Bucks, respectfully remonstrate against the passage of the bill now before your honorable bodies, for the incorporation of the Delaware canal company, in its present form. The objectionable parts of the bill, are:

First. The privilege to dam the Delaware and to control the waters of said river in like manner as the Lehigh coal and navigation company do the Lehigh river. Such a privilege ought not to be granted, in the opinion of the remonstrants, to any company in this enlightened age. The privilege asked for by the company, will destroy the shad fisheries on said river, and give them unlimited control of its waters.

Second. The restricting clause in said bill, to bar all damages to private property sustained by individuals six years previous to the passage of the act for the sale of the State canals. This clause is certainly in violation of the seventh section of the act to sell the State canals. If the time is limited to six years prior to the sale, many individuals will lose in the aggregate a large amount of money.

Third. The clause allowing the company to charge as much toll on their canal as the Lehigh canal and navigation company do. We believe it to be very unfair, for the following reasons: The construction of one mile of the Lehigh canal cost more than the making, in several places, of ten miles of the Delaware division. High tolls tax the citizens residing on the canal by increasing the price of coal consumed by the poor as well as the rich. We desire a clause put in the bill requiring the company, in the reconstruction of their canal, to build and keep in repair pivot bridges, at all the roads where bridges are now built; and to keep in good repair all bridges that have not been built on public roads for the passage of waste water. And your remonstrants will ever pray, &c.

Also, a petition of the president and managers of the Hilltown and Sellersville turnpike road company, for an alteration in their act of incorporation.

Mr. SCHINDEL, two remonstrances of citizens of Allentown, Lehigh county, against the division of said borough.

Also, two petitions of citizens of Northampton county, praying for the passage of a law authorizing the voters of said county to vote upon the question of a removal of the seat of justice.

Also, four remonstrances against the removal of the seat of justice from Easton to Nazareth.

Also, three remonstrances of citizens of Northampton county, against an act incorporating the Delaware Division canal company.

Mr. SCHELL, the petition of citizens of Huntingdon county, in regard to certain tax laws.

Also, the remonstrance of citizens of the same county, against any change in the manner of collecting taxes in said county.

Mr. RUTHERFORD, a petition signed by two hundred and sixty-six citizens of the borough and township of North Lebanon, Lebanon county, praying for an alteration of their dividing line.

Mr. THOMPSON, four petitions from citizens of Pottstown, against any alteration in their borough charter.

Also, a petition of citizens of Montgomery county, for an appropriation in aid of the School of Mines.

Mr. CRAIG, two petitions of citizens of Carbon county, praying for the erection of a new judicial district, to be composed of Lehigh and Carbon.

Mr. FINNEY, a petition of citizens of Crawford county, for a new county out of parts of Venango, Crawford and Warren.

Mr. MARSELIS, two petitions of citizens of Philadelphia, for an appropriation to aid in establishing a School of Mines.

Mr. RANDALL, the petition of the president and directors of the Philadelphia and Trenton railroad, for a supplement to their act of incorporation.

Also, a memorial from the members of the councils of the city of Philadelphia, asking for the repeal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad; and on his motion, it was ordered to be printed in the Record. It is as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Your memorialists would respectfully represent, that the duty or tax now imposed upon the tonnage passing over the Harrisburg and Lancaster, and the Pennsylvania railroads, is a grievous burthen upon the commerce of Philadelphia and Pittsburg, and the people of the interior of the State, whose products pass over said roads, and who, in consequence of this indirect and unequal mode of taxation, are compelled to contribute more than their due proportion to the public burthen.

We believe that the stockholders of these companies, as such, have no material interest in the repeal of this tax; inasmuch as it is manifest, that by confining their operations to the local business of the roads, the transportation of passengers and mails, and valuable merchandise, that will pay high rates, their profits would be as large as they have ever expected to divide among their stockholders; while the amount of capital necessary to carry out such a restricted sphere of usefulness, might be greatly reduced.

This tax was imposed under the apprehension that the construction of the Pennsylvania railroad would divert tonnage from the State canals, and thereby reduce the revenues of the Commonwealth. The sale of these works at their full value, having removed the object for which the tonnage tax was imposed, it is therefore, in the opinion of your memorialists, unwise longer to perpetuate the injuries which it now inflicts upon the trade and prosperity of the State.

Your memorialists will further represent, that, in their opinion, it would be wise legislation to promote, by all constitutional means, the increase of the traffic over this road, to enable it to compete with its rivals. New York has not only removed similar restrictions from her Central line, but has also granted as a free offering, nearly four millions of dollars to the New York and Erie railroad, and is also engaged in the enlargement of the Erie canal at a cost of more than ten millions of dollars, to enable it to deliver the products of the west and interior, at her seaport, at a cheap rate.

With such examples of liberality to rival works out of the State, is it not strangely inconsistent to continue a tax that is almost prohibitory, upon the only road leading to Philadelphia through Pennsylvania, and the only work calculated to preserve the trade of the west, within her borders, from active and favored competitors? Your memorialists believe that in consequence of the enlargement of the Erie canal and the adoption of steam as a motive power, the removal of the tonnage tax is indispensable if Pennsylvania would retain any portion of the trade of the west. And we respectfully suggest the policy of repealing this law before the low charges consequent upon the enlargement of that canal shall have diverted all our trade from us.

We further represent that this tax is paid exclusively by the farmers, manufacturers and others along the line of the road, who seek by it a market for the proceeds of their industry—the value of which is reduced twice or thrice the amount of the tax, they being compelled to pay not only the tax upon their own tonnage, but also upon that from the western States.

We earnestly pray that your honorable bodies will take this subject, so important to the trade of the State and this city, and to the reputation of the Commonwealth, into early consideration, and apply such remedies as your wisdom may determine.

Mr. COFFEY, a petition of citizens of Freeport, Armstrong county, for a law authorizing the appointment of an auctioneer in said borough.

Also, a petition of citizens of Westmoreland, Indiana, Cambria and Somerset counties, praying for the erection of a new county, to be called Ligonier.

Mr. WRIGHT, a petition of citizens of the rural districts in Philadelphia county, for the passage of an act securing the right of free travel over certain highways.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Attleboro, Bucks county, against the erection of said village into a borough.

Mr. BELL, a petition signed by a large number of citizens of Chester county, praying for the repeal of a law laying out and opening a State road in Lancaster and Chester counties.

Mr. GREGG, a petition of citizens of Lyeomg county, praying for the passage of a law requiring prompt payment on the part of insurance companies.

Mr. SHAEFFER, a petition of citizens of Lancaster county, for an act to incorporate the Marietta, Sporting Hill and Manheim turnpike road company.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, for the repeal of an act appointing a sealer of weights and measures in that county.

Also, a petition from the same, for the reduction of the fees of district attorney in said county.

Mr. WELSH, the petition of the commissioners of York county, praying for the passage of an act authorizing them to borrow money for county purposes.

Mr. GAZZAM, a petition of citizens of Pittsburgh, praying for the repeal of an act establishing a high school in said city.

Also, a petition of citizens of Moon township, Allegheny county, for a law changing the place of holding elections in said township.

Also, two petitions of citizens of Pittsburgh and vicinity, for an act incorporating the Pittsburgh and East Liberty passenger railway company.

Mr. HARRIS, a petition of citizens of Butler and Venango counties, for the view of a State road leading from Emlenton, Venango county, to New Castle, Lawrence county.

Mr. SCOTFIELD, a petition of citizens of manufacturing counties adjacent to the Pennsylvania railroad, for a repeal of the tonnage tax.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. PARKER read in his place and presented to the Chair, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the Philadelphia and Trenton railroad company."

Mr. BELL, "An Act to extend the powers of high constable in the borough of Media;" which, on his motion, was taken up for consideration, and, after having gone through its various readings, passed finally.

Mr. PALMER, "An Act relative to writs of error, appeals and certiorari in the supreme court and the abolition of the court of nisi prius."

Also, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Middle Coalfield tunnel and railroad company."

Mr. YARDLEY, "An Act to incorporate the village of Attleboro, Bucks county, into a borough."

Mr. SCHELL, "An Act for the relief of the Somerset Borough school district, in Somerset county."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. HARRIS offered the following resolution: Resolved, That hereafter the Senate will meet at 10 o'clock, A. M., except on Mondays.

Said resolution was twice read, considered and adopted.

Mr. PALMER offered a joint resolution relative to the purchase of R. W. Sheaffer's new map and statistics of the anthracite coal regions in Pennsylvania, for the use of the members and heads of the various departments; which lies over under the rules.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

"A supplement to the act incorporating the Buffalo and Bradford railroad company," came up in order on third reading, but was allowed to lie over.

As also, Senate bills Nos. two and four.

"An Act to incorporate the American improvement and loan company," came up in order, on second reading.

The first section being under consideration,

Mr. SCHELL arose, not for the purpose of opposing, at length, the bill, but to state briefly his reasons for voting against it. He would like to vote for the bill, if for no other reason, on account of the high character of the venerable gentleman who is most deeply interested in its passage. He believed that gentleman had the best of motives in originating the project—some of his best friends were named in the bill as corporators; and he had tried hard to persuade himself that he ought to lend it his sanction, but he could not see his way through, and he was compelled, by a high sense of right and duty, to vote against it.

On the question, will the Senate agree to the first section?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RANDALL and Mr. BELL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Finney, Gazzam, Harris, Parker, Randall, Rutherford and Thompson—8.

NAYS—Messrs. Brewer, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Francis, Keller, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Nunnemacher, Penney, Schell, Scofield, Schindel, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—18.

So the question was determined in the negative, and the bill fell.

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, the Senate proceeded to the consideration of Senate bill No. 18, "An Act to establish a general banking law." (Mr. BREWER in the chair, in committee of the whole.)

The first section being before the Senate,

Mr. RANDALL arose and said, that, in presenting the bill for the consideration of the Senate, he had exercised every care in his power, and had devoted to it all the industry, thought and attention which the vast importance of the subject demanded. He did not rise with a view of discussing the merits of the bill, at length, but merely for the purpose of stating to the Senate the prominent features of it, and the three cardinal points which are involved.

The first is, that it wipes out monopoly in the present banking system and opens the door to all.

The second cardinal, and one of the most vital points, is that it supplies us with a safe and solid circulation—one which, when rotten banks shall explode, will secure perfect and ample protection to the community.

The next point—and he would state it as briefly as possible, for he did not feel disposed, at present, to argue its details, but would take occasion to do so at the proper time—was that it was calculated to bring about a state of things which was desired by every man in the State, and upon which the general interests so largely depended—an increase of the State stocks, and the extinction of the State debt.

These, he said, were most important and vital principles; and the will for the accomplishment of the objects which he had enumerated, comes before the Senate with peculiar force. The demands of the community were loud for it, and never before had any measure for the establishment of a financial system come before the Legislature with such an endorsement by the people. The Executive of the State had recommended a free banking system, such as that contemplated by the bill; and so far as that message extends, in regard to the subject of free banking, he begged leave to express here, that it meets with his hearty approval.

The system of a general banking law, has, he said, been tried in several of our neighboring States. It has, against monopoly, and against capital, fought itself into favor; and he was sorry that Pennsylvania stands behind in the adoption of a system which is calculated to exercise so important an influence upon the prosperity and greatness of the State. He would appeal to Senators to give to the bill that careful, calm and deliberate consideration which it is entitled to. He asked of them that they would not, by amendments, indirection or subterfuge, attempt to defeat it; but that they would consider the subject as became Pennsylvania Senators, alive to the interests of the State, and with a full consciousness of the responsibility which would attach to their actions.

Before concluding his remarks, he had one word to say to the Senators of the political party to which he belonged. He wished to say it in the spirit of kindness, and impressed solely with a desire to enhance the interests of the State. He believed that the march of that party must be onward; and whatever may have been its views with respect to many important measures of public policy, it cannot shrink, in any instance, from lending its powerful sanction to whatever may contribute to the interest of the masses. They should not be deluded into the belief that, because Senators of the other side were favorable to the project, they must necessarily oppose it, or that it involved a principle which was cardinal wrong. It is sufficient for them to know that the bill is a good one; that the people are in favor—urgently in favor—of the system which it proposes to establish, and that it is the best and strongest side. He would appeal, then, to the members of his own party—not merely as partisans, but as representatives of a great constituency, and the guardians of great public interests. It was for his constituency that he was speaking—for those who had suffered wrong after wrong from the system of banking under which their business was conducted; and for them, as well as the people at large, he desired for the bill a fair and candid consideration.

The first section was adopted.

The second being under consideration,

Mr. SCHELL moved to amend, by inserting the word "supreme," before "court," in the second line, and striking out the part referring applications for banking privileges to the courts of common pleas.

Mr. SCHELL was opposed to making the subject of the incorporation of banks liable to the whims and caprices of the twenty-six or twenty-eight judges of the court of common pleas. He thought the power could, more appropriately, be confided to the supreme court.

Mr. BELL had been long of the opinion that Pennsylvania had been guilty of gross indiscretion in making that business a monopoly, which should be open to all. He was in favor of a free banking law; and, without being acquainted with the details of the bill under consideration, he was prepared to second any efforts to secure to the State a better system than existed at present. He had never seen any reason why banking should be made a peculiar business, without being open to all. Our present system had been a perfect failure, and had been pursued without an adequate security for the public good, or the public interest, but solely with a view to the interests of the corporators themselves.

Without an intention of discussing, at present, the general principles of the bill, he merely rose to say he was opposed to both the amendments of the Senator from Bedford, and the suggestion of the Senator from Philadelphia, (Mr. RANDALL,) giving to the Legislature the power of granting charters. He believed that the courts were to be trusted. They were men of integrity, intelligence and standing. The courts of common pleas, he thought, would be more appropriately vested with the power of granting charters than the supreme court. They were located in the localities where the charters would be desired; they were better acquainted with the corporators, and the necessities for such an institution.— Besides, the supreme court is already burthened with duties which are sufficient to occupy all their attention, without being increased by this additional tax upon their time. He was, also, opposed to vesting the Legislature with the power. He believed it would lead to a return to the old system of monopoly; and, instead of having a free banking system—instead of extending it to all who were justly entitled to its advantages—banking privileges would be extended on grounds of personal or political favor.

Mr. SCHELL remarked that, in submitting the amendment, he had intended no reflection on the judges of the court of common pleas.— His motives for offering the amendment were simply these: The judges have often different views of questions of law, the evils of which he sought to illustrate by various conflicting decisions made upon the license law, as well as upon other questions. He considered the question of where the power of granting these charters shall be vested, the main feature of the bill, and it was important that the section should receive the careful consideration of the Senate. If the power is vested in the supreme court, he was satisfied that there would be but one construction of the law. If it passes in its present form, it is liable to the same conflicting opinions as the cases he had cited.

Mr. FINNEY asked the Senator from Bedford what legal construction the courts can give, except to grant or deny the charter?

Mr. SCHELL explained why he could not vote for the section of the bill. The power of granting charters would be much safer if vested in the supreme court, than in the courts of common pleas.

Mr. GAZZAM was constrained to oppose the amendment of the Senator from Bedford. The supreme court was not, he thought, as well qualified to act in the matter as the court of common pleas. They were not as well acquainted with the locality, and its necessities, or the corporators. If there are any errors of construction, they can be carried up to the supreme court and be corrected. The courts were the mere agents for giving corporate privileges under the bill, and for that purpose, were the safest tribunals.

Mr. COFFEY said the point just made by the Senator from Allegheny, was a very good one. The Senator from Bedford seems to infer that the courts have discretionary power in the granting of charters. They have no discretion. It is not for them to judge of the necessity for a bank, but whether the terms of the law have been complied with. If there is a difference of opinion, it will be only as to details, and cannot affect the question; and there was no reason why the supreme court should be entrusted with the power, or the Legislature be called upon, because the courts have no power to impose restrictions outside of the bill.

Mr. MILLER said the Senator from Indiana was mistaken in his supposition that no discretionary power was vested in the courts. He understands the third section as meaning and declaring that they have power to decide; and he finds, in reading the section, that which undoubtedly creates discretionary power. He read from the bill, as follows: "And if no sufficient objection is made, the said court shall, at the next term of said court, decree and declare by their order," &c., &c. Discretionary power resides in the courts by this act, and no language could be more clear. He was disposed at first, to think that no discretionary power rested in them, but, upon examination, he was convinced that it did. If, when application is made for a charter, petitions are presented, and remonstrances made against such bank, upon the ground that there is no necessity for it, or for any other good reasons, the courts are bound to take notice of them, and exercise their discretion in granting the privileges asked. He was not prepared to vote against the bill; but if the language was not made more explicit, or the section stricken out, he should be compelled to do so.

Mr. FRANCIS, of Lawrence, said he was in favor of a general banking law, and would vote for any bill, with the necessary safeguards around it, in order to secure the desired end.— But he was opposed to the leaving of this matter to the courts. Courts were composed but of men, often subject to like passions and influences as ourselves; and, at any rate, he would never give his vote to convert them into shops for the manufacture of moneyed corporations.— The banking system of the country was too complex. It needed to be simplified; and, hence, he was in favor of the largest liberty.— In a word, why not let every man who should have deposited with the State Treasurer, State or National stocks, receive from that officer, in connection with the Secretary of State, a certificate of that fact? And why not let that certificate be the evidence of his chartered right to play the banker, and emit his promises to pay? And, whenever he fails to redeem his issues of promise, let the concern be wound up; and the circulation be at once redeemed by the deposits in the hands of the State Treasurer or other person to whom they may have been committed. This, sir, is my idea of a free banking law, and this, too, will secure the note holders, and thus give confidence, which is the great desideratum with all monetary institutions.

Mr. MYER did not desire to discuss the question at present. It was not a matter of serious importance that the bill should be acted upon at an early hour. They should first see, before entering into detail, whether we are in favor of the system. The discussion of the subject, this morning, had shown that Senators were not as well acquainted with the merits or provisions of the bill as they should be. In approaching a new system—one which was to change our whole system of banking—it was proper that it should be done with due caution and deliberation, and not with precipitation or haste. It was important, he thought, that courts should have discretion, as in other cases; and if any good reason can be shown why a bank should not be incorporated, that they should be vested with the power of refusing it. In this early consideration of the bill, he hoped it might be permitted to pass to second reading, after which ample opportunity could be afforded for an examination into it, and Senators could make whatever suggestions or amendments they thought proper, on its subsequent consideration.

Mr. RANDALL said he believed a large majority of the people wished the passage of a free banking law. In the discussion of the question all had acknowledged that an independent banking system was demanded, and it was for the Legislature to determine the best method of subserving the public wish and interest in that respect. In framing the bill, after a great deal of mature reflection, it was thought that the best place to locate the power of granting charters, was in the courts of common pleas, because they best understand the wants of the people of the county in which they are located. He had great confidence in those courts. The judiciary was a bulwark in which the people must confide, or all security is gone. For the present, at least, he believed it best that the power should be lodged in the courts; and he hoped the bill would be allowed to proceed to second reading, thus affording to Senators an opportunity of becoming familiar with its details, and better preparing them to act with a proper understanding of its merits.

Mr. BELL remarked that the discussion showed that the Senate was not prepared for a consideration of the bill, in its details. He concurred in the views of the Senator from Philadelphia, and desired that the bill might be allowed to pass to second reading, after which such amendments as were desired could be made or suggested.

The amendment proposed by Mr. SCHELL was not agreed to.

Whereupon, on motion of Mr. GAZZAM, the following was substituted in lieu of the words coming after "bank," in the eighth line of the second section, "and such bank shall not be removed from the city or town where it was first located."

The second section, as amended, was agreed to.

Section third, on motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, was amended, by inserting the words "or legal" after the word "sufficient," in the twelfth line, and, as amended, passed.

Sections four, five, six, seven, eight and nine, were adopted without amendment.

Mr. RANDALL moved to amend the tenth section, in the fourth line, by striking out the words, "they may require," and inserting the words, "are required by this act;" which was agreed to; and the section, as amended, passed.

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, the words "equal account," in the third line of the eleventh section, were stricken out, and the words, "of like kind and equal value," substituted therefor.

The same section was amended by Mr. SCOFIELD, by striking out the word "stock," wherever it occurs, and inserting in lieu thereof the words, "evidences of debt."

The section, as amended, was adopted; as also, the twelfth.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the thirteenth section?

Mr. GREGG moved to amend, by changing the word "seven," in the second line, into "five;" which was agreed to; and the section, as amended, was adopted.

Sections fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen and eighteen were agreed to without amendment.

The nineteenth section being before the Senate,

Mr. YARDLEY moved to strike out from the word "protest," in the eighth line, to the word "shall," in the tenth line.

Upon this motion some discussion ensued; which was interrupted by a motion that the committee rise, report progress, and ask leave to sit again.

And on the question,

Shall the committee have leave?

It was determined in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. CRAIG, the Senate reconsidered the vote on the resolution relative to the purchase of Sutherland's Manual. Further consideration of the same was postponed for the present.

Mr. SCOFIELD moved that the vote on the bill to incorporate the American improvement and loan company be reconsidered, and that further consideration be postponed for the present; which was agreed to.

A message from the Governor was received and read, as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
Harrisburg, Feb. 6, 1859.

GENTLEMEN:—I have approved and signed the following:

"An Act relative to the opening and making of new roads and building of bridges in the township of West Marlborough, in Chester county, and relative to repairing roads in said township."

"An Act relative to roads in Salem township, Wayne county."

"An Act to incorporate the Penn warehouse company."

"A supplement to the charter incorporating the borough of Allentown."

WM. F. PACKER.

Agreeably to order, the Senate adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, Feb. 15, 1859.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock, by Mr. S. P. CHASE, Speaker pro tem.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Gans, of the German Reformed Church, Harrisburg, Pa. The Clerk read the Journal of yesterday.

Senate amendments to House bills as follows, were severally read and concurred in:

"An Act for the relief of certain collectors of taxes in Washington."

"An Act relative to the Railroad Car-spring company."

On motion of Mr. PALM, the act to secure stricter accountability on the part of certain officers in Schuylkill county, was placed upon the Calendar for this morning.

This being the day set apart for that purpose, agreeably to order, the House proceeded to the consideration of bills upon the Private Calendar, when the following were taken up and laid aside for second reading:

Sen. 140. "An Act to reduce the expenses of collecting State and county taxes in Fayette county."

No. 157. "An Act relative to the assessment of taxes in the township of Thornbury."

Sen. 99. "Resolution relative to pay of Theophilus Snyder."

No. 203. "An Act to increase the salaries of the judges of the court of common pleas of Philadelphia county."

Mr. THORN moved to amend by embracing judges of the district court; which was agreed to.

No. 208. "An Act to authorize the sheriff of Philadelphia county to advertise the sale of real estate in three daily newspapers."

No. 217. "An Act relating to roads in the township of Great Bend, county of Susquehanna."

Sen. 141. "Supplement to an act to enable the county of Warren to affect certain compromises."

Sen. 98. "An Act to prevent the destruction of fish in M'Michael's Creek, Monroe county."

No. 222. "An Act relating to the fees of aldermen and constables in criminal and penal cases in the city of Philadelphia, and to issuing process thereon."

No. 224. "An Act to repeal an act regulating the manner of voting at the general election in the counties of Wayne and Schuylkill, so far as said act relates to the county of Schuylkill."

No. 227. "An Act declaring Eliza N. Kramer an adopted child of Rev. Jas. Gray."

Mr. THORN moved to amend by striking out reverend.

Objection was made by Mr. FOSTER and subsequently withdrawn.

No. 228. "An Act to regulate disbursements from the treasury of Allegheny county."

Mr. IRISH moved to amend, that the act shall not apply to warrants drawn for the payment of jurors and witnesses; which was agreed to.

No. 232. "An Act to refund to William Coulter certain moneys and expenses paid by him to the commissioners of the Nicholson court."

"An Act to authorize the school directors of Bedford borough to borrow money, and for other purposes."

No. 234. "An Act for the relief of W. O. Hickok, of Harrisburg."

No. 235. "An Act to pay the claim of Charles Fisher."

No. 236. "An Act to authorize the State Treasurer to pay Messrs. A. K. and A. L. Witmer, for loss sustained in consequence of a collision on the Columbia and Philadelphia railroad."

No. 237. "An Act authorizing the Auditor General and State Treasurer to examine and report upon the claim of the bail of Henry D. Rodarmell, late supervisor on the Susquehanna division canal."

No. 238. "An Act to incorporate the Union school directors of Wattsburg, in the county of Erie."

No. 240. "An Act to incorporate the California seminary of Washington county."

No. 241. "An Act to establish a Normal school in connection with Westminster college, New Wilmington, Lawrence county, Pennsylvania."

No. 247. "An Act authorizing the Governor to incorporate a company to erect a bridge over Clearfield creek, Clearfield county, at Alexander's fording."

No. 248. "An Act to incorporate the Uniontown and Virginia Line turnpike road company."

No. 249. "An Act to repeal the act of May 16, 1857, authorizing the location of a State road through parts of Washington and Greene counties."

No. 250. "An Act to change the time for electing officers of the Susquehanna and Lehigh turnpike road company."

No. 251. "An Act to incorporate the Richlandtown turnpike road company."

No. 252. "An Act declaring McMichael's creek, in Monroe county, a public highway, and to prevent the destruction of fish, &c."

No. 253. "An Act to incorporate the Green Castle and Maryland State Line turnpike road company."

No. 254. "An Act relative to the election of supervisors in the township of Salem, in the county of Westmoreland."

No. 248. "An Act to appoint commissioners to re-survey and establish the line of the main road running through a part of Wilkesbarre township."

No. 256. "An Act to incorporate the Clearfield gas company."

"An Act to incorporate the Union mutual fire insurance company of Montgomery county."

No. 260. "An Act to incorporate the People's insurance company, to be located in the city of Philadelphia."

"An Act to incorporate the Southwark soup society."

No. 261. "A supplement to the act, entitled 'An Act for incorporating St. Paul's church, in the city of Philadelphia.'"

No. 263. "An Act to incorporate the members of the Olivet Methodist Episcopal church of the village of Conestville, Chester county."

"An Act to incorporate the First Presbyterian church of Strasburg."

No. 265. "An Act to incorporate the trustees of the Young Men's Christian building association of Philadelphia."

No. 162. "An Act defining certain powers."

No. 182. "An Act to confer on certain associations of the citizens of this Commonwealth the powers and immunities of corporations and bodies politic in law, and to confirm charters heretofore granted."

No. 194. "An Act to authorize the Surveyor General to issue a patent."

No. 369. "An Act for the sale of part of a graveyard lot in New Bethlehem, Clarion county."

"An Act to incorporate the Waynesboro turnpike road company."

"An Act extending the seventh section of the act of 13th June, 1840, relating to elections in Washington county."

"An Act to secure stricter accountability on the part of certain officers in Schuylkill county."

"An Act providing for the election of an additional law judge in Allegheny county," came up in order.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved to amend, by striking out "from and after the first Monday of December," and insert in lieu thereof "on and after the passage of this act."

Mr. IRISH made objections.

Mr. IRISH moved to amend the last section to read as follows:

"That the said court of common pleas shall hereafter have full concurrent jurisdiction with the district court of said county, in all cases where the amount in controversy shall not exceed three hundred dollars."

Mr. WILSON made objections.

The bill was then read, and prepared for second reading.

"An Act to abolish the board of health of the city and port of Philadelphia, and to provide for the appointment of commissioners of health for said city and port," came up in order, and was objected to by Mr. THORN, because of Senate bill embracing like provisions.

"An Act authorizing the State Treasurer to pay Nathaniel White for damages sustained by him from the Commonwealth," came up in order, and was objected to by Mr. HAMERSLY, because the State is not liable to pay this class of damages.

"An Act to establish a normal school in connection with Westminster college, New Wilmington, Lawrence county, Pa.," came up in order, and was objected to by Mr. BERTOLET, because he was opposed to appropriating moneys out of the treasury; thus making an impolitic discrimination in favor of certain colleges.

"An Act to incorporate the American improvement and loan company," came up in order, and was objected by Mr. BARNESLEY, because he had not had sufficient time to examine the provisions of the bill.

"An Act to incorporate the Mifflin County Bank," came up in order, and was objected to by Mr. STEPHENS, because we have too many banks now, of promises to pay, which is a libel upon their face; the most of them being but mere ghosts of chance; which enrich a few at the expense of the many; which create our panics, our crises and our hard times, by giving a fictitious value and false stimulus, for the time being, to every branch of business; by raising every thing above its real value, and in the end depress, destroy and injure all the industrial pursuits of life.

"An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia theatre company," came up in order, and was objected to by Mr. HARDING.

"An Act to vest the Girard school house in Philadelphia city," came up in order, and was objected to by Mr. EVANS.

Mr. CHURCH hoped the gentleman would let the bill go to second reading.

Mr. EVANS then withdrew his objection, and said bill was prepared for second reading.

"A supplement to the act to incorporate the Big Mountain improvement company," approved April 12, 1857," came up in order, and was objected to by Mr. HOTTENSTINE.

He said:—The said company is located in the county I represent, and I have had no knowledge of the act until to-day. Had I not been familiar with the name of said company, the bill would perhaps have escaped my notice entirely, which was, no doubt, I suppose intended by the friends of the act. The title of the bill withholds the name of the county, which makes it appear rather suspicious. The bill has not been on file yet; therefore having had no opportunity myself, as well as the majority of the members of this House, to examine into the merits or demerits of the act, I object. If a bill will not bear the examination of the member representing such district, it looks very suspicious, or to use the language of the gentleman from Bucks, (Mr. WILLIAMS,) looks like as if there was a "nigger on the fence."

"An Act relative to the Delaware Division canal company," came up in order, when, on motion of Mr. BARNESLEY, it was ordered to be placed upon the Calendar for next Tuesday.

"An Act to incorporate a ferry over the Schuylkill river," came up in order, when, on motion of Mr. SHAFER, the House refused to consider the same at this time.

Mr. BARLOW called the attention of the House to the fact that House bill No. 271, "An Act authorizing a change of the name, style and title of the Allegheny and Bald Eagle railroad, coal and iron company, in Centre county," had been reported from the committee to which it had been referred, some ten days ago. He desired to know why the same was not to be found upon the files of the House.

The Chair replied that he was informed that it was the fault of the printer, who was behind in the printing of bills.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) leave being given, read in his place and presented to the chair, "An Act to incorporate the Robeson and Exeter bridge company."

Also, "An Act to incorporate the Berks County association for the improvement of the breed of stock."

Also, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the borough of Reading into a city."

Mr. PATTERSON, on leave, read in his place, "An Act for the relief of Jno. S. Miller."

Also, "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Patterson, Johnstown, Peru Mills and Concord plank road company."

Also, "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Perrysville, East Waterford and Waterloo plank road company."

Mr. PALM moved that the House proceed to the consideration of Senate bill No. 40, "An Act to secure stricter accountability on the part of officers in Schuylkill county;" not agreed to.

Mr. THORN, on leave, read in his place and presented to the Chair, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Delaware and Schuylkill Basin company;" which was taken up and passed, and ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. SMEAD presented "An Act to incorporate the Towanda and Wapposenning railroad company."

Mr. JACKSON, one to prevent hunting deer with dogs in Sullivan county.

Mr. HARDING asked leave to read a bill in place; which was refused.

Mr. WARDEN moved that the House do now proceed to the second reading and consideration of bills upon the Private Calendar.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. THORN said that the officers of the House were already over worked; and, as there would be a session this afternoon, he moved that the House do now adjourn; which was agreed to; whereupon

The SPEAKER adjourned the House until this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House met at 3 o'clock, and was called to order by the SPEAKER pro tem., Mr. S. B. CHASE.

MESSAGE.

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented a message from the Governor, informing the House that he has approved and signed the following acts of the General Assembly:

"An Act relative to the opening and making of new roads and building bridges, &c., in West Marlboro township, Chester county."

"An Act relative to road laws in Salem township, Wayne county."

"An Act to incorporate the Penn warehouse company."

Mr. HAMERSLEY withdrew his objections to House bill No. 233, "An Act authorizing the State Treasurer to pay Nathaniel White, for damages sustained by him from the Commonwealth."

On motion of Mr. WARDEN, the House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of bills upon the Private Calendar. Bills numbered and entitled as follows, were accordingly taken up and passed finally; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence:

No. 197. "An Act relative to the assessment of taxes in the township of Thornbury."

Sen. 99. "Resolution relative to the pay of Theophilus Snyder, Sergeant-at-Arms in the Senate, &c."

No. 203. "An Act to increase the salaries of the judges of the court of common pleas of Philadelphia county."

No. 217. "An act relating to roads in the township of Great Bend, county of Susquehanna."

"An Act to prevent the destruction of fish in M'Michael's creek."

No. 222. "An Act relating to the fees of aldermen and constables in criminal and penal cases in the city of Philadelphia, and to issuing process thereon."

No. 224. "An Act to repeal an act regulating the manner of voting at the general election in the counties of Wayne and Schuylkill, so far as said act relates to the county of Schuylkill."

No. 227. "An Act declaring Eliza N. Kramer, an adopted child of Rev. James Gray."

No. 232. "An Act to refund to William Coulter certain moneys and expenses paid by him to the commissioners of the Nicholson court."

No. 233. "An Act authorizing the State Treasurer to pay Nathaniel White for damages sustained by him from the Commonwealth."

"An Act to authorize the school directors of Bedford borough to borrow money, and for other purposes."

"Supplement to the act to provide for the employment and support of the poor in Schuylkill county."

"An Act for the protection of dogs in York county."

"An Act for the relief of W. O. Hickok, of Harrisburg."

"An Act to incorporate the Union school directors of Wattsburg, in the county of Erie."

"An Act to incorporate the California seminary of Washington county."

"An Act to reduce the expenses of collecting taxes in Fayette county," came up in order; when, on motion of Mr. GALLEY, the further consideration of said bill was postponed for the present.

"An Act to authorize the sheriff of Philadelphia county to advertise the sale of real estate in three daily newspapers," came up in order, and was read the second time.

And on the question, will the House agree to the bill?

Mr. SHEPPARD moved to strike out all after the enacting clause, and insert in lieu thereof, the following:

That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be lawful for the sheriff of the city and county of Philadelphia to publish, in addition to the advertisements now authorized by law, such advertisements or abstracts thereof of sales of real estate or notices required by law, as he may deem necessary and proper, in a newspaper published in said city, and printed in the German language.

Which was agreed to.

And the bill, as amended, was passed finally; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

"A supplement to the act to enable the county of Warren to effect certain compromises," came up in order and was read the second time.

Mr. ROUSE submitted the following new section:

SECTION 2. "That the burgess and town council of the borough of Warren, shall have power to compromise the subscription of said borough to the stock of the Sunbury and Erie railroad company, on the same terms as the commissioners of Warren county, are empowered by the act to which this is a supplement, to compromise the subscription of the county of Warren; and shall, for the purpose of carrying out such compromise, have power to assess a borough tax, not exceeding one per cent. per dollar per annum for the term of six years;" which was agreed to.

And the bill passed finally.

And ordered that the Clerk present the same to Senate for concurrence.

"An Act providing for the election of an additional law judge in Allegheny county," came up in order, and was read the second time.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved to amend by striking out "from and after the first of December next," and insert in lieu thereof, "from and after the passage of this act."

Mr. IRISH opposed the amendment.

And the question being taken, it was determined in the negative.

Said bill was then read the second and third time, and passed.

"An Act to regulate disbursements from the treasury of Allegheny county," came up in order, and was read the second time.

Mr. WALBORN moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present; which was subsequently withdrawn.

Mr. THORN moved the following amendment:

And provided further, That nothing in this act shall be construed to interfere with the payment of the interest or principal of bonds issued by the city of Pittsburgh, or the county of Allegheny.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. IRISH said that the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. THORN,) seemed unnecessarily suspicious in regard to this bill. That its object was perfectly fair and legitimate, and that nothing more was proposed or desired than appeared on the face of the bill.

The increasing business of the county, and the increasing number of claims which are being annually presented for examination and payment, require that an additional safeguard should be thrown around the county treasury to protect it against invalid and fraudulent claims.

The city and county of Philadelphia have a similar provision now in force, which it long ago found necessary to protect its treasury.

Why, then, have we not as good a right to a similar provision in our county, whose growing business also requires it?

As for the amendment offered, it embraces in my opinion a most singular and novel proposition. Why should the wealthy bond holder of an eastern, or perhaps a foreign city, be placed in a better position, than the humble home creditor of the county, who may earn his dollar a day in the streets of our city, and is compelled to submit his claim to the examination of a board of auditors? Why should the holders of one class of claims be placed in a better position than another? Why should the claims of bond holders be exempt from an examination and investigation to which all other claims are subject by the terms of the bill? It seems to me, sir, that these very claims which the gentleman proposes to exempt from the ordinary mode of examination, are of a character which especially require a careful and rigid scrutiny and examination, owing to the manner in which they were issued or disposed of. I hope, therefore, that the amendment will be voted down.

Mr. FOSTER opposed the amendment as unnecessary and uncalled for. The city of Pittsburgh, although within the county, was a separate municipality, which the bill in no way affected. The act he had introduced was necessary to protect the treasury of the county.—The commissioners gave no bail, and the treasurer was compelled to pay their warrants. If money was drawn illegally, for election expenses, or any other purpose not recognized by law, the money was paid, and the auditors refused to allow it, the treasurer alone was the loser. He had, therefore, never known a case where a warrant was thrown out. This enables the auditors to hold a check upon expenditures, and prevent recklessness on the part of the commissioners. As to the bond holders, for whose interest the gentleman from Philadelphia felt so deeply, he could see no reason why they should be placed upon any other footing than others who held claims, good or bad, against Allegheny county. They had the supreme court to help them, and when they got through with the commissioners, they might mandamus the auditors. Many of the bonds alluded to had been issued through false pretences, and sold at a sacrifice, in defiance of the very laws which authorized their issue. The bill was a fair one; a very necessary one, and he appealed to the House to vote down the amendment, and pass it as introduced.

The question was further debated by Messrs. GRITMAN, THORN, WALBORN, ROSE and HAMERSLY.

And the question recurring, will the House agree to the amendment proposed by Mr. THORN? it was determined in the negative.

And on the question, shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. EVANS and Mr. WALBORN, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Fearon, Fleming, Foster, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, McChaffey, McClure, McDowell, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Pugh, Quigley, Rohrer, Rose, Rouse, Shafer, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Wilson, Withrow and Zoller—66.

NAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Custer, Dismant, Evans, Galley, Goepp, Gritman, Hill, Patterson, Ramsdell, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stoneback, Walborn and Wolf—14.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

"An Act authorizing the State Treasurer to pay the claim of Nathaniel White, for damages sustained by him from the Commonwealth," came up in order, and was read the second time.

Mr. ROSE called upon the gentleman who had the bill in charge, (Mr. WOLF,) to explain the bill.

Mr. WOLF replied that he had no further evidence in the case than the petition of Mr. White, who is a reliable man, and the affidavits of some twelve or fifteen of the most respectable citizens of the vicinity, and forwarded to the SPEAKER'S desk petitions and documents relative to the claim, which he requested should be read.

And on the question,

Shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. EVANS and Mr. WOLF, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barlow, Bryson, Church, Dismant, Durboraw, Ellmaker, Fearon, Foster, Glatz, Goepp, Good, Gratz, Green, Harding, Keneagy, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, McClure, Nill, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Price, Quigley, Shafer, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stuart, Styer, Thompson, Warden, Wigton, Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Zoller—40.

NAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Chase, Custer, Eckman, Evans, Fisher, Fleming, Galley, Graham, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Neall, Oaks, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pugh, Rose, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stoneback, Taylor, Walker, Whitman, Wiley and Williams, (Bedford,)—33.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

"An Act to pay the claim of Charles Fisher," came up in order and was lost.

"An Act to authorize the State Treasurer to pay Messrs. A. K. and A. L. Witmer, for loss sustained in consequence of a collision on the Columbia and Philadelphia railroad," came up in order, and was read the second time.

Being on the final passage, it was advocated by Messrs. PRICE, KENEAGY, MCCLURE and WILSON.

And on the question,

Shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. EVANS and Mr. NILL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Church, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Fisher, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Goepp, Good, Graham, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, McChaffey, McClure, Miller, Neall, Nill, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Pierce, Price, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Wilson, Withrow and Zoller—61.

NAYS—Messrs. Balliet, Barnsley, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Evans, Fleming, Gray Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Oaks, Rose, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Warden and Williams, (Bedford,)—18.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

"An Act authorizing the Auditor General and State Treasurer to examine and report upon the claim of the bail of H. D. Rodarmel, late superintendent on the Susquehanna Division of the Pennsylvania canal," on motion of Mr. PATTERSON, was postponed for the present.

"An Act to establish a Normal school in connection with Westminster college, New Wilmington, Lawrence county, Pennsylvania," came up in order, and was read the second time.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the bill?

Mr. RAMSDELL offered the following new section, in lieu of the ninth:

"The superintendent of common schools of the several counties mentioned in the sixth section of this act, shall have the privilege of acting in conjunction with the trustees of said institution, in selecting a suitable board of examiners to ascertain and report to the State Superintendent, annually, the state or condition of said Normal School—the progress and prospective usefulness of the same; which was agreed to.

Mr. STEPHENS moved to amend by striking from the bill the State appropriation of $1200, and inserting, in lieu thereof, the words, "the counties of Lawrence, Beaver, Mercer, Butler and Venango, shall pay to Westminster college the sum of $1200, to be taken out of school moneys appropriated to said counties, in proportion to the taxable inhabitants in each."

Mr. RAMSDELL moved to amend the amendment, by striking from the amendment the counties enumerated therein, and inserting in lieu thereof the county of Wayne; which was subsequently withdrawn.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment of Mr. STEPHENS?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. STEPHENS and Mr. STONEBACK, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Custer, Dismant, Goepp, Good, Gritman, Hottenstine, Rohrer, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback and Wolf—13.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Evans, Fearon, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, McClure, Miller, Neall, Nill, Patterson, Peirce, Price, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rose, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow and Zoller—63.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. CAMPBELL moved that further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved to amend, by postponing it until next Thursday.

Mr. GOEPP moved to amend the amendment, by postponing the further consideration of said bill indefinitely.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The hour of five having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

No. 242.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) Banks—Feb. 4.

AN ACT to incorporate the Mifflin County Bank.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That William Thompson, Davis Bates, Andrew McFarlane, E. L. Benedict, Thomas Reed, Joseph Alexander, John D. Naggeny, Thompson G. Bell, William Beatty, Samuel Milliken, Oliver P. Smith and James Brown, of the county of Mifflin, are hereby appointed commissioners, and they or a majority of them, are authorized to carry into effect the establishment of a bank, to be located in the borough of Lewistown, in the county of Mifflin, with a capital of one hundred thousand dollars; and the said commissioners may increase it to two hundred thousand dollars; and the president and directors may, at any time, increase the same to five hundred thousand dollars, to be divided into shares of one thousand dollars each, and to be organized, managed and governed, as hereinafter provided for.

SEC. 2. That the commissioners named in the first section of this act, or a majority of them, shall have power to open books for receiving subscriptions to the capital stock of said bank, agreeably to the provisions of the first section of this act; and no person shall be permitted to subscribe less than five shares; and such subscriptions shall be made payable to the president and directors of said bank; and the said commissioners shall have the power of keeping the books open to receive subscriptions for the term of one year, if they should not get the one hundred shares subscribed sooner.

SEC. 3. That all persons offering to subscribe to the capital stock of said bank, shall first pay to the attending commissioners the sum of ten dollars on each share to be subscribed; out of which shall be defrayed the expenses of taking the subscriptions and other incidental charges, and the residue shall be paid over to the president and directors of said bank, as soon as the same shall be organized.

SEC. 4. That the stockholders of said bank, shall at no time be less than five nor more than thirty in number, and they shall be the directors of said bank, with power, after incorporation, to elect a president, cashier and other necessary officers, from time to time, as occasion may require in said election of officers, and on all other questions that may come before the board, every five shares of stock shall entitle the holder to one vote, except in determining what paper may be discounted, when each stockholder shall be entitled to one vote and no more, irrespective of the number of shares held by him; and all paper offered for discount shall be rejected, if there be two or more votes against it; the president and cashier or any other officer is prohibited from discounting any paper, unless they have written instructions signed by all the directors, giving them power to do so; and in all elections for officers, and all matters except discounting, to be decided by a vote; two-thirds of all the votes shall be necessary to a decision.

SEC. 5. That the stockholders of said bank, in addition to their corporate liability, shall be jointly and severally liable for all the debts and liabilities of said bank; and as a further security to the holders of all bills or notes which may be issued by said bank, the stockholders thereof are hereby required to give mortgages to the Commonwealth upon real estate situated in this State, clear of all prior incumbrances, at a fair cash valuation of said real estate, said valuation to be ascertained by an appraisalment of the mortgaged premises made under oath or affirmation by three competent and disinterested persons, to be appointed by the Governor for that purpose; and before the commissioners enter on the duty of their office, they are to notify the Governor, who is authorized to appoint three appraisers, whose duty it shall be to appraise the property shown to them at a fair cash valuation, and to make out a certificate of the same, signed by said appraisers or a majority of them, which certificate is to be attached to said mortgage.

SEC. 6. That the said commissioners shall have the mortgages drawn and duly executed, and submit them and the title papers to the judges of the court of common pleas of the county in which the mortgaged premises are situated, or a majority of them, of whom the president judge shall be one, and the said judges, or a majority of them, are hereby authorized to examine them, and if approved of, they are so to certify, and the said certificate shall be attached to said mortgage with the certificate of appraisers.

SEC. 7. That each mortgagor who, under the provisions of this act, shall mortgage lands or assign mortgages which he has on land on which valuable buildings are erected, shall procure and keep up a policy or policies of fire insurances on said buildings in some solvent company or companies, for such amount as may be required by the rest of the stockholders, and to be approved of by said appraisers; said policies to be deposited with Auditor General for the security of the noteholders of said bank; and in case any such mortgagor shall neglect or refuse to keep up such insurances, it shall be the duty of the Auditor General, whenever any such policy shall expire, forthwith, to require said bank, within ten days, to renew or furnish other policies, or to surrender up to him the circulating notes of said bank to an amount equal to the amount of such expired policy; if the said policies are not given, and the said notes surrendered as required, the Auditor General shall inventory and destroy the same as hereafter directed; but if the policies and notes be not so given, the Auditor General shall direct the Attorney General to collect the amount of said policies out of said mortgages, and pay the same into the State Treasury, there to be kept for the use and security of said noteholders.

SEC. 8. That said mortgages shall be given for the amount of notes proposed to be issued by said bank, and shall be acknowledged as other mortgages, and recorded, together with the aforesaid certificates of valuation, in the county or counties in which the mortgaged lands and tenements lie, and also in the Auditor General's office, in books to be provided for that purpose, and shall be held by said Commonwealth, in trust, for the use of the noteholders of said bank; and upon the failure of said bank to redeem any of its notes as required by law, it shall be the duty of the assignee or assignees who may be appointed under the proceedings authorized by the seventeenth section of the act regulating banks, approved the sixteenth of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, to sue out said mortgages and collect the proceeds, or so much thereof as may be necessary to redeem all the notes issued by said bank.

SEC. 9. That when not less than one hundred thousand dollars of the capital stock of said bank shall have been subscribed, and ten dollars on each share has been paid on the amount so subscribed, in gold or silver coin, or the notes of specie paying banks, which the said commissioners are hereby authorized to receive, said commissioners, or a majority of them, shall certify to the Governor under their hands and seals, and under their oaths and affirmations respectively, the names of the subscribers and the number of shares subscribed by each, together with the amount so actually paid, and that mortgages on real estate to the amount of shares subscribed for and the policies of insurance, have been given and deposited with the Auditor General, as required by this act; and thereupon the Governor shall, by letters patent, under his hand and the seal of the State, create and erect the said subscribers, their successors and assigns, into one body politic and corporate, in deed, and in law, by the name, style and title of the Mifflin County Bank; and they shall so continue a body politic and corporate, for the term of twenty years, from and after the date of said letters patent; and by the name, style and title aforesaid, they shall be able to sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded, answer and be answered, in all courts of record and elsewhere, and to purchase, have, hold, receive, possess, enjoy and retain, to them and their successors, lands, tenements, hereditaments, rents, goods and chattles, of what kind, nature and quality whatsoever, to an amount not exceeding in the whole the capital stock of said bank, except such as may be purchased in satisfaction of any judgment or decree in favor of said bank, or lands purchased, in which said bank may have a lien or assigned to it as security for the payment of any debt; and the same from time to time, to sell, grant, demise, alien and dispose of; and also, to make and have a common seal, and the same to break, alter and renew at pleasure; and also to ordain and put in execution such by-laws, rules and regulations, as shall be convenient and necessary for the good government of said bank: Provided, They be not contrary to the constitution or the laws of the United States, or of this State; and generally to do and execute all such acts, matters and things, which a corporation may lawfully do, subject to the rules, regulations, restrictions and provisions of this act: Provided, however, That all such lands, tenements and hereditaments, except the banking house and lot of said bank, shall be aliened, sold and disposed of within five years after the same shall have been acquired by said bank.

SEC. 10. That the Auditor General is hereby authorized and directed to cause to be engraved and printed in the manner best calculated to guard against counterfeiting, such quantity of bills or notes in blank of the different denominations not less than five dollars, which are authorized to be issued by the banks of this Commonwealth, to carry into effect the provisions of this act; said blank bills or notes, each denomination of which shall be uniform, shall be countersigned by the Auditor General and numbered and registered in his office; and all said bills or notes of every denomination, shall have upon their face the words secured by pledge of real estate and joint and several liability of stockholders; the forms and devices of said notes, and the number of each denomination may be selected by the bank; but the Auditor General shall prescribe the devices for receiving his signature and the number herein directed to be put on said notes.

SEC. 11. That whenever said bank shall have been duly organized and the stockholders thereof shall have deposited with the Auditor General the mortgage securities and policies of insurances herein required, and not less than twenty-five per cent. of the capital stock subscribed shall have been paid in, and the same shall be so certified under the oath or affirmation of the cashier, the said bank shall be entitled to receive from said Auditor General an amount of the aforesaid bills or notes in blank, equal to the aggregate amount of said mortgages, in such denomination as said bank may desire, numbered, registered and countersigned as aforesaid; and the said bank, on receipt of said notes, is hereby authorized, after having them signed by the president and cashier thereof, in such manner as to make them obligatory promissory notes, payable on demand, at its banking house or place of business, to loan and circulate the same as money, according to the ordinary course of banking business, subject to all the provisions and restrictions of this act.

SEC. 12. That said bank is hereby prohibited, under a penalty of a forfeiture of its charter, from issuing, paying out or circulating any bills, or notes or paper, in the nature or similitude of bank notes, purporting to be the notes of said bank, other than such as may be received from the Auditor General as aforesaid; and any president, cashier or other officer of said bank, who shall make, sign, issue, pay out, or cause, or knowingly permit to be made, signed, issued or paid out, any bill or note as aforesaid, not authorized by this act, or if any Auditor General shall number, countersign or deliver, or knowingly permit to be numbered, countersigned or delivered to said bank, or to any of its officers, or to any other person, said bills or notes, to an amount, in the aggregate, beyond the amount of mortgaged securities deposited as aforesaid, such Auditor General, president, cashier, or other person so violating the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined not less than one thousand nor more than ten thousand dollars, and undergo an imprisonment in the penitentiary of the proper district for a period not less than three years, nor more than ten years: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit said bank or its officers from loaning, passing and circulating the notes of other banks, in the same manner as other banks incorporated by the laws of this Commonwealth may lawfully do.

SEC. 13. That no officer or director of said bank shall at any time permit the specie or specie funds on hand to be reduced below twenty-five per cent. of the aggregate amount of notes in circulation; and should specie or specie funds at any time be so reduced, it shall be unlawful for said bank to discount any paper until said specie or specie funds be made to exceed said twenty-five per cent.; and any president, cashier or director who shall allow, or knowingly permit any discounts to be made in violation of the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, and undergo an imprisonment in the penitentiary of the proper district for a term not less than one month, nor more than one year: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the renewing of paper that has been discounted, or the discounting bills of exchange at short dates.

SEC. 14. That the said directors to meet on the Tuesday of each week, and as much often as they think necessary, for the purpose of discounting or other business; at which time the cashier shall make a full statement of the situation of the bank, in a book to be kept for that purpose, when a majority of the directors shall be a quorum for discounting; but if a majority of said directors should not attend on the days appointed, then, and in that case, any two of them shall have the privilege of discounting.

SEC. 15. That said bank shall make the same statements and returns, to be verified and published in the same manner as are required of the other banks of this Commonwealth not located in the cities of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh or Allegheny; and the said directors, or a majority of them, shall examine one of the statements every three months, and certify under their hands that it is correct, to the best of their knowledge and belief.

SEC. 16. That it shall be the duty of the Auditor General, whenever requested by said bank, to receive all defaced and mutilated bills or notes, and to deliver in lieu thereof other circulating notes, duly numbered, registered and countersigned as aforesaid to the same amount; and said Auditor General, on receipt of any bills or notes under any of the provisions of this act, shall forthwith make out complete lists of the same, containing the numbers, dates and amounts of all said bills or notes respectively, and without delay cause said lists to be recorded in his office, in the book or books for recording the aforesaid mortgages; and as soon thereafter as practicable shall burn and destroy all notes received as aforesaid, in the presence of the State Treasurer and cashier, or president of said bank.

SEC. 17. That on the death of any party who shall have given and deposited mortgage securities as aforesaid, or whenever any person, having so given and deposited the same, shall desire to withdraw his, or her or their means from said bank, and to have their said mortgage securities cancelled, and the lands and tenements bound thereby, released, it shall be lawful for such stockholder, if living, or for the heirs or devisees of such as may be dead, to apply to the Auditor General, by petition, briefly setting forth the facts, and praying that the said securities may be cancelled; whereupon the said Auditor General shall forthwith issue a citation directed to the said bank, and cause the same to be served by copy on the president or cashier thereof, requiring said bank, within six months after said service, to substitute other mortgage securities, under the provisions of the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh sections of this act, for the same amount as that proposed to be cancelled, or within said six months, to deliver up to said Auditor General, to be destroyed, an amount of the circulating notes of said bank equal to the amount of said mortgage securities so proposed to be cancelled; and on compliance of bank with either of said, the Auditor General shall issue an order, under his hand and seal of office, directed to the recorder of deeds in whose office such mortgage or mortgages may be recorded, authorizing said recorder to enter satisfaction on such mortgage or mortgages, and said recorder shall also at the same time record the authority on which said satisfaction may be entered, after which date the said stockholder is discharged from all liability, unless he holds other stock in the bank: Provided, That no mortgage securities shall be cancelled or marked satisfied as aforesaid, unless the stockholder asking for the same shall have first discharged all his or her indebtedness to said bank, and paid off all costs that may occur by entering said satisfaction and getting other mortgages in lieu thereof.

SEC. 18. That on settling up of the said bank, either at the expiration of the charter or by consent of the partners, or by failure of the bank, the persons authorized to settle it, after giving notice in one paper published in the county, one in Harrisburg and one in Philadelphia, to be published six months, giving notice that they are ready to redeem all the notes in circulation, and requesting the holders of them to present them; and at the expiration of two years from the date of the notice, on proof of the notice being published, and all the notes that was presented at the counter was paid, the Auditor General is authorized to issue power of attorney to the register and recorder of the counties in which the mortgaged premises are to enter satisfaction on all the mortgages held by the Commonwealth, as security for the redemption of the notes.

SEC. 19. That the plates, dies and other materials procured by the Auditor General for engraving and printing said bills or notes as herein directed, shall remain in the possession of said Auditor General for safe keeping, and under his direction and control; and the necessary expense of procuring said plates, dies, books and other materials, and of printing, numbering, registering and countersigning said bills or notes, and the usual fees for recording said mortgages and other papers, shall be paid by the said bank, before the said bills or notes shall be delivered by the Auditor General as aforesaid.

No. 245.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

TAYLOR, Estates and Escheats—Feb. 4

A SUPPLEMENT to the acts limiting actions against real estate.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That no entry upon lands shall arrest the running of the statute of limitations, unless an action of ejectment be commenced therefor, within one year thereafter; nor shall such entry and action without a recovery therein, arrest the running of said statute in respect to another ejectment, unless it be brought within a year after the first shall have been non suited, arrested or decided against the plaintiff therein.

SEC. 2. That when the right of a tenant in tail of any land or ground rent, to make an entry or distress, or to bring an action to recover the same, shall become barred by reason of the same, not having been made or brought within the period limited by law, no such entry, distress or action shall be made or brought by any person claiming any estate, interest or right, which such tenant in tail might lawfully have barred; and whenever the statute of limitations shall have begun, or shall begin to run against the tenant in tail, it shall continue to run against the issue, remainderman or reversioner, unless arrested by the act of the tenant in tail: Provided, That no person shall be barred by force of this section, until after the expiration of three years from the date hereof.

No. 180.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

GOEPP, Judiciary—January 31.

AN ACT to prevent the defacing of bank notes.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful for any person or persons, corporation or body corporate, within this Commonwealth, to deface any bank note, or acknowledgment of indebtedness, of the nature, character and appearance of a bank note, issued by any bank lawfully incorporated by the Legislature of this Commonwealth, and authorized to issue the same, by writing, printing, or in any other way impressing or inscribing thereon, either on the face or on the back thereof, any card, advertisement or other inscription calculated or intended to announce and make known the occupation or place of any person, firm or corporation, and to pass off, pay out or circulate any such bank note or other acknowledgment of indebtedness, as aforesaid, so defaced as aforesaid.

SEC. 2. That every person who shall violate the provisions of the first section of the act, shall be taken and deemed to have committed a misdemeanor; and shall, upon conviction thereof in the Court of quarter sessions of the peace of the county wherein which the said violation shall have been committed, be fined in any sum not less than twenty dollars, and not more than fifty dollars.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

- No. 34.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 16, 1859.

The Senate met and was called to order by the SPEAKER at 10 o'clock, A. M.

A quorum of Senators present.

Prayer by Rev. Charles A. Hay, of the English Lutheran church, Harrisburg.

Journal read and approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. SCOFIELD asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. RUTHERFORD, for a few days from to-day.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. WRIGHT, (Corporations,) reported as committed, House bill No. 136, "An Act to incorporate the Franklin market company."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to amend the charter of the borough of North Lebanon."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act incorporating a company for the improvement of the drama."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Zoological society of Philadelphia."

Also, (same,) with amendment, House bill No. 121, "An Act to incorporate the Eastern market company."

Mr. SHAEFFER, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Mutual fire insurance company of Annville, Lebanon county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Female seminary of Harrisburg."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 143, "An Act relating to the borough of Lebanon."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill, No. 171, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the borough of Marietta, in Lancaster county."

Mr. GAZZAM, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 163, "An Act to incorporate the Mercantile Hall library company of the city of Pittsburgh."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No.

141, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Union school and childrens' home asylum; to provide for the taxation of non-resident vendors of merchandize in Philadelphia; and for the relief of Edward Hutchinson."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 165, "An Act to incorporate the Security fire insurance company of Philadelphia."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Morrisville water company."

Mr. SCHELL, as committed, House bill No. 164, "An Act to incorporate the Farmers' mutual fire insurance company of middle Pennsylvania."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Columbia County Agricultural, Horticultural and Mechanical association."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 166, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the Scranton gas and water company, and amendatory of the supplement, approved February 20, 1858."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 173, "An Act to incorporate the City building association."

Mr. KELLER, (Banks,) as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the mutual saving and loan association of Philadelphia."

Mr. MARSELIS, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to the banks of this Commonwealth."

Mr. FINNEY, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Olney passenger railroad company."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill, No. 159, "An Act to incorporate the Northwest portage railroad company."

Mr. COFFEY, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Northumberland and Juniata railroad company."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to incorporate the Laurel Hill and Manayunk passenger railway company."

Mr. CRAIG, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to incorporate the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Streets passenger railway company."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to incorporate the Eighth and Ninth Streets passenger railway company."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to incorporate the Chatham and Moore Streets passenger railway company."

Mr. RANDALL, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the Norristown and Freemansburg railroad company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act incorporating the Plymouth railroad company."

Mr. FETTER, (Agriculture and Domestic Manufactures,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to manufacturing flour from wheat, rye and corn, in Clinton county."

On motion of Mr. GREGG, this bill was recommitted.

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 140, "An Act relative to strays in Venango county."

Mr. NUNNEMACHER, (Roads and Bridges,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Pineville and Centreville turnpike road company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Hilltown and Sellersville turnpike road company."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, (same,) as committed,

"An Act to authorize Lewis R. Geer, to erect a ferry across the Allegheny river."

Mr. FETTER, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the construction of a dam across the Conemaugh river."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to road and bridge viewers in Centre county."

Mr. THOMPSON, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Black Rock bridge company, in Montgomery county."

Mr. BALDWIN, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Conestoga and Beaver Valley turnpike road company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Marietta, Mt. Joy, Sporting Hill and Manheim turnpike road company."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. COFFEY read in his place and presented to the Chair, "A supplement to an act incorporating the University of Kittanning."

Mr. BELL, "An Act relative to executors, administrators and guardians."

Mr. BREWER, "An Act relative to deer in Adams, Franklin, Cumberland and Fulton counties."

Mr. PENNEY, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Odd Fellows' hall association of Pittsburgh."

Mr. PALMER, "An Act for the relief of George D. Boyer, late treasurer of Schuylkill county."

Mr. THOMPSON, "A supplement to the general banking law."

Mr. SCHINDEL, "An Act to restrict sales by auction in Lehigh and Northampton counties."

Also, "A further supplement to an act encouraging the manufacture of iron with coke or mineral coal."

Mr. SCHELL, "A supplement to an act to enable joint tenants, tenants in common, and adjoining owners of mineral lands to manage and develop the same, approved April 9, 1856."

Also, "An Act for the relief of the Liberty Township school district, in Bedford county."

On leave given, Mr. SCHELL made a statement.

Mr. SCHELL desired to make a statement previous to reading the following bill in place. It had been prepared at the request of a number of business men in his district, and he presented it, in compliance with their request and his duty as a Senator, without wishing to be considered as favorable or unfavorable to it. He desired its publication in the Daily Record; which, on his motion, was ordered to be done.

The bill is as follows:

AN ACT to repeal the tonnage duty or toll on the Pennsylvania railroad, and on the Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy and Lancaster railroad, on certain conditions.

SECTION I. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That so much of the acts incorporating the Pennsylvania railroad company and the Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy and Lancaster railroad company, and the several supplements thereto, as imposes a duty or toll on the tonnage or freight carried on and over said railroads be, and the same is hereby, repealed: Provided, That this repeal of the said tonnage duty or toll on the said several railroads is hereby made on the express condition that the said several rail- road companies shall, and do, severally and respectively, at and during all time from and after the expiration of thirty days from the passage of this act, reduce and lessen their several and respective tolls and charges, that is to say, their several and respective present published and existing winter rates of tolls and charges, as also their summer rates of tolls and charges as published and fixed for, and during the year eighteen hundred and fifty-eight, on all the local tonnage and freight of and within this Commonwealth, of every kind whatsoever, except coal and lumber, carried on and over their several and respective railroads, at least five mills on each ton, and on any less quantity or weight, proportionately, for each and every mile the same is so carried, below their said several above mentioned and referred to tolls and charges for and on the same.

SEC. 2. The said railroad companies are hereby severally required, in case they, or either of them, accept of and agree to the terms and provisions of this act, within thirty days from and after the passage of the same, to give notice to the Governor, in due and proper manner, and formed so as to be binding on the said several companies, in and according to the judgment of the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, whether they, or either of them, severally, accept of and agree to the terms and provisions of this act, on and according to the condition mentioned and specified in the first section thereof; otherwise and on the failure of said companies, or either one or other of them, to do the same, this act shall not be operative and in force; and in case the said companies, or either of them, shall and do so accept the terms and provisions of this act, the said companies, or company, so accepting the same, shall, and are hereby required, at the time of giving notice, as aforesaid, to deliver to him true, full and correct copies and lists, verified to be such by the affidavits of either the presidents or general superintendents of said companies, of the several and respective published rates of tolls and charges on the local tonnage and freight of and within this Commonwealth, of said several companies mentioned and referred to in the first section of this act; which said copies and lists shall forthwith be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth; and in case either of said companies shall, after so accepting the terms and provisions of this act, thereafter charge and receive any greater amount of tolls and charges on the said local tonnage and freight of and within this Commonwealth than is allowed to be charged under and according to the terms and provisions and true intent and meaning of this act, any such excess so charged and received may be recovered by the person or persons so charged and thereby aggrieved, of and from either of said companies so offending, as debts of like amount may be recovered in this Commonwealth; and copies duly certified by the Secretary of the Commonwealth of the lists of tolls and charges above mentioned, to be filed as aforesaid, or of either of them, are hereby declared to be evidence in any suit or proceeding in this Commonwealth wherein the same may be relevant and pertinent to the issue; and the expenses or cost of such said certified copies shall be taxed as part of the costs in any such suit or proceeding.

SEC. 3. The right to repeal this act, and thereby to restore the imposition of said tonnage duties and tolls on said companies and railroads, by any future Legislature of this Commonwealth, is hereby expressly reserved, in case it shall hereafter be deemed advisable or proper, or conducive to the public interest to repeal the same, and thereby again impose said tonnage duties and tolls on said companies and railroads.

Mr. WRIGHT, "A supplement to an act incorporating the poor house of Roxborough township, in Philadelphia."

The SPEAKER read in place House Bill No. 121, "An Act to incorporate the Easton market company."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. MILLER moved that the Committee on Education be discharged from the consideration of "An Act to establish the Penn industrial reform school," and that the same be referred to the Judiciary Committee; which was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Senate bills Nos. 2 and 4 lie over.

Senate bill No. 18, "An Act to establish a general banking law," came up in order, the question being upon the amendment to the nineteenth section offered yesterday, by Mr. YARDELEY; which he withdrew, but which was renewed by Mr. MARSELIS.

Mr. MARSELIS wished to say a word on the amendment. He thought there had not been due importance given to the amendment. It was an important feature of the bill, and he should like to hear some discussion upon the subject. He saw no reason why banks should not be held responsible for their notes, forthwith, without being allowed ten days' time, or any other delay for their redemption. The notes are redeemable at demand, and the Senate would commit a fraud by placing any other construction upon them than that which they bear upon their face. This is a subject of money, and cannot be mixed up with other things. The people look upon cash as the only genuine article; it is that which they most crave, and which will alone satisfy them. If the Legislature puts its stamp on paper, and tells the people that it is worth five dollars, that they can go at any time and have it redeemed, when, at the same time, the privilege is extended them of redeeming their issues in ten days, a gross fraud is committed. If we have banks, we ought to make them deal honestly and fairly with the people. To base any such thing as money upon evidences of debt, is a mistake. Instead of giving the banks ten days for the redemption of their issues, they should insist upon an immediate redemption, in accordance with the promise which their notes bear upon their face.

Mr. MILLER desired to make a motion that the committee report progress, and ask leave to sit again. He would then submit another proposition, that the bill be referred to a committee of seven persons, for their examination and report.

Mr. RANDALL was perfectly willing that this should be done, if it was the wish of the Senate; but he could see nothing to be gained by that course.

Mr. MILLER said his object in making the suggestion he had, was as a friend of the measure. Every Senator, he thought, from the discussion which had already taken place upon the bill, was satisfied that it was not in a shape to enable them to act intelligently upon it.

Mr. MYER trusted that if the Senate wished to consider the bill at all, it would not agree to the amendment. It was the duty of each Senator to give the measure his earnest attention; and this can be best done by allowing it to go to second reading. He could see no reason in sending the bill to committee; and if he were to give it to committee at all, he would not make that committee consist of more than three.

Mr. GREGG concurred in the views of the Senator from Bradford. There could, he thought, be nothing gained by re-committing the bill. If they did, it would, most probably, come back in the same shape as at present.

Mr. MILLER remarked that, as the discussion arose upon the amendment of the Senator from Bucks, which he had withdrawn, and which was subsequently renewed by the Senator from Philadelphia, he would withdraw his motion, in order to allow that Senator to make a statement of his reasons for the withdrawal.

Mr. RANDALL said it would be recollected that, when he introduced the bill, he had stated that he had lent to its preparation all his energies, industry and time; and he did not think, although not perfect in all its details, it was so crude as to be sent back to committee for examination. From time to time, he had called the attention of Senators, and others, well versed in financial matters, to the provisions of the bill; and had sought all the aid of all the experience and wisdom, in its preparation, which he could procure. He was perfectly aware that a whole system, important as this was, could not be struck out at a single heat, and that it could only be perfected by experience and time. He thought the section, as it was originally drawn, was correct, and he hoped it would be adopted without the amendment which had been proposed.

Mr. GAZZAM was willing to go with the Senator from Philadelphia, (Mr. MARSELIS,) in restricting banks to any reasonable extent. Perhaps ten days were too much; but the Senator should consider that what he proposes to strike out, has been a principle which has prevailed among business men, and which should be justly extended to banks. It is the interest of banks to preserve their credit, and to pay their notes at maturity, or on demand; but where the refusal to do so affects the charter of the bank, when, at the expiration of ten days they might be abundantly able to meet all their liabilities, and when they had deposited with State officers, abundant security, was he thought too exacting.

Mr. SCOFIELD moved to substitute the following for the amendment proposed by Mr. MARSELIS, to insert in the tenth line after the word "same," the words "with interest thereon from the time of demand at the rate of ten per centum per annum."

Mr. MARSELIS did not wish to add anything to what he had already said, except to combat, briefly, the position of the Senator from Allegheny.

Mr. GAZZAM rose in explanation of his position.

Mr. SCHELL was in favor of the amendment offered by the Senator from Philadelphia. The present banking system was bad enough, without doing anything to make it worse. He desired the country banks to be placed upon no other foundation than a safe and sound one; that the people, when they have a five dollar note in their hands, may know and feel satisfied that it can be redeemed at a moment's notice to the parties issuing it. He felt convinced that if ten days were allowed for the redemption of their notes, it would kill the bill.

Mr. MYER said it was amusing to hear Senators talk about the bill, and the security which was afforded to bills in their pockets by the present banking system. Men did not know when bills were secure. There was no bank in Pennsylvania which was able to redeem its issues at a moment's notice. Banks never can be secure, until they hold dollar for dollar of their issues, or some other available security.

Mr. FINNEY could suggest, he thought, a compromise. If they would alter the title, by making it a bill authorizing the people of the Commonwealth to deal in the exchanges of this Commonwealth, there would be no objection, for it was, in effect, nothing else. If notes are issued on the security of the State's own bonds, is it going, he asked, to impair the security, by extending to the parties issuing, the provisions of this section? The notes were good, if the bank never paid them, for the State has in its possession the securities upon which they were issued. The system which is proposed to be established by this bill, is one which has been tried in other States, and found to answer every purpose contemplated. It proposes a simple license to the people to deal in exchanges, by issuing bills of credit, for the use of which specialties, or bills of credit, they have deposited ample securities in State stocks. He then entered into an explanation of the operations of the system, contrasting it with the old, or that under which the present business of the State is conducted.

In setting the system in operation, the State should be liberal enough to allow men to do their business without trammelling them with provisions with which they cannot comply. No bank can exist under the the present laws, and comply with the strict requirements of it. His own view of a banking law of this kind was, that it should be as simple as possible; that the business should be done as by private bankers, restrained by the necessity of redeeming their bills and maintaining their credit. The banks could then take care of themselves. The people were already taken care of in the deposit which is to be made with the State of securities of an undoubted character. A perfect system of banking cannot be organized, unless it is plain, and with greater liberties than under the present banking law. The people, he said, feel like having a liberal, rational banking law; and Pennsylvania owes it to her citizens that she will give them one which will conform to their business necessities.

Mr. YARDLEY arose, not for the purpose of discussing the bill, but in explanation of his reasons for withdrawing his amendment, this morning. He had withdrawn it, not because he thought it was not correct, but for the purpose of allowing the bill, at the suggestion of Senators, to pass to second reading, when it could be again offered, as the bill progressed. He thought the amendment was a good one, and he should vote for the incorporation of it into the bill.

Mr. GREGG hoped neither of the amendments would be adopted. There was a conflict between the sections, and he would call the attention of the gentleman who had the bill in charge, to the fact.

The amendment offered by Mr. SCOFIELD was adopted, and the section as amended, passed.

The twentieth section was amended, by inserting after the word "receiver," in the ninth line, the words, "who shall be a resident of the city or county where the bank is located."

The various sections of the bill, together with a new one, proposed by Mr. FINNEY, to come in before the last, were adopted without amendment.

The new section is as follows:

That any bank heretofore chartered under the laws of this Commonwealth, shall be authorized to deposit bonds or evidences of indebtedness of this Commonwealth to the amount of its capital stock paid in, and receive registered notes therefor; and thereafter shall be subject to the provisions of this act, in the same manner as banks chartered under such provisions: Provided, Such bank shall not thereafter issue any notes.

The bill lies over on second reading.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. WELSH, on leave given, read in his place and presented to the Chair, "An Act to attach Blair county to the Eighth Normal school district."

Also, "An Act authorizing the commissioners of York county to borrow money."

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. BALDWIN, House bill No. 167, "An Act to amend the charter of the borough of North Lebanon, Lebanon county."

On motion of Mr. BELL, Senate bill No. 47, "An Act concerning turnpike, plank road and bridge companies," was taken up.

The first section was agreed to.

The question being upon the second section, Mr. MILLER moved to amend, by striking out in the fourth line the words, "the usual," and insert in lieu thereof the words, "at any," and in the sixth line, strike out the words, "in actual procession."

Mr. BREWER moved further to amend, by striking out the words, "the place of interment," in the seventh line, and insert in lieu thereof the words, "any funeral."

Mr. GREGG objected to the second section. We had already a law permitting funeral processions, and persons going to or from worship, to pass free of toll. Persons attending funerals, in returning home, at least in the country, were not in the habit of doing so in procession, but scattered as soon as the funeral ceremonies were concluded. He did not see, either, why, if persons attending their regular places of worship, were exempt, they should not be in attending any church.

Mr. RANDALL asked if the section applied to the Senator's own district, or whether the bill was general?

The SPEAKER replied that it was general.

Mr. RANDALL said it was important that persons should be allowed to carry the dead free, and there should be nothing to interfere with the enjoyment of the privilege. He was opposed to the section.

Mr. BELL had but a word to say. The amendment brought them back precisely to where they are now. The bill had been prepared by the people of the section of the State which he represented, which was largely populated, and in which there were large churches, numerous attended. There were also many camp meetings, during the progress of which toll keepers were liable to gross deceits and frauds on the part of persons who profess to be in attendance upon them. There were crowds of persons who went to these places, not for the purpose of worship, but for frolic. They took the same advantages with funerals. The bill was designed to guard against this deceit and fraud, and to correct what experience has shown to be an evil, by amending the existing law.

Mr. GREGG could not answer for the people of Chester; but on the part of his own district there had been no complaint of the existing law. The people there were in the habit of scattering the moment the dead were committed to their resting place, and it was hard to compel them to pay toll, because they could not return in procession. Besides, many of them often had not a "flip" in their pockets to pay toll.

The Senator from Chester had alluded to the rabble who attend camp meetings. The object of these meetings, he said, was to afford an opportunity, as well as an inducement, to hear the Gospel, and they should not be shut out, but afforded every inducement possible. What, he asked, was the small pittance of toll to the salvation of a soul?

Mr. MILLER agreed with the Senator from Centre. The provision may be necessary in certain sections, but it would work great injury in most of the rural districts.

Mr. SCHELL said he went a little further than the Senator from Centre, in his opposition to the bill. The first section was good, but the second should be voted down entirely.

Mr. MYER asked what was the use of all these amendments? As he understood it, they left the law where it is at present.

Mr. GAZZAM said the bill was an important one; and he wished, as the matter referred to the exemption of tolls, to offer an amendment that the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad—

The SPEAKER decided Mr. GAZZAM out of order.

Mr. RANDALL moved, that, inasmuch as there was nothing left but the enacting clause, that it be stricken out.

Mr. BELL said that the Senator from Philadelphia felt so elated over the bill which the Senate had considered, and of which he claimed the paternity—

Mr. RANDALL rose to explain. That bill had been in no funeral train.

Mr. BELL. It was in great danger of being in one yesterday; and he was not satisfied that it would not yet be laid on a bier.

Messrs. RANDALL and BELL both continued, briefly in discussion of the bill.

The amendments were adopted, and the second section as amended was not agreed to.

The question being upon the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RANDALL and Mr. BELL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Brewer, Coffey, Fetter, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Penney, Schell, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Thompson, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—24.

NAY—Mr. Randall—1.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

An extract from the Journal of the House was received and read.

It authorizes the Clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, to amend the first line of the second section of House bill No. 170, "An Act to incorporate the Luzerne powder company," by striking out the words, "that the business of the said corporation," and inserting in lieu thereof the words, "said corporation shall be located in Luzerne county, and its business."

Mr. WELSH asked if there was any precedent for this course. He thought there was not. He had confidence in the Clerks of both branches, but he thought this would be giving them too much power.

Mr. COFFEY said the Senator from York was mistaken in saying there was no precedent for this course. He instanced two cases; yet he considered the practice objectionable.

Mr. SCHELL also instanced a case.

Mr. WELSH said the precedents did not meet the case at all. He objected to granting power to the Clerks to alter or amend bills, without the concurrence of both Houses. He preferred returning to the old practice, requiring all bills in which there had been an error or omission made, to come back, and be re-considered in the usual manner.

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, the extract was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The annual statement of the Swede iron company was transmitted by the Governor to the Senate.

House amendments to the bill relative to the records of Union and Snyder counties were read and non-concurred in. A committee of conference was ordered to be appointed.

Mr. MYER, (for Mr. RUTHERFORD, as previously agreed upon,) called up Senate bill No. 217, "An Act confirming the sale of the German school house and lot of ground in Myerstown, Lebanon county;" which passed finally.

On motion of Mr. BREWER, Senate bill No. 237, "An Act to incorporate the Pennsylvania and Maryland Line turnpike company."

The bill passed with amendment.

On motion of Mr. THOMPSON, Senate bill No. 149, "An Act relating to the borough of Pottstown," after being amended, passed finally.

The hour of one having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the Senate until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Agreeably to order, the Senate met at 3 o'clock.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. PARKER, House bill No. 121, "An Act to incorporate the Eastern market company of the city of Philadelphia."

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, House bill No. 126, "An Act to incorporate the Franklin market company of Philadelphia," was taken up; and, on his motion, was amended in the fourteenth line of the first section, by inserting the words "to be located west of Tenth and south of Market streets," after the word "house."

Mr. COFFEY said he generally voted for these bills of incorporation; but he wished to know of the Senator who had called up the bill, whether there was anything in the bill which would give it preference over other similar bills of incorporation? Also, whether it was not a business which could as well be carried on by private enterprise?

Mr. WRIGHT explained that he had drawn up the bill himself, and he thought it was more carefully guarded than others. It was a business, he would say, in reply to the Senator from Indiana, that could not be as well carried on, if at all, by private enterprise.

Mr. GAZZAM advocated briefly, the passage of the bill. He considered the business which it was proposed to establish, as peculiarly deserving of the protection and aid sought to be extended to it, and he hoped the bill would pass.

On the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WELSH and Mr. WRIGHT, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Brewer, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Schell, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Thompson, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—27.

NAY—Mr. Nunnemacher—1.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. YARDLEY, Senate bill No. 120, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Hilltown turnpike road company."

On motion of Mr. PARKER, House bill No. 165, "An Act to incorporate the Security fire insurance company of Philadelphia city."

On motion of Mr. BREWER, House bill No. 7, "An Act to abolish the office of sealer of weights and measures in Lancaster and Franklin counties."

This bill, after being so amended as to include the counties of Montgomery, Bucks and Berks, and the following proviso being added:

Provided it shall not take effect until the expiration of the terms of the present officers—was postponed for the present.

On motion of Mr. COFFEY, Senate bill No. 183, "An Act for the relief of Joseph Brady, a soldier of the Indian war."

Mr. WELSH moved that the Committee on the Judiciary be discharged from the consideration of a bill authorizing the commissioners of York county to borrow money, and that the Senate proceed to consider the same; which was agreed to, and the bill passed.

On motion of Mr. PARKER, House bill No. 173, "An Act to incorporate the City building association," was then taken up.

The first, second, third, fourth and fifth sections were agreed to.

Upon the adoption of the sixth section, there was a running discussion—Mr. WRIGHT, opposing the section, and Messrs. GAZZAM and COFFEY in advocacy of its provisions. In the course of the discussion, a history of its operations and business of building associations was given—Mr. WRIGHT being a member of two such associations himself.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the sixth section?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PARKER and Mr. WRIGHT, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Palmer, Parker, Scofield, Thompson and Yardley—11.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Fetter, Marselis, Miller, Nunnemacher, Penney, Schell, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—9.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The seventh section was adopted.

And on the question,

Shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. PARKER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Scofield, Thompson and Yardley—13.

NAYS—Messrs. Fetter, Marselis, Miller, Nunnemacher, Randall, Schell, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—8.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On leave given, Mr. SCOFIELD read in his place and presented to the Chair, "An Act confirming the title of Charles Whitney and Asa Scott, to certain lands in Warren county."

On motion of Mr. FRANCIS, House bill No. 140, "An Act relative to strays in Venango county."

On motion of Mr. SCHINDEL, House bill No. 66, "An Act to incorporate the Allen mutual insurance company."

This bill was, on motion of Mr. SCHINDEL, slightly amended.

On motion of Mr. GAZZAM, House bill, No. 163, "An Act to incorporate the Mercantile library hall company of the city of Pittsburgh."

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, the words, "twelfth day of February" were inserted in the sixth line, fourth section of this bill; and

On motion of Mr. GAZZAM, after the word "library," in the thirty-second line, same section, the words, "and Mechanics' Institute" were added.

On motion of Mr. GREGG, Senate bill No. 119, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Allegheny and Buffalo Run turnpike road company."

On motion of Mr. HARRIS, "An Act to incorporate the Grove cemetery, of New Brighton, Beaver county."

The hour of five having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the Senate until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 16, 1859.

The House met at 10 o'clock, and was called to order by Mr. S. B. CHASE, SPEAKER pro tem.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Bartine, of the Methodist church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

The Clerk was about to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) the reading of the same was dispensed with.

Mr. KETCHUM, on leave, offered a joint resolution to amend the act, (which has already passed both Houses,) to incorporate the Luzerne powder company, the location of which was, by oversight, forgotten to be designated in the bill.

Said resolution was read the second time and passed finally.

Mr. KENEAGY, on leave, offered a resolution that the president and directors of the Strasburg railroad company, be hereby required, within ten days, to furnish to this House a full and authentic report of its affairs and transactions, exhibiting particularly its receipts and expenditures for the year preceding the second Monday of January, 1859; which was twice read, considered and adopted.

Messrs. PATTERSON and RANDALL, moved that the House re-consider the vote by which the bill to pay the claim of Chas. Fisher was lost yesterday; which was agreed to.

The question recurring, shall said bill pass?

On motion of Mr. PATTERSON, the further consideration of the same was postponed for the present.

Messrs. PRICE and WALBORN moved that the House reconsider the vote by which House bill No. 160, relative to the Green and Coates' Street passenger railway company passed the House a few days since.

And on the question, will the House agree to the motion?

A motion was made by Mr. LAWRENCE, of Washington, that the further consideration of said motion be postponed for the present.

And on the question, will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAMERSLY and Mr. EVANS, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Chase, Durhoraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Glatz, Goepf, Graham, Green, Harding, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehafeey, McClean, Miller, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Pugh, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Wagonseller, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson and Wolf—54.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Bertolet, Brodhead, Campbell, Custer, Dismant, Evans, Galley, Gratz, Gray, Hamersly, Hill, Jackson, Laird, Neall, Quigley, Rohrer, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Warden, Wiley and Woodring—23.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. KINNEY, on leave, offered a joint resolution that both Houses adjourn to-day at one o'clock, to meet again next Wednesday at three o'clock, P. M.: which was read the second time.

The question was debated by Messrs. HAMERSLY, WILLIAMS, of Bucks, NILL and MANN, against, and by Messrs. KINNEY, LAIRD, THOMPSON, ROSE, MILLER and others in favor of the resolution.

And on the question, shall the same pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAMERSLY and Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Ellmaker, Foster, Galley, Good, Graham, Gratz, Harding, Keneagy, Kinney, Laird, McClean, Miller, Neall, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Quigley, Rohrer, Rose, Rouse, Smead, Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Walborn, Witman, Wigton and Wilson—32.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durhoraw, Eckman, Evans, Fearon, Glatz, Gray, Green, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, McClure, McDowell, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Ramsdell, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Walker, Warden, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) and Wolf—50.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Agreeably to order, the House proceeded to the consideration of bills on Private Calander.

House bill, No. 241, "An Act to establish a normal school in connection with Westminster college, New Wilmington, Lawrence county, Pa.," came up in order.

The question being on the motion indefinitely to postpone, made yesterday by Mr. GOEPP, it was withdrawn.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to postpone for the present?

It was likewise withdrawn.

The question now being, shall the bill pass?

Mr. ROSE said: This bill proposes to give to the Westminster collegiate institute, the sum of twelve hundred dollars annually, for the purpose of supporting a Normal school, for the instruction of teachers in all the branches of English literature and science, and in the art of teaching and government.

This institution was founded by act of 27th April, 1852, and its charter will be found on page 470 of the pamphlet laws of that year.—It is under the government and control of a board of twelve trustees, five of whom constitute a quorum, who are empowered to make by-laws, and do all other acts necessary for the proper management of its affairs.

Through the energy and enterprise of a few individuals, this institution has already taken rank among the first colleges of the State. The board of managers have erected one of the finest buildings in Western Pennsylvania, and have raised an endowment fund of seventy-five thousand dollars, at the rate of one hundred dollars per scholarship.

The annual catalogue shows the average number of students to be from two hundred and fifty to three hundred. It employs six professors in the various departments, who have been selected purely on account of their great experience and their profound literary attainments. All this has been accomplished within a period of six or seven years, by the exertions of a few individuals, and without one dollar of aid from the State.

By an examination of the charter, it will be seen that the trustees of this institution are not required to establish a Normal school department—they are only required to adopt that course of study which is usually pursued in our colleges; its object being simply to afford facilities for a classical education. Nevertheless, the trustees and faculty of this institution have thought proper to establish a Normal school in connection with the college; and this department has been in successful operation for a period of three or four years. From 1855 to 1858, the Normal students have ranged from 133 to 118. The decrease in 1858, originated from the fact that some of the Normal students have entered the college department. But each and every year, since the establishment of this department, they have numbered over one hundred.

The necessity of such a school, in connection with the college, must be apparent to every one at all familiar with the course of study usually pursued in our colleges. A great many parents send their sons and daughters to this institution for the express purpose of qualifying them for the vocation of teachers of common schools.—The preparatory course in a college gives the student but a mere smattering of the branches usually taught in our common schools. He is hurried through this department, in anticipation that when he has mastered the dead languages and the higher branches of mathematics, he will become more familiar with the structure of his own language and the rudiments of arithmetic. Hence, a student who has only gone through the preparatory course in a college is but poorly qualified to enter a common school in the capacity of a teacher. And, in fact, many of those who have graduated at our best colleges are ignorant of the first principles of a common English education, and as a general thing they make the poorest teachers of common schools—the "sheep-skin" to the contrary notwithstanding. This is a hard saying, yet it is lamentably true, and easily explained. In their haste to enter the more advanced classes, and to grasp that which is more profound, they overlook the elementary principles—the very stepping-stone to a thorough education.—Besides this, they are deprived of one very essential requisite in order to make a good teacher, and that is, instruction in the art of teaching and government. In this respect, most of our colleges are sadly deficient.

It was this view of the matter that induced the trustees and faculty of this institution to establish a department for the express purpose of educating teachers. They were compelled either to adopt this course or turn away a large number of the applicants, and thus injure the reputation of the college. It is evidently the growing policy of this, as well as most other States of the Union, to encourage the Normal school system, and I am gratified to record, His Excellency, the Governor of this Commonwealth, as being in favor of appropriations for educational purposes. In asking for a donation for this purpose, we, as western members, demand nothing more than our rights, and we mean to insist, year after year, until our requests are granted. I believe all the principal colleges in the State have, at some time or other, received appropriations, except the one in question. Donations have been made to Allegheny college, to Jefferson college, to Washington college, to Dickinson college, to Franklin and Marshall college and to a host of others. But Westminster college has received nothing from the State, except its naked charter; and that portion of the State in which it is located, has never received a sum worth mentioning for any educational purpose. I say, then, without hesitation, that the State owes it to the west as a matter of right, and we mean to have it. The only question, then, is as to the locality of this institution, and I think I can convince any one who will take the trouble to examine a map of Pennsylvania, that a more suitable place could not be selected than the one proposed in the bill. The town of New Wilmington, where this college is located, is situated not far from the centre of the five counties to be included in the district, to wit: the counties of Mercer, Venango, Lawrence, Butler and Beaver. In addition to this, the advantages of connecting this school with the college, must be patent to every member of this House. By an arrangement of this kind, the students of the Normal school can have access to the lectures of the professors, to three well organized literary societies, with commodious and finely furnished halls, and to the library and apparatus of the college.

Besides all this, it would cost the State at least ten times the amount mentioned in the bill to erect suitable buildings, and furnish them for this purpose, and the sum necessary to defray the salaries of professors and other expenses necessary to keep it in successful operation, would far exceed twelve hundred dollars annually.

This institution proposes, for the small pittance of twelve hundred dollars annually, to teach three hundred students, each and every year, to be selected from the five counties already named; to furnish three professors (which would only give them four hundred dollars each,) and to do this, free of any other charge, except that of incidental expenses. What better investment could the State make of her money? As a quid pro quo the State will have the education of three hundred students annually. The salary of the county superintendent of common schools in several counties in this Commonwealth amounts to more than this sum, and, although I do not wish to express an opinion at this time as to the importance and propriety of this branch of the common school system, yet I am free to say that much more good will be accomplished by investing the same amount of money in the support of this Normal school.

Another fact to which I wish to call the attention of the House, is that this school is already in existence, and I am authorized to say will continue, whether this appropriation is made or not. Is it not due then to the enterprise and philanthropy of the founders of this institution of learning, that they receive some encouragement from the State? Do we not owe it to them as a debt of gratitude for the interest they have manifested in the cause of education? This bill only proposes to give them the interest on twenty thousand dollars annually. The principal is to remain in the hands of the State; and if, upon experiment, the school does not prove to be of advantage to the State, the interest can, at any time, be withheld, and in fact it cannot be drawn from the treasury any year without an act of Assembly, so that there is no danger of the State being robbed and plundered as has been alleged by gentlemen during the course of this debate.

But looking at this question purely in the light of dollars and cents, (without taking into account the educational advantages which will accrue to the State;) the money will not be entirely thrown away: the increase on the valuation of property will, in a measure, make up for a sum thus appropriated. Since the erection of this college, the real estate in that vicinity has more than doubled in value, and, as a matter of course, the effect of this appropriation will be to enhance the value of real estate to a greater or less extent in the immediate neighborhood of this school; so that in the long run the State cannot be much the loser.

It has been objected that if this bill is passed other portions of the State will follow the example, and ask for similar appropriations. In answer to this objection, I would say that if the whole State were divided into Normal school districts—each district including five counties—it would only make thirteen districts—and if each district were to receive an appropriation of twelve hundred dollars, it would only amount to $15,600 annually, and for this amount of money the State would have the education of nineteen hundred students each and every year. Surely money could not be laid out to better purpose. Sir, I am as much in favor of economy as any member of this House; but I ask that we be economical in the right direction. Every session of the Legislature, more than $15,600 is thrown away in useless appropriations. Gentlemen will vote every session to pay rotten and defunct claims against the State, to make appropriations of thousands of dollars for the building of monuments, and to pay Tom, Dick and Harry for some useless and unimportant services rendered to the State, and yet these same gentlemen will raise the hue and cry of extravagance when a proposition is made to donate the trifling sum of twelve hundred dollars, for the education of three hundred teachers annually. Sir, such consistency as this is certainly a jewel.

Mr. CAMPBELL moved to amend the bill by striking out all after the word "and," in the second line of the twelfth section, and inserting the following:

"The twelfth normal school district shall be composed of the counties of Erie, Crawford, and Warren, and the school and building in said borough of Edinboro, in said county of Erie, shall be recognized as, and constituted the normal school in said district;" which was agreed to.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved further to amend said bill by adding the following, "Provided, That said appropriation of twelve hundred dollars shall continue in force only five years."

Mr. GRITMAN moved to amend the amendment as follows:

"And that the further sum of $1200 be hereby appropriated to the graded school at Scranton, Luzerne county, which is hereby created a normal school district—said sum to be applied as herein before stated—and the pupils of said school shall be appointed from the counties of Luzerne, Susquehanna, Wayne, Columbia and Wyoming."

Which was not agreed to.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment of Mr. LAWRENCE?

It was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. ABBOTT moved to amend the fourth section, by adding the following:

Provided, That not less than fifty nor more than three hundred pupils be admitted into said normal school at any one time.

Which was agreed to.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (of Washington,) moved that the above amendment be inserted in the fifth section.

Which was agreed to.

The bill being on second reading,

Mr. KETCHUM said that it was proposed to limit the number of students to one hundred annually. By the general law the provision is for three hundred. Was it right by enacting this law to exclude two hundred scholars. It would be robbing the two hundred of the advantages of education contemplated by the general normal school law.

By the special act of the Westminster college, no number of professors is specified. The general law says that the college shall have six.

Again, it was proposed to place $1200 in the hands of a college which it had not been proved was competent and worthy.

If the bill would not deprive a portion of the students of the five counties of educational advantages, he would vote for it.

He proposed to postpone until further investigation could be had, and made a motion to that effect.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion? it was determined in the negative—twenty-seven voting in favor, and thirty five against the motion.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) moved so to amend the bill as to make it binding upon all graduates of said institution to devote themselves exclusively to the practice of teaching, and followed in a few pertinent remarks in support of the same.

Mr. CHURCH moved to amend the amendment by making it binding upon all said graduates to go to "meeting." The Chair decided the amendment to the amendment not germane to the subject matter before the House.

Mr. LAWRENCE defended the bill.

Mr. NEALL offered to amend the amendment by making graduates teach for three months after leaving the institution; not agreed to.

Mr. SMITH withdrew his amendment.

Mr. ACKER moved that the bill be re-committed to the Committee on Education, and that it be instructed to report a bill making appropriations to all normal schools within the Commonwealth.

Mr. RAMSDELL did not see why the measure met with so much opposition. The western counties, since the formation of the State, had been treated as step-children, and had never heretofore asked for money for their colleges. He wished to call attention to a portion of Governor Packer's message, which says that $600,000 have been expended for education.—The Philadelphia University and other institutions, received large sums as endowments, but the present request was only for the paltry sum of $1,200. Was the application to be turned away? Look at the matter. It was proposed to teach one hundred scholars from five counties for $1,200. Why the charitable institutions of Philadelphia received thousands of dollars annually. Under these circumstances, the west demanded the appropriation as a right. It was not a subsidy, but rather an agreement between the State and the college.

Mr. STEVENS wished to ask a question. At what time was the money appropriated to the colleges of which Mr. RAMSDELL had spoken?

Mr. RAMSDELL did not know exactly.

Mr. STEPHENS said—

Mr. SPEAKER: I am opposed to this bill, and shall record my vote against it. Not because the object is not a "worthy one, but because a bad precedent will be established. Sir, pass this bill, and what will be the consequence?—You will inaugurate a system of public plunder for a lot of hungry seminary or college aspirants, who wish to get fine living and a fat salary out of the public treasury. These will be but pensioners upon the gratuity of the Commonwealth. Sir, I had hoped the time had passed when the Legislature would enact laws to appropriate money out of the public treasury for the benefit of a few privileged counties of this State for colleges and academies, or for any other private purposes, except it should be to benefit the whole State. I thought the days of public plunder were passed, but lo and behold, in comes the western delegation, composed of the counties of Venango, Mercer, Butler, Beaver and Lawrence, claiming that they have not had a full share of the public tit, and asking for the small sum of twelve hundred dollars annually, for five years to come, for the purpose of educating the teachers of those counties, to the exclusion of all others. This is equivalent to asking the people of the whole State to be taxed for the special benefit of an institution for five counties. The object of forming a Normal school is a good one, but the principle of taxation without representation is a principle that strikes a death blow at the sovereignty of the people. That is what I look at; that is what fills me with wonder and astonishment. Such a bill comes with bad grace from those who pretend that they are freemen. You may say it is a small matter—only six thousand dollars. It was a small matter with our fathers to be taxed on tea; but the principle, that is the question.

The people are already taxed at the tune of $280,000 to support the common schools of the State. Out of that amount a little over two-thirds goes for the purposes of educating the children. Nearly all of the balance is eaten up by officials, and this bill is opening up a way to finish the whole of it. If the gentleman from Venango will go with me to do away with this hungry swarm of officials, called county superintendents, I will go with him in voting money to establish schools for the training of teachers, but I would have them located in every part of the State, so that they could be open to all. The sum which these schools would cost the State, would not amount to more than one-fourth what our present system costs us, and be productive of ten times the benefit.

Mr. WALBORN said that the gentleman made so much ado about appropriations for educational purposes, that it might help him to know that $1,200 appropriation would involve an expense to each county of $18 75.

The question recurring, will the House agree to the motion to re-commit the bill?

It was determined in the negative.

The bill being on second reading, and the question being taken,

Will the House agree to the bill?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. STEPHENS and Mr. ROSE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Evans, Fearon, Fleuning, Foster, Graham, Gratz, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, McClure, McDowell, Miller, Neall, Palm, Patterson, Peirce, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Robrer, Rose, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Taylor, Thompson, Walborn, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Williston, Wilson and Zoller—53.

NAYS—Messrs. Balliet, Barnsley, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Custer, Dismant, Galley, Glatz, Goepf, Good, Gray Green, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Nill, Oaks, Price, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Wagonseller, Walker, Warden, Williams, (Belford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Withrow, Wolf and Woodruff—31.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Said bill was read the third time and passed finally; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. SMITH, (Philadelphia,) asked and obtained leave of absence for his colleague, the representative from the Third representative district, Philadelphia, for a few months from to-day.

Mr. M'CLURE, on leave, from the special committee appointed to try the contested election case from the Third representative district, Philadelphia, submitted the following report:

In the matter of the petition of Kennedy McCann, and twenty-three other citizens of the Third representative district of Philadelphia, contesting, in behalf of William H. Matthews, the seat now occupied by David R. McClean, the committee selected by the House, to try the same, submit the following report:

We have given the subject committed to us, the deliberation and consideration its importance demands; for that purpose, and to expedite the final determination, having met in the city of Philadelphia on two occasions. We have heard a large amount of testimony, and find the following to be the facts, viz:

That in the Eighth election division of the Fourth ward, a part of the said Third representative district, the election officers almost totally neglected and refused to perform the duties required of them by the sixty-sixth section of the act of 1839; that one hundred and sixty-two names were voted upon which were not contained in the list of taxable inhabitants of said division, and with the exception of a very few—certainly not over half a dozen—none of them were required to make the necessary proofs of their right to vote, as required by said act; that one boy, at least, was caught on the street and forced up to the window; a ticket placed in his hand; and when he presented the ticket to the officers, the name of a person on the assessment list was called out by one of the bystanders, and the vote was taken and placed in the box, and the name given appears on the list of voters as having voted. It was also shown that several persons voted repeatedly on different names; some of them going a short distance off, changing a part of their clothing, then returning to vote again in other names. One of the names voted upon was proved to be that of a person who has, for a considerable time, been dead. It was also shown, that the judge of the election was intoxicated during the entire day; that after the polls were closed, he was taken away because of his unfitness, by reason of drunkenness, to discharge his duties; and did not return until the counting was all over, and the boxes were being sealed. That the two inspectors of said election, Mr. McGee and Mr. McKeown, have been convicted in the court of quarter sessions, of Philadelphia, for holding said election in a fraudulent manner; that one of the clerks, Mr. S. Kelly, assisted to count the tickets, voted at said election, without their having been examined by either of the inspectors or the judge; that tickets voted at said election for Mr. McDonough, a third candidate for representative in said district, were counted and returned for Mr. McClean, the sitting member, and that the election officers did not file in the office of the prothonotary of the court of common pleas, the papers required by the act of 1839. It was also shown, that the return from said division was fraudulently altered by the election officers, so as to return Mr. McClean, the sitting member, by five majority. It is evident, from a careful inspection of the return, which was produced before the committee by the respondent, that the vote of Mr. Matthews, the contestant, in said district, was ninety-seven, which would have chosen Mr. Matthews by five majority; but an erasure was subsequently made in the return, making Mr. Matthews' vote but eighty-seven. It was in evidence before the committee also, that when the vote was first counted, all the officers agreed that the vote of Mr. Matthews was ninety-nine. A simple correction of the return, therefore, would entitle the contestant to the seat; but your committee are forced to the conclusion that the utter disregard of the law by the officers of the election in said division, and the palpable frauds openly practiced by them, must reject the entire vote returned from the said poll, and included in the general return of the said district. The entire vote of the representative district, as returned, was as follows:

	McClean.	Matthews.	McDonough.
Whole return,	1251	1246	1047
De'd. 8th div.	342	87	28
	909	1159	1019

By a correction of the fraudulent alteration of Mr. Matthews' vote in the said Eighth division, he would be entitled to his seat, even overlooking the other glaring frauds; and by rejecting the entire return from said division, he will have two hundred and fifty majority over Mr. McClean, the sitting member, and one hundred and forty over Mr. McDonough.

The committee have adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the entire return from the Eighth division of the Fourth ward in Philadelphia should be rejected.

Resolved, That William H. Matthews is entitled to the seat in this House now occupied by David R. McClean.

Respectfully submitted,

A. K. M'CLURE,
E. H. IRISH,
R. P. McDOWELL,
J. HERON FOSTER,
WM. G. ROSE,
O. H. P. KINNEY,
R. P. MILLER,

The resolutions were twice read and adopted.

Mr. GRITMAN reserved the right to place upon the Journal his reasons for not signing the above report.

Mr. MATTHEWS was then duly qualified and took his seat as a member from the Third representative district, Philadelphia.

Mr. WARDEN asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. BROADHEAD, for a few days from to-day.

The following bills were then passed finally; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to be Senate for concurrence.

"An Act to appoint commissioners to re-survey and establish the line of the main road running through a part of Wilkesbarre township."

"An Act to incorporate the Union mutual fire insurance company of Montgomery county."

"An Act to incorporate the Southwark soup society."

No. 247. "An Act authorizing the Governor to incorporate a company to erect a bridge over Clearfield creek, in Clearfield county, at Alexander's fording."

No. 248. "An Act to incorporate the Union-town and Virginia Line turnpike road company."

No. 249. "An Act to repeal the act of May 16, 1857, authorizing the location of a State road through parts of Washington and Greene counties."

No. 250. "An Act to change the time for electing officers of the Susquehanna and Lehigh turnpike road company."

No. 251. "An Act to incorporate the Richlandtown turnpike road company."

No. 252. "An Act declaring M'Michael's creek, in Monroe county, a public highway, and to prevent the destruction of fish, &c."

No. 253. "An Act to incorporate the Green Castle and Middleburg turnpike road company."

No. 254. "An Act relative to the election of supervisors in the township of Salem, in the county of Westmoreland."

No. 256. "An Act to incorporate the Clearfield gas company."

No. 260. "An Act to incorporate the People's insurance company, to be located in the city of Philadelphia."

No. 261. "A supplement to the act, entitled 'An Act for incorporating St. Paul's church, in the city of Philadelphia.'"

No. 263. "An Act to incorporate the members of the Olivet Methodist Episcopal church, of the village of Coatesville, Chester county."

"An Act to incorporate the First Presbyterian church of Strasburg, Lancaster county."

"A further supplement to an act relating to a burial ground and school lot in the borough of Pottsville."

"An Act for the sale of a part of a graveyard lot in New Bethlehem, Clarion county."

"An Act to incorporate the Waynesboro' turnpike road company."

"An Act extending the seventh section of the act of the 13th of June, 1840, relating to elections, to Washington county."

"An Act to secure a stricter accountability on the part of certain public officers in Schuylkill county."

Messrs. PINKERTON and M'CLURE moved that the vote by which Senate bill No. 39, "A further supplement to an act relative to a burial ground and school lot in the borough of Pottsville," passed this House, be re-considered, for the purpose of making an amendment; which was agreed to.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass?

A motion was made by Mr. M'CLURE that the further consideration of said bill be postponed for the present; which was agreed to.

Mr. McDOWELL, leave being given, from the Committee on Railroads, reported as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Citizens' passenger railroad company of Pittsburg."

"An Act to incorporate the trustees of the Young Men's Christian building association of Philadelphia," came up in order on second reading.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) moved to amend said bill, by striking therefrom the sixth section.

Mr. CHURCH inquired the reasons of the gentleman for his motion?

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) said that his attention had just been called to the bill. If time were given him, he would be prepared to give the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. CHURCH,) his reasons in extenso for the proposed amendment. For the present, he would merely state the obvious objection to the sixth section, that it proposed to make the Legislature a tribunal for the decision of points of faith. It undertook to pronounce what was and what was not evangelical; and to express an opinion as to the orthodoxy or heterodoxy of the doctrine of eternal rewards and punishments. It was never contemplated that the Legislature should pronounce upon questions of this character—it exceeded the scope of its power and duties to do so, and was alike opposed to the spirit and letter of the constitution. He trusted the House would avoid a precedent so dangerous.

The following is the section:

SEC. 6. That no denomination shall be regarded as evangelical in the sense of this charter which is not Protestant, and does not hold among its articles of faith the doctrine of a Trinity of persons in the Godhead, and the doctrine of eternal rewards and punishments.

Mr. CHURCH said that the expressions used in the charter were not those of the Legislature, but of the incorporators. They came with credentials and documents, and asked for an act of incorporation, and if they choose to refer to their creed, and exercise the liberty of opinion guaranteed to them by the Constitution, they were entitled so to do. The matter of sectarianism had been discussed in the committee.

Mr. HARDING moved to postpone for the present.

Mr. GOEPP moved to amend by postponing indefinitely. The sixth section drew an invidious distinction between different denominations of christians. He was not disposed to think from the wording of the section that the association was justly entitled to claim the name of the Young Men's Christian Association, particularly when they attempted to define who were christians and who were not.

Mr. GOEPP withdrew the motion to postpone indefinitely.

Mr. HAMERSLY suggested that the sixth section be stricken out.

The motion to postpone for the present was agreed to.

Mr. M'CLURE rose to a question of privilege. He desired to have the SPEAKER direct the Sergeant-At-Arms to open the desk, lately occupied by D. R. M'Clain.

The Chair directed that officer to see that the desk was opened for the use of Mr. Matthews.

"An Act to vest the Girard school house," came up in order; and on motion of Mr. CHURCH, postponed for the present.

"An Act defining certain powers," came up in order; and on motion of Mr. GOEPP, postponed for the present.

"An Act to confer on certain associations of the citizens of this Commonwealth, the powers and immunities of corporations and bodies politic in law, and to confirm charters heretofore granted," came up in order on second reading.

Mr. NEALL moved that the further consideration be postponed for the present.

Mr. GOEPP inquired whether the motion was made at the request of the gentleman who had the bill in charge, (Mr. WOOD.)

Mr. NEALL replied not.

Mr. GOEPP said he was friendly to the bill, and if the motion of the gentleman was made with any hostile intention, he felt bound to oppose it.

Mr. NEALL said he had no such intentions. When the bill came up it would be found where he stood in relation to it.

Mr. GRATZ was of opinion that Mr. WOOD did not wish to have the bill postponed.

Mr. HARDING favored a postponement. The passage of the bill would effect capital to the amount of twenty-seven millions of dollars. It was a small bill, but its provisions, though small, covered nearly every working man's house in Philadelphia.

Mr. HAMERSLY said, that while he must differ from the remarks made by his colleague, (Mr. HARDING,) as there were many persons in Philadelphia in favor of the passage of the bill, he would still favor postponement for the present.

Mr. GOEPP moved to amend the motion, by postponing the bill until next Tuesday.

Mr. HARDING suggested Wednesday; which was agreed to. So the further consideration of the bill was postponed until that time.

"An Act to authorize the Auditor General to issue a patent," came up in order on second reading.

Mr. ECKMAN opposed the passage of the bill.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the bill?

It was determined in the negative.

So the bill was lost on second reading.

Mr. BRODHEAD, on leave, read in his place and presented to the Chair, "An Act to authorize the citizens of Hamilton township, Monroe county, to elect additional supervisors."

Mr. GOEPP, one to incorporate the Bethlehem mining company.

Mr. CHURCH called up the joint resolution of thanks to L. Huchett, of Paris; which was passed finally.

Mr. PINKERTON, on leave, presented an act for the relief of Geo. D. Boyer, former treasurer of Schuylkill county.

Mr. DODDS, on leave, from the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities, reported, as committed, an act for the relief of Rachel George, widow of an old soldier.

The Governor transmitted to the House the annual report of the Swedo iron company.

Mr. MCCLURE rose to a question of privilege. He moved that the House proceed to the consideration of the motion re-considering the motion to concur in the Senate amendments to House bill relative to the pay of Thomas H. Porter, late a member of the House; which was agreed to.

And on the question, will the House agree to the Senate amendments?

The hour of one having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

No. 223.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

GRATZ, Judiciary—Feb. 4.

AN ACT to abolish the "Board of Health" of the city and port of Philadelphia, and to provide for the appointment of "Commissioners of Health" for said city and port.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the present board of health of the city and port of Philadelphia, as constituted and organized by, and under an act for establishing a health office, and to secure the port of Philadelphia from the introduction of pestilential and contagious diseases, and for other purposes, passed January twenty-ninth, one thousand eight hundred and eighteen, and an act, entitled "A further supplement to the act, entitled 'An Act to incorporate the city of Philadelphia,' passed February second, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four," shall be abolished and cease to exist as a body corporate, in deed and in law, on and after the first Monday in July next, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, and that all laws and parts of laws providing for the organization of said board as now established, and under and by virtue of which, said board of health is now constituted by the election of its members by the qualified electors of the several wards of the city of Philadelphia, shall from and after the said first Monday in July, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, be repealed, and thereafter be of no force or effect, so far as the same shall conflict with the provisions of this act.

SEC. 2. That on the first Monday in July next, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, and forever thereafter, until otherwise provided by law, the powers, duties, rights, liberties, authorities and immunities of the board of health of the city and port of Philadelphia, as constituted and organized under the provisions of the acts of assembly mentioned in the first section of this act, and any, and all other laws in relation to said board of health, shall be transferred and assigned to, and be assumed and exercised by three reputable citizens and electors of said city of Philadelphia, who shall be appointed and constituted the "Commissioners of Health in and for the city and port of Philadelphia," in the manner hereafter prescribed.

SEC. 3. That on the first Monday in June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, the judges of the district court for the city and county of Philadelphia, shall appoint and qualify three reputable citizens and electors of said city, to be "Commissioners of Health in and for the city and port of Philadelphia," for the term of three years, from the first Monday in July, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, and until their successors are appointed and duly qualified; and on the first Monday in June of every third year thereafter, the judges of said district court shall appoint and qualify three persons in the same manner as is herein above prescribed: Provided, That the said commissioners thus appointed may at any subsequent time be eligible to re-appointment. And provided further, That in case a vacancy occur in the number of the said commissioners of health, from death, resignation or otherwise, it shall be supplied and filled for the unexpired term of such commissioners, in the same manner as is provided for in the appointment of said commissioners.

SEC. 4. The said appointments shall be certified over the signatures of the judges of the said court, and the said commissioners shall, thereupon appear before the said judges and subscribe an oath or affirmation that they will well and truly perform all the duties of their office, and they shall also, severally, give bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned for the honest discharge of their duties in said office; said bonds to be duly entered of record in the office of the prothonotary of the said district court.

SEC. 5. That the commissioners of health so appointed and qualified shall meet on the first Monday in July, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, at ten o'clock in the morning, (at the present health office,) and then and there assume and exercise all the powers, duties, rights, liberties, authorities and immunities of the present board of health; and shall organize by the selection of one of their number as president, and by the selection and appointment of such other officers and agents as a majority of said commissioners may deem necessary for the proper execution and discharge of their duties as commissioners of health: Provided, That all such appointments and selections shall be certified to the select and common councils of the city of Philadelphia: And provided further, That the pay and compensation of all officers and agents shall not be increased during the time for which they shall be appointed.

SEC. 6. That each of said commissioners of health shall receive, in full consideration for his services, the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly; appropriations therefor to be made by the councils of the city of Philadelphia, and paid upon warrants on the city treasurer, to be drawn in conformity to ordinances prescribed by the city councils.

SEC. 7. That any commissioner of health refusing or neglecting to perform his duty, upon satisfactory proof thereof being given to the judges of the district court, shall be forthwith removed from office, and shall forfeit any compensation or salary then due him; and for any misapplication of the funds or property of the said commissioners of health, or funds or property of the city of Philadelphia, or upon conviction, in any court of criminal jurisdiction, of either or any of said commissioners of health, of misfeasance, or any fraudulent and corrupt official act, he or they so convicted shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than two hundred nor more than two thousand dollars, and undergo an imprisonment in the county prison for a term not exceeding one year, at the discretion of the court: Provided, That in case of the dismissal or removal of any commissioner of health, the bond given by him may be prosecuted to full indemnification for damages, injury and loss sustained by the city, first, and then by any person or body corporate.

No. 239.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

PUGH, Education—Feb. 4.

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT to an act for the regulation and continuance of a system of education by common school.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the second section of the act, approved the twenty-first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, entitled "A supplement to an act for the regulation and continuance of a system of education by common schools," be and the same is hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. That it is hereby declared to be the true intent and meaning of the law in relation to the tax on occupations, that the occupation of a farmer shall be exempt from taxation for school purposes.

SEC. 3. That nothing herein contained shall be construed to change the assessments already made in pursuance of law with the official construction thereon, or to prevent the collection of the taxes so assessed and levied, for the present year.

No. 169.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BELL, Judiciary—Feb. 3.

AN ACT in reference to the commissions of justices of the peace and aldermen.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That every person hereafter elected to the office of justice of the peace or alderman shall, within thirty days after the election, if he intends to accept said office, give notice thereof, in writing, to the prothonotary of the common pleas of the proper county, who shall immediately inform the Secretary of the Commonwealth of said acceptance, and no commission shall issue until the Secretary of the Commonwealth has received the notice aforesaid.

SEC. 2. That so much of an act of Assembly as requires constables to send copies of the returns of the election of aldermen and justices of the peace to the Governor of the Commonwealth is hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. That whenever any person elected to the the office of alderman or justice of the peace shall fail to give the notice of acceptance as provided for in the first section of this act, within thirty days after said election, the office shall be considered vacant, and shall be filled as vacancies are now filled by law.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 35.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

SENATE.

THURSDAY, Feb. 17, 1859.

The Senate met at the usual hour. A quorum of Senators being present.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Bartine, of the Methodist Episcopal church, Harrisburg.

The Journal of yesterday's proceedings was read by the Clerk.

The SPEAKER presented the annual report of the institution for the deaf and dumb for the year 1858.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. BREWER, (Judiciary,) reported with a negative recommendation, an extract from the Journal of the House, relating to "An Act to incorporate the Luzerne powder company."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act authorizing the court of quarter sessions of Columbia county, to appoint auditors in Conyngham township in said county."

Mr. BELL, (same,) as committed, "An Act increasing the pay of county commissioners and auditors in Indiana county."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to confirm the title of Charles Whitney and Asa Scott to certain lands in Warren county."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "An Act authorizing the appointment of boards of visitors for the houses of employment and support of the poor of this Commonwealth."

Mr. MILLER, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 181, "An Act regulating the compensation of county commissioners, poor directors, auditors and jurymen in Northampton county."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 188, "An Act to confer on James Morrison, of Washington county, all the rights and privileges of a child born in lawful wedlock."

Mr. SCOFIELD, (same,) as committed, "An Act regulating borough elections in Bellefonte, Centre county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to an act, approved June 10, 1836, relative to stay of executions."

Mr. FINNEY, (same,) as committed, "An Act for better securing the compensation of labor in Luzerne county."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill, No. 189, "An Act to amend the fee bill of the orphan's court in Allegheny county."

Mr. HARRIS, (Pensions and Gratuities,) as committed, House bill, No. 154, "An Act for the relief of Henry Bomgardner, a soldier of the Indian war."

Mr. KELLER, from the Committee to Compare Bills, made a report.

Mr. SCHELL, from the Committee of Conference, to whom was referred the difference between the two Houses, on House bill No. 243, "An Act authorizing and requiring the commissioners of Union county to deliver up to the commissioners of Snyder county, certain assessment papers belonging to Snyder county," reported and recommended, as follows:

That they had met a similar committee from the House upon the difference between the two Houses, on the above mentioned bill, and recommend that the Senate recede from its amendment, adding the proviso: Provided, That Snyder county pay for the rebinding of the books."

On motion, said report was read, considered and adopted.

Mr. SCOFIELD made a report from the select committee, to whom was referred a resolution relative to the Journal of William Maclay; which, on motion, was adopted, and ordered to be printed in the Record. It is as follows:

The select committee to whom was referred a resolution instructing them to report upon the propriety of aiding in the publication of the private journal of William Maclay, a Senator from Pennsylvania in the first Congress of the United States, beg leave to report: that they have examined the Journal referred to in the resolution, and find that it consists of notes of the doings of the first Congress, sketches of the debates and criticisms of the distinguished men of that time. The committee do not hesitate to pronounce it a manuscript of great value. As Congress sat with closed doors at this time, much of its history has never yet been published; this Journal, in part, will supply the deficiency.

But, while the committee are unanimous in desiring the publication of this work, they cannot recommend that the Legislature should, in this instance, depart from its established rule, to print no document not immediately connected with the business of legislation. They, therefore, submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That the committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject:

G. W. SCOFIELD,
GEO. W. BREWER,
GEO. W. MILLER,
JER. SCHINDEL,
WM. M. FRANCIS.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. PARKER, "An Act authorizing the Germantown passenger railway company to lay a track on Fourth and Eighth streets."

Mr. STEELE, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Philadelphia and Great Bend turnpike road company."

Also, "A further supplement to an act relative to supervisors and overseers of the poor in Wilkesbarre and Plymouth townships, in Luzerne county."

Mr. PALMER, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the Navigation railroad company."

Mr. YARDLEY, "An Act to incorporate the Central Valley turnpike road company."

Mr. GAZZAM, "An Act to repeal the second section of an act providing for the expenses of roads and poor, in Pitt township, Allegheny county."

Mr. WELSH, "An Act to incorporate the Union Evangelical Lutheran Congregation of York."

Mr. GREGG, "An Act for the relief of A. W. Bayard, an old soldier."

Mr. FETTER, "An Act relative to elections in Juniata township, Perry county;" which, on his motion, the Senate proceeded to consider, and which, having gone through its various readings, passed finally.

Mr. BALDWIN, "An Act regulating the construction of passenger railways."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolution, offered on Monday last by Mr. BALDWIN, came up in order:

Resolved, That the State Treasurer be requested to inform the Senate whether any demand has been made by him on the Pennsylvania railroad company, for the tonnage tax due from said company to the Commonwealth under their charter for the last year; and if so, whether the said company has refused to pay the same; and to communicate to the Senate any correspondence which may have taken place on the subject.

Mr. SHAEFFER proposed the following amendments:

To insert after the word "Pennsylvania," the words "or any other;" after the word "company" the words, "or companies;" change "charter" to "charters;" strike out "for the last year," and so to amend the latter part of the resolution as to make it read thus:

"And if so, what amount, and for what period of time the said company or companies may be in arrears, and if they have refused to pay the same; and to communicate to the Senate any information and correspondence which may have taken place on the subject."

Mr. GAZZAM hoped the amendment would not be adopted. The resolution was simply one of inquiry with respect to a certain road; and although he would not impugn the motives of the Senator who offered the amendment, it savored too much of a disposition to cover up the facts sought to be elicited, by making the inquiry a general one. "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof;" and it was time enough, when the facts with respect to the Pennsylvania road shall have been obtained, to make inquiry with regard to others.

Mr. SHAEFFER wished the Senator from Allegheny distinctly to understand that he did not propose the amendment for the purpose of opposing or defeating the object of the resolution. The resolution was one which affects the revenues of the State, and he asked the Senator from Allegheny whether he was prepared to vote against an amendment which sought to bring under its inquiry all roads, and which might still more largely affect the public interests than the original resolution. For himself, he desired that the information shall be full and explicit—hence it was that he proposed the amendment, embracing within the inquiry all railroads.

Mr. GAZZAM said it was due the people of the State, that the company to which they had given the largest privileges, should be called upon for this information, and the friends of the road should not interpose any objection calculated to defeat the object of the resolution.

Mr. BALDWIN said he had no interest in the matter, other than as a Senator. He had reported the bill, because he had understood that the Pennsylvania railroad had refused to pay the tonnage tax imposed upon the company. It was simply a resolution of inquiry, and he had no objection to embrace within it the amendment of his colleague.

Mr. SCHELL considered both the resolution and amendment unnecessary at this time, for the reason that, as he understood, the Governor and the Auditor General had the matter under consideration.

Mr. RANDALL remarked that the resolution could do no injury. It was proper that the Legislature should be possessed of all the facts which were sought to be elicited.

Mr. SCOFIELD was not aware that more than one other road paid tonnage tax—the Mt. Joy and Lancaster.

Mr. SHAEFFER replied that the Mt. Joy and Lancaster and the Northern Central.

Mr. WELSH said that, after the explanation, he would vote for the amendment. The Northern Central road runs through a large portion of his district, and he was desirous of ascertaining whether they had refused to pay the tax imposed upon them. He did not see that the amendment could embarrass the original resolution.

Mr. SHAEFFER said there was no conflict of opinion between his colleague and himself as to the effect of the inquiry. There are two other railroads than the one named in the resolution, subject to the provisions of the tonnage tax; and it is but just and right, as it is a matter which largely affects the revenue of the State, that they should all be included.

Mr. GAZZAM remarked that, as the Senator from Lancaster, (Mr. BALDWIN,) had no objection to the amendment, he would withdraw his objections.

The amendments were agreed to; and the resolution, as amended, passed.

BILL CONSIDERED.

Mr. KELLER called up Senate bill No. 203, "An Act for the relief of Peter S. McCulloch."

On the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WELSH and Mr. KELLER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Brewer, Fetter, Gazzam, Keller, Marselis, Myer, Parker, Schell, Shaeffer, Schindel, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—15.

NAYS—Messrs. Coffey, Finney, Gregg, Harris, Nunnemacher, Scofield and Steele—7.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

Senate bills No's. 4 and 18, lie over on second reading, by request.

Senate bill No. 2, "An Act relating to evidence," came up in order on second reading, as follows:

AN ACT relating to evidence.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That no person offered as a witness in any action or judicial proceeding in any of the courts of this Commonwealth, shall be excluded by reason of his interest in the event of such action or proceeding; and a party to any action or judicial proceeding in any of the courts of this Commonwealth may be examined as a witness, but such examination shall not be had, nor shall any other person for whose immediate benefit the same is prosecuted or defended be so examined, unless the adverse party or person in interest is living, nor when the opposite party shall be the assignee, administrator, executor, or legal representative of a deceased person, nor unless ten days' notice of such intended examination of the party or person interested, specifying the points upon which such party or person is intended to be examined, shall be given in writing to the adverse party, except, that in special proceedings of a summary nature such reasonable notice of such intended examination shall be given as shall be prescribed by the court or judge; and when notice of such intended examination shall be in an action or proceeding, in which the opposite party shall reside out of the jurisdiction of the court, such party may be examined by commission issued and executed, as now provided by law. And whenever a party or person in interest has been examined, under the provisions of this section, the other party or person in interest may offer himself as a witness in his own behalf, and shall be so received.

SEC. 2. That when an assignor of a thing in action or contract is examined as a witness, on behalf of any person deriving title through or from him, the adverse party may offer himself as a witness to the same matter, in his own behalf, and shall be so received, and to any matter that will discharge him from any liability, that the testimony of the assignor tends to render him liable for, but such assignor shall not be admitted to be examined in behalf of any person deriving title through or from him, against an assignee, or an executor, or administrator, unless the other party to such contract, or thing, in action, whom the defendant or plaintiff represents is living, and his testimony can be procured for such examination, nor unless at ten days' notice, of such intended examination of the assignor, specifying the points upon which he is intended to be examined, shall be given in writing to the adverse party.

SEC. 3. That a party to the record in any action, or judicial proceeding, or a person for whose immediate benefit such proceeding is prosecuted or defended, may be examined as if under cross-examination, at the instance of the adverse party, or any of them, and for that purpose may be compelled in the same manner, and subject to the same rules of examination as any other witness to testify, but the party calling for such examination shall not be excused thereby, but may rebut it by his own testimony or other evidence.

SEC. 4. That such examination may be had before the trial of the cause at the option of the party claiming it before any judge of the proper court, or a commissioner, generally or specially appointed for the purpose, under a rule entered or a commission issued, as the case may require, with such notice to the party to be examined and to other adverse parties, as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by the rules of the proper court touching the taking of depositions, but the party to be examined shall not be compelled to attend in any other county than that of his residence, or where the said proceeding is pending.

SEC. 5. That a party in interest examined, as provided in the two foregoing sections, may testify in his own behalf, as to any matter pertinent in the issue, but if he testify to any new matter, not in answer to the inquiries propounded to him by the adverse party, or necessary to explain or qualify his answers thereto, or matter in discharge of himself, when his answers would otherwise charge him, such adverse party or his co-plaintiff, or defendant, may be examined as a witness in his or their own behalf, in respect to such new matter.

SEC. 6. That a party proposing to examine a party, adverse in interest, may have the same process and means of compelling attendance and response, as the law provides in the case of ordinary witnesses.

SEC. 7. That no person shall be excluded from testifying as a witness in any action or proceeding, in any court by reason of his having been convicted of a felony, and sentenced therefor, but evidence of the fact may be given to affect his credibility.

SEC. 8. That nothing contained in this act shall render any person, who, in any criminal proceeding, is charged with the commission of any indictable offence, or any offence punishable on summary conviction, competent or compellable to give evidence, for or against himself or herself, or shall render any person compellable to answer any question tending to criminate himself or herself, or shall in any proceeding, whether civil or criminal, render any husband competent or compellable to give evidence, for or against his wife, or any wife competent or compellable to give evidence, for or against her husband.

Mr. BELL desired to offer an amendment to the bill of the Senator from Indiana. The bill proposes to work a radical change in one of the most important systems of Pennsylvania. The subject is one which has attracted the judicial attention of some of the greatest minds in England, as well as in some of the States of our own Confederacy; and the reform which is proposed, has been received with different degrees of favor and disfavor, both at home and abroad. A bill had also been reported by himself from the Judiciary Committee, proposing to alter, radically, the same system, and yet stopping far short of the bill under consideration. The bill places it within the power of either party to a suit, to become witnesses in a matter in controversy. The bill reported by himself does not go so far. He then explained the difference between them, and said he desired to test the sense of the Senate as to the features of each.

Mr. BELL moved to strike out all after the enacting clause, and insert Senate bill No. 114, as follows:

AN ACT relating to evidence.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That no person shall be excluded from testifying as a witness in any judicial proceeding in this Commonwealth, by reason of his having been convicted of a felony, after he shall have undergone the judgment consequent thereon, or been relieved therefrom by executive pardon.

SEC. 2. That no person shall be excluded from testifying as a witness in any such judicial proceeding, by reason of any interest he may have in the event thereof: Provided however, That this section shall not apply to a party to the record, nor to any person for whose immediate benefit the action may be prosecuted or defended.

SEC. 3. That when an assignor, legal or equitable, of a thing in action or contract, is examined as a witness on behalf of any person deriving title through or from him, the adverse party may be examined as a witness in his own behalf; but such assignor shall not be admitted to testify in behalf of any person deriving title through or from him against another assignee, or executor, or administrator, unless the other original party to such contract or chose in action, whom the plaintiff, or complainant, or defendant, or respondent represents is living, and his testimony may with ordinary diligence be procured, nor unless reasonable notice of the intended examination of such assignor shall be given in writing to the adverse party.

SEC. 4. That a party to the record of any judicial proceeding, or a person whose immediate benefit such proceeding is prosecuted or defended, may be examined as if under cross-examination at the instance of the adverse party or any of them, and for that purpose may be compelled in the same manner and subject to the same rules of examination as any other witness to testify; but the party calling for such examination shall not be concluded thereby, but may rebut it by counter testimony.

SEC. 5. That such examination may be had before the trial of the cause at the option of the party claiming it, before any judge of the proper court, or a commissioner generally or specially appointed for the purpose, under a rule entered or a commission issued as the case may require, with such notice to the party to be examined and to other adverse parties as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by the rules of the proper court, touching the taking of depositions. But the party to be examined shall not be compelled to attend in any other county than that of his residence, or where the said proceeding is pending.

SEC. 6. That a party in interest, examined as provided in the foregoing sections, may testify in his own behalf as to any matter pertinent to the issue. But if he testify to any new matter not responsive to the inquiries propounded to him by the adverse party, or necessary to explain or qualify his answers thereto or matter in discharge of himself when his answers would otherwise charge him, such adverse party or his co-plaintiff or defendant may be examined as a witness in his and their own behalf in respect to such new matter.

SEC. 7. That a party may testify on behalf of his co-party, plaintiff or defendants, as to any matter in which he is not jointly interested or liable with such co-party, and as to which a several verdict and judgment may legally be rendered.

SEC. 8. That a party proposing to examine a party adverse in interest, may have the same process and means of compelling attendance and response as the law provides in the case of ordinary witnesses.

MR. COFFEY said, this bill proposes a change so thorough and radical in our system of practice, that I shall urge its claims, not only as right in itself, but as having the sanction of experience. I object to the amendment proposed by the Senator from Chester, because it stops short of the reform demanded. Conceding the absurdity of the common law rule, which excludes interested testimony, he yet retains it as to parties whom this rule excludes, for no other reason than their interests in the event of the suit. If it is reasonable and right to open the lips of interested persons not on the record, it is illogical to close the lips of parties, because, in both cases, the ground of exclusion is exactly the same, namely, their interests in the event of the issue. The true principle is to open every avenue whereby the truth may come in.

The common law, assuming that he who has a pecuniary interest in the event of a suit is an unsafe guide to truth, deliberately excludes him. The witness may be a person of the purest character; may be fully acquainted with the facts in controversy; may be the only one who knows them, and yet the inexorable rule of the law excludes him, if he be interested in the event to the extent of six cents; and for want of his testimony a fortune may be unjustly swept away, a reputation may be unfairly destroyed, or any other of the thousand evils which follow in the train of an unjust law may happen. Surely the policy which daily produces such results must be vindicated by some overwhelming reason. That reason is that an interested witness is more likely to tell a falsehood for his own gain than to tell the truth to his own loss, and therefore it is safer to exclude him altogether than to incur the risk of being misled by his evidence. This rule then is based upon the assumption of such an universal depravity, such a widely spread and deeply seated wickedness, that in human action men are in general dishonest when it is their interest to be so. I think the statement of the principle proves its absurdity. Ignoring every sentiment of virtue and honor; conceding nothing to the better tendencies of human nature, it is unsafe as a rule of action. There are a thousand feelings which will prompt men more strongly to perjury than the love of gain; as the ties of kindred, family, pride, fear, hatred or revenge, and yet none of these are a ground of exclusion.

But the true question is, are the advantages resulting from the admission of all testimony greater than the evils which follow the exclusion of that kind which is called interested? The advantages of opening every door whereby truth may enter are manifest. What are the evils to be apprehended? It is said perjury will increase. I think not, because,

1st. The examination of parties will diminish the number of witnesses to be examined, and the fewer witnesses you have, the less chance is there for perjury. Perjury is not confined to persons interested in the controversy. On the contrary, men who would carry a cause by foul means will rather hire others to swear falsely than do so themselves.

2d. Parties and interested witnesses know the facts better than others, for they have more reason to remember them than indifferent persons; and hence, are less likely to fall into the errors of defective memory; a fruitful source of injustice in legal investigations, as every lawyer knows.

3d. Interested witnesses, whether parties or not, will testify under the suspicion excited by their position. Every one will receive their evidence with instinctive prejudice, watching for exaggeration or misstatements, and guarding against deception. These witnesses will know this, and hence be more careful. Moreover, having before them the terrors of a cross-examination in open court, in the presence of an adversary prepared to detect and expose falsehood. I say few men would be bold enough to swear deliberately to falsehoods under these circumstances, especially when, as the bill requires, they have given to their adversary ten days notice of the points about which they are to testify.

I might elaborate this subject, but after all, experience is the best teacher in this, as in all other matters of legislation, and to experience, I appeal. This proposition is no experiment. It has the sanction of years of trial in England, and in some of our sister States. Years before the reform was consummated in England, the philosophic mind of Jeremy Bentham had seached out and exposed these venerable absurdities, and under his guidance the profession there learned to distrust the ancient boast, that their system was the perfection of reason. In 1843, Lord Denman's act was passed, going the length which the Senator from Chester now proposes to us, that is, abolishing the rule which excluded interested witnesses, but still forbidding parties to be witnesses. Parliament, however, passed a law allowing parties to be examined in the county courts. The great benefits of the county court system, and the conceded inconsistency of admitting one interested witness who was not on the record, and excluding another who was, forced Parliament, in 1851, under the lead of Lord Brougham, always an intelligent and practical, but never a rash reformer, to pass a law admitting parties as witnesses in all cases. Since then the testimony of English judges and lawyers has been almost unanimous in favor of the practical workings of the law, especially in diminishing legal business and abbreviating legal controversies; and the evil of perjury, instead of increasing, has been lessened. In 1848 Connecticut adopted the system, and after ten years' experience, her bench and bar, always respectable, bear strong testimony in its favor. Massachusetts, New York, Ohio and other Western States have followed her example, but I desire especially to refer to New York. That enlightened State has gradually engrafted this reform upon her system of jurisprudence, and the first section of the bill I have presented to the Senate, is taken chiefly from her statute book. The provision admitting parties as witnesses has had existence there nearly two years, and at the present session of her Legislature an attempt was made to repeal it. It failed under the earnest and overwhelming remonstrances of the press, the bench and bar, and the people of New York. I have in my hands the remonstrance of the bench and bar of the city of New York, signed by all the judges of the supreme and superior courts, and a large number of the most eminent members of the bar, men of national reputation, protesting against the repeal, and bearing strong testimony to the success and excellence of the new system.

But it is said the professional and popular mind of Pennsylvania is unprepared for the radical change which the bill under consideration proposes. Sir, I deny that our good old State, steady and conservative as she is, has been careless of the reforms of which others are availing themselves. It is true, she does not always lead the vanguard of progress, but I assert that this subject has engaged the intelligent attention of our bench and bar, and that the passage of this bill will be received with popular and professional favor. Since the introduction of this bill I have received letters from all parts of the State, many of them from eminent judges and lawyers, urging me to press its passage. I have been careful to ascertain, so far as I could, the opinions of all classes upon the subject. The five judges of the supreme court, a portion of the bench of the city of Philadelphia, and many eminent members of her bar, a large number of the most learned and able judges and lawyers of central and western Pennsylvania, men slow of change and suspicious of legal reform, have given their sanction to the principle, and many of them to all the details of this bill. It is true that here and there an expression of doubt has escaped from lips whose accents always commands respect, but these are exceptional. I have been careful too, to collect, so far as possible, the opinions of intelligent laymen, and here no utterance of dissent has discouraged me, for among men whose minds are not warped by professional prejudice; who are not wedded to the common law by loving communion and intimate fellowship with its venerable formulas and fictions, the absurdity and injustice of sealing the lips of a witness for some imaginary interest, of which he is often utterly unconscious, is apparent. A significant evidence of the necessity of this reform is found in the fact that nearly all the Senators on this floor who oppose this bill, confess that they do so, not because they are doubtful of its propriety, but because some legal friend at home is opposed to it. I believe that if those whose opinions thus influence legislation, would take the trouble to examine the question, and study the workings of the new system, most of them would yield their prejudices.

I know not, sir, whether this bill will pass or be defeated at this session. If defeated, I shall not be disturbed, for the adoption of its principles is but a question of time. We may not be the architects of this reform, but if we are not, those who follow us in these halls, will be; legal reform progresses slowly but surely, and of all legal reform, none is more certain of success than this. Ignorance or prejudice may throw temporary barriers in its way; the timid and doubtful may alarm their ready fears by visions of perjury and injustice, but the intelligent and steadily advancing sentiment of the people, and the profession, will surely vindicate this reform, and engraft it upon your jurisprudence. When that is done, the sarcasm of Bentham, that "no man could find his way to mill by the common law rules of evidence," will have lost its force, and in this branch of her jurisprudence our good old Commonwealth will deserve the honorable praise which the civilized world has accorded to her humane penal code, and her admirably blended system of law and equity.

Mr. BELL said he had listened with pleasure and profit to the eloquent and able remarks of the Senator from Indiana. He had, on the general principles characteristic of the two bills submitted by that Senator and himself, so fully occupied the whole ground of argument, as to leave but little to add to his suggestions—and indeed it might be thought unnecessary, and therefore scarcely admitting of excuse, to speak to the same points. But the propositions submitted to the consideration of the Senate, are of a character so momentous, invoking little short of a revolution in our long-settled system of evidence, and involving the pecuniary interests of every man in the community, that he trusted, as the mover of the amendment of the original bill, the Senate would bear with him, should he attempt to explain the provisions of the proposed amendment, particularly where these differed from the original bill.

The substitute presented by himself, offered for the consideration of this body three distinct propositions, to each of which he desired to direct attention, and of which he would invoke investigation. The first of these had for its object the abrogation of a bill which had been unknown in England since the reign of Elizabeth. In Pennsylvania, ever since the settlement of the province, our system of jurisprudence has been laboring under the absurdity of excluding as a witness every individual who, in the course of a long life, had been once convicted of a felony of the most trivial character. Place a man in the position of a criminal—though this involves but the commission of the most trifling larceny—and under our system his mouth is forever closed as a witness in our courts of justice. He may be the sole observer of the perpetration of the most atrocious crime; he may be the only man breathing who, from his knowledge of facts, can rescue his neighbor from pecuniary ruin, or his fellow's character from the blighting influence of detraction; he may, by a long course of upright conduct and devotion to honest pursuit, have redeemed an early error and reconquered the good opinion of the community; the utmost confidence may be felt in his truthfulness, and yet, by the operation of our rigid rule, his mouth is hermetically sealed, unless the Executive pleases to interpose the pardoning power. This is not only unjust to the individual, as excluding him from the ordinary privilege of a member of society, but is still more deeply injurious to the party who proposes him as a witness, and who is thus deprived of evidence essential to his case, and which might be entirely satisfactory to the tribunal trying his case. He had said this objection to the competency of a witness had been unheard of in England for more than two centuries. There, the legal effect of what is known as the benefit of clergy—at first confined to the few who were able to read, but in course of time, by the spread of education, extending to the mass of the community—the felon was restored to his civil rights after undergoing the punishment due to his offence; but the benefit of clergy never having been extended to Pennsylvania, the result of its operation was also unknown among us, and consequently, the old common law rule of disqualification remained, to cripple our system of jurisprudence and trammel the administration of justice. Mr. B. here illustrated this observation, by cases that had fallen under his own observation, and concluded his remarks on this branch of the subject, by observing that in truth, this, with similar objections, ought to go to the credit of the proposed witness, in reference to the judgment of the jury, as judge of the amount of credence due to the witness, should not be permitted to shut out the light, by a total exclusion of the evidence.

The next feature of the proposed measures are identical. Each proposes to wipe out the objection to witnesses, because of an interest in the event of the particular action. This rule of exclusion originated in an age when ignorance and incapacity for judicial administration was general: when juries were carried from shiretown to shiretown, until they consented to a verdict in accordance with the instructions of the judge, and when fine and imprisonment awaited what was then denominated contumacy. This abuse found its origin in the same sections which dictated the rule of exclusion on the ground of interest—the contempt which the bench entertained for the jury box. In the prevailing ignorance of the age, the more educated classes, then occupying the judicial seats, feared to permit a discolored ray of light to penetrate the jury, lest it might mislead. To suspect, was to exclude, because it was supposed the jury might not be capable of discriminating between the light, perfectly pure and unsuspected, and that which shone, subject to impeachment. But with advancing centuries, the intelligence of the masses has advanced. The time has come when jurors are as competent to judge between what is worthy of credence, and what ought to be received with suspicion and distrust, as those who preside over their deliberations. Is it not, therefore, apparent, that the objection which is addressed to the competency of the witness—altogether excluding him from testimony—should be referred to his credibility, leaving this to be weighed by that portion of his fellow-citizens most competent to determine the question?

Mr. B. proceeded to say that the third feature of the bill submitted by him, principally distinguished it from that proposed by the Senator from Indiana. His proposition was to permit parties to the record, and those for whose immediate use the action was brought, to volunteer as witnesses in their own behalf; while that proffered by himself restricted the examination of a party to the case in which he was called by his adversary. This has been denominated a half-way measure. It may be so, but it is a safe measure. The introduction of novelties in judicial systems are always dangerous, and while necessity may sometimes impel us to the trial of them, wisdom and experience teaches us that we should advance with suspicious caution.

He advocated his bill at some length, during the course of which he said that he also had letters from judges of high standing, protesting earnestly—almost violently—against the adoption of the system proposed by the bill of the Senator from Indiana. The plan proposed by him was a matter of experiment merely. It had existed in England for a few years, and in New York for a short time; and in that State there has already been a movement made for its repeal. Experiments, particularly upon judicial systems, were always dangerous; and he protested against making so radical a change as that proposed by the bill, when there is no necessity for it. Let us, he said, try the half-way measure first, and see how it operates, before taking the step contemplated, of changing the whole system. That is not wise in the introduction of novelties which is not necessary, particularly with reference to the judiciary. Try the half-way movement, and if that is found beneficial in half a dozen years, then extend the system proposed by the Senator from Indiana.

Mr. FINNEY said the manner in which it was proposed to amend the bill, takes away all the beneficial tendencies of it. Thinking so, he desired to make a few remarks with reference to it. On the first section, the position of the Senator from Chester is correct. He would go still further, however, and would allow no religious test to be applied—no religious views to exclude a party from testifying; but would require no higher test than moral standing, allowing all evidence to have its due weight with the jury.

With respect to the second and third sections, he said there was no difference in the truthfulness of evidence, because the name of the person giving it was written on the record as a party to the suit. That was a matter which the jury should take into consideration in making up its verdict. He then entered into a brief exposition of the operations of the bill, which he thought would be worse than the old; after which he threw out a few ideas with respect to the philosophy of evidence, and drew a distinction between the tests of common law, under the feudal system, and those which prevailed in a more enlightened period. These tests had, long ago, been decided unphilosophical, and had been wiped out of the statute books. He alluded to the method of administering oaths, calling upon God to help them, as one of the relics of a darker period, and which would soon be abolished under the gradual spread of a more enlightened and liberal policy. There would soon be a nearer approach to that system which says "let thy communication be yea, yea, and nay, nay." The form of calling upon God to aid us in an oath was a superstition of bygone days, and should be done away with. There should be no higher aid invoked than that principle which teaches us to "do unto others as you would have others do unto you;" and although we may get nearer and nearer to that system, we would never progress beyond it.

He alluded to the days when indulgences were granted to tell lies, and when it was necessary to adopt the principle which excluded an interested party. Where a large pecuniary interest was involved, a party might purchase the indulgence to lie with impunity, and it became necessary for the courts to exclude him. These restrictive rules had their origin in the dark ages, and prevailed to a great extent throughout the world at the present time, except where they had been lopped off.

He continued in illustration of the workings of the law of evidence, as proposed by the bill and the substitute, and wound up by saying that by adopting the first bill, litigation would be diminished, and the most beneficial results ensue.

Mr. PALMER said—

Mr. SPEAKER: I have observed with admiration the flood of light and learning poured upon the important subject under discussion by the learned Senators who have preceded me, and it is with a profound sense of my own inexperience and inability to cope with them in this debate, that I approach it; but it appears to me due to its momentous interest to the people of this Commonwealth, and to myself, in justification of the votes that I shall cast upon it, to place my views upon the record. There are two propositions presented for the consideration of the Senate—one that of the distinguished Senator from Indiana, (Mr. COFFEY;) the other that of the able and eloquent Senator from Chester, (Mr. BELL). The latter may be designated as the proposition of the conservative or middle ground, between the present condition of our law of evidence, and the more radical change proposed by the Senator from Indiana. While most measures of the legal profession in Pennsylvania would probably admit the propriety and necessity of some change in our common law rules, regulating evidence, there will doubtless be great difference of opinion among them relative to the reasonable extent of that change. Every lawyer in active practice, during an experience of several years, will doubtless have found many occasions to regret the present condition of the law of evidence in both civil and criminal cases. That a witness called to the stand in a criminal case, in the result of which he feels no interest except that common to every other citizen, that justice may be done between the Commonwealth and the defendant; a witness who, for years, has led a good life, and preserved an excellent reputation for virtue, truth and veracity, should be utterly excluded from testifying, because of some crime committed in his early youth, and long entirely repented and atoned for, is a manifest absurdity in our jurisprudence. That a citizen called in a civil cause, whose whole life has been unimpeached and unimpeachable; a man who is known by the common speech of all people acquainted with him, to be one who would speak the truth, though it caused the heavens to fall, should have his mouth closed, because of an interest, however small, in the result of the pending cause; while others, bound to the parties, in whose favor they are called, by ties of consanguinity, marriage, business relations, with their feelings warped and prejudices deeply involved in the subject matter of their testimony, should be admitted, is another absurdity. But while I acknowledge the necessity of some reform, and am willing to advance upon the road of progress pointed out by both the propositions pending before the Senate, I must admit that my own mind inclines to that of the Senator from Chester, (Mr. BELL,) and that I shall be disposed to sustain that proposition, if some amendments, necessary in my view, and which I shall submit at the proper time, shall be engrafted upon it. I have heard what has been said upon the conservatism of Pennsylvania, and the reproach that has been cast upon her as lagging behind her sister States of the Union in the path of progress and reform. There may be, and doubtless is, some truth in these reproaches; but I am one who am not prepared entirely to scout this old fashioned Pennsylvania conservatism. It is true that my infusion of New England blood does sometimes leap to the cries of progress similar to those to which we have listened from the eloquent Senator from Indiana, (Mr. COFFEY,) and the eloquent Senator from Crawford, (Mr. FINNEY,) but my habit of life and associations from my youth up, among the sturdy German element of our Pennsylvania population, restrains me to conservatism. It may be true that in some things Pennsylvania is behind some of our sister States of New England, but she is still a grand old Commonwealth, magnificently strong in many of her elements. In the time past she has stood proudly, stubbornly perhaps, amid the surging waves of the extremes, north and south, until it may be that she appeared to the world to be actually, what she was admitted to be symbolically, the Keystone; as heavy and as hard to move as the original rock itself. But those of her sons, who, like myself, are wedded to her, heart and soul, claim that if her progress toward greatness has been slow and gradual, it has also been safe and sure. I admire her sturdy conservatism, and I would not shock it by sudden and radical changes in our system of jurisprudence. We are here but as the representatives of the people, and I would not have us move too fast and too far for public opinion to follow. We have heard from Senators of the difference of opinion still existing in Great Britain upon the subject of the change there in the law of evidence now proposed here. We have also been told of the effort recently made by the people of the State of New York, before their Legislature, to repeal a similar law, after a short trial of about twenty months; and I was informed, within a few days past, by an intelligent gentleman, citizen of that State, that, except for the remonstrance from the judges and lawyers of the city of New York, which was read to the Senate this morning by the Senator from Indiana, there is little doubt that the act of repeal would have passed the New York Legislature by a nearly unanimous vote. In that case, it would have been contended by the enemies of the reform, that the law had been tested and condemned by the people; and without a fair trial of its merits, it would have been postponed for years. I may illustrate the subject by reference to our own experience in legislating against intemperance in the use of intoxicating liquors. For long years the wisest and best men of our State had implored the Legislature for men's sake, and for God's sake, to do something to remove or to lessen this great evil. Finally legislation was had, but it was in advance of the public opinion, and was repealed, and the present laws, which I claim are a disgrace to our statute books, were enacted, and the result is found in the fact that the present condition of the Commonwealth is worse than it was in the beginning. I would not imitate this sad example in the matter under consideration. Let us advance upon public opinion gradually, feeling our way as we advance, so that our progress may be secure; and rather rest content with practical measures—that may be designated by some as half-way—rather than to lose everything by attempting too much.

I intend, at the proper time, to submit to the Senate some amendments to the bill, proposed by the Senator from Chester, which I hope will meet their approval, and enable me to cast my vote for the bill.

House amendments to Senate bill No. 141, "A supplement to an act to enable the county of Warren, to effect certain compromises," were read.

The question being,

Will the Senate concur?

It was moved that further consideration of the same be postponed for the present; which was agreed to.

The hour of one having arrived, the Senate adjourned until to-morrow morning, at ten o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, Feb. 17, 1859.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock, A. M.

The SPEAKER in the Chair.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Jas. Colder.

The Clerk read the Journal of yesterday.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the Report of Deaf and Dumb Asylum.

Also, the fourth annual report of the officers of the Penn Asylum for indigent widows and single women.

Also, a petition from the same body, asking an appropriation for said institution.

On motion of Mr. CHASE, so much of the resolution, passed a few days since, as granted the use of the House to the Editorial Convention was rescinded; that body having adjourned sine die last night.

On motion of Mr. LAWRENCE, of Washington, Mr. MATTHEWS was placed upon the Committee on Banks, in lieu of Mr. McCLEAN, late a member of the House.

Mr. EVANS, on leave, presented the answer of Horace B. Fry to the memorial of John Grigg, in the matter of the application of his daughter, Emily, to be divorced from the said H. B. Fry, and moved that the same be printed for the use of the House.

Mr. McCLEURE moved to amend by printing five hundred copies in pamphlet form.

Mr. EVANS moved to amend the amendment by printing, in addition to the above, the previous testimony taken in the case.

Mr. WILLISTON regarded it a useless expense, and hoped the question would not prevail.

Mr. HARDING moved further to amend, by increasing the number to 1000 copies; which was not agreed to.

Messrs. WILEY, ROSE and HAMERSLY opposed the motion.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to print 500 copies?

It was determined in the negative.

The question now being,

Will the House agree to the motion to print?

It was agreed to.

Mr. ROHRER, on leave, offered the following joint resolution:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives, That the State Treasurer be, and he is hereby authorized and required, to pay Lucius Rogers, for services as clerk in the contested election case of W. H. MATTHEWS vs. DAVID R. McCLEAN, three dollars per day for thirty-eight days, with the usual mileage, together with mileage while traveling with said committee, and actual expense in Philadelphia, while in the employ of the committee in taking testimony in said case, which shall be certified to by the chairman of the said committee.

Which was read the second time.

Mr. CHASE moved to amend, by striking from the resolution that portion which refers to mileage, while traveling with the committee.

Messrs. HAMERSLY, ROHRER, ROSE and MILLER opposed the amendment.

Messrs. CHASE and THORN defended it.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ZOLLER and Mr. WITHROW, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eekman, Ellmaker, Fisher, Fleming, Galley, Glatz, Gratz, Hamersly, Harding, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keueagy, Ketchum, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Proudfoot, Pugh, Quigley, Shafer, Shepard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Thorn, Wagoner, Walborn, Walker, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—57.

NAYS—Messrs. Bayard, Bertolot, Campbell, Evans, Fearon, Foster, Gray, Irish, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Matthews, McDowell, Miller, Neall, Pinkerton, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Rouse, Shields, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston and Zoller—28.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. THORN moved to amend the resolution, by substituting a new one in lieu thereof, giving to the said Rogers four dollars per day, together with his actual expenses while attending on the committee in Philadelphia; which was agreed to; and the resolution, as amended, passed finally.

Mr. PATTERSON, leave being given, from the Committee on Railroads, reported as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Lewisburg, Selinsgrove and Philadelphia Junction railroad company."

Also, on leave, re-presented "An Act for the relief of Jno. S. Miller;" which was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. PRICE, on leave, read in his place and presented to the Chair, "An Act making evidence taken by commissioners appointed by an act passed the 12th of April, 1858, competent testimony, to be used on behalf of claimants in all suits pending or to be hereafter brought against said institution, its late directors, stockholders or assignee, in the several courts of this Commonwealth;" and moved that the rules be suspended, and that the House proceed to the consideration of the same; which was not agreed to.

PETITIONS, &c., PRESENTED.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE read in his place and presented to the Chair, five petitions numerously signed from citizens of Northumberland county, to have that part of their county lying north of the line, between the township of Point Chillisquesque, annexed to and made part of the county of Union.

Mr. PROUDFOOT, two remonstrances from citizens of Cambria county, against any alteration in existing laws for the collection of taxes in said county.

Mr. BERTOLET, eight petitions from citizens of Reading, for an act authorizing the survey and laying out of such streets and alleys as are not yet opened within the limits of said city, and the establishment of the grades thereof.

Also, two from citizens of Reading, for a horizontal survey of said city.

Mr. EVANS, the fourth annual report of the Penn asylum for indigent widows and single women.

Also, a petition for the repeal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Also, the answer of Horace B. Fry to John Grigg.

Mr. GREEN, a petition from residents adjacent to the Pennsylvania railroad, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax on said road.

Mr. SHEPPARD, the fourth annual report of the Penn asylum for indigent widows and single women.

Also, one in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Mr. HAMERSLY, one in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad, signed by a number of the most influential firms in Philadelphia.

Mr. PINKERTON presented a petition of citizens of Minersville, Schuylkill county, numerously signed, for a law better securing the wages of labor in Schuylkill county.

Also, another of like import, from Schuylkill county.

Mr. M'DOWELL, one from citizens of Plum township, Allegheny, and Franklin township, Westmoreland county, praying that a new school district may be erected out of parts of said townships.

Mr. CUSTER, six from citizens of Berks county, for the repeal of the act fixing the dividing line between Reading and Alsace townships.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) one of like import.

Mr. WOLF, a bill and petition from citizens of the borough of Logansville, York county, for authority to lay out and open certain streets in said borough.

Mr. PENNELL, the petition of Penn asylum for indigent widows and single women, for an appropriation of twelve thousand dollars to relieve them of their indebtedness, and an annual appropriation of two thousand dollars, to assist them in the maintenance of the institution.

Also, one from the farmers and manufacturers of the counties adjacent to the Pennsylvania railroad, praying for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, the petition and affidavits of James Eden Roosevelt vs. Catharine his wife, for a divorce.

Mr. NILL, two from citizens of Fulton county, for the repeal of the usury laws.

Also, two from citizens of Dublin township, Huntingdon county, praying that said township may be annexed to Fulton county.

Mr. FEARON, one from citizens of Lycoming county, for the construction of a boom in Loyalsock creek in said county.

Mr. WOODRING, nine remonstrances from citizens of Northampton county, against the passage of the act now before the Legislature, relative to the Delaware Division canal company.

Mr. STONEBACK, a remonstrance from citizens of Pottstown, Montgomery county, against the passage of an act authorizing them to elect nine councilmen instead of six.

Mr. DISMANT, one from thirty-nine citizens of Montgomery county, for an appropriation to aid in establishing a School of Mines.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) one from citizens of Bucks county, remonstrating against the passage of an act authorizing dams or other obstructions in the river Delaware.

Also, one from citizens of Allentown against the passage of an act erecting five wards in said borough.

Mr. WAGONSELLER, one from citizens of Juniata county, against keeping a certain mountain road in repair at the expense of said county.

Mr. BALLIET, four petitions from citizens of Carbon county, for a new judicial district composed of the counties of Carbon and Lehigh.

Also, two remonstrances from citizens of Allentown, Lehigh county, against dividing their borough into more wards.

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) one from citizens of Schuylkill county, in favor of the passage of the act for the better securing the payment of wages of labor in said county.

Mr. WILEY, three remonstrances of members and others, of the several Evangelical churches of Frankford, Philadelphia, against the passage of an act to permit the running of cars on Sunday upon the Frankford and Southwark passenger railroad.

Mr. ROHRER, one from three hundred and sixty-one citizens of Armstrong county, for the repeal of an act of Assembly, authorizing the election of county superintendent and the total abolition of that office in said county.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) one from citizens of Bucks and Lehigh counties, for the construction of a turnpike road from Quakertown and Spunertown to the village of Centre Valley.

Mr. MEHAFFEY, one from citizens of Lycoming county, for the passage of an act securing more effectually prompt payment on the part of insurance companies.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of said county, against the passage of an act erecting a boom in Loyalsock creek.

Mr. HILL, three petitions from citizens of Pottstown, Montgomery county, for a supplement to their borough charter.

Mr. DODDS, one from citizens, farmers and manufacturers of the counties adjacent to the Pennsylvania railroad, for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. BAYARD, one from citizens of Pittsburgh, in favor of a passenger railway from said city to the village of East Liberty, by way of Pennsylvania avenue.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) one from citizens of Somerset township, Washington county, in favor of the election of four supervisors in said township.

Also, one from citizens of Jefferson township, Allegheny county, for the new county of Monongahela.

Mr. WITMAN, one from citizens of Harrisburg, for a change of their borough charter.

Mr. CHURCH, a memorial from the Penn asylum for indigent widows and single women, for an appropriation.

Also, one in favor of an appropriation to the Polytechnic college, of Philadelphia.

Also, two for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. TAYLOR, one in favor of the erection of a new county, to be called Ligonier.

Also, a remonstrance against the same.

Also, a petition from citizens of Indiana county, for the repeal of the act authorizing the appointment of county superintendent of common schools.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of Indiana county, against the erection of the new counties of Pine and Ligonier.

Mr. ACKER, one from the Pennsylvania anti slavery society; which was read.

Mr. PEARCE, two from citizens of the township of East Bradford, praying that the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth sections of "An Act to incorporate the Coatsville, Mortonsville and Doe Run plank road company," be extended to the said township of East Bradford.

Mr. GALLEY, memorials and petitions from citizens of Fayette and other counties, praying for the passage of "An Act to pay the Cumberland road."

Also, three more from citizens of Fayette, Washington and Somerset counties, of similar import.

Also, one from citizens of Perry township, Fayette county, praying for the incorporation of a bridge company, and to authorize the commissioners of said county to make a donation to said company.

Also, petitions of citizens of Fayette co., praying for a repeal of all laws allowing the county commissioners to pay premiums on fox and wild cat scalps; and for the repeal of a law increasing the pay of county officers, jurors and witnesses.

Mr. GOEPP, a remonstrance from citizens of Northampton county, against the passage of the act now before the Legislature, relative to the Delaware Division canal company.

Also, one from same, against the removal of the county seat.

Mr. BURLEY, one from citizens of Blair county, for the abolition of the office of county superintendent of common schools in said county.

Mr. CUSTER, five from citizens of Reading, for a horizontal survey of said city.

Mr. WARDEN, one from sundry citizens of Unity township, Westmoreland county, in favor of the passage of a law abolishing the office of county superintendent of common schools.

Also, a remonstrance of eighty-six citizens of Sewickly township, same county, against any division of said county, for the purpose of erecting the new county of Monongahela.

Mr. BARNESLEY, one from citizens and stockholders of the Quakertown and Spinertown turnpike road, for a supplement to their charter.

Also, three from citizens of Attleborough, Bucks county, against the passage of a law incorporating said village into a borough.

Mr. WILLISTON, nineteen petitions from several hundred citizens of Tioga county, praying for the repeal of certain sections of the Tioga plank road company. (Referred to Committee on Roads and Bridges.)

Also, one from fifteen citizens of Tioga county, praying for a law taxing dogs. (Referred to Committee on Judiciary.)

Also, one from citizens of Tioga county, for a law to prohibit driving deer with dogs. (Referred to Committee on Agriculture.)

Mr. M'DOWELL, one from citizens of Plum township, Allegheny county, and Franklin township, Westmoreland county, for the passage of an act erecting parts of said townships into a separate school district.

Mr. BERTOLET, two from citizens of Berks county, for the better protection in their farms from trespassers.

Mr. PRICE, one from Lancaster county attorney, remonstrating against the passage of an act admitting plaintiffs and defendants to testify in suits pending or being brought, in the courts of this Commonwealth, in their own cases.

Mr. BURLEY, one from citizens of Blair county, asking for the repeal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Also, one from citizens of Juniata township, Blair county, asking to attach part of said township to Allegheny township, for school purposes.

Also, one from citizens of Blair county, asking to have the office of county superintendent of common schools abolished.

Mr. KINNEY, one from one hundred and twelve citizens of Franklin township, Bradford county, in favor of a law compelling land owners to fence their farms, and presented a bill of the same import.

Mr. MILLER, one from citizens of Crawford county, in favor of the new county of Marion.

Also, one from the Penn asylum, for indigent widows and single women.

Mr. WIGTON, one from citizens of Jackson township, relative to the road laws in said county.

Also, one for the removal of the seat of justice to the borough of Wilmore.

Also, one to change the place of holding elections in Jackson township, Huntingdon county.

Mr. WITHEROW, one from citizens of Newton Hamilton, Mifflin county, for an act to attach the premises owned by the Pennsylvania railroad company, and now occupied by Wm. Hamilton, to the borough of Newton Hamilton school district, in Mifflin county.

Mr. KENEAGY, one from citizens of Philadelphia in favor of an appropriation to Penn Asylum.

Mr. ELLMAKER, two remonstrances from citizens of Lancaster city and county, against authorizing the sheriff to sell real estate on the premises.

Mr. GOOD, two from one hundred and sixty-four citizens of the borough of Allentown, in favor of a division of said borough into wards.

Mr. PUGH, one from citizens of Carbondale township, Luzerne county, to change the place of holding their elections in said township.

Mr. GRITMAN, a remonstrance from John Koons, George S. Miller and other citizens of Huntingdon township, Luzerne county, against giving the school directors of said township power to borrow money, &c.

Messrs. MATTHEWS, QUIGLEY, SMITH, of (Philadelphia,) severally presented petitions from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Messrs. WALBORN, HARDING and FISHER, severally presented petitions, relative to the Penn asylum, asking for appropriation.

Mr. WILEY, leave being given, presented "An Act to increase the fees of jurors." (Referred to Committee on Judiciary.)

Mr. HAMERSLY, one from citizens of the seventh and eighth districts of Philadelphia, for a change in the mode of electing directors of the poor, in said township.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of Allentown, against the division of said borough into wards.

Also, one in favor of an appropriation to the Penn asylum.

Also, two from citizens of the rural districts of Philadelphia, in favor of the act securing the right of free travel over certain highways.

Mr. WALKER, one from citizens of Somerset county, against the new county Ligonier.

Mr. WILSON, on leave, from the joint committee of conference appointed, relative to House bill No. 283, reported that the joint conference recommended the Senate bill to be stricken out.

On motion of Mr. WAGONSELLER, the report of the committee was adopted by the House.

Mr. M'CLURE, presented a petition from citizens of Franklin county, for a law to impose a tax on dogs.

Also, one to impose a license on stallions.

Mr. RAMSDELL, two from citizens of Venango county, in favor of a change of the road laws, in said county.

Also, a remonstrance against the abolition of the office of county superintendent of common schools.

Mr. ROUSE, a memorial from citizens of Warren county, in favor of the new county, Marion.

Mr. SHIELDS, one from eighty-five citizens of Westmoreland county, in favor of the abolition of the office of county superintendent of common schools.

Mr. CHASE moved that for the purpose of considering public bills, the regular orders of the day be suspended.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THORN and Mr. CHASE, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Campbell, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Evans, Fearon, Fisher, Glatz, Gratz, Gray, Green, Gritman, Hamersly, Harding, Hill, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mahaff-Matthews, M'Clure, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Peirce, Proudfoot, Pugh, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Thorn, Wagonseller, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston and Wolf—64.

NAYS—Messrs. Bayard, Foster, Hottenstine, Laird, M'Dowell, Pinkerton, Price, Stephens, Stoneback, Wilson, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—11.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. CHASE further moved, that bills reported from committees affirmatively have the priority; which was agreed to.

Mr. KINNEY, on leave, offered a joint resolution, that when the two Houses adjourn they do so meet at 3 o'clock on next Tuesday.

On the question,

Will the House proceed to second reading of the same?

A motion was made by Mr. EVANS, that the further consideration of the motion be postponed for the present.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAMERSLY and Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Balliet, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Burley, Campbell, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Goepf, Good, Gratz, Gray, Harding, Hottenstine, Irish, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Miller, Neall, Palm, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Pugh, Quigley, Rohrer, Rose, Rouse, Shafer, Smead, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Styer, Taylor, Walborn, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Williston, Wilson and Lawrence, Speaker—46.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Fearon, Fisher, Glatz, Green, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Jackson, Lawrence, (Washington,) M'Clure, M'Dowell, Nill, Oaks, Ramsdell, Sheppard, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Thorn, Wagonseller, Walker, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wolf and Zoller—37.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. GRAHAM.

Mr. WILSON for Mr. BRYSON.

Mr. EVANS, from the Committee on Vice and Immorality, reported with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to inspections."

The above resolution was then read the second time.

Mr. HAMERSLY said: I am sorry, Mr. SPEAKER, that it became necessary for a member of the opposition to remind the majority of this House of its duty to the people and to the party which sent those who compose it here. I had hoped, sir, that we should all have stood here shoulder to shoulder in favor of economy and reform, without being goaded into it by the taunts of the Democratic party. Now, sir, we are proposing to adjourn this House for four or five days, without having a single reason urged in its favor, except a desire to promote the personal convenience of individual members. For myself, I desire to say, sir, that I am opposed to all these adjournments. I am as anxious to visit my home as any gentleman upon this floor, but in agreeing to come here as a representative of the people, I virtually bound myself to sacrifice all my private interests and feelings to the general good. I have voted against every proposition to adjourn over, and I have not absented myself from the House for five minutes since the commencement of the session. I trust, sir, that we shall remain here and faithfully discharge our duties to our constituents, so that we may be prepared to adjourn finally at an early day.

Mr. M'CLURE said that no public bills had passed yet, and there was no use in adjourning.

Mr. ROSE said that no quorum would probably be in attendance, even if the House did not adjourn. He moved an amendment, until Wednesday, instead of Tuesday next.

Mr. KINNEY said that the adjournment could not affect the consideration of public bills.—Tuesday was generally appropriated to meeting, and hearing an address read.

Mr. NILL said that Mr. ROSE could easily obtain leave of absence.

Mr. ROSE inquired how long Mr. NILL had been absent?

Mr. NILL replied, two weeks. He opposed the resolution strongly.

Mr. ROSE advocated the adoption.

Mr. WILSON said that when one gentleman from Franklin made a speech, the other followed, and each had been absent about two weeks. He hoped that the House would adjourn.

Mr. FOSTER said that he did not believe the community would suffer from the adjournment of the House.

Mr. ROSE withdrew the amendment.

Mr. KINNEY moved to amend his resolution, so as to strike out the word "Senate."

The amendment was carried.

Mr. HAMERSLY had not voted for any adjournment this session. Party obligations should compel the attendance of the members.

Mr. ROSE. Would the adjournment increase the expenses?

Mr. HAMERSLY. It will.

Mr. ROSE hoped that the gentleman from Philadelphia would recollect this in future, when they asked to adjourn on every Friday.

Mr. CHASE said that the appropriation bill would probably come up for consideration tomorrow.

Mr. RAMSDRILL. Does the resolution call for the adjournment of the third House?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is out of order.

Mr. ROHRER said when he left home, his constituents had requested him not to press public business, for they had had enough of it. The gentleman from Franklin had been away when the business did not interest them. It was essential, however, that when the public business came up there should be a full attendance.

Mr. THORN made some remarks.

Mr. GLATZ moved to indefinitely postpone.

Mr. ROSE said that as it did not seem to matter to the constituents whether the gentlemen from Franklin were absent or not, he would ask leave of absence for both of them until the end of the session.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) entered a protest against the adjournment. He had never seen such trifling with the public business.—The people did not expect the members to adjourn to go home to see their wives and children. He would insist on the yeas and nays.

Mr. KINNEY said he was willing to face the record. Who was it that had trifled with the public business? It was the very gentlemen who opposed the adjournment.

Mr. NILL. Does the gentleman say that I have trifled.

Mr. KINNEY said that the gentleman had certainly not been in his seat for two weeks.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) said that the constituency of the gentlemen would hold them to a fearful responsibility.

Mr. HARDING advocated the adjournment.

Mr. GRITMAN wished to enter his protest against the discussion upon such a subject. If the gentlemen from the west wanted to go home, let them go, and not ask the House to adjourn.

Mr. ROSE said that the gentleman from Bucks, (Mr. WILLIAMS,) was too modest by far. He seemed to think that he was of no use. This was not so. The constituents of Mr. WILLIAMS, and of every other member, expected them to do their duty, and looked to them for efficient service.

Mr. MANN reviewed the arguments in favor of adjournment. He said that they were not consistent.

Mr. RAMSDALL moved to postpone indefinitely:

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. NILL and Mr. M'CLURE, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Chase, Church, Custer, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Fearon, Fisher, Glatz, Green, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Jackson, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mahaffey, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Nill, Oaks, Pennell, Peirce, Pughe, Ramsdell, Shafer, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Thorn, Wagonseiler, Walker, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wolf and Zoller—45.

NAYS—Messrs. Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Burley, Campbell, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Goepp, Good, Gratz, Gray, Harding, Hottenstine, Irish, Kinney, Laird, Miller, Neall, Proudfoot, Quigley, Rohrer, Rose, Rouse, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Styer, Taylor, Walborn, Warden, Wigton, Wiley, Williston, Wilson, Woodring and Lawrence, Speaker—37.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. LAIRD offered a resolution, that hereafter the House hold an afternoon session every Saturday, and a morning session every Monday.

And on the question,

Will the House proceed to the second reading of said resolution?

A motion was made by Mr. EVANS, that the further consideration of said motion be postponed for the present.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. JACKSON and Mr. GOOD, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Custer, Dismant, Evans, Fisher, Green, Hamersly, Matthews, Pennell, Peirce, Quigley, Ramsdell, Shafer, Styer and Williston—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Barlow, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Fearon, Fleming, Foster, Glatz, Goepp, Good, Gratz, Gray, Gritman, Harding, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mahaffey, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Rose, Rouse, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thorn, Wagonseiler, Walhorn, Walker, Warden, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Woodring, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—66.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Said resolution was then read the second time.

Mr. THORN moved to amend the resolution, so that those sessions be exclusively devoted to the consideration of the act for the incorporation of the Mutual admiration society; which was not agreed to.

Mr. NILL moved that the rules be suspended, and that the House proceed to the consideration of the act to incorporate the Pennsylvania and Maryland turnpike road company: which was not agreed to.

The hour of one having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until this afternoon, at three o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House met again at 3 o'clock, and resumed the consideration of the resolution submitted by Mr. LAIRD—that the House hold sessions every Saturday afternoon and Monday morning.

Mr. FOSTER moved so to amend the resolution that public bills be always in order before private bills, until disposed of; which was not agreed to.

The question recurring shall the resolution pass,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LAIRD and Mr. GLATZ, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Burley, Campbell, Church, Custer, Dodds, Eckman, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Glatz, Goepp, Good, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Jackson, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mahaffey, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Neall, Oaks, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rose, Rouse, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stuart, Taylor, Thorn, Wagonseiler, Walker, Warden, Wigton, Williams, (Bucks,) Withrow, Wolf and Woodring—53.

NAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Chase, Dismant, Durboraw, Evans, Gratz, Green, Matthews, Nill, Palm, Pennell, Rohrer, Shafer, Smead, Stoneback, Styer, Walborn, Williston, Wilson and Lawrence—21.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. PENNELL, on leave, offered the following:

WHEREAS, The sessions of this House are being wasted in useless and frivolous discussions on motions and points of order, instead of being devoted to the consideration and dispatch of the legitimate business of the House; therefore,

Resolved, That no member be permitted to speak, or occupy more than five minutes time, in the discussion of any subject matter before the House.

The House refused to proceed to the second reading of the same.

Mr. GRITMAN, offered a joint resolution that the Governor be respectfully requested to return to the House, for correction, House bill, No. —, "An Act to incorporate the Luzerne powder company;" which was passed finally; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SENATE AMENDMENTS

To bills entitled as follows, were severally read and concurred in:

"An Act to incorporate the Franklin market company."

"An Act to incorporate the Eastern market company."

"An Act to incorporate the Mercantile Hall company, of Pittsburgh."

"An Act to incorporate the Grove Cemetery, New Brighton, Beaver county."

"An Act to incorporate the Allen mutual insurance company."

Mr. MILLER, from the Committee on Corporations, reported as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Towanda water company."

Agreeably to order, the House proceeded to the consideration of public bills.

House bill No. 10, "Resolution relative to granting pensions to soldiers of the war of 1812," came up in order." (Mr. TAYLOR in the Chair.)

On the question,

Will the committee agree to the resolution?

A motion was made by Mr. CHASE, that the committee rise, report progress, and ask leave to sit again; which was agreed to.

The committee rose, and the SPEAKER resumed the Chair.

And on the question,

Shall the committee have leave to sit again?

It was determined in the negative.

Said resolution was then read the second time; when,

On motion of Mr. THORN, the further consideration of the same was postponed for the present.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole, (Mr. ROUSE in the chair,) on the bill No. 16, "Joint resolution instructing our Senators and Members of Congress to oppose any increase on the present rates of postage," as follows:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That our Senators in Congress be, and are hereby instructed, and our Members requested, to oppose any increase of the present rates of postage.

Resolved, That the Governor is hereby directed to transmit a copy of the foregoing resolution to each of our Senators and Members of Congress.

Mr. NEALL moved to substitute the following:

That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be, and are hereby requested, to oppose any increase of the present rates of postage.

Which was not agreed to.

Mr. NILL offered the following, to be added to the end of the first section:

And that they are also further instructed and requested to pass an act to increase the sum for which the silver coinage of the United States shall be a legal tender in the payment of debts.

Which was not agreed to.

Mr. NILL moved that the further consideration of the original resolution be postponed for the present.

Mr. WOODRING moved to amend by postponing the subject indefinitely.

Mr. WILLISTON hoped not. The question of postage interested the country at large, and he thought it was worthy of some consideration.

Mr. KINNEY followed in a few remarks in

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1858.

No. 36

favor of the bill, and opposed the indefinite postponement.

Mr. NILL would vote for the indefinite postponement of the bill, because it was too late to present it at the present session of Congress.

Mr. GOEPP opposed the bill, because he was hostile to the principle of instructions. The matter concerned us as little here as the matter of our State tax concerned our Representatives at Washington.

Mr. ROSE said—

The gentleman from Northampton, (Mr. GOEPP,) had taken ground against the doctrine of instructions, and for this reason he had voted against every resolution relative to instructions during this and the last session of the Legislature. In answer to the gentleman from Northampton, he would send up the following document, and asked that the same be read:

[Congressional Globe of 1838—Page 190.]

IN SENATE.

MONDAY, Feb. 19, 1838.

Mr. Buchanan presented the resolutions of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, as follows:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That our Representatives in Congress be requested, and our Senators instructed to vote and use their influence for a postponement, until next session of Congress, of the act introduced by the Hon. Silas Wright, of New York, commonly called "the sub-treasury bill," or any other act or acts of a similar character, and that they vote at this session for no act of a similar nature; and that we have full confidence in Martin Van Buren, and in the wisdom and intelligence of our Democratic Senators and Representatives in Congress; and our Senators are hereby further instructed and our members requested to vote for such a mode of receiving, keeping and disbursing the public moneys, as will separate, as far as practicable, the banks from the government.

Resolved, That the Governor be requested to transmit a copy of the above resolution to our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

LEWIS DEWART,

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

J. R. BURDEN,

Speaker of the Senate.

Approved 16th day of February, 1838.

On presenting these resolutions in the Senate, Mr. Buchanan, after stating that it was known to the Senate and to the country, that he was in favor of the immediate passage of the bill reported by the Senator from New York, (Mr. WRIGHT,) went on to say:

"Ever since I was capable of forming an opinion upon this subject, I have believed that the Legislatures of the several States had a right to instruct their Senators. In my opinion this right results from the very nature of our Constitution, which is a federal compact between distinct and sovereign States. It has ever been considered, with but few exceptions, a fundamental article in the political creed of that party to which I am proud to belong. I have, in public and in private, in the face of the Senate and before the country, often expressed this opinion; and I shall never preach one doctrine of political faith and practice another. I shall never shrink from what I conceive to be my duty, because in performing it, I may apply the torture to myself.

"I know that some of my most valued friends in Pennsylvania, who hold the right of instructions to be sacred, are of opinion, that under the peculiar circumstances of this case, I ought to disobey these instructions.

"But they do not perceive that if the Senator can look behind his instructions the right is at once abandoned. Under the pretext, or if you please, under the honest belief, that they do not speak the voice of the people, or that they have been corruptly and improperly obtained, a Senator could always justify himself to himself for disobedience.

"I shall, therefore, not disobey my instructions. My only alternative, then, is either to obey or resign."

In speaking of the Legislature that passed these resolutions, Mr. Buchanan says, at the close of his remarks:

"A more firm, faithful, intelligent and patriotic set of men has never represented Pennsylvania."

Mr. ROSE said he had no further remarks to make upon the subject, except that he had placed the President in opposition to his Democratic friend from Northampton, and he desired to bear his reply.

Mr. HAMERSLY inquired whether the foregoing would not be debarred by the statute of limitation.

The motion to postpone indefinitely was then taken, and not agreed to.

The question now being, will the House agree to the motion to postpone? it was not agreed to.

And the question recurring, shall said resolution pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GOEPP and Mr. WARDEN, and were as follow, viz.

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Cnster, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Fearon, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Gratz, Green, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Me-haffey, Matthews, McClure, McDowell, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Thorn, Wagonseller, Walborn, Walker, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Witbrow, Wolf and Zoller—70.

NAYS—Messrs. Boyer, (Clearfield,) Evans, Fisher, Goepp, Good, Gray, Laird, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Warden, Woodring and Lawrence, Speaker—11.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Messrs. STEPHENS and BOYER, (Clearfield,) entered upon the Journal the following reasons for casting the above vote:

Mr. STEPHENS. As the Legislature is clothed with constitutional power to elect the Senators of the United States, it is but natural to infer that they should exercise the right to instruct what they have created. And as our Congressmen are elected by the people, and as we have lost none of our rights by coming here as the people's servants, therefore I believe it is a right that we possess, in common with the people, to request favors at their hands.

Mr. BOYER said: My reasons for voting "no" on the resolution instructing our Senators and requesting our members in Congress to oppose any increase in the present rates of postage, are simply these:

First. It is clearly my opinion that a Legislature of a State has no right to interfere with the legitimate duties of her members in Congress, and has, therefore, no authority to instruct them.

Second. At this late period of the session of the present Congress, there is little reason to suppose that this subject will be discussed at all by Congress before its adjournment sine die, and will, therefore, only tend to embarrass the action of our Senators and members of Congress, without accomplishing the purpose for which it is intended. But for the purpose of avoiding any misapprehension on this subject, I desire here to express my entire satisfaction in the present rates of postage, and am decidedly opposed to any increased rates of the same.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole. (Mr. IRISH in the chair,) on House bill No. 33, as follows:

AN ACT to authorize the judges of the several courts of common pleas of the Commonwealth to reserve points of law and to order judgments of non-suit.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall be lawful for the judges of the several courts of common pleas of the Commonwealth, when they think it expedient, to reserve question of law, which may arise on the trial of a cause for their subsequent consideration and judgment: Provided, That either party shall have the right to a bill of exceptions to the opinion of the court, as if the point had been ruled and decided on the trial of the cause.

Sec. 2. That whenever the defendant, upon the trial of a cause in any of the said courts, shall offer no evidence, it shall be lawful for the judges of such court to order a judgment of non-suit to be entered if, in their opinion, the plaintiff shall have given no such evidence as in law is sufficient to maintain the action, with leave nevertheless to move the court to set aside such judgments of non-suit; and in case the court shall refuse to set aside the non-suit, the plaintiff may remove the record by a writ of error into the supreme court for revision and reversal, in like manner and with like effect as he might remove a judgment rendered against him upon a demurrer to evidence.

Mr. WILLISTON was opposed to the second section of the bill. He regarded it as an infringement on the constitutional rights of the citizens. He would like to hear from the gentleman who had the bill in charge, some reasons why this bill should pass.

Mr. GOEPP explained the provisions of the bill.

Mr. GRITMAN was hostile to the first section of the bill.

Mr. WILSON made objection to the second section of the bill; which, in his estimation, was an invasion of the right of jury trial.

Mr. ROHRER moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present; which was agreed to.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole, (Mr. M'CLURE in the Chair,) on House bill No. 36,

AN ACT relating to costs in certain cases.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in all cases where petit juries may by law direct that a prosecutor or defendant shall pay the costs thereof, any such jury may direct that a prosecutor shall pay a portion, and the defendant or defendants a portion thereof; and shall designate, in such case, what portion each party shall pay.

Which passed committee of the whole, and was read a second time,

When Mr. ROHRER moved to postpone the further consideration of the same for the present; which was not agreed to; and the bill was passed finally; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole, (Mr. GREEN in the Chair,) on House bill No. 47, "An Act relating to marriages;" which was read and agreed to.

The SPEAKER resumed the Chair, and the bill was read the second time.

Mr. GRITMAN spoke in favor of the bill, and hoped it would pass.

Mr. ROHRER moved to amend, by striking from the bill the words, "or other;" which was not agreed to.

Mr. WAGONSELLER stated that there was now a bill before the Senate of much ampler provisions, and moved that this would be postponed for the present; which was agreed to.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole, (Mr. JACKSON in the Chair,) on House bill No. 97, "Resolution relative to the final adjournment of the Legislature," fixing the 8th of March as the time for adjournment.

Mr. CHASE moved to extend the time to the 15th of March; which was agreed to; and the committee rose.

The bill was read the second time,

When Mr. ROHRER moved that its further consideration be postponed for the present.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CLURE and Mr. WOLF, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bayard, Campbell, Foster, Galley, Hottenstine, Laird, Pinkerton, Smead, Walborn, Wigton, Williston and Wilson—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Evans, Fearon, Fleming, Glatz, Good, Gratz, Gray, Green, Hamersly, Hill, Jackson, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Matthews, M'Clure, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Peirce, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Wagonseller, Walker, Warden, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wolf, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—56.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The hour of five having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

SENATE.

FRIDAY, Feb. 18, 1859.

The Senate was called to order by the SPEAKER at the usual hour.

Prayer was offered by Rev. J. G. Miles, of the First Baptist church, Harrisburg.

The Journal read and approved.

Mr. BLOOD appeared in his seat.

The SPEAKER presented the petition of citizens of Allegheny township, Blair county, for a new election district in said township.

Also, a petition of citizens of Blair county, for the repeal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Also, the memorial of the Penn asylum for indigent widows and single women, praying for an appropriation to their institution.

Also, the annual statement of the Bald Eagle and Spring Creek navigation company.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, &C.

Mr. THOMPSON presented the petition of citizens of Philadelphia, praying for a repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, a petition of citizens of Montgomery county, for an appropriation in aid of the School of Mines.

Also, a petition from citizens of the same county, for a law authorizing the election of collectors of State and county taxes in said county.

Mr. PALMER, four remonstrances of citizens of the borough of Schuylkill Haven, Schuylkill county, against any further legislation relative to said borough.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, for an appropriation in aid of the School of Mines.

Also, a petition from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of a supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Streets passenger railroad company, authorizing said company to occupy Fourth and Eighth streets, in the city of Philadelphia.

Also, four petitions of citizens of Schuylkill county, for the passage of law for the better securing the payment of wages of labor in said county.

Also, a petition of citizens of the North Ward of the borough of Schuylkill Haven, for a change in the place of holding their elections.

Mr. FRANCIS, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, praying for the passage of the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Streets passenger railway company.

Mr. NUNNEMACHER, ten petitions from citizens of the city of Reading, praying for the repeal of an act passed April 7th, 1858, relative to the boundary line between the township of Alsace and the said city.

Also, a petition of citizens of Berks county, praying for a law to prevent strangers and other persons from trespassing on their farms.

Also, two petitions from the citizens of the same county, for a law to abolish the office of sealer of weights and measures, so far as relates to said county.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of the same county, against abolishing the said office.

Mr. BREWER, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Streets passenger railway company.

Mr. PARKER, a memorial of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage duties on the trade between the east and west passing through Pennsylvania.

Also, a petition of citizens of the outer districts of Philadelphia, praying for the passage of the act securing to the people of Philadelphia the right of free travel on certain highways.

Mr. MARSELIS, two petitions of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Street passenger railway company.

Also, two memorials of citizens of the same city, for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same, for an appropriation in aid of the School of Mines.

Mr. WRIGHT, two petitions of members of Evangelical churches of Frankford, against the passage of a law authorizing passenger railway companies running their cars on Sunday.

Also, two petitions of citizens of Philadelphia, praying for the passage of the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Street passenger railway company.

Mr. BELL, one from citizens of Philadelphia, of like import.

Also, a petition, signed by citizens of Philadelphia, praying for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, a petition of citizens of Chester and Montgomery counties, praying for the passage of a law authorizing the construction of a bridge over the Schuylkill river at Buckwalter's falls.

Mr. YARDLEY, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Streets passenger railway company.

Also, two remonstrances of citizens of Bucks and Northampton counties, against the passage of an act incorporating the Delaware Division canal company.

Also, a petition of citizens of Bucks and Lehigh counties, in favor of an act to incorporate the Central Valley turnpike road company.

Also, a remonstrance of two hundred and nineteen citizens of the borough of Allentown, against any division of the wards of said borough.

Also, a petition of stockholders in the Quakertown and Spinnerstown turnpike road company, against free travel on said road.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of the village of Attleboro, Bucks county, against the incorporation of said village into a borough.

Mr. GRAIG, a petition of citizens of Carbon county, in favor of a law erecting a new judicial district, to be composed of the counties of Carbon and Lehigh.

Mr. SCHINDEL, nine remonstrances of citizens of Northampton county, against an act to incorporate the Delaware Division canal company.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Lower Mount Bethel township, in the same county, of like import.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of the same county, against the removal of the seat of justice in said county.

Mr. STEELE, a remonstrance of eighty-two citizens of Wilkesbarre township, Luzerne county, against any division of said township.

Mr. SCOFIELD, a remonstrance of sixty-seven voters of Spring Creek township, Warren county, against the erection of a new county, to be composed of parts of Warren, Venango and Crawford counties.

Mr. KELLER, a petition of the Penn asylum for indigent widows and single women, of Philadelphia, for an appropriation.

Also, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, praying for the prompt passage of the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates streets passenger railway company.

Also, a petition of citizens of Pennsylvania, for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. GREGG, a petition of citizens of Lycoming county, for the passage of a law requiring prompt payment on the part of insurance companies.

Also, a petition of citizens of Pennsylvania, for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. BALDWIN, a remonstrance of citizens of Lancaster county, against a law requiring the sheriff of said county, to sell real estate at or near the premises.

Also, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. SHAEFFER, a remonstrance of the president judge and twenty-five members of the Lancaster bar, against the passage of a law authorizing parties to testify.

Also, a petition of citizens of Lancaster county, praying for the incorporation of a turnpike road from Marietta to Manheim.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, praying for the abolition of the office of sealer of weights and measures in said county.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, praying for an appropriation for the erection of a monument on the capital grounds.

Mr. COFFEY, a remonstrance of citizens of Indiana county, against the erection of a new county, to be called Pine.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Cambria county, against the same.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Freeport, Armstrong county, against the appointment of an auctioneer in said borough.

Also, a petition of citizens of Altoona, for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. GAZZAM, a petition of citizens of Pitt township, Allegheny county, praying for the passage of a law to repeal the second section of an act providing for the expenses of roads and poor in said township.

Mr. PENNEY, a petition of citizens of Pittsburgh, in favor of the act to incorporate the Pittsburgh and East Liberty passenger railway company.

Also, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Street passenger railway company.

Mr. HARRIS, a petition of numerous farmers and merchants of counties adjacent to the Pennsylvania railroad, praying for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. BLOOD, a petition of citizens of Clarion county, for an increase of the fees of commissioners and auditors in said county.

Also, a petition of citizens of Blair county, for an appropriation for the erection of a monument on the capitol grounds.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. WRIGHT, (Corporations,) reported with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the East Danville iron company."

Also, (same,) with amendment, House bill No. 91, "An Act to incorporate the Iron-ton railroad and mining company in Lehigh county."

Mr. RANDALL, (Railroads,) as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Middle Coalfield tunnel and railroad company."

Mr. COFFEY, (same,) with amendment, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the Danville railroad company."

Mr. STEELE, (same,) with amendment, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the Susquehanna railroad company."

Mr. WRIGHT, from the Committee appointed to Compare Bills, made a report.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. GAZZAM read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act to incorporate the Pittsburgh park association."

Mr. KELLER, "An Act for the relief of certain heirs of Conrad Weiser, deceased."

Also, "An Act increasing the fees of sheriff in Northumberland county."

Mr. GAZZAM offered a joint resolution, relative to the adjournment of the Senate and House of Representatives, until Wednesday next, at ten o'clock, A. M.; which, on motion, was taken up and considered.

And on the question,

Will the Senate agree to the same?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FINNEY and Mr. HARRIS, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Marselis, Miller, Parker, Penney and Shaeffer—9

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Randall, Scofield, Schindel, Steele, Thompson, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—20.

So the question was determined in the negative.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

House amendments to Senate bill entitled "A supplement to an act to enable the county of Warren to effect certain compromises," came up in order.

Whereupon, Mr. SCOFIELD offered a substitute for the House amendments, which was adopted. It is as follows:

That the burgess and town council of the borough of Warren, shall have power to compromise with the Sunbury and Erie railroad company for the alleged subscription by said borough to the stock of said company, on such terms as may be agreed upon between the parties: Provided, That the amount which may be agreed to be paid by said borough, shall not exceed the sum of three thousand dollars, and that any contract of compromise shall be signed by at least seven members of said council.

For the purpose of paying any sum that may be agreed upon, under the provisions of this section, the said burgess and town council shall have power to lay annually, a special tax, not exceeding five mills, on each dollar of the assessed valuation of said borough, which shall be entirely devoted to discharge the principal and interest of the sum that may be agreed to be paid; which power shall cease when the whole amount shall be paid.

The bills on Senate file, numbered two, four, eight and one hundred and fourteen, lie over by request.

Mr. PARKER moved that the Judiciary Committee be discharged from the consideration of a bill, entitled "An Act authorizing the Germantown passenger railway company to lay a track on Fourth and Eighth streets," and that the Senate proceed to consider the same; which was agreed to.

The bill passed committee of the whole, and being on second reading,

Mr. BREWER moved to postpone further consideration for the present; on which

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BREWER and Mr. PARKER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Brewer, Keller, Marselis, Penney, Wright and Yardley—6.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Craig, Finney, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Miller, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Parker, Randall, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele and Cresswell, Speaker—17.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. BELL paired off with Mr. SCHELL.

Mr. THOMPSON paired off with Mr. RUTHFORD.

Mr. WELSH paired off with Mr. MYER.

Mr. BLOOD paired off with Mr. TURNEY.

The question recurring upon the first section of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RANDALL and Mr. COFFEY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Craig, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Miller, Nunnemacher, Parker, Randall, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele and Cresswell, Speaker—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Brewer, Keller, Marselis, Palmer, Penney, Wright and Yardley—7.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The remaining sections of the bill were agreed to.

When it was permitted to lie over on third reading.

On leave given, Mr. GAZZAM offered a resolution, as follows:

Resolved, That when the Senate adjourns, it adjourns to meet on Monday next, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Mr. BREWER moved to amend by striking out 10 o'clock, A. M. and inserting 3 P. M., which was not agreed to.

The question recurring upon the resolution, The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GAZZAM and Mr. SHAEFFER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Harris, Marselis, Miller, Parker, Penney, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel and Welsh—14.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Steele, Thompson, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—12.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

An extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives was received and read. It is as follows:

Resolved, If the Senate concur, that House bill No. 170, entitled "An Act to incorporate the Luzerne powder company," be requested to be returned by the Executive to the House of Representatives, in which it originated; and be amended, by striking out of the second section the words, "that the business of the said corporation," and insert in lieu thereof the following words, "that the said corporation shall be located in Luzerne county, and its business."

Said extract was read a second time, considered and concurred in.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. NUNNEMACHER, House bill No. 72, "An Act to incorporate the Union cemetery association of the borough of Womelsdorf, Berks county."

On motion of Mr. PALMER, Senate bill No. 10, "An Act for the better securing the payment of the wages of labor in Schuylkill county."

The last section of this bill was amended, by adding the words, "so far as relates to Schuylkill county." Lies over on second reading.

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, House bill No. 68, "An Act relating to the Leverington cemetery company."

On motion of Mr. SCHINDEL, House bill No. 91, "An Act to incorporate the Iron-ton railroad and mining company."

Mr. GREGG moved to re-consider the vote on the adoption of the resolution relative to adjournment until Monday next at 10 o'clock, A. M.; which was agreed to; and the resolution being again before the Senate, was amended by inserting 3 o'clock, P. M.; and, as amended, passed.

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, Senate bill No. 293, "An Act to incorporate the Quick silver mining company."

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, House bill No. 159, "An Act to incorporate the North-west Portage railroad company."

On motion of Mr. HARRIS, House bill No. 154, "An Act for the relief of Henry Bumgardner, an old soldier of the Indian war."

On motion of Mr. THOMPSON, Senate bill No. 224, "An Act relating to the Norristown academy."

This bill lies over on third reading.

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, Senate bill No. 248, "An Act relative to the Northumberland improvement company."

On motion of Mr. YARDLEY, Senate bill No. 151, "An Act to incorporate the Newtown gas light company."

On motion of Mr. GREGG, House bill No. 90, "An Act authorizing the appointment of commissioners to run the boundary line between the counties of Clinton and Centre."

On motion of Mr. KELLER, Senate bill No. 282, "An Act to change the time of holding courts in Clearfield county."

On motion of Mr. STEELE, Senate bill No. 220, "A supplement to an act authorizing the appointment of an auctioneer in the borough and township of Wilkesbarre, Luzerne county."

On motion of Mr. PALMER, Senate bill No. 128, "An Act to authorize the citizens of Butler township, Schuylkill county, hereafter to elect but one supervisor."

On motion of Mr. BELL, Senate bill No. 138, "A supplement to an act in reference to running locomotive engines and cars on connecting railroads."

This bill lies over.

On motion of Mr. BELL, Senate bill No. 276,

"An Act in reference to certain mortgages therein stated."

The hour of one having arrived, the Senate adjourned until Monday next at 3 o'clock P. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

FRIDAY, Feb. 18, 1859.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock by the SPEAKER.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Castleman, of the Episcopal church.

Mr. WALBORN moved for a call of the House; which was agreed to.

The roll was then called, when the following named gentlemen answered to their names:

Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Campbell, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durhoraw, Eckman, Evans, Fearon, Fisher, Glatz, Goepf, Good, Green, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mahaffey, Matthews, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Ramsdell, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thoro, Walborn, Walker, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Berks,) Williston, Wilson, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—61.

A quorum being present,

The Clerk read the Journal of yesterday.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the annual report of the Bald Eagle and Spring Creek navigation company.

Mr. CHASE, on leave, moved that, for the purpose of receiving reports from committees and bills in place, the morning orders be suspended; which was agreed to.

Mr. SMEAD, on leave, offered a resolution that when this House adjourned, it do so to meet again on next Wednesday, at 10 o'clock; which was adopted.

Mr. GOEPP offered a resolution that fifteen hundred copies of the report of the Pennsylvania State agricultural society, of uniform edition of those heretofore published, and at the same price, be printed for the use of the House; which was adopted.

Mr. GRITMAN asked the unanimous consent of the House, so to amend the act to incorporate the Luzerne powder company as to fix its location in Luzerne county; which was granted.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. GOEPP, (Judiciary,) with amendment, "An Act relative to void marriages."

Mr. CHASE, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to the act regulating the rate of interest."

Mr. IRISH, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to money due on certain judgments, and to enforce payment thereof."

Mr. NILL, (same,) as committed, "An Act relating to foreign insurance companies in Erie county."

Mr. GRATZ, (same,) "An Act relative to perpetuating testimony in certain cases."

Mr. OAKS, (Canals,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Bald Eagle boom company, in Clinton county."

Mr. NILL, (Education,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to abolish the office of superintendent of common schools in Venango county."

Mr. FOSTER, (same,) as committed, "An Act annexing the borough of Leesburg, in Mercer county, to the township of Springfield, in said county, for school purposes."

Mr. GREEN, (Ways and Means,) as committed, "An Act for the relief of Geo. D. Bryson, former treasurer of Schuylkill county."

Mr. WALBORN, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to taxing dogs in West Nottingham township, Chester county."

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) (same,) as committed, "An Act to provide for the collection of additional taxes in the township of Bingham, in the county of Potter."

Mr. THORN, (same,) asked to be discharged from the further consideration of "An Act relative to the duties of port warden at Philadelphia;" granted. (Referred to the Judiciary Committee.)

Mr. CHASE, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to State taxes," (originating in committee.)

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to provide a more speedy method to enforce the payment of taxes against corporations."

Mr. WIGTON, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to cemetery companies."

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) (same,) as committed, "An Act to adjust the account of F. Knox Morton, late treasurer of the city of Philadelphia."

Mr. PUGHE, (Mines and Minerals,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Fallbrook coal and railroad company."

Mr. FEARON, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Saucona iron company."

Mr. NEALL, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to the several acts of Assembly, providing for the incorporation of manufacturing and improvement companies in this Commonwealth."

Mr. ECKMAN, (Election Districts,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to prevent frauds at elections."

Mr. JACKSON, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to an act to regulate elections."

Mr. BARNSELY, (same,) as committed, "An Act to divide the township of Wilkesbarre, in Luzerne county, into two wards."

Mr. KENEAGY, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act approved the 20th day of April, 1854, entitled 'An Act in relation to establishing and changing places for holding general elections throughout the Commonwealth.'"

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) (Banks,) with amendment, "A supplement to the act of 15th April, 1850, regulating banks."

Also, as committed, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Milton savings bank."

Also, with a negative recommendation, "An Act for the gradual abolition of paper money of a less denomination of twenty dollars."

Mr. BARLOW, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Media Bank."

Mr. MEHAFFEY, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Mount Joy savings institution."

Mr. GLATZ, (Corporations,) as committed, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Mutual fire insurance company of Sinking Springs, Berks county."

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) (Railroads,) with amendment, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company."

Mr. WALBORN, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Fairmount and Arch Streets passenger railway company."

Mr. EVANS, (same,) "A supplement to the act incorporating the Philadelphia and Reading railroad."

Mr. HILL, at the request of the gentleman from Fayette county, Mr. (GALLEY,) moved that the act reducing the expenses of collecting taxes in Fayette county be printed; which was agreed to.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. M'DOWELL read and presented "An Act to authorize the assessment and collection of damages on the North Branch canal." (Referred to the Committee on Judiciary.)

Mr. BARLOW, "An Act to change the place of holding elections in Houston township, Centre county;" which was taken up, passed and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. ACKER, "An Act relative to damages in certain cases." (Referred to Committee on Judiciary.)

Mr. FEARON, "An Act to encourage the destruction of foxes in Clinton county."

Also, "A further supplement to an act to encourage the manufacture of iron with coke or mineral coal, and for other purposes," &c.

Mr. STEPHENS, "A further supplement to the act regulating the sale of intoxicating drinks," &c.

Mr. NILL, one to annex part of Dublin township, Huntingdon county, to the county of Fulton.

Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) one to declare Pott's Run, in Clearfield county, a public highway; which was taken up and passed; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. PEARCE, one relating to public highways in East Bradford township, Chester county.

Mr. WIGTON, one authorizing the Auditor General to issue a certificate for the amount of the claim due Barbara Hillman's estate.

Also, one to run and define a part of the boundary line between the counties of Mifflin and Huntingdon.

Also, one to incorporate the Huntingdon County Bank.

Also, "An Act to change the place of holding elections in Jackson township, Huntingdon county;" which was taken up and passed.

Mr. PROUDFOOT read in his place and presented to the Chair, "An Act relating to the election of county treasurer in Cambria county."

Mr. CUSTER, one to incorporate the Philomathean institute of Union township, Berks county.

Also, one to incorporate the Douglasville and Yellow House turnpike road company.

Mr. PALM, "An Act to repeal all laws taxing money at interest in this Commonwealth."

Mr. DISMANT, "An Act for the relief of the estate of James Rogers, deceased."

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, "An Act to change the time of the meeting of auditors in Northumberland county."

Mr. PENNELL, "An Act divorcing James Eder Rosevelt from his wife, Catherine Rosevelt."

Mr. STUART, "An Act to refund a certain amount of money to James Hamilton, of Carlisle, Cumberland county, due him from the Commonwealth."

Mr. FISHER, on leave, called up the act relative to certain charitable corporations; which was passed finally, and sent to Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WOODRING, "An Act to provide for the payment of certain moneys by the school directors of Williams township, Northampton county."

Mr. NEALL, "A supplement to the act relative to gambling and lotteries, passed April 16, 1847."

Mr. GRATZ, "A supplement to the several acts of Assembly relative to the jurisdiction of justices of the peace and aldermen in Philadelphia."

Mr. FISHER, "An Act for the protection of real estate."

Mr. THORN, "An Act relative to the several courts of this Commonwealth."

Mr. EVANS, "A supplement to the act incorporating the city of Philadelphia."

Mr. HAMERSLY, "A further supplement to the act authorizing the Governor to incorporate the West Chester and Philadelphia railroad company."

Mr. STYER, "An Act to prohibit the importation of fish at improper seasons in the city of Philadelphia."

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) "An Act relative to sheriff's advertisements in Schuylkill county."

Mr. CHASE, "A joint resolution relative to the repeal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad."

Mr. RAMSDELL, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Venango railroad company."

Also, "An Act authorizing the laying out of a State road from the mouth of Clarion river to the town of Franklin, Venango county."

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) "An Act relative to Estates tail."

Mr. WALBORN, "An Act relative to sales of real estate by order of the orphans' court of the city and county of Philadelphia."

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) "An Act to prevent the destruction of partridges in the month of October in Berks county."

On motion of Messrs. HAMERSLY, SHAFER, WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) GOOD, the city of Philadelphia and counties of Chester, Bucks and Lehigh were embraced within the provisions of this act.

Mr. HILL moved that the bill be made general in its provisions.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the same?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) and Mr. GLATZ, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Bayard, Church, Durboraw, Fisher, Foster, Good, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Hill, Irish, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mahaffey, Matthews, Neall, Peirce, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Styer, Walborn, Woodring and Zoller—24.

NAYS—Messrs. Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bertolot, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Custer, Dismant, Eckman, Glatz, Jackson, Mann, Nill, Palm, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Taylor, Walker, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—27.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Said bill was then read and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WIGTON moved that the vote by which Mr. SMEAD'S resolution of adjournment passed the House, be re-considered; which was agreed to.

Mr. SMEAD moved to amend the same, by adjourning until Tuesday at 3 o'clock.

Mr. CHURCH moved to amend the amendment, by meeting at seven o'clock on Tuesday evening, the 22d inst.; which was agreed to.

And the resolution being on final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MANN and Mr. WOLF, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Balliet, Barnsley, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Fisher, Goepf, Good, Gratz, Gray, Green, Hill, Irish, Jackson, Matthews, McDowell, Nill, Palm, Pennell, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stoneback, Styer, Taylor, Thorn, Walborn, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Wilson, Woodring, Zoller and Lawrence—Speaker—39.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Eckman, Evans, Glatz, Hamersly, Hottentstine, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, McClure, Neall, Peirce, Pinkerton, Sheppard, Stephens, Stuart, Walker, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston and Wolf—20.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. MCCLURE, on leave, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported with amendment, "An Act relative to certain records in Union county."

Also, as committed "An Act to change the name of Prescott Packard Peok, to Daniel Prescott Packard, and adopting him as the child of Daniel B. and Celeste Packard.

Mr. BOYER, of Schuylkill, moved that the rules be suspended and that the House proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 76, "An Act to authorize the Schuylkill Valley railroad company, in the county of Schuylkill, to extend their railroad from some suitable point near the town of Tuscarora, to connect with the Little Schuylkill railroad at or near Tamaqua;" which was agreed to.

Mr. BOYER moved to amend by requiring said company to complete the road within eighteen months from the passage of this act; which was agreed to.

And the bill was passed and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Leave of absence was severally granted to Messrs. ROHRER, WARDEN, ROSE, the assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, ABBOTT, GALLEY, LAIRD, WITHEROW, FLEMING, GOOD, WILEY, KINNEY, NEALL, BURLEY, QUIGLEY, SMEAD and BALLIET.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) on leave, read and presented "An Act supplementary to an act to incorporate the Western transportation company."

Also, "An Act relative to supervisors in Somerset township, Washington county."

Mr. McDOWELL, on leave, reported as committed, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Allentown railroad company."

Mr. JACKSON moved that the House do now adjourn; which was not agreed to.

Mr. PINKERTON moved that the Committee on Corporations be discharged from the further consideration of House bill No. 92, "An Act to extend the charter of the Forest improvement company."

Mr. HAMERSLY hoped the motion would not prevail. The chairman of the Committee on Corporations was absent, and he requested him to let no bill be taken out of said committee, until his return.

Mr. PALM trusted that the motion to consider would be carried. From intimations which had recently come to his knowledge, he had reason to apprehend that the bill was in possession of some land sharks.

Mr. HAMERSLY inquired whether he wished to convey the allusion, that the bill was purposely withheld by the Corporation Committee.

Mr. PALM said he did not censure the committee at all. But he had seen letters intimating that money would be required to get the bill through.

Mr. HAMERSLY said he had in his possession a paper published at Pottsville, which contained an article hostile to the bill, and for this reason he did not desire to take action on the bill at present, and preferred to wait until the chairman of the committee was present.

Mr. PINKERTON said that if the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. HAMERSLY,) had a paper, published in the county of Schuylkill, hostile to the bill, he would like if he would produce it, and asked him to produce it and have it read by the Clerk. He denied that any article was published in any of the Schuylkill county papers hostile to the bill, and said the Forest improvement company was one of the best companies in the county, and that he had heard of no opposition to the bill, except from one person; and this was the first time he heard it on the floor of the House.

The SPEAKER decided that with the absence of the chairman the motion could be of no effect, as he had possession of the bill.

Mr. HAMERSLY stated that in regard to the bill he was friendly to it, and thought he would vote for it, but he felt disinclined to force its consideration on the House at present.

Mr. PINKERTON withdrew his motion to discharge the committee.

Senate amendments to House bill relative to the pay of Thomas H. Porter, allowing him $7 instead of $5, as amended by the House, together with $10 for stationery, were read.

And on the question,

Will the House concur?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) and Mr. GLATZ, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Foster, Hill, Jackson, Proudfoot, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Thorn and Williston—9.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolot, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Campbell, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Glatz, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Hottentstine, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mahaffey, Matthews, McClure, McDowell, Neall, Palm, Peirce, Pinkerton, Ramsdell, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Walborn, Walker, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Wolf and Zoller—45.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. STUART called up the act relative to the Juniata Township election district, in Perry county; which was considered and passed finally.

SENATE AMENDMENTS

To the act to enable the county of Warren to effect certain compromises, were read and concurred in.

On motion of Mr. WALBORN, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

REMARKS OF MR. RAMSDELL,

In the House of Representatives, on the 16th inst., on the final passage of an act to incorporate a Normal School in connection with Westminster College.

I regret exceedingly the factious and persistent opposition made to this bill. I have, however, confidence that this bill will be decided upon its merits, and according to the principles of justice. The only offensive clause contained in it is the fourth section, which appropriates twelve hundred dollars annually to the institution. I propose to consider and answer the objections urged.

1. Has it been the policy of the State to encourage her colleges and academies? On this point there can be no cavil. The Philadelphia university has received a liberal endowment from the State, so had the Western university, at Allegheny. Lafayette college has received about fifty thousand dollars! The Lutheran college at Gettysburg has received liberal and ample appropriations. Dickinson college, at Carlisle, has received substantial appropriations. In my own county, (Venango,) are located a considerable body of rich and valuable lands which the State ceded to that institution. Old Jefferson college, at Canonsburg, and Washington college, in the same county, has received substantial encouragement from the State.—Marshall college, at Mercersburg, which was transferred to Lancaster and amalgamated with the Franklin college, as well as Allegheny college, had received material aid. These are facts. Gentlemen could not deny them. The State, from time to time, has encouraged the pioneers of literature in the eastern and central portions.

In the further support of this truth I will read from the late annual message of Governor Packer. He says:

"Up to the present time, Pennsylvania has appropriated about $600,000 in aid of her colleges and academies, and this mainly in the hope of obtaining from them teachers for the common schools. Though the benefits of this munificence have been, in other respects, quite equal to the amount given, it will be asserted by no one that the avowed object has been to any considerable extent effected. It would, therefore, appear to be time that the aid of the State should be brought directly to bear in favor of the great object so long contemplated."

I rest, then, my proposition upon the best evidence that could be adduced—the official message of the Governor of the Commonwealth.

2. I desire to call the attention of the members of this body to the fact, that the six hundred thousand dollars spoken of by the Governor, as having been disbursed to colleges and academies, has been almost entirely distributed to the eastern and central portions of the State.

The west has received nothing, because she has asked nothing. Whilst the State has poured her rich treasure into the lap of her wealthy eastern cities and counties, the west has been pioneering her own munificent enterprises, aided only by the resistless energy of her people. Westminster college up to the present hour has asked nothing. Through the sacrifice of its devoted friends, it has obtained an enviable standing amongst the learned institutions of the State. I can testify to this House, of the flourishing condition of the college, its thorough system of instruction, the superior learning of its professors, and the self-devoted, self-sacrificing efforts of its trustees.

3. I propose, Mr. Speaker, to notice the business-like proposition presented in this bill. Westminster college does not come here and ask for an endowment fund of fifty thousand, nor twenty thousand dollars. No, sir! It has a competence! It asks nothing as a matter of grace; it demands simply even-handed justice. Though other colleges in the State have received favors, she does not beg. If this bill passes, it will aid her, but it will aid the western counties more. For the sum of twelve hundred dollars, this institution proposes to educate, free of charge, annually, three hundred teachers in the normal department. The influence of these thoroughly educated teachers on the community and the cause of education will be marked and salutary.

I appeal to gentlemen to not forget the fact, that we of the west, have, in the way of appropriations, always been treated as step-children. Will this Legislature deny us the encouragement which the Governor, in his message, clearly indicates, and which the necessities of the people, and the cause of education imperiously demand?

Again, gentlemen, I appeal for the cause of education, and the justice of this bill, for its favorable consideration.

No. 307.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

CHASE, Judiciary—Feb. 11, 1859.

AN ACT giving justices of the peace power with a jury of six, to hear and finally determine charges for crimes of a certain character within this Commonwealth, and to lessen the expenses in criminal proceedings.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That courts of special sessions of the peace in this Commonwealth, except in the city and county of Philadelphia, may be held by justices of the peace, and shall have power, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, to hear and determine charges for crimes arising within their respective counties, as follows:

I. Cases of assault and battery not charged as having been committed riotously or upon any public officer in the execution of his duties, or with intent to kill.

II. Charges for poisoning, killing, maiming, wounding or cruelly beating any animal.

III. Charges for maliciously removing, altering, defacing or cutting down monuments or marked trees, ornamental or fruit trees.

IV. Charges for unlawfully, wilfully and maliciously taking and carrying away fruit or vegetables, or for destroying the same.

SEC. 2. That when any person charged with any such offence, shall have been brought before the justice of the peace, issuing the warrant of arrest, said justice may proceed to hear and determine the case, provided the defendant shall agree thereto.

SEC. 3. That at the request of the defendant that the cause shall be tried by a jury, the justice shall issue a venire directed to the constable in attendance or a constable of the county, nearest to the place of the trial, commanding him to summon twelve good and lawful men, qualified to serve as jurors and not exempt from such service by law, and who shall be in no-wise of kin either to the complainant or defendant, at a time not more than five days from the date of venire, and at a place to be named therein, to make a jury for the trial of such offence.

SEC. 4. That the defendant shall be held in recognizance, or in the custody of the constable arresting him, or his deputy or deputies, as directed by the court, during the time that may elapse between arrest and the time of trial.

SEC. 5. That the officer to whom such venire shall be delivered, shall execute the same fairly and impartially, and shall not summon any person whom he shall suspect to be biased or prejudiced for or against the defendant; he shall summon the jurors personally, and shall make a list of the persons summoned, which he shall certify and annex to the venire and return with it to the court.

SEC. 6. That the names of the persons so returned, shall be respectively written on several and distinct pieces of paper, as nearly of one size as may be, and the officer by whom the venire was served, in the presence of the court, shall fold such pieces of paper as nearly as may be, in the same manner, and put them together in a box or other convenient thing.

SEC. 7. That the court shall then draw out six of such papers one after another, and if any of the persons whose names shall be drawn shall not appear, or appearing, shall be challenged and set aside, then such further number shall be drawn as will make up the number of six, after all legal causes of challenge shall have been allowed.

SEC. 8. That if a sufficient number of competent jurors shall not be drawn from the number returned by the venire, the court may direct the constable to summon any of the bystanders or others, who may be competent, and against whom no cause of challenge shall appear, to act as jurors in the case.

SEC. 9. That to each of the jurors the court shall administer the following oath or affirmation: You do swear in the presence of Almighty God, (or you do solemnly swear, as the case may be,) that you will well and truly try the case now before you, between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and defendant, and a true verdict give according to the evidence, unless discharged by the court.

SEC. 10. That the charge made against the defendant, as stated in the warrant of arrest, shall be distinctly read to such defendant, who shall be required to plead thereto; the court shall enter such plea in the minutes of their proceedings to be kept by them.

SEC. 11. That if the defendant plead not guilty, the jury shall sit together and hear the proofs and allegations in the case; which shall be delivered in public, and in the presence of the defendant.

SEC. 12. That after hearing such proofs and allegations, the jury shall be kept together in some convenient place, until they agree on a verdict, or are discharged by the court; and a constable shall be sworn to attend them in like manner, as upon trials in courts of quarter sessions.

SEC. 13. That when the jurors shall have agreed on their verdict, they shall deliver the same to the court, which shall be entered in the minutes of proceedings.

SEC. 14. That whenever a defendant, tried under the preceding provisions of this statute, either by the court or by the jury, shall be convicted or shall plead guilty to the charges alleged, the court shall render judgment thereupon, and inflict such punishment by fine or imprisonment, or both, as the nature of the case may require; but such fine shall in no case exceed fifty dollars, nor such imprisonment three months.

SEC. 15. That whenever a defendant, tried under the preceding provisions of this statute, either by the courts or by the jury, shall be acquitted, he shall be immediately discharged; and if the court shall be of the opinion, from the evidence, that the complaint was wilful and malicious, and without probable cause, or if the jury shall return such by their verdict, and that they have acquitted the defendant, and order that the complainant shall pay the costs, the court shall forthwith sentence the complainant to pay all the costs of the proceedings, or give satisfactory security for their payment within thirty days, and to stand committed to the common jail of the county, till the sentence shall be complied with, the same as though the trial had been had in the court of quarter sessions, there to remain until the sentence shall be complied with, or until he shall be discharged by due course of law.

SEC. 16. That in case of the conviction of the defendant, the payment of the cost of the proceedings shall be included in the sentence of the court; which sentence shall be executed by the sheriff or a constable of the county or city and county in which such conviction shall be had, by virtue of a warrant under the hand and seal of the justice holding the court, directed to such officer, and specifying the particulars of such judgment and sentence.

SEC. 17. That all fines imposed by any such court, if paid before commitment, shall be received by the justice before whom the defendant was tried, and within thirty days after the receipt thereof, shall be paid by him to the treasurer of the school fund of the township in which such conviction shall be had, to be applied by the school directors of such township for common school purposes.

SEC. 18. That any and all fines received by a justice under the provisions of this act, in townships where the present school system has not been adopted, shall be paid by him, within thirty days after the receipt thereof, to the treasurer of the county in which such conviction was had, to be applied to the general purposes of the county.

SEC. 19. That after the defendant shall have been committed, payment of any fine imposed on him, may be made to the sheriff of the county, who shall, within thirty days thereafter, pay the same to the persons designated in the preceding sections, as entitled to receive it, deducting five per centum as his legal fees.

SEC. 20. That the court shall, in all cases of conviction, sentence the defendant to stand committed to the common jail of the county, till all fines and costs imposed by the sentence shall be paid; which sentence shall be of the same force and effect as though given by the court of quarter sessions.

SEC. 21. That from the judgment of a court of special sessions, there shall be no appeal, upon an allegation that the verdict of the jury was contrary to the evidence in the case, and not justified thereby.

SEC. 22. That after the sentence shall have been pronounced, the defendant may deliver to the court, in writing, exceptions to the legality of the proceedings had; and if the court shall be of opinion that such exceptions, if sustained, would affect the justice of the case, upon good and sufficient security offered by the defendant for his appearance at the next court of quarter sessions of the county; such recognizance shall be taken in the usual form, and said justice shall make out a certified copy of the proceedings on the trial from his minutes, which, together with all the original papers in the case, and the bill of exceptions, he shall, within twenty days after the trial, cause to be filed in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the county; and any neglect so to do shall be deemed a misdemeanor in office.

SEC. 23. That notice of the filing of such bill of exception shall be given to the district attorney by the defendant or his attorney, at least four days before the sitting of the next court of quarter sessions, at which time they shall be argued, unless said court shall otherwise direct; and if it shall appear that the defendant has wilfully neglected the above notice, or in any other way endeavored to embarrass or delay the argument of the case, the court may set aside the exceptions without hearing, and order the execution of the sentence.

SEC. 24. That after a full examination of the record of the justice and bill of exceptions, if it shall appear to the court that the proceedings were illegal, and that thereby the defendant has been unjustly convicted and sentenced, he shall be discharged; and the court may, on a review of the case, diminish the sentence of a court of special sessions, if it shall appear extraordinary and unjust.

SEC. 25. That if the defendant be committed in pursuance of a conviction in a court of special sessions, by making an affidavit, specifying the supposed errors in the proceedings on his trial before the clerk of the court of quarter sessions, and entering into recognizance with one or more sufficient sureties for his appearance before the next court of quarter sessions of the county, he may be discharged from commitment; whereupon he, or his attorney, shall give immediate notice to the district attorney of the county, who shall, as soon as practicable, notify the justice before whom the trial was had, to file a certified copy of the proceedings before him in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the county as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 26. That if the exceptions be overruled before the court of quarter sessions, said court shall direct the execution of the remainder of the sentence, unless the circumstances justify a diminution thereof.

SEC. 27. That the exceptions shall be taken to the proceedings, record or jurisdiction of the court, or the admission of evidence; and no court of quarter sessions shall try any allegation that the verdict of the jury before a court of special sessions was against evidence other than as to legal errors; the judgment of the court of special sessions shall be conclusive.

SEC. 28. That the magistrate before whom any cases shall be had under the provisions of this act, shall receive for his services the sum of one dollar; the jurymen sitting in the same, fifty cents each; the constable officiating shall receive the same compensation for serving the process, subpoenaing the witnesses and commitment on sentence, as is allowed by existing laws in criminal proceedings before justices of the peace, and seventy-five cents for summoning the jury; the witnesses shall each receive the same fees as are now allowed in like cases.

No. 214.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

NILL, Judiciary—Feb. 4.

AN ACT relating to the collection of taxes in the several counties of the State.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That hereafter it shall be the duty of the commissioners of every county of the State, in each and every year, immediately after the assessment of taxes for State and county purposes shall be completed in the manner prescribed by law, to cause their clerk to make fair duplicates thereof, in a convenient form, and deliver the same to the treasurer of the said county, together with a certificate under their hands, respectively, and attested by their clerk, certifying that the taxes charged in said duplicates have been duly assessed according to law.

SEC. 2. That it shall be the duty of the county treasurer of each county, after he shall receive the duplicates of assessment from the county commissioners as hereinbefore provided, to give at least thirty days' notice, by weekly publications in one or more newspapers printed in the county, for the purpose of collecting and receiving State and county taxes; and it shall be the duty of the said treasurer to attend at least two days in each township and borough in the county for the purpose aforesaid, previous to the twelfth day of July in each year; and he shall give receipts for taxes in all cases when required by the person paying the same: Provided, That if any person shall, on or before the twelfth day of July aforesaid, pay to such treasurer the amount of his or her taxes, such person shall be entitled to a deduction of five per centum on the amount thereof paid for State purposes, which shall be in lieu of the abatement of five per centum allowed the county by the forty-second section of the act to reduce the State debt, et cetera, passed the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and forty-four.

SEC. 3. That in case any State or county tax assessed in any township or borough within any county shall remain unpaid for a period of thirty days from and after the twelfth day of July aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the treasurer to issue his warrant, under his hand, accompanied by a schedule of all such unpaid taxes and the names of the persons respectively to whom the same are charged in the proper duplicate, directed to the constable of the proper township or borough, whose duty it is hereby made to receive the same, authorizing and requiring him to demand and receive from the persons named in the schedule the sums with which they are therein charged respectively; and the said warrants shall further authorize and require such constable, in case any person named in the schedule thereto annexed shall fail to pay the amount with which such person is therein charged, within ten days after demand therefor made by such constable, to levy the same by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such delinquent, giving ten days' public notice of such sale, by written or printed advertisements; and in such case the constable shall be entitled to retain out of the proceeds of such sale, after first deducting the taxes, the same fees as are now allowed to constables by law for levy and sale upon a writ of execution.

SEC. 4. That upon the delivery by the county treasurer of his warrant to any constable, according to the provisions of this act, he shall charge such constable with the whole amount of taxes contained in the schedule thereto annexed in a book, to be provided for the purpose, from which liability such constable and his sureties, under the provisions of this act, shall only be discharged by payments of said amount, after deducting such exonerations as may be allowed to such constables and certified to the said treasurer by the county commissioners for mistakes, indigent persons, unseated lands and other cases wherein exonerations are now by law allowed to collectors of taxes.

SEC. 5. That it shall be the duty of the court of quarter sessions in and for the several counties of the Commonwealth, before they shall appoint constables to require from them a bond in the name of the Commonwealth, in such sum and with such sureties as shall be approved by the said court, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon such constables by this act, and for the payment to the proper county treasurer of the full amount of taxes contained in any warrant and schedule, which shall be delivered to them, or any of them, by the county treasurer of said county, after deducting exonerations, within four months from and after the date of the delivery of any such warrant as aforesaid.

SEC. 6. That it shall be the duty of the constables, who shall receive warrants from the county treasurer of such counties, under the provisions of this act, to settle their accounts, obtain their exonerations and pay over to the treasurer of said county, all moneys collected by them, in pursuance of the said warrants, within four months from and after the day of delivery of such warrants to them respectively; which day shall be endorsed on each warrant by the treasurer issuing the same, and shall also be by him entered in a book, to be by him kept for that purpose, which book, verified by the oath or affirmation of such treasurer, or in case of his death, absence out of the State or other inability to appear and testify, by the oath or affirmation of any credible person proving the hand writing of such treasurer, shall be competent evidence to establish the fact of the delivery of any warrant or warrants, to any constable or constables as aforesaid, in any court of law in this Commonwealth.

SEC. 7. That in case any constable shall fail to make the settlement and payment required in the preceding section of this act, within the time aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the treasurer of said county to cause an action of debt in the name of this Commonwealth, to be brought upon the bond of such constable; and if, upon the commencement of any such suit, it shall appear that such constable has not complied with the provisions of this act, judgment shall be rendered against the defendants therein, for the amount for which such constable is delinquent, together with interest, at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, from and after the expiration of the aforesaid period of four months, and full costs of suit; and in all such cases there shall be no stay of execution or other stay, any law to the contrary notwithstanding; but it shall be the duty of the said treasurer to prosecute such judgment to execution and satisfaction without delay.

SEC. 8. That if any treasurer or constable, shall fail or refuse to perform any of the duties required of them respectively by this act, he or they shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay a fine of fifty dollars, which shall be recoverable in the name of the Commonwealth, at the instance of any person who will sue therefor, in the same manner as debts of like amount are now by law recoverable with costs of suit; and one moiety thereof shall be paid to the treasurer of the Commonwealth, and the residue to the person suing for and recovering the same.

SEC. 9. That in lieu of the per centage now received by the treasurer of such counties, or State taxes by him paid into the treasury, he shall hereafter be entitled to deduct and retain out of the gross amount of moneys collected and received by him, for the use of the Commonwealth, under the provisions of this act, the sum of six per centum on the amount accounted for and paid over by him to the State Treasurer; four per centum of which shall be passed by him to the credit of the county.

SEC. 10. That it shall be the duty of the commissioners of such counties to deliver the duplicates of assessment, for the present year, to the county treasurer, on or before the first day of May next, and to deliver the duplicates of assessments, for each succeeding year, on or before the first day of April.

SEC. 11. That so much of any law as requires the commissioners of the several counties of the State, to appoint collectors of taxes, and so much of any law as is hereby altered or supplied, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 12. That hereafter, the pay of assessors, in the several counties of the State, shall be two dollars per day for every day necessarily required to make the assessment for State and county purposes.

SEC. 13. That in all cases under the provisions of this act, in which constables shall receive taxes from tax-payers, without resorting to levy and sale of goods, they shall be entitled to demand and receive, from such tax-payers, the additional sum of five per centum on said taxes, to be retained by them as their compensation for such collections.

SEC. 14. That the assessors of the different townships, wards and boroughs, in the several counties of the State, in making the extra assessment provided for by the former acts of assembly, shall certify the name of the person applying to be assessed, with the amount of tax imposed both for State and county purposes, to the constable discharging the duties of collector, under the provisions of said act of the twenty-fifth of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three; and the said constables shall receive and receipt for all such taxes; which receipt shall be as valid as receipts given by collectors in like cases under existing acts of Assembly.

SEC. 15. That the provisions of this act shall not be deemed or taken to apply to the county of Philadelphia.

No. 304.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

LAWRENCE, (Washington,) Ways and Means—Feb. 11.

AN ACT to aid in establishing the School of Mines.

WHEREAS, The skillful and economical development of the mining and manufacturing resources of Pennsylvania demands that encouragement be given to institutions which educate youth in the scientific and practical knowledge of mining, and in the best methods of determining the value of mineral lands, and of analyzing and manufacturing mine products:

And whereas, The School of Mines organized in Philadelphia, under an act, entitled "An Act incorporating the Polytechnic college of the State of Pennsylvania, and for other purposes," approved fifth April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, has, by the liberal contributions of citizens of this Commonwealth, been opened for the above educational purposes; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the sum of five thousand dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated to the trustees of the Polytechnic college of the State of Pennsylvania, to be paid out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated: Provided, That the same shall be applied by the said trustees toward the establishment of the School of Mines, organized under the act incorporating said college.

SEC. 2. That there shall be established in connection with the institution, a cabinet of mining, geology and engineering, containing specimens of ores, minerals and mine products, samples of the most approved tools and implements used in mining and sections, and models illustrating the best methods of working mines, employed in the United States and foreign countries; to which cabinet the officers and members of mining companies and other citizens of this Commonwealth shall be admitted free of charge.

No. 277.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BELL, Judiciary—Feb. 10.

AN ACT to extend the jurisdiction of the orphans' courts in case of testamentary trusts.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the orphans' courts of the several counties of this Commonwealth shall have full power and authority in all cases of trusts derived under or created by any last will and testament, whether vested in executors, administrators with the will annexed, or any other trustee or trustees, to dismiss from such office or trust any and all such trustee or trustees as aforesaid, whenever such courts shall be satisfied that there has been waste or mismanagement in the administration of such trust; or whenever the said trustee or trustees shall fail or neglect to pay over the principal or income of the trust funds according to their duty under their several trusts, or fail or neglect to comply with any order or direction of the said courts made in relation to said trusts; and shall further have power to make all such orders for the surrender and delivery of the funds, securities, moneys, books, accounts and papers belonging or relating to said trusts, to such person or persons as such courts may appoint to receive the same; and to enforce obedience to such orders, by attachment, execution or otherwise, as to them shall seem necessary and proper, for the due protection of the rights and interests of any and all parties interested under such trusts.

No. 279.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BREWER, Judiciary—Feb. 10.

AN ACT for the more effectual suppression of counterfeiting.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That upon the conviction of any person of having passed, uttered or delivered, or attempted to pass, utter or deliver, with intent to defraud, any counterfeit bill or note, purporting to be a bank note, it shall be the duty of the court, before which the trial was had, to certify under the seal thereof the person or persons by whom such convict was arrested; and upon the presentation of such certificate to the Auditor General, he shall draw his warrant upon the State Treasurer in favor of the person named therein, for the sum of twenty-five dollars which shall be paid as a reward for making such arrest; and in the case of a person convicted of making or having in his possession, with intent to use, any plate, die or other instrument used in making counterfeit bank notes, a certificate and warrant shall be drawn as aforesaid, in the sum of one hundred dollars in favor of the person by whom such convict was arrested.

SEC. 2. That whenever an altered or counterfeit bill or note, purporting to be a bank note, shall be offered in payment or for examination, at any bank or broker's office, it shall be the duty of the person to whom the note is offered, to stamp the word "counterfeit" upon the face thereof, in plain black letters, with an instrument which shall be kept for that purpose.

No. 285.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

MILLER, Judiciary—Feb. 10.

AN ACT relative to brokers.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, all stock brokers, bill brokers, exchange brokers and real estate brokers shall, on or before the first Monday in December in each year, make a return under oath to the city or county treasurer where the said stock, bill, exchange or real estate broker is located, of the amount of their receipts from commissions, discounts, abatements, allowances, or other profits arising from their business, for the year ending with the thirtieth of November next, preceding said day of return, and pay to the said city or county treasurer four per centum upon the same for the use of the Commonwealth; and the said city or county treasurer shall annually, upon the settlement of his account with the Auditor General, file in that department the said return so made, and pay the amount into the State Treasury.

SEC. 2. That the city or county treasurer is hereby authorized to allow deductions from the four per centum so paid by any such broker of the amount previously paid for his license: Provided, That no license shall be granted in the city of Philadelphia for less than one hundred dollars; in the city of Pittsburg for less than fifty dollars; and in any county in this Commonwealth for less than thirty dollars; and all laws incorporated into or inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

No. 218.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

CHASE, Judiciary—Feb. 4.

AN ACT relating to townships.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the provisions of the acts of assembly, passed on the fourteenth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, which require an election to be held in a township or townships, proposed to be divided upon the question of such division, shall not apply to cases in which the division had been reported to the court prior to the passage of said acts.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 37.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

SENATE.

MONDAY, Feb. 21, 1859.

Agreeably to order the Senate met and was called to order by the SPEAKER at three o'clock, P. M.

The reading of the Journal, on motion of Mr. COFFEY, was dispensed with.

Mr. RUTHERFORD appeared in his seat.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. CRAIG asked and obtained leave for Mr. KELLER for to-day.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. PENNEY, (Education,) reported as committed, House bill No. 241, "An Act to establish a normal school in connection with Westminster college, Lawrence county."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. RANDALL read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act to give the master warden of the city of Philadelphia, authority in certain cases to raise sunken vessels in the Delaware and Schuylkill rivers."

Also, "An Act to amend an act apportioning the city of Philadelphia into single Senatorial and Representative districts."

Mr. WRIGHT, "An Act authorizing the Chestnut Hill railroad company to sell certain real estate."

Mr. COFFEY, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Kittaning gas company."

Mr. PALMER, "An Act concerning the sale of the property of the Dauphin and Susquehanna coal company."

Also, "An Act to incorporate the Mahanoy and Broad Mountain railroad company."

Also, "An Act to extend the limits of the borough of Orwigsburg, Schuylkill county."

Mr. STEELE, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Paddy's Run bridge company."

On his motion, said bill was taken up, considered and passed finally.

Mr. BLOOD, "An Act to appoint a road commissioner to take charge of the Warren and Brookville, and the Warren and Strattansville State roads, in Forest county."

Also, "An Act to increase the fees of county commissioners and auditors in Clarion county."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. MILLER offered the following resolution, which lies over under the rule:

Resolved, That the Auditor General be requested to inform the Senate, whether the Pennsylvania railroad company have paid a State tax on their capital stock, as required of all corporations under the provisions of the thirty-third section of an act to reduce the State debt, and to incorporate the Pennsylvania canal and railroad company, approved April 29, 1844; what amount of tax is claimed to be due the Commonwealth from said company; what portion of the said tax has been paid, and at what period the said company commenced to pay the same; and further, what legislation, if any, is deemed necessary to equalize taxation upon the capital stock of the various corporations of this Commonwealth.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

Senate bill No. 224, entitled "An Act relating to the Norristown academy," came up in order on third reading, and passed finally.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. FINNEY, House bill No. 119, "An Act to incorporate the Citizens' mutual safety insurance company."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, Senate bill No. 307, "An Act to incorporate the Zoological society of Philadelphia."

On motion of Mr. COFFEY, House bill No. 186, "An Act to increase the pay of the county commissioners and auditors of Indiana county."

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, Senate bill No. 219, "An Act supplementary to an act relating to orphans' courts, and for other purposes," approved October 13, 1840."

Also, Senate bill No. 299, "A supplement to an act incorporating the South Mountain railroad company, approved May 5, 1854."

On motion of Mr. PALMER, Senate bill No. 161, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Greenwood cemetery company of the borough of Tamaqua."

On motion of Mr. MILLER, House bill No. 188, "An Act to confer on James Morrison, of Washington county, all the rights and privileges of a child born in lawful wedlock."

On motion of Mr. PARKER, House bill No. 103, "An Act to incorporate the international union of art and literature."

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, Senate bill No. 264, "An Act to incorporate the Birmingham insurance company."

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, Senate bill No. 309, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Harrisburg female seminary."

On motion of Mr. PALMER, Senate bill No. 94, "An Act extending the time for the commencement and completion of the Schuylkill Haven and Lehigh River railroad."

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, House bill No. 64, "An Act relating to the navigation of Tionesta creek and its branches."

On motion of Mr. THOMPSON, Senate bill No. 155, "An Act to incorporate the Commercial trust company."

This bill lies over on second reading.

Mr. FINNEY moved to discharge the Committee on Education from the consideration of House bill No. 238, "An Act to incorporate the Union school directors of Wattsburg, in Erie county," and that the Senate proceed to its consideration; which was agreed to; and the bill, having passed committee of the whole, lies over.

On motion of Mr. PALMER, Senate bill No. 315, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Minersville water company."

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, House bill No. 114, "An Act relating to the navigation of Pine creek, in Warren county."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, House bill No. 125, "An Act to incorporate the Mutual fire insurance company of Philadelphia."

The first section of this bill was amended, and the second and third stricken out.

On motion of Mr. STEELE, Senate bill No. 13, "An Act to incorporate the Hollenback and Hanover turnpike road company."

A new section—the fourth—was added to this bill.

On motion, the Senate adjourned until tomorrow at 10 o'clock A. M.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, Feb. 22, 1859.

A quorum of Senators being present, the SPEAKER called the Senate to order at the usual hour.

The Journal was read and approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. WRIGHT asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SCHELL, for to-day.

Messrs. BELL and TURNEY appeared in their seats.

The SPEAKER presented four petitions of citizens of Carlisle, for an appropriation to aid in the erection of a monument to the memory of the Pennsylvanians who lost their lives during the war with Mexico.

Also, an abstract of the accounts of the Germantown and Perkiomen turnpike company.

Also, an abstract of the accounts of the Cheltenham and Willow Grove turnpike company.

Also, the annual report of the inspectors of the Eastern Penitentiary, and statement of expenses, &c., of the same, for the year 1858.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, &c.

Mr. NUNNEMACHER presented a remonstrance of citizens of Bucks county, against the passage of an act now before the Legislature, relative to the Delaware Division canal company.

Mr. THOMPSON, a petition from citizens of Montgomery county, praying for the incorporation of the Whitemarsh and Cheltenham turnpike road company.

Also, two petitions from citizens of the same county, for a law requiring the commissioners of said county to appoint constables for collectors.

Also, a petition from the president and cashier of the Bank of Pottstown, for a law making it obligatory on banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Also, a petition from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Streets passenger railway company.

Mr. PALMER, one of like import.

Also, a petition of citizens of Schuylkill county, praying for a law for the better securing the wages of labor in said county.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, for a railroad connecting the Little Schuylkill railroad with the Schuylkill Valley railroad, in said county.

Mr. BALDWIN, two petitions from citizens of Lancaster county, praying for the repeal of a law authorizing the appointment of sealer of weights and measures, so far as the same relates to said county.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of the same county, against the passage of a law requiring the sheriff to sell real estate, on or near the premises.

Mr. BREWER, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates street passenger railway company.

Mr. FETTER, a remonstrance of citizens of Juniata and Perry counties, against the construction of the Susquehanna and Juniata railroad.

Also, one in favor of the supplement to the Greene and Coates Street railway.

Mr. PENNEY, a petition of citizens of Indiana township, Allegheny county, praying for the passage of an act relating to roads in said township.

Also, a petition of citizens of Pittsburg, for the incorporation of the Pittsburg and East Liberty passenger railway company.

Also, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Streets passenger railway company.

Mr. FRANCIS, one of similar import.

Messrs. MARSELIS and WRIGHT, each two of like import.

Also, the memorial of O. C. Jones, the inventor of apparatus for the weighing of coal in carts; which, on motion, was read.

Mr. WRIGHT, a petition numerously signed by citizens of Bucks county, against the passage of any law authorizing the erection of dams in the river Delaware.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Attleboro, Bucks county, against the incorporation of said village into a borough.

Also, a petition signed by citizens of Frankford, members of Evangelical churches, against the passage of a law authorizing the Frankford and Southwark passenger railway company to run their cars on Sunday.

Also, a memorial of citizens of Philadelphia, praying for an appropriation to the Penn widow's asylum.

Also, a petition of merchants and others, of the city of Philadelphia, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. BELL, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of "the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates streets passenger railway company."

Mr. SCHINDEL, a petition of citizens of Northampton county, praying for the passage of a law authorizing the voters of said county, to vote upon the question of a removal of the seat of justice from Easton to Nazareth.

Mr. RUTHERFORD, a petition of citizens of Eastern Pennsylvania, praying for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. COFFEY, a petition of citizens of Blair county, praying for an appropriation to aid in the erection of a monument on the capitol grounds.

Also, two remonstrances of citizens of Kittanning, Armstrong county, against a law authorizing the paving of the streets in said borough.

Mr. TURNEY, a memorial of citizens of Philadelphia and others, for an appropriation to the Penn asylum for indigent widows and single women.

Also, a petition of citizens of Cambria county, praying for the passage of a law authorizing the voters of said county to vote upon the question of the removal of the seat of justice from Ebensburg to Wilmore.

Also, a petition of citizens of Union township, Westmoreland county, in favor of the abolition of the office of county superintendent of common schools.

Also, a petition of citizens of Westmoreland county, praying for the erection of a new county, to be called Ligonier.

Also, a petition of farmers and mechanics living in counties adjacent to the Pennsylvania railroad, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax, with a protest.

Mr. BLOOD, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the supplement to the act of incorporation of the Green and Coates Streets passenger railway company.

Also, a petition of citizens of Forest county, relative to a certain State road.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. NUNNEMACHER, (Roads and Bridges,) reported as committed, House bill No. 251, entitled "An Act to incorporate the Richlandtown turnpike road company."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 253, "An Act to incorporate the Greencastle and Middleburg turnpike road company."

Mr. FETTER, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Central Valley turnpike road company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Philadelphia and Great Bend turnpike road company."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to roads in Great Bend township, Susquehanna county."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 248, "An Act to incorporate the Uniontown and Virginia Line turnpike road company."

Mr. BALDWIN, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 252, "An Act declaring McMichael's creek, in Monroe county, a public highway and to prevent the destruction of fish."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 254, "An Act relative to the election of a supervisor in Salem township, Westmoreland county."

Mr. THOMPSON, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 250, "An Act to change the time for electing officers of the Susquehanna and Lehigh turnpike road company."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 247, "An Act to incorporate a company to erect a bridge over Clearfield creek, in Clearfield county, at Alexander's fording."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. BREWER read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act relative to the banks of this Commonwealth."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, "An Act authorizing the laying out of a public park in the borough of Harrisburg, to be called Harris' Park."

Mr. WELSH, "An Act requiring railroad companies to present to the Auditor General a uniform annual report."

Mr. MILLER, a joint resolution relative to the Mount Vernon fund association."

Mr. RANDALL, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the Cambria iron company."

Mr. FETTER, a joint resolution, relative to the bill before Congress, providing for the payment of the pensions of soldiers in the war of 1812."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. BLOOD offered the following; which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That Washington's Farewell Address be read by the Clerk, at 12 o'clock this day, and that after the reading of the same the Senate adjourns.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

"An Act authorizing the Germantown passenger railroad company to lay a track on Fourth and Eighth streets," came up in order on third reading; and on motion of Mr. RANDALL, its consideration was postponed for the present.

Senate bill No. 2, "An Act relating to evidence," as proposed to be amended,

On motion of Mr. BELL, by substituting Senate bill No. 114, came up in order; whereupon,

Mr. BELL moved to postpone consideration for the present.

On which motion,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCOFIELD and Mr. BELL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Brewer, Craig, Miller, Palmer, Penney, Steele, Thompson, Turney, Welsh and Cresswell, Speaker—11.

NAYS—Messrs. Coffey, Fetter, Finney, Harris, Marselis, Nunnemacher, Parker, Randall, Rutherford, Scofield, Schindel and Wright—12.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The first section of Senate bill No. 114, being under consideration,

Mr. PALMER moved to amend the same, by striking out all after the word "felony" in the sixth line, and inserting the words "that the record of said conviction may be given in evidence, as heretofore, to affect the credibility of said witness."

Mr. PALMER made a brief statement in explanation of his amendment.

Mr. BELL said he had no objection to the latter part of the amendment; but he asked that there should be a division of it; as he believed it was susceptible of division.

The SPEAKER decided that there could be no division of the subject—the simple motion being to strike out and insert.

Mr. PALMER was willing to modify his amendment, by striking out all after the word "felony."

Mr. COFFEY said the amendment was a very judicious one, and advocated it briefly.

Mr. BELL again stated that he had no objection to the amendment, except to a portion of it; but as the SPEAKER had decided that the subject was not susceptible of division, he should be compelled to vote against it, although he was sorry for it.

Mr. HARRIS briefly defined his position on the question, and gave the reasons which should influence his vote in opposition to the amendment as well as the bill, as a whole.

Messrs. MARSELIS and FINNEY expressed themselves in favor of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. PALMER moved to amend the second section by striking out all after the word "thereof" in the third line, and inserting the words "but may be examined as a witness in the manner hereinafter provided."

Mr. PALMER also made a statement in explanation of this second amendment.

Mr. BELL was of the opinion that, upon a brief examination of the bill, the amendment was a judicious one.

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. PALMER moved to amend in the eighth line of the fourth section, by inserting the words "his own or" before the word "counter."

Mr. PALMER accompanied his amendment with a brief statement of its effect.

Mr. BELL said that, in considering the amendment of the Senator from Schuylkill, it might be well to look to the whole bill. There was, he thought, a provision made in the sixth section, which would answer the purpose of the amendment proposed.

Mr. PALMER had not failed to observe the provisions of the sixth section; but he did not think the full provision was made which was required.

Messrs. FINNEY and COFFEY favored the amendment, while Mr. BELL again rose to oppose it; but it being within a few minutes of the hour fixed for reading the farewell address of George Washington, he did not proceed.

On leave given, Mr. BALDWIN moved to recommit to the Committee on Finance, House bill No. 192; agreed to.

Mr. STEELE, on leave given, read in his place and presented to the Chair, "An Act to divide the borough of Pittston, Luzerne county, into two wards."

FAREWELL ADDRESS.

The hour of twelve having arrived, the Farewell Address was read by the Clerk, as follows:
To the people of the United States:

FRIENDS AND FELLOW CITIZENS:—The period for a new election of a citizen to administer the executive government of the United States being not far distant, and the time actually arrived when your thoughts must be employed in designating the person who is to be clothed with that important trust, it appears to me proper, especially as it may conduce to a more distinct expression of the public voice, that I should now apprise you of the resolution I have formed, to decline being considered among the number of those, out of whom a choice is to be made.

I beg you, at the same time, to do me the justice to be assured, that this resolution has not been taken, without a strict regard to all the considerations appertaining to the relation which binds a dutiful citizen to his country; and that, in withdrawing the tender of service which silence in my situation might imply, I am influenced by no diminution of zeal for your future interest; no deficiency of grateful respect for your past kindness; but am supported by a full conviction, that the step is compatible with both.

The acceptance of, and continuance hitherto in the office to which your suffrages have twice called me, have been a uniform sacrifice of inclination to the opinion of duty, and to a deference for what appeared to be your desire. I constantly hoped that it would have been much earlier in my power, consistently with motives which I was not at liberty to disregard, to return to that retirement from which I had been reluctantly drawn. The strength of my inclination to do this, previous to the last election, had even led to the preparation of an address to declare it to you; but mature reflection on the then perplexed and critical posture of our affairs with foreign nations, and the unanimous advice of persons entitled to my confidence, impelled me to abandon the idea.

I rejoice that the state of your concerns, external as well as internal, no longer renders the pursuit of inclination incompatible with the sentiment of duty or propriety; and am persuaded, whatever partiality may be retained for my services, that, in the present circumstances of our country, you will not disapprove my determination to retire.

The impressions with which I first undertook the arduous trust, were explained on the proper occasion. In the discharge of this trust, I will only say that I have, with good intentions, contributed towards the organization and administration of the government, the best exertions of which a very fallible judgment was capable. Not unconscious in the outset, of the inferiority of my qualifications, experience, in my own eyes, perhaps still more in the eyes of others, has strengthened the motives to diffidence of myself; and every day, the increasing weight of years admonishes me more and more, that the shade of retirement is as necessary to me, as it will be welcome. Satisfied that if any circumstances have given peculiar value to my services, they were temporary, I have the consolation to believe that, while choice and prudence invite me to quit the political scene, patriotism does not forbid it.

In looking forward to the moment which is to terminate the career of my political life, my feelings do not permit me to suspend the deep acknowledgment of that debt of gratitude which I owe to my beloved country, for the many honors it has conferred upon me; still more, for the steadfast confidence with which it has supported me; and for the opportunities I have thence enjoyed of manifesting my inviolable attachment, by services faithful and persevering, though in usefulness unequal to my zeal. If benefits have resulted to our country from these services, let it always be remembered to your praise, and as an instructive example in our annals, that under circumstances in which the passions, agitated in every direction were liable to mislead amidst appearances sometimes dubious, vicissitudes of fortune often discouraging—in situations in which, not unfrequently, want of success has countenanced the spirit of criticism—the constancy of your support was the essential prop of the efforts, and a guaranty of the plans, by which they were effected. Profoundly penetrated with this idea, I shall carry it to my grave, as a strong incitement to unceasing vows, that Heaven may continue to you the choicest tokens of its beneficence—that your union and brotherly affection may be perpetual—that the free constitution, which is the work of your hands, may be sacredly maintained—that its administration in every department may be stamped with wisdom and virtue; that, in fine, the happiness of the people of these States, under the auspices of liberty, may be made complete by so careful a preservation, and so prudent a use of this blessing, as will acquire to them the glory of recommending it to the applause, the affection and adoption of every nation which is yet a stranger to it.

Here, perhaps, I ought to stop. But a solicitude for your welfare, which cannot end but with my life, and the apprehension of danger, natural to that solicitude, urge me, on an occasion like the present, to offer to your solemn contemplation, and to recommend to your frequent review, some sentiments which are the result of much reflection, of no inconsiderable observation, and which appear to me all important to the permanency of your felicity as a people. These will be offered to you with the more freedom, as you can only see in them the disinterested warnings of a parting friend, who can possibly have no personal motive to bias his counsel. Nor can I forget, as an encouragement to it, your indulgent reception of my sentiments on a former and not dissimilar occasion.

Interwoven as is the love of liberty with every ligament of your hearts, no recommendation of mine is necessary to fortify or confirm the attachment.

The unity of government which constitutes you one people, is also now dear to you. It is justly so; for it is a main pillar in the edifice of your real independence; the support of your tranquility at home; your peace abroad; of your safety; of your prosperity; of that very liberty which you so highly prize. But as it is easy to foresee that, from different causes and from different quarters, much pain will be taken, many artifices employed, to weaken in your minds the conviction of this truth; as this is the point of your political fortress, against which the batteries of internal and external enemies will be constantly and actively, (though often covertly and insidiously,) directed, it is of infinite moment, that you should properly estimate the immense value of your national union to your collective and individual happiness; that you should cherish a cordial, habitual, and immovable attachment to it; accustoming yourselves to think and speak of it as of the palladium of your political safety and prosperity; watching for its preservation with jealous anxiety; discountenancing whatever may suggest even a suspicion that it can, in any event, be abandoned; and indignantly frowning upon the first dawning of every attempt to alienate any portion of our country from the rest, or to enfeeble the sacred ties which now link together the various parts.

For this you have every inducement of sympathy and interest. Citizens by birth, or choice, of a common country, that country has a right to concentrate your affections. The name of American, which belongs to you in your national capacity, must always exalt the just pride of patriotism, more than any appellation derived from local discriminations. With slight shades of difference, you have the same religion, manners, habits and political principles—you have, in a common cause, fought and triumphed together; the independence and liberty you possess, are the work of joint counsels and joint efforts, of common dangers, sufferings and successes.

But these considerations, however powerfully they address themselves to your sensibility, are greatly outweighed by those which apply more immediately to your interest. Here, every portion of our country finds the most commanding motives for carefully guarding and preserving the union of the whole.

The North, in an unrestrained intercourse with the South, protected by the equal laws of a common government, finds in the productions of the latter, great additional resources of maritime and commercial enterprise, and precious materials of manufacturing industry. The South, in the same intercourse, benefitting by the same agency of the North, sees its agriculture grow and its commerce expand. Turning partly into its own channels the seamen of the North, it finds its particular navigation invigorated; and while it contributes in different ways, to nourish and increase the general mass of the national navigation, it looks forward to the protection of a maritime strength, to which itself is unequally adapted. The East, in a like intercourse with the West, already finds, and in the progressive improvement of interior communications by land and water, will more and more, find a valuable vent for the commodities which it brings from abroad, or manufactures at home. The West derives from the East supplies requisite to its growth and comfort—and what is perhaps of still greater consequence, it must of necessity owe the secure enjoyment of indispensable outlets for its own productions, to the weight, influence, and the future maritime strength of the Atlantic side of the Union, directed by an indissoluble community of interest as one nation. Any other tenure by which the West can hold this essential advantage, whether derived from its own separate strength, or from an apostate and unnatural connexion with any foreign power, must be intrinsically precarious.

While then every part of our country thus feels an immediate and particular interest in union, all parts combined cannot fail to find in the united mass of means and efforts, greater strength, greater resource, proportionally greater security from external danger, a less frequent interruption of their peace by foreign nations; and, what is of inestimable value, they must derive from union, an exemption from those broils and wars between themselves, which so frequently afflict neighboring countries, not tied together by the same government; which their own rivalry alone would be sufficient to produce, but which opposite foreign alliances, attachments and intrigues, would stimulate and embitter. Hence, likewise, they will avoid the necessity, of those overgrown military establishments, which under any form of government, are inauspicious to liberty, and which are to be regarded as particularly hostile to republican liberty. In this sense it is, that your union ought to be considered as a main prop of your liberty, and that the love of the one ought to endear to you the preservation of the other.

These considerations speak a persuasive language to every reflecting and virtuous mind, and exhibit the continuance of the Union as a primary object of patriotic desire. Is there a doubt whether a common government can embrace so large a sphere? Let experience solve it. To listen to mere speculation in such a case were criminal. We are authorized to hope that a proper organization of the whole, with the auxiliary agency of governments for the respective sub-divisions, will afford a happy issue to the experiment. It is well worth a fair and full experiment. With such powerful and obvious motives to union, affecting all parts of our country, while experience shall not have demonstrated its impracticability, there will always be reason to distrust the patriotism of those who, in any quarter, may endeavor to weaken its hands.

In contemplating the causes which may disturb our union, it occurs as matter of serious concern, that any ground should have been furnished for characterizing parties by geographical discriminations—northern and southern—Atlantic and western; whence designing men may endeavor to excite a belief that there is a real difference of local interests and views. One of the expedients of party to acquire influence within particular districts, is to misrepresent the opinions and aims of other districts. You cannot shield yourself too much against the jealousies and heart-burnings which spring from these misrepresentations: they tend to render alien to each other those who ought to be bound together by fraternal affection. The inhabitants of our western country, have lately had a useful lesson on this head; they have seen, in the negotiation by the Executive, and in the unanimous ratification by the Senate of the treaty with Spain, and in the universal satisfaction at the event throughout the United States, a decisive proof how unfounded were the suspicions propagated among them, of a policy in the general government and in the Atlantic States, unfriendly to their interests in regard to the Mississippi. They have been witnesses to the formation of two treaties, that with Great Britain and that with Spain, which secure to them every thing they could desire, in respect to our foreign relations, towards confirming their prosperity. Will it not be their wisdom to rely for the preservation of these advantages on the union by which they were procured? Will they not henceforth be deaf to those advisers, if such they are, who would sever them from their brethren, and connect them with aliens?

To the efficacy and permanence of your union, a government for the whole is indispensable. No alliances, however strict, between the parts, can be an adequate substitute; they must inevitably experience the infractions and interruption which all alliances, in all times, have experienced. Sensible of this momentous truth, you have improved upon your first essay, by the adoption of a constitution of government, better calculated than your former, for an intimate union, and for the efficacious management of your common concerns. This government, the offspring of our own choice, uninfluenced and unawed, adopted upon full investigation, and mature deliberation, completely free in its principles, in the distribution of its powers, uniting security with energy, and containing within itself a provision for its own amendment, has a just claim to your confidence and your support. Respect for its authority, compliance with its laws, acquiescence in its measures, are duties enjoined by the fundamental maxims of true liberty. The basis of our political systems is the right of the people to make and to alter their constitutions of government. But the constitution which at any time exists, until changed by an explicit and authentic act of the whole people, is sacredly obligatory upon all. The very idea of the power, and the right of the people to establish a government, pre-suppose the duty of every individual to obey the established government.

All obstructions to the execution of the laws, all combinations and associations, under whatever plausible character, with the real design to direct, control, counteract, or awe the regular deliberations and action of the constituted authorities, are destructive of this fundamental principle, and of fatal tendency. They serve to organize faction, to give it an artificial and extraordinary force, to put in the place of the delegated will of the nation the will of party, often a small but artful and enterprising minority of the community; and, according to the alternate triumphs of different parties, to make the public administration the mirror of the ill-concerted and incongruous projects of faction, rather than the organ of consistent and wholesome plans, digested by common councils, and modified by mutual interests.

However combinations or associations of the above description may now and then answer popular ends, they are likely, in the course of time and things, to become potent engines, by which cunning, ambitious, and unprincipled men, will be enabled to subvert the power of the people, and to usurp for themselves the reins of government; destroying afterwards the very engines which have lifted them to unjust dominion.

Towards the preservation of your government, and the permanency of your present happy state, it is requisite, not only that you steadily discountenance irregular opposition to its acknowledged authority, but also that you resist with care the spirit of innovation upon its principles, however specious the pretext. One method of assault may be to effect, in the forms of the constitution, alterations which will impair the energy of the system; and thus to undermine what cannot be directly overthrown. In all the changes to which you may be invited, remember that time and habit are at least as necessary to fix the true character of governments, as of other human institutions; that experience is the surest standard by which to test the real tendency of the existing constitution of a country: that facility in changes, upon the credit of mere hypothesis and opinion, exposes to perpetual change from the endless variety of hypothesis and opinion: and remember, especially, that for the efficient management of your common interests, in a country so extensive as ours, a government of as much vigor as is consistent with the perfect security of liberty, is indispensable. Liberty itself will find in such a government, with powers properly distributed and adjusted, its surest guardian. It is, indeed, little else than a name, where the government is too feeble to withstand the enterprises of faction, to confine each member of the society within the limits prescribed by the laws, and to maintain all in the secure and tranquil enjoyment of the rights of person and property.

I have already intimated to you the danger of parties in the State, with particular references to the founding them on geographical discrimination. Let me now take a more comprehensive view, and warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of party generally.

This spirit, unfortunately, is inseparable from our nature, having its root in the strongest passions of the human mind. It exists under different shapes in all governments, more or less stifled, controlled, or repressed; but in those of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy.

The alternate domination of one faction over another, sharpened by the spirit of revenge natural to party dissension, which, in different ages and countries, has perpetrated the most horrid enormities, is itself a frightful despotism. But this leads at length to a more formal and permanent despotism. The disorders and miseries which result gradually incline the minds of men to seek security and repose in the absolute power of an individual; and, sooner or later, the chief of some prevailing faction, more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this disposition to the purpose of his own elevation, on the ruins of public liberty.

Without looking forward to an extremity of this kind, (which, nevertheless, ought not to be entirely out of sight,) the common and continual mischiefs of the spirit of party are sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it.

It serves always to distract the public councils, and enfeeble the public administration. It agitates the community with ill-founded jealousies and false alarms; kindles the animosity of one part against another; foment occasional riot and insurrection. It opens the door to foreign influence and corruption, which finds a facilitated access to the government itself, through the channels of party passions. Thus, the policy and the will of one country are subjected to the policy and will of another.

There is an opinion that parties in free countries are useful checks upon the administration of the government, and serve to keep alive the spirit of liberty. This, within certain limits, is probably true; and in governments of a monarchical cast, patriotism may look with indulgence, if not with favor, upon the spirit of party. But in those of the popular character, in governments purely elective, it is a spirit not to be encouraged. From their natural tendency, it is certain there will always be enough of that spirit for every salutary purpose. And there being constant danger of excess, the effort ought to be, by force of public opinion, to mitigate and assuage it. A fire not to be quenched, it demands a uniform vigilance to prevent it bursting into a flame, lest, instead of warming, it should consume.

It is important, likewise, that the habits of thinking in a free country should inspire caution in those intrusted with its administration, to confine themselves within their respective constitutional spheres, avoiding, in the exercise of the powers of one department, to encroach upon another. The spirit of encroachment tends to consolidate the powers of all the departments in one, and thus create, whatever the form of government, a real despotism. A just estimate of that love of power and proneness to abuse it which predominate in the human heart, is sufficient to satisfy us of the truth of this position. The necessity of reciprocal checks, in the exercise of political power, by dividing and distributing it into different depositories, and constituting each the guardian of the public weal against invasions of the others, has been evinced by experiments, ancient and modern; some of them in our country and under our own eyes. To preserve them must be as necessary as to institute them. If, in the opinion of the people, the distribution or modification of the constitutional powers be in any particular wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way which the constitution designates.—But let there be no change by usurpation; for though this, in one instance, may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed. The precedent must always greatly overbalance, in permanent evil, any partial or transient benefit which the use can at any time yield.

Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, Religion and Morality are indispensable supports. In vain would that man claim the tribute of patriotism, who should labor to subvert these great pillars of human happiness, these firmest props of the duties of men and citizens. The mere politician, equally with the pious man, ought to respect and cherish them. A volume could not trace all their connexions with private and public felicity. Let it simply be asked, where is the security for property, for reputation, for life, if the sense of religious obligation desert the oaths which are the instruments of investigation in courts of justice? And let us, with caution, indulge the supposition that morality can be maintained without religion. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of peculiar structure, reason and experience both forbid us to expect, that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle.

It is substantially true, that virtue or morality is a necessary spring of popular government. The rule indeed extends, with more or less force, to every species of free government. Who, that is a sincere friend to it, can look with indifference upon attempts to shake the foundation of the fabric?

Promote then, as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge. In proportion as the structure of a government gives force to public opinion, it should be enlightened.

As a very important source of strength and security, cherish public credit. One method of preserving it is, to use it as sparingly as possible, avoiding occasions of expense by cultivating peace, but remembering also, that timely disbursements, to prepare for danger, frequently prevent much greater disbursements to repel it; avoiding, likewise, the accumulation of debt, not only by shunning occasions of expense, but by vigorous exertions, in time of peace, to discharge the debts which unavoidable wars may have occasioned, not ungenerously throwing upon posterity the burden which we ourselves ought to bear. The execution of these maxims belongs to your representatives, but it is necessary that public opinion should co-operate. To facilitate to them the performance of their duty, it is essential that you should practically bear in mind, that towards the payment of debts there must be revenue; that to have revenue there must be taxes; that no taxes can be devised, which are not more or less inconvenient and unpleasant; that the intrinsic embarrassment, inseparable from the selection of the proper object, (which is always a choice of difficulties,) ought to be a decisive motive for a candid construction of the conduct of the government in making it, and for a spirit of acquiescence in the measures for obtaining revenue, which the public exigencies may at any time dictate.

Observe good faith and justice towards all nations; cultivate peace and harmony with all.—Religion and morality enjoin this conduct, and can it be that good policy does not equally enjoin it? It will be worthy of a free, enlightened, and, at no distant period, a great nation, to give to mankind the magnanimous and too novel example of a people always guided by an exalted justice and benevolence. Who can doubt but, in the course of time and things, the fruits of such a plan would richly repay any temporary advantages which might be lost by a steady adherence to it; can it be that Providence has not connected the permanent felicity of a nation with its virtue? The experiment, at least, is recommended by every sentiment which ennobles human nature. Alas! it is rendered impossible by its vices.

In the execution of such a plan, nothing is more essential than that permanent, inveterate antipathies against particular nations, and passionate attachments for others, should be excluded; and that in place of them, just amicable feelings towards all should be cultivated.—The nation which indulges towards another an habitual hatred, or an habitual fondness, is in some degree a slave. It is a slave to its animosity or to its affection, either of which is sufficient to lead it astray from its duty and its interest. Antipathy in one nation against another, disposes each more readily to offer insult and injury, to lay hold of slight causes of umbrage, and to be haughty and intractable when accidental or trifling occasions of dispute occur.—Hence, frequent collisions, obstinate, evenomed, and bloody contests. The nation, prompted by ill-will and resentment, sometimes impels to war the government, contrary to the best calculations of policy. The government sometimes participates in the national propensity, and adopts, through passion, what reason would reject; at other times, it makes the animosity of the nation subservient to projects of hostility, instigated by pride, ambition, and other sinister and pernicious motives. The peace often, sometimes perhaps the liberty of nations, has been the victim.

So likewise, a passionate attachment of one nation for another, produces a variety of evils. Sympathy for the favorite nation, facilitating the illusion of an imaginary common interest, exists, and infusing into one the comities of the other, betrays the former into a participation in the quarrels and wars of the latter, without adequate inducements or justifications. It leads also to concessions, to the favorite nation, of privileges denied to others, which is apt doubly to injure the nation making the concessions, by unnecessarily parting with what ought to have been retained, and by exciting jealousy, ill-will, and a disposition to retaliate in the parties from whom equal privileges are withheld; and it gives to ambitious, corrupted or deluded citizens, who devote themselves to the favorite nation, facility to betray or sacrifice the interests of their own country, without odium, sometimes even with popularity; gilding, with the appearances of a virtuous sense of obligation, a commendable deference for public opinion, or a laudable zeal for public good; the base or foolish compliances of ambition, corruption or infatuation.

As avenues to foreign influence in innumerable ways, such attachments are particularly alarming to the truly enlightened and independent patriot. How many opportunities do they afford to tamper with domestic factions, to practice the arts of seduction, to mislead public opinion, to influence or awe the public councils? Such an attachment of a small or weak, towards a great and powerful nation, dooms the former to be the satellite of the latter.

Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence, (I conjure you to believe me, fellow-citizens,) the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake; since history and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of republican government. But that jealousy, to be useful, must be impartial, else it becomes the instrument of the very influence to be avoided, instead of a defence against it. Excessive partiality for one foreign nation, and excessive dislike for another, cause those whom they actuate, to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil, and even second, the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots, who may resist the intrigues of the favorite, are liable to become suspected and odious; while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people, to surrender their interests.

The great rule of conduct for us, in regard to foreign nations, is in extending our commercial relations, to have with them as little political connection as possible. So far as we have already formed engagements, let them be fulfilled with perfect good faith: Here let us stop.

Europe has a set of primary interests, which to us have none, or a very remote relation. Hence, she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves, by artificial ties, in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics, or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities.

Our detached and distant situation, invites and enables us to pursue a different course. If we remain one people, under an efficient government, the period is not far off when we may defy material injury from external annoyances; when we may take such an attitude as will cause the neutrality we may at any time resolve upon, to be scrupulously respected; when belligerent nations, under the impossibility of making acquisitions upon us, will not lightly hazard the giving us provocation, when we may choose peace or war, as our interest, guided by justice, shall counsel.

Why forego the advantages of so peculiar a situation? Why quit our own, to stand upon foreign ground? Why, by interweaving our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils of European ambition, rivalry, interest, humor or caprice?

It is our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliance with any portion of the foreign world; so far, I mean, as we are at liberty to do it; for let me not be understood as capable of patronizing infidelity to existing engagements. I hold the maxim no less applicable to public than private affairs, that honesty is always the best policy. I repeat it, therefore, let those engagements be observed in their genuine sense. But, in my opinion, it is unnecessary, and would be unwise to extend them.

Taking care always to keep ourselves, by suitable establishments, on a respectable defensive posture, we may safely trust to temporary alliances for extraordinary emergencies.

Harmony, and a liberal intercourse with all nations, are recommended by policy, humanity and interest. But even our commercial policy should hold an equal and impartial hand; neither seeking or granting exclusive favors or preferences; consulting the natural course of things; diffusing and diversifying by gentle means the streams of commerce, but forcing nothing; establishing with powers so disposed, in order to give trade a stable course, to define the rights of our merchants, and to enable the government to support them, conventional rules of intercourse, the best that present circumstances and mutual opinion will permit, but temporary; and liable to be from time to time, abandoned or varied as experience and circumstances shall dictate; constantly keeping in view, that it is folly in one nation to look for disinterested favors from another; that it must pay with a portion of its independence for whatever it may accept under that character; that, by such acceptance, it may place itself in the condition of having given equivalents for nominal favors, and yet of being reproached with ingratitude for not giving more. There can be no greater error than to expect, or calculate upon real favors from nation to nation. It is an illusion which experience must cure, which a just pride ought to discard.

In offering to you, my countrymen, these counsels of an old and affectionate friend, I dare not hope they will make the strong and lasting impression I could wish; that they will control the usual current of the passions, or prevent our nation from running the course which has hitherto marked the destiny of nations; but if I may even flatter myself that they may be productive of some partial benefit, some occasional good: that they may now and then recur to moderate the fury of party spirit, to warn against the mischiefs of foreign intrigue, to guard against the impostures of pretended patriotism; this hope will be a full recompense for the solicitude for your welfare by which they have been dictated.

How far, in the discharge of my official duties, I have been guided by the principles which have been delineated, the public records and other evidences of my conduct, must witness to you and to the world. To myself, the assurance of my own conscience is, that I have, at least, believed myself to be guided by them.

In relation to the still subsisting war in Europe, my proclamation of the 22nd of April, 1793, is the index to my plan. Sanctioned by your approving voice, and by that of your representatives in both houses of Congress, the spirit of that measure has continually governed me, uninfluenced by any attempts to deter or divert me from it.

After deliberate examination, with the aid of the best lights I could obtain, I was well satisfied that our country, under all the circumstances of the case, had a right to take, and was bound, in duty and interest, to take a neutral position. Having taken it, I determined, as far as should depend upon me, to maintain it with moderation, perseverance and firmness.

The considerations which respect the right to hold this conduct, it is not necessary on this occasion to detail. I will only observe that, according to my understanding of the matter, that right, so far from being denied by any of the belligerent powers, has been virtually admitted by all.

The duty of holding a neutral conduct may be inferred, without any thing more, from the obligation which justice and humanity impose on every nation, in cases in which it is free to act, to maintain inviolate the relations of peace and amity towards other nations.

The inducements of interest for observing that conduct, will be referred to your own reflections and experience. With me, a predominant motive has been to endeavor to gain time to our country to settle and mature its yet recent institutions, and to progress, without interruption, to that degree of strength and consistency, which is necessary to give it, humanely speaking, the command of its own fortunes.

Though in reviewing the incidents of my administration, I am unconscious of intentional error, I am nevertheless too sensible of my defects, not to think it probable that I may have committed many errors. Whatever they may be, I fervently beseech the Almighty to avert or mitigate the evils to which they may tend. I shall also carry with me the hope that my country will never cease to view them with indulgence; and that, after forty-five years of my life, dedicated to its service, with an upright zeal, the faults of incompetent abilities will be consigned to oblivion, as myself must soon be to the mansions of rest.

Relying on its kindness in this as in other things, and actuated by that fervent love towards it, which is so natural to a man who views it in the native soil of himself and his progenitors for several generations, I anticipate with pleasing expectations, that retreat in which I promise myself to realize, without alloy, the sweet enjoyment of partaking in the midst of my fellow citizens, the benign influence of good laws under a free government—the ever favorite object of my heart, and the happy reward, as I trust, of our mutual cares, labors and dangers.

GEO. WASHINGTON.

UNITED STATES, 17th September, 1796.

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, one thousand copies of the Address were ordered to be printed.

Agreeably to order, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, Feb. 22, 1859.

The House was called to order at 7 o'clock, by Mr. G. V. LAWRENCE, Speaker pro tem.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. WILCOX submitted the following resolution; which was twice read and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Farewell Address of GEORGE WASHINGTON to the American People, be immediately read, and that the House adjourn immediately thereafter in honor to the memory of the Father of His Country.

The address was then read.

Mr. WILCOX offered a resolution that five thousand copies of Washington's Farewell Address be printed for the use of the House.

Mr. SMITH, of Berks, moved to amend by printing two thousand of that number in the German language.

Mr. KENEAGY moved to amend the amendment by printing but one thousand of the above number in the German language; which was agreed to.

And the resolution as amended was adopted.

The SPEAKER then adjourned the House until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

No. 313.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

CHASE, Ways and Means—Feb. 12, 1859.

AN ACT to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Government and other general and special appropriations.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the following sums be, and the same are hereby specifically appropriated to the several objects hereinafter mentioned, for the year commencing on the first day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, to be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 2. For the salary of the Governor of the Commonwealth, four thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, two thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, one thousand four hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Auditor General, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, two thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Surveyor General, one thousand six hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Attorney General, three thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Adjutant General, six hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Superintendent of Common Schools, one thousand seven hundred dollars.

For the salary of the State Librarian, eight hundred dollars.

For the salary of the State Treasurer, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, one thousand seven hundred dollars: Provided, That the foregoing salaries shall be paid quarterly at the office of the State Treasurer.

SEC. 3. For clerk and messenger hire, in the Executive and State departments, six thousand dollars.

For contingent expenses in the Executive and State departments, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, one thousand seven hundred dollars; stationery, four hundred and fifty dollars; fuel and lights, one hundred and twenty-five dollars; cleaning offices, one hundred dollars; blank books, fifty dollars; repairs, fifty dollars; geological survey, freights and packages, one hundred and fifty dollars; new carpets in Executive chamber, two hundred dollars; miscellaneous expenses, one hundred and fifty dollars.

For clerk and messenger hire in the Auditor General's office, eight thousand one hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, five hundred dollars; stationery, three hundred and fifty dollars; fuel, seventy-five dollars; miscellaneous, seventy-five dollars.

For clerk and message hire in the Surveyor General's office, eight thousand seven hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage, four hundred dollars; stationery, two hundred dollars; fuel, seventy dollars; stove and repairs, sixty dollars; white-washing and scrubbing, fifty dollars; miscellaneous, fifty dollars.

For clerk hire in the Attorney General's office, eight hundred dollars; and hereafter the Attorney General shall be allowed eight hundred dollars annually for clerk hire.

For clerk and message hire in the school department, three thousand nine hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: stationery and blank books, three hundred and fifty dollars; postage, including telegraphic dispatches, one thousand two hundred dollars; fuel, light, and cleaning office, sixty dollars; packing and distributing blank forms, laws and decisions, reports, et cetera, to the several districts, six hundred dollars; miscellaneous, fifty dollars.

For clerks, messenger, and night-watch in the Treasurer's office, five thousand four hundred and fifty dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, four hundred and seventy-five dollars; express charges, one hundred dollars; stationery and blank books, two hundred and fifty dollars; fuel and light, seventy-five dollars; miscellaneous, one hundred and fifty dollars.

For miscellaneous expenses of the State Library as follows: repairing telescope, forty dollars; press for stamping, twenty-five dollars; making fires, sweeping, cleansing and white-washing, postage, freight, expenses of purchasing books, stationery, et cetera, three hundred dollars; miscellaneous books and newspapers, six hundred dollars; law books, English and Irish reports, elementary books and civil law, one thousand dollars; Pennsylvania Reports, for exchanges, three hundred and twenty dollars; binding, one hundred and fifty dollars; and assistant, one hundred and fifty dollars.

SEC. 4. For the payment of the expenses of the Legislature, including the pay and mileage of the members, clerks and officers thereof, and the amount authorized by law for stationery, newspapers and lights, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

SEC. 5. For packing and distributing the laws and journals of the Legislature, to be performed under the direction of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, seven hundred dollars.

SEC. 6. For the public printing, folding, stitching and binding, thirty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary on the settlement of the account of the contractor under his contract entered into in pursuance of the act approved the ninth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, entitled "An Act in relation to public printing."

SEC. 7. For the payment to the borough of Harrisburg, for supplying the public buildings with water, as per act of twenty-eighth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty, six hundred dollars.

For payment to the Harrisburg gas company, for gas for public buildings and walks, two thousand dollars, or so much thereof as shall be found due by the Auditor General, under the contract with the company, in pursuance of the charter of said company and its supplement, to be paid on the warrant of the Governor.

SEC. 8. For miscellaneous expenses, to be accounted for in the usual manner, three thousand dollars.

SEC. 9. For the support of the common schools, to be paid on warrants drawn by the superintendent in favor of the several school districts of the Commonwealth, in proportion to the number of resident taxables therein, two hundred and eighty thousand dollars.

SEC. 10. For the payment of pensions and gratuities, ten thousand dollars.

SEC. 11. For the payment of the salaries and per diem allowance of the judges of the supreme court, eighteen thousand seven hundred dollars.

SEC. 12. For the payment of the salaries of the judges of the district court, and the president and associate law judges of the court of common pleas of the city of Philadelphia, sixteen thousand eight hundred dollars.

SEC. 13. For the payment of the salaries of the judges of the district court, and president judge of the court of common pleas of Allegheny county, eight thousand four hundred dollars.

SEC. 14. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the president and associate law judges of the several courts of common pleas in this Commonwealth, except in the city of Philadelphia and the county of Allegheny, fifty-five thousand dollars.

SEC. 15. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the associate judges of the several courts of this Commonwealth, twenty-five thousand dollars.

SEC. 16. For the payment of the interest on the funded debt of the Commonwealth, that will fall due on the first days of July and August next, and the first days of January and February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, two millions of dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

SEC. 17. For the payment of the guaranty of interest for the Danville and Pottsville railroad company, by the act of the eighth of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, and the act of twelfth April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, eight thousand five hundred and seventeen dollars and fifty cents, being the interest in full, on said guaranty, up to the first day of August, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine; to the Bald Eagle and Spring Creek navigation company, by the act of seventh April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, ten thousand dollars: Provided however, That said companies are hereby required to make it appear satisfactorily to the Attorney General that the said appropriations are due from the Commonwealth; and it shall be the duty of the Attorney General so to certify to the treasurer before any of the moneys herein appropriated are paid.

SEC. 18. For the payment of the salaries of the officers of the Western penitentiary, ten thousand one hundred and fifty dollars; also, for gratuities paid to discharged convicts for the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, agreeably to the eighth section of the act of twenty-second of April, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-nine, and the several supplements thereto, three hundred and eight dollars.

SEC. 19. For the payment of the salaries of the officers of the Eastern penitentiary, twelve thousand eight hundred and ninety-five dollars; which sum may be drawn from the treasury in equal quarterly portions, on or after the fifteenth day of the months of June, September and December of the present year, and March of next year.

SEC. 20. For the house of refuge of Philadelphia, the sum of twenty thousand dollars.

SEC. For the house of refuge of Western Pennsylvania, in the county of Allegheny, eighteen thousand and five hundred dollars, to be applied as follows: for the salaries of officers, eight thousand and five hundred dollars; additions and repairs, four thousand dollars; and for the payment of debts, six thousand dollars.

SEC. 22. For the Western Pennsylvania hospital, five thousand dollars; and for the purpose of erecting suitable buildings, the further sum of twenty thousand dollars, to be paid to said institution upon a bond being executed to the Commonwealth in said sum, with security to be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, conditioned for the full erection and completion of said buildings without further aid from the Commonwealth.

SEC. 23. For the Pennsylvania State lunatic hospital, the sum of twenty thousand dollars; to be applied to the payment of salaries, the support of the house, the renewal of furniture and fixtures, and to such repairs and improvements as may be required.

SEC. 24. For the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the blind, twenty-two thousand dollars.

SEC. 25. For the instruction of indigent pupils in the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the deaf and dumb, twenty-three thousand dollars: Provided, That the sums appropriated for the instruction of the blind, and deaf, and dumb, shall be paid to said institutions, in proportion to the number of indigent pupils received by each, from the several counties of this Commonwealth, at the rates prescribed by law; evidence of the number of pupils to be furnished to the State Treasurer.

SEC. 26. For the Pennsylvania training school for feeble minded children, such amount as said institution may be entitled to receive under the provisions of the sixth section of the act incorporating said school, approved the seventh of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three; and for the purpose of completing the buildings now in progress, the further sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, to be paid to said institution upon a bond being executed to the Commonwealth in said sum, with security, to be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, conditioned for the full completion of said buildings without further aid from the Commonwealth.

SEC. 27. For the Northern Home for friendless children, five thousand dollars.

SEC. 28. For the Penn Asylum for indigent widows and single women, five thousand dollars.

SEC. 29. For the Howard Institution, under the care of an association of women Friends of Philadelphia, one thousand dollars.

SEC. 30. For the salary of the superintendent of the public printing, eight hundred dollars.

SEC. 31. To Richard J. Haldeman, publisher of the Legislative Record, compensation at the rate of seven dollars per page, for the numbers published at the present session, the amount to be certified as due by the superintendent of public printing.

SEC. 32. To each of the fire companies of Harrisburg, now organized and in operation, one hundred dollars.

SEC. 33. For the preservation and repairs of the capitol, and improvement of the public grounds.

SEC. 34. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay John A. Small, for services rendered the House of Representatives, the same compensation now allowed by law for an assistant clerk.

SEC. 35. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, the amounts necessary to pay the pages and folders employed during the present session, at the rate of one dollar per day each, for the time the Legislature is in session.

SEC. 36. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay George Manley, at the rate of one dollar per day, for services in cleansing and keeping in order the out-building of the two houses; the actual number of days employed, to be certified to by the Clerk of the House.

SEC. 37. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay Alvin Day, nineteen dollars and twenty-five cents, being the amount of a check drawn by the State Treasurer on the Bank of Pennsylvania, in May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and dishonored by said bank.

SEC. 38. For transcribing for committee of ways and means, to be paid on the order of the chairman, twenty dollars.

SEC. 39. For postage and stationery used in the office of the late Attorney General, sixty-seven dollars and fifty-nine cents.

SEC. 40. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the chief clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, for the expense of indexing journals, one hundred and twenty-five dollars each.

SEC. 41. For the payment of salaries of tonnage agents in full to June first, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, twelve hundred dollars.

No. 333.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

MR. KENEAGY, Election Districts—Feb. 11.

AN ACT to prevent frauds at elections.

WHEREAS, The purity of the ballot-box is indispensable for the security of the rights and the free and full expression of the will of the people:

AND WHEREAS, Experience has clearly demonstrated that gross frauds are practiced at elections in this Commonwealth, destructive alike of the morals of our citizens and the stability of our institutions, therefore to suppress such alarming evils tending to the overthrow of free government; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in elections by the citizens of this Commonwealth, no person shall be entitled to vote who having been an alien, has not been naturalized in conformity with the laws of the United States, at least six calendar months before the election at which he offers to vote, and who is not otherwise qualified according to the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth.

SEC. 2. That as the only evidence that such alien has been naturalized as aforesaid, he shall produce a certificate thereof under the seal of the court where such naturalization took place, made out and dated at least six calendar months before the election at which he offers to vote, except such person shall have resided in the ward, district or township, for ten years or upwards, next preceding such application to vote; which residence must be known to at least one member of the board of election officers, in which case the oath of such applicant shall be prima facie evidence of such naturalization.

SEC. 3. That it shall be the duty of the inspectors of elections, on the production of such certificate, as aforesaid, to examine the same, and on the request of any qualified voter present, who is known as such, to require the evidence by the oath of a known qualified elector, that the applicant to vote is the identical person named in such certificate of naturalization, and to note the name of the person who makes such oath, on the list of voters.

SEC. 4. That the inspectors of elections shall not permit any person so naturalized, as aforesaid, to vote without the production of such certificate as evidence of his right to vote, save he has resided in the district ten years, in accordance with the provisions of section second, when they may receive evidence by oath as is therein provided.

SEC. 5. That it shall be the duty of the inspectors, on the production of such certificate, as aforesaid, and the examination thereof, carefully to retain and keep the same until twelve o'clock, meridian, of the next day succeeding such election, when, or as soon thereafter as it can be conveniently done, such certificate shall be restored to the owner thereof, unless in the meantime an affidavit should be made by a qualified elector before some alderman or justice of the peace, that there is just reason to suspect that such certificate of naturalization is forged, or has been fraudulently obtained or used at such election; in which case it shall be the duty of the inspectors to retain the said certificate until an investigation can be made; or in case of a contested election or criminal prosecution in relation thereto, until the same can be produced in evidence therein.

SEC. 6. That no person otherwise duly qualified, shall be permitted to vote, unless he produce a receipt for the payment of State or county tax within two years, and give satisfactory proof by his own oath or that of another, that he has paid such tax; and if the said tax is a personal tax or assessed on personal property and paid within twenty days immediately preceding the election at which he offers to vote, he shall produce the receipt for the payment of the same, with such satisfactory evidence as aforesaid; on failure to produce a receipt in the case of a tax on real estate or paid more than twenty days before such election, he shall make oath to the payment thereof.

SEC. 7. That it shall be the duty of the inspectors on the production of the receipt, for such personal tax so paid, within twenty days immediately before such election, to examine and carefully keep the same until twelve o'clock, meridian, of the day next succeeding such election, when, or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, they shall return the same to its proper owner, unless in the meantime an affidavit should be made before an alderman or justice of the peace, that there is good ground to believe such receipt to be false, fraudulent or forged, or that the same was fraudulently used at such election; in which case it shall be the duty of the said inspectors to retain such receipt and produce it in evidence in case of contested election or criminal prosecution.

SEC. 8. That it shall be the duty of the collector of taxes, or other officer entitled by law to receive taxes, to whom a personal tax or tax on personal property is paid, which would entitle the person paying the same to vote at any election in this Commonwealth, to express on the face of his receipt for the same, when such tax is paid, within twenty days of the time of such election, the place of residence of the person so paying such tax; and if in a city, the name of the street or alley, and the number of the house; and if the house is not numbered, the name of the cross street nearest thereto, with the name of the township, ward, precinct or district in which he is entitled to vote; and it shall be the duty of such tax collector or officer, to keep a book or register, in which he shall enter such taxes so paid, the name of the person paying, and the district in which he is entitled to vote, with the name and number of his house, if he resides in a city; and he shall, on demand of any citizen, furnish a copy of any entry therein, on payment of the sum of one cent for every ten words therein contained; and no person who has paid such tax, being otherwise qualified, shall be entitled to vote in any other district or precinct than that so expressed in the said receipt, unless he has bona fide changed his residence to another election district or precinct, so as to have become entitled to vote therein under existing laws.

SEC. 9. That it shall be the duty of the inspectors of election in each and every ward of the city of Philadelphia, when they meet as is now provided by law, for the purpose of adding to the list of taxable inhabitants, prepared by the assessor, the names of such citizens as are constitutionally qualified to vote, carefully to inquire whether the person who asks to have his name so added to the said list, is constitutionally qualified to vote; and for that purpose they shall require the same evidence is herein required and as is required by existing laws, to prove at the general election that the person so applying is qualified to vote; and it shall furthermore be their duty when they so add the name of a citizen, so constitutionally qualified, as aforesaid, to give him a certificate thereof, in which shall be stated the ward and precinct, the name of the street or alley, and the number of the house, if the house has such number, or in case the house has no number, the name of the nearest cross street to the house in which he resides; which certificate such citizen shall produce when he offers to vote on such extra assessment, and without which evidence his vote shall not be received at such election; and the said certificate shall, on being so produced, be retained and restored by the inspectors for the time, and in the manner as is provided for the receipt for the payment of personal tax as aforesaid.

SEC. 10. That it shall be the duty of the court of common pleas, or any judge thereof, upon the application of ten citizens, alleging, under the oath of one or more, that they are apprehensive of frauds in any election district, to select and authorize at least three persons to be present with the officers of the election, in such district, during the election, for which they shall be so selected, and at the preparation of the tally paper, and while the said officers are making out and signing the returns of such election; and the persons so selected shall keep a list of the voters voting thereat; noting thereon whether the voter was challenged or objected to or not; the reason of such challenge or objection, and the name of the witness examined; and it shall also be lawful for either of the persons selected, as any other citizen might do, to object to a person offering to vote, and to require the investigation of such objection; and the officers of such election in such election districts are required to afford to the persons so selected and authorized, every convenience and facility for the discharge of their duty; and if the said officers shall refuse to permit the persons selected and authorized as aforesaid, to be present and perform the duties aforesaid, such refusal shall be evidence of fraud in conducting said election in such district, and shall be sufficient to set aside the same; and the persons so selected shall be paid the same amount and in the same manner as is now provided for the payment of the judges and inspectors of elections.

SEC. 11. That if any officer or officers required to perform any duty or duties, by the provisions of this act, shall neglect or refuse to discharge the same, he or they so offending shall be deemed and adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor in office, and on conviction thereof, shall be fined any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, and undergo an imprisonment in the discretion of the court, for a period of not less than thirty days, nor more than one year.

SEC. 12. That the provisions of this act shall be in addition to the existing laws for the regulation and conducting of elections, except where the same are herein altered or supplied.

No. 211.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

NILL, Judiciary—Feb. 4.

AN ACT supplementary to the several acts, relative to the liens of mechanics and materialmen.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That when any master workman or contractor, shall on demand, refuse to pay any journeymen or laborer, employed in erecting or constructing, repairing or extending any building or property belonging, or adjacent thereunto, the wages due to him, it shall be the duty of such journeyman or laborer to give notice in writing to the owner or owners of such building, of such refusal, and of the amount due to him and so demanded; and the owner or owners of such building, shall thereupon be authorized to retain the amount so due, and claimed by any such journeyman or laborer out of the amount, owing by him or them to such master workman or contractor, giving him written notice of such claim and demand; and if the same be not paid or settled by said master workman or contractor, such owner or owners shall retain the amount claimed by said journeyman or laborer until a suit for the recovery of the same shall have been adjudicated by the proper authority; such journeyman or laborer for the same, judgment having first been obtained as aforesaid, shall entitle such owner or owners to any allowance thereof, in the settlement of accounts between him and such master workman or contractor, as so much paid on account: Provided, That the owner or owners of any building or buildings, against which such claim shall be made, shall not be required to pay the same until such journeyman or laborer shall have obtained final judgment against such contractor or contractors; and all costs shall be paid by such contractor or contractors; but if such contractor or contractors are unable to pay the costs, then and in that case, the costs to which the owner or owners may have been subjected, shall be deducted from the moneys coming to such journeyman, laborer or claimant, under the provisions of this act: And it is further provided, That such claimant or claimants, shall bring suit against such contractor or contractors, within one month after giving such notice; and if no suit is brought within said time, then the notice is to have no effect whatever.

No. 202.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

Mr. THORN, Ways and Means—Feb. 4.

RESOLUTION relative to the payment of certain moneys into the State Treasury by the Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Bank of Philadelphia.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the Auditor General, in settling the per centage allowed by the act of twenty-second day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, on the increase of the capital of the Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Bank of the city and county of Philadelphia, he and is hereby directed to charge no per centage on the restoration of the capital of said bank, to the amount allowed by and for which it has already paid a per centage under the provisions of the act of twentieth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, but to charge only the per centage imposed by the act of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, on such increase of capital beyond the amount allowed and already settled for under the act of one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six as may take place under the said act of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven.

No. 200.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

SMITH, (Berks,) Ways and Means—Feb. 4.

AN ACT relative to the increase of State tax.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in any case in which the State Treasurer has failed to give the notice to the county commissioners, as required by the thirty-ninth section of the act of twenty-ninth April, one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, for the space of three months after the increase of the valuation of the assessable property of any county in this Commonwealth, any county or counties thus failed to be notified, shall be released from all liability in consequence of, or by virtue of any increase of valuation of the property thereof.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

062

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 35

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the Legislative Record will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the Record, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union-office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the Record, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 23, 1859.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock, A. M. The SPEAKER in the Chair. Prayer was offered by Rev. J. G. Martz. The Journal was read and approved.

The SPEAKER presented a communication from the State Treasurer, in reply to the resolution passed February 17th, calling upon him for information.

On motion of Mr. GREGG, the communication was ordered to be printed in the Record. It is as follows:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Harrisburg, Feb. 22, 1859.

Hon. JOHN CRESSWELL, JR.,
Speaker of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

In obedience to the resolution of the Senate, passed on the 17th instant, and which is as follows:

"Resolved, That the State Treasurer be requested to inform the Senate whether any demand has been made by him on the Pennsylvania or any other railroad company or companies for the tonnage tax, due from said company to the Commonwealth under their charters; and if so, what amount and for what period of time; the said company or companies may be in arrears, and if they have refused to pay the same; and to communicate to the Senate all information and any correspondence which may have taken place on the subject."

I submit the following answer for the information of the Senate:

The tax on the tonnage, passing over the Pennsylvania railroad, is computed under the twenty-second section of their charter, from the 1st of December to the 20th of July, and from the 20th of July to the 1st of December, and is payable within ten days after those periods of time in each year. The amount due on the 20th of July, 1858, was paid at the proper time. The amount now due for the time intervening between that date and the 1st of December last, is the sum of $87,375.22, the payment of which I demanded, in person, at the company's office in Philadelphia, on the 31st of January last. A portion of this amount, to wit: the tax upon the "legal tonnage," being that portion which is carried between points on the road within the Commonwealth, the company's agents expressed a willingness and determination to pay so soon as the amount could be ascertained; the balance they refused to pay for the reasons set forth in the printed opinion of their counsel, a copy of which was handed to me, being the only paper received by me from the company on the subject, and which I herewith enclose.

It may be proper for me to add, that all the payments heretofore made by the company to me, were made under protest.

The Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy and Lancaster railroad company owe the Commonwealth for tax upon the tonnage passing over the road from the 10th of March to the 1st of December, 1858, the sum of $23,394.42; for which an account was settled on the 7th instant and a copy sent by mail to the office of the company in Philadelphia. I have since had a personal interview with the officers of the company, and learned from them that they intended shortly to pay the amount.

There was due by the Northern Central railroad company on the 30th of November, a balance of $1,322.00 for taxes accruing up to that time. That balance still remains unpaid, notwithstanding an application by letter to the company has been made.

Very respectfully,

H. S. MAGRAW

State Treasurer.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. RANDALL (Finance,) reported with a negative recommendation, House bill No. 228, "An Act to regulate disbursements from the treasury of Allegheny county."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 184, "An Act to exonerate James T. Leonard, prothonotary of Clearfield county, from the payment of costs, taxes, &c., on his commission."

Mr. COFFEY, (same,) as committed, "A joint resolution relative to the pay of W. E. Frazer, late Canal Commissioner."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to refund certain money to Wm. Coulter."

Mr. GREGG, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 197, "An Act relative to the assessment of damages in Thornbury township."

Mr. WELSH, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A joint resolution relative to the purchase of P. W. Sheaffer's new map and statistics, &c."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 150, "An Act to provide for the expenses of a special election held in Luzerne county."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "An Act for the relief of Christopher Hollingsworth, a collector of militia taxes in Lancaster county."

Mr. TURNER, (same,) with amendment, "A joint resolution relative to clerk hire."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to pay the claim of Thomas Duncan, executor of Rebecca H. Duncan, deceased, and James M. Coy."

Mr. BELL, (Judiciary,) with amendment, "An Act relative to auctions in the borough of York."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 222, "An Act relating to the fees of aldermen and constables in criminal and penal cases in the city of Philadelphia, and to issuing process therein."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 227, "An Act declaring Eliza N. Kramer, an adopted daughter of Rev. James Gray of Sa-wickley."

Mr. MILLER, (same,) with a negative recommendation, House bill No. 208, "An Act authorizing the sheriff of Philadelphia to advertise sales of real estate in three daily papers."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 203, "An Act to increase the salaries of the judges of the district court and court of common pleas in Philadelphia."

Mr. BREWER, (same,) as committed, House bill, No. 224, "An Act to repeal an act regulating the manner of voting at the general election in the counties of Wayne and Schuylkill, so far as the said act relates to the county of Schuylkill."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill, No. 298, "An Act to authorize the judges of the court of common pleas, of Beaver county, to make a tariff of costs in equity cases."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A further supplement to an act encouraging the manufacture of iron with coke or mineral coal."

Mr. WELSH, (Estates and Escheats,) as committed, "A supplement to an act to amend certain defects of the law for the more safe and just transmission of real and personal estates."

Mr. PALMER, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act authorizing the Chestnut Hill railroad company to sell certain real estate."

Mr. PENNEY, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to certain real estate of Christian Kneass."

Mr. CRAIG, (Railroads,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Mahanoy railroad company."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Quakake railroad company."

Mr. RANDALL, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to passenger railway companies in Philadelphia."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Mahanoy and Broad Mountain railroad company."

Mr. STEELE, (same,) as committed, "An Act requiring railroad companies to make uniform annual reports."

Mr. COFFEY, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Delaware County passenger railway company."

Mr. SCHINDEL, (Education,) as committed, "An Act to attach Blair county to the Eighth Normal District."

Mr. WELSH, (same,) with amendment, "A supplement to an act incorporating the University of Kittanning."

Mr. FETTER, (Agriculture and Domestic Manufactures,) as committed, "An Act relative to deer in Adams, Berks, Franklin and Fulton counties."

Mr. BREWER, (Militia,) as committed, "A joint resolution relative to the pension bill now before Congress."

Mr. NUNNEMACHER, (Roads and Bridges,) as committed, "An Act to appoint a road commissioner to take charge of a portion of the Warren and Brookville and of the Warren and Strattansville State roads in Forest county."

Mr. FETTER, (same,) with a negative recommendation, House bill No. 249, "An Act to repeal the act of May 16, 1857, authorizing the location of a State road through parts of Washington and Greene counties."

Mr. THOMPSON, (same,) as committed, "An Act to repeal a part of the fourth section of an act to appoint road commissioners to take charge of a portion of the Warren and Ridgway turnpike road company, in Elk and Forest counties."

Mr. WRIGHT called for the reading of an extract from the Journal of the House.

The extract is as follows:

Resolved, That if the Senate concur, the Governor be requested to return House bill No. 126, "An Act to incorporate the Franklin market company."

On motion, the resolution was considered and concurred in.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. WELSH read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act for the relief of the heirs of James Rankin, deceased."

Mr. GREGG, "An Act relative to the borough elections of Jersey Shore, Lyeomg county."

Also, "A supplement to an act relative to the charter of the Lewisburg building association."

Mr. MYER, on leave given, presented the petition of citizens of Burlington borough, Bradford county, praying for the passage of a law regulating elections in said borough.

Also, "An Act regulating the time of opening and closing elections in said borough."

Also, "An Act relative to jurisdiction of courts."

Mr. BALDWIN, "An Act to annex parts of the land of Eli Lichtenberger, in Elizabeth township, to Penn township, Lancaster county."

Mr. PALMER, "An Act authorizing the erection of a lock-up house in Orwigsburg, Schuylkill county."

Also, "An Act to incorporate the borough of Middleport, Schuylkill county."

Mr. MILLER, "A supplement to an act regulating banks, approved April 16, 1850."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. PALMER moved that the joint resolution relative to an appropriation to the Mount Vernon Fund Association, presented by Mr. MILLER, yesterday, be printed in the Record, which was agreed to.

It is as follows:

RESOLUTION relative to the Mount Vernon fund association.

WHEREAS, A number of our citizens, under the name of the "Mount Vernon fund association," are engaged in the patriotic and noble work of raising funds for the purpose of securing the possession of the "home and tomb of Washington," and of making them, like his fame and deeds, the common property of the whole country:

And whereas, A profound sense of gratitude for the inestimable principles of civil and religious freedom, secured to us and our posterity in the Federal Constitution, and achieved for us by the wisdom, virtue and patriotism of "Washington," has at all times, in the most solemn manner, been recognized by the citizens of this entire Commonwealth, and therefore impels us, as their representatives, to re-express their sentiment, and for them and in their behalf, at this time, to pay a becoming and substantial tribute to the memory of him with whose name is blended whatever belongs to the present, the liberty, the free institutions and the renown of our country; therefore

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the sum of two thousand dollars be and is hereby appropriated to "the Mount Vernon fund association," to be applied to the purpose for which that association was organized, and the State Treasurer be authorized to pay the same to the proper officers of the said association out of any moneys not otherwise appropriated.

Mr. RUTHERFORD, moved that the House of Representatives be requested by the Senate, to return House bill, No. 167, "An Act to amend the charter of the borough of North Lebanon, in Lebanon county;" which was twice read, considered and adopted.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the bill relating to evidence; the question being upon the amendment offered by Mr. PALMER, to the eighth line of the fourth section of Senate bill, No. 114, (offered as a substitute by Mr. BELL).

The amendment is to insert the words, "his own or," before the word "counter," in the place above designated.

Mr. BELL said, in substance, he regretted being again compelled to obtrude himself on the attention of the Senate. He trusted his apology would be found in the profoundly important character of the bills under consideration, and the nature of the amendment proposed by the learned Senator from Schuylkill, to the measure propounded by himself, as a substitute to the original bill, introduced by the Senator from Indiana. As the amendment of the former gentleman is of a character to destroy the principle on which the substitute is based, as distinguished from the bill originally introduced by him, in effect assimilating it to the latter measure, the whole subject seems to be re-opened, and calls for the renewed attention of the Senate. He regretted the result, the more particularly as his friend from Schuylkill had emphatically professed himself as the friend of the feature which distinguished his (the speaker's,) measure from that which proposed to admit, without restriction, parties to the record, and those for whose immediate benefit a legal proceeding was instituted, to testify in their own behalf. He felt almost certain his learned friend could not have regarded his amendment as producing this result, and consequently irreconcilable with the sentiments expressed by him during the debate of yesterday. He yet entertained the hope that on again examining it with his usual acumen, he would recognize the propriety of withdrawing it.

He need not reiterate to the Senate the importance of the distinction between the two bills now before it. Each proposed great changes in the law of evidence, in some of its most important features; but the proposition of the Senator from Indiana, in the particular in which it differed from his own, was so radical in its character, that it may be said to suggest to us an entire revolution in this branch of our judicial system. Properly to estimate its character and anticipate its probable effects, in practice, requires all the learning of which we may be possessed, and the utmost limit of observation which the largest experience can confer. We should bring to this subject deliberation without prejudice, inquiry without passion, and if possible secure a conclusion free of the disturbing influences flowing from the pride of preconceived opinions, and irrespective of the heat of debate.

He had, heretofore, taken occasion to advert to the distinguishing feature of the two bills. The subject has engaged judicial and professional attention in England and some of our sister States, and, to some extent, has been the subject of experiment. But the radical change contemplated by the original bill has not been tested, either in England or this country, sufficiently to afford reliable ground of action. In the country which enjoys the boast of being the mother of the common law, it is said the new system, as proposed by the Senator from Indiana, has been successfully tested for a few years. But of this we know nothing satisfactorily. We have no such evidence of this assertion as would warrant us in adopting it as undeniable truth. In this country it is known the professional mind is much divided. In the great State of New York, it has been in operation for little more than a year, and yet, already there a formidable movement has been inaugurated for its repeal. Trial and experience can, therefore, afford us no reliable lights. We are necessarily compelled to examine the two projects submitted upon their abstract merits, and compelled to decide for ourselves whether the law of evidence calls for reformation in Pennsylvania; and, if so, to what extent?

The bill which he had the honor to submit to the Senate, had for its principal object to obliterate from our code of evidence every objection to ordinary witnesses, on the score of interest in the event of the action. That portion of it which relates to parties to the record, and those for whose immediate use the suit is instituted, is incidental and collateral. It may be omitted without interfering with the principal design. Of the propriety of that design, we seem to be agreed, at least so far as any open expression of sentiment has yet been made.—Among the profession of the law, and in the community at large, it cannot be denied there exists differences of opinion, as there will always be in respect to innovations, however apparently reasonable and acceptable. But for his communications, oral and by correspondence, he was strongly inclined to the belief that the time has arrived when the people of Pennsylvania are disposed to accept that modification of the law of evidence he had suggested, not as of his own invention, but as derived from the modified systems of other communities. He would not repeat the argument on this point. It had been lucidly laid before the Senate by those Senators who had addressed themselves to this point, and by none more clearly than the Senator from Indiana. For himself, he had been long satisfied that the rule of exclusion, applied to third parties, was more effective for mischief than for good. It proposed and operated to shut out from the jury box information from the most slightly suspicious source—every ray of light in the slightest degree discolored, lest it might, by possibility, mislead, instead of referring to the intelligence of the jury to distinguish between what was to be trusted and accepted, and what was unworthy and to be rejected.—But he had considered this point somewhat at length on a former occasion, and would not consume the time of the Senate by repetition. The question now is, whether we—whether the legal profession—whether the community at large, are ready to go yet further in the work of alteration—he would not denominate it a reform—and by an upheaving from the bottom of long settled and cherished opinions and practice, decree that hereafter the very actors upon the legal stage, the parties to the action itself, should be heard in their own behalf.

A day or two since, in the course of the debate, he was told by the Senators from Indiana and Crawford, that having conceded the unreasonableness of the rule of exclusion as applied to ordinary witnesses, it is illogical and unphilosophical to constitute an exception in the proposed reform against the parties to the record. That the principle of general admission to testify was of general application; it must be wholly right or wholly wrong; and, if right, no good reason could be given why it should not embrace parties to the action.

Sir, said Mr. BELL, let us not be misled by mere words. They are, it is true, things, when fitly applied, or addressed to the popular heart. The shout of "Liberte, Egalite et Fraternite," toppled down a mighty empire, and bathed a nation in its own blood. The rallying cry of, "God is God, and Mahomet is His Prophet," overturned prior governments and religions, with Christianity itself, and established Mahomedanism as the government and faith of nearly half the world. But when misapplied or irresponsible to the pulsations of the public heart, mere words are worthless. With the utmost courtesy of intention he begged to say that the charge that the distinction presented by him between third interested persons and parties to the record, was "illogical and unphilosophical," must be ranked in the latter category, because of the error of their application. It is sought to give them application to the proposed substitute, because it is avowed there is no difference between the actual suitor, as a witness on the stand, and a third party, though interested. Is there not, asked Mr. B., a difference, and a very wide one too? Does not every Senator recognize the difference, broad and deep? The interested man outside the record may have his prejudices to sway him, but the litigant himself is under the dominion of a mightier power, his passions roused into action not only by the hope of pecuniary gain, but by the fierce and absorbing contest for victory. His personal pride is enlisted; hate of his adversary excited; his reputation, it may be, at stake; and above and beyond all, his mental vision distorted and misdirected by the heat of the contest. He sees through a peculiar medium, warped and discolored by the workings of his own passions. He may not desire to misstate or misrepresent while occupying the witness stand; but alas! such is the frailty of poor humanity, but too many men so situated are almost sure to deceive themselves and so deceive others. Will any professional Senator say this picture is too highly colored? Will not his professional experience teach him that even in the privacy of the professional sanctum, and even under the confidence of confidential communication, men are led to misstate their case, through the promptings of an overweening anxiety for success?

But, said Mr. B., there is another ground of objection to the voluntary introduction of a party as a witness. Men are differently constituted, mentally and physically. Some, quick of perception, ready of speech, adroit in the statement of a case, and skilful in making "the worst appear the better side." What chance would a slow intellect and a bungling speech have in a face-to-face contest with such odds against him? But he had before spoken to this point, and would not again elaborate. The vice of the proposed amendment of the Senator from Schuylkill is that it offers to do that indirectly which the Senator from Indiana, and those who support his scheme of evidence, proposes to effect openly and directly.

But there is yet another and, if possible, a still more decisive objection to the radical change suggested. The public mind is not yet ripe for it. Sir, said Mr. B., public opinion is everywhere, where it has free course, of commanding influence. In this country of republics, where the sovereignty resides in the masses, it is irresistible. The man who attempts to set himself in opposition to it, and any reform in religion, morals, politics or law that would outrun it, is sure to be repudiated and overwhelmed. He had said, he believed the people of the Commonwealth were ready to accept the restricted modification of our system of evidence proposed by his bill. He did not believe this could be said of the extreme measure which forms the distinctive feature of the original proposition. He felt assured of this, and if that proposition be adopted by this Legislature, the consequences of a premature movement will be inevitable. Besides, there is no present necessity for it. Let us try what has been denominated as "the half way measure" first. If this works well in practice—if the community, and especially, the legal profession, are satisfied with its practical operation, the other half step may be taken. There is no necessity for hurry.—In changing an existing system of law, in any of its branches, and more particularly when that system has furnished the men of action for ages, a jealous caution—a suspicious distrust, must always operate with wholesome effect. Let us act under this conservative influence now. Make the changes that apparently recommend themselves as safe, and leave further progress for the improved experience of future years. From this course, no immediate harm can ensue. From an opposite, much evil may result.

In conclusion, Mr. B. begged the Senate not to forget the magnitude of the subject, or the results which might flow from their conclusions. Satisfied that every member was so impressed, he was satisfied they would listen but to the suggestions of enlightened reason, and act solely in reference to the public good.

Mr. PALMER said he would not make what must be an unsuccessful attempt, if he were to undertake it, at an elucidation of the subject, such as had been given to the Senate by the learned and eloquent gentleman from Chester. He was as fully impressed, as the Senator himself, with the importance of the matter under consideration, but he had neither the time or ability to give to it that attention which had been bestowed upon it by the Senator who had just spoken. He should, however, briefly advert to the leading features of the bills under consideration, and the amendments proposed.

The first proposition submitted by both bills, is that the disqualification which has heretofore rested upon a witness, by reason of his conviction of a felony, is unjust, and ought to be removed. There was no difference between them on that point. All were agreed that that disqualification should be removed, and that the evidence should be submitted to the jury, and its credibility determined by them.

The next question is as to how far the disqualification of a witness, on the ground of interest, shall be removed. There is no difference between the Senator from Indiana and the Senator from Chester, except as to parties to the record. He then entered into an examination of the features of the two bills, after which he alluded to the effect of his own amendment. The proposition of the substitute of the Senator from Chester is, that a party to the record may be compelled, in the same manner, and subject to the same rules of examination as any other witness, to testify; but the party calling for such examination, shall not be concluded thereby, but may rebut it by counter testimony. The amendment only goes one step further, and allows the party calling the witness, to take the stand himself, for the purpose of rebutting the declarations of his antagonist, when it cannot be done by other counter testimony.

Mr. PALMER continued, somewhat further, to discuss the relative merits of the two bills, and in advocacy of his amendment.

Mr. BELL rose in explanation of the amendment, and its effects; and cited legal instances in illustration of its injurious operations.

Mr. BREWER said, this is a question of vast importance to the people of Pennsylvania. It is an important question, because it affects the administration of justice, the foundation upon which our whole system of society and government rests. It is an important question, because it involves the interests, the rights, the fortunes, and the reputation of our whole population. I desire to say a few words upon this question, in which I shall give the reasons that shall control my vote.

We have been told, sir, that this reform is necessary. I have long ceased to regard every innovation upon our law, and every change in our form of government, as either a reform in the one case, or an improvement in the other.

Progress, to be salutary, must move with slow and steady steps.

The gentlemen, who have advocated this bill with so much eloquence and power, have appealed to history for a vindication of their opinions. Sir, if experience is the lamp by which our feet are to be guided, in the solution of this question, its calm and steady light does not lead us to the conclusions at which they seem to have arrived. But a few years ago the people of Pennsylvania inaugurated a new and novel feature in the appointment of their judiciary. I allude to the election of the judges of our courts by a vote of the people—the source of all power in our republican form of government. That was then claimed as a most important reform, expressed the popular will, and was sustained by the popular heart. I shall not, now, enter upon a discussion of that change in our system. It is not involved in the question before the Senate. But I think it should be an argument—powerful and conclusive—to the Senator from Chester, who but a few days ago, said, in his place in this body, that that change was unwise, and that we must retrace our steps, and go back to the system which gave to the Executive the appointment of the judges of the courts of this Commonwealth. Had we not then better pause—pause long—before we pass this bill, making a change still more radical than the one alluded to, and which the experience of a few years, as in the case of the judiciary, if the opinion of that Senator is well founded, may prove to be unwise, unnecessary, and dangerous.

But is this change demanded? The profession, in our State, has not asked for this revolution in our time-honored system of jurisprudence. The people of Pennsylvania, as intelligent, as industrious, as honest, and as conservative a population as dwell in peace, contentment and prosperity, upon the broad bosom of the earth, so far from coming here to ask this change—this dangerous change—in our code of administrative justice, are opposed to the provisions of this bill, and believe its operations would bring with it a train of the most stupendous evils and unhappy consequences.

It has been alleged, by the able Senator from Indiana, that injustice is frequently done, and causes determined contrary to their merits, because parties to the record are excluded from the witness stand. Well, if this be so, will not a greater wrong be done by their admission? For who will believe that the man who makes an unjust claim, or defends against a righteous cause, will not, even under the solemnities of an oath, justify the one and vindicate the other? No system can be perfect. The imperfections of our present system are incidents common to all human law, and to all human institutions; and I would say, in the language of that great master of the human heart, quoted by the Senator from Chester, to-day:

"It is better to bear the ills we have Than to rush into those we know not of."

Mr. Speaker, we should hesitate long before we endorse the propositions of the present bill. Under our present system, which is vindicated by the wisdom of the past, and the lessons of experience, we have lived in happiness, and grown to greatness. Justice has been meted out with an equal and impartial hand, as the dews of heaven, to the rich and the poor, to the high and the low. Our courts have been open to every suitor; no matter what position birth may have assigned him, or station conferred upon him; and they have been open to protect the innocent; to guard the heritage of virtue; to shield the friendless, and to defend the little patrimony of orphanage.

What more can the patriot or citizen ask, than such an administration of justice? A people should be happy and contented, where rights are protected and wrongs have their redress.

The gentlemen say, that this supposed reform is only a question of time—that it must come sooner or later. I am in favor of the later period, if it does come. I am in favor of delay upon this question. I am in favor of the maturest consideration. Delays are not always dangerous. The surest and the safest progress is often the most slow and the most cautious. Our own illustrious Washington, whose words of counsel and of affection, well listened to, yesterday, coming, as it were, from his venerated grave; he, who led our armies to victory and guided the councils of the nation to wisdom, was called the Fabius of America, because his great career was marked by the prudence, the caution and the delay, which made the noble Roman the most renowned and successful warrior of his age.

Would it not be the part of wisdom, as well as of patriotism, to imitate now the virtuous example of that great and good man? What reasons have been adduced in favor of the admissibility of parties to the record as witnesses? It has been alleged that the operation of the present rule excludes a man of respectability, and of information upon the subject, because he may be interested to the amount of six cents. But this is no argument against the rule. If an exclusive rule is necessary, upon the ground of interest, the rule must be general in its application. For it is impossible to define what extent or degree of interest shall incapacitate a witness; and as a necessary consequence of the principle, all must be excluded who are interested to any extent, whether that extent be great or small.

It is urged, again, that passion, pride or affection might bias the testimony of a witness, no less than interest. But this is no argument in favor of the exclusion of relations and friends. Where would you draw the line? If you would exclude a father or a son, you must exclude a sister or a brother; why not exclude one associated in life, or bound by the tender cords of friendship? Would it, then, be possible to define the degree of bias or influence which would render the witness incompetent? If not, then it would be unreasonable, as well as illogical, to assign an arbitrary limit not co-extensive with the principle itself.

As I asked before, what arguments substantiated by reason, and vindicated by experience, have been offered in favor of the passage of this bill? We have been pointed to England, and yet, the gentlemen propose to travel much faster than even England went in the direction of this reform. The propositions advocated by the able Senator from Chester, who so long, ornamented, by his vast learning, the Bench, were adopted in England long before the passage of Lord Campbell's bill, which goes the extent of the bill introduced by the Senator from Indiana. If we are to follow her example in anything, let us follow it in that of caution, of prudence, and of delay. Again, we are pointed to the Empire State of New York, where the bill, to which this amendment is offered, has only been in operation for twenty months. How stands the record there? The legislature of that great State, representing the profession all over its borders, and the vast population which have made it great and prosperous, reported, by their Committee on the Judiciary, a bill for the repeal of the law which permits parties to a suit to testify in their own behalf. But it is said that a portion of the Bar have remonstrated against the repeal of that statute. It is true they have. But on what grounds do they resist this repeal? It seems, mainly, because they desire farther time to test the operations of the law. It is said that a portion of the judges of that State have also remonstrated against the repeal. Well, upon what ground do they place their opposition to the repeal of that law? That it "would be inexpedient, until a longer trial of it shall demonstrate that its evils exceed its benefits."

The able and learned Senator from Indiana, admits that the true question is, are the advantages resulting from the admission of all testimony, greater than the evils which follow the exclusion of that kind which is called interested? He argues that they are.

First, because the examination of parties will diminish the number of witnesses to be examined, and the fewer witnesses you have, the less chance there will be for perjury.

This, to my mind, is not correct in fact. Surely, no party to a suit, under the bill proposed by the Senator, would refuse to call any witness, who was important, and could testify to any fact material to the issue, because he, the party, could be a witness for himself. Then, as a necessary consequence, you would have at least two more witnesses in any cause tried under the provisions of this bill. Again, it is alleged, in the same point, that perjury is not confined to persons interested in the controversy. If, then, persons having no interest in the result of the trial, would consent to lay perjury on their souls, where would you find him whose whole estate, whose honor, whose standing in society, and whose reputation, were all dependent upon the issue? It is further said that men, who would carry a cause by foul means, would rather hire others to swear falsely, than to do so themselves. This, in many cases, may be true. But I would ask the Senator, whether those persons who could be purchased, by a pitance, to swear falsely for a stranger, would hesitate to swear, with triumphant infamy, to their own advantage, in cases where they had made themselves the party to the suit?

Second, it is argued that parties and interested witnesses know the facts better than others, for they have more reason to remember them than indifferent persons.

Does this prove the Senator's bill to be right? Does this establish the proposition that they should be admitted to testify in their own case? Why, surely, because a party may know the facts involved in a controversy with another, is no reason why he should be permitted, from his own mouth, to establish those facts; and it is no argument against the temptation that he would have to strengthen every point that bore in his favor, and weaken every circumstance that made in favor of his adversary. Parties never will remember the facts and circumstances, which are unfavorable to their own interests, as well as they remember those which make for them. It is not human nature; it is not the experience of courts.

Third, it is argued that interested witnesses, whether parties or not, will testify under the suspicion excited by their position, and that every one will receive their evidence with instinctive prejudice.

Now, I would ask whether such witnesses should be brought into a court of justice? Should cases, involving the dearest rights of man, and the best interests of society, be determined by suspicious testimony? Should a jury who, this point admits, will listen to this interested, evidenced with prejudice; be asked to render a verdict in accordance with that testimony? When verdicts, which, by their operation, shall sweep away a hard-earned fortune, blast the reputation of an honest citizen, desolate the home of virtue and of love; rob the orphan of his inheritance, are to be rendered upon suspicious testimony, and parried by the perilous oaths of dishonest men, there will be no security for anything that one holds nearest to his heart; there will be no shield left to guard innocence; there will be no power left to vindicate human right or human justice.

Then I think that this change does not contain the elements of progressive civilization—would not be followed with blessings to the people. I am in favor of anything, that would make my native State more happy and prosperous. I am in favor of progress; I am in favor of reform. No hand would be more ready, or more willing than mine, to push on the chariot-wheels of advancing civilization and progressive Republicanism. I would make the broad fields of Pennsylvania more fertile and fruitful; I would multiply the priceless treasures that slumber in the bowels of her majestic mountains; I would swell the hum of well rewarded toil; I would make the whole land vocal with the music of the reaper's song; I would make her broad plains and her fair landscapes one scene of beauty, of peace, of joy and of loveliness. I am in favor of progress, but it is that progress, alone, which springs from the bosom of eternal truth; which is cheered, in its onward march, by the voice of wisdom, and is guided, in its high mission, by the lamp of experience. I am in favor of reform, but it is that reform, alone, which will strengthen the bonds of society, ensure the contentment and swell the prosperity of the people; which will alleviate the sufferings and sorrows, and multiply the joys and the blessings of the human race.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth, being introduced, presented a message from the Governor, which was read, and is as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
Harrisburg, Feb. 23, 1859.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—I have approved and signed the following Acts of the General Assembly, viz:

"A supplement to an act, approved April 3, 1851, entitled 'An Act relating to boroughs,' so far as the same relates to Phoenixville."

"An Act to secure a stricter accountability of certain public officers in Schuylkill county."

"An Act relating to sheriffs' and prothonotaries' costs in Luzerne county."

"An Act to authorize the trustees of the Associate Reformed, now the United Presbyterian congregation in the city of Erie, to sell certain property, and to remove the bodies of persons interred therein."

"An Act for the relief of certain collectors of taxes, in Washington county."

"A supplement to an act incorporating the Railroad car spring company."

"An Act relative to distribution of the Geological Survey of the State."

"An Act to provide for the erection of a house, for the employment and support of the poor of the county of Susquehanna."

"An Act to change the name of the Pittsburg life, fire and marine insurance company."

"An Act to incorporate the Eastern Market company of the city of Philadelphia."

"An Act authorizing and requiring the commissioners of Union county to deliver to the commissioners of Snyder county, certain assessment books belonging to Snyder county."

"An Act relative to the Tipton township election district, in the county of Perry."

"An Act to incorporate the Fairview cemetery association, in Berks county."

"An Act to incorporate the Union mutual insurance company of Montgomery county."

"A supplement to an act to provide for the erection of a house for the employment and support of the poor, in Schuylkill county."

Joint resolution of thanks to Mr. L. H. Hackett.

Joint resolution relative to the pay of Theopiles Snyder, Sergeant-At-Arms of the Senate, for serving writs of election in the Thirteenth Senatorial district.

WM. F. PACKER.
Mr. BALDWIN moved that the further consideration of the bill now before the Senate, be postponed for the present; which was agreed to. Whereupon the same Senator moved to reconsider the vote on the final passage of House bill No. 167, "An Act to amend the charter of the borough of North Lebanon, in Lebanon county," which, in compliance with the request of the Senate, the House of Representatives had returned. The motion was agreed to, and the bill postponed for the present.

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, the House amendment to "An Act to incorporate the Franklin market company," was concurred in. Mr. FRANCIS, from the Committee on Comparative Bills, made a report.

Mr. SCOFIELD moved that the Committee on Finance be discharged from the consideration of a joint resolution relative to the pay of Mr. L. Rogers, clerk to the committee on the contested election case of Matthews vs. McClain, and that the Senate proceed to consider the same, and agreed to.

The resolution being before the Senate, Mr. WRIGHT opposed, briefly, the allowance of mileage. By this resolution, Mr. Rogers receives twice as much mileage as he and other Senators from Philadelphia received. He was willing to allow him mileage to and from Philadelphia, and the regular per diem, but he was not willing to allow him mileage from McKean county. He requested that the subject might lie over, to give Senators an opportunity of investigating the matter.

Mr. SCOFIELD was willing that the matter should lie over until to-morrow; but he said the Senator from Philadelphia was mistaken as to the allowance of mileage to and from Philadelphia. The Senate had passed two bills this winter of the same import as this. He would vote against the allowance of mileage at all, unless a precedent had been established in those cases. He was desirous of putting Mr. Rogers upon the same footing as others.

Mr. SHAEFFER was glad to hear the explanation made by the Senator from Warren. He thought he could not have misapprehended the position taken by him in a similar case—that of the allowance to A. L. Linton. If the principle, however, was wrong, he should oppose it, no matter what was the precedent. The proposition is to give to Mr. Rogers mileage for some one hundred and fifty or two hundred miles, when, in reality, he had not been sent for, but had come here on business of his own. He was opposed to voting that amount of the people's money, in any case where the principle is not correct, no matter what had been the precedent established by the Legislature.

Mr. TURNEY remarked that in both the cases referred to by the Senator from Warren, the resolutions had been negatived by the Committee on Finance, so far as the item of mileage was concerned. But this bill proposes to go further than either of those. He had voted against them, and he should vote against this, because it allowed, in addition to the per diem and mileage, his expenses incurred whilst on his way to and from Philadelphia, and whilst in the city. He is not satisfied with what others receive, but his maw is so capacious, that he requires, in addition to what was allowed to the others, his expenses, about which we know nothing, and which may far exceed all our ideas of economy. He hoped the resolution would not pass, but that the Senate would do itself the justice to vote it down.

Mr. RANDALL suggested that the resolution should be allowed to go to the Committee on Finance. In his own position, as a member of that committee, was this. He had voted against the allowance of mileage in every case, but was willing to vote for a liberal compensation for services rendered. The only place where the claimant can be heard, is before the committee, and he thought an opportunity should be afforded him.

Mr. WELSH hoped the matter would not be referred to the Committee on Finance. He was also a member of that committee, and when this matter was before it, this item of mileage was stricken out. He submitted an amendment that all after the word mileage be stricken out, as follows: "together with actual expenses while in Philadelphia."

Mr. FRANCIS did not know that he was in favor of that. He should vote for the bill in its present shape, for the reason that a precedent had been established in previous cases. The same rule should apply to all cases. It had been the uniform practice to pay mileage, and he cited a contested election case from Philadelphia, in 1837, the facts of which he had gleaned from the Auditor General's Report, in which the allowance of mileage had been made. He was opposed to selecting Mr. Rogers, or any one else, as a starting point now. If, hereafter, the Senate desires to establish a principle that they will refuse this grant of mileage, it would be well enough, and he should vote in favor of it.

The subject was further very briefly discussed by Messrs. RANDALL, SCOFIELD and TURNEY, after which Mr. RANDALL moved that resolution be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On which motion, The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WELSH and Mr. RANDALL, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Blood, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Francis, Miller, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Parker, Randall, Rutherford, Shaeffer, Steele, Thompson, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—19.

NAYS—Messrs. Brewer, Gregg, Harris, Marselis, Myer, Penney, Scofield, Schindel, Turney and Welsh—10.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. MILLER moved that the Senate insist upon its amendments to "a joint resolution relative to the pay of Thomas H. Porter and J. H. Wells," and that the SPEAKER appoint a committee of conference; which was agreed to.

On motion, the Senate adjourned until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Agreeably to order, the Senate met at 3 o'clock.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. BALDWIN, "An Act for the relief of Christopher Hollingsworth, collector of military taxes for Lancaster county." On this bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNEY and Mr. BALDWIN, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Coffey, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Miller, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Rutherford, Scofield, Schindel, Steele, Thompson and Yardley—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Brewer, Marselis, Nunnemacher, Randall, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—8.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. BELL, House bill No. 112, "An Act relating to the opening and grading of new roads in Thornbury township, Delaware county."

On motion of Mr. BREWER, House bill No. 253, "An Act to incorporate the Greencastle and Middleburg turnpike road company."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, House bill No. 222, "An Act relative to the fees of aldermen and constables in criminal and penal cases, in the city of Philadelphia, and to the issuing process therein."

On motion of Mr. FETTER, Senate bill No.

323, "An Act to incorporate the Juniata and Northumberland railroad company."

This bill lies over on second reading.

On motion of Mr. GREGG, "An Act relating to road and bridge viewers in Centre county."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, Senate bill, No. 131, "An Act to incorporate the Union railroad company."

This bill having passed committee of the whole, Mr. MILLER moved to strike out the fifth section.

Mr. MARSELIS hoped the section would be retained. And even with the section, he could not vote for the bill. He considered it a very obnoxious thing.

Mr. RANDALL was willing, if the Senator did not understand it, to allow him any time he would require to examine it.

Mr. MARSELIS continued. He understood enough of it to know that it proposed a collection of all the railroads in the city. He had no desire, at present, to discuss the bill, but he had strong objections to it, and he hoped it would lie over.

The bill, by request, lies over.

On motion of Mr. COFFEY, (the Judiciary Committee having been discharged from its consideration,) House bill, No. 336, "An Act providing for the election of an additional constable in Brady's Bend, Armstrong county."

On motion of Mr. MYER, (the Committee on Election Districts having been discharged from its consideration,) "An Act regulating the election of borough officers in Burlington, Bradford county."

On motion of Mr. PALMER, House bill, No. 281, "An Act to repeal former acts relative to the borough of Schuylkill Haven, in Schuylkill county, and to apply the general provisions of an act relating to boroughs, passed April 24, 1851, to said borough."

Mr. PALMER proposed a new bill as a substitute for the above, which passed committee of the whole and second reading, when it was allowed to lie over.

On motion of Mr. WELSH, Senate bill No. 382, "An Act relating to auctions in the borough of York."

Mr. WELSH moved to re-insert the second section of this bill, which had been stricken out by the committee.

Mr. BELL, as chairman of the Judiciary Committee, said that when the bill was before it, the second section was stricken out, for reasons which were deemed sufficient by the committee. The Senator now proposes to restore that section, thus overriding the action of the committee. He hoped the bill would be allowed to lie over, as it was an important bill, so that there may be an opportunity afforded of examining it.

Mr. WELSH briefly advocated the propriety of restoring the section stricken out of the bill, and explained its object. It was intended to apply, simply, to the borough of York, and its object was to prevent the itinerant auctioneers of trashy books, who settle down in the borough for a few days, from flooding it with their publications. He hoped it would be disposed of to-day, one way or other.

Mr. BELL rejoined, that a proper respect to the Judiciary Committee would suggest that no such hurried legislation should be had as that desired by the Senator from York.

Mr. MILLER remarked, with reference to the section, that in committee it was considered very objectionable. He was opposed to the section, and hoped the Senate would vote it down. He was in favor of free trade in literature, and did not think the restrictions imposed by the section just and proper.

Mr. SCOFIELD hoped the Senator from Chester would withdraw his motion to postpone. The Senator from York had presented his amend-mont, and he thought they understood it well enough to vote upon it to-day. He knew something of the feeling of the people of York, by that of other places, among jewellers, booksellers, &c., against persons coming from abroad, with worthless articles, and defrauding the people. But he should vote against the section, because, while he agreed as to its beneficial effects, he thought the passage of the bill, as amended, would be throwing around the borough of York a protection not extended to other places. He preferred, when the subject was under legislative consideration, that an act might be passed applying to all the counties of the State.

Mr. BELL withdrew his motion to postpone. On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the amendment proposed by Mr. WELSH?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BELL and Mr. WELSH, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Blood, Craig, Fetter, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Marselis, Nunemacher, Palmer, Parker, Raudall, Rutherford, Schindel, Steele, Turacy, Welsh and Wright—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Miller, Myer, Penney, Scofield and Cresswell, Speaker—6.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the bill passed as amended.

On motion of Mr. MILLER, (the Committee on Roads and Bridges having been discharged from its consideration,) "An Act to incorporate the Waynesburg turnpike road company."

On motion of Mr. FRANCIS, Senate bill No. 223, "An Act relative to auctions and auctioneers in Lawrence county."

On leave given, Mr. HARRIS read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "A supplement to an act to establish a land office, passed May 9, 1781."

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, House bill No. 227, "An Act declaring Eliza N. Kramer an adopted child of Rev. James Gray, of Sewickly."

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, Senate bill No. 335, "An Act authorizing Robert Given, of Westmoreland county, to build a dam across the Conemaugh river."

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, the Senate resumed the consideration of House bill No. 167, "An Act to amend the charter of North Lebanon, in Lebanon county;" and, on his motion, the proviso to the last section (inserted by the Senate committee) was stricken out. The bill passed as amended.

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, "An Act declaring Knapp's creek, in M'Kean county, a public highway."

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, House bill No. 143, "An Act relating to the borough of Lebanon."

The hour of five having arrived, the Senate adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 23, 1859.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock, by Mr. S. B. CHASE, Speaker pro tem.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. C. A. Hay, of the English Lutheran church, Harrisburg, Pa.

The Clerk read the Journal of last evening.

Mr. M'CLURE rose to a question of privilege. He moved that the vote by which the resolution relative to the pay of Lucien Rogers, was passed, a few days since, be re-considered; which was agreed to.

And the question recurring, Shall the resolution pass?

Mr. M'CLURE moved to amend the same, by allowing the said Rogers three dollars per day for thirty-eight days, together with the usual mileage and his actual expenses while attending on the committee; which was adopted.

On motion of Mr. M'CLURE, the bill relative to the penalty of marrying minors was re-committed to the Committee on the Judiciary System.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. NILL submitted a resolution that hereafter the House meet at nine o'clock, A. M.; which was read the second time.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved to amend the same, by making the time of meeting at nine and a-half o'clock; which was agreed to; and the resolution as amended was adopted—forty-two voting for and twenty against the same.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) offered a resolution, that the Private Calendar be taken up as soon as the regular orders of the morning are gone through with; and that an afternoon session be held, if necessary, to complete the calendar.

Mr. FOSTER moved so to amend the resolution as to proceed to the consideration of public in lieu of private bills; which was not agreed to.

The question recurring, shall the resolution pass?

Mr. WALBORN called for a division of the same.

And on the question will the House agree to the first division—to proceed to the consideration of private bills immediately after the regular order? it was determined in the affirmative.

And on the question will the House agree to the second division—to have an afternoon session if necessary? it was also agreed to.

Mr. HARDING offered a resolution that the use of the Hall of the House be granted to Dr R. Sheltou Mackenzie, literary editor of The Press, for the purpose of delivering a lecture on next Thursday evening; which was adopted.

Mr. THORN offered a joint resolution requesting the Governor to return, for amendment, the act to incorporate the Franklin market company of Philadelphia; which was adopted.

Mr. WILSON offered a resolution that the report of the Canal Commissioners relative to the claim of the borough of Bridgewater and other citizens, for damages sustained by the construction of the Erie division of the Pennsylvania canal, be referred to the Committee on Claims; which was adopted.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE submitted the following joint resolution; which was read, and under the rules, laid over for one day:

Resolved, That the Attorney General be, and is hereby required to furnish this House with a full and complete statement, within six days hereafter, of the names, residence and amount of claims due the Commonwealth from defaulters; which were placed in his hands for collection, from January 1, 1858, to January 1, 1859. Also, a statement exhibiting the names and amount collected, and the names and amount collectable and uncollectable, of claims yet remaining in his hands.

And further, That the Auditor General be also required, within the above specified time, to furnish a complete and similar statement of all defaulters not yet placed in the hands of the Attorney General for collection.

Mr. WAGONSELLER asked and obtained leave to withdraw the petition and accompanying documents of Jacob Seabold, who applied at the last session of the Legislature for a divorce from his wife.

Mr. THORN asked and obtained leave of absence for James Williams, an officer of the House, for a few days from to-day.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. KINNEY, (Education,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the school directors of Auburn, Schuylkill county, to borrow money."

Mr. KENEAGY, (Election Districts,) as committed, "A supplement to the act approved, April 20, 1854, relative to establishing and changing places of holding elections within this Commonwealth."

Mr. PRICE, (Railroads,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to incorporate the Arch Street passenger railroad company."

Mr. BURLEY, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to incorporate the Citizens' passenger railway company of Pittsburg, Allegheny county."

Mr. FOSTER moved that the same be re-committed to the select committee composed of the Allegheny members.

Mr. BAYARD hoped the bill would not be re-committed.

Mr. FOSTER said that the only object contemplated by the re-committal, was a saving of time. Many amendments would no doubt be offered, and the consequent difficulties would be greatly lessened if the bills were referred to the special committee of members from Allegheny county.

Mr. IRISH did not see any object which would be attained by the re-committal, except the very one which the gentleman had deprecated, viz: a loss of time. The bill had been read in the early part of the session, and referred to an appropriate committee, by whom it had been reported. It should be allowed to come up in its due place for consideration. He hoped that the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. FOSTER,) would not prevail.

Mr. McDOWELL opposed the motion of Mr. FOSTER.

And the question being taken, It was determined in the negative.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. WILCOX read in his place, and presented to the Chair, "An Act relating to the collection of school taxes in McCalmont township, Jefferson county."

Mr. KINNEY, "An Act in relation to fences, in Franklin township, Bradford county."

Mr. WITHROW, one relative to the taxation of certain farms adjoining the borough of McVeytown, for school purposes.

Also, one for the relief of Theodore Franks, of Mifflin county.

Mr. HILL, "An Act to incorporate the Whitmarsh and Cheltenham turnpike road company, of Montgomery county."

Mr. GALLEY, "An Act to incorporate the Layton bridge company, in Fayette county, and to authorize the commissioners of said county to make a donation to said company;" which was taken up and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. PINKERTON, "An Act to incorporate the town of Middleport, Schuylkill county, into a borough."

Mr. BURLEY, "An Act to attach parts of Juniata township to Allegheny township, Blair county, for school purposes."

Mr. WOLF, "A supplement to an act to authorize Henry Wilton to construct a dam or breaker in the river Susquehanna," dated April 3d, 1851.

Mr. CHURCH, one to incorporate the Philadelphia and New Orleans steam navigation company.

Mr. KINNEY, "An Act repealing an act establishing a ferry over the Susquehanna river, at or near Ulster, Bradford county," approved 27th March, 1855, and the several supplements thereto.

Mr. ABBOTT, one relative to the sale and purchase of the Falls of Schuylkill bridge, Philadelphia; which was taken up and passed, and sent to Senate for concurrence.

Mr. M'CURDY, one to incorporate the Belles Lettres society of Dickinson college.

Mr. PROUDFOOT, one to incorporate the Ebensburg and Cresson railroad company.

Also, one to erect the town of Johnstown, Cambria county, into a borough.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, a supplement to amend the fifth section of the militia law, passed 21st April, 1858.

Mr. NILL, one relating to railroads. (The provisions of this bill compel the railroad companies of the State to keep their ticket offices open one hour previous to the departure of their passenger trains.)

Mr. FEARON, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Clinton county coal company; authorizing the bondholders to organize a company under the name, style and title of the Eagleton coal company."

Mr. WILSON, "An Act relative to the claim of the borough of Bridgewater, for damages sustained by the construction of the Erie division of the Pennsylvania canal."

Also, "An Act relative to the claim of Matilda R. Bitner, for damages sustained by the construction of the same canal."

Also, "An Act relative to the claim of Mary M. Hemphill, for damages sustained by the construction of same canal."

Also, "An Act relative to the claim of J. H. Wilson, trustee, for the use of Carolina Hemphill and children, for damages sustained by the construction of same canal."

Mr. WAGONSELLER, one relating to public roads in Snyder county.

Also, one relating to rate of interest.

Also, "An Act to incorporate the Evangelical Lutheran synod, of West Pennsylvania."

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) one to incorporate the Mohoning railroad company, and relating to the Lehigh Valley railroad company.

Mr. FOSTER, "An Act to extend the jurisdiction of district courts, in Allegheny county."

Mr. WHITMAN, one to lay out a public park in Harrisburg, to be called Harris' park.

Also, one to incorporate the Paxton railroad company.

Mr. PENNELL, one for the better protection of game and insectivorous birds.

Mr. KENEAGY, one to incorporate the Strasburg and Millport turnpike road company.

Mr. PRICE, one relative to the sale of real estate by assignees and trustees by an order of court, so that the sale so made be invested with the character of a judicial sale by divesting the liens.

Also, "Supplement to the act authorizing the Governor to appoint commissioners to investigate the Lancaster savings institution."

Mr. GRITMAN, the following; which were taken up and passed; and ordered that they be sent to the Senate for concurrence:

"An Act to establish a place for holding elections in the city of Carbondale, Luzerne county."

Also, "An Act to establish a place for holding elections in the township of Carbondale, county of Luzerne."

Mr. PUGHE, "A supplement to the act incorporating the city of Carbondale, Luzerne county, passed March 15, 1851."

Mr. WOODRING, "An Act relative to the time in which courts are required to file their charges and decide motions for new trials."

Mr. QUIGLEY, "An Act relative to Reed street, Philadelphia."

Also, one relative to the Scott Legion.

Also, "A supplement to the act for the better preservation of game."

Mr. HARDING, "An Act to incorporate the Delaware homestead and building association of Philadelphia."

Mr. ABBOTT, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the West Philadelphia mutual savings fund and trust company."

Mr. GLATZ, "An Act to incorporate the Wrightsville and Canadocholy turnpike road company."

Mr. CHURCH, on leave, from the Committee on Corporations, reported as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia and New Orleans steam navigation company;" and on his motion, the rules being in this case dispensed with, said bill was taken up and considered.

Mr. HARDING moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed, and that the same be printed.

Mr. CHURCH opposed the motion. The object of the bill was to advance the commercial interests of Philadelphia, and he was astonished that any member of the Philadelphia delegation should oppose its immediate passage.

Mr. HARDING replied that he was unwilling to vote for a bill which he had not even seen.—It would be delayed but a few days—until it was printed—and he was of the opinion that the interests of Philadelphia would not be jeopardized in the least by the delay.

Mr. THORN spoke against the motion to postpone the bill. The object of the bill was to consolidate capital sufficient to build two steamships to ply between Philadelphia and New Orleans. Those interested were unwilling to act in the matter until an act of incorporation had first been secured.

Mr. WALBORN hoped the motion to postpone would be voted down.

Mr. PRICE did not understand the bill as read by the Clerk. He desired to have the bill printed, so that he could vote upon the bill understandingly. Other members, he apprehended, desired to have the same privilege.

Mr. NEALL could not see the propriety of postponing the further consideration of the bill at this time. It was fair and unexceptionable in its provisions, and urged its immediate passage.

Mr. CHURCH hoped the bill would not be delayed—least of all, by none representing Philadelphia. He would not press its immediate passage, if he did not think the importance of the measure demanded it. He would not ask the House to do anything which might be deemed improper. The bill was a fair one; and if the House pass the same they will promote the interests of Philadelphia.

Mr. HAMERSLY favored the immediate passage of the bill.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to postpone?

It was determined in the negative.

Said bill was then read the second and third time, and passed; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to Senate for concurrence.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) presented "An Act relative to the manner of payment of coupons."

Mr. PROUDFOOT, "A further supplement to the act to incorporate the Cambria iron company."

Extract from the Journal of the Senate relative to the borough of North Lebanon, was read and concurred in.

Mr. WILLISTON presented "An Act authorizing the Bostwick iron company to mine coal, &c."

Mr. HAMERSLY called up House bill No. 278, "Supplement to the act to repeal certain acts of Assembly upon non-payment of enrolment tax; which was passed and sent to Senate for concurrence."

Resolution relative to the final adjournment of the Legislature came up in order.

Mr. WALBORN moved that the further consideration of the same be postponed for the present; which was not agreed to.

On the question, will the House suspend the rule and read the resolution the third time by its title?

The yeas and nays were required Mr. WALBORN and Mr. GLATZ, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Ellmaker, Galley, Glatz, Graham, Gratz, Green, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Keneagy, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mohaffey, McClure, M'Curdy, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Quigley, Rohrer, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stoneback, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Wagonseller, Walker, Warden, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Withrow, Wolf and Woodring—61.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Evans, Fisher, Foster, Gray, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, M'Dowell, Neall, Prieo, Styer, Walborn and Wilson—16.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The question now recurring, shall the bill pass?

Mr. FISHER made a motion that the further consideration be postponed for the present, as many of the members were not in their seats; which was not agreed to.

And the question again recurring,

Shall the resolution pass?

It was determined in the affirmative.

The act incorporating the Franklin market company having been returned to the House, Mr. THORN asked the unanimous consent of the House to make an amendment to the same; which was granted, and the amendment was inserted.

On motion of Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) the rules being dispensed with, Senate bill No. 363, "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Paddy's Run bridge company," was taken up and passed finally.

Mr. HAMERSLY gave notice that he would move a re-consideration of the vote, by which the resolution relative to the final adjournment of the Legislature passed the House this morning.

Agreeably to order, the House proceeded to the consideration of bills upon the Private Calendar.

The following were then taken up, and no objections being made, were laid aside for second reading:

No. 122. "An Act to incorporate the village of Corsica, in the county of Jefferson, into a borough."

No. 270. "An Act to incorporate the Council Ridge and White Haven railroad company."

No. 271. "An Act authorizing a change of the name, style and title of the Allegheny and Bald Eagle railroad, coal and iron company, in Centre county."

No. 273. "An Act to revive the charter of the Lancaster, Lebanon and Pine Grove railroad company."

No. 275. "An Act to incorporate the Newry railroad company, in Blair county."

No. 288. "An Act to incorporate the Dime savings institution of Pottsville."

No. 292. "An Act authorizing Asa Dimock, administrator of the estate of his son, Lafayette G. Dimock, late of Harrisburg, deceased, to sell and convey certain unimproved and unproductive lands belonging to said estate."

No. 293. "An Act to increase the pay of the supervisors of Tremont township, Schuylkill county."

No. 301. "A supplement to an act laying a tax on dogs in the borough of West Chester and certain townships in the county of Chester, and for other purposes, approved April 14, 1846."

Sen. 201. "An Act to authorize the Frankford and Oxford turnpike road company."

No. 310. "An Act authorizing the State Treasurer to pay the claim of Gonder and Burke, late contractors on the Allegheny Portage railroad."

No. 312. "An Act to change the lines of the borough of California, in the county of Washington."

No. 313. "Supplement to an act authorizing the Governor to incorporate the Norristown, Bridgeport and King of Prussia turnpike road company."

No. 314. "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Newtown Square and Paoli plank road company, approved the 9th day of January, 1853."

No. 316. "A supplement to the act incorporating the Tuckahoe and Mount Pleasant plank road company."

No. 317. "An Act to appoint road commissioners to take charge of a portion of the Milesburg and Smithport turnpike road, in the counties of Clearfield and Elk."

No. 318. "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Johnstown and Scalp Level turnpike road company."

No. 319. "An Act relating to the borough of Lebanon."

No. 320. "Supplement to the act incorporating the borough of Kittanning."

Sen. 158. "An Act to incorporate the Mount Olivet cemetery association, of York county."

Sen. 162. "An Act to extend the limits of the borough of Pottsville, in the county of Schuylkill."

No. 323. "An Act to incorporate Phoenix Homestead building association."

No. 325. "An Act to incorporate the Fairmount and Manayunk steamboat company."

No. 327. "An Act to change the name of Denuska gas company, of Allentown, Lehigh county."

Sen. 160. "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Johnstown woollen manufacturing company."

No. 330. "An Act to incorporate the Union cemetery association of the borough of Lebanon and its vicinity."

No. 332. "An Act to repeal an act in relation to the division of the borough of Uniontown, Fayette county."

No. 335. "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Marshall Savings institution of Philadelphia."

No. 339. "An Act to incorporate the Suffolk park association."

No. 340. "An Act to incorporate the Presque Isle dock company."

No. 341. "An Act relative to Whitney street, in the city of Philadelphia."

BILLS OBJECTED TO.

The following bills came up in order, and were objected to:

By Mr. TAYLOR, "An Act erecting the county of Pine, out of parts of the counties of Indiana, Jefferson, Cambria and Clearfield."

By Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) "An Act relative to passenger railway companies in Philadelphia."

By Mr. GALLEY, "An Act erecting parts of Washington, Fayette, Allegheny and Westmoreland counties into a new county, to be called Monongahela."

By Mr. BARNESLEY, "An Act incorporating the Fairmount market company."

By Mr. PRICE, "An Act to incorporate the Union market company, of Philadelphia."

By Mr. HARDING, "An Act to incorporate the Farmers' market company."

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented a message from the Governor, as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
Harrisburg, Feb. 23, 1859.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—I have approved and signed the following Acts of the General Assembly, viz:

On the 16th instant:

"A supplement to an act approved April 3d, 1851, entitled 'An Act regulating boroughs, so far as relates to the borough of Phoenixville.'"

On the 17th instant:

"An Act to secure a stricter accountability of certain public officers in Schuylkill county."

"An Act relating to sheriffs' and collectors' costs in Luzerne county."

"An Act to authorize the trustees of the Associate Reformed, now the United Presbyterian congregation, in the city of Erie, to sell certain property, and to remove the bodies of persons interred therein."

"An Act for the relief of certain collectors of taxes in Washington county."

"A supplement to an act incorporating the railroad car spring company, approved the 14th of April, A. D. 1858."

"An Act relative to the distribution of the geological survey of the State."

On the 18th instant:

"An Act to provide for the erection of a house for the employment and support of the poor of the county of Susquehanna."

"An Act to change the name of the Pittsburg life, fire and marine insurance company."

"An Act to incorporate the Easton market company of the city of Philadelphia."

"An Act authorizing and requiring the commissioners of Union county to deliver to the commissioners of Snyder county certain assessment books belonging to Snyder county."

On the 21st instant:

"An Act relative to the Juniata township election district in the county of Perry."

"An Act to incorporate the Fairview cemetery association in Berks county."

On the 22d instant:

"An Act to incorporate the Union mutual insurance company of Montgomery county."

"A supplement to an act to provide for the erecting of a house for the employment and support of the poor in the county of Schuylkill, passed the 4th of April, A. D. 1831."

"Joint resolution of thanks to Mr. L. Hacheffe."

"Joint resolution relative to the pay of Theophilus Snyder, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, for serving writs of election in the Thirteenth Senatorial District."

WM. F. PACKER.

The hour of one having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until this afternoon, at three o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House met again at 3 o'clock, and was called to order by Mr. S. B. CHASE.

The House resumed the consideration of bills on the Private Calendar.

The following were read, and no objection being made, laid aside and prepared for second reading:

No. 342. "An Act to amend the road laws of Montgomery county."

No. 344. "An Act for the appointment of an additional notary public at Pittston, Luzerne county."

No. 346. "An Act to authorize the appointment of an additional notary public in the county of Chester."

No. 347. "An Act relative to the administration of justice in Mercer county."

No. 348. "An Act for the better regulation of billiard rooms, bowling-saloons and ten-pin alleys in the county of Chester."

Supplement to the act relating to liens of mechanics, &c.

No. 350. "An Act for the relief Rachel Robinson, widow of an old soldier of the Revolution."

No. 351. "An Act for the relief of Lewis Six, of Greene county, an old soldier in the Indian wars of 1792."

No. 352. "An Act for the relief of Mary Washington, widow of an old soldier."

No. 353. "An Act to authorize the payment of the claim of James Bell, Blair county."

No. 355. "An Act relative to the claim of William Porter, for damages sustained by the construction of the Erie extension of the Pennsylvania canal, &c."

No. 356. "An Act for the relief of Stephen H. Lauchlin."

No. 358. "An Act authorizing the school directors of the borough of Uniontown, in Fayette county, to borrow money."

No. 360. "An Act abolishing the separate school district erected out of a portion of the township of Upper Merion, in the county of Philadelphia."

No. 367. "A supplement to an act incorporating the borough of Scranton."

No. 372. "An Act for the relief of Rachel George, widow of an old soldier."

No. 187. "An Act relative to the Delaware Division canal company of Pennsylvania."

No. 221. "An Act for the registration of births, marriages and deaths in the city of Philadelphia."

No. 223. "An Act to abolish the board of health of the city and port of Philadelphia, and to provide for the appointment of commissioners of health for said city and port."

No. 242. "An Act to incorporate the Missin County Bank."

No. 266. "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Big Mountain improvement company, approved April 12, 1851."

No. 268. "An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia theatre company."

"An Act to incorporate the Citizens' passenger railway company, in the city of Pittsburgh, came up in order, and was objected to by Mr. FOSTER, for the reason that the interests of the people of Pittsburgh were not sufficiently protected in the provisions of the bill."

Mr. HARDING withdrew his objections to the act incorporating the Farmers' Market company.

On motion of Mr. WILCOX, the House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of bills on Private Calendar. Whereupon, the following were taken up and passed; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

No. 122. "An Act to incorporate the village of Corsica, in the county of Jefferson, into a borough."

No. 270. "An Act to incorporate the Council Ridge and White Haven railroad company."

No. 271. "An Act authorizing a change of the name, style and title of the Allegheny and Bald Eagle railroad, coal and iron company, in Centre county."

No. 273. "An Act to revive the charter of the Lancaster, Lebanon and Pine Grove railroad company."

No. 275. "An Act to incorporate the Newry railroad company, in Blair county."

No. 288. "An Act to incorporate the Dime savings institution of Pottsville."

No. 292. "An Act authorizing Asa Dimock, administrator of the estate of his son, Lafayette G. Dimock, late of Harrisburg, deceased, to sell and convey certain unimproved and unproductive lands belonging to said estate."

No. 293. "An Act to increase the pay of the supervisors of Tremont township, Schuylkill county."

No. 301. "A supplement to an act laying a tax on dogs in the borough of West Chester and certain townships in the county of Chester, and for other purposes, approved April 14, 1846."

Sen. 201. "An Act to authorize the Frankford and Oxford turnpike road company."

No. 312. "An Act to change the lines of the borough of California, in the county of Washington."

No. 313. "Supplement to an act authorizing the Governor to incorporate the Norris town, Bridgeport and King of Prussia turnpike road company."

No. 314. "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Newtown Square and Paoli plank

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 39.

road company, approved the 9th day of January, 1853."

No. 317. "An Act to appoint road commissioners to take charge of a portion of the Milesburg and Smethport turnpike road, in the counties of Clearfield and Elk."

No. 318. "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Johnstown and Scalp Level turnpike road company."

No. 320. "Supplement to the act incorporating the borough of Kittanning."

Sen. 158. "An Act to incorporate the Mount Olivet cemetery association, of York county."

Sen. 162. "An Act to extend the limits of the borough of Pottsville, in the county of Schuylkill."

No. 323. "An Act to incorporate the Phoenix Homestead building association."

No. 325. "An Act to incorporate the Fairmount and Manayunk steamboat company."

No. 327. "An Act to change the name of Denuska gas company of Allentown, Lehigh county."

Sen. 160. "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Johnstown woollen manufacturing company."

No. 330. "An Act to incorporate the Union cemetery association of the borough of Lebanon and its vicinity."

No. 332. "An Act to repeal an act in relation to the division of the borough of Uniontown, Fayette county."

No. 335. "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Marshall's savings institution of Philadelphia."

No. 339. "An Act to incorporate the Suffolk park association."

No. 340. "An Act to incorporate the Presque Isle dock company."

No. 341. "An Act relative to Whitney street, in the city of Philadelphia."

No. 342. "An Act to amend the road laws of Montgomery county."

No. 344. "An Act for the appointment of an additional notary public at Pittston, Luzerne county."

No. 347. "An Act relative to the administration of justice in Mercer county."

Mr. PENNEL moved to include Delaware county; agreed to.

No. 350. "An Act for the relief of Rachel Robison, widow of an old soldier of the Revolution."

No. 351. "An Act for the relief of Lewis Six, of Green county, an old soldier in the Indian wars of 1792."

No. 352. "An Act for the relief of Mary Washington, widow of an old soldier."

"An Act authorizing the State Treasurer to pay the claim of Burke and Gonder, late contractors on the Allegheny Portage railroad," came up in order.

Mr. WILLISTON said that the parties had no valid claim to the amount of the bill, and that the House had been sufficiently liberal during the session.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) said that the bill had been referred last session to a special committee. Their report was to be found on page 669 of the Journal, and indicated that the claim was a just one. It was certainly a large amount, but it was justly due. He would have the report of the committee read if any gentleman wished it.

Mr. WILLISTON inquired how long it had been since the work was done.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) said that it was done in 1854.

Mr. THORN did not care how old a claim was, if it was a just one. But he was told that this was an old claim, which the Canal Board had rejected in 1856, and which the Legislature of 1858 had considered, but had taken no action on. This was a certain bill which required the State Treasury to pay these old contractors $11,977 out of moneys not otherwise appropriated, and which did not state what the amount was for. He submitted to the gentlemen who had been on the committee, that this clause, or rather this act, was not explicit.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) proposed as an amendment to the bill, that words should be inserted which would make the recompense in full for all claims of the contractors. Agreed to.

Mr. KINNEY moved to postpone for the present.

Mr. WILLISTON said that the bill might now very properly be disposed of.

Mr. KINNEY withdrew the motion.

It was renewed by Mr. IRISH.

Mr. M'CLURE moved to amend the motion by postponing indefinitely.

Mr. M'CLURE opposed the bill, and said that last session the members would not entertain it at all. If the State really owed these men, they could go to the accounting officers and have the matter adjusted. They had received pay according to the terms set forth by the State engineer. Last session the matter had been before the Committee of Claims, but their opportunities of investigation were not good. Let the men go to the Auditor General.

Mr. KENEAGY said that the House was as well prepared to act on the bill now, as at any other time. He had examined the claim and testimony, and believed that the demand was just. There was no reason to set it aside, because the Canal Board had rejected it. He called for the reading of the report of the committee of last year.

Mr. THORN had been a member of the Committee on Claims in 1857, to whom the matter had been referred. In 1858 a new bill was brought forward and was not acted on. Now this bill was brought forward. Let the bill go to the Auditor General.

Mr. WAGONSELLER said that the report of the special committee of 1858, had already been before the committee of this session. He hoped that it would not now be read.

Mr. M'CLURE wished to know who had charge of the bill.

Mr. WALBORN hoped that the House would not indefinitely postpone the bill, but would give the members an opportunity to examine it.

Mr. LAWRENCE said that he was opposed to the indefinite postponement.

Mr. M'CLURE said that as the gentlemen from Dauphin were both absent, and as they were interested in the bill, he would withdraw his motion to postpone indefinitely.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) said that the Committee on Claims had thought the bill right.

Mr. WILLISTON moved to amend the motion to postpone for the present, by postponing until next Saturday. Agreed to.

"An Act to incorporate the Farmers' market company," came up in order.

Mr. ACKER moved to amend the same, by striking out of the second section the words, "and such other articles as the board of managers may deem proper;" which was agreed to.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved further to amend, by giving said company the privilege to locate their house west of Eighth and north of Market street, Philadelphia."

Mr. HAMERSLY could not see the effect such an amendment would have. In his estimation, it amounted to nothing at all.

Mr. CHURCH did not desire to oppose the amendment—the house should have a locality. But in order to give him time to examine the bill, he moved the postponement of its further consideration; which he subsequently withdrew.

Mr. CHURCH moved to limit the commissioners in locating this house, to the district north of Vine, south of Spring Garden and east of Broad.

Mr. ACKER moved to modify the amendment, by making it north of Market, west of Eighth and east of Broad; which was accepted.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was negatived; and the bill was passed; and ordered to be sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) moved that the House do now adjourn; which was not agreed to.

"An Act to authorize the payment of the claim of James Bell, of Blair county," came up in order, was transcribed for a third reading, and laid over under the rule.

On motion of Mr. PEIRCE, House bill No. 346, "An Act to authorize the appointment of an additional notary public in Chester county," was amended so as to read three notaries instead of one, to be located at Coatesville, Phoenixville and Oxford; which was agreed to, and the bill as amended, passed the House.

On motion of Mr. PEIRCE, House bill No. 348, "An Act for the better regulation of billiard rooms, &c., in Chester county," was amended by the insertion of the word "knowingly" to come in after the word "allegedly" in the ninth line, so as to read "knowingly allowing."

And the bill as amended passed the House.

Mr. PEIRCE moved to amend bill No. 349, "A supplement to the act relating to the lien of mechanics, &c.," as follows:

And provided also, That no lien shall be acquired for such work or material, unless the same be done and furnished at the instance of the owner of such building or his authorized agent; which was agreed to, and the bill as amended, passed the House.

"An Act relative to the claim of William Porter, for damages sustained by the construction of the Erie extension of the Pennsylvania canal," came up in order; and on motion of Mr. M'CLURE, postponed for the present.

Mr. WALBORN moved that the House do now adjourn,

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALBORN and Mr. HARDING, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Barlow, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Campbell, Chase, Dodds, Durboraw, Green, Harding, Keneagy, Mahaffey, Shafer, Walborn, Walker, Wiley and Wilson—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Barnsley, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Burley, Church, Custer, Dismant, Eckman, Evans, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Hot-tenstine, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) McDowell, Neall, Oaks, Peirce, Pinkerton, Quigley, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Warden, Williams, (Bedford,) Wolf and Woodring—39.

So the question was determined in the negative.

"An Act to vest the Girard schoolhouse, of Philadelphia," came up in order.

Mr. SMITH, (Philadelphia,) moved to amend the same, so as to devote the house exclusively to school purposes.

Mr. THORN said the bill had been carefully drawn up by the city solicitor, and thought the amendment might injure it.

Mr. CHURCH advocated the immediate passage of the bill. He saw no objection to the amendment offered by his colleague, but was of opinion that the bill ought to remain as it had been originally drawn.

Mr. SMITH, (Philadelphia,) spoke briefly in favor of the amendment proposed by himself.

Mr. KINNEY thought the amendment was fair, and would cheerfully vote for it. Pending the further consideration of the above, the hour of 6½ having arrived, Mr. McCLURE moved that the House do now adjourn; which was agreed to.

Whereupon the SPEAKER adjourned the House until to-morrow, at 9½ o'clock, A. M.

SENATE.

THURSDAY, Feb. 24, 1859.

The Senate met, and was called to order by the SPEAKER, at ten o'clock, A. M.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. De Witt.

The Clerk read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

Messrs. GAZZAM and SCHELL appeared in their seats.

Messrs. MILLER, TURNEY and COFFEY, were appointed as a committee of conference on the differences between the two Houses, on the joint resolution relative to the pay of Thomas H. Porter and J. H. Wells.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. FETTER, (Agriculture and Domestic Manufactures,) reported, as committed, House bill No. 410, "An Act to prevent the destruction of partridges in Berks county."

Mr. TURNEY, (Finance,) with amendment, "A joint resolution relative to the pay of L. Rogers, clerk to the committee on the contested election case of MATTHEWS vs. MCCLAIN."

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, the Senate proceeded to consider the same.

The same Senator moved to strike out the proviso inserted by the committee; which is as follows:

Provided, That the amount of said per diem and mileage shall not exceed the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars.

Mr. COFFEY said he was compelled to vote for the motion to strike out the proviso, because it makes a distinction between the present claimant and the cases of those which the Senate has already acted upon. That discrimination, he thought, was unfair, and he hoped the Senate would do itself the justice to strike it out.

Mr. HARRIS concurred in the views of the Senator from Indiana. A bill precisely similar to the present one, had already passed the Senate, and he thought it unfair that any distinction should be now made. There was no established law, it had been alleged, giving mileage to clerks in cases of this character—nothing but precedent to warrant it. But the Senate had heretofore been governed by that precedent, and it is unjust to make the distinction here. If the principle of allowing mileage is wrong, let us pass a resolution or law, fixing the compensation which clerks shall receive, but let us not depart from the established usage in this case. He would vote in favor of the payment of mileage to the claimant, upon grounds of consistency.

Mr. WELSH remarked that the Senator from Butler, had advocated the payment of mileage to Mr. Rogers upon the grounds of consistency. Upon the same ground he would be compelled to oppose it.

Mr. TURNEY said, that in all conscience, one hundred and fifty dollars was ample compensation for the services rendered. If Mr. Rogers is to be paid in accordance with the bill sent in, he will receive some three hundred dollars for thirty-eight days labor. He did not wish to make a distinction between this and other cases, but by looking at the matter, it will be seen that Mr. Rogers, if this amount is allowed, will receive better pay than any Senator on this floor. He considered the sum exorbitant, and would vote against its allowance.

Mr. SCOFIELD explained, that the mileage from that district has been considerably reduced—about one-half, he should think—from what it had been previously. Mail matter used to reach here by way of New York and Philadelphia; but since the opening of the Northern Central route and its connections, the distance of travel has been greatly reduced. He put this case upon the same ground that others had occupied; he considered it just that the party should ask per diem pay and mileage, and he should vote for its allowance.

Mr. WRIGHT agreed with the remarks of the Senator from Lancaster, made yesterday. If the allowance of this claim is wrong in principle, no precedent can warrant it. No man can advocate or justify a wrong, because others did it before him; and no Senator here, he thought, would attempt to defend the payment of some three hundred dollars in this case, upon the principle of right. They may say it is in accordance with precedent, but that is no argument in favor of it. Neither the law, nor the Gospel, would recognize the justice of the claim. The amount proposed to be paid was ample for the services rendered, and he hoped the amendment would not be carried.

Mr. HARRIS said, Mr. Rogers was employed by the committee, and gave his services, in good faith; and after he has performed his duty faithfully and honestly, he comes here and asked that he may be allowed the compensation usual in such cases. It was but fair to allow it.

Mr. GAZZAM said that if Mr. Rogers had failed to discharge his duty in any way, there might be some justice in refusing to allow him the compensation usual; but it was going further than justice to say, notwithstanding there has been no objection to the manner in which these services were rendered, that he shall not be paid as others have been, and as he had a reason to expect he should be. The Senate, he thought, had better be occupied in attending to some things involving larger amounts, than in wasting its time in discussing these trifling matters.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion, to strike out the proviso?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCOFIELD and Mr. TURNEY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Rutherford, Scofield and Thompson—13.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Marselis, Miller, Nunnemacher, Randall, Schell, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—17.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. PARKER moved to strike out the words, "one hundred and fifty," and insert in lieu thereof the words, "two hundred."

On which motion,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PARKER and Mr. SCOFIELD, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Francis, Gazzam, Harris, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Rutherford, Scofield and Thompson—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Marselis, Miller, Nunnemacher, Randall, Schell, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—17.

So the question was determined in the negative, and the resolution passed.

BILLS IN PLACE

Mr. TURNEY read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act for the relief of Cookman & Brother, of Philadelphia."

Mr. RANDALL, "An Act authorizing the Auditor General and State Treasurer to open and re-settle the accounts of the Franklin insurance company."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, "An Act for the relief of R. J. Fleming."

Mr. SCHINDEL, "An Act authorizing the Auditor General and State Treasurer to re-audit the accounts between the Commonwealth and the Northampton bridge company."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, Senate bill No. 394, "An Act to pay the claim of Thomas Duncan, executor of Rebecca H. Duncan, dec'd, and James M'Coy," negatived by the committee, was re-committed to the Committee on Finance.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

House bill No. 281, "An Act to repeal former acts relative to the borough of Schuylkill Haven, in Schuylkill county; and to apply the general provisions of an act relating to boroughs, passed April 24, 1851, to said borough," came up in order on third reading; and, on motion, its consideration was postponed for the present.

Senate bills No. 2 and 18, were permitted to lie over.

On motion of Mr. COFFEY, the Senate resumed the consideration of the bill relating to evidence; the question being upon the amendment offered by Mr. PALMER to the fourth section.

On this amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BELL and Mr. PALMER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Coffey, Gazzam, Marselis, Miller, Palmer, Parker, Randall, Scofield and Wright—9.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Nunnemacher, Penney, Rutherford, Schell, Shaeffer, Schindel, Thompson, Turney, Welsh, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—19.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. PALMER moved to amend the fifth section by adding the following, at the end of said section:

"And the testimony thus taken shall be read in evidence on the trial of the cause, if required by either party, subject to the legal rules relating to the admission of depositions."

Mr. PALMER made a brief statement in explanation of his amendment, as affecting the section.

Mr. BELL did not think the provision made by the amendment necessary. If there was, however, the slightest doubt as to the matter, he should make no objection to its adoption.

Mr. MARSELIS was surprised at the vote of the Senate this morning. The change proposed by the bill, in our system of evidence, was one which had been asked for by almost the entire profession, and one which was demanded by the interests of the whole people. However much persons may differ as to details, all agree that it is necessary to throw overboard something pertaining to our system, which has long been a dead weight upon our system of jurisprudence. And yet, we say to those who come here and ask of us this salutary change, no! you shall not have this reform, but must remain where you are, and where you were two hundred years ago. He advocated the change contemplated by the original bill, and expressed the firm belief that, although it may not be made now, its ultimate adoption was certain.

Reforms never travel backwards, and whether we adopt it now, or defeat it, the united bench and bar, backed by the people, will demand it.

Mr. SCOFIELD had but two or three words to say upon the subject, and he was not quite certain that they would be applicable to the amendment under consideration.

The SPEAKER desired the Senator to confine his remarks to the subject before the Senate.

The amendment was adopted, and the question recurring upon the adoption of the substitute proposed by Mr. BELL.

Mr. PENNEY said, if this question were a question of modes and forms merely, I would not trouble the Senate with any remarks upon it. But I apprehend it to be a question of principle, far-reaching in its consequences; it proposes to change some of the fundamental principles of the common law system of jurisprudence—a system that has stood for ages, as the guard and defence of individual right and personal liberty, against the attacks of moneyed power, whether supported by a tyrannical government, or a corrupt and rapacious church. And the question now before the Senate is, shall we break down all the barriers of this defence, and throw away all the safeguards which this venerated system has thrown around the administration of justice? Has this age, of all others, become so pure, and gold so far lost its power to corrupt and pervert the streams of justice, that we can safely risk the change proposed?

Who asks for this change? Has there any voice come up from our constituents, or from the Bench or Bar, demanding it? Members of the profession, upon the floor of the Senate, have introduced these bills for our consideration; but I have yet to learn that either the Bar or the Bench of the State has asked for the change.

The reasons given for the support of this bill, are the alleged inconveniences arising from the defects of the present system. And it is true, that inconveniences do, sometimes, occur in the administration of justice, arising from the exclusion of parties as witnesses; but I appeal to my professional brethren to say, whether their experience affords any instances of great loss or substantial injustice, arising from the operation of the present rule of evidence. Shall we sacrifice a great principle, affecting the rights and liberties of the people, on account of slight inconveniences?

The Senator from Indiana urged, as a reason for supporting his bill, that the common law principle, excluding parties to the record from testifying, was both unphilosophical and illogical. Mr. SPEAKER, I undertake to say, that if the philosophy of the Senator is correct, then the bill he has introduced is both unphilosophical and illogical. I understand his philosophy to be this: that, because a judicial trial has for its object the discovery of truth, therefore the parties, who are often best acquainted with the facts and circumstances, should be admitted to testify as witnesses; that every ray of light that could illumine the subject ought to be admitted. I think I have stated his position correctly.

Let us apply this philosophy to the Senator's bill. Suppose the case put by the Senator—a party seated in the privacy of his own room, and his neighbor enters and demands payment of a note. The money is paid, but the note retained. No other eyes have seen the transaction. The dishonest neighbor brings his action upon the note, and the Senator says it is unphilosophical to exclude the defendant from testifying as a witness upon the stand, to the payment of the money, because he is the party best acquainted with the facts, and therefore ought to be allowed to speak. Let us apply this to the Senator's bill.

Take another case. Suppose the same transaction, and no one present but the defendant's wife. She has seen the money paid; knows all the facts, and can describe them as well as her husband; and yet, if the dishonest plaintiff brings his action to recover the money again, the Senator's bill will not allow her to testify; although able to explain the whole transaction, her mouth is sealed; that ray of light is shut out. I know it is said by the Senator, that this exclusion rests upon a different principle, and I admit it. But what is that principle? It is this: that there are intimate and confidential relations existing between the husband and wife, which are too sacred for even judicial investigation to expose. But is the bill consistent here? While the wife of the party defendant is excluded, upon this principle, the husband himself may be called to the stand in the same case; it matters not what the exposure of private and domestic relations, he is compelled to answer, as a witness. Is this consistent with the reason given for excluding the wife? Why should the wife be excluded to protect the sacredness of domestic relations, while the husband, to whom they are equally dear, is liable to be compelled to expose them all?

Let us suppose another case. A man, in the retracy of his own home, alone with his wife; when an assassin enters, strikes her dead by his side, and escapes. No eye has seen the deed of blood, but the husband's, and he is left there with the guilty evidences of circumstances surrounding him; the false accusation is made, and he is put upon his trial for the murder of his wife. He is surrounded by a network of circumstances, which would seem to be conclusive of his guilt. Even the blood is upon his skirts. He is put upon his trial. Now, surely, the philosophy of the Senator will apply. If there is any case where this new rule of boasted reform will apply, it is this, where the fortune, the character, and the life of the party are involved in the trial. Apply your philosophy—let in every ray of light—let him speak, who knows the facts, for it is a question of life, and more important than all the questions of dollars and cents. But what says the Senator's bill? His mouth shall be sealed—he shall not utter the truth, though he is the only man present who can do it. Hence, I say, if the philosophy be true, then this bill is unphilosophical.

But, Mr. SPEAKER, the Senator's philosophy is unsound. It is not true that the principle which excludes a party from testifying is the same as that which excludes an interested witness. He is not excluded, solely, upon the ground of interest, or because of the temptation to perjury. There is a question of personal right involved in the rule. It is but an extension of the maxim, and the presumption of law, in favor of innocence. Every man is presumed to be innocent until he is proved to be guilty. So every man who is brought into court, at the suit of his neighbor, upon a charge that he has acted dishonestly, has a right to assume the same position, and claim the protection of the same rule, and say, I am innocent of the wrong—prove what you charge. It is a personal right that even judicial investigations ought not to be allowed to invade. It is a right recognized by the Constitution of our State, in criminal proceedings. If a man be indicted for the most trivial assault and battery, he has a right to wrap himself up in his own individuality, and say, to his accuser, prove your accusations; and the bill of rights protects him in his position. But according to the Senator's philosophy, if he be prosecuted for an attack upon his neighbor's character, and charged as the slanderer of his neighbor's fame, although his reputation, and his whole fortune may be involved in the suit, he must be called to the stand, and a confession extorted from his own lips, to condemn himself.

Mr. SPEAKER, I think the world's history has given one instance of the practical workings of a disregard of this rule of the common law, which protects personal rights and personal feelings. There is one chapter of experience upon this subject, which the advocates of this pretended reform would do well to study. A corrupt church, of former ages, in her judicial proceedings, struck down this barrier of defence—took away this shield of the common law, and in her pretended search after truth, compelled the unwilling party to the stand, and the thumb-screw and the rack became the instruments of her investigation; and the strength of the tortured nerves was the test of the truthfulness of the testimony.

How much better is the system, now proposed, when the innocent and unsophisticated, and it may be ignorant defendant, at the bidding of a cunning and unscrupulous plaintiff, who has carefully prepared his case, and guarded every avenue to detection, may be dragged before the court, put upon the stand, and subjected to the mental torture of an harassing examination, conducted by shrewd and unscrupulous counsel; and perhaps, from the very sensitiveness of his nature, abashed and disgraced before court and jury, while his polished and smooth tongued antagonist is proclaimed the victor, and carries off his ill-gotten spoils?

Is the Senate prepared for this radical change? Are we ready to abandon all these rights, because of the slight inconveniences in the application of a principle that lies at the bottom of our system of jurisprudence? Senators talk of reform. For myself, I believe in the maxim that change is not always reform. In matters of principle, Sir, there can be no reform. The principle may be abandoned or disregarded; but if it be true it cannot be reformed. If it is true, it is eternal; and every abandonment of it is a step backward, instead of progress.

Mr. SPEAKER, I will not stand in the way of reform. If you would reform your practice, well; but touch not the principles on which the whole system is based. If I may be allowed to assume so much, I would warn Senators to beware, lest while they are lopping off the excrescences of our system of jurisprudence, while they are polishing the columns of the temple, and ornamenting its cornices and dome with the gilded tinsel of their pretended reform, they be found to have sapped the very foundations of the structure, and left it to totter and fall, crushing with it the precious treasures which it was intended to guard.

Mr. GAZZAM was deeply impressed with the importance of the bill. If he were not, he should not trouble the Senate with a single word upon it, after the able and learned discussion which had taken place. He proceeded, briefly, to answer some of the objections which had been urged against the bill, and instanced several cases in illustration of the inconveniences and embarrassments which had been suffered under the present system of evidence. It was but just, he thought, that these inconveniences and embarrassments should be removed; and the better bill to go for was that which goes furthest towards the needed reform, for, as was alleged by the Senator from Schuylkill, if the reform goes too far, it may produce a reaction, and the people may ask for a repeal. He was willing to trust to the same conservative power that had checked its repeal in New York. If the reform passes in Pennsylvania, he was willing to trust the people in determining as to its benefits or evils.

Mr. COFFEY remarked that it was not worth while, at this time, to enter into a further discussion of the principles involved in the bill and the substitute proposed. He was satisfied that the bill, and most probably the substitute, will fail, at this session, to become a law. He should not feel much disappointed, however much he hoped to see the principle adopted. He was aware that reform proceeds slowly. It may be that Pennsylvania, always cautious—perhaps more so than many of her sister States—will not adopt the reform proposed until she has seen, still further, the beneficial operations of the system. But, although the bill may be defeated, he could not allow the occasion to pass, without noticing some of the singular objections urged against the bill by the Senator from Allegheny. Those objections were founded upon a misapprehension of the principles of the bill. He proceeded to answer the arguments of Mr. PENNEY, in a brief manner, after which he said, after all, experience was the best light by which to be guided. No reform has better experience to sustain its beneficial operations than has been furnished by neighboring States, as well as England, in support of the one now proposed. In New York, where an attempt was made to repeal the system, it met with the protest of all classes of people, from the bench and bar to the private citizen. The supreme bench of our own State, he said, were unanimous in favor of its adoption, to sustain which he said he had letters from the five judges composing it, besides one from ex chief justice Lewis, and many prominent and distinguished members of the bar, extracts from several of which he read.

It was a mistake to suppose that the profession were not prepared for this change. There might be some doubts as to its practical workings; but no reform was ever yet made that did not meet with doubts, and even opposition. But prejudice will gradually give way, and this proposed reform will not stop until it has been adopted by the people, and works the salutary change in our system of jurisprudence which it is designed to accomplish. The bill will not pass this session, but discussion and agitation will keep the subject before the attention of the people, and prepare them for the adoption of the measure which it proposes. We may not be here, he said, to see success of it, but those who come after us, to represent the wishes and interests of the people of the State, will lend their sanction to it, and consummate it for the general good.

Mr. BELL made a few remarks in reply to the Senator from Allegheny, (Mr. PENNEY,) and in defence of the propositions submitted by him in his substitute to the bill.

Mr. HARRIS said—

Mr. SPEAKER: I desire to say a few words before the vote is taken on the amendment, in support of the vote I am about to give, and define my position in reference to it.

I have listened with attention, and I may say with as much interest, to the argument of the learned Senator from the county of Indiana, in support of his bill relative to the law of evidence, and also to the talented and learned Senator from Chester, in support of the amendment he has submitted for the consideration of the Senate. And after all the elaborate argument on the original proposition, submitted by the Senator from Indiana, as well as the amendment proposed by the Senator from Chester, I have my misgivings, and my serious doubts, about so great an innovation on the common law.

This bill will certainly be such, on the well-established and well-known rules of evidence. I am opposed to that spirit of modern progress which is always striving to cut away the ancient landmarks of the law. It opens a wide door to litigation, perjury and fraud, and I fear would be productive of serious evils.

I have always thought the guards thrown around the law of evidence by common law were good and wholesome, and that they should be cautiously removed. There is not a Senator on this floor but knows the fact that it is often the case that witnesses called to the stand, who are entirely disinterested, become so much prejudiced in favor of the party calling them there, that it is almost impossible to get an unprejudiced statement. Now, how much more would it be the case, if interested witnesses are permitted to testify as parties on record?

I think, Sir, it would be a dangerous experiment, to say the least of it: and would be holding out an inducement to men who are governed by strong prejudices to swerve from truth and rectitude.

I admit, Sir, there is a saving clause in the original bill, and that is when either party on record is dead, the opposite party cannot, in that case, testify; but this clause will not reach a portion of our fellow-citizens, who are disabled from giving evidence on account of their religious belief. There was a bill introduced, by the Senator from Warren, at the two last sessions of our Legislature, removing that disability, but it failed to become a law. And the Senator from Crawford gave us notice, a few days ago, that he would introduce a clause in this bill to that effect. But I would deprecate the passage of such an amendment.

I shall vote for the amendment of the Senator from Chester, and then against the whole bill.

Mr. SCOFIELD moved to postpone further consideration of the bill, together with the amendment, indefinitely.

Mr. SCOFIELD, on the motion to postpone indefinitely, said that there was but one principle involved in the bill and the substitute, and there might as well be one vote upon it instead of going on, and adding amendment after amendment, and entering upon a discussion of each. This might be indulged in for two or three days longer, and be voted down at last.

Mr. RANDALL hoped the motion to postpone indefinitely would not prevail. It was an important question. He had taken no part in the discussion, but had left it to the professional gentlemen of the Senate. He thought, however, that every Senator should be afforded an opportunity for giving his reasons for his vote upon the bill. He was in favor of getting at all the truth possible; and, upon the principle that men tell more truth than falsehood, he would listen to every man, for we can afford to do so. He had confidence in the ability of the jury to judge of the weight and credence which should attach to it.

On this motion, the yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCOFIELD and Mr. WRIGHT, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Baldwin, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Nunnemacher, Rutherford, Scofield, Shaeffer, Steele and Cresswell.—Speaker—14.

NAYS.—Messrs. Bell, Blood, Coffey, Gazzam, Marselis, Miller, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Schell, Schindel, Thompson, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Yardley.—17.

So the question was determined in the negative.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the substitute offered by Mr. BELL?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BELL and Mr. COFFEY and were as follow, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Bell, Fetter, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Palmer, Rutherford, Schell, Schindel, Thompson and Yardley.—12.

NAYS.—Messrs. Blood, Coffey, Craig, Gazzam, Marselis, Miller, Nunnemacher, Parker, Penney, Randall, Scofield, Shaeffer, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—17.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. COFFEY moved to postpone the consideration of the original bill for the present.

On which,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNEY and Mr. COFFEY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Coffey, Francis, Gazzam, Harris, Marselis, Miller, Palmer, Randall, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield, Thompson and Wright.—15.

NAYS.—Messrs. Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Gregg, Myer, Nunnemacher, Parker, Penney, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—16.

So the question was determined in the negative.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to first section of the bill?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNEY and Mr. SHAEFFER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Coffey, Gazzam, Marselis, Miller, Palmer, Parker, Randall, Schell, Thompson and Wright.—10.

NAYS.—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Nunnemacher, Penney, Rutherford, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—21.

So the question was determined in the negative, and the bill fell.

Mr. RANDALL moved that when the Senate adjourns it adjourn to meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Agreed to.

On motion of Mr. BELL, House amendments to "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Newtown Square and Paoli plank road company," were postponed for the present.

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, House amendments to Senate bill No. 51, "An Act authorizing Asa Dimock, administrator of the estate of Lafayette G. Dimock, deceased, to sell and convey certain unimproved lands belonging to said estate," were read, considered and concurred in.

The hour of one having arrived, the Senate adjourned until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Agreeably to order, the Senate met at 4 o'clock.

Mr. WRIGHT offered the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, The Senate has heard with unfeigned sorrow of the death of GEORGE W. WOOD, a member of the House of Representatives from the Ninth representative district of Philadelphia: And whereas, The deceased had endeared himself to the members of this body by his correct deportment, his manliness of character, his strict integrity, his kindly and genial disposition and uniform courtesy to all with whom he had intercourse; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate join the family and friends of the deceased in sorrowing with those who were near and dear to him over the early death of one who by nature and education gave promise of a bright future, and in whose departure from the scene of active usefulness, Philadelphia loses one of her purest and brightest ornaments.

Resolved, That as a further token of esteem and sorrow for the memory of the deceased, the Senate do now adjourn.

Mr. WRIGHT remarked, that in the preamble and resolutions just read by the Clerk, a feeble tribute of respect was paid to the memory of a departed brother, who, until this morning, held the position of a member of the other branch of the Legislature.

Though it was not his good fortune to have made the personal acquaintance of Mr. WOOD, until after his election as a member of a co-ordinate branch of the Legislature, he knew him by character, and was prepared, in advance of an introduction, to recognize in him those endearing traits which have since found an abiding place in his memory. Their intercourse and frequent interchange of sentiment, as representatives of a common constituency, had always been to him of the most agreeable character. Though a very young man—probably the youngest member of the House of Representatives—he had already secured the esteem and confidence of all who came within his circle, giving evidence of a maturity of judgment beyond his years, and a rectitude of purpose and propriety of behavior worthy of all commendation. A few days ago he appeared among us in the bloom of youth, possessed of a vigorous constitution, and more likely to reach an old age of usefulness and honor than any member of either body I now he sleeps with his father, and soon the clods of the valley will cover all that was mortal of his remains. When the bearer of the telegraphic dispatch, announcing his demise, communicated the intelligence to him, he was overpowered by conflicting emotions, and to this moment had not been able to realize fully that death had been in our midst, and that the spirit of a highly beloved friend had gone to its reward. He had often heard the deceased speak in the most affectionate terms of his parents, especially of his mother; now that mother, and those of his kindred whom he loved so fondly, are filled with anguish at their sudden bereavement, and drop the silent tear over the lifeless form of one in whom they delighted.

Mr. WRIGHT concluded, by expressing his inability to do full justice to the merits of his deceased friend; and would leave it to others better qualified, and having more self-command on so solemn an occasion, to speak of his virtues and worth to the Senate.

Gen. SHAEFFER, of Lancaster, proposed an amendment, to the effect that a committee of five Senators be appointed to attend the funeral obsequies of the deceased, in connection with a similar committee of the House. It was, he said, due to the co-ordinate branch of the Legislature, of which the deceased was a member, that this body should not be wanting in this token of respect; and while upon the floor to second, as well as amend the resolutions, he remarked that, as this was the only occasion upon which, during four or five years' service in either branch of the Legislature, he had been called upon to give expression to the bereavement resulting from the loss of one associated with him in the duties of legislation, he might be pardoned for giving utterance to his own feelings.

The deceased member, Mr. WOOD, was, perhaps, the youngest member of the House. I met him, said Gen. SHAEFFER, for the first time at the commencement of the session.—Lodging with him at the same house, I extended to him the hospitalities of my own room, which are ever open and free, and where friends may indulge in the unreserved social pleasures which characterize the intercourse of friends, indeed. I soon became interested in his character. I found him at once generous and frank; the very attributes of his nature were the highest sense of honor, coupled with an unwavering integrity. His brief career here afforded to him no opportunity to carve his name upon the niche of fame; indeed, but little to cement those growing friendships which his social qualities, moral tone and gentlemanly bearing were so eminently calculated to inspire. I felt disposed to cultivate his acquaintance, for there was much in the circumstances attendant upon his appearance here, calculated to attract me towards him. I had entered public life at about his own age, and at once became interested in the man.

With the highest social qualities, which were calculated to win for him friends, and make his society sought after, there was blended that high moral feeling which never forgot, even amid the most captivating enjoyments of life, the higher duties of the man. The seductive and fascinating allurements of capital life, amid which too many fall, seemed to have no power in winning him from the strict line of rectitude and duty.

Thus highly impressed with his character, he was one among the few who were invited by me to accompany to Lancaster, the gifted Senator from York, upon the occasion of his recent lecture, by invitation of my own constituents, and, in company with the honorable SPEAKER of the House, and other distinguished members of the Senate and House, to share the hospitalities of my own household. Whether in the parlor of that home, receiving the attentions of distinguished citizens, who did us the honor to call upon us, at the festive board, the same modest, yet courteous and dignified demeanor characterized him, as that which distinguished him in the more secluded walks of life.

But, Mr. SPEAKER, allow me to call the attention of Senators to one fact, which may perhaps have escaped the attention of those who were present on that occasion, but which will be familiar to them when I advert to it. Among those who were present on that occasion, the happy coterie embraced the oldest members of the Senate, as well as the youngest member of the House. That oldest Senator (pointing to Senator GREGG, of Centre,) still towers among us "like some tall cliff," to remind us that the honored name is still associated with deeds of usefulness to the country, and bidding fair to add to his career many more days of service in behalf of his native State. The other, Mr. SPEAKER, who was just entering upon the verge of manhood, strong in the buoyancy and hope of youth and health, now lies silent and cold in death. A mind even less prone than my own to draw from this sad bereavement lessons of profit, and inducements to good, cannot fail to be impressed with this truth, that "while the old must, the young may die."

I now see in his seat, the Senator from Philadelphia, (Mr. RANDALL,) who is better calculated to pay the proper and deserving tribute to the virtues of the deceased; and I leave to him the task which would have been a pleasing and happy one to me, were I sufficiently gifted to perform it with more becoming grace.

The amendment of Mr. SHAEFFER was accepted by Mr. WRIGHT.

Mr. RANDALL said that the truth of the expression, "death seeks a shining mark," had never been so clearly revealed to his mind, as in the decease of Mr. GEORGE W. WOOD. Just on the verge of manhood, ambitious and active, a token of promise, he was removed from the scenes and stir of State and Nation, to which he would have been an honor and credit.

As a friend, he had been true and faithful; as a legislator, upright and efficient; as a son and brother, dutiful and affectionate; a source of comfort and hope, to all to whom he was endeared.

This stroke, he said, came with peculiar force as an admonition. Our friend and fellow representative has passed from earth to the Bar of God, there to render his account. Solemn thought! Solemn event!

Much as we may lament the departure of one who had shown incipient seeds of usefulness, which we had hoped would have ripened into the fruits of glorious deeds, we must submit to this act of Providence. With emotions of sadness, he joined in the tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased.

Mr. WELSH said—

Mr. SPEAKER: I did not intend to say a single word upon the solemn occasion which has brought us together; but the feeling and eloquent manner in which my friend, the Senator from Lancaster, alluded to a scene in which he, and I, and our departed brother, were humble actors, has forced me to unseal the lips that, under other circumstances, I would have preferred should have remained entirely unopened. With the exception of the immediate Representatives from Philadelphia, I was, perhaps, better acquainted with the deceased, than any other Senator upon this floor; and I will therefore be pardoned, if I occupy a brief moment of your time in strewing upon his open grave a few of the sweet and imperishable flowers of memory.

It was my good fortune, Sir, to make his acquaintance at an early day in the present session. It was not in the discharge of any legislative duties, all of which he fulfilled so well and worthily, that we first met in friendly intercourse. Accidentally thrown in his way, I did not hesitate to improve the occasion, which seemed to me to be the budding of a closer friendship. I know not why it is, Sir, nor will I attempt to explain the acute philosophy that controls it, but there is in the character of some men a secret, subtle magnetism, which instinctively attracts the admiration and respect of all who come within the circle of their influence. He whose sudden death we are this day called upon to mourn, seemed to possess this inborn quality in a high and eminent degree. Young in years, gay in heart, frank in disposition, manly in bearing, and blooming in health, he appeared to be made of finer mould than that which ordinarily constitutes the frame of frail humanity. Just entering upon a career of usefulness to his native Commonwealth, he blended together a strict integrity with a loyal devotion to duty; uniting in his person the accomplished gentleman and the honest, upright legislator; and I feel, Sir, that I am not saying too much, when I accord to him qualities, which in his early youth gave earnest of a bright manhood, had he been spared by the fatal arrow of the "insatiate archer."

Sir, I have not risen to pronounce his eulogy. I will leave that sad office to others who knew him better, and who can more fittingly perform the solemn service. But if this melancholy bereavement should have the effect of causing any one amongst us to pause in his career through life and seriously reflect upon its stern vicissitudes and vanities—if it should arrest the earnest attention of any who may be heedless and regardless of the pressing dangers which surround them in the great battle of life—if it should induce a single human being to put on the impenetrable armor of faith and truth, in his unequal contest with the powers of evil—he who has just died will not have lived in vain! And although there may be no deeds of glory associated with his spotless name; although no "storied urn" nor "animated bust" may mark the spot where his sleeping form shall await the breaking dawn of "the great Easter of the universe," there are quiet, unobtrusive virtues scattered along the pages of his young life's history, now closed forever, which entitle him to the love and respect and fond remembrance of all who called him friend, and which will make his name a household word in the stricken hearts of those who, "like Rachel for her children crying, will not be comforted!"

On the adoption of the resolution,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PARKER and Mr. WELSH, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Blood, Brewer, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Francis, Gizzard, Gregg, Harris, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Schell, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Thompson, Turney, Welsh, Wright, Vardley and Cresswell—Speaker—30.

NAYS—none.

The SPEAKER, in accordance with the resolution, appointed Messrs. WRIGHT, SHAEFFER, MARSELIS, VARDLEY and PENNEY, said committee.

On motion, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, February 21, 1859.

The House was called to order at 9½ o'clock. The SPEAKER in the Chair.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. Bartine.

The Clerk read the Journal of yesterday.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the annual report of the officers of the House of Refuge.

Also, the report of the inspectors of the Eastern penitentiary.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed the House that the Senate insisted upon its amendments to the bill relative to the pay of T. H. Porter; and that they had appointed a committee of conference.

On motion of Mr. WILLISTON, a similar committee was appointed on the part of the House.

PETITIONS, &c.

Mr. PROUDFOOT, read in his place, and presented to the Chair, a petition from citizens of Cambria county, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of Cone-maugh, against the annexation of any part of said borough to the borough of Johnstown.

Also, twelve remonstrances of citizens of Cambria county, against the removal of the seat of justice of said county.

Mr. QUIGLEY, one from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of Reed street, in said city.

Mr. WILCOX, one from citizens of McCallmont township, county of Jefferson, for the passage of "An Act authorizing Thomas Hopkins, collector of school taxes for the year 1857, to return unseated lands to commissioners."

Mr. KINNEY, one from citizens of Sheshequin township, Bradford county, for the repeal of the act of March 27, 1855, establishing a ferry over the Susquehanna river at that place.

Also, two from citizens of Bradford county, for a law compelling the Williamsport and Elmira railroad company to fence their road.

Mr. OAKS, one from the officers of the Bank of Danville, for the repeal of "An Act providing for the resumption of specie payment by the banks, and for the relief of debtors, approved October 14, 1857."

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of Northampton county, against the passage of House bill, No. 187, relative to the Delaware division canal company.

Mr. ECKMAN, a petition from fifty citizens of Myerstown, Lebanon county, for an alteration in the license law.

Also, one from thirty-five citizens of North Lebanon borough, against annexing any portion of said borough to North Lebanon township.

Also, two from one hundred and forty-five citizens of North Lebanon township, of like import.

Mr. SHAEFFER, one from James V. Mitler, of Warwick township, Chester county, for a divorce from his wife Mary.

Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) one from citizens of Elk county, in favor of raising the compensation of supervisors in Spring Creek township, Elk county.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bedford,) two from citizens of Bedford, for the abolishment of the office of county school superintendent.

Also, two from same for the appointment of commissioners to sell the present poorhouse in said county, and purchase a site for the re-erection of a new one.

Mr. WALKER, three remonstrances numerous signed by citizens of Somerset county, against the erection of a new county, to be called Ligonier.

Mr. CAMPBELL, two petitions from citizens of Girard, Erie county, for the passage of an act to establish an independent school district, by annexing a portion of the township of Girard to the borough of Girard for school purposes.

Also, one from same, remonstrating against the same.

Mr. PENNELL, one from James Eder Rosevelt, praying for a divorce from his wife Catharine.

Mr. PUGHE, eight petitions from several hundred citizens of Blakely township, Luzerne county, for the passage of an act removing the place of holding general, State and township elections in said township.

Mr. CUSTER, two from citizens of Douglasville, Amity and Oley townships, Berks county, for a charter for the Douglasville and Yellow-house turnpike road company.

Also, two from citizens of Reading, for an act authorizing a survey of said city.

Also, four petitions from citizens of Reading, for the repeal of the act fixing the dividing line between Reading and Alsace township.

Mr. ROHREK, two from citizens of the borough of Kittanning, asking for a supplement to their charter to compel the paving of certain sidewalks in certain streets in said borough.

Also, two remonstrances against the same.

Mr. DISMANT, one from the trustees of the First Methodist Episcopal church in Norristown, in the county of Montgomery, for an act to authorize them to exchange the Kupler burying-ground or lot for a lot in the Norris cemetery company, and remove the dead therefrom.

Also, one from one hundred and fifty-two citizens of Montgomery county, for an act requiring the commissioners of said county to appoint constables collectors of State and county taxes in the several boroughs and townships in said county.

Also, one from a number of citizens of same county, for an appropriation to aid in establishing a School of Mines.

Mr. BERTOLET, nine petitions from citizens of Reading, Berks county, for the repeal of an act fixing the dividing line between that city and Alsace township, same county, passed April 7, 1858.

Mr. WOODRING, six remonstrances from citizens of Northampton against the act relative to the Delaware Division canal company.

Mr. WILCOX, one of like import.

Mr. OAKS, one of like import.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) one of like import.

Mr. STEPHENS, one of like import.

Mr. HILL, one from citizens of Montgomery county, for the incorporation of the Whitemarsh and Cheltenham turnpike road company.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of Pottstown, Montgomery county, against any change in their borough charter.

Also, a petition from the officers of the Bank of Pottstown, for an act making it obligatory on the several banks of the Commonwealth to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Also, one from citizens of Montgomery county, praying that the collectors of taxes in said county be elected.

Mr. MEHAFFEY, one from citizens of Lycoming county, for the passage of an act to secure more effectually the prompt payment on the part of insurance companies.

Mr. PALM, one from citizens of Middleport, in favor of erecting the town of Middleport into a borough.

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) one of similar import.

Mr. DURBORAW, one from citizens of Adams county, for the repeal of the office of sealer of weights and measures, so far as relates to the county of Adams.

Mr. IRISH, one from citizens of Allegheny county, to prevent the rendition of fugitive slaves.

Mr. WIGTON, one very numerous signed by citizens of Huntingdon county, in relation to the collection of State and county taxes in said county.

Also, five remonstrances against the same.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) a petition from citizens of Bucks county, in favor of an appropriation to aid in establishing a School of Mines in the Polytechnic college, Philadelphia.

Mr. NILL, one from a large number of citizens of the county of Franklin, praying that the office of county school superintendent should be abolished.

Also, one from sundry citizens of the same county, that there may be no law passed taxing dogs in said county.

Also, one from same, praying that a law may be passed to give the tonnage tax to the Sherman's Valley railroad company, for a period of ten years, in exchange for Sherman's Valley and Broad Top railroad bonds.

Mr. WILSON, one from numerous citizens of Beaver county, for the repeal of the law creating the office of school superintendent.

Also, one from numerous citizens of Beaver county, for the passage of an act requiring the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad company to fence part of their road.

Mr. BBODHEAD, one of Jacob Ergood, of Pike county, praying to be divorced from the bonds of matrimony from his wife Mary.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, petition of citizens of Northumberland county, praying for the repeal of the law establishing county superintendents of the common schools.

Also, a remonstrance against the passage of the bill reported in the House of Representatives, House file No. 187, relative to the Delaware Division canal company of Pa.

Also, three petitions from citizens of Northumberland county, praying for the passage of a law, annexing a part of Northumberland to Union county.

Mr. ROSE, a petition of citizens of Mercer county, praying for the passage of an act prohibiting exhibitions, shows, circuses, and the selling of intoxicating drinks within one mile of the fair grounds of the Mercer County agricultural society, on the days on which the annual fairs are held, unless by permit from the officers of said society.

Mr. PINKERTON, presented a petition numerous signed from citizens of the town of Middleport, Schuylkill county, asking a law incorporating said town into a borough.

Also, two from citizens of Schuylkill county, asking a law for the better securing the wages of labor in Schuylkill county.

Mr. GALLEY, a remonstrance from one hundred citizens of Fayette county, against the erection of the new county of Monongahela.

Also, one other of like import.

Also, a petition from thirty-eight citizens of Fayette county, for the repeal of the law allowing county officers to pay a premium on scalps, and for the repeal of a law increasing the pay of county officers.

Mr. STEPHENS, a petition of one hundred and six citizens of Wayne, remonstrating against the passage of an act, entitled "An Act relative to the Delaware Division canal company, of Pennsylvania."

Also, a petition of one hundred citizens of Wayne county, of like import.

Also, a petition of the citizens of Northampton county, numerous signed, of like import.

Also, a petition of Paul S. Preston and others, of Wayne county, of like import.

Also, a petition of Charles S. Minor and others, of Wayne county, praying for the repeal of the Lenox road laws, so far as Wayne county is concerned.

Also, a petition of the citizens of Dyberry township, Wayne county, numerous signed, remonstrating against the repeal of the Lenox road laws.

Mr. TAYLOR, a petition from citizens of Indiana county, for the abolition of the office of county school superintendent.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of Indiana county, against the erection of the new counties of Pine and Liognier.

Also, a petition from citizens of Indiana, Clearfield and Cambria counties, for the erection of Pine county.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of Cambria county, against the removal of the county seat from Ebensburg.

Mr. DODDS, a petition from citizens of Middlesex township, asking for an independent school district.

Also, one from same, for the abolition of the office of county school superintendent in Butler county.

Also, two remonstrances from citizens of Franklin township and Muncy Creek township, Butler county, against the passage of House bill 214, changing the mode of collecting taxes.

Also, a remonstrance against the Penn steam engine, steamboat and steamship company.

Mr. FOSTER, one from sixty-three citizens of Indiana county, for a change in the road laws in said township.

Also, one from thirty-two citizens of Pittsburgh, in favor of the new county, to be called Monongahela.

Mr. BAYARD, one from sixty-two citizens of Pittsburgh and vicinity, praying for the incorporation of a passenger railway from Pittsburgh to East Liberty via Pennsylvania avenue.

Mr. WOLF, a letter and petition from female tax payers of the borough of Logansville, York county, for a supplement to their borough law, authorizing the opening of certain roads and alleys in said borough.

Mr. BARNESLEY, the petition of Anna Stackfous, widow of an old soldier, asking for a pension.

Also, two petitions from seventy-eight citizens of Bucks county, against the passage of the act now before the Legislature, relative to the Delaware Division canal company; which was read and ordered to be printed in the Record.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) two petitions from citizens of Bucks county, against the erection of dams or other obstructions in the Delaware river.

Mr. PEARCE, one from forty citizens of West Marlboro township, Chester county, in favor of the alteration of their road laws.

On motion of Mr. PENNEL, one hundred copies of the petition of James Eder Roosevelt, was ordered to be printed for the use of the House.

Mr. WARDEN, two petitions from citizens of Westmoreland county, for the passage of a law abolishing the office of county school superintendent.

Also, a remonstrance from one hundred and forty citizens of South Huntingdon township, same county, against the erection of a new county, to be called Monongahela.

Mr. ROUSE, a petition from Daniel Lott, a citizen of Warren county, asking that the exemption law of April 9, 1849, be amended or repealed; which was read; and, on motion of Mr. WILLISTON referred to a special committee of three.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) a remonstrance from citizens of Northampton county, against the passage of House bill No. 187, relative to the Delaware Division canal company; which was read and ordered to be printed in the Record.

Also eight petitions from citizens of Reading, for the repeal of an act fixing the dividing line between that city and Alsace township, approved April 7, 1858.

Mr. BURLEY, one from citizens of Blair county, asking for an additional appropriation for the erection of a monument on the capital grounds, in honor of the citizen soldiers of Pennsylvania in the war with Mexico.

Also, one from one hundred and twenty-five citizens of same county, asking the passage of an act for the protection of the wages of laborers in Blair county.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) a remonstrance from citizens of Hereford township, Berks county, and parts adjacent, against the passage of any law exempting forge and furnace teams from paying tolls on bridges and turnpikes.

Mr. GRITMAN, one of like import.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Wilkesbarre township, Luzerne county, against the passage of an act dividing said township.

Mr. GRAY, one from citizens of Greene county, in favor of the erection of an almshouse in said county.

Mr. GALLEY, one from Elizabeth Fisher, widow of an old soldier, for relief.

Mr. MCCLURE, one from citizens of Franklin county, for the passage of an act imposing a license on stallions.

Also one from two hundred and ten citizens of same county, against the passage of a law imposing a tax on dogs.

Mr. PRICE, one from one hundred and nineteen citizens of Earl township, Lancaster county, to give the collection of taxes to assessors, as heretofore.

Also, a remonstrance from seventy-two citizens of Lancaster county, against the passage of an act authorizing the construction of a State road in Berks and Lancaster counties.

Also, a petition from citizens of same county, in favor of the abolition of the office of sealer of weights and measures in said county.

Also, one in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, one from attorneys of the Lancaster Bar, relative to the sale of real estate by assignees and trustees, &c.

Mr. KENEAGY, one from sixty citizens of West Calm township, Chester county, authorizing a majority of the commissioners appointed under a certain act to levy and collect a tax to construct a State road, in Lancaster and Chester counties.

Mr. GOOD, three remonstrances from citizens of Lehigh and Berks counties, against exempting forge and furnace teams from paying tolls on bridges, &c.

Also, a petition from citizens of the borough of Allentown, in favor of the division of said borough into wards.

Mr. WILEY, a petition in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, a remonstrance against the running of cars on the Frankford and Southwark passenger railway on the Sabbath.

Mr. HAMERSLY, the remonstrance of Chas. T. Jones, J. P. Sanderson, and other citizens of Roxbury township, against any change in the mode of electing overseers of the poor in said township.

Also, one from citizens of Philadelphia, prohibiting negroes from coming into the State with the view of making it their residence.

Mr. HAMERSLY informed the House that the above petition was not from his district.

He also presented a memorial from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of an appropriation to aid in establishing a School of Mines, in Polytechnic college, Philadelphia.

Mr. MATTHEWS, a memorial from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of a modification of the auction laws in said city.

Mr. CHASE, a petition from citizens of Susquehanna county, in favor of the erection of a county almshouse.

Also, two from citizens of Susquehanna county, in favor of giving justices of the peace power with a jury of six to try and determine certain criminal cases, &c.

Mr. GRAHAM, a remonstrance from citizens of Washington county, against the erection of the proposed new county, to be called Monongahela.

Also, one in favor of extending to Washington county the act of 11th March, 1852, relative to elections.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) one of like import.

Mr. SHIELDS, one from citizens of Indiana county, in favor of the proposed new county, to be called Ligonier.

Also, another of like import.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of Bucks county, against the passage of the act now before the Legislature, relative to the Delaware Division canal company.

Mr. EVANS, one in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. WILSON, one from ninety-four citizens of Beaver county, in favor of the repeal of the act of 19th January, 1853, relative to the collection of taxes in said county.

Mr. ABBOTT, a memorial of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Messrs. BURLEY and WAGONSELLER moved that the House re-consider the vote by which House bill No. 331, "An Act to incorporate the Farmers' market company," passed the House yesterday.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Messrs. ACKER and PEIRCE spoke against the motion to re-consider.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) favored re-consideration, because he understood the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. CHURCH,) wished to introduce some amendments to the bill.

Mr. CHURCH said that he asked a re-consideration in order to locate the market. It was at present an open charter.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that the matter was up yesterday, and the gentleman had then had every opportunity to make an amendment.

Mr. CHURCH said that he did not think the House knew what it was voting on yesterday, when it killed his amendment.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that he presumed the House generally knew what questions it was voting on.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CHURCH and Mr. STUART, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bertolet, Burley, Church, Custer, Ellmaker, Fisher, Kinney, Oaks, Palm, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Rohrer, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson and Lawrence, Speaker—22.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Ackers, Balliet, Barnesley, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Campbell, Chase, Dismant, Dodds, Durbin, Eckman, Evans, Fearon, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gray, Green, Gritman, Hamersly, Harding, Hill, Hottenstine, Irish, Keneagy, Matthews, McClure, McCurdy, McDowell, Neall, Nill, Pennell, Peirce, Pugh, Quigley, Rose, Shaffer, Shields, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stonehack, Thorn, Wagonseller, Walker, Warden, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Wolf, Woodring and Zoller—57.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. IRISH, on leave, read in his place and presented to the Chair, "An Act to alter the districts of the supreme court and regulate proceedings therein."

Also, "A further supplement to an act regulating banks."

Also, "An Act supplementary to an act for the limitation of actions to be brought, for the inheritance or possession of real property or upon penal acts of Assembly, passed March 26, 1785."

Mr. WAGONSELLER, "An Act to incorporate the Dimes' saving institution of Harrisburg."

Mr. GRITMAN, "An Act to provide for the assessment of claims on the Upper North Branch of the canal."

APPROPRIATION BILL.

On motion of Mr. CHASE, the House resolved itself into committee of the whole, (Mr. LAWRENCE, of Washington, in the chair,) on House bill No. 343, "An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Government and other ordinary and special appropriations."

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the following sums be, and the same are hereby specifically appropriated to the several objects hereinafter mentioned, for the year commencing on the first day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, to be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC 2. For the salary of the Governor of the Commonwealth, four thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, two thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, one thousand four hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Auditor General, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, two thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Surveyor General, one thousand six hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Attorney General, three thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Adjutant General, six hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Superintendent of Common Schools, one thousand seven hundred dollars.

For the salary of the State Librarian, eight hundred dollars.

For the salary of the State Treasurer, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, one thousand seven hundred dollars: Provided, That the foregoing salaries shall be paid quarterly at the office of the State Treasurer.

SEC 3. For clerk and messenger hire, in the Executive and State departments, six thousand dollars.

For contingent expenses in the Executive and State departments, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, one thousand seven hundred dollars; stationery, four hundred and fifty dollars; fuel and lights, one hundred and twenty-five dollars; cleaning offices, one hundred dollars; blank books, fifty dollars; repairs, fifty dollars; geological survey, freights and packages, one hundred and fifty dollars; new carpets in Executive chamber, two hundred dollars; miscellaneous expenses, one hundred and fifty dollars.

For clerk and messenger hire in the Auditor General's office, eight thousand one hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, five hundred dollars; stationery, three hundred and fifty dollars; fuel, seventy-five dollars; miscellaneous, seventy-five dollars.

For clerk and messenger hire in the Surveyor General's office, eight thousand seven hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage, four hundred dollars; stationery, two hundred dollars; fuel, seventy dollars; stove and repairs, sixty dollars; white-washing and scrubbing, fifty dollars; miscellaneous, fifty dollars.

For clerk hire in the Attorney General's office, eight hundred dollars; and hereafter the Attorney General shall be allowed eight hundred dollars annually for clerk hire.

For clerk and messenger hire in the school department, three thousand nine hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: stationery and blank books, three hundred and fifty dollars; postage, including telegraphic dispatches, one thousand two hundred dollars; fuel, light, and cleaning office, sixty dollars; packing and distributing blank forms, laws and decisions, reports, et cetera, to the several districts, six hundred dollars; miscellaneous, fifty dollars.

For clerks, messenger, and night-watch in the Treasurer's office, five thousand four hundred and fifty dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, four hundred and seventy-five dollars; express charges, one hundred dollars; stationery and blank books, two hundred and fifty dollars; fuel and light, seventy-five dollars; miscellaneous, one hundred and fifty dollars.

For miscellaneous expenses of the State Library as follows: repairing telescope, forty dollars; press for stamping, twenty-five dollars; making fires, sweeping, cleansing and white washing, postage, freight, expenses of purchasing books, stationery, et cetera, three hundred dollars; miscellaneous books and newspapers, six hundred dollars; law books, English and Irish reports, elementary books and civil law, one thousand dollars; Pennsylvania Reports, for exchanges, three hundred and twenty dollars; binding, one hundred and fifty dollars; and assistant, one hundred and fifty dollars.

SEC 4. For the payment of the expenses of the Legislature, including the pay and mileage of the members, clerks and officers thereof, and the amount authorized by law for stationery, newspapers and lights, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

SEC 5. For packing and distributing the laws and journals of the Legislature, to be performed under the direction of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, seven hundred dollars.

SEC 6. For the public printing, folding, stitching and binding, thirty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary on the settlement of the account of the contractor under his contract entered into in pursuance of the act approved the ninth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, entitled "An Act in relation to public printing."

SEC 7. For the payment to the borough of Harrisburg, for supplying the public buildings with water, as per act of twenty-eighth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty, six hundred dollars.

For payment to the Harrisburg gas company, for gas for public buildings and walks, two thousand dollars, or so much thereof as shall be found due by the Auditor General, under the contract with the company, in pursuance of the charter of said company and its supplement, to be paid on the warrant of the Governor.

SEC 8. For miscellaneous expenses, to be accounted for in the usual manner, three thousand dollars.

SEC 9. For the support of the common schools, to be paid on warrants drawn by the superintendent in favor of the several school districts of the Commonwealth, in proportion to the number of resident taxables therein, two hundred and eighty thousand dollars.

SEC 10. For the payment of pensions and gratuities, ten thousand dollars.

SEC 11. For the payment of the salaries and per diem allowance of the judges of the supreme court, eighteen thousand seven hundred dollars.

SEC 12. For the payment of the salaries of the judges of the district court, and the president and associate law judges of the court of common pleas of the city of Philadelphia, sixteen thousand eight hundred dollars.

SEC 13. For the payment of the salaries of the judges of the district court, and president judge of the court of common pleas of Allegheny county, eight thousand four hundred dollars.

SEC 14. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the president and associate law judges of the several courts of common pleas in this Commonwealth, except in the city of Philadelphia and the county of Allegheny, fifty-five thousand dollars.

SEC 15. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the associate judges of the several courts of this Commonwealth, twenty-five thousand dollars.

SEC 16. For the payment of the interest on the funded debt of the Commonwealth, that will fall due on the first days of July and August next, and the first days of January and February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, two millions of dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

SEC 17. For the payment of the guaranty of interest for the Danville and Pottsville railroad company, by the act of the eighth of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, and the act of twelfth April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, eight thousand five hundred and seventeen dollars and fifty cents, being the interest in full, on said guaranty, up to the first day of August, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine; to the Bald Eagle and Spring Creek navigation company, by the act of seventh April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, ten thousand dollars: Provided however, That said companies are hereby required to make it appear satisfactorily to the Attorney General that the said appropriations are due from the Commonwealth; and it shall be the duty of the Attorney General so to certify to the treasurer before any of the moneys herein appropriated are paid.

SEC 18. For the payment of the salaries of the officers of the Western penitentiary, ten thousand one hundred and fifty dollars; also, for gratuities paid to discharged convicts for the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, agreeably to the eighth section of the act of twenty-second of April, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-nine, and the several supplements thereto, three hundred and eight dollars.

SEC 19. For the payment of the salaries of the officers of the Eastern penitentiary, twelve thousand eight hundred and ninety-five dollars; which sum may be drawn from the treasury in equal quarterly portions, on or after the fifteenth day of the months of June, September and December of the present year, and March of next year.

SEC 20. For the house of refuge of Philadelphia, the sum of twenty thousand dollars.

SEC. For the house of refuge of Western Pennsylvania, in the county of Allegheny, eighteen thousand and five hundred dollars, to be applied as follows: for the salaries of officers, eight thousand and five hundred dollars; additions and repairs, four thousand dollars; and for the payment of debts, six thousand dollars.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 40.

SEC. 22. For the Western Pennsylvania hospital, five thousand dollars; and for the purpose of erecting suitable buildings, the further sum of twenty thousand dollars, to be paid to said institution upon a bond being executed to the Commonwealth in said sum, with security to be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, conditioned for the full erection and completion of said buildings without further aid from the Commonwealth.

SEC. 23. For the Pennsylvania State lunatic hospital, the sum of twenty thousand dollars; to be applied to the payment of salaries, the support of the house, the renewal of furniture and fixtures, and to such repairs and improvements as may be required.

SEC. 24. For the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the blind, twenty-two thousand dollars.

SEC. 25. For the instruction of indigent pupils in the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the deaf and dumb, twenty-three thousand dollars: Provided, That the sums appropriated for the instruction of the blind, and deaf, and dumb, shall be paid to said institutions, in proportion to the number of indigent pupils received by each, from the several counties of this Commonwealth, at the rates prescribed by law; evidence of the number of pupils to be furnished to the State Treasurer.

SEC. 26. For the Pennsylvania training school for feeble minded children, such amount as said institution may be entitled to receive under the provisions of the sixth section of the act incorporating said school, approved the seventh of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three; and for the purpose of completing the buildings now in progress, the further sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, to be paid to said institution upon a bond being executed to the Commonwealth in said sum, with security, to be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, conditioned for the full completion of said buildings without further aid from the Commonwealth.

SEC. 27. For the Northern Home for friendless children, five thousand dollars.

SEC. 28. For the Penn Asylum for indigent widows and single women, five thousand dollars.

SEC. 29. For the Howard Institution, under the care of an association of women Friends of Philadelphia, one thousand dollars.

SEC. 30. For the salary of the superintendent of the public printing, eight hundred dollars.

SEC. 31. To Richard J. Haldeman, publisher of the Legislative Record, compensation at the rate of seven dollars per page, for the numbers published at the present session, the amount to be certified as due by the superintendent of public printing.

SEC. 32. To each of the fire companies of Harrisburg, now organized and in operation, one hundred dollars.

SEC. 33. For the preservation and repairs of the capitol, and improvement of the public grounds.

SEC. 34. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay John A. Small, for services rendered the House of Representatives, the same compensation now allowed by law for an assistant clerk.

SEC. 35. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, the amounts necessary to pay the pages and folders employed during the present session, at the rate of one dollar per day each, for the time the Legislature is in session.

SEC. 36. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay George Manley, at the rate of one dollar per day, for services in cleansing and keeping in order the out-building of the two houses; the actual number of days employed, to be certified to by the Clerk of the House.

SEC. 37. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay Alvin Day, nineteen dollars and twenty-five cents, being the amount of a check drawn by the State Treasurer on the Bank of Pennsylvania, in May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and dishonored by said bank.

SEC. 38. For transcribing for committee of ways and means, to be paid on the order of the chairman, twenty dollars.

SEC. 39. For postage and stationery used in the office of the late Attorney General, sixty-seven dollars and fifty-nine cents.

SEC. 40. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the chief clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, for the expense of indexing journals, one hundred and twenty-five dollars each.

SEC. 41. For the payment of salaries of tonnage agents in full to June first, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, twelve hundred dollars.

The first section being before the committee, Mr. HAMERSLY moved that the committee rise, report progress and ask leave to sit again; and,

After some discussion the motion was withdrawn.

The first section was then read and agreed to. Second section was read.

Section was agreed to.

Third section was read.

Mr. HAMERSLY wished to know whether these were the usual appropriations.

Mr. CHASE said that in the aggregate they were the same.

The third section was agreed to.

The fourth section was read and agreed to.

The fifth section was read and agreed to.

The sixth section was read and agreed to.

The seventh section was read and agreed to.

The eighth section was read and agreed to.

The ninth section was read and agreed to.

The tenth section was read and agreed to.

The eleventh section was read and agreed to.

The twelfth section was read and agreed to.

The thirteenth section was read and agreed to.

The fourteenth section was read and agreed to.

The fifteenth section was read and agreed to.

The sixteenth section was read and agreed to.

The seventeenth section was read and agreed to.

The eighteenth section was read.

Mr. CHASE offered an amendment providing that $3,118 extra be appropriated for expenses incurred for paving, under the compulsory paving laws of Allegheny city.

Mr. CHASE said that the amendment had originated with one of the inspectors. He desired an explanation from some of the gentlemen from Allegheny.

Messrs. M'DOWELL and FOSTER explained that the laws of Allegheny city were compulsory upon property holders to pave.

Mr. THORN wished to know whether the street had been paved.

Mr. M'DOWELL said that it had been done last summer, and never paid for.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that in this case it was just for them to have the money.

Mr. FOSTER explained further.

The amendment was agreed to.

The section as amended was then agreed to.

The nineteenth section was read and agreed to.

The twentieth section was read and agreed to.

The twenty-first section was read and agreed to.

The twenty-second section was read.

Mr. ROHRER offered an amendment to appropriate to Pittsburg hospital, twenty-five hundred dollars, and to Passavant's infirmary, twenty-five hundred dollars.

Mr. CHASE desired an explanation.

Mr. IRISH said that the appropriations were necessary; the institutions had been supported by voluntary subscriptions for a long time.

The amendment was withdrawn.

Debate ensued on the section, between Messrs. CHASE and THORN.

Mr. WARDEN offered an amendment, that the charges should first be certified to by the Auditor General.

Mr. CHASE opposed this. The Auditor General had enough duties to perform at present.

Mr. WARDEN said that the Auditor General had told him that some not very creditable bills had been presented from the institution, viz: one for fifty tons of hay for fast horses which had been kept.

Mr. KINNEY wished to inquire what become of the surplus fund if the appropriation should exceed the necessary expenses.

Mr. CHASE said that an excess could not be drawn.

Mr. HAMERSLY suggested that a section should be introduced giving the managers power to collect in different counties.

The section, as amended, was agreed to.

The twenty-fourth section was read and agreed to.

The twenty-fifth section was read and agreed to.

The twenty-sixth section was read and agreed to.

The twenty-seventh section was read.

Mr. CHASE offered an amendment, that the Home should be subject to certain regulations incorporated in an act relative to the House of Refuge.

Mr. THOMPSON offered an amendment to the amendment, viz: to appropriate one thousand dollars to the Northern Home of Bradford county. He defended his project. The last amendment was withdrawn.

The amendment of Mr. CHASE was agreed to; and the section, as amended, was agreed to.

The twenty-eighth section was read.

Mr. KINNEY moved to strike out all after the words twenty-eighth section.

Mr. WALBORN would like to have some reasons.

Mr. KINNEY thought that Philadelphia should support its own poor.

Mr. WALBORN said that Philadelphia did support its own poor, and also assisted to support the poor in other sections of the State.—The institution took in persons from every county. It was now in straightened circumstances. It was not an ordinary poor house. It was one appealing to the sympathy and heart of every member.

Mr. KINNEY said that the country supported its poor better than the city. He was opposed to making the State pay for the support of a certain class of poor in Philadelphia.

Mr. WILLIAMS hoped that the section would not be stricken out. The institution was useful. An admission fee of $60 would give widows a home for life.

Mr. THORN opposed the remarks of Mr. KINNEY, who said that the people of the country took better care of their poor than those of the city. He doubted this, and hoped that the measure would pass as a simple act of justice. He spoke eloquently in the defence of the institution, which was sustained solely by women, who mutually agreed to take care of each other. He appealed not to the sympathy of the House, but to its honor and philanthropy.

Mr. KINNEY read from the Constitution that the institution was the Penn widow's asylum of Kensington. It was, therefore, local in its character. He further spoke in opposition to the appropriation.

Mr. THORN said there were many reasons why this appropriation should be made to a Philadelphia institution. The poor house of that city supports an immense number of people from every part of the State.

Mr. KINNEY said that Mr. THORN seemed to think that everybody lived in Philadelphia.

The amendment was lost and the section was agreed to.

The twenty-ninth section was read and agreed to.

The amendments previously offered by Mr. ROHRER and withdrawn, were again offered. They appropriated $5000 to two Pittsburg institutions.

Mr. WILSON advocated these amendments, and spoke particularly of Passavant's infirmary, and of its founder, whom he highly eulogized. This institution, some eight or ten years old, had done incalculable good, and certainly deserved an appropriation of this small amount, viz., $2,500.

Mr. IRISH said that there were no salaried officers in the institution, and every cent of money went to the benefit of the inmates.

Mr. HAMERSLY hoped that the two institutions, by whom aid was desired, would be allowed to go hand in hand. One was Catholic and one was Protestant.

Mr. CHURCH hoped not, and would not vote for them when together.

Mr. ROHRER defended the Mercy Hospital.

Mr. NILL favored the union of the two institutions in the appropriation bill.

Mr. HAMERSLY further favored the union.

The section, as amended, was adopted.

Mr. THOMPSON offered the thirty-first section, appropriating $1000 to the Orphan's Home of Zelenople.

Agreed to.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) offered a section appropriating twenty-four thousand dollars to erect a monument in honor of the soldiers who perished in Mexico.

This was withdrawn for the present.

Section 32 was read and agreed to.

Section 33 was read.

Mr. CHASE offered an amendment to strike out "Superintendent of Public Printing," and insert "Committee of Printing of both Houses."

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. CHASE, also offered the following amendment: that the fortieth section of an act of appropriation of 1858, relative to the continuance of the publication of the Record by R. J. Haldeman, be repealed.

Mr. CHASE said that the design of this amendment was not to affect the contract for this session, and modified his amendment so that it shall not effect the contract for the present session.

Mr. HAMERSLY was opposed to the modification.

Mr. ABBOTT thought that the present publication of the Record was without law or authority, and that the Constitutional privileges of the House had been invaded by the act of 1858.

Mr. WILSON said that he thought the contract would terminate at the end of this session.

Mr. CHASE moved that the committee of the whole rise, report progress, and ask leave to sit again. Agreed to.

Leave was given to the committee to sit again to-morrow morning.

The hour of one having arrived, the House adjourned until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House met again at 3 o'clock.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved that the Committee on Corporations be discharged from the further consideration of the supplement to the act incorporating the town of Sunbury, Northumberland county, into a borough, and that the House proceed to the consideration of the same; which was agreed to.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved to amend the first section as follows:

The town council shall have the authority to regulate the roads, streets, lanes, alleys, courts, common sewers, public squares, common grounds, foot-walks, pavements, gutters, culverts, and the heights, grades, widths, slopes, and forms thereof, and they shall have other needful jurisdiction over the same; which was agreed to, and the bill passed the House; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. THOMPSON, on leave, read in his place and presented to the Chair, the following:

"A supplement to the act abolishing a land office, &c."

Also, "An Act to incorporate the United Presbyterian congregation of Unity church, of Venango township, Butler county."

Mr. GRATZ said: It becomes my painful duty to announce to this House the death of one of its members, my late colleague, Mr. WOOD. A few months since and he had entered the threshold of manhood, buoyant with that hope which animates the young, and had come here in obedience to the voice of the people of his district, who, in the full confidence of his integrity and ability, had selected him, young as he was, as their representative upon this floor. Conscious of the importance of the duties committed to him, he strove honorably to acquit himself by a careful and constant attention to all matters involving either the interests of his district or those of his native city. How well he succeeded, during the short time he was among us, we all know.

Of the qualities of his heart, I must speak; for I knew him well—I may say intimately; and I, and all of us, can bear truthful testimony to his kind affection, his uniform courtesy, his obliging disposition, and his modest and unobtrusive deportment, which endeared him to his friends and companions. But the inscrutable decree of an all-wise Providence has ordained that he should part from us, and from all that was dear to him on earth, to exchange mortality for immortality—and to that decree we must all bow in submission. True, sir, that sad memories of the departed will linger around his vacant chair; true that when we turn our eyes to his accustomed seat, and see him not, mournful recollections will fill our minds. But why should we sorrow? He is the gainer. The readiness is all. And I believe that he was prepared to meet the stern messenger, and is now, in another and a better world, gathering the inestimable gains of a short, but well-spent life.

Mr. EVANS offered the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, This House has learned with deep sorrow, the announcement of the death of its late member, GEO. W. WOOD;

Resolved, That as a mark of our respect for the memory of the deceased, we will wear the usual badge of mourning for the space of thirty days.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed from this body, to attend the funeral of the deceased; and to convey to his family the assurances of our sincere condolence with them in the affliction which they have sustained.

Resolved, That the SPEAKER be requested to communicate to the family of the deceased; the proceedings had thereon by this House.

Which were read the second time.

And on the question,

Shall the same pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THORN and Mr. M'DOWELL, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Evans, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Green, Gritman, Hamersly, Harding, Hill, Hottenstine, Irish, Keneagy, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mehaffey, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Neall, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Pugh, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Ronse, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Wagonseller, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wiliston, Wilson, Witherow, Wolf, Woodring Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—92

NAYS—None.

Mr. EVANS said—

Mr. SPEAKER: It becomes my unpleasant duty to announce to this House the death of GEO. W. WOOD, late member from the city.

It is a melancholy occasion which calls upon us to pay a last and well merited tribute of respect to the dead. We realize that we have been visited by a most solemn and peculiar admonition in this dispensation of Providence, when one so young, so fresh, in the first bloom of manhood, falls, and when death enters the household of the Commonwealth, and deprives it of one of its most useful and active members. His death is full of useful instruction, and should be to us a most solemn admonition of the uncertainty of life. It was my pleasure to form the acquaintance of the deceased shortly before the Legislature convened, since which time our associations in and out of this Hall have been almost daily, and of a familiar character, resulting in a most intimate friendship. I have invariably found him courteous, frank and generous. He was strong in his impulses, which proceeded from a warm and generous heart. But it is not our task to pass a eulogy upon his character. We are here to join in condolence our sympathies with the feelings of his friends and relatives. He is gone, and we trust to that better world where the soul lives immortal and knows no pangs of sorrow. To us he can only be held in memory. We shall delight to think of him as he was and as we knew him. And although his life has flitted across our horizon as bright and sudden as a shooting star, its course is marked by those fond recollections, which nothing but the chill hand of death can have power to obscure. We know that he will live in the memories of those of us who knew him but as a fond associate, a useful member, and a valued friend.

Mr. HAMERSLY said—

Mr. SPEAKER: I can scarcely find language to give utterance to the feelings which crowd upon the heart at the announcement of the death of my late friend and colleague, Mr. WOOD; and yet I feel as though I ought not to permit the occasion, sad and mournful as it is, to pass without bearing my feeble testimony to the many virtues of him whose sudden decease we are now called upon to deplore.— Though a resident of the same city, my acquaintance with Mr. WOOD was confined to the last few months. I first met him when, with all the ardor and energy of youth, he entered upon the canvass which ended in placing him in the seat from which he has been so suddenly called away, and which has left me, far more unworthy, to remain and weep over his loss.— Yet brief as was my intercourse with him, it was long enough to enable me to learn the many high and ennobling qualities of his heart; to feel and appreciate his sterling worth. Though with a modesty, which is always the characteristic of true genius and merit, he refrained from an active participation in the proceedings of the House, he was keenly alive to the duties and responsibilities of his position, and his highest ambition was to discharge those duties honestly and faithfully to the constituency who sent him here, and to prepare himself for future usefulness.

To our limited vision, Mr. SPEAKER, there may seem something strange and inscrutable in the summons that has called him, in the full flower of his youth, from our midst; yet it becomes us to bow without murmuring to the decree of Him who orders all things wisely, and whose ways are not as our ways. It may be a subject of wonder to us that he who but a few days ago stood among us, the youngest member of us all—who, to all human appearances, would be the last one to be summoned from our midst—should, in the silent providence of God, be suddenly snatched away; yet it is better, Mr. SPEAKER, that he should have been taken from hence before intercourse with the world had corrupted the pure feelings of his youth—before he entered into battle with the stern realities of life, which are so well calculated to destroy the warmest and most refined sensibilities of our nature. It was well, sir, “that the light cloud should fade away with the morning sun, rather than travel on through the weary day, to gather in darkness and end in storm.” In leaving us thus early, he has escaped the thousand ills that “come to all, and must have come to him;” and it should be to us a matter of rejoicing, that the flower has been torn from its stem while all its beauty and fragrance remained, instead of being left to wither and fade away, to be scattered at last by the rude winds.

There is a lesson in all this, Mr. SPEAKER, sad and harrowing as it may be, which I trust will not be lost upon those of us who are yet permitted to remain. And if it shall be the means of recalling us to a just sense of our duties and obligations to those who sent us here; if it shall soften down the bitterness and asperities of debate; if it shall induce us to feel more kindly and charitably towards the faults and frailties of each other; if it shall banish from these Halls the angry and excited feelings which recent events have engendered here, and induce us to feel as man ought to feel towards his fellow man; then, Sir, will this lesson, severe and heart-rending as it is, not have been taught in vain, and we shall go from here the wiser and better for it. Let us lay these things closely to heart, Sir, so that when the dread summons shall come to us, it may find us ready to meet it, armed with the consciousness of a life well spent; of a trust well kept; of duties honestly and faithfully discharged; and this,

Mr. SPEAKER, is all that is worth contending for. What, after all, are the triumphs of the forum; the honors and emoluments of power and place, compared with an approving conscience in the last hours of life?

Mr. WILEY said—

Mr. SPEAKER: This House has learned with feelings of the deepest regret and sorrow, of the decease of one of its members. Again are we warned, by this sad intelligence, of the uncertainty of life, and the certainty of death.— Again are we brought to feel, yea, made to feel, that even the bloom and vigor of youth cannot resist the fell destroyer, Death, when he lays his ruthless arm upon frail man. A short time since, and our friend and brother—the lamented dead—was here in our midst—here in the strength of manhood—here with prospects of a long and useful life before him—here to aid and assist with his councils in the important and responsible duties of legislation; but today, alas, his seat is vacant, death has removed him from among us. Sir, he is gone. The places that have known him, shall know him no more forever; and we, in humbly bowing to the decrees of an all-wise Providence, can but mourn the loss of one, whom to know was to love. It was my privilege, during the commencement of the illness of Mr. WOOD, before he left for his home in Philadelphia, to administer to his comfort. He talked of his duties here—his duties to his constituency—and anxiously expressed a wish that he might soon be restored to health, in order, faithfully, to serve them. But that constituency, for whose just interests he felt so deeply, have lost the services of one whose intelligence, impartiality and uprightness in the discharge of his duties, both as a man and as a representative, has so tenderly endeared him to all. In this House, his death will be sensibly felt. We have, Representatives, lost a friend and a colleague, of whom it can be justly said, that, “the good and generous qualities of our nature, were blended in his character.”

“— and the elements
So mixed in him, that nature might stand up
And say to all the world—this was a man.”

Mr. THORN said—

Mr. SPEAKER:—In rising to offer my humble but sincere tribute to the memory of my late colleague, I can hardly hope to add any thing to what has already been so appropriately and eloquently said. The lightning's flash that this morning informed us of the death of GEORGE W. WOOD, cast a gloom over this House, and very forcibly reminded us “that in the midst of life, we are in death.”

A few months since, an intelligent constituency sought, and found in him whose death we now mourn, a representative. Full of youth, health and hope, he took his seat in this House, and commenced, as we all hoped, a career of responsibility and usefulness; but a wise Providence decreed that soon his wordly labors should cease, and ere time was given to develop the energies of his nature, he was called to “that bourne, whence no traveler returns.”

Of the public career of our deceased brother, I will not speak. He was a very young man—having little more than reached his majority; but of his private worth and social qualities, we who have been associated with him can fully appreciate. He had a heart warm at the centre, and his life was devoted to truth, justice and integrity. Mr. SPEAKER, the deceased and myself lodged at the same hotel, and our intercourse was free and cordial. His manly form; his honest and frank countenance, we will not again see; nor will we be delighted by his presence, in our social or official circles, but his virtues will be cherished while memory retains her seat. The youngest member of our body is no more; let us so deport ourselves that when we are summoned, we, like the departed, may be ready.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) said—

Were I to regard it as but an accustomed formality, I might easily refrain from any public expression of grief on this sad occasion. But the claims of the dead are more imperious than the mandates of the most arbitrary custom, and heart and intellect yield them at once to the overpowering outburst of genuine feeling.

“The good die first, while they whose hearts
Are dry as summer's dust, burn to their sockets.”

Strange truth! how art thou here realized!

GEORGE WOOD was, with but one exception, the youngest member of this body. Attracted towards him, first by congenial years, a very brief acquaintance sufficed to lodge him firmly in that esteem and friendship which we inevitably and spontaneously accord to a fine and generous nature.

Young as he was in years, he had but entered the vestibule of public life; he was still younger as a legislator. Hope itself, scarce had time to point to his youth's vision golden-hued promise hereafter, when he was bid to cease to hope forever here. This very day his first public essay ends abruptly unfinished; its sequel, were it wanting to realize his promise to the future, is at least not required to rescue the past.

In so brief a career as a popular representative as his has been, it was not to be expected that his performance should have been suddenly conspicuous or his fame established.

But, sir, it was long enough to fulfil those hopes and expectations which the young are wont to inspire. Though of an age peculiarly liable to the vain-glorious conceits incident to premature and marked success, he showed himself capable of hearing with grace the honors that oftentimes stagger the equanimity of a sterner manhood than his. He was self-reliant, yet modest; advocating the right with inflexible determination, he yet spurned no proffered help in avoiding what was wrong. Superior experience exacted and received his respectful attention, yet he was too high-toned and conscientious not to be fearless and uncompromising in maintaining his settled convictions. GEORGE WOOD, thus constituted, could never have been other than a faithful public servant. He was more than this, he was at the same time a true man.

Transferred so early to a scene of exciting pleasures, confessedly dangerous to the young, temptation itself saved him the necessity of combatting its power, for it fell prostrate before the dignity of his virtue.

So much, sir, during a brief acquaintance I have known and seen of our departed brother; for this much I love and shall cherish his memory, and for this I have felt myself called upon to pay the tribute of my unaffected sincerity to his worth.

Adjourned.

SENATE.

FRIDAY, Feb. 25, 1859.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock, the SPEAKER in the chair.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. DeWitt.

The Journal was read and approved.

Mr. KELLER appeared in his seat.

The SPEAKER presented a remonstrance of citizens of Indiana county, against any increase of the fees of commissioners and auditors in said county.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, &c.

Mr. SCHELL presented ten remonstrances of citizens of Huntingdon county, against any change in the manner of collecting the taxes in said county, and against extending the term of the county treasurer.

Also, the petition of citizens of Bedford county, praying for the repeal of the act of 10th April, 1849, which prohibits fishing at certain seasons in Yellow creek, in said county.

Also, the petition of citizens of Huntingdon county, praying for an appropriation to the "Polytechnic college of Pennsylvania."

Also, the memorial of citizens of Blair county, praying for an additional appropriation to aid in the erection of a monument on the capitol grounds.

Also, three remonstrances signed by two hundred and eighty-five citizens of Bedford county, against the annexation of Middle Woodbury township to Blair county.

Mr. THOMPSON, a petition from citizens of Norristown, Montgomery county, for an act to permit them to remove the remains of the dead from a burial ground, as within mentioned, to another cemetery.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Philadelphia, against granting the Germantown passenger railway company any additional privileges, and for the repeal of the present charter.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Montgomery county, against the same, and in favor of the repeal of their charter.

Mr. TURNEY, a remonstrance of citizens of Rostraver township, Westmoreland county, against the formation of the new county of Monongahela.

Also, a petition of citizens of Penn township, in the same county, asking the passage of a law authorizing them to determine by a vote whether or not the present school system shall continue in said township.

Mr. BREWER, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Streets passenger railway company.

Mr. GAZZAM, two petitions of citizens of Pittsburg and vicinity, praying for the passage of an act incorporating the Pittsburg and East Liberty passenger railway company.

Mr. PENNEY, a petition of citizens and taxpayers of Pittsburg, in favor of a law abolishing the high school in said city.

Also, the petition of sundry inhabitants of Pennsylvania, in favor of a law prohibiting the surrender of any person claimed as a slave on the soil of Pennsylvania.

Also, a petition of the school directors of the city of Pittsburg, in favor of an act regulating common schools in said city.

Mr. YARDLEY, three petitions of citizens of Philadelphia, praying for the passage of the supplement to the Green and Coates Streets passenger railroad company.

Also, three remonstrances of citizens of Bucks county, against the passage of House bill No. 187, "An Act to incorporate the Delaware Division canal company."

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, asking for the appropriation in aid of the School of Mines.

Mr. BALDWIN, a remonstrance from citizens of Lancaster county, against the passage of an act authorizing the construction of a State road in Berks and Lancaster counties.

Mr. FRANCIS, a petition of two hundred and fifty-five citizens of Mercer county, praying for the repeal of the law creating the office of county superintendent of common schools.

Also, two remonstrances of citizens of Philadelphia, against the supplement to the Germantown passenger railroad company.

Mr. PALMER, one of like import.

Also, three petitions signed by one hundred and seventy-seven citizens of Middleport, Schuylkill county, for an act incorporating said town into a borough.

Also, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the supplement to the Green and Coates Streets passenger railway company.

Also, a petition of officers, directors and clerks of the Miners' Bank of Pottsville, for a law requiring the several banks of this Commonwealth to keep their notes at par or forfeit two per cent. on the average amount of their annual circulation.

Also, a petition of citizens of Schuylkill county, in favor of an appropriation for the support of the School of Mines.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, for a law for the better securing the payment of the wages of labor in said county.

Also, eight petitions of citizens of the same county, for a railroad connecting the Little Schuylkill railroad with the Schuylkill Valley railroad, in said county.

Mr. WRIGHT, two remonstrances of members of Evangelical churches in Frankford, against the running of cars on railways on Sundays.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of the Twenty-Third ward, in the city of Philadelphia, interested in the fisheries, against the erection of a dam in the Delaware river.

Also, four remonstrances numerous signed by citizens of Philadelphia, against the Germantown passenger railway supplement, and for the repeal of their charter.

Messrs. PARKER and MARSELIS each, three of like import.

Messrs. FETTER, BLOOD, KELLER and MYER, remonstrances of similar import.

Mr. WRIGHT, three petitions of citizens of Philadelphia, praying for the passage of the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Streets passenger railway company.

Messrs. FETTER, MYER and BELL, petitions of like import.

Mr. PARKER, two remonstrances against the same.

Mr. WRIGHT, a petition of citizens of Roxborough, in the Twenty-Third ward of Philadelphia, praying for the passage of a law authorizing the election of additional guardians of the poor.

Also, a remonstrance against the same.

Mr. MARSELIS, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the modification of the auction laws.

Mr. SCHINDEL, a petition of citizens of Northampton county, in favor of the submission to the vote of the people of the question of the removal of the seat of justice in said county.

Also, a petition of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, of Easton, in favor of a law requiring banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Also, a petition from the Easton Bank, of like import.

Mr. CRAIG, a remonstrance of citizens of Monroe county, against the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. SCOFIELD, a petition of forty citizens of Otto township, M'Kean county, for a law declaring Knapp's creek a public highway.

Mr. GREGG, a remonstrance of citizens of Muncy, Lycoming county, against the construction of a State road from Shoemaker's mills to Muncy borough.

Also, a petition of citizens of Lycoming county, for a law to secure more prompt payment on the part of insurance companies.

Mr. SHAEFFER, a petition of citizens of Lancaster county, in favor of the abolition of the office of sealer of weights and measures.

Mr. COFFEY, a petition of citizens of Cambria county, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. BLOOD, a petition of the school directors and citizens of Porter township, Jefferson county, for a law to authorize the re-examining of certain school accounts.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same township, for a law to appoint the place of holding elections in said township.

Mr. MYER, a petition of citizens of Ulster township, Bradford county, for the repeal of an act establishing a ferry across the Susquehanna river, in said township.

Also, (with a desire that he shall not be regarded as committed on this subject,) a petition of persons living along the line of the Pennsylvania railroad, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. BELL, a petition of citizens of Chester county, relative to fencing the Chester Valley railroad.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. TURNEY, (Finance,) reported with a negative recommendation, "An Act to pay the salary and mileage of Wm. F. Small, Senator in 1847."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Pennsylvania railroad company."

Mr. COFFEY, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A resolution relative to the Mt. Vernon fund association."

Mr. RANDALL, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the Auditor General and State Treasurer to open and re-settle the accounts of the Franklin fire insurance company."

Mr. WELSH, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act for the relief of George D. Boyer, of Schuylkill county."

Mr. GREGG, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the Auditor General and State Treasurer to re-audit the accounts between the Commonwealth and the Northampton County bridge company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A joint resolution, instructing our Senators and Representatives in Congress to vote against any increase of the present rates of postage."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, House bill No. 278, "A supplement to an act to repeal certain acts relative to the non-payment of the enrolment tax."

Mr. BELL, (Judiciary,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the erection of a lock-up house in Orwigshurg, Schuylkill county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act providing for the recording of certain papers in Schuylkill county."

Mr. BREWER, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to Edith T. Greeno, of Canton, Bradford county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the commissioners of Bedford county, to sell certain property occupied by the poor of said county."

Mr. MILLER, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act providing for the erection of a house of employment and support for the poor in Lehigh county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act increasing the pay of commissioners and auditors in Clarion county."

Mr. SCOFIELD, with a negative recommendation, "An Act increasing the fees of sheriff in Northumberland county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to restrict sales by auction in Northampton and Lehigh counties."

Mr. WRIGHT, (Corporations,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to an act incorporating the St. Paul's church, of Philadelphia."

On motion of the same Senator, this bill was re-committed to the Committee on Corporations.

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to incorporate the village of Attleboro into a borough."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate Harris' Park, in Harrisburg."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill, 312, "An Act to change the lines of the borough of California, Washington county."

Also, (same,) with amendment, House bill, No. 263, "An Act to incorporate the Olivet Methodist Episcopal church, in the borough of Coatesville, Chester county."

Also, returned House bill No. 419, "An Act to incorporate the Layton bridge company, in Fayette county, and to authorize the commissioners of said county to make a donation to said company," and asked that it be referred to the Committee on Roads and Bridges; which was agreed to.

Mr. STEELE, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 423, "An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia and New Orleans steam navigation company."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 260, "An Act to incorporate the People's insurance company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to extend the limits of Orwigsburg, Schuylkill county."

Also, (same,) with amendment, House bill No. 323, "An Act to incorporate the Phoenix homestead building association."

Mr. GAZZAM, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Union Evangelical Lutheran congregation of York."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Lewisburg building association."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act incorporating Pitt park association."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Odd Fellows' hall association."

Mr. SCHELL, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Northwestern coal and iron company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Kittanning gas company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to reduce the number of directors in the American mutual insurance company."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Mont Alto iron company."

Mr. SHAEFFER, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the borough of Middleport, Schuylkill county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Cambria iron company."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Clearfield gas company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Schuylkill and Delaware basin company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the California seminary in Washington county."

Mr. MARSELLIS, (Banks,) as committed, "An Act relative to banks."

Mr. GAZZAM, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to the general banking law."

Mr. MYER, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to an act regulating banks, passed April 16, 1850."

Mr. SCOFIELD, (Election Districts,) as committed, "An Act establishing a place of holding elections in Carbondale, Luzerne county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act fixing the place of holding elections in Franconia township, Montgomery county."

Mr. MYER, (same,) as committed, "An Act establishing a place of holding elections in the First ward of the city of Carbondale, Luzerne county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act changing the place of holding elections in Upper Paxton township, Dauphin county."

Mr. THOMPSON, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to borough elections in Jersey Shore, Lycoming county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act changing the place of holding elections in Huston township, Centre county."

Mr. MARSELLIS, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act appointing a place for holding elections in Foster township, Schuylkill county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to change the place of holding elections in Jackson township, Huntingdon county."

Mr. FETTER, (Agriculture and Domestic Manufactures,) "A supplement to an act laying a tax on dogs in West Chester, and for other purposes."

Mr. YARDLEY, (Compare Bills,) made a report."

Mr. FINNEY, (Railroads,) as committed, House bill No. 158, "An Act to incorporate the Port Kennedy railroad company, of Montgomery county."

Mr. SCHELL, (Private Claims and Damages,) with amendment, "A supplement to an act relative to the claim of Daniel A. Bardwell."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 233, "An Act authorizing the State Treasurer to pay Nathaniel White for damages sustained by him."

Mr. SHAEFFER, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 236, "An Act to pay A. K. and A. L. Witmer, for loss sustained in consequence of a collision on the Columbia and Philadelphia railroad."

Mr. MILLER, from the Committee of Conference, on the differences between the two Houses on "A joint resolution relative to the pay of Thomas H. Porter and J. H. Wells," made a report; which was adopted.

(The House receded from its non-concurrence in Senate amendments.)

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. BELL read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act to regulate the practice and fees of sheriffs in cases of attachment."

Mr. THOMPSON, "An Act to incorporate the Belmont Avenue and plank road company."

Mr. YARDLEY, "An Act relative to the collection of State and county taxes in Bucks county."

Also, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Hartsville and Centreville turnpike road company."

Mr. PENNEY, "An Act for the regulation and continuance of education by common schools in the city of Pittsburgh."

Mr. FETTER, "An Act to repeal a supplement to an act incorporating the borough of Newport, Perry county."

Mr. MYER, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Bradford railroad company."

Mr. PALMER, "An Act relative to the claim of James Malone, against the Philadelphia and Sunbury railroad company."

Mr. SCHELL, "An Act relative to the claim of Jackson Fee."

Also, "An Act to repeal an act to prevent the destruction of fish in Yellow creek, Bedford county."

Mr. BELL, "An Act supplemental to an act approved February 16, 1859, entitled 'A supplement to an act passed April 3, 1851, entitled 'An Act regulating boroughs.'"

Mr. BREWER, "An Act attaching the farm of Samuel Gladfelter, in Taylor township, Fulton county, to Clay township school district, in Huntingdon county."

Mr. PENNEY, "An Act to incorporate the Boatmen's insurance company."

Mr. FETTER, "An Act to authorize the school directors of Tyrone township, Perry county, to sell a certain school house and lot of ground."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. WRIGHT offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That when the Senate adjourns this afternoon, it adjourn to meet on Monday at the usual hour.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr.

SCOFIELD and Mr. WRIGHT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Blood, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Keller, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Schell, Shaeffer Schindel, Steele, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—23.

NAYS—Messrs. Fetter, Gregg, Harris, Scofield, Thompson, Turney and Welsh—7.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. FINNEY asked and obtained leave to record his vote on the bill relating to evidence, offered by Mr. COFFEY.

He voted "yea."

Mr. KELLER asked and obtained the unanimous consent of the Senate to proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 426, "A further supplement to an act to erect the town of Sunbury, in Northumberland county, into a borough."

Said bill having gone through its various readings, passed finally.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

The resolution presented by Mr. MILLER, (on Monday last,) calling upon the Auditor General for information, came up in order.

It is as follows:

Resolved, That the Auditor General be requested to inform the Senate, whether the Pennsylvania railroad company have paid a State tax on their capital stock, as required of all corporations under the provisions of the thirty-third section of an act to reduce the State debt, and to incorporate the Pennsylvania canal and railroad company, approved April 29, 1844; what amount of tax is claimed to be due the Commonwealth from said company; what portion of the said tax has been paid, and at what period the said company commenced to pay the same; and further, what legislation, if any, is deemed necessary to equalize taxation upon the capital stock of the various corporations of this Commonwealth.

This resolution was twice read, considered and adopted.

On motion of Mr. GREGG, the Senate proceeded to consider "A joint resolution providing for the pay W. E. Frazer, late Canal Commissioner;" which was twice read, considered and adopted.

Senate bill No. 18, "An Act to establish a general banking law," came up in order on second reading.

Mr. BELL remarked that the general principles of the bill, within the last few days, had been subjected to pretty severe criticism. A bill which strikes out a new system, as this does, cannot be expected to meet with the approbation of all. While the general principles meet with the approbation of the people, there is yet in its details much which requires amendment. In submitting the amendment which he was about to do, he had the concurrence of the Senator having the bill in charge; and at the head of the special committee to which he wished to refer this bill, he would suggest that the Senator from Philadelphia, (Mr. RANDALL,) should be placed.

He then moved that the bill be referred to a special committee of seven.

Mr. RANDALL was much obliged to the Senator from Chester for the kind mention which had been made by him of himself. He agreed with him that this bill, in its details, requires amendment, and he believed the best means of arriving at the perfection of it which was necessary, was to refer it to a special committee. With the discussion which had been heard upon it, Senators may have gleaned something which will enable them to act upon it with the proper understanding of its merits.

The motion of Mr. BELL was agreed to.

Senate bill No. 10, "An Act for the better se ensuring the payment of wages of labor in Schuylkill county," came up in order.

Mr. TURNEY advocated the application of the principles of the bill, so as to embrace all the counties of this Commonwealth.

Mr. PALMER had no objection to making the bill a general one, if its provisions were deemed salutary and applicable, provided the intention was not to send it to the other branch with such amendments as will kill it in that branch. If it is to be killed, he hoped it would be done openly, and not by any indirection.

Mr. BELL opposed the amendment. While he would readily vote to extend its beneficent provisions to the miners of Schuylkill county, he was not desirous of extending the operations of the bill to the counties of Chester and Delaware. If the bill is made a general one, he would be constrained to vote against it.

Mr. PENNEY also protested against making the act a general one, and proceeded to present his reasons for his position.

Mr. SCHELL was in favor of both the bill and the amendment. If any class of people deserve or require protection, it is that class to which the provisions of the bill are extended. The law he considered a wholesome one, and should be passed.

Mr. TURNEY explained that he had no disposition to embarrass the bill of the Senator from Schuylkill. He was friendly to it, believed it beneficial to miners, and just in its general provisions. He entered into an explanation of the effects of the bill, and gave the reasons why he desired to have them extended to the county of Westmoreland.

Mr. PENNEY agreed with the Senator from Chester in his views of the bill, and entered into an explanation of its legal effects, which he considered objectionable.

Mr. FINNEY desired to define his position on the bill. The objections which had been made against it by Senators were theoretical, not practical. They talked as if it was proposed to legislate for the protection of property, while it was a bill for the protection of labor. He also replied to the legal arguments made against the bill.

Mr. GAZZAM said if the bill had the effect of embarrassing the transfer of property, as the Senators from Allegheny and Chester had alleged, it was objectionable. He thought it should be amended, in some particulars, after which he would have no objection to having it made general. He merely wished to throw out the suggestions.

Mr. PALMER said—

Mr. SPEAKER:—I need not say to those Senators who observed the movements of parties in the county of Schuylkill during the last political canvass, that the principles of the bill now under consideration met the approval of the whole people of that county, without regard to political differences. Upon the congressional and county tickets there were three distinct organizations, each vying with the other in their assurances to the people, that a law for the better securing the payment of the wages of labor of our miners and laborers at collieries, should be earnestly pressed upon the attention of the Legislature, by the representatives who should be elected, and its passage secured if possible. There were over eleven thousand votes cast in Schuylkill county at the last October election, and every one of our citizens by whom those votes were cast, knew that the candidates for the Legislature for whom they voted, were pledged to sustain a law similar to the one which I have had the honor to present to the consideration of the Senate, and which is now to be voted on. After the bill was favorably reported by the able and learned Committee on the Judiciary System, over three weeks ago, I caused it to be published in the newspapers of the county to which it applies, and its details are fully understood and have been generally discussed by all the people whom I represent. I am happy to be able to say to the Senate, that up to this time, there has been no voice of opposition, remonstrance or complaint, against its provisions; but on the contrary, the Senate has received a multitude of petitions in its favor, signed by many hundreds of citizens, and all my private letters and advices upon the same subject, are of congratulation, approval and thankfulness to the Judiciary Committee and to the Senate, for their thus far favorable action.

I can hardly suppose that a bill which is purely local to my own county in its operation, and which has been thus unanimously called for by my numerous and intelligent constituency, after having passed the ordeal of an able, learned and laborious committee, will meet with opposition in the Senate, distinguished as its members are in courtesy towards each other in all matters of a purely local nature, which the immediate representatives of the people of the locality to be affected may be presumed to understand, and of which they are willing to take the responsibility; but it appeared to me proper, in vindication of the wisdom of the proposed measure, to call the attention of the Senate to the importance of the enactment.

The county of Schuylkill, so called because the source of the river bearing the same name is found within its boundaries, contains an area of 476,800 acres of land, and was organized in 1811, out of the most mountainous, uninhabited, and almost uninhabited portions of the old counties of Berks and Northampton. With the exception of a small area of arable lands in the valleys in the southern part of the county, and a few still smaller valleys upon the north, adjoining Northumberland, Columbia and Luzerne counties, the territory was almost entirely covered by the immense original forests, and traversed by vast ranges of lofty mountains, amid which the deer roamed unmolested, while the trout and other fish filled the pure mountain streams. A few lumbermen, shingle-splitters and charcoal manufacturers composed its sparse and primitive population, and there was probably no part of Pennsylvania that held out less invitation to settlers, or less promise of importance. But under the rugged and forbidding surface there were hidden by the bountiful hand of Nature, and only waiting the proper time for their development, mines of wealth, exceeding in vastness and value the gems of Golconda or the gold of ancient Ophir and modern California.

In 1812, a citizen of Pottsville, Col. George Shoemaker, sent to Philadelphia from Schuylkill county, a few loads of anthracite coal.—Those to whom it was distributed, with one or two exceptions, found it impossible to make use of it, for want of knowledge how to kindle it into combustion, and the bulk of the coal was thrown aside as useless.

In 1820, the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company sent 365 tons of anthracite coal to market. In 1825, anthracite coal was used for the generation of steam; and in 1829, my own father and uncle were attracted to Schuylkill county, among a vast emigration of men from all parts of the country, by the growing importance and value of the new discovery.

From that time to the present, Schuylkill county has increased with great rapidity in all the elements of population, business, wealth and commercial importance. Her population, which, by the census of 1850, exceeded sixty thousand, is now probably upward of one hundred thousand. The value of the real and personal estate of the county, according to the assessment of 1857, was nearly eleven millions of dollars. The coal product of Schuylkill in the year 1858, marked as it was by unexampled business depression, was nearly three million tons. The total product from 1823 to 1858 inclusive, was over thirty-seven million five hundred thousand tons. The highways upon which this great product has found its way to the markets of the country, are on a scale of corresponding vastness. The Philadelphia and Reading railroad, with its terminus at Pottsville, cost over nineteen millions of dollars. The Schuylkill canal, nearly eleven millions of dollars. Other coal bearing roads, within the county, represent a capital of over five millions of dollars.—All through the mountains and valleys of the coal region, when relieved from the pressure of the baneful free trade financial system of the General Government, the hum of machinery, the whistle of the locomotive engine, and the rush of loaded coal trains, evince the activity and business enterprise of capitalists and the prosperity of labor. The markets of the coal region are also sources of wealth for the agriculturists and producers of the necessities of life in many of the counties of the Commonwealth. Millions of money are annually distributed into the different channels of trade and commerce. Owners of coal lands in Schuylkill county, resident in Philadelphia, New York and elsewhere, realize in the returns from their rents the revenues of dukedoms—and no poor words of mine can properly express the incalculable benefits conferred upon the masses of our Pennsylvania population everywhere, by the plentiful and cheap fuel thus furnished for their use and comfort. I am informed by gentlemen who have taken the trouble to investigate the subject, that there are more steam engines in operation in the county of Schuylkill than in the whole empire of France. Schuylkill county constitutes a separate judicial and Senatorial district. She sends three members of the House of Representatives, and as her crowning glory, she is now represented in the Senate and House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, and, in connection with Northumberland county, will be represented in the next Congress of the United States, by an united delegation of American-Republicans.

These grand commercial results are brought about, as similar results are everywhere, by the active co-operation of labor with capital. I do not deny that capital has performed its full and indispensable share, but it rests upon the strong arms of the skilful and industrious miner and laborer, and without him it would be powerless. It is to the pick and the shovel, the drill and the bar, wielded by skilful strong arms, that Pennsylvania stands indebted for these immense additions to her wealth. No business has suffered so much from bad government at Washington, financial revulsions and depressions, as the coal business—no class of men have more reason to look forward with anxiety for a change in the tariff policy of the country, than our miners and laborers. They gave the country some token of their changed views by their votes in October last, and they are now anxiously watching the results of that expression of their opinion. In the meantime, they have turned to the Legislature of their own State, the State for which they have done so much, and they are asking, through me, only for common justice; that we shall legislate so far as we reasonably may, for the protection, and securing to them, of the payment of their hard earned wages.

I need not occupy the time of the Senate by describing to them the arduous, painful and dangerous avocation of these thousands of workers in the bowels of the earth. Every miner knows when he leaves his home, his wife and children, to proceed to his daily labor, that his life is liable to be buried, drowned or crushed out of him before he returns to them, and that no amount of skill and prudence may avail to render him entirely secure for a single day. But his family look to him for support; and there are, however mysterious and unexplainable, pleasures and fascinations connected with the pursuit of the business of a practical miner. Scores of them are annually disfigured, maimed or destroyed, but the stout hearts of survivors do not fail them, and the work goes on. It is only when, by the failure of their employer to pay them their wages, their families and themselves are thrown helpless and poverty stricken upon the charities of the world; that their souls sink within them, and in some individual cases, grow reckless, desperate and dangerous, in our community. Strikes, riots, burnings, and other outrages are committed; the strong arm of the law is invoked; the military are called out, and the disorderly are crushed into obedience. But think you that these men do not feel a sense of the injustice which compels themselves, their wives and children to look famine in the face, and feel the pinching pangs of hunger, while they are able and willing to work, and ask only for the money they have honestly and hardily earned? That "the laborer is worthy of his hire," is the voice of humanity, as well as the voice of eternal truth, and I am not certain that any of us would endure similar wrongs more patiently, or more meekly than do these hardy miners.

Besides, these men know that the Legislature have power to do them good, without injustice, and they only ask that a small portion of our time and attention shall be directed from legislating in favor of capital, to legislate briefly and effectually in favor of labor. In 1849, the Legislature passed a law, which is still upon our statute books, having the same object in view which it is proposed by the present bill to accomplish, entitled "An Act for the protection of miners, mechanics and laborers in certain counties," and under the operation of that law and its supplements, as construed and practiced upon by our court of common pleas, the wages of labor in Schuylkill county enjoyed considerable protection. Thousands of dollars were distributed under the beneficent operations of that enactment to those who had honestly earned and were justly entitled to the money, and much good was done; but after a few years trial of the law, during which it had commanded the approval in its main scope, object and operation, of our whole community, an appeal was taken by some landlords, to the distribution of some money in court, to miners and laborers, which the appellants claimed for rent, and by a decision of the supreme court upon that appeal, the law was virtually rendered nugatory.

What I now ask the Senate is to re-enact that law, in words that cannot be mistaken nor explained away, with such modifications and additions as have been suggested by experience, and which I have embodied in the bill now under consideration. It is a proposition not only of common justice, but of great commercial importance to Pennsylvania; for if we refuse justice to these hardy sons of toil, they will leave an ungrateful State, in which their rights and interests are disregarded, and seek homes elsewhere. Among the gold diggings of California and of Kansas, they can find employment, and not be dependent upon the caprice or the ability of an employer to pay them their wages. There their strong arms can turn over the rocks, gravels and soils, in search of the precious metals, and their own pockets receive the results of their labor. Thus themselves and their families may be rendered comfortably independent of tariffs and commercial revulsions, but Pennsylvania will then find reason to regret that her coal regions have been deprived of their services. Already Schuylkill county has suffered, and is still suffering, in being shorn of her strength by emigration of her best miners and laborers, and in this the Commonwealth suffers with her. I cannot believe that the Senate will hesitate for a moment to do all in their power to prevent the continuance of this drain upon the labor of our State, by the passage of the bill before them—wise, just and righteous as I hold its provisions to be.

Messrs. TURNEY and COFFEY withdrew their amendments, not wishing to embarrass the bill.

On motion, the counties of Northumberland, Luzerne, Bedford, Huntingdon and Somerset, were added to the bill.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill as amended?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. PALMER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Miller, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield, Schindel, Steele, Thompson, Turney, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—26.

NAYS—Messrs. Brewer, Marselis and Nunnemacher—3.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. TURNEY moved that the Senate insist upon its amendment to 'A joint resolution relative to the pay of L. Rogers, clerk to the committee on the contested election case of Matthews vs. McClain,' and that a Committee of Conference be appointed; agreed to.

On motion of Mr. COFFEY, the Senate receded from its amendment to House bill No. 336, "An Act relating to the election of an additional constable in Brady's Bend, Armstrong county."

Mr. SCHINDEL moved that the Senate insist upon its amendment to House bill No. 91, "An Act to incorporate the Ironton Mining and railroad company, in which the House of Representatives has refused to concur, and that a Committee of Conference be appointed on the difference between the two Houses on the same; agreed to.

Senate bill, No. 133, "A supplement to an act in reference to the running of locomotive engines and cars on connecting railroads, approved March 13, 1847," came up in order on third reading, and passed.

House bill, No. 238, "An Act to incorporate the Union school directors of Wattsburg, in Erie county," came up on third reading, and passed finally.

The bills entitled as follows were permitted to lie over:

"An Act to incorporate the Commercial trust company."

"An Act to incorporate the Northumberland and Juniata railroad company."

BILLS CONSIDERED.

On motion of Mr. MARSELIS, the Senate proceeded to consider Senate bill No. 267, "An Act relative to the banks of this Commonwealth, and to prevent frauds by bank officers," which, having passed committee of the whole, lies over on second reading.

Mr. RANDALL moved that the Senate proceed to consider Senate bill No. 274, "An Act to make decrees for the payment of money in equity proceedings, liens upon real estate with the right to revive or continue the liens of the same by writ of scire facias," which was agreed to; and the bill passed finally.

On motion of Mr. BELL, Senate bill No. 113, "An Act relating to testamentary trusts," was taken up and considered in committee of the whole. After some discussion,

Mr. COFFEY moved that the committee rise, report progress, and ask leave to sit again; which was agreed to.

And on the question,

Shall the committee have leave?

It was decided in the negative.

The hour of one having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the Senate until three o'clock, this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Agreeably to order, the Senate met at three o'clock, P. M.

On motion of Mr. GREGG, House bill No. 278, "A supplement to an act to repeal certain acts upon the non-payment of the enrolment tax," was re-committed to the Committee on Finance.

On leave given, Mr. WELSH read in his place and presented to the Chair, "An Act relative the limits of the borough of Wrightsville, York county."

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, House bill, No. 280, "An Act relative to elections in Somerset county."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, House bill, No. 369, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Delaware and Schuylkill basin company."

On motion of Mr. FRANCIS, House bill, No. 241, "An Act to establish a Normal school in connection with Westminster college, New Wilmington, Lawrence county," was taken up.

This bill passed committee of the whole, and being upon second reading, the first, second and third sections were agreed to.

Mr. BELL moved to amend the fourth section by adding the following:

And the same annual sums shall be appropriated and paid out of the public treasury in support of the Normal schools established at West Chester, in the county of Chester, under the direction of Dr. Franklin Taylor, to be paid under the same stipulations and conditions as are prescribed by this act.

Mr. TURNEY moved to amend the amendment by adding the following:

Provided, That the appropriation made in this section shall not be paid until it shall have been made to appear satisfactorily to the Attorney General, that the said institution has in all things, complied with the provisions of the sixth section of an act to provide for the due training of teachers for the common schools of the State, approved May 20, 1857.

Upon the fourth section of the bill and the amendments, there was a prolonged discussion between Messrs. FRANCIS, COFFEY, HARRIS, GAZZAM and BELL, in favor of the appropriation, and Messrs. TURNEY and MILLER, in opposition.

Mr. WELSH moved to postpone the subject under consideration for the present; which was agreed to; whereupon, he offered the following resolution; which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That the Governor be requested to return Senate bill No. 97, "An Act for the protection of dogs in York county."

On motion of the same Senator, the consideration of the bill just postponed was resumed, and while pending, on motion of Mr. RANDALL, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

FRIDAY, Feb. 25, 1859.

The SPEAKER called the House to order at 10 o'clock, A. M.

The Journal of yesterday was read.

Mr. KENEAGY asked leave to make a statement, and called up Senate bill No. 88, in which there was an error which he wished to correct. The House gave its unanimous assent to the correction.

Mr. IRISH moved the suspension of the orders until committees could report. Agreed to.

Mr. THOMPSON offered a joint resolution appropriating seven dollars per diem to D. R. McClain during the time he officiated as a member of the House.

On the final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr.

PATTERSON and Mr. FOSTER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Church, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Good, Gratz, Gray, Hamersly, Harding, Jackson, Kinney, Laird, Matthews, Oaks, Palm, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rouse, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Walborn, Warden, Wilcox, Wiley and Woodring.—23.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Galley, Glatz, Graham, Hottenstine, Keneagy, Neall, Nill, Patterson, Pierce, Shafer, Smead, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Wagonseller, Walker, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—39.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. BRODHEAD offered a bill authorizing the election of two supervisors in Monroe county, and moved that the rules be suspended and the bill considered; which was agreed to. The bill passed.

Mr. WILCOX offered a resolution, that when the House adjourns, it do so to meet on Monday next at 10 A. M.

Mr. W. said that he offered the resolution out of respect to the city members, who desired to attend the funeral of their late colleague.

Mr. HAMERSLY was opposed to the resolution, and, while he thanked Mr. WILCOX for the courtesy, did not wish to adjourn. The members would have ample time to attend the funeral without the adjournment.

Mr. HAMERSLY offered to amend by making the House meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The resolution as amended was agreed to.

Mr. WALKER, presented a remonstrance from Bedford county, against the dismemberment of any portion of said county.

Mr. LAIRD, "An Act to authorize the appointment of an additional notary public in the county of Erie."

Mr. WILLISTON, a report from a committee of conference, to whom was referred the differences between the two Houses relative to the amendment of Senate bill No. 277.

The report was accepted.

Mr. HAMERSLY offered the following: That when this House adjourn this afternoon, it do so to meet at three P. M. on Monday.

On the motion to proceed to second reading, the yeas and nays were called by Mr. BARLOW.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) sincerely hoped that the House would allow the adjournment. It was probable that if they did not, a quorum would not be present on Saturday morning.

Mr. WALBORN made some very appropriate remarks, and appealed to the members of the House to allow the Philadelphia delegation and himself to pay the last tribute to the remains of their departed friend.

Mr. BARLOW withdrew the call for the yeas and nays, which he had previously made.

The bill passed to the second reading.

Mr. THOMPSON offered an amendment, stating that the adjournment was to allow the members an opportunity to attend the funeral of their late member, GEO. W. WOOD.

The amendment was agreed to; and the resolution, as amended, was then agreed to.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. MCCLURE, (Judiciary,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relating to the rate of interest."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to authorize A. H. McHenry, guardian of the minor children of the late Thomas Babb, to invest certain moneys belonging to such minor children, in real estate."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to provide for the recording of a plot in the town of Ridgway, Elk county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to the township of Croyle, in the county of Cambria."

Also, (same,) "A supplement to the act relating to orphans' courts, and for other purposes;" approved 12th day of October, 1840.

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to abolish the office of sealer of weights and measures in Clearfield county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relating to the election of county treasurer in the county of Cambria."

Mr. IRISH, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act regulating banks."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act repealing an act relative to licenses on vehicles in the cities of Pittsburg and Allegheny, and the boroughs adjoining thereto."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to alter the districts of the supreme court, and to regulate the proceedings therein."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act for the better securing of personal liberty; to prohibit the use of the jails and prisons of the Commonwealth in the re-capture of fugitive slaves, and to prevent persons holding office under authority of the State, from engaging or assisting therein."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act relating to counties and townships and county and township officers."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act exempting boats, barges and rafts from toll on the Yonghiogheny river."

Mr. THOMPSON, (same,) as committed, "An Act to change the name of C. C. Sweney to C. C. McLaughlin."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to authorize the election of two additional supervisors in Washington and Rockhill townships, in Greene county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to extend the powers of the high constables of the borough of Media."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act conferring upon Sarah Ann Melissa, Warren B., Nancy, Ellen and Nicholas D. Evans, minor children of Daniel D. Evans, deceased, and Catharine Evans, all the rights of children born in lawful wedlock."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to the act establishing a land office and for other purposes, passed 8th April, 1781."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to the act relative to the borough of Scranton."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the city of Carbon-dale."

Mr. GRATZ, (same,) as committed, "An Act in reference to promissory notes, bills of exchange, &c."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act consolidating the city of Philadelphia."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to authorize the citizens of Butler township, Schuylkill county, hereafter to elect but one supervisor."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act relating to the Trustees of the Farmers' High School of Pennsylvania."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "An Act relative to the time in which courts are required to file their charges and decide motions of order."

Mr. CHASE, (same,) as committed, "An Act in reference to certain mortgages therein stated."

Mr. NILL, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act relating to executors and administrators," approved February 24, 1834.

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to change the time of holding the courts of Clearfield county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to repeal an act entitled 'A supplement to an act relative to a burial ground in the borough of Pottsville,'" approved April 21, 1856.

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act authorizing the appointment of an auctioneer in the borough of Wilkesbarre, Luzerne county," approved March 5, 1858.

Mr. GRITMAN, (same,) as committed, "An Act extending the provisions of the fifteenth section of the act of April 2d, 1853, to Wyoming county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to authorize Wm. Hull, of Blakely township, Luzerne county, to sell certain real estate."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act for the sale of the real estate of Wm. H. Richter, deceased."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the borough of Reading, Berks county."

Mr. WAGONSELLER, (Claims,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the Auditor General to issue a certificate for the amount of the claim due to Barbara Heilman's estate."

Mr. WOLF, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to pay the claim of Joseph Danfield."

Mr. LAIRD, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to authorize the State Treasurer, to pay the treasurer of the Towanda bridge company, the balance due them in pursuance of a contract with the Canal Commissioners."

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) (same,) with amendment, "An Act to authorize the appointment of commissioners to examine and adjust certain claims."

Mr. ABBOTT, (same,) as committed, "An Act to refund a certain amount of money to James Hamilton, due him from the Commonwealth."

Mr. WITHROW, (same,) as committed, "An Act to authorize the State Treasurer to pay the claim of Jacob Karick."

Mr. GRAHAM, (Education,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Philomathean institute of Union township, Berks county."

Mr. HILL, (same,) as committed, Senate bill No. 224, "An Act relating to the Norristown academy."

Mr. ROHRER, (Militia System,) as committed, "A supplement to the act regulating the militia of this Commonwealth;" and on his motion, the rules being in this case dispensed with, said bill was taken up and considered.

And on the question, shall the bill be transcribed for a third reading?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bedford,) and Mr. PATTERSON, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Foster, Good, Green, Hamersly, Harding, McClure, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Styer, Walborn, Wilson and Lawrence, Speaker—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Galley, Glatz, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Kinney, Laird, Mehaffey, Matthews, McCurdy, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Peirce, Price, Proudfoot, Pughe, Rose, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Wagonseller, Walker, Warden, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Withrow, Wolf and Zoller—69.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. WILCOX, (Mines and Minerals,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act to en-

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 41.

courage the manufacture of iron with coke and mineral coal, and for other purposes, passed June 16, 1836."

Mr. HILL, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Bethlehem mining company."

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington.) (Banks,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Huntingdon County Bank."

Mr. TAYLOR, (Estates and Escheats,) as committed, "An Act appropriating locks, No. 8 and 10, on the French Creek and Franklin division of the Pennsylvania canal to the use of Venango county."

Also, as committed, "An Act to empower Sabina R. Sloan, to sell certain real estate."

Mr. SMEAD, (same,) "An Act confirming the sale of a German school house and lot of ground in Myerstown, Lebanon county," with a negative recommendation.

Mr. WALKER, (Roads and Bridges,) as committed, "An Act to view and lay out a State road from the borough of Lock Haven, Clinton county, to Snow Shoe, in Centre county."

Mr. QUIGLEY, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to Reed street, Philadelphia."

Mr. STUART, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Hilltown turnpike road company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Chartiers and Robinson Township turnpike road company, in Allegheny county."

Mr. PENNELL, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to lay out a public road from Shoemaker's mill to the borough of Muncy, Lycoming county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Douglassville and Yellow House turnpike company in Bucks county."

Mr. DURBORAW, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Pennsylvania and Maryland line turnpike road company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act in reference to supervisors in Somerset township, Washington county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to authorize the citizens of Hamilton township, Monroe county, to elect additional supervisors."

Mr. HOTIENSTINE, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act to appoint commissioners to view and lay out a State road in Lancaster and Chester counties, &c."

Mr. CAMPBELL, (same,) as committed, "An Act to compel the supervisors of roads in the township of Crawford, county of Clinton, to give security."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Lock Haven and Flemington plank road and turnpike company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to revise and extend the act incorporating the Zieglerstown and Kutztown railroad company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Patterson, Johnstown, Penn Mills and Concord plank road company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to the making and repairing of the public roads in Norwegian township, Schuylkill county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the laying out of a State road from the mouth of Clarion river to Franklin, in Venango county."

Mr. WALKER, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Perrysville, East Waterford and Cookstown plank road company."

Mr. PENNELL, (same,) with amendment, "An Act for the laying out of a State road from Schroyer's Gap to McCall's mills."

On motion of Mr. PENNELL, said committee was discharged from the further consideration of an act to repeal the act repealing the seventh, eighth and ninth sections of the act of April 5, 1849, entitled "An Act to vacate Long Lane, &c." Referred to Committee on Judiciary.

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Wrightsville and Canondockly turnpike road company."

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington.) (Railroads,) as committed, "A further supplement to the act authorizing the government to incorporate the Bear Mountain railroad company."

Mr. WILCOX, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Towanda and Wappinger railroad company."

Mr. WALBORN, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Phoenix iron company, asking for railroad privileges."

Also, as committed, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Quakake railroad company."

Mr. PATTERSON, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Lewisburg, Centre and Spruce Creek railroad company."

Mr. CHURCH, (same,) as amended, "Supplement to the act incorporating the Plymouth railroad company."

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) (same,) with amendment, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Navigation railroad company, approved April 20, 1854."

Mr. EVANS, (same,) as committed, "An Act for the president and managers of the Mount Carbon railroad company to extend their railroad from some suitable point west of the borough of Pottsville, Schuylkill county, so as to intersect with the Miue Hill and Schuylkill Haven railroad at or near Miue Hill Gap, in said county."

Mr. STYER, (same,) as committed, Senate bill No. 299, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the South Mountain railroad company, approved 5th day of May, 1854."

Mr. PRICE, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to the act to incorporate the Meadville railroad company."

Mr. M'DOWELL, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to provide for the fencing of the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad, and for the protection of property in the county of Beaver."

Also, as committed "An Act to incorporate the Mercer and New Castle railroad company."

Mr. BURLEY, (same,) as committed, Senate bill No. 185 "An Act to incorporate the Johnstown and Ashtola tramroad and railroad company."

On motion of Mr. FOSTER, the Committee on Corporations was discharged from the further consideration of Senate bill No. 127, "An Act to authorize Peter Martin and other trustees to sell a certain school house in Clay township, Lancaster county."

"An Act to empower Peter Kleck and Peter Keeny, trustees of a certain house and lot, in Pine Grove, Schuylkill county, to sell same," &c.

"An Act authorizing the Trustees of Aaronburg school to sell a certain house and lot in said town," and the same were referred to the Committee on Estates and Escheats.

Mr. PALM, (New County and County Seats,) as committed, "An Act to erect a new county out of parts of Crawford, Warren and Venango, to be called Marion."

Mr. SHAFER, (same,) as committed, "An Act to run and define parts of the boundary line between Mifflin and Huntingdon counties."

Mr. SHEPPARD, from the Committee appointed to Compare Bills, and present them to the Governor for his approbation, made report, which was read as follows, viz:

That in conjunction with a similar committee from the Senate, they have compared, and on yesterday presented to the Governor for his approbation, the bills as follow, to wit:

"An Act supplementary to an act to enable the commissioners of the county of Warren to effect certain compromises," approved the 27th day of January, A. D. 1859.

"A supplement to the act to incorporate the Padly's Run bridge company."

"An Act to incorporate the Citizens' Mutual safety insurance company."

"An Act authorizing the appointment of commissioners to run the boundary lines between the counties of Clinton and Centre."

"An Act relating to strays in Venango county."

"An Act to incorporate the Grove cemetery of New Brighton, Beaver county."

"An Act to confer on James Morrison, of Washington county, all the rights and privileges of a child born in lawful wedlock."

"An Act to increase the pay of the county commissioners and auditors of Indianacounty."

"An Act for the relief of Henry Bumgardner, a soldier of the Indian war of A. D. 1794."

"An Act relating to the navigation of Pine creek, in Warren county."

"An Act relating to the navigation of Tionesta creek and its branches."

"An Act relating to the Leverington cemetery company."

"An Act to repeal an act to change the place of holding elections in Porter township, Schuylkill county," approved the 9th day of February, A. D. 1859.

Mr. PEIRCE, from the Committee appointed to Compare Bills, and present them to the Governor for his approbation, made report, which was read as follows, viz:

That in conjunction with a similar committee from the Senate, they have compared, and on yesterday presented to the Governor for his approbation, the bills as follow, to wit:

"A supplement to an act to provide for the erection of a house for the employment and support of the poor in the county of Schuylkill, passed the 4th day of April, 1831."

"An Act to authorize the school directors of the borough of Bedford to borrow money, and for other purposes."

"An Act for protection of dogs in York county."

"An Act to prevent the destruction of fish in M'Michael's creek, Monroe county."

"Joint resolution relative to the pay of Theophilus Snyder, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, for serving writs of election in the Thirtieth Senatorial district."

"Joint resolution of thanks to Mr. L. Hachtel."

"An Act incorporating the First Presbyterian church and cemetery in the borough of Strasburg."

"An Act to incorporate the Southwark soup society of Philadelphia."

"An Act to incorporate the Union mutual fire insurance company of Montgomery county."

"An Act to appoint commissioners to re-survey and establish the lines of the main road running through a part of Wilkesbarre township, in the county of Luzerne."

"An Act relating to certain charitable corporations."

"An Act to incorporate the City building association."

"An Act to incorporate the International Union of art and literature."

"An Act to incorporate the Security fire insurance company, to be located in the city of Philadelphia."

"An Act relative to pawnbrokers in the city of Philadelphia."

"An Act to incorporate the Franklin market company of Philadelphia."

On the 19th instant:

"An Act relative to the Juniata township election district, in the county of Perry."

Mr. WARDEN, (Canals and Inland Navigation,) as committed, "An Act to erect a sheer boom at the mouth of the Loyalsock creek, in Lycoming county."

Mr. JACKSON moved that the bill be re-committed. He had been absent when the bill was before the committee, and he desired to be heard before it.

Mr. WILLISTON said his constituents felt some interest in this measure, and favored its immediate passage. He hoped the bill would not be re-committed.

Messrs. RAMSDELL and WARDEN favored re-committal.

Mr. PATTERSON thought the bill had been long enough in committee, and it was time it should be passed. He trusted the motion to re-commit would not prevail. The motion to re-commit was then put, and carried.

Mr. BAYARD, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to the act to incorporate the West Branch boom company."

Mr. ELLMAKER, (same,) as committed, "An Act to repeal an act abolishing a ferry across the Susquehanna river, at Ulster, Bradford county."

Mr. KENEAGY, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act authorizing Henry Milton to construct a dam or breaker in the Susquehanna river."

Mr. WALBORN called up Senate bill No. 335, "An Act authorizing Robert Given, of Westmoreland county, to construct a dam across the Conemaugh river;" which was passed finally.

Mr. ZOLLER, on leave, read in his place and presented to the Chair, "An Act to incorporate the Boatman's insurance company."

Mr. HAMERSLY, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the North Philadelphia plank road company."

Mr. CHURCH, "An Act to incorporate the Industrial home for girls, in Philadelphia."

Mr. PINKERTON made an effort to call up Senate bill No. 39, "An Act to extend the Forest improvement company," when the orders of the day were called by Mr. CHASE.

SENATE AMENDMENTS

To House bill No. 291, "An Act to incorporate the Ironston railroad and mining company," were read and non-concurred in.

To "An Act for the relief of Christian Hollingsworth," were read and concurred in.

To "An Act electing an additional constable in Brady's Bend, Armstrong county," were read and non-concurred in.

To "Joint resolution relative to the pay of Lucius Rogers," were read and non-concurred in.

Mr. PRICE moved that the Committee on Corporations be discharged from the further consideration of "An Act to incorporate the Conestoga gas company of Lancaster city."

Mr. HAMERSLY opposed the motion, on the ground that there was considerable opposition to the bill.

Mr. PRICE said that the people of Lancaster were in favor of the bill. He did not know why the gentleman from Philadelphia opposed the bill. He further believed that the object was to strike a blow at him.

Mr. HAMERSLY replied, by saying that he did not believe the people of Lancaster wished the passage of the bill.

Mr. PRICE replied at length, and said that he certainly understood the wishes of his own constituents. He charged that favoritism was shown to certain members of the committee.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that he cared nothing about the bill, and was not interested in it.

Mr. PRICE replied that then he had nothing to do with it, and should not oppose. The gentleman from Philadelphia had received many favors from the House during the session, by calling up market and other bills.

Mr. HAMERSLY hoped that the gentleman would confine himself to the truth.

Mr. KENEAGY advocated the discharge of the committee.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) should vote for the discharge of the committee. He said that bills were often locked up in committees for special purposes.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that until this morning the two members from Lancaster had been opposed as to the propriety of taking the bill out of the hands of the committee. This was the fact of the case.

Mr. THORN wanted to know who Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) had referred to, by saying that bills were held in the hands of committees.

Further rambling debate took place between Messrs. ACKER, THORN, THOMPSON, PINKERTON and HAMERSLY.

The question being taken, the committee was discharged.

Mr. NILL moved that the regular orders be suspended, and bills in place be received; which was agreed to.

Mr. ROSE read in his place and presented to the Chair, "An Act for the better regulation of the Mercer County and Shenango Valley agricultural society."

Mr. GRAY, one for the relief of Elizabeth Roberts, widow of an old soldier of the war of 1788 and 1792.

Mr. PATTERSON, one to incorporate the Lost Creek iron company.

Mr. WILSON, "An Act to vacate certain lanes and alleys, &c., in Beaver borough."

Also, one in relation to the collection of taxes on unseated lands in New Brighton, Beaver county.

Mr. THOMPSON, one to erect, out of parts of Middlesex township, Butler county, an independent school district.

Mr. BURLEY, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Allegheny railroad coal company."

Mr. SHAFER, "An Act to annul the marriage contract between James V. Miller and Mary his wife."

Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) one to raise the compensation of supervisors in Spring Creek township, Elk county.

Mr. NILL, one to extend the power of courts of equity within the Commonwealth.

Also, one to divide the township of Quincy, county of Franklin, into three districts for the election of supervisors.

Mr. GREEN, one to give the collection of taxes in East Donegal township, Lancaster county, to the lowest bidder.

Mr. JACKSON, "An Act to authorize the laying out of a State road from Dushore, Sullivan county, to the North Branch of the Susquehanna river, at or near Wells' Ferry, in Bradford county."

Also, "An Act to enable Catharine Sickles to sell and convey certain real estate in Cherry township, Sullivan county."

Mr. WILLISTON, "An Act relative to service of process on corporations."

Also, "An Act relative to collectors in the county of Tioga;" which was taken up, and passed; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to Senate for concurrence.

Mr. RAMSDELL, "A supplement to the act relating to roads, highways and bridges in the counties of Warren, Venango and McKean," passed April 9, 1844.

Mr. MEHAFFEY, one to provide for the fencing of railroads in Lycoming county."

Also, "An Act to incorporate the Williamsport library association."

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, one to incorporate the Sunbury gas company, of Northumberland county; and on his motion, the rules being in this case dispensed with, said bill was taken up and passed, and ordered to be sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. PALM, "An Act to incorporate the Boatmen's live stock, fire, life insurance, annuity and trust company, of Schuylkill Haven."

Mr. PINKERTON, "An Act to incorporate the Patterson coal company."

Also, "An Act to change the venue of certain actions from Schuylkill county to Lebanon county."

Mr. GLATZ, "An Act to make George W. Eshleman, an heir of J. Middleton Whitehill and his wife Elizabeth S., and to confer on him the name of G. William Whitehill."

On motion of Mr. McDOWELL, the Committee on Corporations was discharged from the further consideration of the act to incorporate the Boatman's insurance company; and the same was ordered to be placed upon Private Calendar for next Tuesday.

Mr. WAGONSELLER called up the act for the sale of the real estate of Wm. Richter; which was passed and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. NEALL read an act to increase the revenues of the Commonwealth.

Mr. BERTOLET, "A supplement to the act regulating the fees of ten pin alleys."

Mr. JACKSON, on leave, withdrew petition, &c., of Catharine Sickles.

APPROPRIATION BILL.

The House resolved itself into a committee of the whole, and resumed the consideration of the appropriation bill.

Section number thirty one appropriating to R. J. Haldeman, $7 per page for the publication of the Legislative Record, was taken up.

The amendment of Mr. CHASE was first in order, viz., providing for the repeal of the fortieth section of the act of 1858.

The amendment was agreed to.

The section as amended was agreed to.

The thirty-second section was read.

Mr. ROSE called for an explanation.

Mr. LAWRENCE (Danphin,) said that it had been customary for years past to appropriate sums of money to the Harrisburg fire companies. The papers of the capitol were not safe, and were only to be protected by the exertions of the able, efficient, and energetic firemen.

He eulogized the Harrisburg fire department highly.

Mr. HILL inquired whether the Capital buildings were insured.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Danphin,) said that they were not.

The section was agreed to.

The thirty-third section was read.

Mr. CHASE said that the blank relative to expenses had not been filled, because the committee had no data. He moved to amend by inserting three thousand dollars; the charges to be certified to by the Auditor General.

The thirty-fourth section was read.

Mr. WALKER offered an amendment, which was withdrawn for the present.

Mr. CHASE offered an amendment, appropriating three hundred dollars to John Smull, for services during recess.

The section as amended was agreed to.

The thirty-fifth section was read.

Mr. CHASE offered an amendment, that ten dollars extra be paid to pages and folders.

The section as amended was agreed to.

Mr. WALKER offered a new section, giving to two Assistant Doorkeepers one hundred dollars each, for night services.

The thirty-sixth section was read.

Mr. PINKERTON moved to amend, by inserting two dollars per diem.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved to amend the amendment, by making it one dollar and fifty cents.

The section as thus amended was agreed to.

The thirty-seventh section was read and agreed to.

The thirty-eighth section was read and agreed to.

The thirty-ninth section was read and agreed to.

The fortieth section was read.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) offered an amendment giving one hundred and twenty-five dollars to the late clerk, Jacob Zeigler, for indexing the Journal of 1858.

The section, as amended, was agreed to.

The forty-first section was read and agreed to.

Mr. ZOLLER offered a section, appropriating fifteen hundred dollars, to pay for a town clock in the cupola of the capitol at Harrisburg.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that the people of Harrisburg ought to be able to pay for clocks for their own use.

Mr. ZOLLER said that the present clock was useless and shabby.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) thought that the measure was eminently proper. The present clock was worth nothing, the hands sometimes actually going twelve hours in about five minutes. If a new clock was to be had, a good one should be procured. He had heard a good one could be obtained for fifteen hundred dollars.

Mr. THOMPSON offered a substitute, that the Clerks of the House and Senate should be authorized to sell the present clock, and repair the cupola with the proceeds.

Mr. THORN said that fifteen hundred dollars would be insufficient to erect a suitable clock.

Mr. HILL thought that the present clock could be repaired.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) said that it was not worth repairing. As far as the proceeds of the present clock would go, (being perhaps some five or eight dollars,) the cupola could not be repaired. W. O. Hickok, he understood, would furnish a new one for fifteen hundred dollars.

Mr. THOMPSON opposed the purchase, and said that no one needed it, and that it would be neither ornamental or useful.

Mr. KETCHUM said that no new clock was wanted or needed. The old one did not mar the beauty of the capitol; and he had thought that the time-piece was a good one until just now notified of the fact. If the clock has injured any one, he would move to appoint a committee of investigation.

Mr. CHASE wished to know whether if a person having business in Philadelphia was misled and lost some $20,000 on that account, would the State be liable for the loss.

Further rambling debate of an amusing character, relative to the old clock, took place between Messrs. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) THORN, CHASE and HILL. It was suggested that it be turned into a windmill, and that a committee of two be appointed to arrange the matter and report to the Governor after the adjournment.

The amendment of Mr. THOMPSON was lost.

The section of Mr. ZOLLER was lost.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) offered a new section appropriating $24,000 to erect a monument in honor of soldiers from Pennsylvania who perished in the war with Mexico.

Mr. FLEMING offered an amendment that the said monument be constructed of Pennsylvania material. This was accepted.

Mr. NEALL offered an amendment that the contractor should be a Pennsylvanian. This was also accepted.

Mr. WARDEN offered an amendment that it should be also in memory of Revolutionary soldiers and those of the war of 1812 and that the cost of erection should not exceed $30,000.

Two or three other important amendments were offered and withdrawn.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) condemned a certain tone of levity which had characterized the remarks of many of the gentlemen. He thought that it evinced neither patriotism or a true appreciation of the great undertaking. He reverted to the time when the project was first broached, in the days of Governor Johnston, and expressed his disapproval of the amendment which had been offered, and which proposed that the monument should be in memory of the soldiers of the Revolution, and of the war of 1812, as well as those who perished in Mexico. The men of the Revolution had been honored throughout the length and breadth of the land, and the Pennsylvanians who were in the war of 1812, had performed no feats which rendered a tribute necessary. Not a single volunteer company from Pennsylvania had seen service in that war, and no one could forget the discreditable scenes of Bladensburg.

He eulogized the soldiers and officers of the Mexican war, and dwelt upon the homage which this and other nations had rendered to the worth and ability of Generals Taylor and Scott. Yet the American people with a careless disregard, had failed to erect any substantial testimonial in honor of those who gave their lives to their country, and had only rewarded their wives and orphans by a pittance of one hundred and sixty acres of land.

The actual number of Pennsylvanians who had perished in Mexico, was not generally known. He then gave data showing that between five and six thousand natives of the Keystone State, participated in the struggles of Mexico. Before he had concluded,

Mr. WILCOX moved that as the hour of one had arrived, the committee rise, report progress and ask leave to sit again; which was agreed to; and the committee determined to sit in the afternoon.

The SPEAKER then adjourned the House until 3 o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House was called to order at 3 o'clock by the SPEAKER.

Mr. PENNELL, on leave, read in his place and presented to the Chair, "An Act to incorporate the Chester steamboat company;" and on his motion, the rules being in this case dispensed with, said bill was taken up and passed; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WILLISTON, on leave, one repealing certain supplements to the act to incorporate the Wellsboro and Tioga plank road company; which was taken up and passed, and sent to Senate for concurrence.

Mr. M'DOWELL, one relating to the weighing of coal in Allegheny county; which was taken up and passed; and sent to Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WILLISTON, on leave, presented the following bills:

"An Act declaring Jame's run a public highway."

"An Act in relation to writs of estrepment."

Mr. PINKERTON moved that the following section, stricken out by committee, be re-instated in Senate bill No. 39, "A further supplement to an act relating to a burial ground and school lot in the borough of Pottsville."

SECTION 4. That the said bond or bonds, mortgage or mortgages shall be exempt from the taxation directed by the act of Assembly of April 29, 1844, providing among other things for the taxing of money at interest on bonds and mortgages.

Some opposition was made to the amendment.

Mr. PINKERTON hoped that the amendment would be agreed to. It had received the assent of the Senate, but had been stricken out by the committee of the House, probably because they did not understand the matter. The bill was one authorizing the school directors of Pottsville to borrow money to build a school house, and the directors truly said that if they were obliged to pay tax on bonds and mortgages, it would be impossible for them to obtain the funds. Thousands of dollars were annually appropriated to school purposes, and the imposition of this tax would be exactly the same in effect as taking so much money out of the school appropriation.—He again hoped that the amendment would be allowed to pass.

Messrs. FOSTER and HAMERSLY thought that no member would vote against the bill if be carefully read it.

The question recurring, will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) suggested that the bill, together with the amendment, had better be postponed so that members could examine the same. He was anxious to vote for the bill, but wanted time to look at the amendment.

Whereupon Mr. FLEMING moved that the question be postponed until next Tuesday; which was agreed to.

Mr. CHASE, on leave, offered a resolution that the Clerk of the House be instructed to furnish Messrs. PROUDFOOT and MATTHEWS with Purdon's Digest, a copy of Ziegler's Legislative Manual, &c.; which was adopted.

Mr. FOSTER submitted the following resolution; which was twice read and adopted:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the Committee on Public Printing be instructed to report to this House what provision has been made for the protection of the public buildings, library and records at the seat of government from destruction by fire, and what action, if any, is necessary to secure their proper protection.

Mr. OAKS, on leave, presented "An Act to change the place of holding elections in Liberty township, Montour county;" and, on his motion, said bill was taken up and passed; and ordered to be sent to the Senate for concurrence."

THE APPROPRIATION BILL.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole, (Mr. LAWRENCE, Washington, in the Chair.)

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) resumed his remarks, in hope, as he said, of convincing the House of the utility of the monument appropriation. He reviewed his speech of the morning, and reverted to the comparison which he had then drawn between soldiers of the war of the Revolution, of 1812, and of the Mexican war. He stated the high positions to which the survivors of the last war had been elevated.

He then referred to the alacrity with which the Pennsylvanians had volunteered; and that, too, in the face of conflicting opinions as to the propriety of the contest. When President Polk issued his requisition for ten regiments, 10,000 men offered from the Keystone State within a week. Out of those ten, but one was received. On a second requisition twenty-five thousand Pennsylvanians offered themselves, and here again but one regiment was accepted. He reverted to the time when a portion of this lusty body left Harrisburg, their native place, and pictured an affecting scene at the pitting of a mother and son; that son now buried upon the plains of Mexico, and that mother in her grave upon yonder hillside. One hundred and sixty-seven men were enrolled from this town, and now not twelve of those remain upon the face of the earth. These survivors now ask that some tribute shall be rendered to the memory of their dead associates.

He detailed the various portions of Pennsylvania from which the members of the different companies had been obtained, and repeated his assertion, that in the war not less than five or six thousand natives of the Keystone State were active. And in the fields of Mexico, when there was a deadly fight to be fought, Pennsylvanians were in the van. At Puebla they were foremost. For twenty-eight days, some hundreds of them sustained a siege against eighty thousand men.

It was impossible to detail the various feats of the brave men of this State during the whole campaign, and he could only give a sketch. Nerved to the utmost, the Pennsylvanians, under the glorious stars and stripes, were the first to enter the city of Mexico.

Wellington, the hero of Europe, had pronounced the Mexican war, a war of miracles.

He pictured the hardships of climate against which the Americans fought, and the deadly hostility which they encountered. He recapitulated their gallant feats in glowing terms.

The gentleman from Westmoreland county, (Mr. WARDEN,) sought to embarrass the bill by adding an amendment to it, and yet that county had sent as brave men to the war as any. When this same bill was up last session, two gentlemen from Westmoreland had voted against it, and the consequence was that neither of them had been returned to the Legislature.

He should enter his earnest protest against any opposition to the measure.

He drew a vivid outline of the sufferings of the Americans in Mexico. Out of nearly two hundred men who left this place, only thirty-five returned. Twenty-five of these were soon buried, and the remaining ten now asked for the testimonial.

In regard to monuments, the soldiers of the Revolution had received them—the soldiers of the war of 1812 had not been forgotten, but those of the Mexican struggle had been passed by. New York and North Carolina had been more generous.

He noticed an extraordinary case of heroism. A regular captain, when the war first opened, applied for a position—none could be had, and he enlisted as a private soldier, in Harrisburg. Through the whole campaign he served in this capacity, and died at last on the plains. Was the memory of such a man as this to be cast into oblivion, and were his bones to lie there forgotten? Did the patriot's career end in the grave? Or did the people of the land owe him a tribute?

Mr. LAWRENCE concluded with an eloquent and powerful imaginative effort. He pictured the hardy soldier passing from this earth, and escorted by the winged messenger of another sphere, claiming and receiving an entrance at the gates of Paradise.

Mr. NEALL, setting aside the eloquence and power of the address of the gentleman from Dauphin, (Mr. LAWRENCE,) felt called upon to reply to some of the arguments which had been advanced in support of the proposition. He admitted that upon the plains of Mexico the bones of many Pennsylvanians lie bleaching—that throughout the Commonwealth there are many mourning hearts for those brave men who gave their lives for their country's honor, and that the surviving heroes of the war had attained high positions since their return.

But the gentleman from Dauphin had said, but to the widows and orphans of the fallen the government had given but a pittance of 160 acres of land, and that this would not buy them bread. Why then, he would ask, when these widows and children were crying for food, should the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania give $30,000 to buy them a stone—to erect them a monument? Could they find shelter under its height? And the gentleman from Dauphin had pictured the sufferings of the heroes, and told of the numbers slain. If he had extended this record back to the beginning of time, would it be any argument why the Legislature should give to the widows and fatherless, a stone—a mockery? And the gentleman had decried the efforts of the soldiers of the war of 1812. Why had he not first examined the record, and there found that at Lundy's Lane, General Miller, and Pennsylvanians, had acted a prominent and worthy part.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) wished to correct the gentleman. He had not denied that there were particular instances of worth and bravery in the war of 1812, but he had said that no volunteer company from Pennsylvania saw service in that war. Five had gone from Harrisburg alone, and not one was engaged.

Mr. FOSTER thought the gentleman from Dauphin, (Mr. LAWRENCE,) was mistaken. He was very confident that two companies from Pennsylvania did see service.

Mr. NEALL continued. It might be well enough for the gentleman to urge the erection of a memorial in the town which he represented, but why, in his devotion to the soldiers of Mexico, did he oppose the amendment of the member from Westmoreland, and overlook the fact that Pennsylvanians were in other struggles, and deserved eponyms? Let him glance, for example, at the battle of Lake Erie. Certainly the amendment which had been proposed was a proper one, for it rendered a just tribute to men who had participated in conflicts as creditable as those of the Mexican war. Why had the gentleman not discussed the merits of the case, and stated the fact that the design from which it was proposed to erect the testimonial, was a mutilated copy of one which had been originally made by a poor orphan boy of Pennsylvania, whose existence the committee had very magnanimously ignored? Why had this not been said?

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) explained. He had already accepted two amendments, one of which provided that the builder of the monument should be a Pennsylvanian, and the other, that it should be Pennsylvania material. This certainly evinced sufficient State pride.

Mr. NEALL did not deny but that the gentleman had accepted both amendments, but this did not affect the assertion that the design which had been accepted was a mutilated copy of one prepared by a lad, and an orphan. Yet to carry out this mutilated design, the Legislature was asked to give thirty thousand dollars.

He held that the sentiment of the people of the State was, that no monument was necessary, and that enough already had been done in honor of the soldiers of Mexico. He believed, with them, that the best monument was that which existed in the hearts of the people, and that the feeling of gratitude and respect was not to be increased by the erection of a towering pile of stone, even if it reached the skies.

He had a word more to say in vindication of the soldiers of 1812. He wished to refer the gentleman from Dauphin to one of the officers of the House, who had served in that struggle and had honorably acquitted himself.

Mr. ROSE said that the gentleman from Dauphin, (Mr. LAWRENCE,) had been so eloquent that at one time he had almost been disposed to vote for the appropriation, but a sober second thought induced a change of opinion. He claimed to have as much patriotism as the speaker, but did not imagine that it was to be exhibited by a monument of stone which would crumble into dust. There was another and more enduring method, and that was by a retention in the hearts of the people of the eminent worth and services of the heroes of the war with Mexico. Did any one allege that the statue of Washington produced stronger impressions or awakened deeper emotions in the breasts of those by whom it was observed, than the recollection of the deeds of the illustrious "Father of his Country?"

He was surprised at the reflections which had been cast upon the soldiers of the war of 1812, and at the intimations of their cowardice. No better men ever shouldered the musket. Why, now by his side was the gentleman from Elk, (Mr. WILCOX,) who had been an active participant, and to whom an intelligent community rendered the just praise of bravery and patriotism. At the time of that war, this country was nearly a wilderness, and in the face of hardships, the husbands and fathers went forth from their firesides to meet the enemy. It had been said there were no companies from Pennsylvania engaged in actual service, but he desired to call attention to the "Washington Blues," of Allegheny county. More than that, let the gentlemen cast their eyes to an old gray-haired officer of this House, who was lieutenant, and ask where his wounds had been received. In another part of the capitol was still another veteran.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) Did I understand the gentleman to allude to an old, gray-haired man, who was an officer of the House—who had been a lieutenant, and who bore wounds?

Mr. ROSE replied in the affirmative.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) Then, sir, I have only to remark that instead of being a lieutenant, he was a butcher.

Mr. ROSE. Then if he did not receive wounds, he certainly gave them; which is of course equally meritorious.

Mr. FOSTER. No one one can deny but that he shed blood.

Mr. ROSE continued. The gentleman from Dauphin, (Mr. LAWRENCE,) had referred to the spirits of departed warriors which were hovering around the House, and had pointed to the lobby. If those spirits hovered around that place, they deserved no respect; but if they were there by any accident, they would not ask for a stone to commemorate their deeds, but rather for money to support their widows and orphans. Was it natural to suppose that departed spirits in another world wanted a monument in this one? The picture which had been drawn by Mr. LAWRENCE, of the entry of the old soldier into Paradise, was very fine, but he could not appreciate its force.

He would willingly vote to benefit the children of any who fell in the Mexican war. As far as the survivors were concerned, who were alleged to be asking for this monument, he did not believe that one of them could be found who would not rather have a thousand dollars than the stone. He would ask the gentleman from Dauphin, (Mr. LAWRENCE,) whether this was not the fact?

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) replied that the constituents of the gentleman from Mercer, (Mr. ROSE,) might make such a choice, but his own would not.

Mr. ROSE said that he was well aware that his constituents were of a different class from those of Mr. LAWRENCE. His asked for money to educate the orphans, and relieve the widows, but those of the gentleman from Dauphin asked for a monument of stone.

The first proposition had been to erect a monument of Italian marble for thirty thousand dollars. Now an amendment had been accepted to construct it of Pennsylvania material.—This could be done for about one-fifth less.

Mr. LAWRENCE said that the knowledge of marble of the gentleman from Mercer, was but limited. He knew that it could not be done for one-fifth of that sum.

Mr. ROSE said that he had only based his estimate on the relative costs of Italian and American material, but he did not believe that a structure such as was proposed, could be erected of foreign marble for one hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. NILL said that he had voted for an appropriation of six thousand dollars last year, with the understanding that it would be all that was required. After the adjournment of the Legislature, however, the gentlemen having the matter in charge held a meeting, and said that they could not proceed without the additional sum of thirty thousand dollars. Now what security was there, that if this amount was given, the next Legislature would not be asked for more, until the expenditure became enormous?

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) said that the terms of the contract were such, that the parties bound themselves to complete it for the sum named, and gave ample securities.

Mr. NILL might perhaps vote for the appropriation, if he had any assurance that it would be the last. As for the securities, they might be all very good, or might be worth nothing, and the contractors might or might not perform the work. But in refusing to acquiesce in this measure, it would not do for the gentleman from Dauphin, (Mr. LAWRENCE,) to charge him with any want of patriotism, for that quality was not to be measured, by a proposition to put a few dollars in a monument at Harrisburg.

As for the alacrity with which the Pennsylvanians had volunteered in the Mexican war, it was undeniable. In his own town a company had recruited. The survivors, it was equally true, had many of them attained high positions, as the SPEAKER had remarked, but many of them should have been pensioned, and he could only regret that the General Government had not taken action to provide for the sick and infirm, by the establishment of an institution, similar to that of the Hotel D'Invalides at Paris. But did all this justify the Legislature in making an appropriation?

True, there were many reasons under the administration of President Polk, to be proud of the results of the Mexican war, but did that justify the appropriation? True, territory was acquired, as is attested by auriferous California. As a nation, there was reason to rejoice at this, but with all, he could not support the appropriation.

But the gentleman from Dauphin certainly fell into an error he thought, when he said that the soldiers of the Revolution had been amply rewarded. They were not rewarded according to their merits.

Who was there that did not know that the United States, after paying its debts in a certain currency, repudiated that currency, and that one result which followed was that soldiers of the Revolution were reduced to poverty, and almost, if not quite, beggary? And it had been but a very few years since pensions were given.

The gentleman from Dauphin had said that from the time of Cain (a murderer,) there had been no greater generals than those of the Mexican war. The bare idea of calling Cain a general was ridiculous.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) wished to ask a question. If the colleague of the gentleman considered a butcher a warrior, he (Mr. LAWRENCE,) was certainly entitled to consider a murderer a general.

Mr. NILL said that he would not be accountable for the slaughtering propensities of his colleague, the gentleman from Mercer, (Mr. ROSE.) But Mr. LAWRENCE had said that in the war of 1812, no volunteers had distinguished themselves. Why, in his own district, a regiment had been raised which had served.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) desired again to explain. He had said that no volunteer companies from Pennsylvania had seen service.—Perhaps the gentleman means to say that his regiment served in the unshot War.

Mr. NILL. Perhaps; and perhaps that will be an additional reason for the gentleman to urge the erection of a monument at Harrisburg, to commemorate that event.

But the statement that history furnished no greater generals than those of the Mexican struggle, was wrong. They could not be placed on a level with Bonaparte. And the allegation that the soldiers of 1812 did nothing worthy of commemoration, was equally erroneous, as was attested by the fact that medals and testimonials had been bestowed upon them since their return. Even some of the participants at Bladensburg, who had been so unhandsofly referred to, had since been rewarded by Congress. The gentleman from Dauphin seemed to think but little of that war, but he must have forgotten that Scott, Brown and others, there first rose to distinction.

But the end of the speech of Mr. LAWRENCE had been worthy of note. He had spoken eloquently of the last hour, and ascent to heaven of a hero soldier. Evidently the idea was modeled after that of Byron, who in his vision of judgment leaves George III at the gate. So the old soldier was left, and it was questionable whether he would not progress in the course of time to the music of Yankee Doodle and Hail Britannia. The gentleman from Dauphin should have taken him further, and not left him in such an unpleasant predicament.

Before the appropriation was made it was to be hoped that it would be definitely ascertained whether the monument was to cost eighty thousand dollars or one hundred thousand dollars, but if it was to cost five times that amount, he did not believe that it would assuage the widows' grief. He felt satisfied that the affair would be like that of the North Branch canal, to which appropriations were made almost annually, without any adequate return.

Mr. WARREN denied the allegation that he had offered the amendment for the purpose of embarrassing the bill. It was done in good faith, and to meet the objection that the bill by referring only to one class of soldiers was partial. Pennsylvanians, he hoped, had hearts large enough to take in all those heroes who had rendered service. He had been forced into an unpleasant position, for he was obliged to stand half way between the gentleman from Dauphin and the opponents of the bill. He joined issue with the former relative to the worth of the men of 1812, and yet favored the appropriation. As a Westmorelander, he would stand up and say that at least one company, with Capt. Markle, did good service, and he was sorry for the credit of the SPEAKER that the bravery and utility of the soldiers had been questioned.

He cited other examples of men who had received unanimous marks of approval for the course which they had pursued, and among them, named Gen. Miller, of Fayette county, Capt. Cooper, of Westmoreland, and the renowned Drum. Of a whole company, who went from Westmoreland, perhaps only one-third of its members had returned, and what was more, they had acquitted themselves, as Pennsylvanians always do, with bravery. He did not believe that there had been a single native of the Keystone State at Bladensburg.

Continuing further, he vindicated the honor of the soldiers of 1812, and urged an appropriation to the monument.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) regretted that the gentleman from Westmoreland, (Mr. WARREN,) had understood him as having reflected on the soldiers from that county, or of the war of 1812. To the latter, he had paid a just tribute, by acknowledging certain instances of bravery and heroism, and had merely said, as he had now twice been called upon to repeat, that no volunteer companies from Pennsylvania saw service, nor had this as yet been refuted upon the floor of the House. The gentleman from Franklin, (Mr. NILL,) had made an allusion to two men from Cumberland Valley, who rendered good service as volunteers in the war of 1812. He had just been informed by a person who was a cousin of both of these men, that neither of them were volunteers, but were in the regular army.

Mr. NILL. The person must have been remarkably prolific in cousins.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) I therefore feel positive in re-asserting that no volunteer company from Pennsylvania saw service in that war.

Mr. NILL declared this to be incorrect.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) would then refer the gentleman to the record of the war of 1812, as prepared by Ingersoll. But it did not matter particularly, whether the men were regulars or volunteers. The facts would not be affected.

He continued further to repel arguments which had been advanced against the appropriation.

There was an evident dissimilarity between Byron's Vision of Judgment, and the picture which he had drawn in his first speech. Byron took George III to the gate, and left him there, after he had been refused admission by St. Peter, who did not know "who the devil George III was," but the old soldier, after he knocked, was immediately admitted, and went at once into one of the upper seats.

Mr. RAMSDELL called the gentleman to order.

The Chairman said that theological discussions were out of order. The gentlemen must confine themselves to facts.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) said that he only retorted to the gentleman from Franklin, (Mr. NILL.)

Mr. NILL replied that the gentleman from Dauphin, (Mr. LAWRENCE,) had first set the example.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) The gentleman from Franklin, (Mr. NILL,) had stated that some of the soldiers of 1812 had received medals. This was true, but when were medals given to those who fought in Mexico? As for the repudiation of money which had affected, among others, the soldiers of the Revolution, this was nothing particularly new, for did we not see even now some of the western counties of our State adopting the doctrine? If Mr. NILL voted for the appropriation of six thousand dollars last year, in the belief that it was all that would be required, he voted under a mistake. It was generally understood at that time that that was but the prelude. The intimations that the securities of the contractors would be worthless were unfounded, for they were entered into by men worth two hundred thousand dollars. He could not see that the appropriation of thirty thousand dollars would be an entering wedge for any further application. The sum was petty, and not to be considered in a land teeming with riches like that of ours. The comparison with the North Branch canal was not a fair one.

He concluded with an earnest appeal to the members to bestow upon the illustrious dead the last honor of a monument.

Mr. NILL further opposed the appropriation, and alleged that Mr. LAWRENCE had begged the question, and gone out of the record. He concluded by a defence of the position which he had assumed relative to the North Branch canal, and hoped that the vote would be taken before the adjournment on the appropriation.

Mr. RAMSDELL moved that the committee rise, report progress, and ask leave to sit again. The motion was withdrawn.

The question being then taken on the amendment of Mr. WARDEN, it was agreed to.

The question recurring upon the original resolution as amended,

1 was lost.

Mr. RAMSDELL offered a new section to the appropriation bill, bestowing upon certain officers of the House and Senate additional compensation, as follows:

Chief and Assistant Clerks, one hundred dollars.

Other clerks, seventy-five dollars.

Sergeant at-Arms, Messenger, Post Master, &c., fifty dollars.

Mr. THOMPSON moved to insert one hundred dollars to the Post Master. Not agreed to. The section was then agreed to.

The committee then rose.

Mr. CHASE gave notice that he would not call up the appropriation bill until Tuesday morning next.

Mr. NILL moved that two hundred copies of the bill, as amended, be printed; agreed to.

Mr. BARNESLEY, from the committee appointed to compare bills, offered a report.

The Clerk read an extract from the Journal of the Senate, requesting the House to return Senate bill, relative to the protection of dogs in York county.

On motion, agreed to.

A message from the Governor was read.

The hour of 5 having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until Monday afternoon, at 3 P. M.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The undersigned citizens of the county of Northampton, in said Commonwealth, respectfully but urgently remonstrate against the passage of the bill reported in the House of Representatives, House File No. 187, entitled "An Act relative to the Delaware Division Canal company of Pennsylvania."

The privileges therein proposed to be granted are extraordinary, unusual and dangerous to the rights of the citizen. The tribunal proposed to be erected for the settlement and assessment of damages, from whose decision there is no appeal, and whose action would be without control or supervision of the legal tribunals, would place the individuals injured or aggrieved at the mercy of this corporation. There is no good reason why this company should have a special tribunal to pass upon claims against them different from the tribunals of the State erected for the settlement of litigated disputes among its citizens. The right of trial by jury should be always secured the citizen in such cases. This company having made the purchase of the Delaware Division of the Pennsylvania canal at a very low rate upon the understanding as provided for in the bill passed at the last session of the Legislature for regulating the sale of the State canals, that they would settle and pay the claims for damages or other demands against the Commonwealth in relation to the location, construction, repair, management or use of the Delaware Division, ought not to have special legislation to free them from these liabilities which entered into their purchase. This bill if passed would give to this company an improper control over the navigation of the Delaware river, allowing them to interfere therewith to the serious injury of those using it, with no other guard than the loose provisions of a proviso which would be of little protection against a wealthy, powerful company as this bill would make this corporation. The bill is in many other particulars objectionable, and might lead to injustice and oppression upon the part of this corporation, who are only thereby seeking the aggrandizement of the corporators, regardless of the right of the citizen.

They therefore respectfully remonstrate against the said bill becoming a law.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met:

The subscribers, citizens of the county of Bucks, respectfully remonstrate against the passage of the bill now before your Honorable Bodies, for the incorporation of the Delaware canal company, in its present form. The objectionable parts of the bill, are:

FIRST.—The privilege to dam the Delaware and control the waters of said river in like manner as the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company do the Lehigh river. Such a privilege ought not to be granted, in the opinion of the remonstrants, to any company of this enlightened age. The privilege asked for by the company, will destroy the shad fisheries on said river, and give them unlimited control of its waters.

SECOND.—The restricting clause in said bill to bar all damages to private property sustained by individuals six years previous to the passage of the act for the sale of the State canals. This clause is certainly in violation of the seventh section of the act to sell the State canals. If the time is limited to six years prior to the sale, many individuals will lose in the aggregate a large amount of money.

THIRD.—The clause allowing the company to charge as much toll on their canal as the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company do. We believe it to be very unfair, for the following reasons: The construction of one mile of the Lehigh canal cost more than the making, in several places, of ten miles of the Delaware Division. High tolls tax the citizens residing on the canal by increasing the price of coal consumed by the poor as well as the rich. We desire a clause put in the bill requiring the company in the reconstruction of their canal, to build and keep in repair pivot bridges, at all the roads where bridges are now built; and to keep in good repair all bridges that have been built on public roads for the passage of waste water. And your remonstrants will ever pray, &c.

NO. 275.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BELL, Judiciary—Feb. 10.

AN ACT to authorize execution of process in certain cases in equity concerning property within the jurisdiction of the court on defendants not resident or found therein.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be lawful for any court of this Commonwealth, having equity jurisdiction, upon special motion of the plaintiff or plaintiffs, in any suit in equity which has been or shall be instituted therein, concerning goods, chattels, lands, tenements or hereditaments situate or being within the jurisdiction of such court, or concerning any charge, lien, judgment, mortgage or incumbrance thereon, to order and direct that any subpoena, subpoena or other process to be had in such suit, be served upon any defendant or defendants therein then residing or being out of the jurisdiction of such court, wherever he, she or they may reside or be found; and upon affidavit of such service had, to proceed as fully and effectually as if the same had been made within the jurisdiction of such court: Provided, That it shall appear to such court by affidavit, affidavits or other documents applicable for the purpose before making such order, in what place or county such defendant or defendants reside or are, or probably may be found; and if such place be without the United States, whether there are any officers of the United States residing thereat or near thereto, and by what means such service may be authenticated: And provided, That such order limit a time depending on the place where such process is to be served, after the service thereof, within which compliance with the requirements thereof, must be made by such defendant or defendants, such process to be returnable at such time after the service thereof as such court shall by special order direct: And further provided, That when such process shall be served, such defendant or defendants shall also be served with a copy of the order authorizing the service thereof; and a copy of the bill or petition, if such process be a subpoena thereon, but if not, a statement of the substance and object of the proceeding whereon the same is founded: And provided also, That the affidavit of such service of process and copies or statements aforesaid, if such service be had within the United States, may be made and taken before any officer of the United States or of any of the States or Territories thereof, authorized to administer an oath, and if such service be had without the United States, the same shall be authenticated as such court shall by special order direct.

SEC. 2. *That whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of such court by affidavit, affidavits or other documents applicable for the purpose, that any defendant or defendants, in any such suit as hereinbefore mentioned, cannot, upon diligent enquiry, be found so as to be personally served with any process to be had therein, it shall be lawful for such court, upon special motion, to make an order upon such defendant or defendants, similar to the requirements of such process, specifying the time when compliance therewith must be made; and upon the expiration of such specified time, to proceed as fully and effectually as if such process had been duly served within the jurisdiction of such court: *Provided, That a statement of the substance and object of the bill, petition or other proceeding, whereon such order is founded, and a copy of such order be published in such one or more newspapers, and at such times as such court shall by special order direct.

SEC. 3. That no order or process of contempt shall be made or issued under this act, and nothing herein shall make it compulsory on the plaintiff or plaintiffs, in any such suit as hereinbefore mentioned, to serve with process or bring before such court or proceed against any party or parties, person or persons, further or otherwise than such plaintiff or plaintiffs are now by law or the practice of such court, required to do.

NO. 267.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

MARSHALL, Banks—Feb. 9.

AN ACT relative to the banks of this Commonwealth, and to prevent frauds by bank officers.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That after the passage of this act, no bank within this Commonwealth, or any officer thereof, shall make any loan or discount, directly or indirectly, unless said loan or discount shall have been allowed or directed by the board of directors of said bank, at a regular meeting of said board; and a majority of the whole number of directors of said bank, shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of loan or discount business.

SEC. 2. The said board shall keep regular and full minutes of each meeting of said board, on which shall be entered all loans made at that meeting, and all discounts allowed; and no loan made, or bill or note discounted, shall be recoverable by law, unless said loan, bill or note shall be regularly entered as allowed on the minutes of the meeting at which said loan was made, or such bill or note was discounted: Provided, That if any board of directors of any bank, shall deem it expedient to allow the president, between the meetings of the board, to make temporary loans, or allow discounts, in case of exigency, they shall have the power to appropriate a certain sum to be used by him for that purpose: Provided further, That at such meeting of the board of directors, the president shall make an accurate report in detail to the board of all such loans made by him, or discounts allowed since the last preceding meeting of the board, showing each loan or discount, to whom lent or allowed, what amount, upon what time and upon what security, which said loans or discounts shall be entered upon the minutes of the board; and no loan made, or bill or note discounted, shall be recoverable by law, unless the same be entered regularly upon the said minutes, at the next succeeding meeting of the board, after such loan made, or discount allowed. And provided further, That in no case, shall the president use for temporary loan or discount, a greater amount than that previously appropriated by the board, and no appropriation shall extend beyond the next meeting of the board: And provided further, That the board of directors shall meet at least once in every two weeks.

SEC. 3. No money or funds of the bank shall be used or expended for any purpose whatsoever, unless the same shall have been previously appropriated at a regular meeting of the board of directors.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the president and cashier of every bank within this Commonwealth, to present to the board of directors of said bank, at every meeting of said board, a true and accurate account in detail, prepared by themselves, or under their supervision, of all expenditures of money of said bank since the last preceding meeting of said board; which said account shall be verified by the oaths or affirmations of said president or cashier, (taken before any alderman or justice of the peace of the city or county where such bank is located,) if required by any three of said directors.

SEC. 5. If any president, cashier, director, or any other officer of any bank within this Commonwealth, shall violate or neglect to comply with the provisions of this act, he or they shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof before any court of quarter sessions of this Commonwealth, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, and to undergo an imprisonment at labor in the proper county jail, for any period not exceeding one year, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 6. If any president, cashier, director, or other officer, or clerk, or employee of any bank within this Commonwealth, shall fraudulently appropriate to his own use, or the use of any other person or persons, any money or other property belonging to said bank, or left with the same, as a special deposit or otherwise, he or they, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any amount not less than the sum so fraudulently appropriated, and sentenced to undergo imprisonment in the proper State penitentiary, to be kept in separate and solitary confinement at hard labor, for any term not exceeding five years; and it is hereby expressly provided, that bank notes, bills of exchange or credit, promissory notes, or coin may be laid in the bill of indictment, charging the offence against which this section is intended to provide under the general designation of money, and the property therein shall be sufficiently laid, if averred to be property of the said bank, whether the same be the absolute property of said bank, or have been left with the same as a special deposit or otherwise.

No. 292.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

SCOFIELD, Judiciary—Feb. 10.

AN ACT relating to the fees of county surveyors.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the several county surveyors of this Commonwealth, shall be and are hereby authorized to charge and receive for the services hereinafter mentioned, the following fees, and no more, to wit:

For receiving warrant and giving receipt for the same, if required, twenty five cents.

For executing warrants not exceeding one hundred acres, four dollars and fifty cents.

For each additional one hundred acres on same warrant, seventy-five cents.

For return of survey to Surveyor General's office, one dollar.

For draft thereof to the warrantee, twenty-five cents.

For executing order of re-survey and making return thereof, same fees as for like service on original survey.

For certifying survey made by deputy, fifty-cents.

For each mile necessarily traveled in going to and returning from land, ten cents.

SEC. 2. That if any county surveyor shall take greater or other fees than is hereinbefore expressed and limited for the service designated, he shall be subject to all the penalties and liabilities prescribed by the twenty-sixth section of the act of the twenty-eighth of March, one thousand eight hundred and fourteen, entitled "An Act establishing a fee bill."

SEC. 3. That all laws or parts of laws relating to the fees of surveyors, inconsistent herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed.

No. 281.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BREWER, Judiciary—Feb. 10, 1859.

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT to an act entitled "An Act relating to counties and townships and county and township officers," approved April fifteenth, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That upon application by petition to any court of quarter sessions of this Commonwealth, setting forth that by reason of the small size, the sparseness, or small number of the population in any township, or that the citizens thereof have neglected and omitted to elect the necessary officers to maintain and keep up the organization of the township, and praying that said township organization may be abolished, it shall be lawful for the said court to appoint three impartial citizens, of the proper county, as commissioners, to determine as to the propriety of granting the prayer of the petitioners; and should a majority of said commissioners determine that it is advisable to abolish the political organization of said township, they shall also decide to what other township or townships the territory, comprising such abolished township, shall be attached; and if to more than one township, the proportion or parts thereof, which shall be attached to each; and in that case, shall cause to be surveyed and distinctly marked, (unless designated by natural boundaries) the parts that shall be attached to each township; reporting a draft setting forth the lines by courses and distances of said respective parts, and shall make report of their proceedings to the next court of quarter sessions after their appointment; and if said report shall be approved and confirmed by the court, the said township shall, from thenceforth be abolished, and cease to exist, and the territory thereof shall become part of the township or townships to which it shall be so attached and said commissioners shall give the same; notice of the time they intend to act in the premises; take the same oaths and affirmations, and be entitled to the same compensation that is provided by law in the case of views to lay out or divide townships; and the parties desiring a review, shall, on petition, be in like manner entitled to the same: Provided, That all the officers of the said township shall, in case of its being abolished, continue to exercise the duties of their offices until the legal expiration thereof.

No. 291.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

SCOFIELD, Judiciary—Feb. 10.

AN ACT to preserve the lien of mortgages in certain cases.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That where the lien of a mortgage upon real estate is or shall be prior to all other liens upon the same property, except other mortgages, ground rents, or the purchase money due to the Commonwealth, the lien of such mortgage shall not be destroyed, or in any way affected by any sale made under or by virtue of the order or decree of any court of this Commonwealth, unless such court shall so expressly order, upon petition of any creditor or party interested, after due notice to the holder of such mortgage, being the mortgagee, his executors or administrators, of any assignee thereof by assignment duly recorded.

SEC. 2. That the notice required by the first section of this act shall be by citation served upon the holder of such mortgage as aforesaid, whether he shall reside within the jurisdiction of such court or otherwise, or if he shall not reside within the jurisdiction aforesaid; also, upon any agent or attorney by him appointed to receive the interest upon such mortgage in such manner as the court shall direct; and no order for the discharge of the lien of any mortgage shall be made as aforesaid, until due proof shall be made to the satisfaction of the court that such service has been made as directed.

SEC. 3. That where any such order for the discharge of the lien of a mortgage shall be made as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the party obtaining such order, within ten days thereafter, to have a duly certified copy thereof recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds for the proper county, which shall be indexed by the recorder, under the name of the original mortgagor; which being done, no person, after such sale shall have been confirmed, shall be thenceforth heard to question the validity of such order, or the fact of due service of the notice above required having been made.

SEC. 4. That the estate, lien or charge of the widow of a decedent under the intestate laws of the Commonwealth, or upon proceedings in partition of an intestate's estate shall not be deemed and taken to be a prior lien to any mortgage within the meaning of this or any other act of Assembly of this Commonwealth, so as to cause the discharge of such mortgage by any judicial sale where the lien thereof would otherwise be preserved thereby.

No. 86.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

STEELE, Corporations—Jan. 26.

AN ACT to incorporate the Carolina steam navigation company.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That That Stilwell S. Bishop, Charles C. Wolf, Richard Wright, N. P. Murphy, Henry Simons, William V. McGrath, Edward T. Smith, and their associates, and all persons who may associate themselves with them, and become now or hereafter, may be holders of the stock hereinafter mentioned, shall be and they are hereby declared to be constituted a body politic or corporate, by the style of the Carolina steam navigation company; to have perpetual succession, to be capable in law of suing and being sued, in all courts whatsoever; to have a common seal, and to purchase, own, employ, charter, contract for building, equip, furnish, and fit out steamships, with their appurtenances proper, for the propulsion and navigation thereof, to be sailed and navigated upon the Atlantic or other oceans, and upon all public navigable tide waters, to or from any port in Pennsylvania, or from any port in the United States or elsewhere, to any port in the United States or elsewhere, for the purpose and object of carrying and transporting merchandize and conveying passengers and mails, by means of such steamships; and to hold and use all necessary rights and powers for loading and unloading, receiving and delivering, merchandize transported, or to be transported, in said steamships; and the said steamships, or any of them, or their appurtenances or any part thereof, when in the opinion of the directors of said company it may be proper so to do, to sell or dispose of; and further, to have all such other rights and powers as are or may be properly incident to a corporation, having for its object the transportation of goods, wares and merchandize, and the conveyance of passengers and mails, by means of steamships.

SECTION 2. That the capital stock of said corporation shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars, divided into four hundred shares of five hundred dollars each; and that it shall be held as personal property, and as such be transferred, under such regulations as the corporation shall judge convenient.

SECTION 3. That the office of the company shall be in the city of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania.

SECTION 4. That a general meeting of the corporators and stockholders shall be annually held on the first Tuesday of June, for the election of five directors, and the transaction of other business; but if such meeting or election shall not then take place, the corporation shall not for that cause be dissolved, but such meeting or election shall take place as soon thereafter as may be, two weeks' public notice thereof being first given in at least two daily newspapers in the city of Philadelphia for each and every corporate meeting or election.

SECTION 5. That the election of directors shall be by ballot from among the stockholders; and that in the enactment of by-laws for the government of the corporation and its officers, and in the decision of all questions, the corporators present, either in person or by proxy, shall severally have one vote for each share of stock held by them.

SECTION 6. That the directors shall continue in office until their successors be elected; shall elect a president from among themselves; shall supply vacancies in their number, whether occasioned by death, resignation, or refusal to act, and shall have the general and entire control of the affairs and interests of the company, except so far as may be otherwise provided by the corporators; and three members shall be a quorum.

SECTION 7. That until other officers shall be duly elected, the persons named in the first section of this act shall be held to be directors of the said corporation, and shall have power and authority as such to receive subscriptions to the stock of said company, in such manner as they may direct and provide.

No. 208.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BREWER, Militia—Feb. 11.

A SUPPLEMENT to an act, entitled "An Act for the regulation of the militia of this Commonwealth," approved April twenty first, one thousand eight hundred and fifty eight.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall be the duty of the several county treasurers of this Commonwealth, to prepare annually a statement of the receipts and expenditures of the military fund of their respective counties, setting forth the amount received from each collector separately, and the amount paid each person to whom money may be due; which statement, after being examined and passed by the county auditors, shall be published in the same manner that the other accounts of the said county treasurer are by law directed to be published; the expenses whereof to be paid out of the military fund of said county, and a statement of the same forwarded by the county treasurers to the State Treasurer of this Commonwealth, on or before the first day of February in each and every year.

SEC. 2. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and required to pay out of the aggregate military fund, now accumulated or that may hereafter accumulate, to the several county treasurers, any deficiencies of the county military expenses wherein statements have been duly transmitted agreeably to the first section of this supplement.

SEC. 3. That so much of the fourteenth section of this act, to which this is a supplement, as prohibits the paying any money out of the general military fund, except for the salary of the Adjutant General, his assistant and clerk, be and the same is hereby repealed.

No. 169.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BELL, Judiciary—Feb. 3.

AN ACT in reference to the commissions of justices of the peace and aldermen.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That every person hereafter elected to the office of justice of the peace or alderman shall, within thirty days after the election, if he intends to accept said office, give notice thereof, in writing, to the prothonotary of the common pleas of the proper county, who shall immediately inform the Secretary of the Commonwealth of said acceptance, and no commission shall issue until the Secretary of the Commonwealth has received the notice aforesaid.

SEC. 2. That so much of an act of Assembly as requires constables to send copies of the returns of the election of aldermen and justices of the peace to the Governor of the Commonwealth is hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. That whenever any person elected to the office of alderman or justice of the peace shall fail to give the notice of acceptance as provided for in the first section of this act, within thirty days after said election, the office shall be considered vacant, and shall be filled as vacancies are now filled by law.

No. 311.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

FEARON, Agriculture—Feb. 11.

AN ACT to prevent the destruction of fish

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person in any year between the first day of April and the first day of September, to take, catch, injure, shoot, kill or destroy designedly, by means of any net, seine, hook, box, dam, device or instrument whatever, any fish, or the nests or eggs thereof, in any waters of this Commonwealth, except the owners of fish ponds made and built for private use: Provided, That angling with rod and line shall not be hereby prohibited.

SEC. 2. That every person violating this act shall forfeit and pay for every such offence the sum of two dollars for every fish so taken, caught, injured, shot, killed or destroyed; or for every such injury to or destruction of eggs or nests, to be recovered by action of debt, as sums of like amount are recoverable, one-half whereof shall go to the prosecutor, the other half to the public schools of the district in which such suit shall be brought; and possession of any fresh fish within said period shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of this act.

No. 210.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BELL, Judiciary—Feb. 5.

AN ACT regulating the weighing of anthracite, bituminous and semi bituminous coal.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That on and after the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty nine, all anthracite, bituminous and semi-bituminous coal, delivered for consumption in the several cities and incorporated boroughs of this Commonwealth, shall be conveyed or carried in such cart or other vehicle, as shall be provided, with a duly attested and sealed scale, of sufficient size or power to weigh correctly said load of anthracite, bituminous or semi-bituminous coal, at the place of delivery, when demanded by the purchaser or purchasers, or the agent of said purchaser or purchasers.

SEC. 2. That any cart, or other vehicle, not so provided with sealed scales as aforesaid, in which anthracite, bituminous, or semi bituminous coal shall be hauled or delivered as aforesaid, shall be deemed illegal, and the owner thereof shall be liable to be fined in the sum of five dollars for each load of coal sold or delivered, on complaint being made by any person or persons aggrieved, to any alderman or justice of the peace of the proper city or borough in which the offence is committed; which fine shall be sued for in the name of the Commonwealth, and shall be recovered as debts of like amount are now recoverable by law; one-half thereof to be paid to the party prosecuting, and the other half to be paid to the proper authorities for the use of the poor, by the magistrate before whom the said suit shall be brought, to be distributed as out-door relief: Provided, That the foregoing provisions of this act shall not apply to such persons as haul coal purchased by themselves, or those in their employ, purchased for their own use.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 42.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

SENATE.

MONDAY, Feb. 28, 1859.

The Senate met, and was called to order by the SPEAKER, at 3 o'clock, p. m.

The Journal of Friday was read and approved.

The SPEAKER presented the thirty-first annual report of the House of Refuge.

Also, the fifth annual report of the Northern Home for friendless children.

Also, the annual report of the Lykens Valley railroad company.

Also, the annual report of the Lykens Valley coal company.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

A message from the Governor was read, and is as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
Harrisburg, Feb. 25, 1859. }

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—I have approved and signed the following Acts of the General Assembly, viz:

"An Act to incorporate the Franklin market company of Philadelphia."

"An Act relative to pawnbrokers in the city of Philadelphia."

"An Act to incorporate the Southwark soup society of Philadelphia."

"An Act to incorporate the Security fire insurance company, to be located in the city of Philadelphia."

"An Act to authorize the school directors of the borough of Bedford to borrow money, and for other purposes."

"An Act to prevent the destruction of fish in McMichael's creek, Monroe county."

"An Act to appoint commissioners to re-survey and establish the lines of the main road running through a part of Wilkesbarre township, Luzerne county."

"An Act relating to certain charitable corporations."

"A supplement to the act to incorporate the Paddy's Run bridge company."

"An Act relating to strays in Venango county."

"An Act to repeal an act to change the place of holding elections in Porter township, Schuylkill county, approved February 9, 1858."

"An Act relating to the navigation of Tionesta creek and its branches."

"An Act relating to the navigation of Pine creek, in Warren county."

"An Act relating to the Leverington cemetery company."

"An Act supplementary to an act to enable the commissioners of Warren county to effect certain compromises, approved January 27, 1859."

"An Act to incorporate the Citizens' mutual safety insurance company."

"An Act to increase the pay of the county commissioners and auditors of Indiana county."

"An Act for the relief of Henry Bumgardner, a soldier of the Indian war of 1791."

"An Act authorizing the appointment of commissioners to run the boundary lines between the counties of Clinton and Centre."

"An Act to incorporate the Luzerne powder company."

"Resolution to pay Thomas H. Porter, late a member from Cambria county, and J. H. Wells, clerk of the contested election committee."

WM. F. PACKER.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. THOMPSON asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. BELL, for a few days from to-day.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. KELLER, (Banks,) reported as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Hanover saving fund society, of York county."

Mr. WRIGHT, (Accounts,) the following, which was read, considered and adopted:

The Committee on Accounts, to which was referred a resolution of the Senate, relative to certain charges against the Clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, of abuses in the use of the franking privilege report:

That after a careful examination of the accounts of the postmaster, and hearing the testimony of persons from whom information could be obtained relative thereto, they fully exonerate the Clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives from all censure; no evidence implicating these officers having been discovered against them. While your committee fully exonerates the officers named in the resolution, a critical examination of the accounts of the postmaster, convinced them that the franking privilege has not only been used with great freedom by the members of the respective Houses, but by their subordinate officers; and, in many instances, by parties having little or no connection with either body.

With a view to the correction of one form of abuse, your committee, immediately on entering upon the discharge of its duties, directed the postmaster at Harrisburg to discontinue the practice introduced by his predecessors of giving postage stamps and envelopes to the members and officers of the Legislature when in session, or during the recess; which order he promptly and cheerfully enforced.

Your committee was also impressed with the belief that an additional check against the abuse of the franking privilege might with safety be made in the passage of an act providing that all letters and documents under the frank of members or officers of the Legislature, should be stamped by officers of each House, appointed for that purpose, by not received in the post-office, or transmitted and mail at the expense of the Commonwealth, unless such letter or document bore the stamp of the officers of the House, from which it came. The appointment of such officers would be attended with but little expense, and be productive of a great reduction of the post-office expenses of the two Houses.

In conclusion, your committee submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That the committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject. (Signed.)

RICHARDSON L. WRIGHT,
HENRY FETTER,
JACOB TURNEY,
E. D. GAZZAM,
ROBERT BALDWIN.

Mr. KELLER, from the Committee to Compare Bills, made a report.

Mr. STEELE, (Private Claims and Damages,) as committed, House bill No. 234, "An Act for the relief of W. O. Hickok."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. FINNEY read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act relative to orphans' courts."

On his motion, (the rule being suspended,) the Committee on Judiciary was discharged from the consideration of this bill; and the Senate proceeded to consider the same.

Mr. MARSELIS moved a proviso, excepting the city of Philadelphia from the operations of the bill.

After some explanation as to the design of the act and discussion of its merits, the proviso was adopted, and the bill passed finally.

Mr. WELSH, "An Act to incorporate the Hanover gas light company."

Mr. SHAEFFER, "An Act incorporating the Lancaster and Sun Hill turnpike road company."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, "An Act to amend the charter of the Chestnut Hill iron ore company."

Mr. STEELE, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Plymouth canal company."

Mr. SCOFIELD, "An Act authorizing the commissioners of Sheffield township, Warren county, to levy additional road tax."

Also, "An Act relative to the publication of the opinions of the supreme court in certain cases."

Also, "An Act relative to the election of district attorneys."

Mr. TURNEY, "An Act relative to challenging jurors in civil cases."

Also, "An Act to annul the marriage contract between William Barnard and Eliza his wife."

Mr. YARDLEY, "An Act to incorporate the Huntingdon Valley railroad company."

Mr. PENNEY, "An Act exempting certain real estate in Allegheny county, from paying collateral inheritance tax."

Mr. TURNEY, "A further supplement to the act providing for the regulation and continuance of a system of education by common schools."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. COFFEY offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That the House of Representatives be requested to return House bill No. 336, "An Act relating to the election of an additional constable at Brady's Bend, Armstrong county."

House amendments to Senate bill No. 335, "An Act authorizing Robert Given, of Westmoreland county, to build a dam across the Conemaugh river," were, on motion, concurred in.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

House bill No. 241, "An Act to establish a Normal school in connection with Westminster college, New Wilmington, Lawrence county," came up in order; the question being upon the amendment to the amendment to the fourth section offered by Mr. TURNEY.

Mr. FRANCIS hoped the amendment would not be insisted upon by the Senator from Westmoreland. As he had stated, on Friday, when this bill was under consideration, the bill was merely intended to supply an existing necessity, which was felt all over the State. He did not pretend to say that the institution was possessed of all the requisites under the law. There was no Normal school in the State of Pennsylvania, organized under that law, which was possessed of those requisites—but all would fall far short of it. He would not oppose the establishment of schools under the provisions of the law. If over they go into operation, under the full requirements of that law, it would be a glorious thing for Pennsylvania. It was a gigantic system, but would require time for its perfect development.

The institution, for which this appropriation was asked, was simply able to do what it proposed to do in the bill; and they only ask the State to aid them for five years, by giving them twelve hundred dollars per year, in return for which they agree to teach, without charge to the State, from fifty to three hundred pupils. He honestly believed that the State of Pennsylvania never made as good an appropriation as the one asked for; and if eleven other institutions would come up and propose to do the same thing, six hundred students would be educated at this trifling cost. He hoped the amendment would not prevail. If the bill was to be killed, he hoped it might be met upon its merits, and not killed in this indirect and cowardly way.

Mr. TURNEY had moved his amendment, in conscientious discharge of his duty, deeming it eminently just and proper. He trusted it would carry, for if this appropriation is made to the institution, it should be brought within the purview of a Normal school, which it claims to be.

Mr. HARRIS said—

Mr. SPEAKER:—This is a bill asking the Legislature to appropriate twelve hundred dollars annually to the Westminster college for five years. Westminster college is situated in Lawrence county, and I would say here, that geographically, that section of the State has claims. No appropriation of the kind asked for has ever been made to that section of the State. Legislation, to be just, must be equal. Such, however, it cannot be, if the claims of this district are disregarded. This institution is not an organization having a problematical existence. Westminster college is a fixed fact, doing such business as but few colleges in any of the States did until within a quarter of a century of this time; and if ever individual effort deserves to be encouraged by a generous public spirit, the individual effort put forth to make Westminster what it is, deserves that encouragement.

The common school system, which has been so wisely projected and so generally put in operation, is dependent partly on schools of a higher grade. To talk about Normal schools separate from our colleges, is to talk about nonsense. Who can tell what course of life, or what profession, his son, brother or nephew will pursue, until he has attained some education, and after trial ascertained what his talents are best adapted to?

Who ever thinks of having one class of schools for the study of grammar, and another for the study of geography? Just as unreasonable is it to erect schools for preparing professional teachers, and then schools for training men for other professions.

Now, sir, situated as this college is, they can do more for accomplishing the end proposed by Normal schools, with an appropriation of twenty thousand dollars, than the State can do with one hundred thousand dollars. When I say this, I am not speaking at random. They have the building, lighted and heated; they have the classes organized, actually performing the work; but they need more funds to enable them to work more efficiently; and I trust this Senate will concur with the liberality of the other branch of the Legislature in this matter, when they take into consideration that the west has received nothing from the State for educational purposes, whilst the eastern cities and counties have received largely. It has been the policy of the State to encourage her colleges and academies; on this point there can be no doubt—The Philadelphia University has received liberally. So also has the Western University at Allegheny; Lafayette college has received about $5000; the Lutheran college, at Gettysburg, has received liberally. Dickinson college, at Carlisle, also Jefferson college, in Washington county, and Washington college, in the same county; Marshall college at Mercersburg, which was transferred to Lancaster, and amalgamated with the Franklin college, as well as Allegheny college, have all received aid from the State.

The State has, from time to time, been encouraging the different institutions of learning in the central and eastern portions of the State.

And in support of this laudible enterprise, we have the encouragement of Governor Packer in his late message.

He says, up to the present time, Pennsylvania has appropriated about $600,000 in aid of her colleges and academies, and this mainly in the hope of obtaining from them teachers for the common schools. Though the benefits of this munificence have been, in other respects, quite equal to the amount given, it will be asserted by no one, that the avowed object has been, to any considerable extent, effected. It would, therefore, appear to be time that the aid of the State should be brought directly to bear in favor of the great object so long contemplated.

Now, sir, this institution proposes to educate, free of charge, annually, three hundred teachers in the Normal school department. The influence of these thoroughly educated teachers, on the community, and the cause of education, will be marked and salutary. You will perceive here, that this institution does not come asking an endowment. It presents itself in the position of a party to a contract, and binds itself to teach three hundred scholars annually, for five years, for the small pittance of $1200, making fifteen hundred scholars that will be trained and taught in the Normal school department, and prepared for teachers in the common schools.

Now, sir, there are twelve Normal school districts in the State; and if the State would appropriate this amount to each of those institutions, and abolish the office of county superintendent, she would save a large amount of money, and have better teachers. The State now appropriates over $36000 annually to county superintendents, and $1200 annually to twelve Normal schools would only amount to $144,00; only about one-third the amount paid out to county superintendents; and we would have better teachers coming out of these schools with their certificates or diplomas, thus doing away with the necessity of county superintendents, which is becoming so unpopular throughout the State.

On the question, will the Senate agree to the amendment to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNEY and Mr. FRANCIS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Brewer, Keller, Marselis, Nunnemacher, Shaeffer, Steele, Turney, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—9.

NAYS—Messrs. Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Scofield, Schindel, Thompson and Yardley—16.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring upon the amendment offered by Mr. BELL,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. FRANCIS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—None.

NAYS—Messrs. Brewer, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Marselis, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Thompson, Turney, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—22.

So the question was determined in the negative.

On the question, will the Senate agree to the fourth section? it was determined in the affirmative; whereupon,

Mr. FINNEY moved a re-consideration of the vote on the adoption of the first, second, third and fourth sections; which being agreed to, he offered the following as a substitute for the same:

That in order to provide for the education of a certain number of competent common school teachers, male and female, in all the branches of English literature and science, and in the art of teaching and government, there is hereby appropriated, out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $1200, annually, to be paid semi annually for the term of five years, to the payment of the salaries of the professors of Westminster college, in the village of New Wilmington, Lawrence county.

The substitute was adopted.

The fifth section was amended, on motion on Mr. FINNEY, by inserting after the word "institution," in the second line, the words "under the provisions of this act;" and as amended was agreed to, as also the sixth. The seventh, on motion of Mr. FINNEY, was amended by adding after the words "county superintendents," the words "and common school directors."

The section, as amended, passed.

The eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh were agreed to.

The twelfth was amended, on motion of Mr. FINNEY, by inserting the words "shall remain as heretofore, and Warren county shall be included, in the twelfth Normal district;" and as amended, passed.

The title was amended, so as to read, "An Act to provide for the education of certain common school teachers," &c.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to suspend the rule, which prohibits the reading of bills more than twice the same day?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNEY and Mr. FRANCIS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Scofield, Schindel, Steele and Thompson—15.

NAYS—Messrs. Blood, Brewer, Keller, Marselis, Nunnemacher, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—9.

So the question was determined in the negative; and the bill lies over.

Bills entitled as follows, lie over:

"An Act to incorporate the Commercial trust company," and "An Act to incorporate the Northumberland and Juniata railroad company."

On motion of Mr. WELSH, the Senate reconsidered the vote on the final passage of "An Act for the protection of dogs in York county," and the bill being again before the Senate, was slightly amended and passed.

BILLS CONSIDERED.

On motion of Mr. STEELE, Senate bill, No. 357, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the Danville railroad company," was taken up, and after being amended, passed committee of the whole; lies over, and ordered to be printed.

An extract from the Journal of the House was received and read. It is as follows:

Resolved, That if the Senate concur, Senate bill No. 88, "An Act incorporating the First Presbyterian church and Cemetery in the borough of Strasburg," be amended, by striking from the seventh section the words, "and the said cemetery and church property shall hereafter forever, be exempted from all taxation."

Said extract was twice read, considered and concurred in.

On motion of Mr. THOMPSON, House bill No. 158, "An Act to incorporate the Port Kennedy railroad company of Montgomery county," was taken up, and after passing committee of the whole, was read a second and third time and passed.

On leave given, Mr. WRIGHT offered the following resolution; which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That if the House of Representatives concur, the Governor be requested to return "An Act authorizing the Frankford and Oxford turnpike road company, to borrow money."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, the Senate proceeded to consider House bill No. 338, "A supplement to the act incorporating the American mutual insurance company," which passed finally.

On motion of Mr. WELSH, the bill, entitled "A supplement to an act incorporating the Hanover saving fund society," was taken up and duly considered.

On its final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. WELSH, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Rutherford, Shaeffer, Schudel, Steele, Thompson, Turney, Welsh, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—20.

NAYS—Messrs. Blood, Keller, Marselis, Nuncmacher and Wright—5.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

A message from the Governor was received, and read, as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, }
Harrisburg, Feb. 28, 1859, }

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen—I have approved and signed the following acts of the General Assembly, viz:

"An Act to confer on James Morrison, of Washington county, all the rights and privileges of a child born in lawful wedlock."

"An Act to extend the limits of the borough of Pottsville, Schuylkill county."

"A supplement to an act authorizing the Governor to incorporate the Norristown and King of Prussia turnpike road company."

WM. F. PACKER.

The hour of five having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the Senate until ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, Feb. 28, 1859.

The House met at 3 o'clock, and was called to order by the SPEAKER.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Friday; when, on motion of Mr. ROSE, the further reading of the same was dispensed with. PETITIONS, &c., PRESENTED.

Mr. FLEMING read in his place and presented to the Chair, a petition for vacating a view of a State road in Foley township, Clarion county.

Also, three from one hundred and forty-two citizens of Licking and Beaver townships, Clarion county, for a new township.

Also, three from citizens of Clarion county, for a law submitting the continuance of the present school system to a vote of the people.

Mr. WALKER, one from citizens of Yennes township, Somerset county, for an act authorizing the election of an additional supervisor of public roads in said township.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of Somerset county, against the erection of the new county, to be called Ligonier.

Mr. BAYARD, one from the citizens of Pittsburgh, for the abolition of the Pittsburgh high school.

Mr. FOSTER, one of similar import, from thirty-one citizens of Pittsburgh.

Mr. IRISH, one of similar import, from thirty-four citizens of Pittsburgh.

Mr. M'DOWELL, one from forty-seven citizens of Pittsburgh, for the abolition of the high school.

Also, a remonstrance from the councils of Allegheny city, against the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bedford,) four remonstrances signed by four hundred and forty-eight citizens of Bedford county, against the annexation of any part of said county to Blair county."

Also, a petition from citizens of Bedford county, for an additional appropriation to aid in erecting a monument in honor of the brave Pennsylvanians who lost their lives in the Mexican war.

Mr. GALLEY, a petition from citizens of Fayette county for the repeal of laws allowing premiums on scalps.

Also, for the repeal of a law increasing the pay of commissioners, jurors, and witnesses in said county.

Also, one from same, praying for a bank in the borough of Connelssville.

Mr. KETCHUM, one from citizens of Luzerne county, for the repeal of the common school superintendency in said county.

Also, two remonstrances from citizens of Blakeley township, same county, against the removal of the place of holding elections in said county.

Mr. GRITMAN, one of like import.

Mr. STEPHENS, one from citizens of Wayne county, praying that the Delaware be not dammed by the Delaware canal company.

Mr. MEHAFFEY, one from citizens of Lycoming county, for an act fixing the place for holding the general and township elections, in Lycoming township, said county.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) one from citizens of Washington county, praying that William Greenfield, of said county, may be released from costs.

Mr. DODDS, one from James Stevenson and Daniel Shower, administrators of Alexander Stevenson, deceased, for the passage of an act appropriating money to the heirs of Alexander Stevenson.

Mr. ROHRER, two from citizens of Armstrong county, for an act to establish a public ferry over the Allegheny river, in said county.

Also, one from citizens of the borough of Apollo, Armstrong county, for the extension of their boundary.

Mr. LAIRD, a memorial from Mary Wilson, widow of Thomas Wilson.

Mr. WITMAN, one from Schem Thomas, of Harrisburg, asking relief for damages sustained on the Pennsylvania canal.

Mr. GRAHAM, one from citizens of Washington county, for an act granting justices of the peace jurisdiction in certain cases.

Mr. PENNELL, one from the officers of the Bank of Delaware County, for an act making it obligatory on the several banks of this Commonwealth, to keep their notes at par in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Mr. BARNESLEY, one from citizens of Bucks county, remonstrating against the provisions contained in House bill No. 187, relative to the Delaware Division canal company.

Mr. EVANS, three from citizens of Philadelphia, remonstrating against the passage of the bill for the incorporation of the Delaware Division canal company in its present form.

Mr. BARLOW, one from citizens of Huntingdon county, for the passage of a supplement to the act laying a duty on retailers of foreign merchandize, and authorizing a lower class of rates of license.

Mr. NILL, two from citizens of Franklin county, against the passage of a law taxing dogs in said county.

Mr. DURBORAW, one from citizens of Adams county, for authority to sell the county buildings and old court house.

Also, one from citizens of Adams and York counties, for an act to incorporate the East Berlin railroad company.

Mr. MANN, one from citizens of Potter county, for an alteration in the law regulating the collection of poor tax.

Also, one from same, for a change in the road laws in said county.

Also, one from same, asking that the act, approved May 8, 1854, authorizing the school directors of the counties of Chester and Delaware to select sites for schools, be extended to the county of Potter.

Also, one from same, asking for the repeal of the act, approved April 20, 1858, regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, one from citizens of Northumberland county, praying to repeal the law establishing county superintendent of common schools.

Mr. CUSTER, two petitions numerously signed by citizens of Douglassville, Amity and Oley townships, in Berks county, praying for a charter for the Douglassville and Yellow House turnpike road company.

Also, one from citizens of Berks county, for the passage of an act to authorize and require the treasurer of the city of Reading, to pay certain fees and costs in reference to arrests, &c., in said city.

Mr. JACKSON, the petition of Catharine Sickie, of Sullivan county, praying for the passage of an act enabling her to sell and convey certain real estate.

Also, four petitions from citizens of Sullivan county, asking for the passage of an act to prevent the hunting of deer with dogs in Sullivan county.

Also, one petition of citizens of Forks township, Sullivan county, asking that said township may not be included in the bill preventing hunting deer with dogs in said county.

Also, petition of citizens of Bradford and Sullivan counties, asking for the passage of an act authorizing the location of a State road from Dushore, Sullivan county, to Wells' Ferry, Bradford county.

Also, remonstrance of one hundred and eight citizens, living along the waters of Loyalsock creek, in Lycoming and Sullivan counties, against the erection of booms in said creek.

Also, petition of citizens of Laceyville,

Wyoming county, for a wire rope ferry at that place.

Also, petition of citizens of Clinton township, Wyoming county, asking for the repeal of the present school laws.

Mr. CHASE, one from citizens of Susquehanna county, for a law giving justices of the peace, with a jury of six, power to hear and determine certain criminal cases.

Mr. GOOD, one from citizens of Bucks, Lehigh and Berks counties, for a charter for the Spinnerstown and Hoscensack turnpike railroad company.

Mr. GRITMAN, one from citizens of Wilkesbarro township, Luzerne county, against the proposed division of said township.

Mr. THOMPSON, a petition from citizens of Middlesex township, for an independent school district.

Mr. GREEN, one from citizens of East Donegal township, Lancaster county, for the passage of an act giving the collection of taxes to the lowest bidder.

Mr. FOSTER, one from thirty-six citizens of Indiana township, Allegheny county, praying a change in the road laws of said township.

Also, a remonstrance from seventy citizens of Pittsburg, against any change in the school laws of said city.

Also, one from two hundred and twenty-seven citizens of Birmingham, Allegheny county, against the passage of a supplement to an act incorporating the borough of South Pittsburg.

Mr. BRYSON, four petitions from eighty-three citizens of Lawrence county, for an act to abolish the office of county school superintendent; and to reinstate as much of the act of 1849, as gives the citizens of each school district a right to choose their own teachers.

Mr. ROSE, one from citizens of Mercer county, relative to the rendition of fugitive slaves; which was read.

Also, one from citizens of Mercer county, for the passage of an act vacating so much of the Emlenton and Mercer State road as is located between the west end of William Howard's farm, in Findlay township, said county, and the borough of Mercer.

Also, one from one hundred and eighteen citizens of Pine township, Mercer county, in favor of the abolition of the office of county school superintendent.

Also, one from Oliver Merrill, for the passage of an act dissolving the marriage contract between him and his wife Lydia Merrill.

Mr. CAMPBELL, a petition from the school directors of Girard township, Erie county, praying for the passage of an act allowing them to locate sites for school houses.

Mr. WIGTON, four remonstrances from citizens of Cromwell township, Huntingdon county, against any change in the law for collecting State and county taxes in said county.

Also, a petition from citizens of Alexandria, same county, asking for the repeal of an act passed in 1846, termed the three hundred dollar law.

Also, one from citizens adjacent to the Pennsylvania railroad, for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. PEIRCE, one from sixty-four citizens of Mt. Calm township, Chester county, for a change in the place of holding elections in said township.

Also, one from sixty-seven citizens of New London, same county, for an alteration in their road laws.

Mr. PINKERTON, one from citizens of Pottsville, Schuylkill county, asking for a law making it obligatory on the several banks of this Commonwealth to keep their notes at par in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Mr. NEALL, one from citizens of Philadelphia, remonstrating against the Green and Coates Street passenger railway supplement.

Mr. STYER, a remonstrance against the supplement to the act incorporating the Germantown passenger railroad company.

Mr. PALM, two from citizens of Schuylkill Haven, praying to have the place for holding elections changed to the South ward of said borough.

Mr. PRICE, two from citizens of Lancaster county, in favor of abolishing the office of scaler of weights and measures in said county.

Mr. PROUDFOOT, one from citizens of Cambria county, for the removal of the seat of justice from the borough of Ebensburg to the borough of Wilmore.

Also, one from ninety-six citizens of Cambria county, for a law to prevent selling and giving liquor on election days by extending the act of 1855, to include all days of election as well as Sunday.

Mr. ACKER, one from citizens of Chester county, relative to fencing the Pennsylvania and Chester Valley railroad.

Also, one from same, asking that the standard weight of oats be reduced to 28 pounds.

Also, one from citizens of West Calm and Sadsbury townships, Chester county, asking the repeal of an act to view and lay out a State road in Lancaster and Chester counties.

Also, one from citizens of West Calm township, Chester county, asking the repeal of a law laying a tax on dogs in said township.

Mr. WARDEN, one numerously signed by citizens of Franklin township, Westmoreland county, in favor of the repeal of all laws relating to the office of county school superintendent.

Mr. McDOWELL presented the following; which was read:

"Resolved, That we are unequivocally opposed to any repeal of the tonnage tax, and our Representatives and Senators at Harrisburg, are hereby requested to use all legal and honorable means to prevent any interference with the tonnage tax, as it now exists, that would have any tendency to increase the already heavily burdened tax-payers."

CITY OF ARLEGHENY, }
Wednesday, Feb. 23, 1859. }

SIR:—I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the resolution passed by the select and common councils at their meeting held on Tuesday the twenty-second inst.

Yours respectfully,

D. MACFERRON,

Clerk of the Select Council.

Mr. BERTOLET, one from citizens of Alsace township, Berks county, remonstrating against the repeal of the act passed April 7, 1858.

Also, two from citizens of Berks county, signed by one hundred and seventy citizens, requiring the city of Reading to pay the costs of arresting vagrants in said city.

Mr. THOMPSON, one for the vacation of a part of a certain State road.

Mr. GOEPP, one from citizens of Northampton county, for the removal of the county seat from Easton to Nazareth.

Also, a remonstrance against the same.

Also, a petition from the officers of the Eastern Bank, that country banks may be compelled to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Mr. ROUSE, one from citizens of Limestone township, Warren county, in favor of the new county of Marion.

Mr. HARDING, one from citizens of Frankford, against the entrance of free negroes into this Commonwealth.

Also, one against the Germantown railroad supplement.

Mr. HAMERSLY, one from citizens of seventh and eighth precincts of the Twenty-first ward of Philadelphia, against any change in the manner of selecting overseers of the poor in said precincts.

Mr. THORN, one from citizens of Philadelphia, for a law to prohibit the introduction of negroes and mulattoes into this State.

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) one from citizens of Schuylkill county, to regulate the height of fences in said county.

Mr. WALKER, on leave, "An Act relative to supervisors in Jenner township, Somerset county."

Mr. WAGONSELLER, three petitions from citizens of Hartley, Lewis and West Buffalo townships, Union county, relative to road views in said townships.

Also, a remonstrance, from citizens of Union county, against the passage of a law to prevent fishing with seines and nets in Buffalo creek, said county.

Mr. RAMSDELL, two from citizens of Venango county, for the laying out of a State road from the mouth of Clarion river to Franklin.—(Referred to the Committee on Roads and Bridges.)

Also, five praying for a law to limit and restrict the school directors in assessing tax for school and building purposes. (Referred to the Committee on Education.)

Also, one praying for the abolishment of the office of county school superintendent. (Referred to the Committee on Education.)

Also, one praying for a change in the manner of collecting taxes in Venango county.

Mr. WAGONSELLER, one remonstrating against the passage of a law to prevent fishing with seines in Buffalo creek, Union county.

Mr. SMITH, (Philadelphia,) one against the passage of any supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Streets railroad company.

Mr. HAMERSLY, the proceedings of a public meeting of citizens of the rural districts of Philadelphia, in favor of the passage of the bill to secure to the people of said city the right of free travel over certain highways.

Mr. CHURCH, on leave, from the Committee on Corporations, reported as committed, "A supplement to the act to consolidate the city of Philadelphia;" which, on motion of Mr. EVANS, was ordered to be placed on the Private Calendar for to-morrow.

Mr. MILLER moved that the supplement to the act to incorporate the Meadville railroad company be placed on the Private Calendar for to-morrow; which was agreed to.

Mr. WILSON, one from citizens of Beaver county, for the passage of a law to appropriate the tax assessed by the State on the capital stock of the Darlington Canal coal railroad company, to the trustees of the Darlington academy, for the purpose of erecting a new building for said institution.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. HAMERSLY submitted the following; which was twice read and agreed to:

Resolved, That the Committee on Banks be instructed to inquire whether the Camden (N. J.) banks, which have agencies in Philadelphia, pay to the Commonwealth any tax on their dividends and capital stock; and if not, to report such a bill as will protect the interests of the State, and deprive said banks of any advantages over our own institutions.

Mr. GLATZ offered a resolution granting the use of the Hall of the House to Dr. Pepper, of York, for the purpose of delivering a public lecture, on Wednesday evening, March 9th.

The House refused to proceed to the second reading of the same.

Messrs. LAWRENCE (Washington,) and THOMPSON, moved that the House reconsider the vote by which House bill No. 312, "An Act to change the lines of the borough of California," was passed.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

A motion was made that the further consideration of the question be postponed for the present; which was agreed to.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. CHASE, as committed, Senate bill 33, "An Act to refund to the West Chester gas company, the amount of tax overpaid by them to the State Treasury."

Mr. BERTOLET, (Agriculture,) as committed, "An Act to repeal an act for the protection of sheep and taxing of dogs in the county of Blair."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act for the better preservation of game, &c."

Mr. GALLEY, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to prevent the destruction of trout during spawning season in Lycoming creek, Sullivan county."

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bedford,) (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to fences in Franklin township, Bradford county."

Mr. BRYSON, (same,) as committed, "An Act to prevent the destruction of fish in the Swatara river and its tributaries."

Mr. FEARON, (same,) as committed, "An Act to prevent the fishing with seines, &c., in the Conococheague creek, on the property of the Holywell papermills."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to encourage the destruction of Foxes in Clinton county."

Mr. SHAEFFER, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to prevent hunting of deer with dogs in Sullivan county."

Mr. BURBORAW, (Roads and Bridges,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the Frankford and Bristol turnpike road company to reduce the width of said road between certain points."

Also, as committed, "An Act for the appointment of a sequester on the Washington and Pittsburg turnpike road."

Mr. STUART, (same,) as committed, "An Act relating to roads and bridges in Washington county."

Also, as committed, "An Act for the vacating of certain streets in Philadelphia."

Also, as committed, "An Act to repeal the road laws in Jackson township, Huntingdon county."

Mr. PENNELL, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Strasburg and Millport turnpike road company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Allegheny and Buffalo Run plank road company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act relating to public roads in Snyder county."

Mr. DURBORAW, (same,) as committed, "An Act concerning plank road and bridge companies."

Mr. WALKER, (same,) as committed, "An Act relating to public highways in East Bradford township, Chester county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Anderson Creek public road and navigation company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the White Marsh and Cheltenham turnpike road company of Montgomery county."

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, (same,) as committed, "An Act to require the Pennsylvania railroad company to change a certain road."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Erie and Waterford plank road company."

Mr. CAMPBELL, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Parryville bridge company."

Mr. PRICE, (Corporations,) as committed, "An Act to improve the navigation of the river Lackawaxen;" which, on motion of Mr. GRITMAN, was ordered to be placed on the Calendar for to-morrow.

Mr. WARDEN, (Canals and Inland Navigation,) as committed, "An Act to erect a sheer boom at the mouth of the Loyalsock creek."

Mr. THORN, (Railroads,) as committed, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Venango railroad company;" which, on motion of Mr. RAMSDELL, was taken up and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. FLEMING read in place, and presented to the Chair, "A supplement to the act relative to a State road in Clarion and Venango counties;" which, on his motion, was taken up and passed.

Also, "An Act relating to a new township in Clarion county."

Mr. LAIRD, one for the payment of the claim of Mary Wilson, widow of Thomas Wilson.

Mr. DURBORAW, one to incorporate the East Berlin railroad company.

Also, one authorizing the commissioners of Adams county, to sell and convey certain real estate.

Mr. ROHRER, one attaching lands of Elisha Robinson, of Perry township, Armstrong county, for school purposes.

Also, "A supplement to the act incorporating the borough of Apollo; also declaring a bridge between the counties of Armstrong and Clarion, a county bridge."

Also, one establishing a ferry across the Allegheny river, in Armstrong county; and, on his motion, said bill was taken up and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WILSON, one to reduce the State tax on real estate and personal estate to two mills on the dollar.

Also, one to encourage the destruction of foxes in Beaver county; on motion placed on Private Calendar for to-morrow.

Mr. MEHAFFEY, one fixing the place for holding general and township elections in Lycoming township, Lycoming county; which, on his motion, was taken up and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. FEARON, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Watsonstown bridge company, approved May 9, 1854."

Mr. GRATZ, "An Act relating to the East Mahanoy railroad company."

Mr. GALLEY, "An Act to authorize the establishment of the Farmers' and Miners' Bank, in the borough of Connellsville, Fayette county."

Also, one to prevent non-residents from peddling and selling tin and copperware in the county of Fayette.

Also, "An Act for the relief of Nancy Seering, widow of a soldier of the Indian war of 1793."

Also, one for the relief of Elizabeth Fisher, widow of an old soldier.

Also, one to repeal "An Act to prevent the destruction of rabbits in Fayette, Greene and Westmoreland counties;" which was taken up and passed.

Also, one authorizing the State Treasurer to pay Andrew McClelland, grandson of John McClelland, a balance of money due said John McClelland, for services rendered in the Indian war of 1782.

Also, one repealing an act to increase the pay of commissioners, jurors and witnesses, in the county of Fayette.

Mr. JACKSON, "An Act to incorporate the Pennsylvania annual conference of the Methodist Protestant church."

Also, "An Act to establish a ferry over the river Suquehanna, at Laceyville, in Wyoming county."

Also, "An Act for the appointment of auditors for the borough of Tunkhannock, in the county of Wyoming, and changing the time of holding the borough elections."

On motion, the last two were ordered to be placed on Private Calendar.

Mr. FOSTER, "An Act to establish a house of reformation and industry, in Allegheny county; which, on motion, was ordered to be placed on Private Calendar for to-morrow."

"An Act requiring treasurers of corporations to retain and pay the State tax on bonds issued thereby, when paying the interest thereon."

Mr. M'DOWELL, "An Act to exempt certain real estate from the payment of the collateral inheritance tax."

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) "A further supplement to the act regulating auctions in the city of Lancaster, &c.;" which, on his motion, was ordered to be placed on Private Calendar.

Mr. SMEAD, "An Act to incorporate the Towanda library association."

Mr. PROUDFOOT, "An Act to annex a part of Allegheny township to Loretto school district for school purposes."

Mr. HAMERSLY, on leave, from the Committee on Corporations, reported, as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Newtown gaslight company;" which, on motion of Mr. BARNSELEY, was placed on Private Calendar for to-morrow.

Mr. KEENEAGY moved that the act to incorporate the Conestoga gaslight company be placed on to-morrow's Calendar; which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. THORN, it was ordered that the consideration of the unfinished Calendar of last Tuesday be made the special order for to-morrow, immediately after the reading of the Journal.

Mr. WITMAN presented a supplement to the Harrisburg borough charter.

Also, two acts to confer on Edward E. & H. G. Lutz the rights and privileges of children born in lawful wedlock.

On motion of Mr. WILCOX, Senate bill No. 54, "An Act relating to certain school taxes in the county of Jefferson" was ordered to be placed on the Private Calendar to-morrow.

Mr. WIGTON presented "An Act to prevent the killing of wild turkeys in Huntingdon county."

Mr. PRICE, "An Act for the relief of Augustus J. Koons, of Lancaster county, a soldier of the war of 1812."

Mr. GOOD, "An Act to incorporate the Spinnerstown and Hosensack turnpike road company."

Also, "An Act concerning the appointment of road viewers and road damages in Lehigh county."

Mr. ROSE, "A supplement to the act authorizing the laying out of a State road from the west end of Emleaton, Venango county, to Mercer, Mercer county."

Mr. THORN, "An Act to incorporate the Hope manufacturing company."

Also, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Philadelphia ice company, and for other purposes."

Also, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Six-penny savings fund of Philadelphia, approved April 5, 1854."

Mr. HAMERSLY, one to incorporate the Bell Isle salt company."

Also, "An Act to authorize the Chestnut Hill railroad company to sell and dispose of certain real estate."

Mr. MANN, "An Act to authorize the school directors of Potter county to select sites for school houses."

Mr. PINKERTON, "An Act to extend the provisions of an act relative to orphans' court, &c.;" and, on his motion, the same was ordered to be placed on the Private Calendar.

Mr. WAGONSELLER, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Lewisburg and Youngmanstown turnpike road company."

Also, "An Act relative to distribution of proceeds of sales of real estate sold by the sheriff."

Also, "An Act relative to road views in certain townships in Union county;" which, on his motion, was taken up and passed; and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Also, "An Act relative to the ferry over the Shamokin dam." (Referred to Committee on Canals and Inland Navigation.)

Mr. CHASE, "An Act to extend a certain act relative to mutual saving fund, loan and building associations, to Susquehanna county."

Mr. WILLISTON, "An Act to prevent hunting with dogs in Morris township, Tioga county;" which, on his motion, was ordered to be placed on the Private Calendar for to-morrow.

Mr. ROUSE, "An Act authorizing the supervisor of Whetmore township, Warren county, to lay out and build a certain road."

Mr. GRAHAM, "An Act to provide for the election of supervisors in Cross Creek township, Washington county;" which, on his motion, was taken up and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) "An Act authorizing the commissioners of Washington county to pay certain moneys to Wm. Greenfield, of said county;" which, on his motion, was taken up and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. MILLER moved that House bill No. 291, "An Act to erect a new county out of parts of Crawford, Warren and Venango," be placed on to-morrow's Calendar.

Mr. RAMSDALL objected, and the motion was lost.

Mr. BARLOW moved that the following bill be placed on to-morrow's Calendar:

"A supplement to an act, entitled 'An Act to incorporate the Allegheny and Buffalo Run plank road company, approved the twelfth day of April, Anno Domini 1853,'" Senate bill No. 119.

Which was agreed to.

Mr. STEPHENS presented "A supplement to the act regulating the manner of voting in Wayne and Schuylkill counties;" and, on his motion, said bill was taken up and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. EVANS, "An Act to incorporate the Northern market company."

Mr. ROSE, "An Act to annul the marriage contract between Oliver Merriitt and Lydia, his wife."

On motion of Mr. SMITH, the Committee on Corporations was discharged from the further consideration of the further supplement to the act to incorporate Erie city, and the same was ordered to be placed on Private Calendar for to-morrow.

Mr. WOLF presented "An Act to repeal so much of the act of May 8th, 1854, as authorizes the appointment of county superintendents of common schools, so far as the same relates to York county."

Mr. ROSE moved that the Committee on Railroads be discharged from the further consideration of the act relative to the Mercer and New Castle railroad company, and that the same be placed on the Private Calendar for to-morrow; which was agreed to.

Mr. GOOD moved that the House resume the consideration of the act relative to the borough of Alleutown, when Mr. CHASE called for the orders of the day.

Mr. FOSTER, having obtained leave from Mr. CHASE, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed, Senate bill No. 54, "An Act relating to certain school tax, in Jefferson county;" which, on motion of Mr. WILCOX, was ordered to be placed on the Private Calendar for to-morrow.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) leave also being given him, from the Committee on Banks, reported, as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Dimess savings institution of Harrisburg;" and, on his motion, was taken up and passed its several readings; when, on motion of Mr. GRIT-

MAN, its further consideration was postponed for the present.

Mr. NILL here rose to a question of privilege. He moved that the vote by which joint resolution, relative to the final adjournment of the Legislature, passed the House a few days since, be re-considered.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

A motion was made by Mr. GRITMAN, that the further consideration of the motion to re-consider be postponed for the present.

Mr. ROSE moved to amend by postponing indefinitely; which was not agreed to; and the question being taken to postpone for the present, it was likewise not agreed to.

The question now recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to re-consider?

It was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. THORN moved that the House do now adjourn.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. NILL and Mr. GRITMAN, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Barnsley, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Campbell, Evans, Fisher, Goepp, Green, Gritman, Harding, Keneagy, Ketchum, Laird, McDowell, Miller, Price, Smead, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Sizer, Thorn, Warden, Woodring and Lawrence, Speaker—25

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Balliet, Barlow, Bayard, Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Fearon, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Gold, Graham, Gratz, Hamersly, Hottenstine, Jackson, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mahaffey, McCurdy, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Peirce, Pughe, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smith, (Berks,) Stoneback, Taylor, Thompson, Wagonseller, Walker, Witman, Wilcox, Williams, (Bedford,) Wolf and Zoller—53.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring on the final passage of said resolution,

On motion of Mr. NILL, the House resolved itself into committee of the whole, (Mr. KETCHUM in the Chair,) for the purpose of special amendment; to fix upon Friday, the 25th day of March, instead of Tuesday the 15th, for the final adjournment; which passed committee of the whole.

The SPEAKER resumed the Chair.

And the question again recurring,

Shall the resolution pass?

Mr. GRITMAN was opposed to the bill as amended. The 15th day of March had already been fixed upon for adjournment, and before that date there would be considerable time—enough, perhaps, for the transaction of all business. True, it might become necessary for the House to extend its session, but this should not be done until it was sufficiently apparent that the extension was necessary.

Mr. NILL favored short sessions as much as any one, but was satisfied that the House would not be able to adjourn on the 15th of March.—He would be willing, if necessary, to hold morning, afternoon and evening sessions. The Senate would concur in the amendment to adjourn on the 25th.

Mr. ROSE wished to know whether the gentleman was certain of this.

Mr. NILL replied that he thought they would.

Mr. ROSE hoped that the House would vote down the amendment.

Pending the question on the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. MILLER moved to adjourn.

Agreed to—yeas 48, nays 31.

A message was received from the Governor, informing the House that he had approved and signed the following:

"An Act to confer on James Morrison, of Washington county, all the rights and privileges of a child born in lawful wedlock."

"An Act to extend the limits of the borough of Pottsville, Pa."

"Supplement to an act authorizing the Governor to incorporate the Norristown and King of Prussia turnpike road company."

Also, a message transmitting the annual report of the inspectors of the Western Penitentiary of Pennsylvania, for 1858.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the annual report of the Strasburg railroad company.

SENATE AMENDMENTS

To House bill relative to elections in Somerset county, were read, and on motion of Mr. WALKER, concurred in.

House adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock, A. M.

CALENDAR OF PRIVATE BILLS.

FOR

TUESDAY, MARCH 1, 1859.

No. 374. "An Act to incorporate the Lewisburg, Selinsgrove and Philadelphia railroad company."

Sen. 6. "An Act to incorporate the Towanda water company."

No. 379. "An Act relative to taxing dogs in West Nottingham township, Chester county."

No. 381. "An Act for the relief of George D. Boyer, former treasurer of Schuylkill county."

No. 382. "An Act to adjust the account of F. Knox Morton, late treasurer of the city and county of Philadelphia."

No. 383. "An Act to provide for the collection of additional taxes in the township of Bingham, in the county of Potter."

No. 386. "An Act to liquidate the amount due on a certain judgment and to enforce the collection of the same."

No. 387. "An Act relative to foreign insurance companies in the county of Erie."

No. 388. "An Act relative to the perpetuating of testimony in certain cases."

No. 390. "An Act annexing the borough of Leesburg, in Mercer county, to the township of Springfield, in said county, for school purposes."

No. 392. "An Act to divide the township of Wilkesbairre, in Luzerne county, into two wards."

No. 397. "An Act to incorporate the Media Bank."

No. 398. "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Monot Joy savings institution, approved 13th day of May, 1856."

No. 399. "A supplement to the act incorporating the Mutual fire insurance company of Sinking Springs, Berks county."

No. 400. "An Act incorporating the Bald Eagle boom company in Clinton county."

No. 402. "An Act to incorporate Fall Brook railroad and coal company."

No. 403. "A supplement to an act incorporating the Sancona iron company."

No. 404. "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Reading railroad."

No. 405. "Supplement to the act to incorporate the Fairmount and Arch Street City passenger railway company."

No. 406. "A supplement to an act incorporating the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company."

No. 411. "An Act changing the name of Prescott Packard Peck."

No. 412. "An Act relating to the records of Union county."

No. 413. "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Allentown railroad company, passed 19th day of April, 1853."

No. 415. "An Act authorizing the school directors of the borough of Auburn, in the county of Schuylkill, to borrow money."

No. 429. "An Act exempting boats, barges and rafts from toll on the Youghiogheny river."

No. 430. "An Act repealing an act relative to licenses on vehicles in the cities of Pittsburg and Allegheny, and the boroughs thereto adjoining."

No. 431. "An Act to authorize A. H. MoHenry, guardian of minor children of the late Thomas Babb, to invest certain moneys belonging to such minor children in real estate."

No. 436. "An Act to provide for the recording of a plot in the town of Ridgway, Elk county."

No. 437. "An Act to abolish the office of sealer of weights and measures in Clearfield county."

Sen. 222. "An Act relative to the township of Crayle, in the county of Cambria."

Sen. 220. "A supplement to an act authorizing the appointment of an auctioneer in the borough and township of Wilkesbarre, Luzerne county, approved the 5th day of March, 1858."

No. 446. "A farther supplement to the act consolidating the city of Philadelphia."

No. 128. "An Act to authorize the citizens of Butler township, Schuylkill county, hereafter to elect but one supervisor."

No. 271. "An Act to confer on Henry Broderick, of Carbon county, the rights and privileges of a child born in lawful wedlock."

No. 198. "An Act relating to trustees of Farmers' high school of Pennsylvania."

No. 450. "A further supplement to an act in addition to an act relative to the borough of Scranton."

No. 451. "An Act to authorize the election of two additional supervisors in Washington and Richhill township, Greene county."

No. 452. "An Act conferring upon Sarah Ann, Melissa, Warren B., Nancy, Ellen and Nicholas D. Evans, minor children of David C. Evans, deceased, and Catharine Evans, all the rights of children born in lawful wedlock."

No. 518. "An Act to divide the township of Quincy, in the county of Franklin, into three districts, for the election of supervisors."

No. 519. "An Act erecting a certain part of Middlesex township, in Butler county, into an independent school district."

No. 521. "An Act to incorporate the Boatman's life, stock and fire insurance annuity and trust company."

No. 523. "An Act supplementary to an act relating to roads, highways and bridges, in the counties of Warren, Venango and McKean, approved 9th of April, 1844."

No. 524. "An Act to make George William Eshleman, an heir of J. Middleton Whitehill and his wife, Elizabeth S. Whitehill, and to confer on him the name of George William Whitehill."

No. 525. "An Act to incorporate the Boatman's insurance company."

OBJECTED BILLS.

No. 269. "An Act erecting the county of Pine, out of parts of the counties of Indiana, Jefferson, Cambria and Clearfield."

No. 274. "An Act relative to passenger railway companies in the city of Philadelphia."

No. 294. "An Act to provide for the erection of a new county, out of parts of Washington, Westmoreland and Fayette counties, to be called Monongahela."

No. 326. "An Act to incorporate the Fairmount market company."

No. 329. "An Act to incorporate the Union market company of Philadelphia."

No. 371. "An Act to incorporate the Citizens' passenger railway company of the city of Pittsburg."

No. 343.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

CHASE, Ways and Means—Feb. 12.

[AS PASSED COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.]

AN ACT to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Government, and other general and special appropriations.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the following sums be, and the same are hereby specifically appropriated to the several objects hereinafter mentioned, for the year commencing on the first day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, to be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 2. For the salary of the Governor of the Commonwealth, four thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, two thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, one thousand four hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Auditor General, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, two thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Surveyor General, one thousand six hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Attorney General, three thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Adjutant General, six hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Superintendent of Common Schools, one thousand seven hundred dollars.

For the salary of the State Librarian, eight hundred dollars.

For the salary of the State Treasurer, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, one thousand seven hundred dollars: Provided, That the foregoing salaries shall be paid quarterly at the office of the State Treasurer.

SEC. 3. For clerk and messenger hire, in the Executive and State departments, six thousand dollars.

For contingent expenses in the Executive and State departments, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, one thousand seven hundred dollars; stationery, four hundred and fifty dollars; fuel and lights, one hundred and twenty-five dollars; cleaning offices, one hundred dollars; blank books, fifty dollars; repairs, fifty dollars; geological survey, freights and packages, one hundred and fifty dollars; new carpets in Executive chamber, two hundred dollars; miscellaneous expenses, one hundred and fifty dollars.

For clerk and messenger hire in the Auditor General's office, eight thousand one hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, five hundred dollars; stationery, three hundred and fifty dollars; fuel, seventy-five dollars; miscellaneous, seventy-five dollars.

For clerk and message hire in the Surveyor General's office, eight thousand seven hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage, four hundred dollars; stationery, two hundred dollars; fuel, seventy dollars; stove and repairs, sixty dollars; white-washing and scrubbing, fifty dollars; miscellaneous, fifty dollars.

For clerk hire in the Attorney General's office, eight hundred dollars; and hereafter the Attorney General shall be allowed eight hundred dollars annually for clerk hire.

For clerk and message hire in the school department, three thousand nine hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: stationery and blank books, three hundred and fifty dollars; postage, including telegraphic dispatches, one thousand two hundred dollars; fuel, light, and cleaning office, sixty dollars; packing and distributing blank forms, laws and decisions, reports, et cetera, to the several districts, six hundred dollars; miscellaneous, fifty dollars.

For clerks, messenger, and night-watch in the Treasurer's office, five thousand four hundred and fifty dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, four hundred and seventy-five dollars; express charges, one hundred dollars; stationery and blank books, two hundred and fifty dollars; fuel and light, seventy-five dollars; miscellaneous, one hundred and fifty dollars.

For miscellaneous expenses of the State Library as follows: repairing telescope, forty dollars; press for stamping, twenty-five dollars; making fires, sweeping, cleansing and white-washing, postage, freight, expenses of purchasing books, stationery, et cetera, three hundred dollars; miscellaneous books and newspapers, six hundred dollars; law books, English and Irish reports, elementary books and civil law, one thousand dollars; Pennsylvania Reports, for exchanges, three hundred and twenty dollars; binding, one hundred and fifty dollars; and assistant, one hundred and fifty dollars.

SEC. 4. For the payment of the expenses of the Legislature, including the pay and mileage of the members, clerks and officers thereof, and the amount authorized by law for stationery, newspapers and lights, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

SEC. 5. For packing and distributing the laws and journals of the Legislature, to be performed under the direction of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, seven hundred dollars.

SEC. 6. For the public printing, folding, stitching and binding, thirty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary on the settlement of the account of the contractor under his contract entered into in pursuance of the act approved the ninth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, entitled "An Act in relation to public printing."

SEC. 7. For the payment to the borough of Harrisburg, for supplying the public buildings with water, as per act of twenty-eighth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty, six hundred dollars.

For payment to the Harrisburg gas company, for gas for public buildings and walks, two thousand dollars, or so much thereof as shall be found due by the Auditor General, under the contract with the company, in pursuance of the charter of said company and its supplement, to be paid on the warrant of the Governor.

SEC. 8. For miscellaneous expenses, to be accounted for in the usual manner, three thousand dollars.

SEC. 9. For the support of the common schools, to be paid on warrants drawn by the superintendent in favor of the several school districts of the Commonwealth, in proportion to the number of resident taxables therein, two hundred and eighty thousand dollars.

SEC. 10. For the payment of pensions and gratuities, ten thousand dollars.

SEC. 11. For the payment of the salaries and per diem allowance of the judges of the supreme court, eighteen thousand seven hundred dollars.

SEC. 12. For the payment of the salaries of the judges of the district court, and the president and associate law judges of the court of common pleas of the city of Philadelphia, sixteen thousand eight hundred dollars.

SEC. 13. For the payment of the salaries of the judges of the district court, and president judge of the court of common pleas of Allegheny county, eight thousand four hundred dollars.

SEC. 14. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the president and associate law judges of the several courts of common pleas in this Commonwealth, except in the city of Philadelphia and the county of Allegheny, fifty-five thousand dollars.

SEC. 15. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the associate judges of the several courts of this Commonwealth, twenty-five thousand dollars.

SEC. 16. For the payment of the interest on the funded debt of the Commonwealth, that will fall due on the first days of July and August next, and the first days of January and February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two millions of dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

SEC. 17. For the payment of the guaranty of interest for the Danville and Pottsville railroad company, by the act of the eighth of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, and the act of twelfth April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, eight thousand five hundred and seventeen dollars and fifty cents, being the interest in full, on said guaranty, up to the first day of August, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine; to the Bald Eagle and Spring Creek navigation company, by the act of seventh April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, ten thousand dollars: Provided however, That said companies are hereby required to make it appear satisfactorily to the Attorney General that the said appropriations are due from the Commonwealth; and it shall be the duty of the Attorney General so to certify to the treasurer before any of the moneys herein appropriated are paid.

SEC. 18. For the payment of the salaries of the officers of the Western penitentiary, ten thousand one hundred and fifty dollars; also, for gratuities paid to discharged convicts for the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, agreeably to the eighth section of the act of twenty-second of April, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-nine, and the several supplements thereto, three hundred and eight dollars; and for paying in front of the prison, under the compulsory paving law of Allegheny city, the further sum of three thousand one hundred and eighteen dollars.

SEC. 19. For the payment of the salaries of the officers of the Eastern penitentiary, twelve thousand eight hundred and ninety-five dollars; which sum may be drawn from the treasury in equal quarterly portions, on or after the fifteenth day of the months of June, September and December of the present year, and March of next year.

SEC. 20. For the house of refuge of Philadelphia, the sum of twenty thousand dollars.

SEC. 21. For the house of refuge of Western Pennsylvania, in the county of Allegheny, eighteen thousand and five hundred dollars, to be applied as follows: for the salaries of officers, eight thousand and five hundred dollars; additions and repairs, four thousand dollars; and for the payment of debts, six thousand dollars.

SEC. 22. For the Western Pennsylvania hospital, five thousand dollars; and for the purpose of erecting suitable buildings, the further sum of twenty thousand dollars, to be paid to said institution upon a bond being executed to the Commonwealth in said sum, with security to be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, conditioned for the full erection and completion of said buildings without further aid from the Commonwealth.

SEC. 23. For the Pennsylvania State Innatic hospital, the sum of twenty thousand dollars; to be applied to the payment of salaries, the support of the house, the renewal of furniture and fixtures, and to such repairs and improvements as may be required: Provided however, That no part of the money appropriated in this section, except the salaries of its officers, shall be paid unless the accounts of repairs and expenses be found correct by the Auditor General.

SEC. 24. For the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the blind, twenty-two thousand dollars.

SEC. 25. For the instruction of indigent pupils in the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the deaf and dumb, twenty-three thousand dollars: Provided, That the sums appropriated for the instruction of the blind, and deaf and dumb, shall be paid to said institutions, in proportion to the number of indigent pupils received by each, from the several counties of this Commonwealth, at the rates prescribed by law; evidence of the number of pupils to be furnished to the State Treasurer.

SEC. 26. For the Pennsylvania training school for feeble minded children, such amount as said institution may be entitled to receive under the provisions of the sixth section of the act incorporating said school, approved the seventh of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three; and for the purpose of completing the buildings now in progress, the further sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, to be paid to said institution upon a bond being executed to the Commonwealth in said sum, with security, to be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, conditioned for the full completion of said buildings without further aid from the Commonwealth.

SEC. 27. For the Northern Home for friendless children, five thousand dollars: Provided, that the said Northern Home for friendless children shall be subject to the provisions contained in the third section of an act, entitled "A supplement to an act to incorporate the subscribers to the articles of association, for the purpose of establishing and conducting an institution for the confinement and reformation of youthful delinquents, under the title of the House of Refuge," approved March twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six.

SEC. 28. For the Penn Asylum for indigent widows and single women, five thousand dollars.

SEC. 29. For the Howard Institution, under the care of an association of women Friends of Philadelphia, one thousand dollars.

SEC. 30. For Passavant's Pittsburg Infirmary two thousand five hundred dollars; and for the Mercy Hospital, at Pittsburg, two thousand five hundred dollars.

SEC. 31. For the Orphans' Home, at Zelienople, one thousand dollars.

SEC. 32. For the salary of the superintendent of the public printing, eight hundred dollars.

SEC. 33. To Richard J. Haldeman, publisher of the Legislative Record, compensation at the rate of seven dollars per page, for the numbers published at the present session, the amount to be certified as due by the committee on printing of both Houses, and that the fortieth section of an act, entitled "An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of government and other general and special appropriations," approved twenty-first April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, so far as it relates to the continuance of the contract, for the printing of a Legislative Record, with R. J. Haldeman, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SEC. 34. To each of the fire companies of Harrisburg, now organized and in operation, one hundred dollars.

SEC. 35. For the preservation and repairs of the capitol, and improvement of the public grounds, inclusive of the compensation of the superintendent and watchman of the public buildings and grounds, the sum of three thousand dollars: Provided, That all moneys expended and contracts made, shall be at the direction and under the authority of the Secretary of State and the Auditor General.

SEC. 36. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay John A. Small, for services rendered the House of Representatives, the same compensation now allowed by law for an assistant clerk; and for services performed during the last recess, in arranging the papers of last session, et cetera, and for the same services to be performed during the next recess, the further sum of three hundred dollars.

SEC. 37. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, the amounts necessary to pay the pages and folders employed during the present session, at the rate of one dollar per day each, for the time the Legislature is in session, and the further sum of ten dollars each to said pages and folders.

SEC. 38. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay Samuel McDonnell and John D. Reese, assistant door-keepers, for extra services after night, in and about the Hall, during the present session, one hundred dollars each.

SEC. 39. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay George Manley, at the rate of one dollar and fifty cents per day, for services in cleansing and keeping in order the out-building of the two houses; the actual number of days employed, to be certified to by the Clerk of the House.

SEC. 40. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay Alvin Day nineteen dollars and twenty-five cents, being the amount of a check drawn by the State Treasurer on the Bank of Pennsylvania, in May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and dishonored by said bank.

SEC. 41. For transcribing for committees of ways and means, to be paid on the order of the chairman, twenty dollars.

SEC. 42. For postage and stationery used in the office of the late Attorney General, sixty-seven dollars and fifty-nine cents.

SEC. 43. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the chief clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, for the expense of indexing journals, one hundred and twenty-five dollars each; and also the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars to Jacob Ziegler, the late clerk of the House of Representatives, for indexing the journals for the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

SEC. 44. For the payment of salaries of tonnage agents in full to June first, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, twelve hundred dollars.

SEC. 45. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the officers of the Senate and House of Representatives, except the Speakers, the following additional compensation for services rendered during the present session: To the chief clerks and assistant clerks, each one hundred dollars; to the bill, message, journal, comparing and transcribing clerks, each seventy-five dollars; to the sergeant-at-arms, messenger, door-keeper and post-master, and their assistants, fifty dollars: Provided, That the assistant officers of the House, named by the principal at the first of the session, shall be included in the above.

No. 212.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

NILL, Judiciary—Feb. 4.

AN Act to abolish the board of revenue commissioners.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That all laws of the State authorizing the appointment of revenue commissioners be and the same are hereby repealed.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 43.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, March 1, 1859.

The Senate met at the usual hour.
Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. De Witt.
The Journal was read and approved.
Messrs. BELL and SCHELL appeared in their seats.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, &C.

Mr. PALMER presented two petitions of citizens of the South ward of Schuylkill Haven, for a change in the place of holding their elections.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of the borough of Schuylkill Haven, against any further legislation relative to said borough.

Also, a petition of citizens of Schuylkill county, for a law for the better securing of the payment of the wages of labor in said county.

Also, the memorial of Edward Bayer, in relation to the Wellsboro' and Tioga plank road company.

On motion of Mr. PALMER, this memorial was ordered to be printed in the Record. It is as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

WHEREAS, The undersigned has been informed that divers petitions have been circulated and presented to your Honorable Bodies, asking for a repeal of certain supplements to an act to incorporate the Wellsborough and Tioga plank road company—one approved the 29th day of March, 1856, and one approved the 19th day of April, 1858; and having invested a large amount of money under the provisions of said acts, your memorialist begs leave respectfully to call the attention of your Honorable Bodies to the following facts in relation to said company, and his connection therewith: Sometime after said company became organized, they desiring to borrow some money to assist in completing and repairing said road, an act was passed the 17th day of March, 1853, among other things, to authorize said company to borrow a sum of money not exceeding ten thousand dollars; and to secure the payment of the amount so borrowed, to execute and deliver to the lenders a mortgage upon said road, and the income thereof, and upon the corporate rights and franchises of said company, in such form and manner, that, upon sale of the same, under said mortgage, for default of payment of principal or interest, according to the tenor of said mortgage, the said road and the franchises of said company should be as fully vested in the purchaser thereof, as if he, she, or they, had been the original corporators; and from thenceforth all the provisions of the act of incorporation of said company, with the corporate powers conferred, and the several laws in relation thereto should be for the benefit of the said purchasers; and that in case of failure of the said company to pay the money secured by said mortgage as the sum should become due, that the mortgage might be foreclosed by scire facias, &c., in the same manner as authorized in other cases.

Under the provisions of said act, the said company afterwards borrowed about nine thousand dollars, and gave a mortgage to secure the payment of the same, and went on and completed said road, and kept it in repair for some time; but some lumber drawers, having procured large strong wagons, with narrow tire to the wheels, with three or more horses to a team, drew such heavy loads of lumber over said road as to cut, break, and so much injure the plank of said road, that, for the protection of said company, the Legislature passed the act of the 24th of February, A. D., 1854, the last section of which authorized the company to charge double toll for all loads of more than two thousand feet of white pine lumber, or other loading of greater weight than forty-five hundred pounds. This act failing to remedy the evil, the Legislature passed the first supplement complained of, of the 29th of March, 1856, which authorized the company to cover the plank of said road with gravel or other hard substance, in lieu of replanking the same; and that in lieu of the tolls then chargeable for teams drawing sawed lumber or boards over said road, said company was authorized to charge at the rate of two cents per mile, per thousand feet, for such lumber. But the additional toll did not prevent nor compensate for the drawing such excessive loads over said road, and the road became so much injured thereby, and out of repair, before the company could procure money to repair it, that on or about the 8th day of December, 1857, on an application to the court of common pleas of Tioga county and hearing, an injunction was granted to prohibit the said company from collecting toll on about eleven miles of said road, so out of repair. In the summer following, the company repaired about one mile of said road, and got the injunction removed from that part; which enabled them to collect toll on about seven miles of the southwest portion of said road; and having become satisfied that they could not afford to repair the other portion towards Tioga, over which such excessive loads were hauled, unless they could make a common turnpike road of it, an application was made to the Legislature on behalf of the said company; and on the 19th day of April, 1858, the last supplement complained of was passed; which authorized said company to change said road into a clay, gravel or turnpike road, at such places as the managers of said road might see proper. After this time, the holders of the said mortgage, having obtained a judgment for said borrowed money, caused said road, &c., to be advertised and sold by the sheriff, on or about the 10th day of June, 1858, on a writ issued on said judgment; and your memorialist, holding two thousand dollars of the stock of said company, which he wished to save, if possible, and believing that under the existing laws he could afford to make a good road, and keep it in repair, became the purchaser of said road and the franchises of said company, for the sum of three thousand dollars. At that time (although the most favorable time in the season) said road, throughout its whole length, (about seventeen miles,) was much out of repair, and in some places almost impassable; but your memorialist, without delay, employed a large number of men and teams, and caused said road to be so well repaired, that on or about the 20th day of August, 1858, after a hearing, said injunction was removed or dissolved. Still your memorialist kept a large number of men and teams on said road until late last fall; and caused it to be thrown up and graded its whole distance from Tioga to Wellsborough, (except about three miles, which is planked,) and expended in so doing over seven thousand dollars; making the whole amount he has invested in said road, over twelve thousand dollars, besides interest. That he caused said road to be covered with good gravel, wherever the managers of said road deemed it necessary to make a good and permanent road; and that said road continued in good traveling order and repair until the rains last fall, when, in consequence of the repairs having been made so recently and not well settled, and the alternate freezing and thawing without snow, and the drawing of heavy loads over said road in wet weather, it became some rough. And your memorialist directed the toll gatherers on the same to take no more tolls until said road should be in again good condition; and since that time the public have traveled said road most of the time free of toll. And your memorialist respectfully submits, that he has done all he could in the premises since he became the purchaser of said road; and intends to continue to improve the same with the proper materials, and keep it in such good condition and repairs, that, if possible, even the enemies of said road shall become its friends, and view it as a great benefit to the public.

And while your memorialist courts the closest investigation in relation to the management of said road since he became the purchaser, he further respectfully submits to your Honorable Bodies, that having purchased said road in good faith, and expended so large a sum of money under existing laws relating to said road, that none of them ought to be repealed, or materially modified, until sufficient time has elapsed to test the qualities of said road, and the material used in its construction; and that no work of that character and magnitude can be perfectly accomplished in so short a period of time as elapsed after his purchase of said road, and before the weather naturally interfered with the work upon it. But that if any change is made in existing laws relating to this road, that change should be such as to protect the interest of your memorialist in the premises; and that a rate of toll ought to be authorized, or judicious restraint imposed, as will prevent further needless damage to said road by ill disposed persons, who, regardless of their own interests, and the interest of the public, with intent to injure said road, cause excessive loads upon narrow tired wagons to be drawn over the same, whenever they think it may be most injured thereby.— And having thus briefly submitted the facts in relation to said road, and his connection therewith, your memorialist would hereby ask, that if any action is taken by your Honorable Bodies in relation to said road, that it shall be such as your wisdom may dictate, after a full review of the premises; and he firmly believes such action will do justice to him, and protect his rights in relation to said road.

EDWARD BAYER.

Tioga County, ss:

Horace S. Johnston, of Tioga, in the county of Tioga and State of Pennsylvania, being duly sworn, says that he has been the principal manager on the Wellsborough and Tioga plank road since the 10th day of June last, and that the statements made in the forgoing memorial are true as he verily believes.

H. S. JOHNSTON.

Sworn and subscribed before me, this 14th day of February, A. D. 1859.

C. H. PLACE, Justice of the Peace.

Mr. YARDLEY, a petition signed by 107 citizens of this Commonwealth, for the passage of a law authorizing the appointment of a measurer of paving-stones.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Bucks county, against the passage of House bill No. 187, entitled "An Act to incorporate the Delaware Division canal company."

Mr. SCHELL, four remonstrances signed by citizens of Huntingdon county, against any change in the tax laws in said county, and against any extension of the term of the county treasurer.

Also, three remonstrances signed by three hundred and seventeen citizens of Bedford county, against the annexation of Middle Woodbury township, in said county, to Blair county.

Also, the petition of citizens of Huntingdon county, praying for the passage of a law authorizing the division line between Mifflin and Huntingdon counties, to be properly ascertained and distinctly marked on the ground.

Also, the petition of citizens of Huntingdon county, praying for the passage of a law to prohibit the killing of wild turkeys at certain seasons, in said county.

Also, the petition of citizens of the same county, in favor of the act to provide a more effectual and economical mode of collecting State and county taxes in said county, and for extending the term of county treasurer.

Mr. KELLER, the petition of the officers of the Bank of Danville, praying for the passage of a law making it obligatory upon the banks of this Commonwealth to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Mr. TURNEY, four remonstrances of citizens of Westmoreland county, against the abolition of the office of county superintendent of common schools.

Also, the petition of citizens of Donegal township, in the same county, in favor of the same, or allowing the people to decide by a vote.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, together with Indiana, Cambria and Somerset, asking for the establishment of a new county, out of parts of said counties, to be called Ligonier.

Mr. NUNEMACHER, four petitions from citizens of Berks county, praying for an act to incorporate the Douglassville and Yellow House turnpike road company.

Also, two petitions of citizens of the same county, praying for the passage of a law requiring the city of Reading to pay the fees for arresting vagrants in said city.

Also, a petition from citizens of the same county, in favor of the abolition of the office of sealer of weights and measures, so far as the same relates to said county.

Mr. BREWER, three remonstrances of citizens of Franklin county, against the passage of a law requiring the owners of stallions to take out a license.

Also, three remonstrances of citizens of the same county, against the passage of a law taxing dogs in said county.

Mr. WELSH, a remonstrance of citizens of York county, against the passage of any law changing the present mode of collecting taxes in said county.

Also, a petition of citizens of Hanover and vicinity, in the same county, praying for the passage of an act to incorporate the Hanover gas light company.

Also, a petition of Henry Wilton, of the borough of Wrightsville, York county, praying that a portion of his farm may be annexed to Hellam township, in said county.

Mr. PENNEY, two petitions of citizens of Pittsburg, in favor of an act abolishing the high school of said city.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of the city of Pittsburg, against the same.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Philadelphia, against the supplement to the Germantown passenger railway company.

Also, a remonstrance of two hundred citizens of Birmingham, against the passage of a supplement to the act incorporating the borough of South Pittsburg.

Mr. STEELE, two petitions signed by a large number of citizens of Luzerne county, in favor of Wilkesbarre township being divided into two election districts.

Mr. FETTER, a petition numerously signed by citizens of Perry and Juniata counties, praying for the passage of a law incorporating the Northumberland and Juniata railroad company.

Mr. WRIGHT, the memorial of Thomas W. Duffield and others, citizens of Frankford, in the county of Philadelphia, for the passage of an act securing free travel on certain highways to the people of the rural districts.

Also, three petitions numerously signed by citizens of Frankford and vicinity, praying for a modification of the Sunday laws.

Messrs. MARSELIS and RANDALL, petitions of like import.

Mr. WRIGHT, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, living along the line of the Germantown passenger railway, praying for the repeal of the charter of the same.

Mr. SCOFIELD, a petition of citizens of Sheffield township, praying for power to levy additional road tax.

Mr. COFFEY, a remonstrance of citizens of Carlisle, Clarion county, against any change in their borough laws.

Mr. FRANCIS, a petition of citizens of Lawrence county, praying that a portion of the school tax may be allowed for the support of the German school.

Mr. BLOOD, a petition of citizens of Brookville, Jefferson county, praying that certain lands may be attached to said borough.

Mr. MYER, a petition of citizens living near the line of the Williamsport and Elmira railroad, praying that said road be fenced, to prevent the destruction of property.

Also, a petition of David R. Cole and Betsy Cole, his wife, praying that Edith T. Greeno may be made their legal heir and adopted child.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. NUNEMACHER, (Roads and Bridges,) reported as committed, "An Act declaring Potts Run, in Clearfield county, a public highway."

Mr. FETTER, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 318, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Johnstown and Scalp Level turnpike road company."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Hartsville and Centreville turnpike road company."

Mr. THOMPSON, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Belmont Avenue plank road company."

Mr. BALDWIN, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 341, "An Act relative to Whitney street, in the city of Philadelphia."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Lancaster and Sun Hill turnpike road company."

Mr. FRANCIS, from the Committee to Compare Bill, made a report.

Mr. WRIGHT, from the select committee appointed on the part of the Senate, to attend the funeral of Hon. GEORGE W. WOOD, late a member of the House of Representatives, made a report; which is as follows:

That in conjunction with a similar committee on the part of the House of Representatives, they have performed, in accordance with the instructions of the two Houses, that solemn duty; their labors terminating with the consignment to the tomb of all that was mortal of their late associate and fellow member.

RICHARDSON L. WRIGHT,
BARTRAM A. SHAEFFER,
J. N. MARSELIS,
JOHN P. PENNEY,
MAHLON YARDLEY.

Laid on the table.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. SCOFIELD read in his place and presented to the chair, a bill, entitled "An Act authorizing Walter J. Smith to construct a ferry across the Allegheny river, at Warren."

Mr. HARRIS, "A supplement to an act laying out a road from New Castle, Lawrence county, to Emlenton, Venango county."

Mr. MARSELIS, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Commercial insurance company."

Mr. GAZZAM, "An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Pittsburg telegraph company."

Mr. RANDALL, "An Act for the extension of Lehman street, in the Twenty-second ward of the city of Philadelphia."

Mr. YARDLEY, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Trenton City bridge company."

Mr. SCHELL, "An Act authorizing the inspectors of prisons to let the labor of convicts by contract."

Mr. BLOOD, "An Act attaching certain lands to Brookville, Jefferson county."

Mr. PENNEY, "An Act to incorporate the Pittsburg, Allegheny and Manchester passenger railway company."

Mr. BELL, "An Act relating to evidence,"

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. HARRIS offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That when the Senate adjourns, it adjourns to meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and continue in session until 5 o'clock, for the purpose of considering private bills.

Objections being made by different Senators to the resolution, on account of the usual sessions of committees on Tuesday afternoons,

Mr. HARRIS moved to amend, by providing for a session this evening, from 7 to 9 o'clock, whereupon,

Mr. SHAEFFER moved to postpone the consideration of the resolution and amendment indefinitely.

On which motion the yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAEFFER, and Mr. HARRIS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Brewer, Coffey, Craig, Francis, Gazzam, Marselis, Penney, Schell, Shaeffer, Schindel, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—15.

NAYS.—Messrs. Blood, Fetter, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Nunemacher, Parker, Randall, Rutherford, Scofield, Steele, Thompson, Turney and Yardley—14.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILL CONSIDERED.

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, the Senate proceeded to consider House bill, No. 161, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Buffalo and Bradford railroad company," which, after being slightly amended, on motion of the same Senator, passed finally.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

House bill, No. 241, entitled "An Act to provide for the education of certain common school teachers in a school in connection with Westminster college, New Wilmington, Lawrence county," came up in order on third reading.

On its final passage the yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNEY and Mr. FRANCIS, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Blood, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Scofield, Schindel, Steele and Thompson—17.

NAYS.—Messrs. Brewer, Marselis, Nuncmacher, Schell, Shaeffer, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—9.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senate bill No. 267, "An Act relative to the banks of this commonwealth, and to prevent frauds by bank officers," came up in order on second reading, as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That after the passage of this act, no bank within this Commonwealth, or any officer thereof, shall make any loan or discount, directly or indirectly, unless said loan or discount shall have been allowed or directed by the board of directors of said bank, at a regular meeting of said board; and a majority of the whole number of directors of said bank, shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of loan or discount business.

SEC. 2. The said board shall keep regular and full minutes of each meeting of said board, on which shall be entered all loans made at that meeting, and all discounts allowed; and no loan made, or bill or note discounted, shall be recoverable by law, unless said loan, bill or note shall be regularly entered as allowed on the minutes of the meeting at which said loan was made, or such bill or note was discounted: Provided, That if any board of directors of any bank, shall deem it expedient to allow the president, between the meetings of the board, to make temporary loans, or allow discounts, in case of exigency, they shall have the power to appropriate a certain sum to be used by him for that purpose: Provided further, That at such meeting of the board of directors, the president shall make an accurate report in detail to the board of all such loans made by him, or discounts allowed since the last preceding meeting of the board, showing each loan or discount, to whom lent or allowed, what amount, upon what time and upon what security, which said loans or discounts shall be entered upon the minutes of the board; and no loan made, or bill or note discounted, shall be recoverable by law, unless the same be entered regularly upon the said minutes, at the next succeeding meeting of the board, after such loan made, or discount allowed: And provided further, That in no case, shall the president use for temporary loan or discount, a greater amount than that previously appropriated by the board, and no appropriation shall extend beyond the meeting of the board: And provided further, That the board of directors shall meet at least once in every two weeks.

SEC. 3. No money or funds of the bank shall be used or expended for any purpose whatsoever, unless the same shall have been previously appropriated at a regular meeting of the board of directors.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the president and cashier of every bank within this Commonwealth, to present to the board of directors of said bank, at every meeting of said board, a true and accurate account in detail, prepared by themselves, or under their supervision, of all expenditures of money of said bank since the last preceding meeting of said board; which said account shall be verified by the oaths or affirmations of said president or cashier, (taken before any alderman or justice of the peace of the city or county where such bank is located,) if required by any three of said directors.

SEC. 5. If any president, cashier, director, or any other officer of any bank within this Commonwealth, shall violate or neglect to comply with the provisions of this act, he or they shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof before any court of quarter sessions of this Commonwealth, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, and to undergo an imprisonment at labor in the proper county jail, for any period not exceeding one year, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 6. If any president, cashier, director, or other officer, or clerk, or employec of any bank within this Commonwealth, shall fraudulently appropriate to his own use, or the use of any other person or persons, any money or other property belonging to said bank, or left with the same, as a special deposit or otherwise, he or they, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any amount not less than the sum so fraudulently appropriated, and sentenced to undergo imprisonment in the proper State penitentiary, to be kept in separate and solitary confinement at hard labor, for any term not exceeding five years; and it is hereby expressly provided, that bank notes, bills of exchange or credit, promissory notes, or coin may be laid in the bill of indictment, charging the offence against which this section is intended to provide under the general designation of money, and the property therein shall be sufficiently laid, if averred to be property of the said bank, whether the same be the absolute property of said bank, or have been left with the same as a special deposit or otherwise.

The first section being before the Senate.

Mr. GAZZAM moved that the bill be referred to the select committee already appointed on the subject of a general banking law.

Mr. BELL thought the whole subject of banking had been referred to a committee of seven, when the bill relative to the establishment of a general banking law was last before the Senate. It was his impression that the reference was designed to embrace all matters pertaining to the question, and in his opinion it was better that this bill should be so referred.

Mr. WRIGHT said that if the Senator from Chester would examine the subject, he would find that the bill referred to the special committee was entirely different from the one under consideration. The first proposed a change in our whole system of banking, while the other refers to existing banks. He thought the provisions of the bill wise and salutary, and he hoped the Senate would consider it and pass it now.

Mr. GAZZAM thought this bill was of sufficient importance to be referred as the other bill was. It was a matter requiring quite as much deliberation and attention, and he hoped the reference would be made.

Mr. WRIGHT remarked that the bill had been called up by the chairman of the Committee on Banks. It had been before that committee, had received their consideration and sanction, and he could see no reason why it should be taken out of their hands and referred to another committee. The Committee on Banks was as good as one as could be selected, and he saw no propriety in the reference asked for.

Mr. GAZZAM said his reason for wishing a reference was the similarity of the two bills. Both aim at a general reform of the banking law; and he wished to move a reference for the purpose of securing for the subject that attention and deliberation which its importance demands.

Mr. SCHELL was opposed to the reference. It was extremely doubtful whether the general banking law would pass at the present session; but there were banks already in operation to which the provisions of this bill are intended to apply.

Mr. FINNEY said his opposition to the bill was its incompatibility with a general free banking law. He was in favor of its reference as proposed, and briefly advocated the propriety of it.

Mr. SCOFIELD remarked that the effect of referring the bill was to destroy it. If Senators had heard the bill sufficiently discussed, and wished to destroy it, their plan was to vote to refer it. He was not well enough acquainted with its provisions to say how he would vote upon it, but the first section meets with his approbation. There could not be, so far as he saw, any possible objection urged against it, and he was in favor of meeting the whole question now.

Mr. MARSELIS advocated the importance of meeting the question at once. There was no reason why it should be evaded; and the motion to refer was an unfair means resorted to for the purpose of killing the bill.

Mr. GAZZAM said he had no desire to kill the bill of the Senator from Philadelphia, by indirection or otherwise. He had moved its reference simply because he thought its importance demanded it. He would, however, withdraw his motion, as the Senator seemed to consider it an unfair thrust at the bill.

The first section was agreed to.

The question being upon the second section,

Mr. SHAEFFER moved to amend by inserting the words "or cashier" after the word "president" wherever it occurs.

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. WELSH moved farther to amend by striking out all from the word "allowed," in the third line, to the word "discounted," in the sixth line inclusive.

Mr. BELL moved to amend the amendment by striking out all from the word "board" in the 15th line, to the word "allowed," in the eighteenth; which was accepted by Mr. WELSH.

Mr. GAZZAM briefly opposed the second section. The more the question was discussed, the more he was convinced that it requires a full and careful examination of each section, and the reference which he had proposed should be made.

Mr. PALMER also opposed the section. He thought the Senator from Philadelphia, (Mr. MARSELIS,) could not have considered the probable effects of the section, or he would not have offered it as a portion of his bill. No proposition had ever been submitted to the Legislature of Pennsylvania, so much calculated to exercise an injurious effect upon the business and commercial operations of the State. The proposition was so monstrous on its face, that he could not see how the idea of enacting it could be entertained for a moment.

Mr. WELSH thought that the provisions of the fifth section were sufficient to protect the interests of the public. If the section were adopted, its effect would be to cripple every banking institution in the State of Pennsylvania.

The amendment was agreed to; and the section, as amended, passed.

Sections three and four were adopted.

The fifth section being before the Senate, Mr. BELL moved to amend, by striking out in the sixth line, the words "and to undergo imprisonment at labor," and insert in lieu thereof, the words "and on default of payment, to undergo imprisonment;" and changing the words "one year" into the words "three months."

The amendments were agreed to; and the section, as amended, passed.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the sixth section?

Mr. BELL moved to amend the same, by striking out all after the sixth line, and in the same line inserting the word "double" before the word "the;" which was agreed to.

And on the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was determined in the negative.

The bill lies over, by request.

Mr. SCHINDEL, from the committee of conference to which was referred the differences between the two Houses in relation to the amendments to House bill No. 9, entitled "An Act to incorporate the Ironton railroad and mining company, in Lehigh county," made a report; which was read, considered and adopted.

They recommend that the House recede from its non-concurrence in the amendments made by the Senate to the first section of the bill; and also that the House recede from its non-concurrence in the amendments made by the Senate, by adding two new sections, Nos. ten and eleven, to said bill, and have agreed to recommend to the two Houses by amending the first section of the said bill by striking therefrom the word "and," in the seventh line, and by inserting after the words "Franklin P. Mickley," in the same line the words "Daniel Schadt, William Schadt, Thomas Lawbach, Daniel Steekel, D. J. Franklin Deshler, James Newhard, Paul Balliet and Stephen Balliet," and by inserting after the word "Fogelsville," in the thirteenth line, the words "or with the Lehigh Valley."

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented a message from the Governor; which was read, and is as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER.

Harrisburg, March 1, 1859.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—I have approved and signed the following Acts of the General Assembly, viz:

"An Act to incorporate the Mutual fire insurance company of Philadelphia."

"An Act declaring Knapp's Creek, in the county of McKean, a public highway."

"An Act to incorporate the Union cemetery association of the borough of Womelsdorf, Berks county."

"An Act relative to the election of the town council of the borough of West Greenville, Mercer county."

"An Act to incorporate the North West Portage railroad company."

"An Act relating to the fees of aldermen and constables in criminal and penal cases, in the city of Philadelphia, and to issuing process therein."

"An Act authorizing the commissioners of Somerset county to sell property owned and occupied for the use of the poor of said county."

"An Act to incorporate the Green Castle and Middleburg turnpike road company."

"An Act declaring Eliza N. Kramer, an adopted daughter of James Gray, of Sewickley."

"An Act to incorporate the Butler gas company."

"Joint resolution for the pay of Wm. E. Frazer as Canal Commissioner."

"An Act to incorporate the International Union of Art and Literature."

WM. F. PACKER.

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, the Senate proceeded to the consideration of a joint resolution providing for the payment of the expenses of the committees of the Senate and House of Representatives, appointed to attend the funeral of GEORGE W. WOOD.

Said resolution was twice read, considered and adopted.

On motion of Mr. SCHILL, the Senate insists upon its amendments to "An Act relative to elections in Somerset county," in which the House of Representatives has refused to concur, and a committee of conference ordered to be appointed.

On leave given, Mr. MYER read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act to incorporate the Towanda gas and water company."

Senate bill No. 113, "An Act relating to testamentary trustees," came up in order.

The first and only section being before the Senate,

Mr. RANDALL offered the following proviso:

Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize the court to appoint an additional trustee or trustees, except in the cases specified by the existing laws of this Commonwealth.

Pending the discussion of this bill, the hour of adjournment having nearly arrived, the SPEAKER requested Mr. BELL, who had the floor, to give way for the purpose of considering extracts from the Journal of the House, as follows:

Resolved, That (the Senate concurring,) House bill No. 118, entitled "An Act to incorporate Grove cemetery of New Brighton, Beaver county," (which bill has passed both Houses,) be amended by striking from the ninth section the words "and that said lands shall be exempt from taxation."

Said extract was twice read and considered; and on motion of Mr. HARRIS, concurred in.

The following extract was read:

That the House of Representatives has concurred in the resolution of the Senate requesting the House of Representatives to return bill, entitled "An Act for the election of an additional constable for the township of Brady's Bend in Armstrong county."

The bill being again before the Senate, Mr. COFFEY moved a re-consideration of the vote on the final passage of the bill, when the hour of one having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the Senate till 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, March 1, 1859.

The SPEAKER called the House to order at 9½ o'clock, A. M.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. C. A. Hay, of the English Lutheran church, Harrisburg, Pa.

The Journal of yesterday was read.

Mr. WAGONSELLER called up House bill No. 237, "An Act to authorize the Auditor General and State Treasurer to examine and report upon the claim of H. Rodearmel, &c.," which was passed and sent to Senate for concurrence.

On motion of Mr. M'CLURE, the act authorizing certified copies of records of insurance companies to be admitted as evidence, was re-committed to the Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. WILSON obtained the unanimous consent of the House to make certain amendments to the act incorporating Grove cemetery of New Brighton, Beaver county.

On motion of Mr. WALKER, the House agreed to re-consider the vote by which the House agreed to Senate amendments to the act relative to elections in Somerset county.

The question recurring,

Will the House concur in the Senate amendments?

It was determined in the negative.

On motion of Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) the Committee on Claims was discharged from the further consideration of the act, relative to the estate of James Rodgers, dec'd; and the same was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary System.

On motion of Mr. BRYSON, the House proceeded to the consideration of the act for the relief of Wm. Porter.

Mr. HAMERSLY wished to institute some inquiries as to the bill.

Mr. BRYSON said that the damages had never been paid; that the claim was a just one, and that the claimant was an old man, and justly entitled to the recompense which he asked.

Mr. WILSON said that it was well known that the canal company had refused to settle the claims against them.

The section was agreed to.

The title was read.

On the final passage of the bill,

Mr. NILL wished to know more of its character, and declared his intention to call the yeas and nays.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) said that the bill had been before the Committee on Claims, and that the same allegations had been then made as during this morning. The company had refused to pay claims against them, and this one had been hanging for a long time. The committee had passed in favor of the bill with great unanimity.

Mr. NILL wished to know whether the committee had not reported favorably on all bills which they had considered. He had heard of none having been offered with a negative recommendation.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) replied that he had himself reported a bill with a negative recommendation.

On the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. NILL and Mr. JACKSON, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Church, Dodds, Durhoraw, Eekman, Fearon, Fisher, Foster, Graham, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Keneagy, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Miller, Neall, Palm, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Quigley, Rose, Rouse, Shafer, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Thompson, Thorn, Wagonseller, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—56.

NAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Barlow, Bertolet, Brodhead, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Fleming, Glatz, Hill, Hottensine, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Nill, Ramsdell, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Styer, Wileox, Williams, (Bedford,) Wolf, Wood and Woodring.—27.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. WALBORN, on leave, from the Committee on Railroads, reported as committed, the following:

"Supplement to the act to incorporate the Western transportation company."

"Supplement to an act to incorporate the Pittsburg and Stenhenville railroad company;" which, on motion of Mr. IRISH, was taken up and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. EVANS, from the select committee appointed to attend the funeral of GEO. WOOD, late member of this House, made report that they had performed that duty.

Mr. GREEN, on leave, offered a joint resolution that the State Treasurer be authorized to pay to the chairman of the joint committee, $437.75, to defray the expenses incurred in draping the House in black; and the expenses incurred by the joint committee in attending the funeral of the late GEO. WOOD; which was adopted.

Mr. ROHRER moved that the House concur in the request made by the Senate, to return to that body the act providing for the election of an additional high constable in Brady's Bend, Armstrong county; which was agreed to.

Mr. NEALL moved that the consideration of Senate bill No. 150, "A further supplement to the act to consolidate the city of Philadelphia," be made the special order for next Thursday, immediately after the presentation of petitions, &c.; which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. WILSON, the House resolved itself into committee of the whole, (Mr. THOMPSON in the chair,) on House bill No. 362, "An Act relating to the granting of licenses to hotel, inn or tavern keepers."

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall be lawful for the several courts of quarter sessions of this Commonwealth, to hear petitions, in addition to that of the applicant in favor of, and remonstrances against the application of any person applying to either of them for a license to keep a hotel, inn or tavern; and, thereupon, to grant or refuse the same; and so much of the sixth section of the act of Assembly relating to the sale of intoxicating liquors, passed the twentieth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, as is inconsistent herewith, is hereby repealed: Provided, That nothing in this act shall apply to the city of Philadelphia.

Which passed committee of the whole.

The bill being before the House on second reading,

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) wished to enquire whether the act of 1858 did not amply provide for the granting of licenses.

Mr. WILSON said that this act was in the form of an explanatory law.

Mr. GOEPP said that the bill had been called up very unexpectedly, and might contain more in its provisions than appeared at first sight. In order that he might have an opportunity to examine it thoroughly, he would move to postpone for the present.

The motion was not agreed to.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) saw no great objection to the bill, as proposed, except that it was altogether a work of supererogation to pass it. The act of 1858 (which he then read) proved that courts had discretionary power in regard to giving licenses.

Mr. WILSON said that courts had no discretion, as had been evinced by decisions of Judges Pearson, Agnew and others. The bill before the House was one of the most important of the session. It could not be controverted that under the construction put upon the act of 1858, by the courts, many improper persons were allowed to sell liquor, and the community had suffered in proportion.

Mr. KINNEY did not understand the question at issue to involve the whole question of temperance or intemperance. Judges had said that they had no power to withhold licenses where the provisions of law had been complied with by the applicants, and it had, evidently, been the intention of the act of 1858 to restrict them to this extent. He should vote for the present act because it enlarged the authority of judges.

Mr. MILLER said that the intention of the act of 1858, had been to allow evidence to be heard, which would give the courts discretionary power in granting licenses; yet in the face of this, many of the courts had decided that they were limited to the inquiry whether the applicant was a citizen of the United States, and whether his application was supported by twelve responsible citizens. The present bill would be of utility in explaining, and he hoped that it would pass.

Mr. GOEPP regretted that the friends of the bill pressed it at this juncture, even supposing it to be perfectly harmless. The intention of the act of 1858 was apparent, but some of the courts had taken the ground that the act of 1834, giving them the right to determine whether the tavern was necessary, was not repealed. Others had assumed that it was only discretionary for them to inquire as to the personal qualifications of the applicant. The whole matter had been thoroughly debated last session, when the act passed, which had since received two such contradictory constructions.

But it did seem that too great discretionary power, as was proposed by the new act, should not be given to the courts. In cases where they had assumed it, under the act of 1858, the results might be left as they were, but it certainly was improper to extend their powers by express action of the Legislature. Portions of the new act were entirely unnecessary. The whole if it bestowed too great discretionary power on judges, and in fact rendered it possible for those who favored the temperance cause to refuse to issue licenses in their district. The act of 1858 had been designed to prevent the exhibition of any such arbitrary power, and to obtain justice for all. To pass the bill would be to effect a radical change, and where did the necessity exist for this change? Neither petition or remonstrance had been presented, and the act of 1858 seemed to have given general satisfaction. He trusted the bill would be voted down.

Mr. THORN wished to know whether the gentleman from Northampton had said that the bill of 1858 had been differently construed in different counties.

Mr. GOEPP replied that such was the fact.

Mr. THORN said that this certainly afforded an argument in favor of the bill inasmuch as it evinced the necessity for some uniform law on the subject. If, as was alleged, neither petition or remonstrance had been presented, the fact of the diversity of opinion among the judges should not be overlooked.

Mr. GOOD moved to amend, so as to embrace Philadelphia in the provisions of the bill.

Mr. THORN hoped that the gentleman was not serious.

Mr. GOOD said that as the gentleman favored the bill, Philadelphia ought certainly to reap a share of the benefit.

Mr. THORN said that the courts in Philadelphia had nothing to do with licenses.

Mr. FOSTER wished to know how many constructions the supreme court had put on the bill of 1858.

Mr. GOEPP did not doubt but that the act of 1858 might need some explanatory supplement; but the one proposed, explained it wrongly. The original intention of the bill had been to throw open to all who complied with the requirements of the law, the privilege of selling liquor.

Mr. GOOD withdrew his amendment.

Mr. GOEPP moved to amend by striking out all after the word "tavern," in the seventh line, and insert a proviso, as follows:

And provided further, That the discretion of the said courts, in the granting of said licenses, shall not extend to the question of the necessity for such hotel, inn or tavern, but shall be confined to the inquiry whether the applicant possesses the personal qualifications and has the accommodations required by law.

Mr. WILSON said that the act only sought to give judges the right to determine the proper qualifications of the venders of liquor. As the matter stood now, the courts, although nominally gifted with power, really possessed none. The application, under the present system, for a license, might as well be filed at once in the Clerk's office, as given to the court.

Mr. RAMSDELL assumed the broad ground that no one had a right to sell liquor, in opposition to the theory broached by the gentleman from Northampton, (Mr. GOEPP,) that every body had a right. He said that the act proposed would be of utility.

Mr. KINNEY said that the amendment would not remedy the matter. The act of 1858 obliged the court to grant licenses, and the consequence was that many improper men obtained the privilege. He would vote to bestow discretionary power upon the courts.

Mr. GOEPP explained his amendment, which was intended to explain the act of 1858. He argued that for this purpose, it was amply sufficient.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) moved an amendment to the amendment to include Pittsburg and Philadelphia.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved to postpone the matter for the present; which was agreed to.

Mr. BARLOW, on leave, read in his place, and presented to the chair "A further supplement to the act to incorporate the Tyrone and Lock Haven railroad company;" and on his motion, the rules in this case being dispensed with, said bill was taken up and passed.

Mr. M'DOWELL moved that the act to extend the provisions of a certain act to orphans' courts, and ordered to be placed on the calendar for to-day, be committed to the Committee on Railroads.

Mr. FOSTER opposed the motion. If the gentleman had objections he had redress by objecting it off the calendar. The bill was fair and equitable, and ought to pass.

Mr. IRISH had seen nothing of the bill, and was not prepared to act to-day. He desired to see it go to its proper committee.

The motion to commit the bill was then put and carried.

Agreeably to order, the House resumed the second reading and consideration of bills on the private calendar of last week.

"An Act to vest the Girard school house, in the city of Philadelphia," came up in order, and was again read.

The question recurring, on the amendment of Mr. SMITH, (Philadelphia,)—"Provided said school house shall always be used for school purposes."

Mr. SMITH, (Philadelphia,) defended the amendment.

Mr. CHURCH said that it seemed to be unnecessary. The intention of the original bill was to put the building under the control of the directors of common schools, for school purposes.

Mr. SMITH, (Philadelphia,) said that the school house was wanted in the section.

Mr. ABBOTT thought that local legislation might accomplish all that was necessary in this case.

Mr. SMITH, (Philadelphia,) reiterated the assertion that the school house was needed by the people of the district.

Mr. HARDING thought that the city councils of Philadelphia could dispose of a matter which, like this, involved only a few thousand dollars.

On the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SMITH, (Philadelphia,) and Mr. KINNEY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Burley, Custer, Disman, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Good, Gritman, Hill, Hottentine, Jackson, Keeney, Ketchum, Kinney, Nill, Oaks, Proudfoot, Quigley, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stoneback, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Wolf, Woodring and Lawrence, Speaker—40.

YAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Bertolet, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Chaso, Church, Durboraw, Eckman, Fearon, Fisher, Graham, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Hardiug, Lawrence, (Washington,) Manu, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Miller, Neall, Palm, Peirce, Ramsdell, Rose, Shafer, Sheppard, Styer, Thorn, Wagonseller, Walborn, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) and Witherow—36.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. SMITH, (Philadelphia,) offered an additional section,

That upon the passage of this act, George Westenberger, the treasurer of the late board of trustees under the will, shall pay over what balance there may be in his hands of the fund bequeathed by the said S. Girard, for the above purpose, to the city treasurer, subject to the warrant of the school controllers, for the use of the first school section of the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. THORN thought the above section unintentionally embarrassed the provisions of this bill.

Mr. SMITH, (Philadelphia,) thought not, and hoped it would pass.

Mr. ABBOTT spoke against the amendment.

Mr. GRITMAN said that the will decreed that it should enure to the benefit of the Passayunk school township, and he was therefore in favor of the amendment offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. SMITH.)

The amendment was then not agreed to.

Mr. GRITMAN moved to amend the amendment by devoting said legacy to educational purposes in the township of Passayunk; which was agreed to.

Section as amended was agreed to.

Bill passed.

The following bills came up in order, and were passed finally:

No. 358. "An Act authorizing the board of school directors of the borough of Uniontown, in Fayette county, to borrow money."

No. 360. "An Act abolishing the separate school district, created out of a portion of the township of Upper Salford, in the county of Montgomery."

"A supplement to an act incorporating the borough of Scranton," came up in order; and on motion of Mr. GRITMAN, postponed for the present.

No. 372. "An Act for the relief of Rachel George, widow of an old soldier."

No. 187. "An Act relative to the Delaware Division canal company of Pennsylvania," and, on motion of Mr. GOEPP, postponed for the present.

No. 221. "An Act for the registration of births, marriages and deaths in the city of Philadelphia." On motion of Mr. HAMERSLY, postponed for the present.

No. 223. "An Act to abolish the board of health of the city and port of Philadelphia, and to provide for the appointment of commissioners of health for said city and port." Laid over under the rule.

"An Act to incorporate the Mifflin County Bank came up in order."

Mr. GRITMAN moved to postpone indefinitely the further consideration of the bill.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) opposed the motion, and said that every member understood the bill.

Mr. GRITMAN said that gentleman had requested him not to object the bill off the Private Calendar, and he had consented, with the proviso, that the merits of the bill should be discussed.

He was utterly opposed to the present banking system. The Executive had said that he would not sign any bank bills. What, then, did the gentleman expect?

A new system was about to be introduced, and why, then, was the House now pestered by private applications.

He would enter his protest against any further charters, on the broad ground that the principle was prejudicial to the State at large.

It was time that things of this kind should be cast out of the halls of legislation, and for the purpose of accomplishing this, he was anxious to use every effort. He had investigated the subject thoroughly.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) said that he well knew that it was useless to attempt to convince the gentleman from Luzerne, (Mr. GRITMAN,) that banks were right. He wished to say in reference to the action of the Bank Committee on the subject, that they had fully examined the bill, and considered it one of the most stringent ones ever written. There was no possibility of any loss to the community.

He favored a general banking system, and should vote for it when it came up. In the present case, thirteen thousand persons in the Juniata valley had petitioned for the bank, stating that it was necessary for their convenience. Was it not right under these circumstances to give it to them?

The gentleman from Luzerne might wish to root out all banks, and yet the currency of the State was as good as any.

He said that the vote on the postponement would be a test question.

Mr. WILLISTON rose to protest against any assertion that the action of the House should be restrained by the fact that the Executive would not afterward sanction their proceedings. He said that if there was any branch of legislation requiring attention, it was the banking interests of the State.

He favored the bill, because it assimilated itself to the principle for which he contended, viz: that the officers should be individually liable.

Mr. GRITMAN agreed, in a great measure, with Mr. WILLISTON. He had never voted for a bank bill under the present system. Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) had said that the bill was a safe one, and sufficiently guarded. He joined issue with the gentleman on this. The security of mortgages was of little account, if those mortgages were on water lots or barrens. The Legislature of New York had struck mortgages from their system.

He would also say to the gentleman from Washington, (Mr. LAWRENCE,) that he was not opposed to all banks; but only to the increase of banks under the present system. Upon a safe basis; the interests of the country required a proper currency.

Again, it had been said, that the bill was guarded by personal liability. If this same provision had been in the charters of the Lancaster and other banks, of what service would it have been? Why the officers were found to be men of straw.

He continued to show the insufficiency of the clause of personal liability. Real estate was alleged to afford additional security to bill holders. Policies of insurance were cited in the present charter as security, to be deposited with the Auditor General. This was going too far. There was money enough in the State, without recourse to things like this.

There was not a newspaper in the State but what had expressed itself against any further grant of bank charters, and the press expressed the unanimous sentiment of the people.

Mr. PINKERTON said that he should vote for the bill.

Mr. WILLISTON said that the general banking law was now pending in one branch, if not in both.

Mr. ROHRER said that the people of his section were in favor, as Democrats, of banks, when it suited them. He should vote for this bank, without considering the measure in any political light.

On the motion to postpone indefinitely, The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GRITMAN and Mr. ROSE, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Balliet, Barnsley, Bertolet, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Foster, Good, Gritman, Hill, Jackson, Miller, Quigley, Rose, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Warden and Wiley—23.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott Acker, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Campbell, Durboraw, Eckman, Fearon, Galley, Goepf, Graham Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rouse, Shafer, Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Wagonseller, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Woodring, Zoller and Lawrence—Speaker—58.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. MILLER moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present. He made the motion because there was at present a general banking bill pending in the co-ordinate branch; and he wished to have the bill postponed until action had been taken on the same in the Senate.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) opposed the motion to postpone the bill. It was uncertain whether or not the bill which the gentleman from Crawford, (Mr. MILLER,) alludes to, would pass at this session of the Legislature.

On the motion to postpone for the present, the yeas and nays were required by Mr. QUIGLEY and Mr. MILLER, and were as follow, viz:

AYES—Messrs. Balliet, Bryson, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Fisher, Fleming, Galley, Goepf, Good, Gritman, Hill, Jackson, Mann, Miller, Quigley, Rose, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Warden, Williston, and Wolf—26.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Campbell, Durboraw, Eckman, Fearon, Foster, Graham, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mithews, McClure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shafer, Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Wagonseller, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Woodring, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—52.

So the question was determined in the negative.

REPORT OF A COMMITTEE.

Mr. SHEPPARD, from the committee to compare bills made a report that they had compared and presented to the Governor, for his approbation, the following acts of the General Assembly.

"An Act relating to the election of the town council of the borough of West Greenville, Mercer county."

"An Act to incorporate the Mercantile hall company of the city of Pittsburg."

"An Act authorizing the commissioners of the county of Somerset, to sell property, &c."

"An Act to incorporate the Mutual fire insurance company of Philadelphia."

"An Act to incorporate the Union cemetery association of Womelsdorf, Berks county."

"An Act to incorporate the Butler gas company."

"An Act declaring Knapp's creek, in the county of McKean, a public highway."

"An Act relating to the fees of aldermen, &c., in Philadelphia."

"An Act for the relief of Christopher Hollingsworth, collector of military taxes for the county of Lancaster."

"An Act to incorporate the Greencastle and Middleburg turnpike road company."

"An Act declaring Eliza N. Kramer an adopted daughter of James Gray, of Sewickley."

"An Act to incorporate the Northwest Portage railroad company."

Joint resolution relative to the pay of William E. Frazer, as Canal Commissioner.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented a message from the Governor, in writing, which was read, as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
Harrisburg, March 1, 1859, }

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen—I have approved and signed the following acts of the General Assembly, viz:

"An Act to incorporate the Mutual fire insurance company of Philadelphia."

"An Act declaring Knapp's creek, in M'Kean county, a public highway."

"An Act to incorporate the Union cemetery association of Womelsdorf, Berks county."

"An Act relative to the election of the town council of the borough of Greenville, Mercer county."

"An Act to incorporate the Northwest Portage railroad company."

"An Act relating to the fees of aldermen and constables in criminal and special cases, in the city of Philadelphia, and to issuing process therein."

"An Act authorizing the commissioners of the county of Somerset, to sell property owned and occupied for the use of the poor of said county."

"An Act to incorporate the Geencastle and Middleburg turnpike road company."

"An Act declaring Eliza N. Kramer an adopted daughter of James Gray, of Sewickley."

"An Act to incorporate the Butler gas company."

Joint resolution for the pay of William E. Frazer, as Canal Commissioner."

"An Act to incorporate the International Union of art and literature."

Adjourned until this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House met at 3 o'clock.

Messrs. HOTTENSTINE and BAYARD moved that the vote by which the joint resolution relative to the pay of D. R. M'CLAIN, was passed, be reconsidered; which was agreed to.

The question recurring,

Shall the same pass?

On motion of Mr. FLEMING, the further consideration of the same was postponed for the present.

"An Act to incorporate the Mifflin County Bank," came up in order on second reading.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GRITMAN and Mr. FOSTER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Barlow, Bayard, Burley, Campbell, Durboraw, Eckman, Fearon, Graham, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mahaffey, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Palm, Pennell, Pierce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shafer, Taylor, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow and Lawrence, Speaker—41.

NAYS—Messrs. Balliet, Barnsley, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Good, Gritman, Jackson, Mann, Neall, Oaks, Quigley, Rose, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stoneback, Styer, Warden, Wiley and Wolf—30.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Said bill was then passed finally, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

"A supplement to the act to incorporate the Big Mountain improvement company," came up in order on second reading.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE moved that the further consideration of the same be postponed indefinitely; which was not agreed to.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE moved to modify, by postponing the same for the present.

Mr. WALBORN said the privileges granted by the bill were fair, and urged the immediate passage of the bill.

Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) favored postponement.

Mr. WALBORN hoped that an opportunity would be afforded the capitalists to recover part of the money which they had invested in the coal regions.

Mr. PINKERTON thought the bill was what was called a "fly trap." Were any of the corporators from Northumberland county, or were they all of Philadelphia?

Mr. WALBORN said that none of the lands of the county were in Schuylkill. The men at the head of the company were gentlemen, and not men of straw.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE read from a pamphlet to prove that some of the officers of the broken Lancaster savings institution were officers of the coal company.

Mr. HAMERSLY admitted this, but could not see what this had to do with the matter. It was true that one evil designing man had owned some of the stock in the coal company.

Mr. THORN said that the corporators were many of them of Philadelphia, and men of character and integrity.

Mr. PINKERTON reiterated that he thought the bill was a "fly-trap," got up for the purpose of selling some lands, perhaps, to some coal company. It was no more than just that the bill should be postponed for the present.

Mr. THORN said the corporators had already spent some half million of dollars on their property, and it was unjust to charge them with illegal intentions.

On the motion to postpone,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PINKERTON and Mr. HOTTENSTINE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Barnsley, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Evans, Fleming, Galley, Glatz, Goepf, Good, Hill, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, M'Curdy, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Rose, Smith, (Philadelphia,) Stephens, Stoneback, Wagenseller, Walker, Warden, Wilcox, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—36.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barlow, Bayard, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Durboraw, Eckman, Fearon, Fisher, Foster, Graham, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Keneagy, Mann, Matthews, M'Clure, Miller, Neall, Pennell, Price, Pugh, Quigley, Ramsdell, Shafer, Sheppard, Smith, (Berks,) Styer, Thompson, Thorn, Walhorn, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow and Zoller—46.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The bill was then passed finally and ordered to be sent to the Senate for concurrence.

"An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia theatre company," came up in order on second reading.

Mr. FISHER moved to amend the same by striking from the list of corporators the names of Chambers M'Kibbin and E. P. Middleton, and inserting in lieu thereof, the names of James McManus and E. W. Carr; which was agreed to; and the bill passed, and ordered that the same be sent to the Senate for concurrence.

PRIVATE CALENDER.

Agreeably to order, the House proceeded to the consideration of bills on Private Calendar, when the following were read the first time, and no objection being made, were laid over, and prepared for second reading:

No. 374. "An Act to incorporate the Lewisburg, Selinsgrove and Philadelphia railroad company."

No. 379. "An Act relative to taxing dogs in West Nottingham township, Chester county."

No. 381. "An Act for the relief of George D. Boyer, former treasurer of Schuylkill county."

No. 382. "An Act to adjust the account of F. Knox Morton, late treasurer of the city and county of Philadelphia."

No. 383. "An Act to provide for the collection of additional taxes in the township of Bingham, in the county of Potter."

No. 386. "An Act to liquidate the amount due on a certain judgment and to enforce the collection of the same."

No. 387. "An Act relative to foreign insurance companies in the county of Erie."

No. 390. "An Act annexing the borough of Leesburg, in Mercer county, to the township of Springfield, in said county, for school purposes."

No. 392. "An Act to divide the township of Wilkesbarre, in Luzerne county, into two wards."

No. 397. "An Act to incorporate the Media Bank."

No. 398. "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Mount Joy savings institution, approved 13th day of May, 1856."

"Supplement to an act to incorporate the Milton Savings Bank."

No. 400. "An Act incorporating the Bald Eagle boom company, in Clinton county."

No. 403. "A supplement to an act incorporating the Sancona iron company."

No. 404. "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Reading railroad."

No. 406. "A supplement to an act incorporating the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company."

No. 411. "An Act changing the name of Prescott Packard Peck."

No. 412. "An Act relating to the records of Union county."

No. 415. "An Act authorizing the school directors of the borough of Anburn, in the county of Schuylkill, to borrow money."

No. 430. "An Act repealing an act relative to licenses on vehicles in the cities of Pittsburg and Allegheny, and the boroughs thereto adjoining."

No. 432. "An Act to authorize A. H. McHenry, guardian of minor children of the late Thomas Babb, to invest certain moneys belonging to such minor children in real estate."

No. 436. "An Act to provide for the recording of a plot in the town of Ridgway, Elk county."

Sen. 222. "An Act relative to the township of Croyle, in the county of Cambria."

Sen. 220. "A supplement to an act authorizing the appointment of an auctioneer in the borough and township of Wilkesbarre, Luzerne county, approved the 5th day of March, 1858."

No. 446. "A further supplement to the act consolidating the city of Philadelphia."

No. 128. "An Act to authorize the citizens of Butler township, Schuylkill county, hereafter to elect but one supervisor."

No. 198. "An Act relating to trustees of Farmers' high school of Pennsylvania."

"An Act to abolish the office of sealer of weights and measures in Clearfield county," came up in order.

Mr. ECKMAN moved to embrace the county of Lebanon within the provisions of the act; which was agreed to.

Messrs. DURBORAW, WITMAN, WILLIAMS, (of Bucks,) PENNELL, MCCLURE, KETCHUM, KENEAGY and McCURDY severally moved to amend by making it applicable to the counties of Adams, Dauphin, Bucks, Delaware, Franklin, Luzerne, Lancaster and Perry; which was agreed to; and no objection being made, the bill was prepared for second reading.

No. 450. "A further supplement to an act in addition to an act relative to the borough of Scranton."

No. 451. "An Act to authorize the election of two additional supervisors in Washington and Richhill townships, Greene county."

No. 452. "An Act conferring upon Sarah Ann, Melissa, Warren B., Nancy, Ellen and Nicholas D. Evans, minor children of David C. Evans, deceased, and Catharine Evans, all the rights of children born in lawful wedlock."

No. 518. "An Act to divide the township of Quincy, in the county of Franklin, into three districts, for the election of supervisors."

No. 519. "An Act erecting a certain part of Middlesex township, in Butler county, into an independent school district."

No. 521. "An Act to incorporate the Boatman's life, stock and fire insurance, annuity and trust company."

No. 523. "An Act supplementary to an act relating to roads, highways and bridges, in the counties of Warren, Venango and McKean, approved 9th of April, 1844."

No. 524. "An Act to make George William Eshleman, an heir of J. Middleton Whitehill and his wife, Elizabeth S. Whitehill, and to confer on him the name of George William Whitehill."

No. 525. "An Act to incorporate the Boatman's insurance company."

Messrs. WOLF and GLATZ moved that the House re-consider the vote by which the House passed Senate bill, No. 158, "An Act to incorporate the Mt. Olivet cemetery association of York county;" which was agreed to.

Mr. WOLF moved to amend the same, by striking out in the third section, the words "or to taxation," which was agreed to.

BILLS OBJECTED TO.

By Mr. STYER, "An Act to incorporate the Towanda water company."

By Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Mutual fire insurance company of Sinking Springs, Berks county."

By Mr. HAMSERLY, "An Act to incorporate the Fall Brook railroad and coal company."

By Mr. STEPHENS, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Fairmount and Arch Street city passenger railway company."

By Mr. PINKERTON, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Allentown railroad company;" passed April 19, 1853.

The hour of five having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until 9½ o'clock to-morrow morning.

No. 432—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

IRISH, Judiciary—Feb. 25, 1859.

AN ACT for the better security of personal liberty, to prohibit the use of the jails and prisons of this Commonwealth in the re-capture of fugitive slaves, and to prevent persons holding office under the authority of the State, from engaging or assisting therein.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and

House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the meaning of the first, second and thirteenth sections of an act, entitled "An Act for the better security of personal liberty, and preventing wrongful imprisonments," approved the eighteenth day of February, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-five, and the fifth section of an act, entitled "An Act to prevent kidnapping, preserve the public peace, prohibit the exercise of certain powers heretofore exercised by judges, justices of the peace, aldermen and jailors in this Commonwealth, and to repeal certain slave laws," approved the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven, is hereby declared to be that any person imprisoned or restrained of his liberty is entitled as of right and of course to the writ of habeas corpus, except in the cases mentioned in the first, fifth and sixth sections of the said act, approved the eighteenth day of February, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-five, and persons convicted or in execution upon civil or criminal process.

SEC. 2. That the provisions of the third section of the said act, entitled "An Act to prevent kidnapping, et cetera," approved the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven, shall apply to the act of Congress, approved the eighteenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, entitled "An Act to amend and supplementary to the act, entitled 'An Act respecting fugitives from justice, and persons escaping from the service of their masters'."

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the courts having jurisdiction in cases of writs of habeas corpus under existing laws, or any judge thereof, except associate judges of the courts of common pleas, on application of any party to a proceeding, in any writ of habeas corpus, whether the court may be in session or not, and in term, time or vacation, to order a trial by jury, as to any facts stated in the return of the officer, or as to any facts alleged, if it shall appear by the return of the officer or otherwise, that the person whose restraint or imprisonment is in question is claimed to be held to service or labor in another State, and to have escaped from such service or labor, and may admit such person to bail in any sum, not exceeding one thousand dollars; in such case issue may be joined by a general denial of the facts alleged, the plea may be not guilty, and the jury shall have the right to return a general verdict, and the same discretion as juries have in the trial of criminal causes; and the finding of a verdict of not guilty shall be final and conclusive.

SEC. 4. That the court or judge before whom the writ of habeas corpus is made returnable, shall, unless a jury is already in attendance, award a venire, commanding the sheriff of the county to summon a jury in the manner provided in case of a challenge made and sustained to the array of jurors by the one hundred and forty-sixth and one hundred and forty-seventh sections of an act, entitled "An Act relative to the organization of the courts of justice," approved the fourteenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four; in case one jury shall disagree the issue may be submitted to another jury, or continued to the next term, at the discretion of the court; and in every case of disagreement another jury may be summoned and qualified as above provided forthwith, or at a future day in the discretion of the court or judge before whom the writ is returned, until a verdict shall finally be rendered upon the issue; and if by reason of challenges or otherwise, there shall not be a full jury of persons summoned present, the deficiency shall be supplied in the manner provided by the one hundred and forty-fourth section of the aforesaid act, approved the fourteenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four.

SEC. 5. That if any claimant shall appear to demand the custody or possession of the person for whose benefit said writ is issued out, such claimant shall state in writing the facts on which he relies with precision and certainty; and neither the claimant of the alleged fugitive, nor any person interested in his alleged obligation to service or labor, nor the alleged fugitive, shall be permitted to testify at the trial of the issue; and no confessions, admissions or declarations of the alleged fugitive against himself shall be given in evidence; upon every question of fact, involved in the issue, the burden of proof shall be on the claimant; and the facts alleged and necessary to be established, must be proved by the testimony of at least two credible witnesses or legal evidence equivalent thereto, and by the rules of evidence known and secured by the common law; and no ex parte deposition or affidavit shall be received in proof in behalf of the claimant; and no presumption shall arise in favor of the claimant, from any proof that the alleged fugitive or any of his ancestors had been actually held as a slave, without proof that such holding was legal.

SEC. 6. That no sheriff, deputy sheriff, coroner, constable, jailer or other person holding office under authority of this Commonwealth; or the police of any city, town or borough; or any district, county, city, town or borough officer; or any officer or other member of the volunteer militia of this Commonwealth, shall hereafter arrest, imprison, detain or return, or aid in arresting, imprisoning, detaining or returning, any person for the reason that he is claimed or adjudged to be a fugitive from service or labor.

SEC. 7. That no jail, prison or other place of confinement, belonging to or used by either the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any county, city or borough therein, shall be used for the detention or imprisonment of any person for the reason that he is claimed or adjudged to be a fugitive from service or labor; or any person accused or convicted of any offence created by either of the said acts of Congress, mentioned in the second section of this act; or accused or convicted of obstructing or resisting any process, warrant or order, issued under either of said acts; or of rescuing or attempting to rescue any person arrested or detained under any of the provisions of either of said acts; nor for the imprisonment of any person arrested on mesne process or on execution, in any suit for damages or penalties accruing or being claimed to accrue in consequence of any aid rendered to any escaping fugitive from service or labor.

SEC. 8. That any sheriff, deputy sheriff, coroner, constable, jailer or other officer or person mentioned in the sixth section of this act, who shall violate or offend against the provisions of this law, shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by fine not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars for the use of the county wherein the issue is tried; and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for any period not less than three nor more than twelve months, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 9. That all the provisions of law, as to writ of habeas corpus, heretofore existing and in force, so far as applicable, and so far as not hereby changed, shall apply to the cases arising under this act.

SEC. 10. That nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to so much of the said act, of the twelfth of February, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-three, as relates to fugitives from justice.

SEC. 11. That this act shall take effect from and after its passage; and all acts or parts of acts, inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 44.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, March 2, 1859.

A quorum of Senators being present, the SPEAKER called the Senate to order at the usual hour.

Prayer was offered by Rev. James Colder, of the Fourth Street Bethel, Harrisburg.

The Journal was read and approved.

The SPEAKER presented the Eleventh annual report of the board of directors of Girard college.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. TURNEY, (Finance,) reported as committed, "An Act relative to the collectors of State and county taxes in Bucks county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to pay the claim of Thomas Duncan, executor of Rebecca H. Duncan and James McCoy."

Mr. WELSH, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to certain heirs of Conrad Weiser."

Mr. GREGG, (same,) with amendment, "An Act relative to the collection of taxes in Tioga county."

Mr. FINNEY, (Judiciary,) as committed, "An Act regulating the weighing of coal in Allegheny county."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "A supplement to an act apportioning the city of Philadelphia into single Senatorial and Representative districts."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act incorporating the Penn industrial reform school."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "A supplement to an act exempting property to the amount of $300 from levy and sale."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act dividing the borough of Pittston into two wards."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act authorizing the school directors of Tyrone township, Perry county, to sell certain property."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to public officers and their sureties."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to sheriffs' fees in Crawford county."

Mr. BREWER, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to an act establishing a land office."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to an act abolishing the office of Canal Commissioner and State Engineer."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to annex the lands of Eli Lichtenberger, in Elizabeth township, to Penn township, in Lancaster county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, House bill No. 349, "A supplement to an act relative to the liens of mechanics and others, upon buildings."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 344, "An Act to provide for the appointment of an additional notary public in Pittston."

Mr. BELL, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to repeal the last proviso of the forty-first section of an act to reduce the State debt, &c."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act regulating the practice and fees of sheriffs in cases of attachment."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act supplemental to an act approved February 16, 1859, entitled 'A supplement to an act passed April 3, 1851, entitled 'An Act regulating boroughs''

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to repeal the second section of an act providing for roads and poor in Pitt township, Allegheny county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the citizens of Hamilton township, Monroe county, to elect two additional supervisors."

Mr. SCOFIELD, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to the publication of certain opinions of the supreme court."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act for the better regulation of the borough of Harrisburg."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, House bill No. 36, "An Act relating to costs in certain cases."

Also, (same,) with amendment, House bill No. 226, "An Act to provide for the election of an additional law judge in the county of Allegheny."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 346, "An Act to provide for the appointment of three additional notaries in Chester county."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 293, "An Act to increase the pay of the supervisor of Tremont township, Schuylkill county."

Mr. WRIGHT, (Corporations,) as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Commercial insurance company of Pennsylvania."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "An Act incorporating the Ario iron company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act incorporating the Towanda gas and water company."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 325, "An Act to incorporate the Fairmount and Manayunk steamboat company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Suffolk park association."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 331, "An Act to incorporate the Farmers' market company."

Mr. STEELE, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Plymouth canal company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Towanda and Athens telegraph company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act incorporating the Sunbury gas company."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 330, "An Act incorporating the Union cemetery association in the borough of Lebanon and vicinity."

Mr. SCHELL, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the borough of Newport, Perry county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate a steamboat company."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 122, "An Act to incorporate the village of Corsica, Jefferson county, into a borough."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 320, "An Act authorizing the town council and burgesses of Kittanning to grade certain streets."

Mr. SHAEFFER, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Hanover gas light company."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill, No. 340, "An Act to incorporate the Presque Isle dock company."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill, No. 335, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Marshall savings institution of Philadelphia."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill, No. 332, "An Act to repeal an act in relation to the division of the borough of Uniontown, in Fayette county."

Mr. GAZZAM, (same,) as committed, "An Act incorporating the Boatmen's insurance company of Pittsburg."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill, No. 327, "An Act to change the name of Denuska gas company, in Allentown, Lehigh county."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Western coal and iron company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act extending the limits of the borough of Wrightsville, York county."

Mr. COFFEY, (Railroads,) as committed, House bill, No. 271, "An Act authorizing a change of the name, style and title of the Allegheny and Bald Eagle railroad, coal and iron company, in Centre county."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill, No. 275, "An Act to incorporate the Newry railroad company."

Also, (Finance,) as committed, "An Act exempting certain real estate, in Allegheny county, from the payment of collateral inheritance tax."

Mr. RANDALL, (same,) with a negative recommendation, House bill, No. 278, "A supplement to an act to repeal certain acts of Assembly upon non-payment of the enrolment tax."

Also, (Railroads,) as committed, "An Act incorporating the Huntingdon Valley railroad company."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 276, "An Act to authorize the Schuylkill Valley railroad company to connect their road with the Little Schuylkill railroad."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 553, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Venango railroad company."

Mr. FINNEY, (same,) with amendment, House bill No. 273, "An Act to revive the charter of the Lancaster, Lebanon and Pine Grove railroad company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act relative to the Philadelphia and Trenton railroad company."

Mr. STEELE, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the West Chester and Philadelphia railroad company."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Bradford railroad company."

Mr. CRAIG, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 270, "An Act to incorporate the Council Ridge and White Haven railroad company."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Philadelphia and Trenton railroad company."

Mr. SCHINDEL, (Education,) as committed, "An Act for the relief of Liberty township school district, in Bedford county."

Mr. YARDLEY, (same,) as committed, "An Act for the relief of the Somerset borough school district."

Mr. MILLER, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to the act providing for the regulation and continuance of a system of education by common schools."

Mr. PENNEY, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act providing for the regulation and continuance of a system of education by common schools in the city of Pittsburgh."

Mr. FETTER, (Agriculture and Domestic Manufactures,) as committed, "An act to repeal an act to prevent the destruction of fish in Yellow creek, Bedford county."

Mr. WRIGHT, from the Committee to Compare Bills, made report.

Mr. STEELE, (Private Claims and Damages,) as committed, "An Act for the relief of Stephen H. Lauchlin."

Mr. CRAIG, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to the claim of Jackson Fee."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. PALMER read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act requiring the payment of road and school taxes by electors at township and school district elections."

Mr. GREGG, "An Act relative to the Farmers' high school."

Mr. THOMPSON, "An Act authorizing the removal of the dead from the burying ground (deeded to the First Methodist Episcopal church of Norristown, Montgomery county,) to the Norristown cemetery."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. MYER offered the following resolution; which (the rule being suspended,) was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That the Auditor General be and is hereby required to report to the Senate the number of banks that have failed since the year 1830—the amount of capital stock of each—the amount of bills in circulation at the time of such failure—the amount of such circulation redeemed—the amount lost by the public, and such other facts as may be within his official knowledge relating to this subject.

On motion of Mr. WELSH, the Senate concurred in House amendments, to "An Act relative to the Mount Olivet cemetery association."

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, the Senate non-concurred in House amendments to Senate bill No. 101, and a Committee of Conference was ordered to be appointed.

Mr. MILLER, upon leave given, made the following statement, previous to presenting the memorial of Gen. Duff Green, published below. A few days ago, the bill for the incorporation of the American loan and improvement company was defeated in the Senate. He had voted against the bill; but he had since then been impressed with the importance of it, and thought it should receive that attention to which it was entitled. He therefore presented the memorial and moved that the bill, as amended, be printed, and also that the memorial be printed in the Daily Record.

The motion was agreed to. They are as follows:

AN ACT to incorporate the American improvement and loan company.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That David R. Porter, Henry M. Fuller, Duff Green, Horn R. Kneas, Charles M. Hall, Harry Coggs-hall and Jacob Zeigler, and the owners of the shares herein authorized to be issued, be and they are hereby made a body corporate, under the name and style of the American improvement and loan company, and in that name may have perpetual succession, and may purchase, have, hold and acquire by any lawful means, estate real and personal, and the same may use, sell, lease, let, mortgage, transfer and convey, and otherwise dispose of; and may sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, contract and be contracted with; and have and use a common seal, and the same may change at pleasure; and may make by-laws and regulations for the government of their affairs, and may have and use all the powers, rights and privileges, which are or may be necessary for them to have, as a company incorporated for the purposes herein stated: Provided, That the said company shall not at any time hold in this State, more real estate than may be requisite for the convenient transaction of their business, unless it be taken bona fide in payment of debts.

SEC. 2. That the purpose of this act is to organize an incorporated company, with authority to obtain by subscription the requisite capital, and to authorize them as a company, to make loans of money and of credit to railroad companies, contractors, manufacturers and others; and to authorize them as a company to make all requisite contracts, and especially to receive and hold on deposit and in trust, estate real and personal, including the notes, bonds, obligations and accounts of states, and of individuals, and of companies, and of corporations; and the same to purchase, collect, adjust and settle; and also to sell and dispose thereof in any market in the United States or elsewhere, without proceeding in law or in equity, and for such price, and on such terms, as may be agreed on between them and the parties contracting with them; and also to endorse and guarantee the payment of the bonds, and the performance of the obligations of individuals, and of States, and of corporations, and of companies.

SEC. 3. That the capital stock of the said company shall consist of shares of one hundred dollars each, and that David R. Porter, Henry M. Fuller, Duff Green, Horn R. Kneas, Charles M. Hall, Harry Coggs-hall and Jacob Zeigler, or a majority of them, may in person or by proxy, open books of subscription, at such times and places as they may deem expedient; and when five thousand shares shall have been subscribed, and ten per cent. thereto shall have been paid in, the shareholders may elect five or more directors, whose term of service, mode of election and powers and duties, shall be prescribed by the by-laws of the company; and the directors are hereby authorized and empowered, in the name of the company, to exercise the powers, and enjoy all the rights and privileges which are intended to be herein given; and the directors for the time being may from time to time, as it may be deemed expedient, enlarge their resources by borrowing money on a pledge of their property, or without such a pledge, or by new subscriptions; and any State or government, and any citizen or subject, corporation or company, of any State, country or government may subscribe for, and purchase, and hold shares of said company with all the rights, and subject only to such liabilities as other shareholders are subject to; which liabilities are for the payment to the company of the sums due or to become due on the shares subscribed for, or held by them as assignees of others, and none other; and when additional shares are disposed of, the directors may cause them to be issued at par, or to be sold for the benefit of the holders of the shares theretofore issued.

SEC. 4. That the principal office of the said company shall be in the city of Philadelphia, but the directors, under such rules and regulations as they may from time to time prescribe, may establish branches and agencies in Europe and elsewhere; and may deal in exchange, foreign and domestic; but the said company shall not exercise the privilege of banking and issue their own notes or bills, to be used as bank notes or as currency.

SEC. 5. That three-fifths of the directors of the said company shall be citizens of the United States, and reside in the State of Pennsylvania.

SEC. 6. That the said company shall pay to the State Treasurer, for the use of the State, a bonus of one half of one per centum on the sum requisite to be paid in previous to the organization of the said company, payable in four equal annual instalments; the first payment to be made in one year after the payment on the capital stock shall be made, and also a like bonus on all subsequent payments on account of the capital of the said company, or any increase thereof, payable in like manner; and in addition to such bonus, shall pay such tax upon dividends, exceeding six per centum per annum, as is or may be imposed by law.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

The memorial of the undersigned respectfully submits, in further explanation of the bill to incorporate the American improvement and loan company, that, as amended, the powers of the company will be limited to a single agency, authorized to make advances in aid of railroad companies, contractors and manufacturers, and to the exercise of the trust powers indispensable to the efficiency of such an agency; that the company will be expressly prohibited from owning in this State more real estate than may be requisite for the convenient transaction of its business, and cannot exercise any of the privileges of banking, nor can they issue their notes to be used as bank notes or as currency; that the purpose is to create a capital out of the railroad and State bonds now held in Europe, to aid, by advances of money, the manufacture of American iron, and the renewal and further extension of our internal improvements, until, by this use of foreign capital, we can so employ our home industry as to create a sufficient home capital to relieve us from the necessity of sending our credit to a foreign market.

He would respectfully ask each member of your Honorable Body to place before him a map of North America, and mark three lines, each commencing at Philadelphia, and terminating—one at Puget's Sound, one at San Francisco, and one at Mazatlan. It will be seen that, with the connections already made to Chicago, through your Pennsylvania railroad, and the extension of the system on the lines thus indicated, Philadelphia is more advantageously situated to become the seat of commerce, manufactures and finance, than either of the great competing cities.

Having ascertained this fact, he suggests that the Mississippi river be designated in like manner on the map, that the territory east of that great river may be more readily compared with the territory west and southwest of it; and he suggests these delineations that the mind may the more readily conceive what is to be hereafter done west of the Mississippi, by comparing it with what has been done east of it.

He respectfully suggests, that within thirty years our population will be nearly or quite one hundred millions, and that, if our improvements east of the Mississippi will have cost us two thousand millions of dollars, those west of it will have cost at least four thousand millions of dollars; for the shores of the Pacific ocean, the valleys of the Rocky Mountains, and the fertile valley of the Mississippi, will be occupied by our children and their children's children. The question for you, as legislators and statesmen, charged with the welfare and prosperity of your State, is, from whence is to come the capital to pay for, and who is to perform the labor to make these improvements?

If we estimate that there are now in the United States thirty thousand miles of railroad, and that the wear of the rails is but ten per cent. per annum, it will be seen that, estimating the iron at fifty dollars per ton, and one hundred tons per mile, it will require three hundred thousand tons per annum, costing fifteen millions of dollars, to keep these roads in repair. This sum, compounded at six per cent., payable semi-annually, will, if we use foreign iron, create a charge against us, in thirty years, of five hundred and thirteen millions of dollars.

If we assume that the system will be extended at the rate of three thousand miles per annum, and we use foreign iron, then this extension will, in thirty years, create an additional charge against us of a like sum, and these sums together will create a debt of one thousand and twenty-six millions of dollars.

It is to this he added the iron wanted for repairs of the new roads, and the discount on our railroad bonds, sold in the foreign market, we may add the sum of six hundred millions more, making the debt, for iron alone, to be one thousand six hundred and twenty-six millions of dollars at the end of the neat thirty years, as the inevitable consequence of a continuance of the use of foreign iron; the interest upon which, at six per cent., payable semi-annually, will be ninety-nine millions twenty-three thousand and four hundred dollars.

Why do we import foreign iron? It is not because it can be had in exchange for our railroad bonds? Why does the English iron master take our bonds in payment for his iron? Is it not because he can sell the bonds for money? Why cannot the American iron master take our bonds for his iron? Is it not because he cannot sell them for money?

The fact that the English iron master can sell American railroad bonds for money, is conclusive to show that a company organized under a proper charter under the control of proper persons, with proper agencies in Europe, could sell our bonds for money. If such a company has sufficient capital to make the requisite advances, then our railroad companies would pay money to our contractors, and would also pay money for American iron. The effect of this would be to create an American capital, which will soon relieve us from the necessity of sending our credit into the foreign market. For say that the sum expended in thirty years would be but six thousand millions of dollars, and it will, under a wise system, be much more, if we estimate the profits on labor at twenty-five per cent., then the profits alone, will be a surplus American capital, created by American labor, and applicable to the system, of one thousand five hundred millions of dollars. With sufficient capital, we can make our own iron.

If we manufacture our own iron, then our railroads will be the product of American labor, and the labor thus employed will soon create so much surplus American capital, as to relieve us from our present dependence on the foreign market; and here the undersigned would ask your honorable body to contrast our condition, as it now is, with what it would have been if we had used American iron on our railroads; to contrast our foreign debt of five hundred millions of dollars, with a surplus of five hundred millions of American capital, which we would now have, if we had used American iron. Add to this an additional debt of one thousand six hundred millions of dollars, which we will owe, if we are permitted to continue the use of foreign iron, and contrast that debt with a like sum, as surplus capital, which will be the product of American labor if we use American, instead of foreign iron.

The undersigned, begs your honorable body, again to look upon the map of the United States, and the contiguous Mexican and British possessions, and to remember that the vast territory west of the Mississippi, will be alive with a dense and prosperous population, if they are permitted to continue our system of railways, which they cannot do, unless we can so organize our financial system, as to enable our railroad companies to purchase American instead of foreign iron. He begs you to look back upon the past and compare it, if you can, with the future, that you may see what is required of you, as legislators, entrusted with the welfare of the millions of human beings, whose progress, so much depends on what you may do.

Your memorialist is aware that some may be startled by the magnitude of the sums named in his estimates. If there be any such, he begs them to make estimates for themselves, and to remember that the extent of our territory; the number of our people; the vast sums expended in our railways, and the amount of debt held in England, are not estimates, but are realities; and that our present debt is the result of our use of foreign iron; that, so far as it represents foreign iron, it represents foreign labor, and that if it had been expended on American iron, it would represent American labor, and would have created American capital, applicable to the employment of other American labor, which would continue the process of creating American capital.

He would further respectfully remind your honorable body that, large as the sums given in his estimates may seem, as representing the cost of iron rails, it must be apparent that if the cost of the grading, laying the track, rolling stock and repairs with other incidental charges were added to the cost of iron, these estimates, great as they are, would be increased many times. Do his estimates approximate the truth? If so, to continue the purchase of foreign iron will create a debt so great as to place us and the products of our labor under the absolute control of the contingencies which may affect the European market, and leaves us no alternation but to cease the use of foreign iron or to arrest the progress of our system of internal improvements.

Does any one ask in what will consist the difference between the purchase of foreign iron and the sale of our bonds in the foreign markets in the manner proposed? The difference is this. If we sell our bonds for money and use the money to purchase American iron, we create by our labor an amount of American capital equal to the foreign debt, and this product of our industry, in the shape of American iron, is equal to the debt created by the sale of our bonds. Under our present system, the foreign iron is the product of foreign labor, and the foreign capitalist holds our debt, and the foreign manufacturer has the capital created by the labor employed in producing the iron. In the one case, the money gives employment to our labor which produces a capital more than sufficient to repay principal and interest; in the other, the interest alone, saying nothing of the principal, is a tax upon our industry, which will consume our substance. If we are wise, in less than thirty years we will have more than ninety thousand miles of railroads, and the greater part of the profits on their cost, may assume the shape of credits, which will be so much capital giving employment to labor.

Does any one object that our system of credits cannot be regulated by any one company? This is admitted. It is not intended that the company shall be a monopoly. If successful it will pioneer the way for others, and the wants of the system will indicate the agencies required. The great truth which the undersigned would impress on your honorable body is, that a necessary consequence of the purchase of foreign iron, and of the agencies now employed in the sale of American securities, is a loss of from twenty-five to thirty per cent. on the par of most of the bonds sold, and the depreciation of that class of securities upon which the further development of the mineral and other resources of your state depends, so great as to make it almost impossible to obtain the funds requisite to make the connections from the mines to the main lines of railways and canals. As the creeks, branches and rivulets supply the water which fills the bed of the Susquehanna, so these smaller improvements are indispensable to fill the volume of your industry and prosperity.—The funds to complete your system cannot be had through existing agencies. They cannot be obtained but in the manner suggested by the class of agencies proposed to be created under the bill.

The undersigned feels authorized to say that if a suitable charter be granted the company, can and will be organized in charge of persons whose names will deserve, as they will command the confidence of the public at home and of capitalists abroad.

In conclusion, he ventures to append a copy of a letter from Mr. Stephen Colwell, of Philadelphia, whose late book on the subject of money, banking and credit, is, as the undersigned believes, the ablest and the best treatise on these subjects, in any language, and entitles the opinions of the author to the highest respect.

DUFF GREEN.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21, 1859.

GEN. DUFF GREEN—Dear Sir: I have looked into the proposed charter for a financial agency, now pending in the Legislature at Harrisburg. I have no doubt that, under wise and able direction, such an institution might not only be a good enterprise for the stockholders, but a most beneficial one for the country at large, and especially for our city and State. Any plan offering inducements to foreign capitalists to transfer their capital here for investment upon the spot, instead of being negotiated abroad, deserves favorable regard. It cannot be doubted that European capitalists could, by an agency of the kind contemplated, purchase railroad stocks and bonds in Philadelphia, with greater advantage to both parties, than they can in London. They would make fewer mistakes, and could afford to give better terms, as well as to invest larger amounts.

If the proposed institution should succeed in attracting foreign capital to Pennsylvania, it must, of course, with prudent management, be a public benefit. If it should fail in this, it would probably be obliged to pursue a very moderate line of business; as it would require many years to amass domestic capital sufficient to give the agency an important standing and high credit. If, however, success should crown your efforts among foreign capitalists, I cannot see any limits to the benefits which might be expected. It would constitute at least one effective barrier to the undue exportation of specie, and of course an important bulwark to the currency.

The city of New York now enjoys the benefit of immense sums of foreign capital. Philadelphia holds out few inducements to draw it hither, and is not able to offer seven per cent. as a temptation. This extra one per cent. is worth millions to New York. This rate of seven per cent. interest tends to accumulate capital in New York, and current interest is constantly lower there than here. They offer more, and get it for less. The legal rate makes money plenty, and that abundance makes current interest low.

Unless we counteract this policy of New York, in some effectual way, we shall remain under the heavy disadvantage of paying rates of interest here from twenty to fifty per cent. higher than they pay in New York. Your plan would be one step in this much-needed counteracting policy. And I do hope it will receive the earnest consideration of all those who are capable of appreciating its objects and capacities.

It is not a thing to be understood at a glance, and I hope that intelligent gentlemen may be found to give it the needful study and attention. Your memorial so fully covers the case, that it only needs to be pondered by the intelligent, to furnish them with ample grounds for prompt action. You know that I have not time to enter into this matter as it deserves, but I can give you this hasty notice, from the attention heretofore bestowed on the subject.

Signed very respectfully and truly yours,
S. COLWELL.

Mr. GREGG moved that the Senate Committee on Railroads be discharged from the consideration of "A supplement to the act incorporating the Lock Haven and Tyrone railroad company," and that the Senate proceed to consider the same; which was agreed to, and the bill having gone through its various readings, passed finally.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

Senate bill No. 267, "An Act relative to the banks of this Commonwealth, and to prevent frauds by bank officers;" came up in order on third reading.

On its final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MARSELIS and Mr. GAZZAM, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Blood, Brewer, Coffey, Fetter, Keller, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Nuemacher, Randall, Schell, Scofield, Schiodel, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Craig, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Palmer, Penney, Rutherford, Shaeffer, Thompson and Yardley—13.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senate bill No. 113, "An Act relating to testamentary trustees," came up in order; the question being upon the proviso offered by Mr. RANDALL, which was pending when the Senate adjourned yesterday.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the proviso?

It was determined in the negative.

And the bill, after being slightly amended by Mr. BELL, passed finally.

BILLS CONSIDERED.

On motion of Mr. PARKER, the Senate proceeded to consider House bill No. 96, "A resolution relative to the pay of the committee appointed to examine the condition of certain banks."

Mr. SCOFIELD moved to strike out the Senate amendment.

On which,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNEY and Mr. SCOFIELD, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Finney, Gazzam, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Schell, Scofield, Shaeffer and Thompson—11.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Miller, Nuemacher, Randall, Rutherford, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—20.

So the question was determined in the negative.

On motion of Mr. FINNEY, the proviso was stricken out and the resolution, as amended, passed.

Mr. BELL called up Senate bill No. 112, "An Act to simplify legal proceedings, and to facilitate the recovery of claims in the courts of law of this Commonwealth;" which, having passed committee of the whole, lies over.

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, Senate bill No. 385, "A supplement to an act to amend certain defects of the law, for the more safe and just transmission and secure enjoyment of real and personal estate, approved April 27, 1855," was taken up, and after being amended as follows by Mr. PENNEY, passed finally:

"Provided, That it shall not apply to cases already adjudicated."

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, the Senate proceeded to consider Senate bill No. 393, "A resolution relative to clerk hire."

Mr. GREGG moved to strike out "six" and insert "three."

Mr. TURNEY stated that the resolution had been offered by him, at the instance of the Auditor General. An extraordinary amount of labor was imposed upon that officer, in the settlement of the affairs of the Canal Board, and it was deemed necessary to procure the services of Mr. Wilson for a short time, as better acquainted with the business of the board than any other person.

Mr. GREGG thought three months was amply sufficient to complete the labor proposed, and he moved to amend to that effect.

Mr. TURNEY explained that the resolution was intended simply to enable the Auditor General to comply with the duty imposed upon him, of making a book of the claims against the Commonwealth, alphabetically and categorically arranged.

Mr. GREGG opposed the resolution as oppressive in its effects upon tax-payers. Three months were sufficient in which to do the work. The matter was a small one, but these small matters, in the aggregate, make big matters, and are what go to swell the enormous taxation which is imposed upon the people of the State.

Mr. BELL favored the original resolution, and opposed the amendment, restricting the labor to three months. Mr. Wilson was, he said, the only man who could be found thoroughly acquainted with the affairs of the Canal Board, running through long years.

Mr. SCOFIELD was glad to learn from the Senator from Westmoreland that the Auditor General had employed Mr. Wilson in his office. He hoped he would employ him during his term, and that his successor might still continue his services in that department. If Mr. Wilson were an officer under the English government, he said, he would be retained in its employ as long as possible, and then he allowed to retire upon a pension. He was one of the few men who had served the Commonwealth faithfully, and had done so through a long series of years. He was not aware whether he had been able to save anything from his salary, but it was an exceedingly small one, and scarcely adequate to the valuable services rendered. He did not come here asking for the passage of this bill; he had not been seen around the Senate button-holding members for any favor; and instead of his asking the Commonwealth for employment, it was the Commonwealth which should seek his services, for they had been honestly and faithfully rendered, and were invaluable to the State.

The amendment was not agreed to, and the resolution passed.

On motion of Mr. WELSH, Senate bill No. 389, "An Act requiring railroad companies to make uniform annual reports," was taken up, considered and passed finally.

On motion of Mr. FINNEY, the Senate proceeded to the consideration of House bill No. 203, "An Act to increase the salaries of the judges of the court of common pleas of Philadelphia."

Mr. BELL moved to amend by adding the following words—"and that the salaries of the judges of the supreme court be increased to $4,000 per annum."

The amendment was agreed to, and the bill having passed committee of the whole,

Mr. GREGG moved to strike out the amendment increasing the salaries of the supreme court judges.

Mr. BELL advocated the propriety of paying to the supreme judges the sum of four thousand dollars, as a salary no more than adequate to their labors. He alluded to the increase of their duties, with the growth of the State and the increase of legal business, as well as the increased expenses which they are compelled to incur, and which the present compensation is not sufficient to meet. He contended that such a salary should be paid the supreme judges as would not only enable them to live comfortably, but to lay something by for the support and education of their families.

Mr. GREGG said he had offered his amendment in good faith. The Senator from Chester seemed to think that the Legislature had been constituted simply to take care of the wants of the legal profession. There were others whose interests demanded protection—the people, the yeomanry of the country. He considered the proposed salary too high, and proceeded to advocate the propriety of his amendment.

Mr. TURNEY said he was constrained to advocate the amendment that provided for an increase of the salaries of the judges of the supreme court; as at present paid he considered the amount entirely inadequate. The policy that had been advocated to reduce, to the lowest living point, the compensation allowed to men who had devoted the best years of a laborious life to the acquisition of those attainments that were necessary to qualify them for the safe discharge of those important duties imposed by the position, rested on a very narrow basis. There is not a gentleman on that bench that has not made a great pecuniary sacrifice in relinquishing the profits of a profession, such as their skill, learning and abilities would command at the bar.

That the present organization of that court reflected credit upon the State; its ability, illustrated in the capacity of the individuals composing it, was the first vindication of an elective judiciary. He was happy to hear this testimony to their worth, and the fact was a cause of sincere congratulation to the profession throughout the State.

An additional reason for the adoption of this amendment was suggested by the Senator from Centre, (Mr. GREGG.) In opposing it, he had labored to show that the members of this court could live on their present salary. Suppose they could, were they to be compelled to serve the State for a sum that would be barely sufficient to subsist their families, and at the expiration of their term, advanced in years, be compelled to begin life anew, build up a practice, and by their individual exertions at the bar, earn a livelihood for themselves and families? They should be able to make reasonable profit as provision for the future.

He gave notice, that at the proper time, he would introduce an additional amendment, increasing the salaries of the law judges throughout the Commonwealth, to twenty-five hundred dollars. This he conceived to be a simple act of justice. The propriety of this course was illustrated by his own observation in the Tenth judicial district, where the able and learned president judge had sacrificed a large and lucrative practice, to respond to what seemed to be the almost unanimous voice of the district, calling him to the bench, and no one has ever regretted the wisdom of the choice. His position imposes about eight or nine months of incessant and unremitting labor on the bench, besides the large amount of labor necessarily imposed at his chambers, in writing opinions, &c. The State had no right to demand the services of a man of learning and eminence in his profession, such as that that had rendered Judge Buffington a credit to the bench, without making him a return commensurate to his valuable services. This is but one of many instances, where lawyers of the highest character and attainments have been induced to sacrifice their private practice and business to the demands of the public. When the State asked this serious sacrifice at the hands of any of her citizens, she should be prepared to remunerate them. He would insist that this increase should be made in reference to the common pleas judges, and believed that no just or liberal man would disapprove the measure. He hoped the amendment would pass.

Mr. FINNEY thought this question of salary was a misnomer—it was a question of compensation for services rendered. That compensation, he contended, was not sufficient. The judges had come here and stated that the sum paid them was not sufficient to enable them to live, and out of respect to their statement, the Legislature should feel bound to accord to them the redress which they ask. He believed that when Senators look at the matter in the proper light, they will not hesitate to extend relief to these judges in the manner proposed by the bill. The compensation, as fixed by the bill, and which the Senator objects to, is not one-half the sum paid by the State of New York to her supreme judges; nor is the compensation one-half what it was when the judiciary was first organized. The objection to the liberal payment of the judges of the court springs from a cheap kind of patriotism, which men often practice at the expense of others. He instanced the case of the English judges, occupying similar positions, who receive a compensation of from ten to twenty-five thousand dollars per year, and who, in addition to this sum, retire upon a liberal pension; while the judges of our own State, performing equal, if not more arduous labors, receive a compensation barely sufficient to enable them to support their families.

Pending the discussion of the motion of Mr. GREGG, a message from the Governor was received and read as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
Harrisburg, March 2, 1859, }

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen—I have approved and signed the following acts of the General Assembly, viz:

"A supplement to an act to incorporate the Pittsburg and Steubenville railroad company."

"An Act authorizing Asa Dimock, and administrator of the estate of his son, Lafayette G. Dimock, deceased, to sell and convey certain unimproved and unproductive lands belonging to said estate."

"A further supplement to an act to erect the town of Sunbury, Northumberland county, into a borough."

"An Act relating to the opening and grading of new roads in Thornbury township, Delaware county."

"An Act to incorporate a company by the name, style and title, of the Waynesburg turnpike road company, with power to construct a road from a point at or near the mouth of Bates' Fork, Ten Mile creek, by the way of Waynesburg, to the east end of Morrisville, in Greene county."

WM. F. PACKER.

The hour of one having arrived, the Senate adjourned until three o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Agreeably to order, the Senate met at three o'clock.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, Senate bill No. 321, "An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Olney railroad company," was taken up; and on motion of the same Senator, was amended in the first section, by striking out all from "M. D.," in the seventh line, to the word "of," in the tenth line inclusive, and inserting the following: "are hereby appointed commissioners to open books, sell stock, and organize a corporation to be called."

The following proviso was also added, on motion of Mr. WRIGHT:

Provided further, That this company shall not alter the grade of any road or street over which the same shall be constructed, unless authorized to do so by the board of surveys of the city of Philadelphia.

The bill passed, as amended, to third reading, and lies over.

On motion of Mr. YARDLEY, House bill No. 25, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Byberry and Bensalem turnpike road company, approved March 10, 1858."

On motion of Mr. BLOOD, (for the SPEAKER,) House bill No. 256, "An Act to incorporate the Clearfield gas company."

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, Senate bill No. 259, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Commonwealth insurance company at Harrisburg."

On motion of Mr. BLOOD, House bill No. 122, "An Act to incorporate the village of Corsica, in the county of Jefferson, into a borough," was taken up and considered.

Mr. MILLER rose to a point of order; which was this: that the courts, having jurisdiction in the case, it requires a two-thirds vote to suspend the joint rule of the Legislature regulating the matter. The courts, he said, had ample jurisdiction to grant the privileges asked for; and he raised the question of order, not with a view of opposing the bill, but simply to test the matter. We are, he said, daily considering these acts of incorporation, and filling the statute books with grants which could have been as well made by the courts.

The SPEAKER could not decide whether the point of order would hold good in this case.—He did not know that it was one in which the courts have jurisdiction.

Mr. WRIGHT, from the Committee on Corporations, explained the action of the committee with reference to the bill. There were good reasons given, which had induced them to report the bill favorably. He thought, however, that there should be some general law, to which all corporations of boroughs should be made to conform, and the courts be released from their consideration.

Mr. BLOOD explained the peculiarities of the case, which took it out of the jurisdiction of the courts.

Mr. FINNEY advocated the propriety of the point of order raised by the Senator from Washington.

Mr. TURNEY contended that if there was a single sentence, or feature of the bill, over which the courts have no jurisdiction, it was a proper subject for legislative action.

Mr. SCHELL hoped the Senate would vote upon the bill, and that if passed, that it should be allowed to go to the other branch, for disposal as was there deemed proper.

The SPEAKER decided that the point raised by the Senator from Washington was well taken, and that the bill was not in order; whereupon

Mr. SCHELL moved that the bill be re-committed to the Judiciary Committee.

On motion of Mr. MYER, Senate bill No. 202, "A further supplement to an act, entitled 'An Act approved March 17, 1858, authorizing the Canal Commissioners to examine the claims of Thomas Morley,'" was brought before the Senate.

Mr. BELL said this was a bill proposing to appropriate seven thousand dollars out of the public treasury, and the Senate had dispensed with going into committee of the whole. He had no doubt the Senator from Bradford, who had called up the bill, could give some good reason for its passage, and he hoped he would inform the Senate the grounds upon which the appropriation was based.

Mr. MYER said that he had no desire to urge the passage of the bill, except upon its own merits. If there is anything wrong in it, he was satisfied that it should be pointed out by the Senate. He supposed it was due from him that he should give some explanation of the circumstances upon which the claim was based; and in making that explanation, he would call upon the committee, before which the claim had been examined, for the correctness of his statement. He then entered into a statement of the circumstances relative to the origin of the claim, and presented an array of facts upon which the justness of it was based. He had no doubt of its correctness, and said the Senate should at least hesitate before refusing to mete out simple justice to this man, when the facts upon which it is asked are indisputable.

Mr. TURNEY could not conscientiously vote for the bill. The Senator from Bradford had alluded to the consequences of a refusal to allow the claim; but that was no argument why the Senate should be called upon to retrieve the broken down fortunes of any man, without he had brought himself within the rule. An act had been passed last year, authorizing the Canal Commissioners to examine the alleged claim of Thomas Morley for damages. That was the tribunal selected by himself. They had refused to allow the claim, no doubt for good reasons. This claim, he said, originated in 1853, and it was a suspicious circumstance, to say the least of it, that it has not been adjusted before this; it was strange that it had never come up in a tangible shape before. He then alluded to the evidence upon which the claim was based, as insufficient to warrant its payment.

Mr. HARRIS said that if the statement which had been made by the Senator from Westmoreland, was true—and he had no doubt it was, for no Senator would risk his reputation by a statement of the kind, unless he had good reason for it—the Senate should pause long before passing this bill. He moved that the bill be postponed for one week from to day, in order to afford time for an investigation of its merits.

Mr. SCOFIELD moved to amend the amendment by postponing for the present; which was accepted by Mr. GREGG.

Mr. RANDALL was opposed to the delay in the consideration of this claim proposed by the amendment.

Mr. SCHELL stated that when the claim was before the Committee on Claims, they had been satisfied that it was just; but they had been unable to decide whether the State or the Sunbury and Erie road should pay it. They had left that matter to be decided by the Senate. He had, as a member of the committee, examined the claim three several times, and saw nothing in it which induced him to think it was unjust. No evidence had been adduced before the committee which warranted its rejection.

Mr. BELL said it was evident, from the statement of the Senator from Bedford, that the claim had not received that investigation which would warrant the payment of so large a sum as seven thousand dollars. He therefore moved its reference to the Committee on Claims.

Pending the discussion of the motion, the hour of 5 o'clock having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the Senate until to-morrow morning, at 10 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, March 2, 1859.

The House was called to order at 9½ o'clock, by the SPEAKER.

The Clerk read the Journal of yesterday.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the proceedings of a meeting of citizens of the Twenty-third ward, Philadelphia, in favor of Sunday travel on city passenger railways.

Also, the eleventh annual report of Girard college.

Mr. NEALL moved that the Private Calendar be taken up and completed.

Mr. CHASE called the orders of the day.

Mr. GOOD, on leave, from the committee of conference to which was referred the differences between the two Houses, in relation to the amendments to bill No. 91, from the House of Representatives, (Senate bill No. 358,) entitled "An Act to incorporate the Ironton railroad and mining company, in Lehigh county," made a report; which was read, as follows:

That they have met a similar committee appointed by the Senate upon the subject of the differences between the two Houses on said bill, and have agreed to recommend to the respective Houses, as follows:

That the House recede from its non-concurrence in the amendments made by the Senate to the first section of the bill; and also, that the House recede from the amendments made by the Senate, by adding two new sections, numbers ten and eleven to said bill, and have agreed to recommend to the two Houses, by amending the first section of said bill, by striking therefrom the word "and" in the seventh line, amended by inserting after the words "Franklin P. Mukley," in the same line, the words, "James Schadt, William Schadt, Thomas Laubach, Daniel Steekel, D. J. Franklin Deshler, James Newhart, Paul Balliet and Stephen Balliet," and by inserting after the word "Foglesville," in the thirteenth line, the words "or with the Lehigh valley;" which was read and adopted by the House.

Mr. KINNEY rose to a privileged question. He said, in the Record of the 25th ult., Mr. THOMPSON, of Butler, was represented as offering an amendment to the appropriation bill, to appropriate $1000 to the Northern home of Bradford county. This was an error, as no such institution existed in his county, and his constituents asked no such appropriation.

In the same Record, the same gentleman was represented as offering a resolution to pay D. R. McClain seven dollars per day for his services while a member in this House. He wished to relieve his friend from Butler, by saying that he introduced that resolution himself and voted for it.

In the Record of yesterday, he found the very neat and pertinent speech of his friend attributed to himself. He did not desire to steal his speech, however creditable it might be to him or any other gentleman on this floor. He mentioned these things to relieve himself and the gentleman from Butler from an awkward predicament at home. He was not aware that he was so good looking as to be so frequently taken for the gentleman from Butler.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) alluded to the confusion which frequently occurred in the names of himself and Mr. LAWRENCE of Dauphin. He disclaimed any intention, however, of reflecting on the Reporters.

Mr. HAMERSLY referred to the misplacement of his name.

APPROPRIATION BILL.

House bill No. 343, as follows, was called up:

AN ACT to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Government, and other general and special appropriations.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the following sums be, and the same are hereby specifically appropriated to the several objects hereinafter mentioned, for the year commencing on the first day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, to be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 2. For the salary of the Governor of the Commonwealth, four thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, two thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, one thousand four hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Auditor General, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, two thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Surveyor General, one thousand six hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Attorney General, three thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Adjutant General, six hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Superintendent of Common Schools, one thousand seven hundred dollars.

For the salary of the State Librarian, eight hundred dollars.

For the salary of the State Treasurer, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, one thousand seven hundred dollars: Provided, That the foregoing salaries shall be paid quarterly at the office of the State Treasurer.

SEC. 3. For clerk and messenger hire, in the Executive and State departments, six thousand dollars.

For contingent expenses in the Executive and State departments, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, one thousand seven hundred dollars; stationery, four hundred and fifty dollars; fuel and lights, one hundred and twenty-five dollars; cleaning offices, one hundred dollars; blank books, fifty dollars; repairs, fifty dollars; geological survey, freights and packages, one hundred and fifty dollars; new carpets in Executive chamber, two hundred dollars; miscellaneous expenses, one hundred and fifty dollars.

For clerk and messenger hire in the Auditor General's office, eight thousand one hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, five hundred dollars; stationery, three hundred and fifty dollars; fuel, seventy-five dollars; miscellaneous, seventy-five dollars.

For clerk and messenger hire in the Surveyor General's office, eight thousand seven hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage, four hundred dollars; stationery, two hundred dollars; fuel, seventy dollars; stove and repairs, sixty dollars; white-washing and scrubbing, fifty dollars; miscellaneous, fifty dollars.

For clerk hire in the Attorney General's office, eight hundred dollars; and hereafter the Attorney General shall be allowed eight hundred dollars annually for clerk hire.

For clerk and messenger hire in the school department, three thousand nine hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: stationery and blank books, three hundred and fifty dollars; postage, including telegraphic dispatches, one thousand two hundred dollars; fuel, light, and cleaning office, sixty dollars; packing and distributing blank forms, laws and decisions, reports, et cetera, to the several districts, six hundred dollars; miscellaneous, fifty dollars.

For clerks, messenger, and night-watch in the Treasurer's office, five thousand four hundred and fifty dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, four hundred and seventy-five dollars; express charges, one hundred dollars; stationery and blank books, two hundred and fifty dollars; fuel and light, seventy-five dollars; miscellaneous, one hundred and fifty dollars.

For miscellaneous expenses of the State Library as follows: repairing telescope, forty dollars; press for stamping, twenty-five dollars; making fires, sweeping, cleansing and white-washing, postage, freight, expenses of purchasing books, stationery, et cetera, three hundred dollars; miscellaneous books and newspapers, six hundred dollars; law books, English and Irish reports, elementary books and civil law, one thousand dollars; Pennsylvania Reports, for exchanges, three hundred and twenty dollars; binding, one hundred and fifty dollars; and assistant, one hundred and fifty dollars.

SEC. 4. For the payment of the expenses of the Legislature, including the pay and mileage of the members, clerks and officers thereof, and the amount authorized by law for stationery, newspapers and lights, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

SEC. 5. For packing and distributing the laws and journals of the Legislature, to be performed under the direction of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, seven hundred dollars.

SEC. 6. For the public printing, folding, stitching and binding, thirty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary on the settlement of the account of the contractor under his contract entered into in pursuance of the act approved the ninth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, entitled "An Act in relation to public printing."

SEC. 7. For the payment to the borough of Harrisburg, for supplying the public buildings with water, as per act of twenty-eighth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty, six hundred dollars.

For payment to the Harrisburg gas company, for gas for public buildings and walks, two thousand dollars, or so much thereof as shall be found due by the Auditor General, under the contract with the company, in pursuance of the charter of said company and its supplement, to be paid on the warrant of the Governor.

SEC. 8. For miscellaneous expenses, to be accounted for in the usual manner, three thousand dollars.

SEC. 9. For the support of the common schools, to be paid on warrants drawn by the superintendent in favor of the several school districts of the Commonwealth, in proportion to the number of resident taxables therein, two hundred and eighty thousand dollars.

SEC. 10. For the payment of pensions and gratuities, ten thousand dollars.

SEC. 11. For the payment of the salaries and per diem allowance of the judges of the supreme court, eighteen thousand seven hundred dollars.

SEC. 12. For the payment of the salaries of the judges of the district court, and the president and associate law judges of the court of common pleas of the city of Philadelphia, sixteen thousand eight hundred dollars.

SEC. 13. For the payment of the salaries of the judges of the district court, and president judge of the court of common pleas of Allegheny county, eight thousand four hundred dollars.

SEC. 14. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the president and associate law judges of the several courts of common pleas in this Commonwealth, except in the city of Philadelphia and the county of Allegheny, fifty-five thousand dollars.

SEC. 15. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the associate judges of the several courts of this Commonwealth, twenty-five thousand dollars.

SEC. 16. For the payment of the interest on the funded debt of the Commonwealth, that will fall due on the first days of July and August next, and the first days of January and February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, two millions of dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

SEC. 17. For the payment of the guaranty of interest for the Danville and Pottsville railroad company, by the act of the eighth of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, and the act of twelfth April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, eight thousand five hundred and seventeen dollars and fifty cents, being the interest in full, on said guaranty, up to the first day of August, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine; to the Bald Eagle and Spring Creek navigation company, by the act of seventh April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, ten thousand dollars: Provided however, That said companies are hereby required to make it appear satisfactorily to the Attorney General that the said appropriations are due from the Commonwealth; and it shall be the duty of the Attorney General so to certify to the treasurer before any of the moneys herein appropriated are paid.

SEC. 18. For the payment of the salaries of the officers of the Western penitentiary, ten thousand one hundred and fifty dollars; also, for gratuities paid to discharged convicts for the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, agreeably to the eighth section of the act of twenty-second of April, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-nine, and the several supplements thereto, three hundred and eight dollars; and for paying in front of the prison, under the compulsory paving law of Allegheny city, the further sum of three thousand one hundred and eighteen dollars.

SEC. 19. For the payment of the salaries of the officers of the Eastern penitentiary, twelve thousand eight hundred and ninety-five dollars; which sum may be drawn from the treasury in equal quarterly portions, on or after the fifteenth day of the months of June, September and December of the present year, and March of next year.

SEC. 20. For the house of refuge of Philadelphia, the sum of twenty thousand dollars.

SEC. 21. For the house of refuge of Western Pennsylvania, in the county of Allegheny, eighteen thousand and five hundred dollars, to be applied as follows: for the salaries of officers, eight thousand and five hundred dollars; additions and repairs, four thousand dollars; and for the payment of debts, six thousand dollars.

SEC. 22. For the Western Pennsylvania hospital, five thousand dollars; and for the purpose of erecting suitable buildings, the further sum of twenty thousand dollars, to be paid to said institution upon a bond being executed to the Commonwealth in said sum, with security to be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, conditioned for the full erection and completion of said buildings without further aid from the Commonwealth.

SEC. 23. For the Pennsylvania State lunatic hospital, the sum of twenty thousand dollars; to be applied to the payment of salaries, the support of the house, the renewal of furniture and fixtures, and to such repairs and improvements as may be required: Provided however, That no part of the money appropriated in this section, except the salaries of its officers, shall be paid unless the accounts of repairs and expenses be found correct by the Auditor General.

SEC. 24. For the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the blind, twenty-two thousand dollars.

SEC. 25. For the instruction of indigent pupils in the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the deaf and dumb, twenty-three thousand dollars: Provided, That the sums appropriated for the instruction of the blind, and deaf and dumb, shall be paid to said institutions, in proportion to the number of indigent pupils received by each, from the several counties of this Commonwealth, at the rates prescribed by law; evidence of the number of pupils to be furnished to the State Treasurer.

SEC. 26. For the Pennsylvania training school for feeble minded children, such amount as said institution may be entitled to receive under the provisions of the sixth section of the act incorporating said school, approved the seventh of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three; and for the purpose of completing the buildings now in progress, the further sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, to be paid to said institution upon a bond being executed to the Commonwealth in said sum, with security, to be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, conditioned for the full completion of said buildings without further aid from the Commonwealth.

SEC. 27. For the Northern Home for friendless children, five thousand dollars: Provided, that the said Northern Home for friendless children shall be subject to the provisions contained in the third section of an act, entitled "A supplement to an act to incorporate the subscribers to the articles of association, for the purpose of establishing and conducting an institution for the confinement and reformation of youthful delinquents, under the title of the House of Refuge," approved March twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six.

SEC. 28. For the Penn Asylum for indigent widows and single women, five thousand dollars.

SEC. 29. For the Howard Institution, under the care of an association of women Friends of Philadelphia, one thousand dollars.

SEC. 30. For Passavant's Pittsburg Infirmary two thousand five hundred dollars; and for the Mercy Hospital, at Pittsburg, two thousand five hundred dollars.

SEC. 31. For the Orphans' Home, at Zelienople, one thousand dollars.

SEC. 32. For the salary of the superintendent of the public printing, eight hundred dollars.

SEC. 33. To Richard J. Haldeman, publisher of the Legislative Record, compensation at the rate of seven dollars per page, for the numbers published at the present session, the amount to be certified as due by the committee on printing of both Houses, and that the fortieth section of an act, entitled "An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of government and other general and special appropriations," approved twenty-first April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, so far as it relates to the continuance of the contract, for the printing of a Legislative Record, with R. J. Haldeman, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SEC. 34. To each of the fire companies of Harrisburg, now organized and in operation, one hundred dollars.

SEC. 35. For the preservation and repairs of the capitol, and improvement of the public grounds, inclusive of the compensation of the superintendent and watchman of the public buildings and grounds, the sum of three thousand dollars: Provided, That all moneys expended and contracts made, shall be at the direction and under the authority of the Secretary of State and the Auditor General.

SEC. 36. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay John A. Small, for services rendered the House of Representatives, the same compensation now allowed by law for an assistant clerk; and for services performed during the last recess, in arranging the papers of last session, et cetera, and for the same services to be performed during the next recess, the further sum of three hundred dollars.

SEC. 37. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, the amounts necessary to pay the pages and folders employed during the present session, at the rate of one dollar per day each, for the time the Legislature is in session, and the further sum of ten dollars each to said pages and folders.

SEC. 38. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay Samuel M'Donnel and John D. Reese, assistant door-keepers, for extra services after night, in and about the Hall, during the present session, one hundred dollars each.

SEC. 39. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay George Manley, at the rate of one dollar and fifty cents per day, for services in cleansing and keeping in order the out-building of the two houses; the actual number of days employed, to be certified to by the Clerk of the House.

SEC. 40. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay Alvin Day nineteen dollars and twenty-five cents, being the amount of a check drawn by the State Treasurer on the Bank of Pennsylvania, in May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and dishonored by said bank.

SEC. 41. For transcribing for committee of ways and means, to be paid on the order of the chairman, twenty dollars.

SEC. 42. For postage and stationery used in the office of the late Attorney General, sixty-seven dollars and fifty-nine cents.

SEC. 43. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the chief clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, for the expense of indexing journals, one hundred and twenty-five dollars each; and also the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars to Jacob Ziegler, the late clerk of the House of Representatives, for indexing the journals for the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

SEC. 44. For the payment of salaries of tonnage agents in full to June first, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, twelve hundred dollars.

SEC. 45. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the officers of the Senate and House of Representatives, except the Speakers, the following additional compensation for services rendered during the present session: To the chief clerks and assistant clerks, each one hundred dollars; to the bill, message, journal, comparing and transcribing clerks, each seventy-five dollars; to the sergeant-at-arms, messenger, door-keeper and post-master, and their assistants, fifty dollars: Provided, That the assistant officers of the House, named by the principal at the first of the session, shall be included in the above.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

Mr. CHASE moved to amend, by making the salary of the State Treasurer two thousand dollars.

Mr. ROHRER said that he would vote to increase the salary to this amount, if it could be made prospective in its character. He had no objection to the present incumbent, but did not like the principle.

Mr. GRITMAN said that if the chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, and the committee, had not perfected the appropriation bill, it should be re committed to them. He did not approve of the principle of the chairman, or some member, getting up and amending every section. If this was to continue, he would move to refer the bill back to the committee.

Mr. CHASE said that the gentleman was somewhat censorious upon the chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, but that if he ever had the fortune to be chosen to fill that position, he would discover the extreme difficulty of perfecting the bill at once. When before committee, the salary of the State Treasurer had been fixed at the same sum as last year, but it had been very justly said that the salary was insufficient. He had, therefore, offered the amendment.

Mr. KINNEY said that there was no necessity of basing any amount upon the appropriation made last year by the Democratic Legislature.

Mr. CHASE further spoke in support of his amendment.

The question being taken, the amendment was lost.

Mr. WARDEN moved to amend, so as to make the salary of the Superintendent of Common Schools to $1400 instead of $1700, as provided for in the bill.

The second section was agreed to, as thus amended.

The third section was read.

Mr. CHASE moved to amend by appropriating to George Bergner & Co. $57 86, for stationery &c., furnished during session of 1857.

The amendment was agreed to; and the section, as amended, was agreed to.

Mr. CHASE moved to reconsider the vote by which the second section had passed. Agreed to.

Mr. CHASE then moved to amend the second section, by appropriating to the Secretary of the Commonwealth $1700 instead of $2000, as provided for in the bill.

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. CHASE also moved to amend, by appropriating to the Auditor General $1700 instead of $2000, as provided for in the bill.

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. BARNESLEY moved to amend by fixing the salary of the Surveyor General hereafter at $1800.

Mr. HAMERSLY opposed this, as it was an increase of $200 over the existing salary.

Mr. THOMPSON moved to amend the amendment by making it $1400.

Mr. BARNESLEY accepted this amendment to his amendment.

Mr. ROHRER moved to amend by making it $1700.

The amendment of Mr. ROHRER was lost.

The amendment of Mr. THOMPSON was lost.

The section passed as amended by Mr. CHASE.

The fourth section was read.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE moved to amend by inserting $123,400 and striking out $150,000; also, to add to the section "that so much of the act passed 21st April, 1858, increasing the salary from $500 to $700 be, and the same is hereby repealed."

Mr. HAMERSLY offered the following amendment to the amendment:

That in lieu of the mileage now allowed by law, it shall be the duty of each member of the Legislature to make a detailed statement under oath of his actual necessary expenses in traveling from his home to the seat of Government, and file the same in the office of the State Treasurer; whereupon it shall be the duty of the said Treasurer to pay such member the amount of said expenses, and a like sum at the end of the session for the purpose of defraying his expenses home.

That the compensation of members of the Legislature, shall be one dollar and fifty cents per day for every day on which they shall be in actual attendance upon their legislative duties, and that the daily pay of the SPEAKER of said House, shall be two dollars.

That all laws or parts of laws inconsistent herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) wished to know whether the provisions of the amendment to the amendment were intended to apply to the members of the present Legislature.

Mr. HAMERSLY replied that they were.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) said that then he would vote for it.

Mr. THORN moved to amend by giving to each member the sum of twenty-five cents additional, that being the cost of making the oath, as to the "actual necessary expenses."

The SPEAKER ruled this last amendment out of order.

Mr. CHURCH moved to amend, "and that the sum of fifty dollars be retained by the State Treasurer out of the pay of each member, for the purpose of founding an institution, for the benefit of decayed legislators."

The SPEAKER ruled it out of order.

Mr. WILLISTON inquired whether the speakers were not in contempt of the House.

On the amendment of Mr. HAMERSLY,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARNESLEY and Mr. PRICE, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolet, Bryson, Burley, Church, Custer, Evans, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Glatz, Good, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Kinney, Mc-haffey, Matthews, McClure, McCurdy, Miller, Neall, Oaks, Pennell, Peirce, Price, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rose, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Taylor, Wagoner, Walker, Witman, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Woodring, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—48.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Barnsley, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Chase, Dismant, Dodds, Durbin, Eckman, Galley, Goepf, Graham, Gratz, Green, Harding, Hill, Hottensine, Jackson, Kenagy, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Nill, Palm, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Rohrer, Shafer, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Styer, Thompson, Thorn, Walborn, Warden, Wigton, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) and Williston—41.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On the amendment as amended by Mr. HAMERSLY,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. NILL and Mr. BARNESLEY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Church, Custer, Evans, Fenron, Fisher, Glatz, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Jackson, Mc-haffey, McClure, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Pennell, Peirce, Price, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rose, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Wagoner, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—39.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Bayard, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Dismant, Dodds, Durbin, Eckman, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Goepf, Good, Graham, Gratz, Green, Harding, Hill, Hottensine, Kenagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Matthews, McCurdy, Palm, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Rohrer, Shafer, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Walborn, Warden, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow, Woodring and Zoller—51.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE said: My reasons for voting no, on Mr. HAMERSLY'S amendments, were, because, I was sincere in carrying my amendment, and that of Mr. HAMERSLY'S was intended to defeat mine, which it has done, thereby preventing a direct vote on the fixed salary of the members.

Mr. WALBORN moved to amend by making the appropriation for expenses, &c., $190,000, instead of $150,000, as provided in the bill, and by increasing the pay of members to $1000 for the session.

Mr. WALBORN said that during the present session, a number of propositions had been made solely for "Buncombe," to reduce the pay of members. In opposition to these he had made this one seriously, and thought that by its adoption, the Commonwealth would be saved money, and would elevate the standard of her legislators. At present, it appeared as if the members came here for the purpose of consuming time for "Buncombe."

The Legislature had been charged with hasty action. In a majority of instances this was well founded: Bills were often called up and hurried through without having even been printed. Let more time be taken, and let them be well considered. If the increase of pay took place, of course the members could give this additional time.

Mr. THORN said that he now understood a matter which had before been mysterious.—This was why his colleague, (Mr. WALBORN,) had so often retarded the business of the House by retaining bills in committee. The amendment of that gentleman ought to carry for one reason, viz: that at least one-thirteenth of the bills before the Railroad Committee had as yet never been considered. Probably they would be if the additional time and salary were granted.

Mr. PRICE wished to know whether the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. THORN,) had not himself been on a committee which had retained a Lancaster gas bill for about six weeks?

Mr. THORN replied that he had not been on any such committee.

Mr. WALBORN said that the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. THORN,) while speaking of the time consumed by committees, should not forget that he had himself favored a motion to print certain bills, whereby the action of the committee was retarded for at least two weeks.

Mr. NEALL said that he should vote for the proposition of Mr. WALBORN, to give the members one thousand dollars. If his constituents expected him to come here for nothing, then he wished to go away with nothing; but if they expected him to maintain a proper respect for himself, he knew very well that they would never countenance the project of one dollar and fifty cents per diem. The members ought to receive the pay of decent white men.

The proposition to give one dollar and fifty cents per diem had been started solely for "Buncombe," and without any other motive. The man who made it, he undertook to say, would not refuse the seven hundred dollars per session and mileage, if it was offered.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) said that the proposition which he sustained was neither to give one dollar and fifty cents per diem or one thousand dollars for the session. As the gentleman had charged him with having originated schemes of reduction for "Buncombe," he wished to say that he could remain here for nothing just as long as that gentleman could. He was under no necessity of making "Buncombe" for the people of Bucks county, whom he had the honor to represent, had never rejected him for any of his acts.

The people of Bucks did not think that it was right for the Legislature to vote itself additional pay, and he had come here, under instructions from his constituents of economy and reform. In his own mind he might think that seven hundred dollars was actually necessary, but he knew very well that if he was to vote for one thousand dollars, his people would give him particular thunder.

Mr. NEALL said the people whom he represented were not parsimonious. They would pat him on the back if he made the salary one thousand dollars. In his former speech he had not referred to any one in particular, but if the shoe had pinched the gentleman from Bucks, it had found the right place. He believed that if the salary was raised to one thousand dollars, the people would have an additional respect for their representatives.

Mr. M'CLURE offered an amendment making the pay five dollars per diem and mileage.

Mr. M. said the proposition of one dollar and fifty cents per diem was ridiculous, although he believed that there was a disposition on the part of the Legislature to make a reasonable reduction. This, he hoped, would be done. In offering his amendment he was serious, and believed that many members had come here pledged to it.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) said that upon this question his constituents had saved him the necessity of making up his mind. The course he intended to pursue could not, he admitted, be reconciled with his vote last year, when regarding seven hundred dollars but a fair compensation for his services, he voted for the salaries as at present established. That vote was given without much consideration at the time, and solely with reference to the question of adequacy of compensation. Having the honor to represent a constituency who place the highest estimate upon a frugal economy; a constituency of farmers, mechanics and laborers; not wealthy, but of ample means prudently husbanded to advance and secure general happiness, exacting in the operations of the State, something at least of the same thrifty management which characterized their own households, his vote naturally excited their surprise and distrust. He seemed to have forfeited their confidence, and thus called upon to review his course, he was forced to the conclusion that it involved a principle that was indefensible, and established a most dangerous precedent. What would be adequate compensation, was a question which few men would answer alike. It varied as much as the education, training, habits, means and position in life of men varied; but while there might be an honest diversity of opinion, there could, and should be no doubt that the principle which lay at the bottom of any legislative action, having for its object the increase of the emoluments of those who themselves propose such action, is at variance with any mode that has ever been suggested for measuring compensation between the employer and the employed, and most pernicious in its consequences. It was entirely ex parte, consulting the wishes and interests of but one party, who was liable to all the tempting influences of self, coupled with unqualified power, to prefer unfounded and exorbitant claims. He would not withhold fair and reasonable compensation to our public servants. It was not Anti-Democratic to pay well enough to justify and enable worthy and competent poor men to hold position, which, under a different system, could only be conferred upon the rich; but it was unwise and almost unprecedented to constitute one interested party the absolute and arbitrary judge of the value of his work and his own paymaster in addition. The sound and honest discretion of the Legislature could be the only check upon this practice, and this could not at all times be relied upon.

In this view of the subject, he, at an early day, submitted an amendment to the Constitution, divesting the Legislature of this dangerous power, which he doubted not, would eventually be engrafted upon the organic law, and produce something of uniformity and stability in the salaries of the representatives. His course upon this question to-day, was in obedience to the expressed wishes and instructions of his constituents, and in further obedience to a sense of duty, by which he trusted ever to be actuated. It was difficult to rise here in the conscientious discharge of duty, without incurring the charge of Buncombe. The cry of Buncombe was often resorted to by the very persons who were its veriest slaves. It would not deter him from expressing on the floor, the wishes of his constituents, or from taking and maintaining whatever position his convictions of right suggested to him as proper to be taken and maintained. The gentleman from Philadelphia would bear in mind that the cry of Buncombe could do no harm, and had none of the characteristics of an argument, and that if it meant, as intimated, a course of conduct induced by a fear of the judgment of an honest constituency, it was more a eulogy than a censure to be liable to the charge.

Mr. M'CLURE said that the allegation which had been made that his proposition might tend to protract the session and give the members more than $700, was an absurdity. No session could last for two hundred days, and probably all might be done in sixty days, with industry. Every member who was in business would necessarily lose by remaining at Harrisburg at $5 per diem during the spring months. If it was feared that they would receive too much, let the time be limited during which they would get the daily pay.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that he certainly had offered the $1 50 amendment solely for Buncombe, so that the men who were publicly crying for a reduction, and privately opposing it, might have a chance to explain themselves.

Mr. GRATZ proposed that in future the seats in the House should be given to the best and lowest bidder.

Mr. ZOLLER said that he came here expecting to receive $700. If he had known that he was to get $500, he would have had the choice of coming or not. He did not believe in violating the contract which had been formed between himself and the people.

Mr. CHASE had voted heretofore in favor of an increase of salary, but would not do so in future, inasmuch as he considered $700 a fair and reasonable compensation. The gentleman from Berks, (Mr. SMITH,) had said that a political sword was suspended over his head, and that he was bound to his constituents for economy. He honored him for respecting these obligations. He was utterly opposed to going back to the per diem system of remuneration, and believed that if the opinion of nine-tenths of the people of the State was asked, they would express themselves in favor of fixed salaries for the session.

Mr. NILL was opposed to the principle of per diem pay. It had been said that the dollar and a half per diem project was solely for "Buncombe," and the gentleman had declared that many members who openly favored these schemes of reduction, secretly worked in opposition to them. He wished the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. HAMERSLY,) to name some of them.

Mr. HAMERSLY replied that he would be charitable. He would not name them.

Mr. NILL said that the gentleman seemed to imply that he was one. If that was the intention, the assertion was certainly incorrect.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that he had not alluded to the gentleman from Franklin, (Mr. NILL.)

Mr. NILL had so understood him.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that he had always found the gentleman disposed to meet questions fairly.

Mr. NILL alluded to remarks which had been made relative to pay for "decent white men."—Did the gentleman who made those remarks suppose that there were any but decent white men in the Hall, or did he have any reference to the gentleman from Tioga, (Mr. WILLISTON?)

Mr. NEALL explained the expression which he had used.

Mr. NILL expressed himself satisfied. He would be willing to abide by whatever decision the House might make. He should vote for five dollars per diem, although, as he had before said, he was opposed to the principle of paying by the day, and would much prefer a fixed salary. Several years ago, the members had received three dollars per diem during the session, with the proviso, that after a certain time they should get but one dollar and fifty cents. There were now no public works to be legislated for, and no reason for protracting this session to an unusual length. It might be gone through with in an hundred days at least. He could not endorse the assertion that the time had already been fooled away, for, speaking both on behalf of the members and personally, he was certain that great industry had been evinced.

Mr. CHASE said there were two reasons why he could not appreciate the arguments of the gentleman from Franklin, (Mr. NILL.) The first one was that he had said he would vote for five dollars per diem, and yet had expressed himself in opposition to receiving pay by the day. The second was, that last year he had declared that there was an implied contract between himself and his constituents, which should not be broken. How, then, was it, that the gentleman from Franklin, (Mr. NILL,) was willing to violate it now, by taking two hundred dollars less than his existing compact with his constituents called for?

Mr. NILL argued in defence of the position which he had assumed, and favored the salary system over the per diem pay.

Mr. BARLOW was opposed to the amendments of both the gentleman from Franklin, (Mr. M'CLURE,) and Philadelphia, (Mr. WALBORN.) He was opposed to the former, because it was possible that under its provisions, members would actually, by prolonged sessions, draw more money than they now received.

Mr. KENEAGY would vote against the amendment for five dollars per diem, because he considered that it would not be ample, and that it would tend to induce members to add many little et ceteras to their bills. He should also vote against the proposition of the gentleman from Philadelphia, to increase to one thousand dollars, because he was satisfied that seven hundred dollars was enough.

Mr. WALBORN was satisfied with seven hundred dollars, but had offered to increase to one thousand dollars, in order to show what he was privileged to believe, viz: that his constituents would sustain him in that sum.

Mr. WILCOX rose to a privileged question, and called the previous question.

The call was withdrawn.

Mr. KETCHUM said—

He felt it due to his constituents upon this occasion, to give expression to their opinions and his own. In doing this he had no desire to waste time.

The compensation of the members, it was very evident, could not be regulated by either the quality of their services, or the amount of time consumed. It would be very difficult to ascertain what these services were really worth, but he had enough respect for his associates to believe that their services were as valuable as those of any legislative body in the Union, notwithstanding they were so decried and underrated by certain hangers on, who came to Harrisburg to bore and worry the Legislature, and who, with hat in hand and bended knee, strove to obtain their ends, whether just or unjust, and when rejected by members in the honest discharge of duty, slandered and abused the very men whom they had just courted, with most disgusting fawning and sickening adulation.

As to the manner in which the House had employed its time, the best evidence of industry was afforded by the fact that on the 1st of February, 1859, over one hundred more bills were passed than on the same date of 1858. He felt it due the House to say that its progress (with the business of the State,) had been as rapid as was consistent with the proper discharge of its duties, and that order and dispatch and gentlemanly deportment had characterized its proceedings as uniformly as any assembly ever gathered here. It was high time that slanders charging it with negligence and incompetency were set right, and that some member raised his voice in its just defence.

As he had said, no measurement of pay could properly be made by the services performed.—No complaint had been uttered that the Legislature was paid too much, but the voice of the people of a Commonwealth, over forty millions of dollars in debt, had declared that if that Commonwealth would lift that burden of debt from her shoulders that now crushed her to the earth, and would redeem and would sustain her credit, she must pay her legislators what she could afford to pay them, without inquiring about the value of their services. Every tax-payer took this fair and proper view of the matter; and thereforo, while fully concurring with the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. WALBORN,) that a thousand dollars per session would not be too much for any man fit to be a member of either branch of this Legislature, as poor as the State is, and burdened with taxes as our people are, yet he felt bound to oppose any attempt to increase their burthens. In this matter, he agreed with the people, that honor, honesty and duty, required us to be just, before being generous. It was proper for Pennsylvania first to pay her legal debts before being liberal with those whom she detailed to make her laws.

He was in favor of reducing the salary of members to what it had been before the increase to seven hundred dollars, and had no doubt that others, like him, would be willing to take five hundred dollars until the State was able to pay better.

The amendment of the gentleman from Franklin, (Mr. M'CLURE,) he must oppose, for there was a probability that it would raise the salary to more than five hundred dollars. There had been a time when members received three dollars per diem, and before the session was half finished, or the business half disposed of, this Legislature became obnoxious to the charge, whether justly or not, that its sessions were purposely protracted; that legislation was pursued for the benefit of legislators; that they stayed here as long as possible, solely to pocket the per diem. While he did not believe that this Legislature would furnish any occasion for any such imputation, yet to relieve the present and future assemblies, he would now vote to reduce and permanently fix the pay at five hundred dollars, and then if we are here too long, we stay at least, at our own expense, as well as at the expense of the people.

In voting to reduce our pay to $500, I do not feel that I am in any wise lowering the value of our services, nor the estimate the people may have of them. Neither do I think I am in any way lessening the respect of the people for us—at least I am certain that when I meet my constituency they will thank me for contributing to retrench the expenses of the government, and thereby enable the State to relieve herself from her burden, and the tax-payers to hope that the day may come when their property and their hard earnings shall be their own absolutely, and not mortgaged for the payment of an overwhelming debt, in the creation of which most of them have had so little to say, and from which they have derived so little benefit.

And I believe that if they were here to-day they would all say that they had no quarrel about the value of our services, but that $500 was all they could afford to pay.

I do not believe they would tell me that my services were not worth to the State $700, or that $700 would forfeit my political reputation. It is true, I do not know, it is hard to tell, the exact state of my political health since I have been in Harrisburg; yet, Mr. SPEAKER, I believe my political reputation is still worth $700—and I can afford to take $500 for my services so long as the people cannot pay me any more. If the constituency of the gentlemen from Philadelphia can afford and are willing to pay them any more, I am glad to hear it, and only wish the rest of the State were as well off.

Mr. WILCOX renewed his call for the previous question.

The call was sustained by Messrs. ROHRER, ROSE, GOOD, PENNELL, ZOLLER, HARDING, RAMSDALL, MATTHEWS, GLATZ, WILCOX, PALM, BOYER, (Clearfield,) and GRAY.

The SPEAKER. Shall the main question now be put?

Agreed to. On the question,

Shall the amendment to the amendment pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARNSELY and Mr. PRICE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Balliet, Barnsley, Bertolet, Custer, Durboraw, Evans, Galley, Glatz, Good, Gray, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstino, Jackson, Lawrence, (Washington,) Melhaffey, M'Clure, McCurdy, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stuart, Taylor, Wagenseiler, Walker, Warden, Witman, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Withrow, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker 35.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Ferron, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Goepp, Graham, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Kenagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Mann, Matthews, M'Dowell, Miller, Palm, Pennell, Peiree, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Pughe, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Shafer, Sheppard, Stephens, Stoneback, Styer, Thompson, Thorn, Walhorn, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williston, Wilson, Woodring and Zoller—59.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. HAMERSLY desired to explain his vote. The proposition was calculated to increase the pay of members, and therefore he had voted against it.

Mr. HARDING thought it was all got up for Buncombe, and therefore he had voted against it.

Mr. NEALL thought that the amendment to the amendment was making the salary approximate nearer to $1000. He had therefore voted for it.

Mr. SMEAD wished to reduce the expenses of government as much as possible. The gentleman from Franklin (Mr. M'CLURE,) had said that the amendment to the amendment would effect this object, and therefore he had voted for it.

Mr. STEVENS said, my reason for voting against this amendment, is because I think it will have a tendency to increase our salaries by protracted sessions, instead of diminishing them. I am in favor of a fixed salary of $500 and mileage.

Mr. THORN said that he had voted against it, because it was a reflection upon the intelligence of constituents, to question whether their Representatives should have barely enough to pay expenses. His constituents were no more pennurious than others. He did not know whether they cared much about this matter. Certainly the constituents of the gentleman from Franklin did not, because of the two members now holding their seats from that district, one had voted last session to increase the pay of legislators, and one to the contrary.

Mr. WARDEN said, Mr. SPEAKER, I wish to give my reasons for the vote I have cast on this question. Feeling desirous of representing the wishes and feelings of my constituents, and believing that the gentleman from Franklin, (Mr. M'CLURE,) offered this amendment for the purpose of reducing the salaries of the members of the Legislature to their former rate, I have voted "I." But at the same time, would prefer a fixed salary to per diem pay.

Mr. ZOLLER had voted against the proposition, because he knew that his constituents were not mean enough to wish him to vote for it.

Mr. GRAY voted in the affirmative for the reasons alleged by Mr. SMEAD.

Mr. WAGENSELLER. Before voting, I wish, at this stage of the proceedings, to give my reasons for the vote I am about to give.

I have voted all the session, as the record shows, in favor of retrenching the expenditures, in favor of reducing our own salaries, and I have not voted for Buncombe. I voted as I did, because I believe it was right that I should do so; because the State of Pennsylvania is burdened down with an immense debt, and is entitled to all the relief we can grant her. I think it is especially due from this House, that this reduction should be made.

I have not succeeded in my wishes on these votes. The resolution reducing the salary or extra compensation has not carried; another proposition has been introduced upon which we are just voting. I vote "aye" on that question, because the average length of sessions heretofore would not make the number of days amount to the seven hundred dollars. I vote for it in good faith, believing that if the amendment of the gentleman from Franklin carries, that the salary of members of the Legislature will be reduced.

Mr. PALM voted "no" because he did not believe that there were six members of the House who desired a reduction.

Mr. KINNEY gave the following reasons for his vote on the above question:

My reasons for voting against the amendment of the gentleman from Franklin, (Mr. M'CLURE,) to fix the pay of members at $5 per day, are, that the per diem system is an exploded system in Pennsylvania, and would tend to prolong the sessions; and, on the whole, increase the expenses of the government.

Mr. FLEMING gave his reasons for voting "no" on the amendment of the gentleman from Franklin, because he sincerely believed it would result in increasing the compensation of members to more than $500, the sum which he thought sufficient compensation. It being evident that every day over one hundred, would result in some $800 per day expenses, and hold out inducements for prolonged sessions.

Mr. PINKERTON said he was opposed to the amendment offered by the gentleman from Franklin, (Mr. M'CLURE.) He believed if the amendment carried, that the expenses of the government would be increased rather than diminished. The expenses each day, apart from the pay of members, are not less than $500 per diem, in this House and Senate; and he felt satisfied if this amendment prevailed, that hereafter, instead of the session lasting, as they should, but about eighty days, they would be prolonged to not less than one hundred and twenty-five days. This, at $5.00 per diem, would amount for pay of members, in House and Senate, to $83,125; to which add forty-five days extra for officers' pay, light, &c., at $500 per day, making in the whole $105,625; whilst the present session of about ninety days, at $700 per day for members, will cost but $93,100: saving to the Commonwealth $12,525.—For these reasons he should vote against the amendment, and hoped that it would not prevail.

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) said he voted against the amendment of the gentleman from Franklin, for similar reasons as those given by his colleague, (Mr. PINKERTON,) and believing fully that should the amendment carry, it would greatly increase the expenses of this Commonwealth.

Mr. BERTOLET said—

I vote against the increase of pay of the members of this House, on the ground, that I think five hundred dollars is sufficient for any member, who comes here, for the short time that his services are required.

A mechanic or laborer, who labors a whole year, scarcely earns more than one-half what members of the Legislature receive. Hailing from a county, as I do, whose citizens have been brought up to economy and frugality, I cannot consistently vote for any increase of pay over the five hundred dollars salary, and therefore, shall be performing no more than doing my duty to my constituents.

Mr. ROHRER, before voting, said that he wished to state his reasons. He had come here, as he honestly believed, under a contract to receive seven hundred dollars. And this amount, he as honestly believed, his constituents agreed by their votes to give him. It was a fair, honest and honorable contract between the parties. He was willing to vote for a resolution prospective in its character, as to a reduction of pay, and if such a resolution was offered, would vote for it. Then every Representative asking the position would do so, knowing what he was to receive, and would have to be satisfied therewith. As it was, he had incurred expenses during the political campaign, and even up to the present moment, in proportion to what he believed the contract between him and his constituents honestly called for.—He was conscientiously opposed to increasing a salary, as he deemed it little short of robbing, when it was done by the parties who were to receive the benefit of it, and he was equally tenacious about reducing a salary when it existed at the time of election, as a fixed fact, and to him was the very essence of the contract.—In addition, he would say, that there was no exactions made by his constituents to secure and insure their votes; he believed they voted for him without ever for a moment desiring that he should reduce the pay of Representatives, and more particularly reduce that pay upon himself; but notwithstanding no such restrictions were placed upon his legislative course, he would, in exercising his own judgment, vote for any prospective resolution reducing the pay of members to a fair, honest and honorable compensation. But he could not, in justice to his wife and children, [and for which he thanked God, he was blessed with both,] vote away from their support the sum asked for by this amendment. He considered they had an interest in this matter as well as himself, and he would never consent to make them the innocent sufferers, for the sake of gaining a little "Buncombe," kettle-drum notoriety. He was in favor of economy in every department of life, and his constituents, who knew him intimately, he was satisfied, were willing to risk his judgment in the premises. He did believe that inadequate compensation gave rise to all the corruption that has been charged to previous Legislatures; for he had already heard men say they were willing to act in the capacity of Representative, and pay their own expenses. This could not be done, of course, without an "eye-seeing to be one thing needful" in other quarters, and he had no hesitancy in believing that "money would be made" in the operation. A fair compensation was all he thought any man should get. Extremes ought to be avoided both ways—one to revert corruption, and the other an empty treasury. Under all the circumstances, he was willing to meet his constituents. If they said the great State of Pennsylvania was in more need of the two hundred dollars than he and his family were, after holding out the false pretence" and the inducement, he was willing to abide by their decision. He believed he knew them better—he believed they had more honor.

The amendment of Mr. WALBORN was withdrawn.

The section was agreed to.

The fifth section was read and agreed to.

The sixth section was read and agreed to.

The seventh section was read and agreed to.

The eighth section was read and agreed to.

The ninth section was read and agreed to.

The tenth section was read and agreed to.

The eleventh section was read and agreed to.

The twelfth section was read and agreed to.

The thirteenth section was read and agreed to.

The fourteenth section was read and agreed to.

The fifteenth section was read and agreed to.

The sixteenth section was read and agreed to.

The seventeenth section was read and agreed to.

The eighteenth section was read.

Mr. FOSTER offered the following amendment:

"And for extending the wall and constructing additional cells, $10,000."

Mr. FOSTER argued that the present building was insufficient; that there were but seven vacant cells in the institution; that there was an excess of twenty-nine inmates over the number at the same time last year, and that unless some measures of relief were adopted, the board of directors would be unable, without the exercise of the pardoning power by the Governor, to comply with the requirements of law governing the institution.

Mr. THORN hoped that the amendment would carry.

Mr. CHASE could not deduce from the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny, any necessity for the appropriation. Why had the matter not been brought before the attention of the committee?

Mr. IRISH said that the reason why it had not been brought before the committee was, that the board of directors had but recently determined to solicit legislative aid. He had been informed by members of the board that the law could not be complied with unless some extension of the building was made. The statements of the board were uncontradicted, and he hoped, in view of the facts, that the House would make the appropriation.

The question being taken,

The amendment was lost.

The section was agreed to.

The nineteenth section was read.

Mr. HARDING moved to amend by appropriating $3,000 to put gas in the Eastern penitentiary.

Mr. THORN said there might be a necessity for the amendment, but he could not vote for it. The gentleman behind him had just said that the first proposition to have gas in the building had come from a meeting held just before the opening of the Legislature. Perhaps after the meeting was over, the supply of gas was sufficient for all necessary purposes.

Mr. HARDING said that the institution was one in which all the members were interested, more or less. He had paid a visit to it on special invitation, and had found that the introduction of gas was an actual necessity.

Mr. NEALL, as the representative of the district in which the building was located, desired to speak seriously in behalf of the project. His business had formerly been of such a character, as to oblige him to visit the institution frequently, and it had then been manifest to him that gas was an essential. Inflammable materials were scattered around in profusion, and the fall of a spark from a lamp, such as was used, would be the signal for a heavy conflagration, and general jail delivery.

Mr. KINNEY said that he should vote for the appropriation. He had visited the Eastern penitentiary, and could attest its bad condition.

The buildings radiated from a common center, and were covered with wood, and had arches constructed of the same material. Various business operations were carried on in the interior, with combustible materials lying all around. Something should be done to render the structure fire-proof, particularly when it was considered, that although the building formerly were isolated, it was now surrounded with dwellings, all of which will be destroyed by a conflagration. The question of making it fire-proof internally, was an important one, for a fire would be attended with the most deplorable results, and it was doubtful whether the prisoners could be got out in time to prevent being burned to death.

Mr. CHASE inquired whether the appropriation was asked to make the building fire-proof.

Mr. KINNEY said that it was intended to make it more secure by introducing gas, and thereby avoiding the necessity of carrying lamps from place to place.

Mr. THORN said that the introduction of gas would not suffice to lessen the danger by fire, because the gas would only be introduced into a few apartments.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) said that the gentleman from Bradford, (Mr. KINNEY,) had stated that the ground around the institution was built upon. This was true, but were there not stone walls intervening. He did not approve of furnishing prisoners with the luxury of gas, when countrymen like himself never saw it except when they went to Philadelphia, or some interior one-horse village.

Mr. KINNEY said that gas would be cheaper.

Mr. ABBOTT opposed the appropriation, as it had not been presented properly to the committee.

On the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HARDING and Mr. QUIGLEY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Evans, Gray, Hamersly, Harding, Kinney, Matthews, Neall, Pughe, Quigley, Sheppard, Smith (Berks) and Styer—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eekman, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gratz, Green, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Miller, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Priece, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Rose, Shafer, Shields, Smead, Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wileox, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—74.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The eighteenth section was agreed to.

Mr. NEALL asked leave to make a statement, and moved that an afternoon session be held until the Private Calendar was disposed of.

The SPEAKER said that the motion could not be entertained unless the appropriation bill was postponed.

Mr. CHASE moved to postpone the bill for the present.

Mr. WALBORN hoped that the House would not have an afternoon session. The Railroad Committee met in the afternoon, and that was the only time that they could assemble.

Mr. CHASE wished to know why they could not meet in the evenings.

Mr. WALBORN said that the other committees met in the evenings, and engaged the attention of the members.

Mr. HAMERSLY wished the Railroad Committee to have time to consider the bills which they had so long retained. He wished them to get through, and report upon the bills.

Mr. CHASE said that it was simply a question whether the Railroad Committee should hold one hundred men, while they considered a private bill, to the neglect of the public one, viz: the appropriation bill.

Mr. CHURCH, a member of the Railroad Committee, said that the committee might as well meet in the evening as in the afternoon.

Mr. WALBORN said that it was impossible to obtain a full attendance of the members in the evening.

Mr. NEALL was in favor of disposing of the appropriation bill at once and taking up the Private Calendar.

Mr. FOSTER hoped that the Railroad Committee would be allowed to report. They had in charge one of his bills relating to the orphans' court of Allegheny county.

Senate amendments to House bill, No. 241, were read, and, on motion of Mr. Rose, concurred in.

Senate amendments to House bill, No. 161, were read, and, on motion of Mr. WILCOX, concurred in.

Senate insisting on its amendments to House bill, No. 280, Mr. WALKER moved that a committee of conference be appointed. Agreed to.

The committee consisted of Messrs. WALKER, NILL and WIGTON.

Mr. PALM moved that "An Act relative to the Mt. Carbon railroad," be re-committed to the Committee on Railroads. Agreed to.

Mr. PEIRCE from the Committee to Compare Bills offered a report.

The committee stated that they had waited upon the Governor, who had signed the bills set forth in the following message.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented a message from the Governor, informing the House that he had approved and signed the following Acts of the General Assembly, viz:

"Supplement to an act to incorporate the Pittsburgh and Steubenville railroad company."

"An Act authorizing Asa Dimock, administrator of the estate of his son Lafayette G. Dimock, late of Harrisburg, dec'd, to sell certain unproductive and unimproved lands belonging to said estate."

"A further supplement to an act to erect the town of Sunbury, in the county of Northumberland, into a borough."

"An Act relating to the opening and grading of new roads in Thornbury township, Delaware county."

"An Act to incorporate a company, by the name of the Waynesburg turnpike road company, with power to construct a road from or at a point near the mouth of Bates' Fork, Ten Mile creek, by the way of Waynesburg, to the east end of Morrisonville, in Greene county, Pennsylvania."

WM. F. PACKER.

The hour of one having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until 9½ o'clock tomorrow morning.

No. 444.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

GRATZ, Judiciary—Feb. 25.

AN ACT relative to the time in which courts are required to file their charges and decide motions for new trials.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That whenever a judge of any of the courts of this Commonwealth shall be requested to reduce the opinion of the court to writing and file the same, of record agreeably to the twenty-fifth section of the act of the twenty-fourth of February, one thousand eight hundred and six, entitled "An Act to alter the judiciary system of this Commonwealth," it shall be the duty of the judge to reduce the opinion of the court to record within thirty days, and file the same of record within thirty days after the passage of this act.

SEC. 2. That in all civil suits tried in the several courts of this Commonwealth, in which verdicts are rendered in favor of the plaintiffs, and motions are entertained by the court, or rules granted for new trials, it shall be the duty of the court to decide upon and dispose of such motions and rules within thirty days after argument of such rule or motion; otherwise judgment shall be entered on such verdict, by the prothonotaries or clerks of the respective courts.

No. 439.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

M'CLURE, Judiciary—Feb. 25.

AN ACT relating to rate of interest.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the act regulating the rate of interest, passed the twenty-eighth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, shall be so constructed as not to affect actions pending under the former usury laws; and at the time of the passage of the act of the twenty-eighth May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; and it is the intention of the Legislature that no plaintiff, in any cause, shall be prejudiced by the passage of the last mentioned act, but that the said act is prospective only in its operation.

No. 434.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

IRISH, Judiciary—Feb. 25, 1859.

AN ACT supplementary to an act relating to counties and townships, and county and township officers.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the terms and provisions of the fifth and sixth sections of the act relating to counties and townships, and county and township officers, approved the fifteenth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, be and the same are hereby extended to cities and boroughs.

SEC. 2. That in no case shall any county, city, township or borough, be compelled by any judicial proceeding to pay any claim against the same, or any alleged debt thereof, nor shall any such county, city, township or borough, be compelled by any legal or judicial process whatsoever, to make provision therefor, until a judgment has been first obtained against such county, city, township or borough, by suit or action at common law, in accordance with existing regulations; and then only by execution issued upon such judgment, in accordance with the provisions of the said sixth section of the said act.

No. 298.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BREWER, Militia—Feb. 11.

A SUPPLEMENT to an act, entitled "An Act for the regulation of the militia of this Commonwealth," approved April twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall be the duty of the several county treasurers of this Commonwealth, to prepare annually a statement of the receipts and expenditures of the military fund of their respective counties, setting forth the amount received from each collector separately, and the amount paid each person to whom money may be due; which statement, after being examined and passed by the county auditors, shall be published in the same manner that the other accounts of the said county treasurer are by law directed to be published; the expenses whereof to be paid out of the military fund of said county, and a statement of the same forwarded by the county treasurers to the State Treasurer of this Commonwealth, on or before the first day of February in each and every year.

SEC. 2. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and required to pay out of the aggregate military fund, now accumulated or that may hereafter accumulate, to the several county treasurers, any deficiencies of the county military expenses wherein statements have been duly transmitted agreeably to the first section of this supplement.

SEC. 3. That so much of the fourteenth section of this act, to which this is a supplement, as prohibits the paying any money out of the general military fund, except for the salary of the Adjutant General, his assistant and clerk, be and the same is hereby repealed.

No. 169.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BELL, Judiciary—Feb. 3.

AN ACT in reference to the commissions of justices of the peace and aldermen.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That every person hereafter elected to the office of justice of the peace or alderman shall, within thirty days after the election, if he intends to accept said office, give notice thereof, in writing, to the prothonotary of the common pleas of the proper county, who shall immediately inform the Secretary of the Commonwealth of said acceptance, and no commission shall issue until the Secretary of the Commonwealth has received the notice aforesaid.

SEC. 2. That so much of an act of Assembly as requires constables to send copies of the returns of the election of aldermen and justices of the peace to the Governor of the Commonwealth is hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. That whenever a person elected to the office of alderman or justice of the peace shall fail to give the note of acceptance as provided for in the first section of this act, within thirty days after said election, the office shall be considered vacant and shall be filled as vacancies are now filled by law.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave the names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 45.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

SENATE.

THURSDAY, March 3, 1859.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock, the SPEAKER in the chair.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Bartine, of the Methodist Episcopal church, Harrisburg. The Journal was read and approved.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. WRIGHT, (Accounts,) made the following report:

SENATE OF PENNSYLVANIA,

To GEO. W. PORTER, P. M. Dr.,

For postage on letters and documents sent and received from February 1st to February 28th, inclusive:

Letters sent .....	$224 35
Letters received.....	173 12
Documents sent.....	1111 10
Documents received.....	133 75

$1,642 32

The Committee on Accounts having examined the above account of the Postmaster at Harrisburg, and believing it to be correct, offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the SPEAKER draw his warrant on the State Treasurer in favor of George W. Porter, Postmaster at Harrisburg, for $1,642 32, in full payment of said account.

The above resolution was twice read, considered and adopted.

Mr. NUNEMACHER, (Roads and Bridges,) reported, as committed, "An Act establishing a public ferry across the Allegheny river, in Armstrong county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the Trenton City bridge company."

Mr. FETTER, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 559, "A supplement to an act relative to State roads in Clarion and Venango counties."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, House bill No. 569, "An Act to provide for the election of supervisors in Cross Creek township, Washington county."

Mr. THOMPSON, (same,) with amendment, House bill No. 342, "An Act to amend road laws in Montgomery county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act providing for the laying out of a road from New Castle, Lawrence county, to Emlenton, Venango county."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. RANDALL read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "A supplement to the act incorporating the Locust Gap improvement company."

Mr. TURNEY, "An Act to extend the charter of the Dauphin Deposit Bank."

Mr. MARSELIS, "A supplement to the act incorporating the West Philadelphia railroad company."

Mr. MILLER, "An Act to equalize taxation on corporations."

Mr. FRANCIS, "An Act relative to unadjusted claims against the public works."

Mr. MYER, "An Act to legalize the township election in Terrytown, Bradford county."

Mr. SCHELL, "An Act to incorporate the Franklin high school and Normal institute association of the borough of Martinsburg, in Blair county."

Also, "An Act requiring notice of sales of real and personal estate by executors and other trustees, to be given by printed handbills and advertising in one or more newspapers."

Mr. SHAEFFER, "A supplement to an act incorporating the dock coal company, under the act of Assembly of April 7, 1849, entitled "An Act to encourage manufacturing operations in this Commonwealth," and the several supplements thereto.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. WELSH offered the following; which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That hereafter the sessions of Monday and Friday afternoons be devoted to the consideration of private bills to which there are no objections; and that upon such afternoons any bill that is objected to, shall be put upon second reading without debate, and be placed upon the regular orders of the day.

On motion of Mr. BREWER, the following resolution was twice read, considered and adopted.

Resolved, That the Senate will hold a session this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, for the consideration of private bills, and that an objection to any bill shall put it on second reading.

Mr. SCOFIELD offered the following resolution, which,

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, was referred to the the Judiciary Committee,

Resolved, That the Attorney General be requested to inform the Senate, whether in his opinion the purchasers of the canals under the act of last session, are liable for the claim of Thomas Morley, now pending in the Senate; and what opinion, if any, upon that subject, has been given by his department to the Canal Board

On motion of the same Senator, the following was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That the Auditor General be requested to inform the Senate what action was taken by the Canal Commissioners upon the claim of Thomas Morley, now pending in the Senate, and any other information relative to said claim, that may be within his knowledge.

Mr. MYER offered the following:

Resolved, That Senate bill No. 202, be committed to the Committee on the Judiciary System, with instructions to said committee to proceed without delay to take the testimony, under oath or affirmation, of witnesses that may be produced before them in relation to the claim of Thomas Morley, against the Commonwealth, and that when the said bill, with the evidence and proofs, shall be reported by said committee to the Senate, it shall be the regular order until disposed of.

On motion of Mr. BELL, the words "without delay" were stricken out; and on motion of Mr. WELSH, the latter part of the resolution, making this bill the regular order until disposed of, was also stricken out.

Mr. MYER modified his resolution, so that the committee shall report only so much of the testimony as may be necessary to a proper understanding of the question.

The resolution as amended passed.

On motion of the same Senator, (the rule being suspended,) the following was twice read, considered and adopted.

Resolved, That the State Treasurer be and is hereby requested to communicate to the Senate any information he may have in regard to the amount of relief notes issued under the act of 1841; the amount redeemed; the amount outstanding; the amount, if any, that has been offered in payment of taxes due the Commonwealth either for license or otherwise; the amount refused in payment of such tax or license by the treasurer or other officer; also, the amount over-issued by any of the banks of the Commonwealth, under the provisions of said act; the amount of such over issue redeemed, and the amount outstanding, if any, and any other information touching this subject within his knowledge.

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, the Judiciary Committee was discharged from the consideration of House bill No. 122, "An Act to incorporate the village of Corsica, in Jefferson county, into a borough."

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

House bill No. 203, "An Act to increase the salaries of the judges of the court of common pleas of Philadelphia," came up in order, the question being upon the motion of Mr. GREGG, to strike out the amendment increasing the salaries of the supreme court judges.

Mr. FINNEY, being entitled to the floor when the Senate adjourned yesterday afternoon, remarked that he had nothing to say in addition to what he had urged, yesterday, in support of the allowance of the additional salary proposed, except that the judges of the supreme court were compelled, by necessity, to live two thirds of the year in the city of Philadelphia, and that the compensation allowed them, at present, was insufficient to meet their actual expenses.

Mr. RANDALL, in connection with other Senators, felt a great interest in the increase of the salary of the judges of the supreme court. The salary at present paid them was inadequate to their services, and was not sufficient to enable them to live comfortably, and support and educate their families. There is a provision in the Constitution of the State, which requires that these judges shall be paid a sufficient and adequate salary; and the only question for the Senate to determine is, whether the salary is adequate, or whether it is entirely insufficient to their wants, and not commensurate with the labors performed. If the latter is the case—and of that there did not seem to him to be a doubt—now is the time to increase their salary, when the State is in a prosperous financial condition. The State, he said, had no right to ask the service of the talent, which is found upon the supreme bench, at an insufficient salary. He, himself, knew one judge of the supreme court, whose expenses in educating and supporting his family, exceeded the amount of his salary, some thousand or fifteen hundred dollars a year. It was but simple justice to pay them a liberal salary. The members of the Legislature had provided for themselves a sufficient compensation, and they should not withhold from this important branch of the government the same provision. They should do so upon constitutional grounds alone, if for no other reason; and upon the merits of the case, should do so promptly. Mr. RANDALL, in the course of his remarks, pronounced a high eulogy upon the judiciary of the State.

Mr. SCOFIELD said he was glad to hear such high encomiums pronounced upon the judges of the supreme court, as he had listened to from the Senator from Philadelphia.—They are the people's judges, and he was glad to learn from the debate, that the people had not chosen one weak man—not one lazy man—not one man of bad habits. He had voted to have the judges elected by the people, and was rejoiced to see the people using their power so well. That bench deserved their compliments, and more. The people had not only chosen learned and industrious men, but gentlemen; men who can treat the members of the bar and others who appear in that court, with becoming courtesy; and that was more than some of the Governor's judges did. But in his humble judgment, this court had one fault. Political prejudice might make him see it, but so it seemed to him. While all the judges were educated in the States-right school of politics, they seemed to lean strongly to federalism, as soon as they were once on the bench. Whenever a case arose before them, involving the sovereignty of this Commonwealth, as against the encroachments of federal power, they lean strongly against the State. If they do not find a warrant in the Federal Constitution, they base their opinion on what they call its spirit. These judges were very happily endowed, and Burke says, that ambition is the instinct of great souls. Can it be that our judges, unconsciously to themselves, try to conciliate federal patronage? If this is the case, we might, perhaps, counteract this federal longing, by giving them better pay, and making them contented to serve the State. He would, therefore, vote to increase their pay.

Mr. GREGG further advocated his amendment to strike out the sum of four thousand dollars. The judges of the supreme court, he said, now receive some thirty-five hundred dollars, upon which basis he had made a calculation, showing that their salary is about ten dollars per day for the three hundred and sixty-five days in the year. That was a salary sufficient for any person; and he could see no propriety in making the increase proposed.

Mr. WRIGHT was also opposed to the increase of salary proposed. The salary of the supreme judges had already been increased several times; and there was not a session that the Legislature had not been called upon to add additional compensation for their services. If the salary is now increased to four thousand dollars, the Legislature will soon be called upon to increase it to six thousand, for an increase of salary brings with it a more extravagant style of living. (To a question put by the Senator from Indiana, Mr. WRIGHT said he was also opposed to an increase of the salary of local judges.)

The salary of judges, he believed, should remain as it is; an increase of compensation does not bring with it an increase in the value of the material; but the tendency of it is to bring out as candidates for the position, a miserable batch of pettifoggers. The supreme bench should not be sought for the mere purpose of emolument, but with a patriotic desire to serve the State faithfully, and for the honor which attaches to that high position. He did not believe that the character of the supreme judges would be improved by increasing the salary to ten thousand dollars; and nothing, in his opinion, had tended so much to degrade the character of those judges, as the continued efforts which have been made for an increase of their salary. He had never known a lawyer, in his life, in either branch of the Legislature, who did not keep hammering away at this increase of salary. Let us, he said, hear a word from some one else than the lawyers, upon this subject. Let us hear what the farmers will say—what are the views of our merchants, mechanics and artisans with reference to this proposed increase of salary.

He had not one word to say against the character of the gentlemen who sit upon the supreme bench. He knew them all, and could say that they were gentlemen of high character and worth. He argued at some length against the proposed increase.

Mr. STEELE would vote against the proposition to increase the salary of the supreme judges, and he wished to state the reasons for doing so. They were simply these: he was fully aware that, outside of the bar, in Luzerne county, which he had the honor to represent, that there were not fifty persons who would vote for an increase of salary. He had made a calculation, which showed that these supreme judges are now receiving the interest of about sixty thousand dollars. If they cannot live upon that sum, it is not worth while for the State of Pennsylvania to undertake to provide for them. He was confident that, if the question were left to the people of the State to decide, there would be an almost unanimous voice in opposition to it.

Mr. HARRIS said the discussion had taken a wide range, and yet there had not been shed upon the question one ray of additional light. He alluded to the calculation of the Senator from Centre, showing that the present salary gives to the supreme judges about ten dollars per day. (Sundays included,) for the entire year, which was a sum sufficient to enable any man to live comfortably and decently. He was opposed to the increase of the salaries of any judges, and should vote for the motion to strike out.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion to strike out?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GREGG and Mr. WRIGHT, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Nunemacher, Schell, Schindel, Steele, Thompson, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell. Speaker—19.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Coffey, Finney, Miller, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Scofield, Shaeffer and Turney—12.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. TURNEY moved to add the following words: "and that the salaries of the several law judges of this Commonwealth, now receiving two thousand dollars, be increased to twenty-five hundred dollars."

Mr. BELL would vote for the amendment.—His own experience satisfied him that no body of men, in the service of the State, were so poorly and inadequately paid as the law judges of the Commonwealth. Their duties and labors had increased with the growth of the State, and their present compensation is not one-half, proportionately, what it was formerly. It is true, the Legislature had dribbled out, with a niggardly hand, some little additions to that compensation, but it was still far from being adequate to the services rendered by them; they were utterly inadequate. He would ask any Senator, acquainted with the subject, whether two thousand dollars was an adequate salary for judges, whose duties embraced some two or three, and sometimes four and five counties? He thought the increased compensation should be allowed; and those who oppose it, should ask themselves the question, whether they are discharging a constitutional duty, in refusing that adequate compensation which it provides?

He was sorry to see a spirit of jealousy cherished on the part of a portion of the Senate against the legal profession. It was a feeling to be deprecated, and no one more regretted it than himself.

Mr. FRANCIS said he had voted against the proposition to increase the pay of judges of the supreme court, not because he entertained any unkind feeling towards those judges, nor because of any jealousy which he entertained towards the legal profession. He had a high respect for that profession, and did not regard the members of it, as some did, as mere tricksters. If he was satisfied that four thousand dollars were necessary to justly compensate those judges, he would willingly vote to fix that sum as the compensation. He would also vote for a just compensation to the law judges of the State. He knew at least two judges of the common pleas, who had made much more by their practice, before going upon the bench, than they receive from the salary attaching to the position. Indeed, upon the bench, they were scarce able to meet their current expenses out of their salary.

There was, he said, a certain dignity attaching to the office of a judge, which must be sustained, in order to command for it that respect which renders it effectual for good; and when that dignity is destroyed, they are brought down to the level of A. B. and C., and the respect and influence of that position lost. In the treatment of its public officers, the State should not be penny wise, and pound foolish. They had better pay them liberally. He was in favor of paying every public man liberally, and had no sympathy with those who jump up, upon every occasion which presents itself, and offer some proposition to cut down the salaries of officers, for the mere purpose of Buncombe. The people—the great intelligent people—have no sympathy with such efforts; and if the amendment was pressed, he should vote for it.

Mr. GAZZAM would vote for the amendment, and he wished to present a few reasons for doing so. He did not think the compensation which was proposed, was higher, proportionately, than it was years ago. With the growth of the State, there had been an increase of duties, as well as an increase in the cost of living; and twenty-five hundred dollars is not a relative increase of salary, every thing being taken into consideration. He had no sympathy with that feeling which arrayed class against class, and could not forget what was due to the legal profession. He paid a high tribute to the profession, and narrated instances, both in England and in our own country, in which the members of it had contributed most ready and valuable aid in the cause of liberty and humanity.

Mr. RANDALL desired to State, as briefly as possible, his reasons for voting for the amendment. As one of the representatives of the city of Philadelphia, it would hardly be fair for him to ask or vote for an increase of the salary of the local judges, without voting for a similar increase to others. He would vote for the increase of the salary of the local judges, because he believed the people of Philadelphia were in favor of it, and he was willing to extend to those who occupy judicial positions throughout the State, the same additional increase.

Mr. WRIGHT was opposed to the proposed increase, for the reasons already given by him to the Senate. He had nothing to take back from what he had then said in relation to the subject.

Mr. WELSH was opposed to increasing the salary of the judges of the Commonwealth, because he did not believe the people of the State desire it, or that the finances of the State would justify it.

Mr. MARSELIS wished to say a word or two in explanation of his vote. He did not think the people trouble themselves much about the matter of salaries of public officers, but that they left to the Legislature the task of regulating them as they deemed just. They exercise no interest until a certain point is reached where right is outraged. He considered the proposition to give to the judges of the courts twenty-five hundred dollars a fair and reasonable one. Indeed, he could not see why the law judges should not receive as much compensation as the judges of the supreme court. He would cheerfully vote for the amendment, and he hoped it would be adopted.

Mr. FINNEY moved to amend the amendment by adding the following words:

"And that the salaries of the judges of the supreme court be $3,500 per annum."

Messrs. FINNEY and BELL briefly advocated the justice of this amendment.

On the question, will the Senate agree to the amendment to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. FINNEY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Schell, Seofield, Shaeffer, Turney, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—18.

NAYS—Messrs. Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Nunemacher, Rutherford, Steele, Thompson, Welsh and Wright—13.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Pending the discussion of Mr. TURNEY'S amendment, the hour of one having arrived, the Senate adjourned until 3 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Agreeably to order, the Senate met at three o'clock, P. M.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. CRAIG, Senate bill No. 396, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Quakake railroad company."

On motion of Mr. FETTER, Senate bill No. 184, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Duncannon, Landisburg and Broad Top railroad company, and to change the name thereof to the Pennsylvania Pacific railroad company."

[This bill, on motion of Mr. FETTER, was amended by the addition of a new section.]

On motion of Mr. FINNEY, House bill No. 340, "An Act to incorporate the Presque Isle dock company."

On its final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCHELL and Mr. FINNEY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Craig, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Myer, Nunemacher, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Rutherford, Shaeffer, Schindel, Thompson, Welsh and Yardley—20.

NAYS—Messrs. Schell, Turney, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—4.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. PALMER, House bill No. 276, "An Act to authorize the Schuylkill Valley railroad company, in the county of Schuylkill, to extend their railroad from some suitable point near the town of Tuscarora, to connect with the Little Schuylkill railroad, at or near the town of Tamaqua."

On motion of Mr. GAZZAM, House bill No. 141, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Union School and Children's Home asylum; to provide for the taxation of non resident vendors of merchandize in the city of Philadelphia, and for the relief of Edward Hutchison."

On motion of Mr. HARRIS, House bill No. 298, "An Act to empower the judges of the court of common pleas of Beaver and Butler counties, to establish a tariff of fees and costs in equity cases."

[On motion of Mr. FRANCIS, Lawrence county was included in the bill.]

On motion of Mr. KELLER, Senate bill, No. 341, "An Act to incorporate the Columbia County agricultural, horticultural and mechanical association."

Objection being made to this bill, according to the rule adopted this morning, it lies over on second reading.

On motion of Mr. MARSELIS, House bill, No. 341, "An Act relative to Whitney street, in the city of Philadelphia."

On motion of Mr. MYER, Senate bill, No. 300, "An Act for the appointment of auditors for the borough of Tunkhannock, in the county of Wyoming; and to change the time of holding borough elections."

On motion of Mr. COFFEY, House bill No. 320, "An Act to authorize the town council and burgess of the borough of Kittanning to grade and pave certain streets."

This bill was amended, on motion of Mr. COFFEY.

On motion of Mr. KELLER, House bill No. 102, "An Act relating to road views and road damages in Northumberland county."

On motion of Mr. PALMER, Senate bill No. 254, "An Act to incorporate the New Castle water company."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, House bill No. 325, "An Act to incorporate the Fairmount and Manayunk steamboat company."

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, Senate bill No. 334, "An Act to authorize Lewis R. Geer to erect a ferry across the Allegheny river."

The bill was amended, by granting the above privilege for ten years.

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, Senate bill No. 257, "An Act to incorporate the Bedford gas company."

By request, this bill lies over on third reading.

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, Senate bill No. 441, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Odd Fellows' Hall association of the city of Pittsburg, in Allegheny county, approved April 21, 1852."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, House bill No. 423, "An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia and New Orleans steam navigation company."

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, House bill No. 330, "An Act to incorporate the Union cemetery association of the borough of Lebanon and vicinity."

Objections being made to this bill, it lies over on second reading, according to the rule.

On motion of Mr. GREGG, Senate bill No. 349, "An Act relating to the election of borough officers in the borough of Bellefonte."

This bill was slightly amended.

On motion of Mr. SHAEFFER, Senate bill No. 339, "An Act to incorporate the Marietta, Mt. Joy, Sporting Hill and Manheim turnpike road company in Lancaster county."

On motion of Mr. SCHINDEL, Senate bill No. 425, "A supplement to an act to provide for the erection of a house for the employment and support of the poor in the county of Lehigh."

On motion of Mr. STEELE, House bill No.

150, "An Act to provide for the payment of the expenses of the special election held in Luzerne county, June 8, 1858."

On motion of Mr. THOMPSON, Senate bill 245, "An Act to incorporate the Cheltenham Hills gas and water company."

The bill was slightly amended.

An extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives was read, and is as follows:

Resolved, That (if the Senate concur,) "An Act to incorporate the Mercantile Hall company of the city of Pittsburg," be amended, by striking from the third section the following words:

Provided, That the stock, together with the ground and buildings of said corporation, shall be exempt from the payment of State or county tax, so long as the said buildings shall be occupied by the Young Men's mercantile library and Mechanic's institute as a public library.

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, said resolution having been twice read and considered, was concurred in.

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, House bill No. 254, "An Act relative to the election of supervisors in Salem township, Westmoreland county."

Objections being made, the bill lies over on second reading.

On motion of Mr. CRAIG, House bill No. 270 "An Act to incorporate the Council Ridge and White Haven railroad company."

The hour of five having arrived, Mr. WRIGHT moved to postpone the hour of adjournment.

Agreed to.

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, House bill No. 335, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Marshall savings institution of Philadelphia."

This bill lies over on third reading.

On motion of Mr. YARDLEY, Senate bill No. 199, "An Act to incorporate the New Britain turnpike road company."

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, House bill No. 247, "An Act to authorize the Governor to incorporate a company to erect a bridge over Clearfield creek, in Clearfield county, at Alexander's fording."

This bill lies over on second reading.

On motion of Mr. SCHINDEL, the Senate reconsidered its vote on the adoption of the report of the committee of conference on Senate bill No. 91, and the same was re-committed.

On motion,

The Senate adjourned until to-morrow morning at ten o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, March 4, 1859.

The House was called to order at 9½ o'clock.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Charles A. May.

BILLS CONSIDERED.

On motion of Mr. GOOD, the rules being in this case suspended, the House resumed the consideration of the act relative to division of the borough of Allentown into wards.

Mr. GOOD having obtained the unanimous consent of the House, substituted a new bill; which was read and passed.

On motion of Mr. BAYARD, the rules being in this case dispensed with, the House resolved itself into committee of the whole. (Mr. NILL in the Chair,) on House bill No. 271, "An Act to incorporate the Citizens' passenger railway of Pittsburg."

The first section being before the committee.

Mr. IRISH moved to amend the same by striking out the proviso in the same, to insert "single or," after the word "by," in the fifteenth line, and to insert after the word "track," in the same line, the following:

"As the councils of said city may direct, with the necessary switches and turn outs;" also, insert after the word "thence," in the sixteenth line, the words, "a single or double track;" which amendments were agreed to.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend, by adding the following new corporators: George Bingham, George R. White, Jacob McCollister, P. M. Davis, Archibald Kelly and Will. A. Larc.

Mr. BAYARD hoped there would be no further amendments offered. The bill had been in the hands of the committee for some time, and had been so carefully considered, that he did not believe that a more stringent city passenger railroad bill had ever been before the House. Under these circumstances, he reiterated the hope that its passage would not be clogged by amendments. As it stood, its provisions were fair and just, and in fact so severe that two or three years would elapse before it would be possible for the corporators to reap the reward of their enterprise, and reap any kind of adequate return for their investment. He doubted whether, under the restrictions of the present bill, another body of men could be found, who would be willing to engage in the project.

Mr. FOSTER said that there were plenty of capitalists in Pittsburg and adjacent places, who would be willing, at any time, to build the road on the route proposed, and under the alleged restrictions of the bill before the House. The present corporators, he found, were, many of them, enlisted, either personally or through their friends, in an organization known as the Excelsior omnibus company of Pittsburg. His object in proposing to amend by inserting the names of new men, had been to put the very best party in power that could be found, and to secure the public from the projects of any mere speculative men. It was undoubtedly true that the corporators named in the original bill, were many of them, men of enterprise, and were, moreover, his personal and political friends. But he had not come here to gratify either personal or political preferences, or to reward friends, or to persecute enemies.

As to the amendment which he had proposed, could any gentleman take exception to the names of the corporators therein contained, when such worthy and high-toned citizens as George Bingham, president of the Adams express company, William M. Lyon, one of our most extensive manufacturers, and George R. White, one of our most extensive dealers in dry goods, were included?

His only desire was that strict justice should be done. The route went through the most thickly settled section of Pittsburg, and through the only street which could be used for the purpose. There were but three streets running parallel with the Allegheny river, which were eligible for railroads. One of these, (Liberty street,) had been monopolized by the Pennsylvania railroad company, to whom the people of Allegheny county, (although anti railroad-tax,) had accorded many privileges, not granted the company elsewhere; another one was used by the Allegheny Valley road, and the third one was now asked for the use of the city passenger road. He had no kind of objection to the introduction of roads of this nature; they were undoubtedly great conveniences.

If the gentleman who opposed the amendment would give any objection to any of the corporators proposed, he would withdraw the name.

Mr. IRISH objected to Mr. Wm. A. Larc, as being in a confidential capacity in the business establishment of his colleague.

Mr. FOSTER reiterated his assertion that the corporators whom he had named were responsible and respectable citizens. It was necessary for the safety of the community, that men of this stamp should be chosen, because the powers conferred upon them were immense, and the restrictions but slight. In the bill which was proposed by his colleague, (Mr. BAYARD,) the commissioners were empowered to open books, but there was no provision that they should give one minute's notice of such opening, or allow any citizen to subscribe for stock, for property holders on the line, and men with small amounts to invest, to acquire an interest in the improvement. Was it right then, that ninety-nine hundredths of the people should be debarred from subscribing?

He had made every effort, in and out of the House, to have the matter properly settled, between himself and the other members from his county, so that the time of the House might not be consumed. He had been willing and anxious to take up the bill, propose amendments, and have them discussed, and to further this aim, he had proposed some time since, that the consideration should be referred to a committee, consisting of his colleagues and himself, in order that this discussion might be avoided in the House.

He would withdraw one, or even two names, from those which he had given, if the gentlemen would give any valid objections to them. In answer, however, to the interrogatories, whether he had offered those names by request of the parties, he would say that he had not.

Mr. BAYARD said that the bill had been carefully considered by the members of the delegation from Allegheny county, and the majority of them had agreed that it was a proper one. He would defy any man to find better corporators than those named in the first section.

The railroad was a public necessity. The time had come when omnibusses would no longer answer, and by the introduction of the city passenger road, he hoped to relieve Pittsburg from any charge that might be instituted of old fogyism. He would be the last one in the world to do anything against her interests, and would vote against any project that would operate to her detriment. The names of the corporators were those of honest and reliable men, and he could not see the reason for adding those of his colleague, (Mr. FOSTER.)

The bill had already been detained too long. To please the gentlemen who opposed it, it had been locked up in committee until the people of the section by which it was affected were astonished at the delay.

At first, many of the people of Allegheny had been opposed to the introduction of city passenger railroads, and had appointed a committee to come to Harrisburg and confer with the legislators upon the subject. The committee had decided that the institutions would be of utility, and the feeling against the roads, which had existed principally in the Fifth and Ninth wards, had been conquered.

He hoped that the amendment of Mr. FOSTER would be voted down.

Mr. IRISH said that previous to the reference to the committee of the bill under consideration, Mr. FOSTER had introduced another bill, which he had published in the Pittsburg papers. Those two bills were consequently both before the committee, and as a compromise, some six or eight of the provisions of Mr. FOSTER had been introduced into the conflicting project. So far as the amendment was concerned, he did not know that he would have any particular objection to it.

Mr. PINKERTON hoped that the time of the House would not be consumed by this railroad bill. If the gentleman would stand up all day and argue, he did not believe that it would affect the merits of the case.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved that the committee rise, report progress, and ask leave to sit again.

The committee rose, but refused to sit against the SPEAKER resumed the Chair.

The bill being then on second reading, the first section was read, as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That James Verner, Alexander Speer, Richard Hays, W. M. Darlington, Joshua Rhodes, Richard L. Ewalt, Nathaniel Holmes, O. H. Rippey, R. E. McGowin, William Coleman, James P. Barr, J. H. Jones, Thomas D. Loomis, S. F. Mackenzie, A. S. Bell, F. M. Hutchinson, M. B. Brown, J. R. Sill and D. L. Eaton, or a majority of them, be and they are hereby appointed commissioners, to open books for the purpose of receiving subscriptions to the capital stock of the company hereby incorporated, by the name, style and title of the Citizens' passenger railway company, with power to lay out and construct a railway of a single track, and the necessary sidings and switches, from the intersection of Market and Fifth streets to Liberty street; thence along and across Liberty street to Cecil's alley; thence along Cecil's alley to Penn street; thence along Penn street by a double track to the Greensburg and Pittsburg turnpike road; thence along the said turnpike road to Butler street, in the borough of Lawrenceville, and thence along said street to the Lawrenceville and Sharpsburg plank road; thence by the said plank road and by way of the Sharpsburg bridge into the borough of Sharpsburg: Provided, That the said company shall be required to lay a double track as aforesaid, from Cecil's alley, on Penn street, along said street and the Greensburg and Pittsburg turnpike road, to the borough of Lawrenceville, before they shall be permitted to use any part of their said road.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend the first section of the bill by inserting the names of Messrs. George Bingham, Wm. M. Lyon, George R. White, Jacob McCollister, P. M. Davis, Archibald Kelley, (of Sharpsburg) Wm. A. Larc and Wm. Bakewell among the corporators.

Mr. GALLEY offered an amendment to the amendment, by inserting the name of Charles Cheeny.

The amendment to the amendment was lost.

The question recurring upon the amendment of Mr. FOSTER,

Mr. FOSTER said that he had been but once invited to visit the meetings of the Allegheny county committee and consider the bill. He had then thought that something would be agreed upon, and was sorry to find that such had not been the fact.

The gentleman, (Mr. BAYARD,) had said that his constituents were anxiously waiting for the passage of the bill. Why, the constituents of the gentleman lived some two miles from the terminus of the road. How they were particularly interested, he could not see.

There was no such ignorance as was alleged of city passenger railroads, in Pittsburg. It was true that a committee had come on to Harrisburg to oppose all projects, but they had met with no encouragement from him; and after having, at his suggestion, visited Philadelphia, changed their views completely; at least with one or two exceptions.

Mr. BAYARD said that his constituents were certainly interested in the road, because it would, when completed, afford them easy access to the city of Pittsburg.

The question being taken on the amendment of Mr. FOSTER,

The amendment was lost.

Mr. IRISH offered the following amendment to the section:

Strike out the proviso requiring a double track, and also insert: "by a single or double track, as councils may direct;" which was agreed to.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend the first section, by striking out all after the name of the company, and inserting:

"With power to construct a passenger railroad, with tram rail, from the Borough of Sharpsburg, in the county of Allegheny, by way of the Sharpsburg bridge, along the Lawrenceville and Sharpsburg plank road, Butler street, in the borough of Lawrenceville, and the Greensburg and Pittsburg turnpike road, to Penn street, in the city of Pittsburg; thence along Penn street for such distance as will enable it to connect with either of the following routes, to wit: First, along St. Clair street to Liberty; along Liberty and Union streets to Fifth; thence along Fifth, Smithfield, Liberty and Wayne streets to Penn street. Second, along Cecil's alley and across Liberty to Fifth street; along Fifth, Smithfield, Liberty and Wayne streets to Penn street. Third, along Pitt to Liberty street; across Liberty street and along Ferry, Fourth, Smithfield, Liberty and Wayne streets to Penn. Fourth, along Pitt to Liberty street; across Liberty street and along Ferry, Third, Smithfield, Liberty and Wayne streets to Penn street: Provided, That councils of the city of Pittsburg shall, within thirty days after giving their assent to the use of the streets of said city by said company, designate upon which of the routes numbered first, second, third and fourth, said road shall be constructed—otherwise, the company shall select one of said routes."

The question being taken,

The amendment was lost.

The first section, as amended by Mr. IRISH, was then agreed to.

The second section was read, as follows:

SEC. 2. That the capital stock of the said company shall consist of two thousand shares of fifty dollars each: Provided, That the directors of the said company may at any time increase the same to four thousand shares, if deemed necessary to complete their said road.

The second section was agreed to.

The third section was read, as follows:

SEC. 3. That when one thousand shares of the stock shall have been subscribed, and five dollars paid in on each share, the said commissioners, or any five of them, shall certify, under their hands and seals, the names of the subscribers, and the number of shares subscribed by each, to the Governor of the Commonwealth; and it shall be thereupon the Governor's duty, by letters patent, under his hand and the seal of the State, to create and erect the said subscribers, their associates, assigns and successors, into one body politic and corporate, in deed and in law, by the aforesaid name, style and title of the Citizens' passenger railway company; and by the said name they shall have perpetual succession, with power to make a corporate seal, and the same to alter, modify and renew at pleasure; and to ordain, establish, and put in execution, such by-laws, ordinances, rules and regulations, as shall appear necessary and convenient for the government of said corporation, and not being contrary to the Constitution and laws of the United States or of this Commonwealth; and shall be able and capable of taking and holding their capital stock, and the increase and profits thereof, and of purchasing, taking, receiving and holding, all such real estate and personal property as may be necessary and convenient to enable them to carry on the traffic of their said road, and the other purposes for which they are incorporated, with economy, facility and dispatch; and the same to exchange, barter, sell, let or lease, on ground rent, mortgage or lease or otherwise dispose of at their pleasure, and of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, by their corporate name; and shall have generally all the rights, privileges, franchises and incidents, belonging and appertaining to a corporation; and the right of doing all and every other matter and thing which a corporation may lawfully do.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend, by inserting:

"That the commissioners aforesaid shall give at least two weeks notice in three or more daily newspapers of said city, of the time and place of opening books for receiving subscriptions to the stock; at which time and place they shall meet, and shall continue in session at least five hours each day, and from day to day, Sundays excepted, for ten days, or until one thousand shares of stock have been subscribed: Provided, That on the first day no person, corporation or firm shall subscribe for more than five shares; on the second day, for more than ten shares; on the third day, for more than twenty shares: And provided further, that no subscription shall be received unless five dollars on each share be paid at the time of subscribing, and that no stock shall be subscribed by virtue of any proxy or power of attorney," &c.; and by providing that "a majority" instead of "any five" of the commissioners should certify the subscriptions to the Governor.

On the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FOSTER and Mr. BAYARD, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Balliet, Barnsley, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Chase, Custer, Dismant, Evans, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Gray, Harding, Hill, Hottentstine, Jackson, Oaks, Peirce, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Warden, Witman, Wilcox and Woodring—29.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schnylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Church, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Glatz, Goepp, Good, Graham, Gratz, Green, Keneagy, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Matthews, McClure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Nill, Palza, Patterson, Price, Pughe, Shafer, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—49.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The third section was agreed to.

The fourth section was read as follows:

SECTION 4. That the persons named in the letters patent, or any five of them, shall, as soon as conveniently may be after the same shall have been received, give at least ten days' notice in two or more daily newspapers printed in the city of Pittsburg, of a time and place to be by them appointed, at which the subscribers shall proceed to organize the said corporation; and shall choose by a majority of said subscribers, by ballot, to be delivered in person, five managers, all of whom shall be citizens of Allegheny county, who shall, immediately choose one of their number to be president; all of whom shall serve until the third Monday of January then next succeeding, or until their successors are regularly and lawfully chosen: Provided, That each and every member of said corporation shall be entitled to a vote for each and every share of stock held by him or her.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend, so as to allow a stockholder one vote for each share, "to the number of twenty, and one vote for every five shares exceeding that number."

The question being taken,

The amendment was lost.

The fifth section was read, as follows:

SECTION 5. That said company shall have power to raise on bonds, to be secured by a mortgage of the road, including all its stock and franchises, any sum not exceeding one-half of the amount of the capital stock authorized by this charter, for the purpose of carrying out the true intent of this act: Provided, That no bond shall be issued for a less sum than one hundred dollars, with interest, at a rate not exceeding seven per centum per annum.

The fifth section was agreed to.

The sixth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 6. That said company shall not allow the transfer of any share or shares of stock, except by resolution of the board of directors, until all the instalments have been paid; and if any stockholder shall omit, for the space of six months, to pay any instalment which may have been called for, the managers of the company may either declare the share or shares of stock, on which the instalment or instalments are unpaid, as aforesaid, to be forfeited, or may, at their option, bring suit to recover the said instalment or instalments, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, as debts of a like amount are recoverable, against the person or persons appearing by their books to be the owner or owners thereof.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend, by inserting after the word "paid," where it first occurs, the words, "and no such transfer shall operate to release a stockholder from liability to pay any instalments due, or to become due thereon," and by inserting in the last line, "to be or have been the owners, &c."

The amendment was lost.

The sixth section was agreed to.

The seventh section was read, as follows:

SEC. 7. That dividends of so much of the profits of said company, as shall appear advisable to the directors, shall be declared in the months of January and July of each year, and be paid at the office of said company, any time after ten days' notice from the time of declaring the same; but said dividends shall in no case exceed the amount of the net profits of said company, so that the capital stock shall never be thereby impaired; and in case the directors shall declare a dividend exceeding the amount of the net profits, and thereby impair the capital stock, they shall be held individually liable for all such excess.

The seventh section was agreed to.

The eighth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 8. That the said company, before commencing to construct said road, shall purchase, at the option of the owners, the stock of horses, harness, omnibuses, wagons and sleighs owned and used by any omnibus company on said Penn street and in the borough of Lawrenceville, at the time of commencing the construction of said road, at a price to be assessed in the following manner: the said owners shall choose one disinterested person, and the said Citizens' passenger railway company shall choose another person, and the two thus chosen shall choose a third, who together shall be disinterested persons, and appraise such stock; and the value thus arrived at by a majority of said appraisers shall be final and conclusive.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend by not requiring the purchase of the Excelsior omnibus company's stock until they had commenced "carrying passengers" on the road, instead of "before commencing to construct" the same; by providing that sworn appraisers be appointed by the court to assess the value thereof, and that the value of the stock on the 1st instant, should be the rule of compensation, instead of that owned when they commence constructing the road.

The question being taken, the amendment was lost.

The eighth section was agreed to.

The ninth section was read as follows:

SEC. 9. That the said railway company shall not be permitted to use and occupy any of the streets of the said city, for the purposes of their railway, until the consent of the city councils is first thereto, had by ordinance duly passed; nor shall the said company, at any time, alter or change the grade or line of any street, without the consent of councils first had and obtained; and the said company shall keep so much of the streets of the said city, from curb to curb, as may be used and occupied by them, in perpetual good repair, at the proper expense and charge of the said company: Provided further,

That the said company, for and during the first five years after they shall commence running cars upon said road, shall pay into the city treasury, for the use of the city, the sum of twenty dollars per year for each car run over their said road, and for and during the five years thence; next ensuing, the sum of thirty dollars per year for each car as aforesaid, and from thence thereafter, the sum of forty dollars per year for each car run over said road; and also, for the first five years after they commence running cars upon said road, the said company shall pay into city treasury, for use of said city, three per cent. of the dividends or net profits of said company; and from thence thereafter, said company shall pay into said treasury, for use of said city, five per centum of the dividends or net profits of said company.

A verbal amendment, proposed by Mr. IRISH, was adopted by unanimous consent, transposing the words "from curb to curb," as they stood therein.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend, by requiring the consent of councils, to be given "at a regular meeting;" and by providing for a city tax of three per cent. or five per cent. upon "the gross receipts," instead of on the "dividends or net profits" of the road.

On the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FOSTER and Mr. FLEMING, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Bertolet, Custer, Dismant, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Hottensine, Oaks, Rohrer, Rose, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Warden, Witman and Wilcox—17.

NAYS.—Messrs. Abbott Acker, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Glatz, Goepf, Good, Graham, Gratz, Green, Harding, Irish, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Matthews, McClure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Neall, Nill, Palm, Patterson, Price, Proudfoot, Pughe, Rouse, Shafer, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stuart, Thompson, Wagenseller, Walhorn, Walker, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—56.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The ninth section was agreed to.

The tenth section was read, as follows:

SECTION 10. That before the said railway company shall use and occupy any portion of any turnpike, plank road, bridge, or street or road of any borough, if the said railway company and said turnpike, plank road, or bridge company, or councils of any borough, cannot agree upon the terms for the use thereof, within thirty days from the organization of the said company, the said company may apply by petition to the court of quarter sessions of Allegheny county, setting forth the facts, and praying the court to appoint a time for the hearing of the parties, not more than twenty days from the filing of the said petition, of which time and place the opposite party shall have at least ten days' notice, and the court shall immediately, after hearing the said parties, proceed to fix and adjudge the rate of compensation to be allowed and paid by said company, for the use of such turnpike, plank road, bridge or street, and the terms on which it shall be used, and the mode and manner in which the same shall be kept up by the respective parties, which judgment shall be, and remain final and conclusive between the parties: Provided further, The said Citizens' passenger railway company shall have full power and authority to make such changes in the grade of said turnpike and plank roads, as may be required to enable them to use their railway with ease and convenience.

Mr. IRISH moved to amend by inserting "either party" instead of "the said company;" which was agreed to.

The tenth section as amended was then agreed to.

The eleventh section was read, as follows:

SEC. 11. That the said railway company shall be and they are hereby required to lay the track of their said road of such a gauge as to be most convenient for the use of carriages and huggies passing over the said road; and in all cases, the carriage or vehicle following the car shall have the right to the track, and the carriage or vehicle coming in the opposite direction shall be required to turn off the track.

Mr. FOSTER moved the following substitute, viz:

"That the councils of Pittsburg shall have power to determine the kind of rail which shall be used in the construction of said railway, and the width of track, and also the kind of turnouts which shall be used, and fix the location of such turnouts, and also to enact such regulations as will enable private vehicles to use such road in common with the passenger cars, and as will best conduce to the convenience of both, and cause the least obstruction to pedestrians; and said councils may from time to time, by ordinance, establish such regulations in regard to said railway as may be required, for the purpose of paving, repairing, grading, culverting and laying gas and water pipes in and along the streets used by said company, and to prevent obstructions thereon; and said company shall never obstruct the streets or roads over which their road passes, by permitting the passage of freight or burden cars, or the use of locomotive engines thereon."

The question being taken, the substitute was lost.

The eleventh section was agreed to.

The twelfth section was read, as follows:

"That if any person or persons shall break, remove, destroy or injure any part of the said railway, or the cars, carriages, station houses or property or other building of said company; or shall, without the consent of said company, obstruct or impede the passage on or over the said railway or any part thereof, the person or persons so offending shall forfeit and pay for every such offence the sum of five dollars to the said company; but no such suit shall be brought unless commenced within sixty days after such offence shall have been committed; and the person or persons so offending shall be, and remain liable, in addition to said penalty, to action or actions at the suit of said railway company, for any loss or damage occasioned by his, her or their act or acts as aforesaid."

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend so as to punish only those who "wilfully" injured the property of the company, or "wilfully and unnecessarily" obstructed the cars.

On the amendment, the question was divided; and on the first section, viz: relative to the word "wilfully."

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FOSTER and Mr. KINNEY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Bryson, Campbell, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Evans, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Good, Graham, Gray, Hamersly, Harding, Hottensine, Kinney, Mann, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Pennell, Peirce, Proudfoot, Rohrer, Rose, Shafer, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—52.

NAYS.—Messrs. Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Glatz, Green, Matthews, Price and Williston—7.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The twelfth section was agreed to.

The thirteenth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 13. That the councils of Pittsburg shall have power to establish such regulations in regard to said railway as may be required for the purpose of paving, repairing, grading, culverting and laying gas and water pipes in and along the streets used by said company, and to prevent obstructions thereon; and the said company shall never obstruct the streets or roads over which their road passes, by permitting the passage of freight or burden cars, or the use of locomotive engines thereon.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend by inserting that councils should have power to "determine the kind of rail which shall be used in the construction of said railway, and the width of track, and also the kind of turnouts which shall be used, and fix the location of such turnouts, and also to enact such regulations as will enable private vehicles to use such road in common with the passenger cars, and as will best conduce to the convenience of both, and cause the least obstruction to pedestrians; and said councils may from time to time, by ordinance," &c.

The question being taken, the amendment was lost.

The thirteenth section was agreed to.

The fourteenth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 14. That no greater fare shall be charged upon said road, per passenger to or from Lawrenceville, than five cents; for any distance less than two miles, five cents; and for any greater distance, not more than two and one half cents a mile; but in no case to exceed ten cents.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend, so as to read that "no greater fare shall be charged upon said road, per passenger, to or from the Allegheny cemetery or Lawrenceville, than five cents; for any distance less than two and a half miles, five cents; and for any greater distance, not more than two cents a mile; but in no case to exceed ten cents."

The question being taken,

The amendment was lost.

The fourteenth section was then agreed to.

The fifteenth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 15. That said railway company shall, at the intersection of their road with any railroad upon which locomotives are used without the city of Pittsburg, cause their cars to stop before crossing the same, under a penalty of twenty-five dollars for each violation of this section.

The fifteenth section was agreed to.

The sixteenth section was read as follows:

SEC. 16. That the said company shall commence the construction of the railway hereby authorized, within one year after the consent of the councils of the city of Pittsburg shall have been given to the same, and complete the same to Lawrenceville within two years thereafter.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend by requiring the company to complete the road to Lawrenceville "within eighteen months after obtaining consent of councils to this act, and to Sharpsburg within twelve months after its completion to Lawrenceville."

The amendment was modified by Mr. IRISH so as to allow the company three years to complete to Sharpsburg.

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. ROHRER offered the following amendment: Provided, That said road shall not be commenced until after the untrammelled right of way is given of the councils of said city to the Allegheny Valley railroad, to such point and on such route as the president of said Allegheny Valley railroad may designate.

Mr. IRISH was entirely opposed to the amendment of the gentleman from Armstrong. It was, in his opinion, simply absurd. The proposition, under cover of this bill, to let the Allegheny Valley road come with its locomotives, and burden and passenger cars down into the heart of the city, thereby utterly destroying Penn street, one of the greatest thoroughfares in the city, and the only remaining outlet from the city, in that direction, would never be tolerated by the citizens of Pittsburgh. Already the Pennsylvania railroad has utterly destroyed Liberty street, which runs parallel with Penn street, for business purposes.

I repeat, sir, that the people will never submit to it. This proposition, in various forms, has been before the people and before the city councils time and again, and they never have, and they never will consent, to have locomotives introduced into Penn street.

This is an adroit attempt on the part of the company to accomplish indirectly, and under cover of this bill, what they have never been able to accomplish directly.

Only a few days ago, this question was before a meeting of the citizens living along this proposed route, and before the councils of the city, with the usual result. If the company wish to extend their road into the city, let them present the measure in its own merits, but it will not do to attempt to smuggle the project through this Legislature under cover of this bill. I believe I speak the sentiment of my colleagues, as well as my own, in protesting against this amendment. I cannot think the House will entertain the gentleman's amendment.

Mr. ROHRER said that he had offered the amendment solely to remedy inconveniences from which he had suffered. He had never consulted any of the officers of the road on the subject.

Mr. BAYARD corroborated the statement of the gentleman from Allegheny, (Mr. IRISH.)

The question being taken,

The amendment was lost.

The sixteenth section was then agreed to.

Mr. FOSTER offered the following additional section:

That the plans of said railway, within said city, shall be approved by the city regulator of Pittsburgh; and any passenger railway company hereafter incorporated, may use such portions of the road constructed by the Citizens' passenger railway company, as councils may deem necessary, upon paying said company one-half the cost thereof, to be ascertained and assessed by three disinterested persons, acting under oath or affirmation, appointed by the district court; the decision of a majority, after hearing both parties, to be final and conclusive.

On the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FOSTER and Mr. BAYARD, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bertolet, Church, Caster, Dismant, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Graham, Hottenstine, Peirce, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Warden, Witman, Wigton and Wilcox—21.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Campbell, Durhoraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Glatz, Goepp, Good, Green, Harding, Irish, Keneagy, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Neall, Nill, Palm, Patterson, Price, Proudfoot, Pughe, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Taylor, Walker, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Lawrencoe, Speaker—38.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. FOSTER also offered the following additional sections; which were not agreed to, viz:

"That said company shall not lay a double track upon their road within the city of Pittsburgh, or any borough, without the express consent of the councils thereof, nor upon Penn street, below Allegheny street, without the consent of the city councils is granted by a vote of two-thirds in each branch."

"That, on the completion of said railway, the company shall file with the controller of the city of Pittsburgh a detailed statement, under oath or affirmation of at least three of the managers thereof, of the cost of constructing the same; and the said city may, at any time after the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, take possession of said road, its real estate and personal property used in operating the same, on paying said company a sum not exceeding the first cost of said road, and the value at the time of such personal and real property used for the operation of the road as the company shall possess, to be ascertained by appraisers chosen by the district court of Allegheny county: Provided, That the city shall not take possession thereof until the stockholders shall have received, in dividends and otherwise, the par value of their stock, with ten per cent. per annum interest thereon from the time the several instalments were paid in; and in case the city of Pittsburgh should, in the manner herein provided, take possession of said road, it shall be leased to the highest bidder for such term and in such a manner as councils may by ordinance determine; and in the months of January and July of each year the said company shall file with the controller of said city a detailed statement of their receipts and expenditures for the six months preceding, under oath or affirmation of at least two of the managers; and shall publish a synopsis of the same, certified by the controller, in at least three daily newspapers of said city."

The title was read, and the bill transcribed and passed finally.

Mr. IRISH moved that the House re-consider the vote had by which House bill No. 163, "An Act to incorporate the Mercantile Library Hall company of the city of Pittsburgh," was passed; which was agreed to; and then asked the unanimous consent of the House to amend the same, by striking therefrom the proviso exempting said property from taxation; which was granted.

The amendment was inserted; and the bill, as amended, passed finally.

Mr. PATTERSON asked leave to record his vote on the several amendments to the fourth section of the general appropriation bill, and made the following statement:

He regretted very much his unavoidable absence yesterday, when this important subject was under consideration, but he now availed himself of the first opportunity to express very briefly his views. He considered it the imperative duty of every citizen, as well as every Representative, to serve the State at as reasonable a compensation as his duty to his family would justify; but more especially at a time when the debt of the State is so enormous, and the taxes levied upon the overburdened people so very onerous. It is no argument in favor of higher salaries to say that the treasury is full, but it should be remembered, that the treasury is kept full by taxes wrung from the country just recovering from a severe financial pressure, and the great loss suffered by the failure in the crops for years. He will always cast his vote to reduce the expenses of the State government, and is willing to prove his sincerity in the reform movement, by voting to reduce his own salary, and after that any item which a careful regard for the interests of the State will permit to be reduced. We have the pitiable spectacle of Congress cutting down the pay of almost every employee of the government, and every item of expenditure, while they carefully and selfishly insist upon their own high salary. Let us not follow their example, but prove to the people of the State that while we were elected as the representatives of the People's party, in favor of economy and reform, we are ready and willing to give our professions a practical effect, by voting for a reduction of our own salaries, and every other item which will admit of reduction. I will vote to reduce the pay to one dollar and fifty cents per diem, or to any other point which a majority of this House may agree upon.

Mr. THORN asked the indulgence of the House to resume the consideration of the act to incorporate the Young Men's Christian building association of Philadelphia; which was granted.

The bill being on second reading, the question to strike out the sixth section was put and not agreed to; and the bill passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WILLISTON, on leave, called up the resolution relative to the pay of D. R. M'Clain; which was considered, and passed finally.

On motion of Mr. IRISH, it was resolved to hold a session of the House next Wednesday evening, for the purpose of considering the act for the better securing of personal liberty, &c.

Mr. EVANS offered a joint resolution relative to the pay of GEORGE WOOD, deceased, late a member of this House.

Laid over under the rule.

Mr. WILLISTON, leave being given, read in his place and presented to the Chair, the petition of citizens of Tioga county, in favor of a law taxing dogs in said county.

Also, a remonstrance against the same.

Also, a petition for a change in the road laws in said county.

Also, "An Act authorizing notaries public to appoint deputies."

Also, "A supplement to the act relating to executions."

Also, the petition of members of the bar of Tioga county, in favor of a bill now pending in the Senate.

Mr. STYER, on leave, from the Committee on Railroads, reported with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Hestouville, Mantua and Fairmount passenger railroad."

Mr. PINKERTON moved a suspension of the rules, in order to proceed to the consideration of Senate bill No. 39, "A further supplement to an act relating to a burial ground and school lot in the borough of Pottsville;" which was not agreed to.

PETITIONS, &c., PRESENTED.

Mr. SHIELDS read in his place and presented to the chair, a petition from citizens of Westmorland, Indiana, Somerset and Cambria counties, in favor of the proposed new county, to be called Ligonier.

Mr. HILL, one from citizens of Montgomery county and the officers of Skippack and Plymouth and Upper Dublin turnpike companies, praying for an act changing their rate of tolls.

Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) one from citizens Clearfield and Centre counties, for the incorporation of a company, to be called the Kylertown, Philipsburg and Morrisdale plank road company.

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) two petitions from citizens of Schuylkill county, for a law authorizing the sheriff of said county to advertise in three weekly newspapers.

Also, one from citizens of the borough of Port Clinton, in favor of an extension of said borough limits.

Mr. ECKMAN, one from the president, managers and company of the Berks and Dauphin turnpike road, to be relieved from the corporation and dividend tax now assessed and levied by law upon their capital stock.

Mr. PROUDFOOT, two from citizens of Cambria county, for the removal of the seat of justice of said county.

Also, two from same, for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, a remonstrance from same, against the removal of the seat of justice.

Also, a petition from citizens of same county, for an appropriation in aid of establishing a school of Mines.

Also, three remonstrances from citizens of Cambria county, against any alteration in existing laws for the election of county treasurer in said county.

Also, the petition of citizens of the county of Cambria, for an alteration in the law for the election of county treasurer in said county.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, one in favor of annexing a part of Northumberland county to Union county.

Also, a remonstrance against a State road, to be located from Uniontown, Lycoming county, to Turbetsville, Northumberland county.

Mr. BERTOLET, one from citizens of Berks county, for an act requiring the city of Reading to pay the costs for the arrest of vagrants in said city.

Also, one from same, for an act incorporating the Lincoln bridge company.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bedford,) two remonstrances, signed by two hundred and nineteen citizens of Bedford county, against the annexation of any part of said county to Blair county.

Mr. DURBORAW, the petition of Daniel Heintzelman, Daniel Mickley and Peter Mickley, of Adams county, for compensation for damages done them by the construction of the Gettysburg extension of the Pennsylvania railroad through their farms.

Mr. WIGTON, one from citizens of Blair county, for the repeal of the tonnage tax, according to a bill road in place by Mr. SCHELL, in the Senate.

Also, six remonstrances of citizens of Huntingdon county, against any change in the collection of State and county taxes, and extending the term of county treasurer in said county.

Mr. WALKER, three remonstrances numerously signed by citizens of Somerset county, against the erection of a new county, to be called Ligonier.

Also, one numerously signed by citizens of Bedford county, against any portion of said county being attached to Blair county.

Also, a petition from citizens of Shade township, Somerset county, for the passage of an act changing the place of holding elections in said township.

Mr. HILL, two petitions of citizens of Pottstown, praying for an act making it obligatory on the several banks of this Commonwealth to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Mr. ELLMAKER, a remonstrance from the Sadsbury monthly meeting of the society of Friends, against the appropriation of any additional money for the erection of a monument in memory of the Pennsylvanians who lost their lives in the Mexican war.

Also, one from citizens of Lancaster county, of like import.

Mr. THOMPSON, a petition from citizens of Butler county, praying for a change in the mode of collecting taxes.

Mr. FLEMING, one numerously signed by citizens of Clarion county, for the passage of an act enabling them to vote on the continuance of the present school system.

Also, one with bill attached, for the appointment of commissioners to view and lay out a State road from Kellersburg, Armstrong county, to New Bethlehem, Clarion county.

Mr. STUART, a petition signed by four hundred and forty-three citizens of Cumberland county, to change the mode of collecting taxes in said county, by extending the provisions of the act of Assembly for the benefit of Franklin county, passed February 26, 1853, to said Cumberland county.

Also, two petitions numerously signed by citizens of Perry county, in favor of the passage of the Northumberland and Juniata railroad bill.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) one from citizens of Bucks county, remonstrating against the passage of an act authorizing any dams or other obstructions in the river Delaware.

Also, two, signed by one hundred and seven citizens of Pennsylvania, for the passage of an act authorizing the appointment of a measurer of paving stones.

Also, one from citizens of Bucks county, against the passage of the supplement to the Germantown passenger railroad company.

Mr. ROHRER, petition of citizens of the borough of Kittanning relative to the limits thereof being curtailed.

Also, six petitions from the uniformed militia of Armstrong, praying for the quota of funds to which they are entitled.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Armstrong county, against that act of Assembly authorizing the election of county school superintendent.

Also, one against attaching part of South Buffalo township to North Buffalo township, in Armstrong county.

Also, the petition of citizens of Armstrong county, for a public ferry over the Allegheny river in said county.

Mr. DISMANT, the petition of citizens of Montgomery county, for an act to prevent cattle, sheep and swine from running at large in said county.

Also, five petitions of citizens of same, numerously signed, asking for an act to compel the county commissioners to appoint the constables in the several boroughs and townships tax collectors.

Mr. IRISH, one from citizens of Allegheny county, for an alteration in the fee bill of aldermen and justices of said county.

Mr. PUGH, a remonstrance of citizens of Lycoming and Sullivan counties, against any act authorizing the placing of any boom or booms in Loyalsock creek.

Messrs. MANN, SMEAD and OAKS presented some of like import.

Mr. BARNSLEY, a remonstrance from citizens of Bucks county, against the passage of the act now before the Legislature, relative to the Delaware Division canal company.

Mr. CHURCH, one from citizens of Frankford, with citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of an alteration of the present Sunday law.

Also, one in favor of an appropriation to the Penn medical university.

Mr. GOEEP, two petitions from citizens of Northampton county, in favor of the removal of the county seat from Easton to Nazareth.

Mr. ABBOTT, one from citizens of Frankford, in favor of Sunday travel by public conveyances.

Mr. EVANS, one of similar import.

Mr. SHEPPARD, one of like import.

Mr. JACKSON, a remonstrance from one hundred and seventy-two citizens of Sullivan county, against the passage of any act to authorize the construction of booms in Loyalsock creek.

Also, a petition from ninety-three citizens of the borough of Berwick, in Columbia county, asking for the repeal of so much of the school law of 1854 as relates to the county superintendency.

Mr. GREEN, one from sundry citizens of East Donegal township, Lancaster county, against the passage of a law giving the collecting of taxes to the lowest bidder.

Mr. MANN, one from citizens of the county of Potter, asking for a change in the road law of said county.

Also, one from same, asking for the repeal of the act of April 20, 1858, regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Mr. BALLIET, two petitions from citizens of Carbon county, in favor of a new judicial district, to be composed of Carbon and Lehigh counties.

Mr. TAYLOR, one from Kezia White, widow of John White, late of Indiana county, deceased, who was a soldier of the war of 1812, for a pension.

Also, two from citizens of Indiana county, in favor of the abolishment of the office of county school superintendent.

Mr. GREEN, one from the officers of the Columbia Bank, asking for a law making it obligatory on the several banks of this Commonwealth to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Also, one from the officers and directors of the Farmer's Bank of Lancaster, of like import.

Also, one from sundry citizens of Lancaster county, of like import.

Mr. BAYARD, one from citizens of Pittsburgh, in favor of the abolition of the Pittsburgh high school.

Mr. PATTERSON, the petition of Samuel C. Harvey, of Juniatta county, praying for a divorce from his wife.

Mr. WITMAN, one from citizens of Harrisburg, relative to private alleys.

Mr. WAGENSELLER, a remonstrance against prohibiting the fishing with seines, &c., in Buffalo Creek, Union county.

Mr. WILEY, one from citizens of Frankford, against any modification in the "Sunday law."

Also, one from citizens of Twenty-third ward, city of Philadelphia, in favor of an act securing to the people of Philadelphia the right of free travel over certain highways.

Also, six from citizens of the Twenty-third ward, asking for a modification of the "Sunday law."

Mr. FISHER, one of like import.

Mr. ZOLLER, one in favor of the abolition of the Pittsburgh high school.

Mr. KENEAGY, the petition of citizens of Lancaster county, for a repeal of the act authorizing the appointment of sealer of weights and measures in said county.

Also, the petition of Ruth M'Coy, widow of an old soldier, praying for relief.

Mr. PRICE, one from citizens of Lancaster county, praying for an act extending the time for the commencing and completion of the Washington and Mercer turnpike road company.

Also, the petition of Jno. Longenecker, surviving member of the firm of Moderwell & Longenecker, for compensation for loss sustained by the destruction of their cars on the Philadelphia and Columbia railroad.

Also, one from Christian Long & Co., for damage sustained on the Pennsylvania canal.

Mr. STEPHENS, a petition of the citizens of Damascus township, Wayne county, numerously signed, praying that the navigation of the Delaware be not obstructed by the Delaware canal company.

Mr. IRISH, one from citizens of Pittsburgh, for a law to prohibit the surrender of any human citizen on the soil of Pennsylvania.

Also, one from eighty-two citizens of Allegheny county, of like import.

Mr. FOSTER, one from thirty-five citizens of Pittsburgh, in favor of the abolishment of the Pittsburgh high school.

Mr. THOMPSON, one authorizing the commissioners of Butler county to pay M. F. White, prothonotary, certain money.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) "An Act to authorize the appointment of a measurer of paving stone;" which was referred to a select committee of three, on his motion.

Mr. WILLISTON, "An Act relating to judgments and executions in Tioga county."

Mr. MATTHEWS, one from citizens of Frankford and vicinity, city of Philadelphia, in favor of Sunday travel by public conveyances.

Mr. WOODRING, two petitions in favor of an act requiring the North Pennsylvania railroad company and Lehigh Valley railroad company

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 46.

to fence their roads in Lower Saucon township, Northampton county.

Mr. GRAY, the petition of Charles A. Garrard, of Greene county, praying to be divorced from his wife Louisa.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved that the hour of adjournment be extended until petitions and bills in place have been read in place; which was not agreed to.

Senate amendments to Honse resolution relative to the pay of the commissioners appointed at the last session of the Legislature to investigate the affairs of certain banks, were read; and, on motion of Mr. CHASE, referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication from the common council of the city of Philadelphia; which was read.

The hour of one having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until this afternoon, at three o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Messrs. GOOD and FLEMING moved that the Honse re-consider the vote by which the House adopted the report of the committee on conference on the bill incorporating the Ironton railroad and mining company; which was agreed to.

Mr. GOOD moved that said bill be re-committed to the committee on conference for the purpose of amending the same; which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. WALBORN, the regular orders were suspended, in order to receive reports from committees, petitions and bills in place.

PETITIONS, &c.

Mr. PATTERSON, a petition from citizens of Blair county, in favor of an additional appropriation, to erect a monument to the memory of Pennsylvanians who lost their lives in the Mexican war.

Mr. NEALL, a memorial from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the removal of the tonnage tax, introduced in Pennsylvania.

Also, a remonstrance from two hundred citizens, against the supplement to the act incorporating the Green and Coates Street passenger railroad company.

Also, one from citizens of Frankford and vicinity, for a law to legalize Sunday travel by public conveyances; which was read; and, on his motion, ordered to be printed in the Record, as follows, viz:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

The undersigned petitioners, citizens of Frankford and vicinity, city of Philadelphia, respectfully and earnestly ask of your honorable body, to alter or amend the present "Sunday Law," so as to legalize the transit of passengers by public conveyances, on the Sabbath, or first day of the week—for the following reasons:

1st. As a means of the better promotion of health, by affording to citizens of the densely populated portions of the city, who may see proper to avail themselves of a cheap and agreeable mode of conveyance, to enjoy the salubrious country air.

2nd. As a desirable convenience to those who wish to attend divine worship abroad.

3rd. As affording to the citizens of town and country the means of reciprocal exchanges of family courtesy.

4th. As tending to secure to the poor, the privileges enjoyed by the rich.

5th. That as it is unjust in the law to discriminate in favor of one class of public conveyances to the exclusion of others.

Therefore, we ask of your honorable body, to give such a liberal interpretation, or so to modify the said law, as will secure to all equal privileges.

And we will ever pray.

Mr. SHEPPARD, a petition in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, one to legalize Sunday travel by public conveyances in Philadelphia.

Mr. STYER, one of like import.

Also, one in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. ABBOTT, one of similar import.

Mr. WALBORN, one of like import.

Also, one from citizens of Frankford, for a change in the "Sunday law."

Mr. QUIGLEY, one of like import.

Mr. HAMERSLY, one of similar import.

Mr. HARDING, one of similar import.

Mr. ABBOTT, one of like import.

Mr. HAMERSLY, the petition of Anna B. M. Priestly, praying to be divorced from her husband.

Also, one for the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, one from John J. Cussey and others, against the passage of the supplement to the Green and Coates Street passenger railway company.

Mr. FISHER, one of like import.

Mr. PRICE, the petition of Rachel Nailor and — Lefevere, to sell the real estate of — Harman, deceased, of Lancaster county.

Also, the petition of two hundred citizens of Lancaster city, praying for the reduction of the fees charged for the licensing of nine and ten pin alleys.

Mr. PALM, a petition from citizens of East Brnswick township, Schuylkill county, praying for a change of place for holding their elections.

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) one of similar import.

Also, one from the citizens of the borough of Port Clinton, in favor of extending the limits of said borough.

Mr. PATTERSON, one in favor of the Green and Coates Streets city passenger railroad company.

Mr. RAMSDELL, one from citizens of Venango county, in favor of a change of the road laws in said county.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) one from citizens of Hanover township, Washington county, against the proposed new county, to be called Monongahela.

Also, one from same, to extend the act of 29th April, 1841, in reference to taxation of unseated lands, to Washington county.

Mr. WILSON, one from citizens of Beaver county, for the passage of an act empowering an auctioneer to sell dry goods, &c., in said county.

Mr. MEHAFFEY, one from citizens of Lyscoming county, for a law more effectually to secure prompt payment on the part of insurance companies.

Mr. GRATZ, one from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of an alteration of the Sunday law.

Mr. WIGTON, one from one hundred and seventy citizens of Huntingdon county, against any part of Dublin township being attached to any other county for school purposes.

Mr. MDOWELL, one from citizens of Pittsburgh, in favor of the abolition of the Pittsburgh high school.

Mr. DODDS, one from citizens of Muddy Creek township, against any change in the mode of collecting taxes in said township.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. CHASE, (Judiciary,) with a negative recommendation, the following:

"An Act regulating the peddling of hides in Lehigh county."

"An Act for the protection of real estate."

Also, (same,) as committed, the following:

"An Act supplementary to an act relating to certain duties and rights of husband and wife, and parent and child, passed May 4, 1855."

"An Act relative to recorders of deeds within this Commonwealth."

"An Act for the preservation of growing timber."

"An Act for the relief of the estate of James Rogers, deceased."

"An Act relating to the settlement of register of wills, recorder of deeds, prothonotaries and clerk of courts with the State Treasurer."

And, on motion, said committee was discharged from the further consideration of "An Act relating to estates tail."

Mr. NILL, (same,) with a negative recommendation, the following:

"An Act to extend the time for which assessors are elected in the city of Philadelphia."

"An Act to repeal the second section of the act of 28th May, 1858, relative to interest."

"An Act authorizing executors to give evidence in certain cases."

"An Act to authorize the assessment and collection of damages on the North Branch canal."

Also, (same,) as committed, the following:

"A supplement to an act for the better preservation of game and insectivorous birds."

"An Act to increase the pay of collectors of State and county tax in the several townships and borough of Delaware county."

"An Act relative to orphans' courts;" which, on his motion, was taken up and ordered to be transcribed for third reading.

Mr. GRATZ, (same,) asked to be discharged from supplement to an act of Assembly, relative to gambling and lotteries, passed February 16, 1847; which was granted.

Also, reported the following acts, with a negative recommendation:

"An Act relative to the board of guardians of the poor of the city of Philadelphia."

"An Act relative to the sale of medicines in this Commonwealth."

Also, (same,) with amendment, the following:

"A further supplement to the act consolidating the city of Philadelphia."

"A supplement to the several acts relative to the jurisdiction of aldermen and justices of the peace in the city of Philadelphia."

Also, (same,) as committed, the following:

"An Act to authorize the commissioners of York county to borrow money."

"An Act relative to the several courts of this Commonwealth."

Also, "A supplement to an act to give jurisdiction in equity to the supreme court and the court of common pleas, for the county of Philadelphia, in cases of disputed boundaries."

Mr. IRISH, (same,) with a negative recommendation, the following:

"An Act making the evidence taken by the commissioners appointed by an act to authorize the Governor to appoint commissioners to investigate the affairs of the Lancaster savings institution, passed 15th of April, 1858, competent testimony to be used on behalf of claimants in all suits pending or to be hereafter brought against said institution, its late directors, &c., in the several courts of this Commonwealth."

"An Act relating to sheriffs' fees for conveying convicts to the penitentiary, and duties of county commissioners."

Also, (same,) as committed, the following:

"An Act extending the general manufacturing law to the manufacture of leather in the county of Sullivan."

"An Act to prohibit the importation of fish into Philadelphia at improper seasons."

"An Act relating to party walls in Allegheny county."

"An Act confirming the sale of the German school house, in Myerstown, Lebanon county."

Mr. THOMPSON, (same,) as committed, the following:

"An Act to authorize and require the treasurer of the city of Reading, in Berks county, to pay certain costs."

"An Act authorizing the auditors of Forest county, to re-audit the State account of Wm. R. Cook, former treasurer of said county."

"Supplement to an act passed the 20th day of April, 1858, relating to the attachment of vessels."

"An Act for the better security of titles to real estate."

Also, with a negative recommendation, "An Act to provide for the payment of damages caused by the construction of the North Branch canal."

"A supplement to the act for the relief of insolvent debtors."

"An Act to protect the wages of labor."

Mr. KETCHUM, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to provide for the publication of general and local laws in English and German papers, and for the better accomplishment of the object in printing German State documents."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act extending the provisions of an act concerning appointment of road viewers and road damages in Northumberland county, to the county of Monroe."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to damages in certain cases."

Also, (same,) with a like recommendation, "A further supplement to an act approved April 11, 1856, relative to sheriffs of this Commonwealth."

Also, (same,) with a like recommendation, "An Act relating to sales of real estate by assignees for the benefit of creditors and trustees of insolvent debtors."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act for the assessment and recovery of damages upon the North Branch and Wyoming canals."

Mr. M'DOWELL, (Ways and Means,) as committed, "An Act relative to bonds and evidences of debt issued by corporations."

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to repeal all laws taxing money at interest."

Mr. WILCOX, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to the manner of payment of coupons."

Also, (same,) with a like recommendation, "An Act to increase the revenues of the Commonwealth."

Mr. WIGTON, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to taxation of certain farms adjoining the borough of McVeytown, Mifflin county."

Mr. WALBORN, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to the act regulating the fees of tennin alleys."

Mr. GREEN, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "Resolution relative to the Pennsylvania Archives and Colonial Records."

Mr. ROSE, (Pensions and Gratuities,) with amendment, "An Act for the relief of Anna Stackhouse, widow of an old soldier."

Mr. WILLIAMS, of Bucks, (Criminals,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act for the relief of George Hoge, contractor on the Erie extension of the Pennsylvania canal."

Mr. WAGENSELLER, (same,) as committed, "An Act to authorize the State Treasurer to pay the claim of Emanuel ———."

Mr. WITHROW, (same,) as committed, "An Act to authorize the payment of the claim of J. W. Cottrell."

Mr. WOLF, (same,) as committed "An Act to authorize the State Treasurer to pay A. McClelland, grandson of Jno. McClelland, balance due him for services rendered during the Indian wars."

Mr. PINKERTON, from the Committee on Accounts, made report, which was read, accompanied with a resolution, to pay Geo. W. Porter for postage, during the month of February, the sum of $3,087 20; which was read the second time; when a motion was made by Mr. WALBORN that the further consideration of the same be postponed for the present, for the purpose of examination.

On motion to postpone for the present,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALBORN and Mr. ACKER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Barnsley, Bryson, Burley, Harding, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Maun, McHaffey, Matthews, Palm, Pennell, Peirce, Price, Ramsell, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Taylor, Walborn, Walker, Wiley, Wilson and Withrow—27.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Cambell, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodd, Eckman, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Galle, Glaz, Good, Graham, Gruiz, Green, Hamersly, Hill, Ketchum, M'Dowell, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Quigley, Rohrer, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Syer, Thompson, Wagenseller, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wolf and Woodring—50.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring,

Shall the resolution pass? it was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. OAKS, (Vice and Immorality,) as committed, "An Act for the better regulation of the Mercer county and Shenango Valley agricultural society."

Mr. ABBOTT, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A further supplement to the act regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors."

Mr. CAMPBELL, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors, so far as relates to the county of Potter."

Mr. GLATZ, (Banks,) as committed, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Hanover savings fund society of York county."

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, (Roads and Bridges,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act authorizing the supervisor of Wetmore township, McKean county, to lay out a road."

Mr. DURBORAW, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to raise the compensation of supervisors in Spring Creek township, Elk county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act concerning the appointment of road viewers and road damages in Lehigh county."

Mr. PENNELL, (same,) as committed, "An Act declaring a bridge between Armstrong and Clarion counties, a county bridge."

Also, (same,) as committed, Senate bill No. 236, "An Act relating to road and bridge viewers in Centre county."

Mr. WALKER, (same,) as committed, "An Act vacating certain lanes and alleys of the outlots in the borough of Beaver, Beaver county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "Supplement to an act authorizing the laying out and opening a State road from the west end of Emlenton bridge, Venango county, to the borough of Mercer, Mercer county."

Mr. QUIGLEY, (same,) as committed, "An Act to lay out a State road in Westmoreland and Allegheny counties."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Spinnerstown and Hosensack turnpike road company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act passed February 28, 1839, incorporating the Boyerstord bridge company, and the several supplements thereto."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to Reed street, Philadelphia."

Mr. STUART, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to the vacating of certain streets in the city of Philadelphia."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to repeal road laws in Jackson township, Huntingdon county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act relating to roads and bridges in Washington county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act declaring Toombs run a public highway."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing a State road from Dashore, Sullivan county, to the North Branch of Susquehanna river, at or near Wells' Ferry, in Bradford county."

Mr. WILSON, (Estates and Escheats,) as committed, "An Act to repeal an act to vest in Nancy Christy, late of Dunbar township, Fayette county."

Mr. ROHRER, (same,) as committed, Senate bill No. 127, "An Act authorizing Peter Martin and others, trustees, to sell a certain school house in Clay township, Lancaster county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the trustees of Aaronsburg school to sell a certain school house and lot in said town."

Mr. TAYLOR, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the commissioners of Adams county to sell and convey certain real estate."

Mr. SMEAD, (same,) as committed, "An Act to amend an act, passed April 16, 1858, relative to tax on meadow lands in the Twenty-fourth ward, Philadelphia."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to empower Peter Klick and Peter Keeny, trustees of a certain school house and lot of ground in Pinegrove township, Schuylkill county, to sell the same for the use of the Pinegrove township school district."

Mr. WALBORN, (Railroads,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Lombard and South Street passenger railroad company."

Also, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Ridge Avenue and Manayunk passenger railroad company."

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Ebensburg and Cresson railroad company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to provide for the fencing of the Newport and Elmira railroad."

Mr. EVANS, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to facilitate the transportation of passengers and their baggage from one railway station to another, in Philadelphia."

Mr. M'DOWELL, (same,) as committed, "An Act establishing the time for the commencement and completion of the Schuylkill Haven and Lehigh River railroad."

Mr. CHURCH, (same,) as committed, "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Catawissa and Towanda railroad company."

Mr. BURLEY, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Allegheny railroad and coal company."

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved that the hour of adjournment be extended until six o'clock, for the purpose of completing the reports of committees and reading bills in place; which was agreed to.

Mr. PATTERSON, (Canals and Inland Navigation,) as committed, "An Act relative to a ferry across Shamokin dam."

Mr. HAMERSLY, (select committee on auctions,) with amendment, "An Act to modify the existing auction laws of this Commonwealth."

Also, with amendment, "An Act to prevent public auction in Freeport, Armstrong county."

Mr. FOSTER, (same,) as committed, bill, No. 223, "An Act relating to auctions and auctioneers within the county of Lawrence."

Mr. WILEY, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to auctions in the borough of York."

The following were reported from the Committee on Corporations:

With amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Chemical company, of Pennsylvania."

"An Act to incorporate the Warwick manufacturing company."

With a negative recommendation, "An Act to repeal the sixth section of an act, entitled 'A further supplement to the act incorporating the city of Philadelphia, approved 21st April, 1858.'"

"A further supplement to the act incorporating the city of Philadelphia."

With amendment, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Clinton County coal company; authorizing the bond holders to organize a company under the name, style and title of the Eagleton coal company."

With amendment, "An Act to incorporate the German Reformed and German Lutheran congregation of the Schwartzwald church and cemetery, in Exeter township, Berks county."

With a negative recommendation, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the city of Philadelphia."

With amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of west Pennsylvania."

With amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Drovers' beneficial association, No. 1 of the State of Pennsylvania."

As committed, "An Act to incorporate the Williamsport library association."

With amendment, "An Act to incorporate the United Presbyterian congregation of Unity church, Venango township, Butler county."

With amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Hydropathic college and institute of Loretto."

Also, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Greenwood cemetery company of the borough of Tamaqua."

As committed, "An Act to incorporate the Zoological society of Philadelphia."

With amendment, "An Act relating to insurance companies and associations in the city and county of Philadelphia, and the county of Allegheny."

With a negative recommendation, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the city of Philadelphia."

As committed, "An Act to alter the general borough laws so far as relates to the borough of Nazareth, Northampton county."

With amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Commercial trust company."

Also, with amendments, "An Act to incorporate the Hydropathic college and institute of Loretto."

Also, with amendments, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Greenwood cemetery company of the borough of Tamaqua."

Also, as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Zoological society of Philadelphia."

Also, with amendment, "An Act relating to insurance companies in the city and county of Philadelphia and county of Allegheny."

Also, with a negative recommendation, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the city of Philadelphia."

Also, as committed, "An Act to alter the general borough laws, so far as relates to the borough of Nazareth, Northampton county."

Also, with amendments, an act to incorporate the Mutual deposit insurance association of Philadelphia."

Also, as committed, "A further supplement to the act to incorporate the Home manufacturing company."

Also, with a negative recommendation, "An Act to extend the charter of the Forest improvement company."

Mr. QUIGLEY, from the Committee on Corporations, reported bills numbered and entitled as follows:

No. 667, "An Act to incorporate the Chemical company of Philadelphia."

No. 668, "An Act to incorporate the Wauvick manufacturing company."

No. 669, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the city of Philadelphia."

No. 670, "An Act to repeal the sixth section of an act, entitled 'A further supplement to the act incorporating the city of Philadelphia,' with a recommendation that bills No. 669 and 670 be negated."

Also, with a negative recommendation, "An Act to extend the charter of the Forest improvement company," which, on motion of Mr. PALM, was re committed.

Mr. FISHER, (same,) No. 672, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Home manufacturing company."

Also, No. 673, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Mutual deposit association of Philadelphia."

Also, No. 674, "An Act relating to insurance companies in the city and county of Philadelphia, and county of Allegheny."

Also, No. 675, "An Act to incorporate the Commercial trust company."

Also, as committed, Senate bill No. 307, "An Act to incorporate the Zoological society of Philadelphia."

Also, with amendment, No. 161, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Greenwood cemetery company of the borough of Tamaqua."

Mr. GLATZ, (same,) No. 678, "An Act to incorporate the Hydropathic college and institute of Buffalo."

Also, No. 679, "An Act to incorporate the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of west Pennsylvania."

Also, No. 680, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Clinton County coal company; authorizing the bond-holders to organize a company to be called the Eagleton coal company."

Also, No. 681, "An Act to incorporate the Drovers' beneficial association, No. 1, of the State of Pennsylvania."

Also, Senate bill No. 149, "An Act relating to the borough of Pottstown."

Mr. CHURCH, (same,) No. 683, "An Act to incorporate the Washington insurance company of Philadelphia."

Also, No. 684, "An Act to incorporate the Penn steam engine and steam boiler manufacturing company."

Also, No. 685, "An Act to incorporate the Industrial Home for girls, of Philadelphia."

Also, No. 686, "An Act to incorporate the Lebanon County agricultural and horticultural society."

Also, No. 687, "An Act to alter the general borough laws, so far as relates to the borough of Nazareth, Northampton county."

Also, No. 688, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the city of Philadelphia," with a negative recommendation.

Mr. PRICE, (same,) No. 489, "An Act to incorporate the German Reformed and German Lutheran congregations of Schwartzwald church and cemetery, of the township of Exeter, county of Berks."

Also, No. 690, "An Act to incorporate the United Presbyterian congregation of Unity church of Venango township, Butler county."

Also, No. 691, "An Act to incorporate the Berks County association for the improvement of the breed of stock."

Also, No. 692, "An Act to incorporate the Williamsport library association."

Also, No. 693, "An Act to define the limits of the borough of California"

Mr. HAMERSLY, (same,) No. 700, "An Act to incorporate the Roxboro' Old Fellows' hall association."

No. 701, "An Act to incorporate the Hope manufacturing company."

No. 702, "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Pennsylvania fire insurance company."

Also, several bills, as follows:

No. 264, "An Act to incorporate the Birmingham insurance company."

No. 86, "An Act to incorporate the Carolina steam navigation company"

No. 248, "An Act relative to the Northumberland improvement company."

No. 253, "An Act to incorporate the Quick-silver mining company."

Mr. ACKER, (same,) No. 694, "An Act to incorporate the Northern market company of Philadelphia."

Also, No. 695, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the borough of Reading, Berks county."

Also, No. 696, "An Act to authorize the laying out of a public park, in the borough of Harrisburg, to be called Harris' park."

Also, Senate bill, No. 315, "A further supplement to the act authorizing the Governor to incorporate the Minersville water company."

No. 163, "An Act to incorporate the Union-town gas and water company," with amendment.

Mr. KINNEY, from the Committee on Education, reported bill, No. 637, entitled, "An Act for the payment of certain moneys by the school directors of Williams township, Northampton county," which, on motion of Mr. WOODRING, was taken up, considered and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. PUGHE, from the same committee, reported bills numbered and entitled as follows: No. 638, "An Act to incorporate the Towanda library association."

No. 639, "A supplement to an act for the regulation and continuance of a system of education by common schools," with a recommendation that it be negated.

Mr. GRAHAM, from the same committee, reported, with a negative recommendation, bills numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

No. 640, "An Act to attach parts of Juniata township to Allegheny township, Blair county, for school purposes."

No. 641, "An Act attaching lands of Elisha Robinson, of Perry township, to said township for school purposes."

Mr. NILL, from the same committee, reported, with a negative recommendation, bills numbered and entitled as follows:

No. 642, "An Act supplemental to an act for the regulation and continuance of a system of education by common schools."

No. 643, "An Act in relation to the collection of school taxes in McCalmont township, Jefferson county."

Mr. FOSTER, from the same committee, reported, with a negative recommendation, bill No. 644, entitled "An Act to repeal so much of an act which authorizes the appointment of a county school superintendent, for the county of York."

Mr. WITHROW, from the same committee, reported, with a negative recommendation, bill No. 645.

Mr. OAKS, from the same committee, reported bill, No. 646, entitled "An Act for the better regulation of the Mercer County and Shenago Valley agricultural society."

Mr. HILL, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to attach the premises, owned by the Pennsylvania railroad company, and now occupied by William Hamilton, to the borough of Newton Hamilton school district, Mifflin county."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. DURBORAW read in his place and presented to the Chair, "An Act to amend the road laws, &c. of Adams and Perry counties."

Mr. IRISH, "A supplement to an act relating to boroughs."

Also, "A supplement to an act relative to aldermen and justices in the city of Pittsburgh, and counties of Washington and Lawrence."

Mr. FOSTER, "An Act relating to costs before magistrates in Allegheny county."

Mr. WILSON, "A further supplement to the act to encourage the manufacturing operations of this Commonwealth."

Mr. BERTOLET, "An Act to incorporate the Lincoln bridge company of Berks county."

Mr. ACKER, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Cochranville hall association; and moved that the rules be suspended in order to proceed to the consideration of the same; which was not agreed to."

Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) "A supplement to the act to create a sinking fund, &c."

Also, "An Act to incorporate the Clearfield water company."

Mr. WITMAN, "A supplement to the act regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors."

Also, "An Act relative to private alleys in the borough of Harrisburg."

Mr. STUART, "An Act requiring the supervisors of the different townships in Cumberland county, to keep the wing walls and embankments of the county bridges in repair."

Mr. WILCOX, "An Act declaring Laurel run, in the counties of Clearfield and Elk, and Kersey run, in Elk county, public highways."

Also, "An Act to extend the provisions of an act to increase the pay of county commissioners and other officers to the county of Elk."

Mr. GALLEY, "An Act to provide for the payment of claims against the Cumberland road, in the counties of Fayette, Washington and Somerset."

Mr. WIGTON, "An Act to provide for the payment of S. Miles Green, of Huntingdon county."

Mr. TAYLOR, one annexing school district No. 1, Armstrong township, Indiana county, to the borough of Shelocta, for school purposes.

Mr. KENEAGY, one for the relief of Rachel McCoy, widow of an old soldier.

Mr. BRYSON, one to authorize the Auditor General to re-examine the account of James Mitchell, late Treasurer of Lawrence county.

Mr. ECKMAN, one to authorize the removal of the dead from the cemetery of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Norristown, Montgomery county, to the Norris cemetery.

Mr. HILL, one to alter the tolls on the Skeppack turnpike; and also on Plymouth and Upper Dublin turnpike, in Montgomery county.

Mr. WOODRING, one relative to the fencing of railroads in Northampton county.

Mr. PRICE, as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Berks County association for the improvement of the breed of stock."

Also, with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the German Reformed and German Lutheran congregations of the Schwartzwald church and cemetery, in the township of Exeter, Bucks county."

Also, as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Williamsport library association."

"Also, with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the United Presbyterian congregation of Unity church, of Venango township, in the county of Butler."

Also, with amendments, "An Act to define the limits of the borough of Lock Haven."

Mr. CHURCH, "An Act to incorporate the South Philadelphia steamboat company."

Also, "An Act to incorporate the Passenger Railroad relief association of Philadelphia."

Also, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Commonwealth insurance company."

Mr. FISHER, "An Act relative to the Wecacoe and Moyamensing meadow company."

Also, "An Act relative to the sale of drugs and medicines in Philadelphia."

Mr. MATTHEWS, one to regulate the working hours of employees on passenger railways."

Mr. NEALL, "An Act to incorporate the Spring Garden engine company."

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, "A supplement to the several acts of Assembly relative to the assessment and equalization of property for taxation."

Mr. QUIGLEY, "A supplement to the act relative to landlords and tenants."

Mr. GRATZ, "An Act to incorporate the North End insurance company."

Also, "A further supplement to the act to incorporate the Lykens' Valley railroad and coal company in Dauphin county."

Mr. HARDING, "An Act to incorporate the Deutch Kunst Halle."

Mr. ABBOTT, "An Act to consolidate the stock of the Manayunk gas company."

Also, "An Act for the further protection of passengers on railroads."

Also, "An Act to reduce the number of aldermen in the Twenty-fourth ward of the city of Philadelphia."

Mr. HAMERSLY, "An Act to prevent persons transacting business under fictitious names."

Also, "An Act to annul the marriage contract between Wm. R. Priestly and Annie N. M. Priestly his wife."

Also, "A supplement to the act whereby the Dock coal company was incorporated under the act of 7th April, 1849, entitled 'An Act to encourage manufacturing operations in this Commonwealth, and the supplements thereto.'"

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) "An Act to extend the limits of the borough of Port Clinton."

"A supplement to an act for the relief of the West Chester railroad company, and for other purposes, approved the 16th day of April, 1858."

Mr. BALLIET, "An Act relative to municipal claims."

Mr. GREEN, "An Act for the relief of Jonas Rumble."

Also, one for the relief of B. F. Affold.

Also, one for the relief of J. H. Hunter.

Mr. SMEAD moved that the rules be suspended, and that the House proceed to the consideration of the supplement to the act to incorporate the Fairmount and Arch Street passenger railway company; which was agreed to.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved that the consideration of the same be postponed for the present, on account of the absence of his colleague, (Mr. THORN;) which was agreed to.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. WILCOX presented a joint resolution relative to the pay of the Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms, who served on the committee appointed at the last session of the Legislature to investigate the affairs of certain banks; which was adopted.

Mr. NEAL, offered a resolution that the House hold a session this evening, for the purpose of completing the Private Calendar, which was unfinished last Tuesday.

The House refused to proceed to the second reading of the same.

Mr. KINNEY offered a joint resolution, providing for the appointment of John H. Wells, as an Assistant Clerk, for the remainder of the session.

Pending the consideration of which, a motion was made by Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) that the House do now adjourn; which was agreed to.

Whereupon the SPEAKER adjourned the House until to-morrow morning at 9½ o'clock.

SENATE.

FRIDAY, March 4, 1859.

The Senate met at the usual hour.

The Journal was partly read, when, on motion of Mr. GREGG, its further reading was dispensed with.

The SPEAKER presented the petition of James Condron, for damages sustained by the sinking of his boat in the Pennsylvania canal.

Also, a petition of citizens of Blair county, in favor of the passage of Senate bill (read in place by the Senator from Bedford,) for the repeal of the tonnage tax, under certain conditions.

Also, two petitions of citizens of Cambria county, of like import.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of the borough of Johnstown, against any law legalizing a partial survey of said borough, made by John Brawley.

Also, the proceedings of a meeting held in the Twenty-third ward of Philadelphia, in favor of Sunday travel on passenger railways.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Huntingdon county, against any change in the mode of collecting State and county taxes in said county.

Also, the resolutions of the councils of Philadelphia, in favor of the repeal of a law relating to the payment of road damages.

Also, the second annual report of the Farmers' High School.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, &c.

Mr. YARDLEY, the petition of William B. Alburger, Noah Shull and others, of Bucks and Philadelphia counties, praying for a law prohibiting negroes and mulattoes from coming into this State with a view of acquiring a residence therein.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Bucks county, against the passage of House bill No. 187, incorporating the Delaware Division canal company.

Mr. THOMPSON, five petitions from citizens of Montgomery county, for a law requiring the commissioners of said county to appoint constables as collectors.

Also, two petitions from citizens of Pennsylvania, for a law compelling banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Also, a petition from citizens of Montgomery county, for a law to prevent cattle from running at large.

Also, the petition of the managers and stockholders of the Skippack, Plymouth and Upper Dublin turnpike road companies, to charge tolls in certain cases.

Also, the petition of citizens of Montgomery county, against the act before the Legislature, changing the mode of collecting taxes.

Mr. PENNEY, two remonstrances of citizens of Pittsburg, against any act abolishing the high school in said city.

Also, the petition of citizens of Pittsburg, in favor of the same.

Mr. TURNEY, a petition of citizens of Washington township, Westmoreland county, praying for the passage of a law authorizing the school directors of Shaw's district, in said township, to build a school house on the land of Michael Miller.

Mr. BLOOD, a petition of citizens of Jefferson county, praying for the repeal of the charter of the Susquehanna and Waterford turnpike road company.

Mr. KELLER, a petition from citizens of the borough of Berwick, Columbia county, praying for the abolition of the office of county superintendent of common schools.

Also, a petition from citizens of Snyder county, praying for an act to secure a bounty on the scalps of muskrats and minks.

Mr. BALDWIN, a petition from citizens of Lancaster county, praying for the passage of a law requiring banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Also, a petition from the president and cashier of the Farmers' Bank of Lancaster, of like import.

Mr. GAZZAM, two petitions of citizens of Pittsburg, praying for the abolition of the high school in that city.

Also, a petition of citizens of Pittsburg and vicinity, for the passage of an act incorporating the Pittsburg and East Liberty passenger railroad company.

Also, a petition of inhabitants of Pennsylvania, praying for the passage of a law prohibiting the surrender of persons claimed as slaves.

Also, resolutions of the select and common council of the city of Allegheny, remonstrating against the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. STEELE, two petitions signed by a large number of citizens of Wilkesbarr township, in favor of that township being divided into two election districts.

Mr. WRIGHT, two remonstrances of persons living on the line of the Green and Coates Streets passenger railway, against the passage of any supplement thereto.

Also, the remonstrance of Evangelical Christians of Frankford, Philadelphia county, and vicinity, against any modification of the Sunday laws.

Also, the petition of citizens of Frankford and vicinity, in favor of the same.

Messrs. PARKER, MARSELIS and RAN-DALL petitions of similar import.

Messrs. PARKER, MARSELIS, COFFEY, WRIGHT, PALMER and BELL, petitions of citizens of Philadelphia, praying for the repeal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Mr. BELL, a petition of the Bank of Delaware County, for the passage of a law requiring banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Mr. SCHINDEL, a petition of citizens of Allentown, in favor of an act to repeal the supplement to their borough charter.

Also, a petition of citizens of Bucks, Montgomery and Lehigh counties, in favor of the construction of a turnpike road in said county.

Also, two petitions of citizens of Saucon township, Lehigh county, for the passage of an act compelling the North Pennsylvania and Lehigh Valley railroad companies to fence the portion their roads in said county.

Mr. PALMER, three petitions of citizens of Schuylkill county, for the passage of an act requiring the sheriff to advertise sales of real and personal estate in two English and one German paper.

Also, two petitions of citizens of East Brunswick township, in the same county, for a law changing the place of holding elections in said township.

Also, two petitions of citizens of the same county, for a law regulating the height of fences.

Also, a petition of citizens of the North ward of Schuylkill Haven, for a law changing the place of holding elections in said ward.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same borough, against any extension of their borough limits.

Mr. SCOFIELD, a petition of members of the bar, judges and officers of the court in Tioga county, in favor of a bill before the Senate, relative to arbitrations.

Mr. GREGG, a petition of citizens of Jersey Shore, Lycoming county, for a law regulating elections in said borough.

Also, a petition of citizens of Clinton county, in favor of an appropriation to the Polytechnic college.

Also, two petitions of citizens of Union county, in favor of an act changing the law appointing road viewers in said county.

Also, a petition of citizens of Lycoming county, for a law to secure more prompt payment on the part of insurance companies.

Mr. RUTHERFORD, a remonstrance of citizens of Harrisburg, against the repeal of a law relative to councilmen in said borough.

Mr. SHAEFFER, a petition of citizens of Lancaster county, for the abolition of the office of sealer of weights and measures in said county.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, in favor of an act to incorporate a turnpike road from Marietta to Manheim.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, for the reduction of the rates of taxation on plank and turnpike road companies.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, in favor of an appropriation to the Polytechnic college.

Also, the petition of John H. Longnecker, surviving member of the firm of Moderswell & Longnecker, praying for compensation for the loss sustained by the destruction of cars on the Pennsylvania and Columbia railroad.

Also, the petition of Rachel Nailer and Adam Lefevre, for the passage of an act authorizing the sale of real estate of Samuel Harman, dec'd, of Lancaster county.

Mr. WELSH, a petition of citizens of Hanover, York county, for an act to incorporate the Hanover gas light company.

Also, a petition of citizens of York county, for an act abolishing the office of county superintendent.

Mr. COFFEY, a petition of citizens of Cambria county, in favor of an appropriation to the Polytechnic college.

Mr. FRANCIS, a memorial of the members of the bar of Mercer county, in favor of an act relative to the administration of justice in said county.

A communication from the Auditor General was received and read.

On motion, it was ordered to be printed in the Record.

It is as follows:

AUDITOR GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
March 2, 1859. }
Hon. JOHN CRESSWELL, Jr.,
Speaker of the Senate of Pennsylvania:

SIR:—The resolution of the Senate of the 25th of February, in the words following, is before me:

Resolved, That the Auditor General be requested to inform the Senate whether the Pennsylvania railroad company have paid a State tax on their capital stock, as required of all corporations under the provisions of the thirty-third section of an act to reduce the State debt, and to incorporate the Pennsylvania canal and railroad company, approved April 29, 1844; what amount of tax is claimed to be due the Commonwealth from the said company; what portion of the said tax has been paid; and at what period the said company commenced to pay the same; and further, what legislation, if any, is deemed necessary to equalize taxation upon the capital stock of the various corporations in this Commonwealth.

In reply to the foregoing, I beg leave to offer the following:

From the books and papers on file in this office, it appears that on the 16th of February, 1855, my predecessor addressed a letter to the Pennsylvania railroad company, calling their attention to the provisions of the thirty-third section of the act of 29th of April, 1844; that upon the 17th of the same month, he received an answer from the vice-president of said company, stating that the company had made no dividends, and claiming that, by the provisions of the second section of the act of March 27, 1848, the company were not subject to any tax in consequence of the payment of interest therein authorized. On the 1st of January, 1857, a report was made to this department by the treasurer of the company, stating they had commenced business on the 31st of March, 1847; that the amount of capital stock was $12,586,625; and that they had declared two dividends for and during the year ending with the 1st of November, 1856, of four per cent. each; giving the whole amount of dividend paid to that day at the sum of $841,309.42. On the same day, the company paid into the State treasury the sum the duties of the office, I found there was a of $42,065.32 tax on stock. This much took place under my predecessor. When I assumed large number of corporations in different parts of the Commonwealth, who had never complied with the terms of the act of the 29th of April, 1844, nor had many of them paid any taxes into the treasury; and there was also a large number who had paid taxes, but who had failed to make such annual report of dividends declared, or under such valuation of the capital stock as would enable the department to determine whether the amount of taxes so paid were assessed upon the proper basis. In order, therefore, that the records of this office should exhibit the proper returns from the various corporations, as contemplated by the thirty-third section of the act of the 29th of April, 1844, above mentioned; and not concurring in opinion with the said Pennsylvania railroad company, that the proviso contained in second section of the act of the 27th of March, 1848, (P. L., p. 274,) exempted that company from the payment of tax upon the stock; construing that proviso to mean, that the six per cent. interest authorized to be paid stockholders, should not be taken or considered as a six per cent. dividend for tax purposes, but allow the capital to be taxed as non-dividend paying stock, according to the valuation made by the board of directors. I therefore addressed a notice on the 7th of July, 1857, among others, to the Pennsylvania railroad company, requesting a report from the company of the rate, date and amount of each dividend declared from the time of commencing business to the first Monday of November, 1856, (excepting the interest paid to stockholders, under the act of 27th March, 1848, before alluded to,) and for such years as no dividend equal to six per cent. had been made or declared, a valuation of the capital stock as it existed between the first and fifteenth days of November in each year. To this notice I received no reply. On the 30th October, 1857, I addressed another note to said company, stating that unless the required report was received in thirty days from that date, I would proceed to settle an account for tax on capital stock against them, under the provisions of the fourteenth section of the act of 30th March, 1811. On the 30th day of November, of the same year, I received a report signed by the treasurer and a majority of the board of managers, appraising the capital stock of the company for the year ending November 1, 1857, at forty dollars per share, without giving the number of shares issued or held. On the 17th December, 1857, the company paid into the State Treasury the sum of thirty-one thousand five hundred and ninety-seven dollars and sixty-two cents tax on stock.

Receiving no answer to my letter of the 30th October, on the 15th of June, 1858, I proceeded to settle an estimated account for taxes due the Commonwealth on the capital stock of the company, according to the notice given on the 20th October before mentioned. A copy of the account as so settled, is hereunto annexed. The amount of capital paid in, as used in this estimated account, is taken from the annual reports of the managers to the stockholders, with the exception of the year 1855, for which year I was unable to obtain any report. The most of the other reports were promptly furnished by the officers of the company, upon request. The rule at present practiced in this department, is not to charge companies with taxes until they have commenced business, and notwithstanding the treasurer of the company, by letter of January 1, 1857, fixes the time of commencing business on the 31st March, 1847, I find the president of the company, in his report of November 28, 1849, says the road was opened for travel from Harrisburg to Lewistown, on the 1st September (then) last. I, therefore, in making up the estimated account, commenced calculating the taxes from the latter date, to avoid any injustice to the company. The first tax for 1849 is, consequently, for September and October of that year.

From this showing it will appear that the Pennsylvania railroad company have paid tax on capital stock, as appears by the annexed statement, of $42,065.32 for the year 1856, and of $31,597.62 for 1857; that according to said estimated account, the amount due the Commonwealth, including five per cent. added under the provisions of the act of 1811, before cited, up to the 1st Monday of November, 1857, was $207,064.98, and that the payments made by the company, were made on the 31st January and 17th December, 1857.

With regard to the latter clause of the resolution, as to "what legislation is deemed necessary to equalize taxation on the capital stock of corporations," I should prefer to present to the Senate, as nearly as practicable, the different modes, arising out of differently constructed acts, of assessing taxes upon the different incorporated companies that have come within my knowledge. If upon this exhibit it should appear that an inequality exists in the rates charged companies, such legislation upon the subject as might be deemed necessary will, no doubt, suggest itself to the Senate. So far as matters have come to my knowledge, the earliest laws imposing taxes upon corporations commenced about the year 1830. From that time forward to perhaps 1836, a number of the companies then incorporated were required to pay a tax of eight per cent. to the Commonwealth annually, upon all dividends exceeding six per cent. Others, again, were taxed merely upon a certain excess; and others again, a tax upon all dividends exceeding eight per cent. By the act of 16th June, 1836, "regulating iron manufacturing companies," all companies obtaining charters under that act were subject to a tax of eight per cent. on all dividends exceeding six per cent. These were taxes exclusively upon dividends. The act of 11th June, 1840, which took effect from and after the 1st January, 1841, and which was followed up by the act of 29th April, 1844, taxed the capital stock of all incorporated companies without repealing the previous laws taxing certain companies by any express repeal, and as the one was a tax upon dividends, and the other a tax upon capital stock, did not effect a repeal by implication; therefore, in the settlement of accounts for taxes, with companies whose charter requires them to pay a tax upon dividends, when such dividend exceeds a certain rate, they are charged with this tax upon the dividend in addition to the tax charged upon their capital stock, under the thirty-third section of the act of 29th April, 1844. The question might with propriety have been raised, whether all companies should not be made subject to a tax upon dividends as well as upon capital stock, or whether those companies whose charters require the payment of a tax upon their dividends should not be relieved, and put upon a footing of equality with those who pay only upon their capital stock. In this suggestion, of course, I do not include banks and savings institutions.

Notwithstanding the thirty-third section of the act of 29th April, 1844, expressly requires that all companies incorporated by or under any law of this Commonwealth, shall pay a tax upon their stock, there are a number of companies chartered since that time, who claim exemption from taxation by express or implied provision in their charter, and who could, as well as others, bear a share of the public burthens. A striking case occurred but a few days ago: The Catiwissa, Williamsport and Elmira railroad company sent to my care a check to pay the tax upon their capital stock. But a few moments after I handed it over to the Treasury, I received a telegraphic dispatch from the company, informing me they had just discovered that by a provision in their charter they were not liable for any tax, and requesting me to return the check, as they had stopped its payments at the bank. Upon examining the law I was forced to the conclusion that the position of the company was well taken. These exemptions get into bills occasionally, unobserved, no doubt, except by those interested, and are passed through in the hurry of business, without attracting the notice of the Legislature. The result is that we have a number of corporations who are compelled to pay taxes upon dividends and stock both, and then another number who pay no tax. It would seem, to that extent, that the law at present works injustice to the Commonwealth—is in bad faith to a number of tax-paying corporations, and is destructive to that equality of taxation which should operate alike between incorporated companies as it should between individuals. The act of 29th April, 1844, lays down a system for taxing corporations at once so just, equal and correct in its operations, that no company should seek to avoid complying with its provisions. By that act when the capital stock of a company yields a six per cent. dividend, its proportion of taxes is about equal with that upon other property—when the stock does not yield a dividend or profit equal to six per cent., the directors or managers value it, and upon their own valuation the tax is assessed. No system can be devised to operate more equally, and hence its application should reach every company in this Commonwealth.

My impression is, if the Legislature would so provide, that from henceforth, all corporations must pay taxes, as provided by the thirty-third section of the act of April 29, 1844, aforementioned, and that those who paid a tax on dividends, in addition to the tax upon capital stock, would be relieved from their dividend tax, thus placing all upon a footing of equality, the result would be rather an increase than a diminution in the amount of revenue to the Commonwealth from that source.

Very respectfully,

JACOB FRY Jr.,

Auditor General.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY IN ACCOUNT WITH THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

For tax on capital stock, per act of April 29, 1844, from September 1, 1849, to the first Monday of November, 1857; the said tax being estimated under the provisions of the fourteenth section of the act of March 30, 1811, except the year 1856, for which the company furnished the necessary data to determine the proper amount of tax.

	Cap. St'k paid in.	Mills.	Tax.
1849.....	$3,322,035.....	0.....	$1,811.01
1850.....	5,822,210.....	3.....	17,466.63
1851.....	8,103,465.....	3.....	24,310.89

1852.....	9,768,155.....	3.....	29,304.46
1853.....	11,228,020.....	3.....	33,684.06
1854.....	12,104,820.....	3.....	36,314.46
1855.....	12,300,000.....	3.....	36,900.00
1857.....	13,206,625.....	3.....	39,619.87

$219,410.88

Add five per cent. under said act of 1811..... 10,970.54

1856 dividends eight per cent. on

$12,586,625, tax 4 mills..... 50,346.00

Total..... $280,727.92

CR.

By payment to treasury

Jan. 31, 1857..... $42,065.32

By payment to treasury

Dec. 17, 1857..... 31,597.62

73,662.94

Balance due Commonwealth... $207,064.98

A message from the Governor was received and read. It is as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
Harrisburg, March 4, 1859. }

To the Honorable the Senate of Pennsylvania:

SENATORS:—I do hereby nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate, Charles D. Hinckley, Esq., of the county of Dauphin, to be superintendent of public printing, agreeably to the provisions of the act of the 9th day of April, Anno Domini, 1856, entitled "An Act in relation to public printing."

On motion of Mr. WELSH, the rule was suspended which requires Executive nominations to lie on the table for five days, and agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were called upon the confirmation of the above nomination.

The vote is as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Brewer, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Nunnemacher, Palmer, Parker, Randall, Rutherford, Schell, Seofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Thompson, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—27.

NAYS—None.

Mr. BELL presented the memorial of the commissioners appointed to revise the penal code.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. TURNEY, (Finance,) reported, as committed, "Joint resolution to pay DAVID R. McCLAIN, late a member of the House of Representatives."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, said resolution was read, considered and passed.

Mr. BELL, (Judiciary,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the sale of the real estate of Wm. H. Richter, deceased."

On motion of Mr. KELLER, the Senate proceeded to consider the same, and the bill having gone through its various readings, passed finally.

Mr. BELL, (Judiciary,) as committed, "A supplement to an act regulating voting in Schuylkill county."

On motion of Mr. CRAIG, said bill was taken up, and after being duly considered, passed finally.

Mr. WRIGHT, (Corporations,) as committed, House bill No. 560, "A supplement to the act incorporating the borough of Harrisburg."

Mr. SHAEFFER, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Dock coal company, under the act of Assembly of April 7, 1849, entitled 'An Act to encourage manufacturing operations in this Commonwealth, and the several supplements thereto.'"

Mr. RANDALL, (Railroads,) with amendment, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Blockley and Marion plank road company."

Mr. STEELE, (same,) with amendment, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Arch Street and Fairmount passenger railway company."

Mr. CRAIG, (same,) with amendment "An Act to incorporate the Hestonville, Mantua and Fairmount passenger railway company."

Mr. BALDWIN, (Roads and Bridges,) as committed, "An Act to repeal a certain supplement to an act incorporating the Wellsboro and Tioga plank road company."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, (same,) as committed, "An Act to enable the commissioners of Sheffield township, Warren county, to levy additional road tax."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing Walter J. Smith to erect a ferry across the Allegheny river at Warren."

Mr. MARSELIS, (Banks,) as committed, "An Act to extend the charter of the Dauphin Deposit Bank."

Mr. RANDALL, from the special committee to which was referred Senate bill No. 18, "An Act to establish a general banking law," reported the same with amendments.

On motion, the amendments were ordered to be printed.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. PENNEY read in his place, and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "A supplement to an act to provide for the erection of a house for the employment and support of the poor in Allegheny county."

Also, "An Act relative to the compensation of crier in the district court of Allegheny county."

Mr. CRAIG, "A supplement to an act to provide for the erection of a house for the employment and support of the poor in Carbon county."

Mr. NUNEMACHER, "A supplement to the several acts relative to the Dauphin and Susquehanna coal company."

Mr. STEELE, "An Act to divide the borough of Scranton into two wards."

Mr. RANDALL, "An Act to allow the Philadelphia Bank to buy additional real estate."

Also, "An Act authorizing the Tinklepaugh coal company to borrow money."

Also, "An Act to incorporate the National steamship company."

Mr. FRANCIS, "An Act authorizing the Auditor General to open and re-settle the accounts of James Mitchell, treasurer of Lawrence county."

Also, "An Act relative to the salary of the Adjutant General."

Mr. MARSELIS, "An Act declaratory of the eleventh section of the act of July 26, 1842."

Mr. YARDLEY, from the Committee to Compare bills, made a report.

Mr. BELL presented supplementary resolutions relative to a revised penal code of Pennsylvania; which were referred to the Judiciary Committee.

They are as follows:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met:

1. That the commissioners appointed by the Governor, to prepare a revised penal code, are hereby directed to report said code complete, together with such bills as they may prepare, relating to corporations and their taxation, within three days of the first meeting of the next General Assembly.

2. Resolved, That the said commissioners are hereby requested, to furnish the public printer with the revised penal code, prepared by them, in time to have the same printed before the meeting of the next Legislature.

3. Resolved, That the said public printer is hereby authorized, to print one thousand copies of the said revised penal code, and report and furnish the same to the next Legislature, within three days from the commencement of the session.

4. Resolved, That the State Treasurer shall pay to the said commissioners two thousand dollars per annum each, to be paid quarterly out of any unappropriated money in the Treasury, from the date of their appointment to the completion of their labors: Provided, That said commission shall not continue in force longer than the sixth day of January next, and that any payments heretofore made shall be deducted from said quarterly allowance.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. BELL offered the following resolution; which was twice read and considered:

Resolved, That under the rule of the Senate, directing calls of the members alphabetically, for consideration of private bills, no member shall be permitted to transfer his call to another.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the same? It was determined in the negative.

A communication from the Auditor General was received and read.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

"An Act to incorporate the Bedford gas company;" came up in order on third reading, and passed finally.

"A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Marshall saving institution of Philadelphia;" came up in order on third reading.

Mr. WRIGHT explained the object of the bill. While it bore the title of "savings institution," (and it was one in the proper sense,) it was a building club, and one of the first chartered by the Legislature. It was now nearly eleven years old, and was about distributing its funds amongst its members: the monthly instalments, and the interest thereon, having reached the sum of two hundred dollars on each share. This act provides for a new series of monthly payments, and will wind up at the end of three or four years, the par value of the new shares being but fifty dollars. A clause in the bill, as originally presented, authorizing it to receive money on deposit, was, at his instance, stricken out.

And on its final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RANDALL and Mr. WRIGHT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Blood, Brewer, Fetter, Francis, Gazzam, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Nunemacher, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Shaeffer, Schindle, Steele, Thompson, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—22.

NAYS—Mr. Schell—1.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

"An Act to incorporate the Union cemetery association of the borough of Lebanon and vicinity," came up in order on third reading and passed.

"An Act to increase the salaries of the judges of the district court and court of common pleas of Philadelphia," came up in order on second reading; the question being upon the amendment offered by Mr. TURNEY—"and that the salaries of the law judges of the several districts of this Commonwealth now receiving $2000, be increased to $2500."

Mr. WRIGHT remarked that when this bill was under consideration yesterday, he was under the impression that the salary of the law judges was twenty-two hundred dollars; but he now finds that he was mistaken—the present compensation being only two thousand.—We now propose, he said, to raise it five hundred dollars at one clip. He had nothing to add to what he had urged yesterday, against this proposed increase.

Mr. PALMER said that the Senator from Philadelphia, (Mr. WRIGHT,) had yesterday made an inquiry as to the length of time the judges of these law courts were employed in the actual performance of their duties. He had taken pains to inquire as to his own district, and had received from the clerk and prothonotary a statement of the cases disposed of in the county of Schuylkill, which he read.

The number of entries on the appearance docket, in 1858, was three thousand three hundred and eighty-two; the cases disposed of in the common pleas, during the year 1858, numbered ninety; the number disposed of on the argument list was one hundred and eighty-nine; the number disposed of at the session of over and terminer, was three hundred and thirty-two; and the length of time the court was in session, was twenty-seven weeks. The remainder of the time of the judges, he said, was necessarily taken up in the investigation of causes before them. He did not know how this would compare with the service of judges in other counties or districts; but if it could be taken as anything like a test, it would be seen that almost the entire attention and time of the courts was occupied either in the trial or investigation of causes which were brought before them.

He advocated the proposed increase of salary; to the course of which he said that there were men at the bar of his county, whose practice amounted to three times as much as the compensation paid to Judge Heggius, of that district, and whose legal acquirements, talent or ability, were in no wise superior. He had made up his mind, in some fourteen or fifteen years practice, that cheap law and cheap physics are by far the dearest in the end; and he did not believe that the sober thinking men of the State would ask the Senate to cheapen the judicial labor, or to deny to the judges a fair and adequate compensation for services rendered.

Mr. GAZZAM said the judiciary were worse paid than any officers in the service of the people, and advocated the proposition as one simply designed to confer an adequate compensation upon the service of competent men.

Mr. BREWER, in rising to oppose the amendment, said the propositions to increase the salaries of the officers of the State were becoming too frequent. The cry was almost daily heard of incompetency of salary; and it now becomes the people to pause, and inquire where all this tends. Who, he asked, of the legal profession, however celebrated—whatever his practice or attainments—had declined to become candidates either for judges of the common pleas or the supreme court, on account of the inadequacy of the salary paid them? So far from there being any who decline the honor, men of the first talent and legal attainment, as well as the most profitable practice, are willing to take a seat upon the bench, and leave their practice. He did not regard the argument of Senators, that the inadequacy of the present salary had a tendency to deprive the State of the judicial services of the best talent of the profession, as a correct one. He considered, and the judges who accept the position, considered the salary now paid, adequate to their support. Why, in days past, when the compensation was much less, the bench of Pennsylvania was honored by as high integrity, and adorned by as lofty talents, as ever adorned the temple of justice, or illustrated the jurisprudence of the land. And our bench now, he was proud to say, reflected honor upon the profession—added lustre to our past history, and in turn was surrounded with the confidence and blessings of the people.

That intent, he said, which will give its service to the State out of patriotic motives, from a desire to serve the public, without regard to the paltry feeling of dollars and cents, is the talent we want; not that species of capacity which seeks the high and proud position for the mere purpose of emolument, or which metes out its service only in consideration of the salary which attaches to it.

Before Senators urge an increase in the compensation of judges, they should wait until men of legal eminence and ability decline to serve upon the bench, upon account of the inadequacy of the salary attached to the office. When the judges, themselves, manifest a determination to resign their positions, or gentlemen of legal ability decline the honor, there will be some force in the argument which has been urged in support of the proposed increase; but so long as there is no demand, on their part, for this increase of salary, he did not think the Senate was called upon to grant it, particularly at the present time, when the State was just recovering from one of the most disastrous financial storms which had ever swept over it.

If he could increase the salaries of these judges, without doing injustice to the people, who bear the burthen of taxation, he would willingly do so. If he could strengthen, by that increase, the confidence of the people in the administration of justice, he would vote for it. But while the frugal and industrious masses of the people are unwilling to raise the compensation, the popular confidence is strong in our administration of justice, and the unanimous voice of the country bears its generous testimony to the virtue and the purity—to the imposing dignity, and the vast learning of our bench. With his present views, he could not, in a conscientious discharge of his duty to his constituents and the public, do otherwise than enter his protest, and record his vote against it.

On the adoption of the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. STEELE and Mr. WRIGHT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Marselis, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Shaeffer, Turney, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—15.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Nunemacher, Rutherford, Steele, Thompson, Welsh and Wright—13.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section, as amended?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. WELSH, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Marselis, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Shaeffer, Turney, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—15.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Nunemacher, Rutherford, Schell, Steele, Thompson, Welsh and Wright—14.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The title having been amended,

The bill lies over on third reading.

House bill No. 254, "An Act relative to the election of supervisors in Salem township, Westmoreland county," came up in order, and passed finally.

"An Act to incorporate the commercial trust company," came up in order, and on its final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. COFFEY and Mr. THOMPSON, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Penney, Shaeffer and Thompson—3.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Blood, Brewer, Coffey, Craig, Finney, Francis, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Nunemacher, Parker, Randall, Rutherford, Schell, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—22.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Senate bill No. 112, "An Act to simplify legal proceedings and facilitate the recovery of claims in the courts of law in this Commonwealth," came up in order, passed second reading and lies over.

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, the Senate reconsidered its vote on the final passage of Senate bill No. 201, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Frankford and Oxford turnpike road company."

The bill being again before the Senate, Mr. WRIGHT moved to strike out the word "and" in the last line, and insert the word "any;" which was agreed to, and the bill passed finally.

Mr. SCHINDEL, from the Committee of Conference, on House bill No. 91, "An Act to incorporate the Ironton railroad and mining company made a report; which, having been read and considered, was adopted.

House bill No. 247, "An Act to authorize the Governor to incorporate a company to erect a bridge over Clearfield creek, in Clearfield county, at Alexander's fording," came up in order, and passed finally.

Senate bill No. 216, "An Act to attach Somerset county to the Middle district of the supreme court of Pennsylvania," came up in order, and having passed second reading, lies over.

"An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Olney railroad company," on third reading, was called up and passed finally.

Mr. BLOOD called up House bill No. 122, "An Act to incorporate the village of Corsica, in the county of Jefferson, into a borough," on second reading, and the bill passed finally.

"An Act to incorporate the Columbia County agricultural, horticultural and mechanical association," on second reading, was called up and passed finally.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. GREGG, Senate bill No. 292, "An Act relating to county surveyors."

On motion of Mr. STEELE, Senate bill, No. 357, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Danville railroad company."

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, Senate bill, No. 63, "An Act relating to interest upon verdicts."

On motion of Mr. SHAEFFER, Senate bill, No. 338, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Conestoga and Beaver Valley turnpike road company."

[The second section of this bill was stricken out.]

On motion of Mr. FRANCIS, Senate bill, No. 126, "An Act further to prevent disturbance of public meetings."

[This bill was amended by the addition of a new section.]

On motion of Mr. COFFEY, the Senate reconsidered its vote on the motion to recede from an amendment to "An Act to provide for the election of an additional constable at Brady's Bend, Armstrong county;" and the bill being again before the Senate, on motion of Mr. COFFEY, the Senate insisted upon its amendment, and a committee of conference was ordered to be appointed.

On motion, the Senate adjourned until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Agreeably to order the Senate met at 3 o'clock.

Mr. SCHELL, from the committee of conference on House bill, No. 280, "An Act relative to elections in Somerset county," made a report; which was read, considered and adopted.

[The House recede from non-concurrence in Senate amendments.]

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. BREWER, the Senate resumed the consideration of House bill, No. 7,

"An Act to abolish the office of scaler of weights and measures, in certain counties," and the bill passed.

[Dauphin and Westmoreland counties were included in this bill.]

On motion of Mr. KELLER, Senate bill, No. 355, "An Act to incorporate the East Danville iron company," was taken up. The first six sections were agreed to.

The seventh section being before the Senate, Mr. STEELE moved to strike it out and insert in lieu thereof, the following:

"That the stockholders of the said company shall be jointly and severally liable in their individual capacities, for all debts due mechanics, workmen and laborers employed by said company, and for material and produce furnished said company, in the counties of Montour, Columbia and Luzerne; to be sued for and collected as is provided by the twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth sections of the act incorporating the Lackawana coal and iron company, approved April 5, 1853."

Mr. PENNEY suggested an amendment to the amendment, to strike out the counties mentioned; which was agreed to.

Pending the discussion of the amendment, Mr. GREGG moved to postpone further consideration of the bill for the present.

On which motion,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GREGG and Mr. MYER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Blood, Craig, Gregg, Nunemacher, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—7.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Brewer, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Schell, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Thompson, Turney, Welsh and Yardley—23.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring upon the substitute offered by Mr. STEELE,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. STEELE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele and Thompson—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Keller, Marselis, Nunemacher, Schell, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—12.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The eighth, ninth and tenth sections were agreed to.

And on the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. STEELE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Thompson and Yardley—18.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Keller, Marselis, Nunemacher, Schell, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—12.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. BELL, Senate bill No. 337, "An Act to incorporate the Black Rock bridge company."

On motion of Mr. BLOOD, Senate bill No. 407, "An Act to repeal a part of the fourth section of an act to appoint road commissioners to take charge of a portion of the Warren and Ridgway turnpike road, in Elk and Forest counties, approved April 15, 1858."

On motion of Mr. BREWER, Senate bill No. 445, "An Act to incorporate the Mont Alto iron company."

On the final passage of this bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr.

RANDALL and Mr. BREWER, and were as follows, viz :

YEAS—Messrs. Brewer, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Harris, Myer, Parker, Penney, Rutherford, Schell, Schindel, Steele and Yardley—14.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Blood, Craig, Marselis, Nunemacher, Palmer, Thompson, Turney, Welsb, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—12.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. GREGG, Senate bill No. 457, "An Act to amend the charter of the borough of Jersey Shore."

On motion of Mr. WELSH, House bill No. 729, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the the borough of York."

BILL IN PLACE.

On leave given, Mr. MYER read in his place and presented to the Chair a bill, entitled "An Act to provide for the fencing of railroads in Bradford county."

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. FRANCIS, House bill No. 22, "An Act repealing certain acts, relative to roads and bridges in Mercer county."

On motion of Mr. GAZZAM, Senate bill No. 440, "An Act to incorporate the Pittsburg park association."

[This bill was variously amended, on motion of Mr. GAZZAM.]

The hour of five having arrived; on motion of Mr. WRIGHT, the hour of adjournment was postponed.

On motion of Mr. SCHINDEL, House bill No. 282, "A further supplement for the division of the borough of Allentown into wards."

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, House bill No. 409, "An Act changing the place of holding general and township elections in Jackson township, Huntingdon county."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, Senate bill No. 416, "An Act authorizing the Auditor General and State Treasurer to open and re-settle the accounts of the Franklin fire insurance company of Philadelphia."

On motion of Mr. MARSELIS, House bill No. 318, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Johnstown and Scalp Level turnpike road company."

On motion, the Senate adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

FRIDAY, March 4, 1859.

The House was called to order at 9½ o'clock, by Mr. CHASE, Speaker pro tem.

On motion of Mr. LAWRENCE, of Washington, the reading of the Journal was dispensed with.

Mr. EVANS moved that the rules be suspended, and that the House proceed to the consideration of the bill relative to the pay of GEORGE W. WOOD, dec'd, as a member of this House; which was agreed to; whereupon said bill was taken up and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. GLATZ, on leave, read in his place and presented to the Chair, "A supplement to the act incorporating the borough of York;" and, on his motion, the rules being in this case dispensed with, said bill was taken up and passed finally, and ordered to be sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. HAMERSLY gave notice that he would call for the orders of the day at 10 o'clock, for the consideration of public bills.

Mr. GRATZ, on leave, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported as committed, Senate bill No. 150, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the city of Philadelphia, providing for the abolishment of the board of guardians of the poor;" and, on his motion, the rules in this case being dispensed with, said bill was taken up, as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the present board of guardians of the poor of the city of Philadelphia, as constituted and organized by and under an act, entitled "A further supplement to incorporate the city of Philadelphia, passed February 2, 1854," shall be abolished, and shall cease and determine from and after the first Monday in July next, A. D. 1859; and that all laws and parts of laws providing for the organization of said board as now established, and under and by virtue of which said board of guardians of the poor is now constituted by the election of its members by the qualified electors of the several wards of the city of Philadelphia, mentioned in the eighteenth section of the act to which this is a further supplement, shall, from and after the said first Monday of July, 1859, be repealed, and thereafter be of no force or effect, so far as the same shall conflict in the provisions of this act; and that so much of said act as authorizes the qualified electors of said wards of the city of Philadelphia, annually, on the first Tuesday in May, to elect one citizen to serve as a member of said board, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SECTION 2. That on the first Monday in July next, A. D. 1859, and forever thereafter, until otherwise provided by law, the powers, duties, rights, liberties, authorities and immunities of the board of guardians of the poor of the city of Philadelphia, as constituted and organized under the provisions of the act mentioned in the first section of this act, shall be transferred and assigned to, and be assumed and exercised by nine reputable citizens and electors of said city of Philadelphia, to be selected in the following manner, to wit:—On the first Monday in June, 1858, the judges of the district courts, for the city and county of Philadelphia, shall appoint three reputable citizens, and electors of said city, to be members of the board of guardians of the poor, as constituted under the provisions of this act; one to serve one year; one to serve two years, and one to serve three years; and annually thereafter the said court shall appoint one person to be a member of said board. The court of common pleas shall, in like manner, and at the same time, appoint the same number of members of said board; and annually thereafter the said court shall appoint one member of said board. The select and common council of the city of Philadelphia, in joint convention, at any stated meeting, in June next, shall elect the same number of members of said board; one to serve one year; one to serve two years, and one to serve three years; and annually thereafter, at any stated meeting, in June, said councils, in joint convention, shall elect one member of said board to serve for three years.

SECTION 3. The members of said board, thus appointed and elected, shall meet on the first Monday in July next, 1849, at ten o'clock in the morning; and shall then assume and exercise all the powers, duties, rights, liberties, authorities and immunities of the present board of guardians of the poor.

SEC. 4. The present board of health of the city of Philadelphia, as constituted and organized by and under an act for establishing a health office, and to secure the port of Philadelphia from the introduction of pestilential and contagious diseases, and for other purposes, passed January 29, 18—, and an act, entitled "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the city of Philadelphia, passed February 2, 1854," shall be abolished, and shall cease and determine from and after the first Monday in July next, 1859; and all laws and parts of laws providing for the organization of said board as now established, and under and by virtue of which said board of health is now constituted, by the elections of its members by the qualified electors of the several wards of the city of Philadelphia, shall from and after the said first Monday in July, 1849, be repealed, and thereafter be of no force or effect, so far as the same shall conflict with the provisions of this act; and so much of said act as authorizes the qualified electors of each of the wards of the city of Philadelphia annually, on the first Tuesday in May, to elect one citizen to serve as a member of the said board of health, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SEC. 5. On the first Monday in July next, 1849, and forever thereafter, until otherwise provided by law, the powers, duties, rights, liberties, authorities and immunities of the board of health of the city and port of Philadelphia, as constituted and organized under the provisions of the act of Assembly mentioned in the fourth section of this act, and any and all other laws in relation to said board of health, shall be transferred and assigned to, and be assumed and exercised by nine reputable citizens and electors of said city of Philadelphia, who shall be elected in the following manner, to wit: on the first Monday in June, A. D. 1849, the judges of the district court for the city and county of Philadelphia shall appoint three reputable citizens and electors of said city to be members of the board of health, as constituted under the provisions of this act—one to serve one year, one to serve two years, and one to serve three years; and annually thereafter the said court shall appoint one person to be a member of said board of health; the court of common pleas shall in like manner and at the same time appoint the same number of members of said board; and annually thereafter the said court shall appoint one person to be a member of said board; the select and common councils of the city of Philadelphia, in joint convention, at any stated meeting in June next, shall elect the same number of members of said board—one to serve one year, one to serve two years, and one to serve three years; and annually thereafter, at any stated meeting in June next, said councils, in joint convention, shall elect one member of said board for three years.

SEC. 6. The members of said board of health, thus appointed and elected, shall meet on the first Monday in July next, A. D. 1849, at ten o'clock in the morning, and shall then assume and exercise all the powers, duties, rights, liberties, authorities and immunities of the present board of health.

SEC. 7. That in case a vacancy occur in the said board of guardians of the poor, or the said board of health, from death, resignation or otherwise, it shall be supplied and filled for the unexpired term of such member by the court which appointed, or the councils which elected, the member thus dying, resigning, or otherwise vacating his seat in the board of which he was a member.

SEC. 8. That upon conviction, in any court of criminal jurisdiction, of any member or members said board of guardians of the poor, or the said board of health, of any wilful misapplication of the funds or property of the said boards, or funds or property of the city of Philadelphia, or of any fraudulent and corrupt official act, he or they so offending and convicted, shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred, nor more than one thousand dollars, and undergo an imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, at the discretion of the court.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved to amend the first section, as follows:

Provided, That this act shall not apply to the twenty-second ward, nor to such parts of the Twenty-first and Twenty-third wards, as are now under a separate organization, for the support and employment of the poor; which was agreed to.

Said bill was read the second and third times, and being on final passage,

Mr. WALBORN spoke as follows:

Mr. SPEAKER:—There is involved in this bill a principle I am not prepared to endorse—that of bestowing upon the courts the power of appointment to office; and, sir, I predict if this bill should become a law, and the power of appointment to office be vested in the same persons who have to try those appointees for misdemeanor, should they be guilty of it, that but a short time will elapse ere the people will have cause to mourn for the trouble that will come upon them. No such power should ever be vested in the judiciary. Its inevitable tendency is to corruption. When you confer upon judges, who are elected by the people, the power of official patronage, you stain the judicial ermine and open the very flood gates of political iniquity, especially when the same judges have the exclusive power to try the favorites, whom they may appoint to office, for the offences they may commit in the discharge or prostitution of its duties. It would debase the judiciary from its high position, and bring it into the political arena, to become a mere party engine—a result destructive of the rights and liberties of every citizen. It is contrary to the genius and policy of all our institutions, to take power from the many and place it in the hands of the few; and no true patriot will ever desire to see such an encroachment upon the high prerogative of every freeman. There is no good reason why the people cannot correct any abuses that may exist in these offices, as they certainly have it in their power to do so. It may be true, however, that there should be a re-organization of the board of guardians, or that some means should be resorted to, in order to prevent frauds and correct abuses. But, sir, I am not prepared to adopt a remedy that is far worse than the disease—a remedy that will lead to results the most deplorable and unfortunate that can befall any community. Besides, sir, the remedy for the evils that are alleged to exist, properly belongs to the municipal authorities of the city of Philadelphia, and not to the Legislature of the Commonwealth.

Coupled with this bill, sir, are certain provisions with reference to the board of health, which seem to me to be entirely unnecessary and uncalled for. It is true, that some years ago, objections were made to the manner in which the duties of these officers were discharged, but at the present time no complaint whatever is made, and no legislation asked for.—When the alleged misdemeanors occurred, the people took the matter in their own hands, and overturned the administration under which they were perpetuated; and there have been no complaints made against the integrity or uprightness of the gentlemen who now compose that board. What necessity is there, then, for the proposed change?

It has been alleged here, sir, that this measure is demanded by a majority of the people of Philadelphia, and that whatever may be our individual opinions as to its expediency or principle, we must bow to their wishes, and pass the bill. That the people desire some change in the administration of the affairs of their almshouse, may, perhaps, be true; but that they desire the success of this measure I am not informed, and have no reason to believe. Not a single petition has been received here asking for it—not an intimation of a public character that may desire it. What right, then, have I, or has any other gentleman on this floor, to vote against our conscientious convictions, to establish a precedent and a principle subversive of our institutions and liberty, in the absence of any official or other evidence that it is demanded by the people? I desire, sir, to enter my solemn protest against the principle it embraces, which I conceive to be dangerous and inexpedient.

Mr. WILEY said that the board of guardians of the poor of Philadelphia, had been a reproach and disgrace, and had incurred the censure of the people to such an extent that they now asked that the power of appointment should be placed in good and responsible hands. The citizens demanded the change.

Mr. WALBORN replied: Sir, I am not here to defend the board of guardians of the poor, nor shall I oppose the passage of this bill by interposing my vote against it. My colleagues, though protesting against the principle it embraces, seem to desire its success, and so far as I am concerned, they can have it, although the bill was prepared without consulting me. But, sir, I shall not vote for it, because I cannot vote against my conscientious convictions of duty. I have full confidence in the impartiality and integrity of our present judiciary, but I act in this, as I do in every thing else, with an eye to the future. And I again reiterate my solemn protest against conferring upon the courts the power of appointment to office.

Mr. HAMERSLY said, only a very small portion of the district which I have the honor to represent upon this floor, are interested in the passage of this bill. Nearly the whole of my district is governed by a different system—a system which has commended itself to the popular favor by the wise and economical manner in which it has been administered. But the people of the city of Philadelphia have, with an almost unanimous voice, demanded a change in their present poor system, and in obedience to their desires I shall vote for the passage of the bill. I desire, however, at the same time, to say that I vote with great reluctance for any bill that proposes to take from the people the power to elect their officers and agents. I do not like to cast any vote here which implies a distrust of the capacity of the people for self government; but as the people of Philadelphia have themselves indicated a desire to surrender up this power and place it in other hands, I shall yield up my individual opinions to their better judgment, hoping that the warmest expectations and hopes of its friends may be realized by its passage. I shall do so, too, because I believe that, in questions of this character, it is the duty of the representative to bow to the instructions of his constituents, and although my constituents are not generally affected by the bill, I know that there is a general desire among them to see it passed.

Mr. THORN said—

Mr. SPEAKER:—The remarks of my colleague (Mr. WALBORN) have induced me to say a word upon the bill now before the House. He is opposed to the principle here attempted to be inaugurated, and I think very properly so. The people of our city, of all parties, with an unusual unanimity, demand the passage of a bill to abolish these two boards, and I think they have sufficiently indicated where they wish the appointing power to rest. I am not here to oppose the will of the people of Philadelphia, and when it can be ascertained, it is my duty to record it; but at the same time it is my privilege to put upon record my own opinions. This subject has been fully discussed by the press and people of Philadelphia, and in consequence of the apparent delay in its passage, this House, and the Philadelphia delegation particularly, have been charged with an attempt to smother it. This, we all know, is not true.

Mr. SPEAKER, I am not speaking to convince this House, or influence the vote of a single member upon this question, but to express to the citizens of Philadelphia what I think will probably be the effect of its passage. My colleague (Mr. WALBORN,) says he was not consulted by the members from Philadelphia, in reference to the provision of this bill, nor was I, except to read it; and the House, and the people of Philadelphia, who desire its passage, are greatly indebted to the industry and ability of my friend, Mr. GRATZ, who prepared the same with so much care. I am sure this bill is not in the form that Mr. GRATZ desired it. He, like myself, does not believe that volunteers can be found who will properly perform their duty, nor have the people of Philadelphia any right to expect them to do so, unless they pay them for it. My objections to the bill is that it proposes to vest too much executive power in our judicial courts—especially as that judiciary is elective—and let us remind this House that two of these courts are to be elected in 1861, and I do not believe that the people will be more liable to elect good men for judges on that day, than they would be to elect an honest Governor, members of Congress, or members of the Legislature. Our judges now, very properly command the respect and confidence of the people whom they so well serve, and from whom they receive a very inadequate compensation; but I very much fear that this consolidation of executive power will tend to destroy this confidence. Already they appoint the prison inspectors. This bill gives them the power to appoint the board of health and guardians of the poor. A bill is here giving them the appointment of insurance commissioners. A bill is in contemplation to have them appoint police commissioners. These bills together, give them an immense patronage. They can control the appointment of over one hundred office holders, who have the disbursement of nearly one million of the public money every year. How long will it be before politicians will be electing judges with reference to this immense power? Already candidates are canvassing for this position, in the almost certain hope that the bill will pass. Mr. SPEAKER, this subject presents a strange state of facts. The councils of Philadelphia are charging these boards with corruption; the people of Philadelphia charge the councils with corruption, and both councils and people unite in charging corruption upon the Legislature—the latter being so derelict as to call for a public town meeting to denounce them; and yet strange as it may seem, they unite as one man, and ask us, their unworthy servants, to relieve them from the exercise of a power, primarily existing in the people, and by them entrusted to the councils. The councils are, by the eighteenth section of the consolidation act authorized to abolish these boards, and another section of the same act, makes it their duty to organize a department of poor. Now, why do they not do it? Why ask at one session for the power to regulate their own local government, and at the next insist upon my friends from Tioga and Sullivan, to do it for them. The whole proposition is a mistake, and I predict, having heretofore had opportunity, to know of the workings of our municipal government, and all its various departments, that in five years the people will be clamoring for an opportunity to resume the duties which this bill takes from them. I am not an old man, and yet I remember that courts have been abolished in that good city, because the people did not like them. Now they have a bench of which they are justly proud, and I fear that our citizens are pursuing a course, which may tend to destroy confidence in them. But what of all this. I am satisfied the people desire the passage of this bill, and I am prepared to vote for it, though I most sincerely regret the conclusion they have come to. Upon them be the responsibility.

Mr. GRATZ said—

Mr. SPEAKER: I coincide with the views of my colleague, Mr. THORN, as to the error of principle in giving so extensive a power of appointment to the courts, because I am of the decided opinion that our judiciary should be kept aloof from everything which may tend to induce the bearing of improper influences upon them. However, sir, I can assure gentlemen upon this floor, that as long as the bench in our city is occupied by men who stand as high in the community, for their honesty and ability, as those who now preside there, we need not, for a moment, fear any pernicious results.

I further believe, Sir, that the judges themselves are opposed to having any additional duties of appointment imposed upon them. But I will forego my objections to the principle involved in the bill, and vote for it, because my constituents demand it, and I am bound to obey them. The corrupt practices of the board of guardians have so disgusted the tax-payers of Philadelphia, that they call upon us to deliver them, and I don't know that the change can be more satisfactorily made than as contemplated by the provisions of the bill now before us.

Mr. CHURCH said that, as a representative of the city, he felt a deep and natural interest in this bill. He was fully prepared to vote for it, but did not approve the principle involved, inasmuch as it was virtually taking power out of the hands of the people, and centreing it in the judiciary. It was subverting rights which belonged to the sovereign people, and to which, as he was a people's man, he could not consent.

It was true that abuses had existed in the board of guardians of the poor of Philadelphia, not for a year past, as had been stated by falsely called Democratic journals, but in times when Democratic administrations were themselves in power.

But now, the people called for a change, and it was the duty of their Representatives to carry out their expressed wishes. He would, therefore, support the bill, although fully believing that the city councils of Philadelphia, under the provisions of the consolidation act, had the power to regulate the matter. If, however, the people came to Harrisburg, and wanted their dirty linen washed, he for one, was willing to do it for them. There was, however, rather too much legislation for Philadelphia, more than her people really desired.

He was willing to vote for the experiment, (for such it really was,) but, at the same time, felt called upon to express his individual opposition to the principle. The experiment, there was but little doubt, would fail.

The members of the board of health, he believed, were of unexceptionable character, and these were men in the board of guardians of the poor, who were worthy of the highest respect and esteem. He was willing to say, moreover, that they were his personal and political friends, and he should earnestly stand by them.

The people seemed to want the change, and, as he had before said, he would vote to let them try the experiment, although steadfastly reiterating the assertion that the principle was wrong. It was giving to certain officials, privileges, which he, as a true democrat, considered belonged to the people, and were to be exercised by them alone.

Mr. SHEPPARD hoped that the House would vote for the passage of the bill; for even admitting that the members of the Philadelphia delegation were individually opposed to the principle involved, yet it was apparent that the people called for the change contemplated by the provisions of the bill.

Mr. HARDING said that as far as the principle was concerned, there could be but one opinion—that it was wrong. The people, however, demanded that the present mode of selecting the members of the board of guardians should be changed, and that the appointing power should be given to some responsible men, such as the judges of the Philadelphia courts.—Although he was opposed, with his colleagues, to taking this power out of the hands of the people, yet he should vote for the bill; believing that its passage was desired by his constituents.

Mr. WILSON was opposed to the bill on account of the principle involved. Should the bill pass, and the power to appoint guardians of the poor be taken from the people and vested in the judges of the courts, we will have adopted a dangerous innovation. Favoritism will then enter into the election of judges, and will influence the election of judges; favorites must be elected, in order that favorites may in turn be appointed as guardians; persons seeking places will hover round the judges, and the people would soon find that there was evil in the change. The influence of judges would be increased, and the people would have lost it; and this would be a verification of the old adage, "that power is always stealing from the many to the few." It invades the fundamental principles of the government; and is an argument that the people had become tired of taking care of their own institutions. And inasmuch as the members from the city were advocating the bill, against their own convictions of principle, because their constituents demanded the change, that was no argument that the people of this Commonwealth should adopt the change; and a change in that direction should not be allowed. There was a principle involved in it that might destroy our minor political institutions, such as cities, counties and townships; and it tends manifestly to consolidation of power. That the change being adopted by the city of Philadelphia, the example might be applied to other parts of the State, and we would hear of applications to have the power of appointing directors of the poor of the various counties of the Commonwealth vested in the court of quarter sessions, and step by step, the whole system be changed. The change was towards consolidation; was not democratic, but looked towards a conservatism of power; and inasmuch, it was the duty of the Legislature to guard against every invasion of the principle that lay at the foundation of the government.

Mr. HAMERSLY hoped that as the bill was evidently desired by the people, the members would not forget to bow to the popular voice.

Mr. ABBOTT rose—

Mr. CHASE moved to postpone for the present.

Not agreed to.

Mr. ABBOTT said: The bill before the House is eminently a compromise measure, designed to work reform, when reform is most manifestly needed. For myself, I am in favor of boards for the control of the institutions contemplated in this bill, restricted in number not to exceed five members of either board—the board of health to be appointed by the courts and councils of Philadelphia, and the guardians of the poor to be elected on the general electoral city ticket. Both boards to be paid and held strictly accountable.

The delay in acting upon the Senate bill now before us, has not, I think, as has been intimated, been induced by a preference for political over public advantages, but by a feeling of proper deference to the will of the people.—The public announcement of the passage of this bill in the Senate, was expected to elicit some expression of public sentiment as to the details of such a measure. For this we have waited, and the response, as near as we can apprehend it, is embodied in this bill as at present modified.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) would not have spoken at all if his attention had not been enlisted by the discrepancy of the remarks of the members of the Philadelphia delegation. They condemned the principle of the bill, and yet asked the members to vote for it. Now these same gentlemen, because some of the country members had voted the other day for decrease of pay, as they had been instructed by their constituents, had raised the cry of "buncombe."

They now told the country members to vote for what was charged to be an outrageous principle, and pleaded as an excuse, that they were forced to it.

Mr. CHURCH rose to explain. He wished it expressly understood that he was not to be forced to do anything.

Mr. NEAL said that, believing as he did, that the people of Philadelphia, or a great majority of them, wanted the board of guardians abolished, he was willing to vote for it, but he did not vote contrary to his own feelings. He believed the bill to be right in its every feature, and no better argument could be given of that fact, than the fact of a majority of the people being in its favor.

On the question, the yeas and nays were required by Mr. NEAL and Mr. WILSON, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott Acker, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Church, Dodds, Durboraw, Evans, Fisher, Foster, Glatz, Gratz, Hamersly, Harding, Kinney, Matthews, McClure, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Peiece, Proudfoot, Pughe, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Thompson, Thorn, Witman, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Withrow and Wolf—39.

NAYS—Messrs. Balliet, Barnsley, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Eckman, Fleming, Galley, Good, Graham, Gray, Green, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, M'Curdy, Peunell, Quigley, Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Wagenseller, Walker, Warden, Wigton, Wilcox, Wilson, Woodruff and Zoller—41.

So the question was determined in the negative.

APPROPRIATION BILL.

Mr. CHASE called up the appropriation bill.

The question was on the section, as follows:

SEC. 20. For the house of refuge of Philadelphia, the sum of twenty thousand dollars.

The section was agreed to.

The twenty-first section was read, as follows:

SEC. 21. For the house of refuge of Western Pennsylvania, in the county of Allegheny, eighteen thousand and five hundred dollars, to be applied as follows: for the salaries of officers, eight thousand and five hundred dollars; additions and repairs, four thousand dollars; and for the payment of debts, six thousand dollars.

The section was agreed to.

The twenty-second section was read, as follows:

SEC. 22. For the Western Pennsylvania hospital, five thousand dollars; and for the purpose of erecting suitable buildings, the further sum of twenty thousand dollars, to be paid to said institution upon a bond being executed to the Commonwealth in said sum, with security to be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, conditioned for the full erection and completion of said buildings without further aid from the Commonwealth.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend the twenty-second section, by striking out all after the word "institution" in the third line, and inserting the following:

Provided, That the said sum of twenty thousand dollars for building purposes, shall not be paid unless the plan of the proposed buildings, for the further accommodation of the insane of the western district of Pennsylvania, and the contract for the erection of the same, shall have been personally submitted to the Governor of this Commonwealth, and approved by him.

Mr. CHASE wanted to know the reasons for the amendment.

Mr. FOSTER explained.

Mr. CHASE defended the section as originally placed upon the bill.

Mr. FOSTER, said that the clause which he had stricken out was useless and unjust.

Mr. HAMERSLY defended the ground assumed by Mr. FOSTER.

Mr. IRISH did not see the justice of making the institution give a bond.

Mr. HAMERSLY and Mr. THOMPSON debated further.

The amendment was lost.

Mr. FOSTER offered to amend by adding as follows:

"Until the increase of the number of inmates shall require an enlargement of the building for their comfort and accommodation."

The amendment was lost.

Mr. CHASE moved to amend as follows:—after the word "dollars" "the last mentioned sum."

The amendment was agreed to.

The section passed.

The twenty-third section was read as follows:

SEC. 23. For the Pennsylvania State lunatic hospital, the sum of twenty thousand dollars; to be applied to the payment of salaries, the support of the house, the renewal of furniture and fixtures, and to such repairs and improvements as may be required: Provided however, That no part of the money appropriated in this section, except the salaries of its officers, shall be paid unless the accounts of repairs and expenses be found correct by the Auditor General.

The section was agreed to.

The twenty-fourth section was read as follows:

SEC. 24. For the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the blind, twenty-two thousand dollars.

The section was agreed to.

The twenty-fifth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 25. For the instruction of indigent pupils in the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the deaf and dumb, twenty-three thousand dollars: Provided, That the sums appropriated for the instruction of the blind, and deaf and dumb, shall be paid to said institutions, in proportion to the number of indigent pupils received by each, from the several counties of this Commonwealth, at the rates prescribed by law; evidence of the number of pupils to be furnished to the State Treasurer.

Mr. PINKERTON said that one hundred and sixty three thousand dollars were appropriated to institutions in Pittsburg and Philadelphia.—Why should this local appropriation be made? He should oppose these appropriations, until he knew exactly what they were for.

Mr. THORN defended the institutions, because they were the only ones of the kind in the State.

Mr. PINKERTON wished to know whether the people from the counties were not charged full price when they applied.

Mr. THORN defended the appropriations.

Mr. WALBORN would say to Mr. PINKERTON that Schuylkill county had its quota in the appropriation for the school for feeble minded children.

The section was adopted.

The twenty-sixth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 26. For the Pennsylvania training school for feeble minded children, such amount as said institution may be entitled to receive under the provisions of the sixth section of the act incorporating said school, approved the seventh of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three; and for the purpose of completing the buildings now in progress, the further sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, to be paid to said institution upon a bond being executed to the Commonwealth in said sum, with security, to be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, conditioned for the full completion of said buildings without further aid from the Commonwealth.

The section was agreed to.

The twenty-seventh section was read, as follows:

SEC. 27. For the Northern Home for friendless children, five thousand dollars: Provided, that the said Northern Home for friendless children shall be subject to the provisions contained in the third section of an act, entitled "A supplement to an act to incorporate the subscribers to the articles of association, for the purpose of establishing and conducting an institution for the confinement and reformation of youthful delinquents, under the title of the House of Refuge," approved March twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six.

The section was agreed to.

The twenty-eighth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 28. For the Penn Asylum for indigent widows and single women, five thousand dollars

On the section,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. KINNEY and Mr. PINKERTON, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Campbell, Church, Durboraw, Evans, Fisher, Foster, Glatz, Good, Gratz, Gray, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Mann, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Price, Pugh, Quigley, Rohrer, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Stuart, Styer, Thorn, Walborn, Warden, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wolf and Zoller—47.

NAYS—Messrs. Balliet, Barnsley, Bertolet, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Fleming, Galley, Graham, Gritman, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mehaffey, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Smead, Stoneback, Taylor, Wagenseller, Walker, Witman, Williams, (Bedford,) Wilson, Withrow and Woodring—36.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The section was agreed to.

The twenty-ninth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 29. For the Howard Institution, under the care of an association of women Friends of Philadelphia, one thousand dollars.

Mr. PINKERTON asked for an explanation.

Mr. CHASE said that the institution was a very worthy one, and deserved support.

Mr. WALBORN defended the appropriation.

Mr. KINNEY opposed it.

Mr. HARDING said that the city of Philadelphia paid enough taxes to have its poor supported.

Mr. HAMERSLY defended the appropriation.

On the section,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARNESLEY and Mr. FINNEY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Bayard, Church, Evans, Fisher, Foster, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Mann, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Neall, Nill, Palm, Price, Quigley, Rohrer, Sheppard, Shields, Thorn, Walhorn, Warden, Wilcox, Wiley and Zoller—29.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Fleming, Galley, Graham, Gray, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mehaffey, Oaks, Patterson, Pinkerton, Ramsdell, Shafer, Smead, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Wagenseller, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Willson, Withrow, Wolf and Woodring—48.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The section was not agreed to.

The thirtieth section was read as follows:

SEC. 20. For Passavant's Pittsburg Infirmary two thousand five hundred dollars; and for the Mercy Hospital, at Pittsburg, two thousand five hundred dollars.

Mr. NEALL wished to inquire (as Mr. PINKERTON had,) whether these were State institutions?

Mr. FOSTER said they were not.

On the section,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CHURCH and Mr. BARNESLEY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Bayard, Dodds, Evans, Fisher, Foster, Galley, Gratz, Hamersly, Irish, Mann, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Nill, Price, Quigley, Rohrer, Rose, Shields, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Warden, Wiley, Willson and Zoller—27.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Custer, Eckman, Fleming, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gray, Green, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mehaffey, M'Curdy, Neall, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Ramsdell, Shafer, Smead, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Wagenseller, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Withrow, Wolf and Woodring—49.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The section was not agreed to.

The thirty-first section was read as follows:

SEC. 31. For the Orphans' Home at Zelienople, one thousand dollars.

Mr. THOMPSON defended the section in appropriate and eloquent remarks.

Mr. THORN upheld the appropriation as just, necessary and creditable.

Mr. HARDING favored the appropriation, and intimated that men, with hopes of an hereafter, would vote for the measure. As illustrating the true charity of the project, he quoted the Scriptures, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of them, ye have done it unto me."

Mr. BARNESLEY having been especially alluded to by the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. HARDING,) as having opposed appropriations of this character, took occasion to explain his position. He denied any lack of those finer feelings of our nature which prompt acts of charity, but having heard of certain charitable institutions in the city of Philadelphia, (one at least,) which expended four thousand in collecting and disbursing seven thousand dollars, he was inclined to look with a suspicious eye upon such appropriations.

Mr. BARNESLEY continued further, and delivered a very forcible and eloquent speech.

Messrs. WALBORN, THOMPSON, HAMERSLY and ZOLLER spoke upon the section.

Mr. FLEMING asked if an amendment would be in order; if so, he wished to offer one.—Leave being given, he remarked as follows:—The terrors of another world being held over our heads by the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. HARDING,) and wishing to place myself right in that world, and give my reasons for my vote on this object in this; which is because I believe the principle of contributing the public money, as deviating it from the purposes for which it was collected, and altogether wrong; and not being willing to appear less charitable than those members who vote away the public funds on all occasions, for private purposes, I therefore offer the following amendment: That each member give ten dollars out of his own private funds for the object contemplated by this thirty-first section under consideration; which, after being seconded, the SPEAKER ruled as not germane to the subject.

On the section,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GRAHAM and Mr. KENEAGY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barnsley, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Church, Dodds, Durboraw, Evans, Fisher, Foster, Galley, Good, Gratz, Hamersly, Harding, Ketchum, Mann, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Neall, Palm, Peirce, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Warden, Wilcox, Wiley, Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Zoller—44.

NAYS—Messrs. Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Burley, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Eckman, Fleming, Graham, Green, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mahaffey, M'Curdy, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Pinkerton, Price, Stoneback, Stuart, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) and Williams, (Bucks.)—30.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. M'CLURE offered a substitute to the thirty-second section, which was read as follows:

For the payment of expenses in the contested election cases, from the Third Representative district of Philadelphia, the sum of $3,080.86, as follows: for complainant's witnesses, the sum of $911.40; for respondent's witnesses, the sum of $1,237.11; and for the expenses of the members of the committee, the sum of $675.00: Provided, That the State Treasurer shall pay no bills presented by any witness until such witness shall present an affidavit setting forth that he was in attendance upon the sessions of the committee the full number of days claimed in the bill, and that the number of miles charged were actually and necessarily traveled to attend upon the sessions of the committee: And provided further, That the Sergeant-at-Arms or his assistant shall also present an affidavit to the State Treasurer, setting forth that his bill is correct, and that the number of miles charged for was actually traveled.

Discussions ensued between Messrs. HAMERSLY, CHASE, M'CLURE and THOMPSON.

Mr. EVANS moved to amend the amendment as follows: "Provided, That no witness shall receive mileage for more than one trip to Harrisburg."

Mr. HAMERSLY moved to postpone until afternoon; Agreed to.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved to proceed to reconsideration of bill, relative to appointment of board of guardians of the poor of Philadelphia. Agreed to.

The bill passed finally; Mr. WALBORN, of the Philadelphia delegation being temporarily absent from the House.

On motion of Mr. M'CLURE, Senate amendments to House resolution, relative to the pay of the commissioners, appointed at the last session of the Legislature to investigate the affairs of certain banks, were read and concurred in.

A message was received from the Governor; which was read.

Mr. BARNESLEY, from the Committee to Compare Bills, made report; which was read.

Mr. KETCHUM asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. PALM.

The hour of one o'clock having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until three o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House met again at 3 o'clock.

A message in writing was received from the Governor; which was read, as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
Harrisburg, March 4, 1859, }

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen—I have approved and signed the following acts of the General Assembly, viz:

"An Act relating to the borough of Lebanon."

"An Act to incorporate the Allen mutual insurance company."

"An Act to incorporate the Mount Olivet cemetery association in York county."

"An Act authorizing Robert Given, of Westmoreland county, to build a dam across the Conemaugh river."

"An Act to amend the charter of the borough of North Lebanon, Lebanon county."

"An Act for the protection of dogs in York county."

"An Act for the relief of Christian Hollingsworth, collector of militia taxes in and for the county of Lancaster."

"Joint resolution to pay the funeral expenses of George W. Wood."

WM. F. PACKER.

Mr. BARNESLEY, from the Committee to Compare Bills, made a report that they had presented the following bills to the Governor for his approval:

"An Act relating to the borough of Lebanon."

"An Act to incorporate the Allen mutual insurance company."

"An Act to incorporate the Mount Olivet cemetery association of York county."

"An Act authorizing Robert Given, of Westmoreland county, to build a dam across the Conemaugh river."

"An Act to amend the charter of the borough of North Lebanon, Lebanon county."

"An Act for the protection of dogs in York county."

"An Act for the relief of Christian Hollingsworth, collector of militia taxes in and for the county of Lancaster."

"Joint resolution to pay the funeral expenses of George W. Wood."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. BARNESLEY, on leave, offered a resolution that the Committee to Compare Bills be authorized to employ the services of a clerk.

The House refused to proceed to the consideration.

Mr. KENEAGY offered a resolution that the House hold a session this evening at 7 o'clock, in lieu of that fixed for to-morrow, and that bills on Private Calendar be considered; which was read.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend by striking out all after the word o'clock.

Mr. LAWRENCE, of Washington, moved to amend the amendment as follows:

And that when this House adjourn it do so to meet again to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock; which was agreed to.

Mr. WALBORN moved to amend by striking out all after the word resolved, and insert the words "that the resolution providing for an afternoon session on Saturday, and morning session on Monday;" which was not agreed to.

The original resolution as amended by Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) was then adopted.

Mr. WILSON, on leave, presented a petition from citizens of Beaver county, in favor of an appropriation to aid in establishing a School of Mines in the Polytechnic college, Philadelphia.

Mr. GREEN offered a resolution that the use of this Hall be granted to Dr. Jos. Parrish, for the purpose of holding an exhibition of the pupils of the Pennsylvania training school for feeble minded children, next Tuesday evening. Adopted.

THE APPROPRIATION BILL.

The thirty-second section was read (being the substitute to the original thirty-second section.)

The amendments of Messrs. EVANS and M'CLURE withdrawn.

Mr. THORN offered the following amendment:

"For the Polytechnic institute of Pennsylvania, $5000."

Mr. THORN read the following aims of the institution, as explanatory of the amendment.

The object of the School of Mines is the skilful and economical development of the mineral wealth of the United States: 1. By imparting a thoroughly scientific and practical education in mine engineering, and in the best methods of determining the value of mineral lands, and of analyzing and manufacturing mine products: 2. By the formation of a mining museum; comprising cabinets of mineralogy, geology and metallurgy, of models, plans and sections of mines and furnaces, and of the tools and implements used in mining and smelting: 3. By the collection of works of reference, of drawings and descriptions of deposits and basins, and of reports of mining companies, etc.

Mr. CHURCH said that the institution was an honor to the State, and of the utmost utility.

On the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THORN and Mr. GRAHAM, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Church, Dismant, Evans, Fisher, Foster, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Irish, Ketchum, Mann, M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Neall, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Quigley, Ramsdell, Sheppard, Shields, Styer, Thorn, Walborn, Wigton, Wiley, Wilson and Lawrence, Speaker—33.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Custer, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Fleming, Galley, Glatz, Goepp, Good, Graham, Gray, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Peirce, Rohrer, Shafer, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Wagenseller, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Withrow, Wolf and Woodring—51.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. THORN offered an amendment appropriating six hundred and twenty-five dollars for expenses of the contested election committee of the Third Representative district.

It was withdrawn.

Mr. RAMSDELL offered the following new section:

That the sum of one thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to the Rockland library association, for the purpose of perfecting the library, fitting up the hall, and furnishing the same.

Mr. RAMSDELL defended his section.

On the section,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RAMSDELL and Mr. WITHROW, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Church, Evans, Fisher, Hamersly, Quigley, Ramsdell, Styer and Williston—8.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Durboraw, Eckman, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gray, Green, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mahaffey, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Pughe, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Wagenseller, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Woodring—70.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The thirty-second section was read, as follows:

Sec. 32. For the salary of the superintendent of the public printing, eight hundred dollars.

The section was agreed to.

The thirty-third section was read, as follows:

Sec. 33. To Richard J. Haldeman, publisher of the Legislative Record, compensation at the rate of seven dollars per page, for the numbers published at the present session, the amount to be certified as due by the committee on printing of both Houses, and that the fortieth section of an act, entitled "An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of government and other general and special appropriations," approved twenty-first April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, so far as it relates to the continuance of the contract, for the printing of a Legislative Record, with R. J. Haldeman, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Mr. BARLOW offered to amend, by making the compensation five dollars and sixty cents per page.

Mr. WILCOX offered an amendment to the amendment, to strike out all after the word "Houses."

The SPEAKER said that this was not properly an amendment to the amendment.

On the amendment of Mr. BARLOW,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARLOW and Mr. M'DOWELL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Campbell, Church, Durboraw, Eckman, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Mehafeey, M'Dowell, Patterson, Smead, Styer, Wagenseller, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Withrow and Lawrence, Speaker—25.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Balliet, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Bryson, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Goep, Good, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Green, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Laird, Mann, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Thompson, Thorn, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Wolf and Woodring—58.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. WILCOX renewed his motion to strike out all after "Houses" where it first occurred.

Mr. NEALL hoped it would not be stricken out.

Mr. ABBOTT followed in a similar strain.

Mr. WILCOX withdrew his amendment.

Mr. GOEPP renewed the amendment of Mr. WILCOX.

Mr. SMEAD said when he looked at the vote which had just been taken, he was afraid that the members of his party would really vote to continue the contract with Mr. Haldeman. He was opposed to it.

The question was further discussed by Mr. PUGHE, in opposition to the continuance of the contract. If a Democrat, he would never perpetrate the outrage of forcing upon a future Legislature anything of the kind.

The question was further discussed by Messrs. WILLISTON, BARLOW, GRITMAN, WALBORN, GOEPP, M'CLURE, SMITH, (Berks,) WARDEN and WILLIAMS, (Bucks.)

Mr. WARDEN offered to amend the amendment by adding to the end of this section "from and after the end of the present session;" which was withdrawn.

Mr. GOEPP withdrew his amendment.

Mr. SMITH, of Berks, moved to amend by offering the following proviso:

Provided, That the repeal hereby provided for shall not take effect until after the expiration of the present session.

Mr. ABBOTT, reiterated assertions which he had previously made during the session, that there was no contract in existence.

Mr. BARLOW should vote against the amendment. He gave his reasons for the course which he favored.

On the amendment of Mr. SMITH, (Berks,)

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PATTERSON and Mr. M'DOWELL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Goep, Good, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Green, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Laird, M'Clure, Nill, Oaks, Pughe, Quigley, Rohrer, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Thompson, Thorn, Walborn, Warden, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Wolf and Woodring—43.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Church, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Hamersly, Keneagy, Kinney, Mann, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Neall, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Styer, Taylor, Wagenseller, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Withrow and Lawrence, Speaker—39.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On the section as amended,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'DOWELL and Mr. PATTERSON, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Bryson, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Goep, Good, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Green, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Laird, Mann, M'Clure, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Peirce, Pughe, Quigley, Rohrer, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walker, Warden, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Wolf and Woodring—49.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Campbell, Church, Durboraw, Eckman, Fisher, Hamersly, Keneagy, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mahaffey, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Patterson, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Styer, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Withrow and Lawrence, Speaker—33.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. M'DOWELL said that he would vote "no" on the above, because the Record was not a true Record of the proceedings of the House, and he hoped that the reporters would report him as having now so said.

Mr. WILSON said, we have made every reasonable effort to induce the Senate, the other co-ordinate branch of the Legislature, to join us in abrogating the contract, but have failed, and as we have no hopes of succeeding during the remainder of the session in procuring a new contract, therefore I vote aye.

The thirty-fourth section was agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 34. To each of the fire companies of Harrisburg, now organized and in operation, one hundred dollars.

The thirty-fifth section was read as follows, and agreed to:

Sec. 35. For the preservation and repairs of the capitol, and improvement of the public grounds, inclusive of the compensation of the superintendent and watchman of the public buildings and grounds, the sum of three thousand dollars: Provided, That all moneys expended and contracts made, shall be at the direction and under the authority of the Secretary of State and the Auditor General.

The thirty-sixth section was agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 36. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay John A. Smull, for services rendered the House of Representatives, the same compensation now allowed by law for an assistant clerk; and for services performed during the last recess, in arranging the papers of last session, et cetera, and for the same services to be performed during the next recess, the further sum of three hundred dollars.

The thirty-seventh section was read, as follows:

Sec. 37. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, the amounts necessary to pay the pages and folders employed during the present session, at the rate of one dollar per day each, for the time the Legislature is in session, and the further sum of ten dollars each to said pages and folders.

The section was agreed to.

The thirty-eighth section was read, as follows:

Sec. 38. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay Samuel M'Doanel and John D. Reese, assistant door-keepers, for extra services after night, in and about the Hall, during the present session, one hundred dollars each.

Mr. TAYLOR offered to amend, by inserting Andrew W. M'Kibben and Wm. R. Gardey.

On motion of Mr. WILCOX, the House adjourned till 7 o'clock, p. m.

EVENING SESSION.

The House was called to order at 7 o'clock.

SPEAKER in the Chair.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) moved that the House proceed to the consideration of the act relative to the Delaware Division canal company.

The orders of the evening were called for.

SENATE AMENDMENTS

To the bill entitled "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Frankford and Oxford plank road company," authorizing them to borrow money, were read, and on motion of Mr. WILEY, concurred in.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed the House that the Senate refused to concur in the House amendment to the act providing for the election of an additional high constable in Brady's Bend, Armstrong county, and that that body had appointed a committee of conference on the same.

Mr. ROHRER moved that the House insist upon its amendments, and that a similar committee be appointed on the part of the House; which was agreed to.

Mr. CHASE called up the appropriation bill.

Mr. THORN was anxious to see this bill disposed of, but he inquired whether this session had not been set apart for the consideration of private bills.

The CHAIR decided that the appropriation bill took precedence over all others, and read from rule ten in support of his decision.

APPROPRIATION BILL.

The House then resumed the consideration of House bill No. 343, "An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of government, &c."

The question being on the amendment offered by Mr. TAYLOR, of Indiana, to the thirty-eighth section, to include the names of Andrew Kimmel and Wm. R. Gardy; which was agreed to.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved to insert the name of James Williams, Assistant Messenger of the House; which was agreed to.

Mr. GOOD moved to include the name of George H. Leonard, paper-folder of the House; which was agreed to.

The section as amended was agreed to.

The thirty-ninth section being before the House,

Mr. M'CLURE offered the following, to be added to the end thereof:

That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay Lucius Rogers, three dollars per day for thirty-eight days, with the usual mileage, for services in the contested election case of Matthews vs. M'Clain, together with thirty dollars for expenses while in the employ of the committee in Philadelphia; which was agreed to; and the section as amended, was agreed to.

The thirty-ninth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 39. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay George Manley, at the rate of one dollar and fifty cents per day, for services in cleansing and keeping in order the out-building of the two houses; the actual number of days employed, to be certified to by the Clerk of the House.

The section was agreed to.

The fortieth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 40. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay Alvin Day nineteen dollars and twenty-five cents, being the amount of a check drawn by the State Treasurer on the Bank of Pennsylvania, in May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and dishonored by said bank.

The section was agreed to.

The forty-first section was read, as follows:

SEC. 41. For transcribing for committee of ways and means, to be paid on the order of the chairman, twenty dollars.

The section was agreed to.

The forty-second section was read, as follows:

SEC. 42. For postage and stationery used in the office of the late Attorney General, sixty-seven dollars and fifty-nine cents.

The section was agreed to.

The forty-third section was read, as follows:

SEC. 43. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the chief clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, for the expense of indexing journals, one hundred and twenty-five dollars each; and also the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars to Jacob Ziegler, the late clerk of the House of Representatives, for indexing the journals for the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

The section was agreed to.

The forty-fourth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 44. For the payment of salaries of tonnage agents in full to June first, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, twelve hundred dollars.

The section was agreed to.

The forty-fifth section was read, as follows:

SEC. 45. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the officers of the Senate and House of Representatives, except the Speakers, the following additional compensation for services rendered during the present session: To the chief clerks and assistant clerks, each one hundred dollars; to the bill, message, journal, comparing and transcribing clerks, each seventy-five dollars; to the sergeant-at-arms, messenger, door-keeper and post-master, and their assistants, each fifty dollars: Provided, That the assistant officers of the House, named by the principal at the first of the session, shall be included in the above.

Mr. THOMPSON offered an amendment, "except those named in the forty-third section."

Agreed to.

The forty-fifth section was agreed to.

Mr. KINNEY submitted the following, to come in as a new section:

"That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and required to pay to the Towanda bridge company the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, it being a balance due them, in pursuance of a contract with the Board of Canal Commissioners, made the 12th day of July, 1856, said sum to be paid out of the balance remaining in the Treasury out of the amount appropriated to the Upper North Branch canal for that year, and remaining in the Treasury, by order of the Board of Canal Commissioners."

Mr. THORN said that it seemed strange, that the matter had not been brought before the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) said that the claim was just as examined by the Committee on Claims.

Mr. KINNEY said that the claim was a just one, and that the money could not be obtained except by an act of the Legislature.

A lengthened discussion ensued, between Messrs. THOMPSON, KINNEY, PINKERTON, WILSON, NILL, LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) and WILLISTON.

Mr. KINNEY withdrew his section.

Mr. CHASE offered the following new section: For the payment of the officers and privates of the first and second regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers, who served in the late war with Mexico, under the provisions of an act to provide for the same, passed March 29, 1851, the sum of $200.

Mr. BARNESLEY wished to know how many regiments there were.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) asked further explanation, and spoke at length on the scheme of erecting a monument in honor of Mexican soldiers who fell in Mexico.

Mr. THORN, in some lengthy and appropriate remarks, alleged that the first care of the State was to look to the orphans and widows, before erecting monuments in honor of the dead.

Mr. BARNESLEY offered the following as a new section, which was ruled out of order as not being germane to the bill:

SEC. 46. And that hereafter, the tax of three mills on the dollar, imposed upon real and personal estate, by the thirty-second and thirty-fourth sections of the act to reduce the State debt, and to incorporate the Pennsylvania canal and railroad company, approved the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, be, and the same is hereby reduced to two mills on the dollar.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) offered the following new section:

SEC. 46. That the sum of $24,000 be appropriated, in addition to the sum already appropriated for the erection of and completion of a monument to the memory of citizens of Pennsylvania, who were slain or lost their lives in the late war with Mexico: Provided, That the contract shall be given to a citizen of Pennsylvania; and the monument shall be constructed of Pennsylvania material: And provided further, That no part of the said sum shall be paid, unless the persons to whom the contract shall be awarded, shall give bonds with approved security in the penal sum of $60,000, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract, and that not more than one-half the whole sum shall be paid out until the monument shall be completed and finished.

Mr. HAMERSLY offered an amendment to the amendment, as follows: Strike out all after "that," in the first line, and insert the following: "that the sum of $10,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated to the relief of the widows and children of those citizens of Pennsylvania who lost their lives in the late war with Mexico, to be disbursed by the direction of the Governor, Secretary of the Commonwealth and Adjutant General of the Commonwealth."

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) asked whether the amendment to the amendment was germane to the subject, and raised a point of order.

The CHAIRMAN decided that it was germane.

On the amendment to the amendment, The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAMERSLY and Mr. NEALL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Fisher, Glatz, Goepf, Gratz, Hamersly, Hottenstine, Kinney, Laird, Mann, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Neall, Pinkerton, Quigley, Rohrer, Sheppard, Shields, Stephens, Stuart, Styer, Thorn, Walker, Wiley and Williston—25.

NAYS—Messrs. Balliet, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Graham, Gray, Gritman, Hill, Jackson, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mahaffey, M'Dowell, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Peirce, Proudfoot, Pughe, Ramsdell, Shafer, Smith, (Berks,) Stoneback, Thompson, Wagenseller, Walborn, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) Withrow, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—48.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. RAMSDELL offered the following amendment:

Strike out all after the word "that" and insert "we recommend in honor to the soldiers who lost their lives in the war with Mexico, the erection of a monument in the hearts of their fellow citizens."

The amendment was decided out of order.

Mr. EVANS offered the following amendment to the amendment of Mr. LAWRENCE: "to appropriate $10,000 additional out of any moneys not otherwise appropriated, to the erection of the National Washington monument."

On the amendment to the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. EVANS and Mr. OAKS, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Barnesley, Campbell, Church, Evans, Fisher, Kinney, Laird and Quigley—8.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Goepf, Good, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Kencagy, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mahaffey, M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Peirce, Price, Proudfoot, Pughe, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—73.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) withdrew his amendment.

The CHAIRMAN said it could not be withdrawn.

Mr. BOYER, (of Clearfield,) offered an amendment to the amendment to strike out all after the word "that," and insert "and that this House do now adjourn."

Decided out of order.

Mr. M'CLURE offered an amendment to the amendment, "and that the said monument be erected in Independence Square, Philadelphia."

On this amendment to the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CLURE and Mr. QUIGLEY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Balliet, Good, Gratz, Hamersly, Kinney, M'Clure, Quigley, Sheppard, Smith, (Berks,) Styer, Thompson, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Wiley and Williston—16.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barnesley, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Evans, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Goepf, Graham, Gray, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Ketchum, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mahaffey, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Peirce, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Shafer, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Walker, Wardeu, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—60.

So the question was determined in the negative.

On the amendment of Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,)

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CLURE and Mr. QUIGLEY, and were as follow, viz :

YEAS.—Messrs. Church, Evans, Fisher, Foster, M'Dowell, Proudfoot, Quigley, Rohrer, Walborn, Warden, Witman and Lawrence, Speaker—12.

NAYS.—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Fleming, Galley, Glatz, Goepf, Good, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mahaffey, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Pughe, Ramsdell, Rose, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walker, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow and Wolf—68.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. CHURCH offered the following additional section; stating that he would vote for both the monument and this :

That the sum of ten thousand dollars be appropriated out of moneys not otherwise employed, for the benefit of the widows and children of those who fell in Mexico.

Ruled out of order.

Mr. WILCOX moved to appropriate ten dollars extra, to each of the women employed in cleaning the Hall.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) offered an amendment to the amendment, making the sum five dollars.

The amendment to the amendment was agreed to.

Mr. FLEMING moved the following as an amendment to the fourth section :

By inserting "one hundred and twenty-three thousand four hundred dollars," and striking out "one hundred and fifty thousand dollars;" also, to add to the section, "that so much of the act passed 21st April, 1858, increasing the salary of members from five hundred dollars to seven hundred dollars, be and the same is hereby repealed."

Mr. DISMANT called the yeas and nays.

The SPEAKER ruled the section out of order.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (of Washington,) asked the unanimous consent of the House to insert, after the word Clerk in the forty-fifth section, "one hundred and fifty dollars," and to the head of the thirty-seventh section, "except J. P. Hoffman and G. H. Leonard, who shall receive the same compensation as an Assistant Door-keeper; which was granted, and the amendments here inserted.

Mr. M'CLURE, on leave being given, moved to amend the forty-fifth section by giving the Chief Clerk one hundred and fifty dollars, the Clerks one hundred dollars, the Sergeant-at-Arms, Door-keeper, Messenger, and Post Master, one hundred dollars, and their assistants seventy-five dollars, as additional compensation; which was agreed to.

Mr. M'DOWELL asked the unanimous consent of the House to include the name of William Deal, an Assistant Messenger, in the thirty-eighth section; which was not granted.

Mr. ACKER asked, and obtained the unanimous consent of the House, to insert the name of John C. Morgan after the word "pay," in the thirty-eighth section.

Mr. RAMSDELL asked and obtained the unanimous consent of the House, to insert the name of A. D. Davis, Chief Messenger, so as to make his pay the same as the assistant messenger.

Mr. FLEMING asked the unanimous consent of the House, to strike out $150,000 and insert $123,000, in the fourth section, and to repeal so much of the act of Assembly as increases the salary of members of the Legislature to $7.00; which was not granted.

Mr. GRATZ asked and obtained the unanimous consent of the House, to insert the name of John B. Reener, an assistant messenger of the House, in the thirty-eighth section of bill.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved that the House go into committee of the whole, for the purpose of special amendments, to strike out sections 28 and 31, making appropriation to the Penn asylum and the Orphan's home at Zellenople.

A rambling discussion ensued on the question, which was participated in by Messrs. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) THOMPSON, THORN, WALBORN, WILLISTON, when Mr. IRISH called for the previous question, which was sustained.

And on the question,

Shall the main question now be put? it was agreed to.

When the Chair announced that the question now was to go into committee of the whole.

Mr. M'CLURE inquired whether the question would not now be, shall the bill pass, it being the "main question."

The SPEAKER decided it would not—whereupon Messrs. THOMPSON and DODDS appealed from the decision of the Chair, as follows:

Pending the question, shall the bill pass, a motion was made to go into committee of the whole for special amendments, on which the previous question was called.

The SPEAKER decided that the main question was, "shall the House go into the committee of the whole," from which decision the undersigned thus appealed.

J. M. THOMPSON,
W. W. DODDS.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) was called to the Chair.

After some further discussion, in which the SPEAKER maintained that he was right, and desired that the House should sustain him,

Mr. THOMPSON withdrew his appeal.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to go into committee of the whole?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON and Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) and were as follow, viz :

YEAS.—Messrs. Barnsley, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Eckman, Graham, Hill, Hottenstine, Keneagy, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mahaffey, Patterson, Pinkerton, Ramsdell, Rose, Smith, (Berks,) Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Wagenseller, Walker, Witman, Williston and Withrow—25.

NAYS.—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Bryson, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Evans, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Good, Gratz, Gray, Hamersly, Irish, Jackson, Ketchum, Laird, Mann, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Neall, Oaks, Proudfoot, Pughe, Quigley, Rohrer, Shafer, Sheppard, Stoneback, Thompson, Thorn, Walborn, Warden, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—46.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question now recurring,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. KINNEY asked, but did not obtain the unanimous consent of the House, so to amend the forty-fifth section as to make the additional pay of Assistant-Clerks one hundred and twenty-five dollars.

Mr. SMITH (Berks,) moved to postpone the further consideration of the same for the present.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved that the House do now adjourn; which was not agreed to.

Mr. M'CLURE called for the previous question; which was seconded.

And on the question,

Shall the bill under consideration pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) and Mr. WILCOX, and were as follow, viz :

YEAS.—Messrs. Abbott, Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Burley, Campbell, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Evans, Fisher, Foster, Galley, Good, Graham, Gratz, Irish, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mahaffey, M'Curdy, Neall, Oaks, Proudfoot, Pughe, Quigley, Rohrer, Shafer, Sheppard, Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) and Lawrence, Speaker—45.

NAYS.—Messrs. Acker, Bryson, Church, Custer, Fleming, Glatz, Hamersly, Hill, Hottenstine, Keneagy, Laird, Mann, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Ramsdell, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stuart, Wagenseller, Wiley, Williston, Wilson, Withrow and Wolf—27.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. WILEY offered a resolution that when this House adjourn, it do so to meet on Monday afternoon at three o'clock.

And on the question,

Will the House proceed to the second reading of the same?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WILLIAMS (Bucks,) and Mr. ECKMAN, and were as follow, viz :

YEAS.—Messrs. Abbott, Barnsley, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Chase, Good, Gratz, Keneagy, Ketchum, Mann, Pughe, Rohrer, Sheppard, Styer, Thompson, Thorn, Walborn, Witman, Wiley and Williston—19.

NAYS.—Messrs. Acker, Barlow, Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Evans, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Glatz, Graham, Hamersly, Jackson, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Neall, Oaks, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rose, Rouse, Shafer, Smith, (Berks,) Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Wagenseller, Walker, Warden, Wigton, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—48.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. PATTERSON offered a resolution, that the House adjourn to-morrow at 12 o'clock, and meet again on Monday next at three o'clock; which was read the second time; when, Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved to amend the same by meeting on Monday morning at 9 A. M.; which was not agreed to.

Mr. WARDEN moved so to amend as to make the time of meeting on Monday at 11 o'clock, A. M.; which was not agreed to.

And on the question,

Shall the resolution pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FOSTER and Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) and were as follow, viz :

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 47.

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barnsley, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Chase, Dismant, Evans, Galley, Glatz, Gratz, Hill, Hottenstine, Keneagy, Mann, M'Dowell, Patterson, Peirce, Proudfoot, Pughe, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Walborn, Warden, Witman, Wiley, Williston, Wilson and Withrow—35.

NAYS—Messrs. Barlow, Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Custer, Dodds, Eckman, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Graham, Hamersly, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) M'Clure, M'Curdy, Neall, Oaks, Pinkerton, Rose, Smith, (Berks,) Stoneback, Stuart, Wagenseller, Walker, Wigton, Williams, (Buks,) Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—32.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On motion, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

SENATE.

SATURDAY, March 5, 1859.

The Senate met and was called to order by the SPEAKER at the usual hour.

Prayer was offered by Rev. J. G. Miles, of the First Baptist church, Harrisburg.

The Journal was read and approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. WRIGHT asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. KELLER for to-day.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. TURNER, (Finance,) reported as committed, "A joint resolution relative to the salary of GEORGE W. WOOD, late a member of the House of Representatives;" and, on his motion, said resolution was read, considered and passed.

Mr. FRANCIS, from the Committee to Compare Bills, made a report.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. YARDLEY read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act to prevent the sale of coal by retail from canal boats on the Delaware Division canal, in Bucks county."

Also, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Quakerstown and Spinnerstown turnpike road company."

Mr. SCHINDEL, "An Act for the relief of Mrs. Sabina Bachman, of Northampton county."

Mr. SCHELL, "An Act for the relief of the sureties of A. B. Snyder, treasurer of Somerset county."

Also, "Resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth."

It is as follows:

Resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, That the following amendment is proposed to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, in accordance with the provisions of the tenth article thereof—Article VI, section VI, shall be amended, as follows, viz:

The State Treasurer shall, at the times and places of election of Representatives, be chosen by the qualified electors of the Commonwealth.

Mr. RANDALL, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the city of Philadelphia."

Mr. BALDWIN, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Middletown and Harrisburg turnpike road company."

Mr. BLOOD, "An Act to repeal an act relative to the Susquehanna and Waterford turnpike road."

Mr. BELL, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Cochranville hall association of Chester county."

Also, "An Act to incorporate the American piano and melodeon saving company of Pennsylvania."

House amendments to Senate bill No. 150, "A further supplement to the act consolidating the city of Philadelphia," were taken up and considered.

The usual resolution being before the Senate to concur in the amendments of the House.

Mr. RANDALL rose and stated that he desired to say a few words as to the bill, and for a correct understanding it is necessary to enter somewhat into its history.

He said the bill, as introduced by me, and passed unanimously through the Senate, was placed in my hands by a joint committee of the councils of the city of Philadelphia. After its passage in this chamber, it was sent to the House of Representatives, and had the accustomed reference to a committee. It was then allowed to slumber for a period of three or four weeks, and was only awakened by the loud clamors of an indignant constituency, and when allowed to come forth it was in a shape entirely different from what was desired by the citizens of Philadelphia. The original bill would have divested the board of guardians and the board of health of every political complexion in their future management. With this idea in view, I urged its passage, and although I received the bill from a gentleman occupying a prominent position in the Republican party, I was not less warm in its advocacy, and yet the majority of the House, which is Republican, have stripped it of that equality of action, as between the two contending parties of the day, and have, by their course, sought one of two things—either no action, or else to throw the government of these two institutions again into the political arena. I trust this conservative Senate will prevent this. The bill, as first passed, has met the approval of the press, and I believe of all unbiased people in our city.

The Senator from Indiana, (Mr. COFFEY.) asks me why the supreme court should appoint persons to control these municipal departments of our city government? I will answer—while I have perfect confidence in each of the two other courts, and while the original bill confided a portion of the appointments to those two courts, still the time might arrive when such a high auxiliary power as the supreme court might be of service. In no event is it likely to have the power placed in them improperly used. The people of Philadelphia, judging from the appointments made by this court, of prison inspectors, &c., have much confidence in their sagacity of choosing between good and indifferent men. Moreover, whenever a misuse occurs, the Legislature has the same power of repealing which they are now about to exercise.

Yesterday this bill came before the House, and was actually, for a time, defeated by a vote of 39 yeas, 41 nays. But reason seemed to return, and the bill was subsequently passed in an obnoxious form to a vast majority of our people.

In conclusion, I have only to say, that the delay of the passage of this bill (and if its ultimate defeat should occur) rests exclusively upon the Republican party, who, by the action of party discipline, have put upon it purely a party impress.

Mr. WRIGHT concurred in the views expressed by the Senator from the city, (Mr. RANDALL.) and regretted that the House had endeavored to give it a party bias. At it passed the Senate the political division, as to the power of making the appointments, was equal. He feared, in the event of the bill passing, as amended, by the House, that a majority of those who were now so obnoxious to public sentiment, as officers in these departments, would be retained, as these parties had been up here with an eye to retaining their power, and had secured such amendments as suited their purpose. The bill, as it passed the Senate, was sent here by a joint committee of councils, without distinction of party, and he hoped, as it had already received an unanimous vote in the Senate, that there would be no change of front in rejecting the House amendments.

On the motion to concur,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PARKER and Mr. RANDALL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Finney, Gaz-zam, Gregg, Harris, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Rutherford and Thompson—11.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Marselis, Nunemacher, Randall, Schell, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—14.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. FRANCIS paired off with Mr. KELLER.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

"An Act to increase the salaries of the judges of the supreme court and the law judges of this Commonwealth;" came up in order on third reading.

Mr. HARRIS said—

Mr. SPEAKER:—We are called upon, at this time, to give a final vote on a bill that proposes to increase the salaries of the law judges of the city of Philadelphia, and of the several judicial districts of this Commonwealth, from $2,000 to $2,500—making, in the aggregate, an increase of $20,000 annually. Now, sir, I ask any Senator on this floor, to tell me who is asking for this increase? Has any of those incumbents asked for it? or has there been a single petition presented from the people of any of the judicial districts, asking for it? Not one I believe.

Then, sir, how are we to justify ourselves, in thus appropriating the people's money, unasked, and, I believe, uncalled for? We have been told a great deal about the inadequacy of these judges' salaries, and about our constitutional obligations to provide for them an adequate salary. Sir, I remember this same siren song about six or seven years ago, when their salary was $16.00, they asked for it to be increased to $2,000; and now they ask for an increase of $500 more. Sir, is this Senate prepared to vote away this amount of the people's money to the law judges of this Commonwealth, whilst the people themselves are borne down under a heavy State debt, and are not able, many of them, to pay the tax that is already assessed on them to meet the interest on that debt, which falls due semi-annually? Sir, the time of this Senate is taken up almost every day, in discussing the impropriety of appropriating a few hundred dollars to some poor claimants that have lost all they have in damages sustained by the State; and in consideration of a paltry sum to some benevolent institutions; whilst, at the same time, we are about appropriating thousands to build up an aristocracy, which is already reveling in affluence and wealth. Sir, the sovereign people will hold their servants accountable for the way and manner in which they disburse the public money. We are told by Senators, that if we increase the salary we will have better men, and that justice will be meted out more even-handed to all classes of our fellow citizens. Sir, I don't believe a word of it. I ask any Senator here to show one instance in which a single law judge has refused to serve, on account of the inadequacy of his salary. On the contrary they are anxious to occupy the position, and nine out of ten, if their term had expired, would be anxious for a re-election. And now, sir, the simple question is, is this Senate prepared to vote away $20,000 of the people's money annually, to increase the salaries of the law judges, unasked and uncalled for? I am not prepared to do it.

On its final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. HARRIS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Coffey, Finney, Gazzam, Marselis, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Turney and Cresswell, Speaker—11.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Craig, Gregg, Harris, Nunemacher, Rutherford, Schell, Schindell, Steele, Thompson, Wright and Yardley—13.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. WELSH paired off with Mr. SHAEFFER.

Mr. BREWER paired off with Mr. MYER.

Mr. FRANCIS paired off with Mr. KELLER.

"An Act to attach Somerset county to the Middle district of the supreme court of Pennsylvania," came up in order and passed finally.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. PALMER, Senate bill No. 395, "An Act to incorporate the Mahanoy railroad company."

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, House bill No. 275, "An Act to incorporate the Newry railroad company."

On motion of Mr. CRAIG, House bill, No. 428, "An Act authorizing the citizens of Hamilton township, Monroe county, to elect two additional supervisors."

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, House bill, No. 226, "An Act to provide for the election of an additional law judge in the county of Allegheny. This bill lies over on second reading."

On motion of Mr. HARRIS, Senate bill, No. 298, "A supplement to the act for the regulation of the militia of this Commonwealth, approved April 21, 1858."

The provisions of the bill were discussed by Messrs. GREGG and HARRIS, in favor, and Mr. FINNEY against.

On the final passage of the bill, the yeas and nays were required by Mr. HARRIS and Mr. BREWER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Coffey, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Palmer, Penney, Randall, and Thompson—9.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Finney, Marselis, Nunemacher, Parker, Rutherford, Schell, Schindell, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—17.

So the question was determined in the negative.

On motion of Mr. PARKER, Senate bill No. 319, "A supplement to an act incorporating the mutual saving and loan association of Philadelphia."

On motion of Mr. GAZZAM, Senate bill No.

268, "An Act to incorporate the Commercial Bank of Pittsburgh."

[This bill, having passed to second reading, was postponed for the present.]

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, Senate bill No. 447, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Cambria iron company."

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, "An Act to change the place of holding elections in Upper Paxton township, Dauphin county."

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, Senate bill No. 205, "An Act to authorize the payment of the claim of John B. Couch, of Huntingdon county."

[This bill lies over on third reading.]

On motion of Mr. STEELE, Senate bill No. 154, "An Act to incorporate the Pennsylvania Mining and Miners' benevolent association."

[This bill was variously amended on motion of Mr. STEELE, and a new section added; and, on motion of Mr. PALMER, the following proviso was added: Provided, That no such organization shall be formed outside of Luzerne county.]

On motion of Mr. THOMPSON, Senate bill No. 329, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Plymouth railroad company, approved March 19, 1856."

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, Senate bill No. 562, "An Act to extend the charter of the Dauphin Deposit Bank."

On its final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. TURNEY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Brewer, Craig, Finney, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Parker, Penney, Rutherford, Schindell, Thompson, Turney, Welsh, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Marselis, Nunemacher, Randall, Steele and Wright—5.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. WELSH, Senate bill No. 438, "An Act to incorporate the Union Evangelical Lutheran congregation of the borough of York." [The bill was slightly amended.]

On motion of Mr. BELL, Senate bill No. 277, "An Act to extend the jurisdiction of the orphan's courts in case of testamentary trusts." [This bill lies over.]

On motion of Mr. BLOOD, Senate bill No. 405, "An Act to appoint a commissioner to take charge of a portion of the Warrea and Brookville, and Warren and Strattonville State roads, in Forest county."

On motion of Mr. YARDLEY, Senate bill No. 332, "An Act to incorporate the Centreville and Pineville turnpike road company."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, House bill No. 339, "An Act to incorporate the Suffolk park association."

A message from the Governor was received and read. It is as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,

Harrisburg, March 5, 1859.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen—I have approved and signed the following acts of the General Assembly, viz:

"A further supplement to the act incorporating the Tyrone and Lock Haven railroad company."

"An Act to incorporate the Ironton railroad company."

WM. F. PACKER.

On motion, the Senate adjourned until Monday, at three o'clock, P. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

SATURDAY, March 5, 1859.

The SPEAKER called the House to order at 9 o'clock, A. M.

Prayer by Rev. Dr. Wangh.

Mr. WITHROW called up House bill No. 214, relative to the sale of certain real estate belonging to the Keystone Division Seas of Temperance.

The bill passed.

Mr. OAKS moved to consider Senate bill No. 341, to incorporate the Columbia County agricultural, horticultural and botanical association. Motion withdrawn.

Mr. MAHAFFEY moved that House bill No. 714 be placed on Private Calendar for Tuesday next. Agreed to.

Mr. CHASE, from the Committee of Ways and Means, offered a report, being as committed, "Resolutions relative to tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad."

The resolutions were read.

Mr. CHASE called up House bill No. 377.

Withdrawn for the present.

Mr. IRISH called for the reading of the resolutions, and offered a remonstrance from the Pittsburgh board of trade vs. the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. WALBORN moved that the tonnage tax resolutions just read be re-committed to the Committee of Ways and Means. He had not been in the committee when the resolutions were considered. They must have been passed at the only meeting of the committee during which he was not present. He and his constituents, (who paid their just obligations,) were particularly interested in the road, and he desired an opportunity of discussion in the committee.—He made several intimations that the citizens of Allegheny county repudiated their just and legal debts.

Mr. CHASE said that when the resolutions were considered, there was a full committee, except the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. WALBORN.)

Mr. WALBORN said that he had been absent at the funeral of a friend.

Mr. CHURCH hoped they would be re-committed. Philadelphia represented a large amount of capital, and should be heard.

Mr. IRISH hoped the motion to re-commit would not prevail, and desired the resolutions should take the usual course and be acted on in their regular order. He repelled the charges and insinuations of the gentleman from Philadelphia, against the people of Allegheny county. Mr. WALBORN had boasted that he represented on this floor, a large amount of capital and capitalists, who were deeply interested in this question. Mr. IRISH would reply, that if he did not represent capital, he believed he did represent the people, and was ready at all times to defend their rights and interests against the encroachments of the monied power, whether wielded by individuals or corporations.

Mr. THOMPSON seconded the views of Mr. IRISH. The resolutions only contemplated the payment of a just debt.

Mr. CHURCH said that as a courtesy to the member of the committee who had been unavoidably absent, he solicited the re-commitment.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that one or two colleagues who were interested in the matter, were not present. He hoped they would be re-committed or postponed.

Mr. WALBORN represented a people, like the gentleman from Allegheny, but he represented a constituency which paid their just obligations. He would say that if the Pennsylvania Legislature did not repeal the tonnage tax, they would be obliged to pay back every cent which they had received into the treasury.

Mr. WILLISTON hoped that members would not be frightened by any such assertion as this.

The question being taken on the motion to re-commit.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CHURCH and Mr. PATTERSON, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barlow, Boyer,

(Schuylkill,) Burley, Church, Green, Hamersly, Neall, Price, Shafer, Sheppard, Styer and Walborn—14.

YAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Bryson, Campbell, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Eilmaker, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Goepf, Graham, Gray, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Kenegy, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, M'Curdy, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Wagen-seller, Walker, Warden, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow Wolf, Woodring and Lawrence, Speaker—60.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) said—

My reason for casting my vote in this case, is, that I desire that my friend Mr. WALBORN may be heard, he having been absent when the matter was under discussion before the committee. I am in favor of the resolutions when they come before the House.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

Mr. CHASE called up House bill No. 377, "An Act to provide for a more speedy method of enforcing claims against corporations.

The House went into committee of the whole, (Mr. TAYLOR in the Chair.)

The first section was agreed to, as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That any sum of money due to the Commonwealth, from any corporation, for bonus on capital, for taxes on dividends or capital stock, shall, after the settlement by the Auditor General and State Treasurer of the amount so due, be a lien upon the real estate of said corporation, and shall have priority over all liens created, subsequent to the accruing of said taxes.

The second section was read, as follows:

SEC. 2. That whenever said taxes shall remain due and unpaid, for the period of sixty days from the date of said settlement, the Attorney General may bring suit to recover the same, either in the county where the corporation is located, or in the court of common pleas of the county of Dauphin, and in either case, all laws now in force, applicable to suits against defaulters, shall apply to the suits brought against corporations under this act: Provided, That if, in opinion of the Attorney General, it is necessary to the security of the claim, he may commence suit before the expiration of the sixty days from the settlement of the account.

Mr. THOMPSON moved to amend by striking out all after the word "located," where it first occurred in the fourth line, and also to strike out "either" and insert such."

Mr. CHASE opposed the amendment; alleged that it would destroy the whole force of the section.

Mr. THOMPSON was satisfied with the first section, but insisted upon his amendments to the second.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that if the corporations refused to pay what was due, the Commonwealth ought to be put to the expense of running into different counties to hunt them up.

Mr. WILSON wished to know who was to serve the process.

Mr. CHASE said that this was provided for in the law of 1857.

Mr. WILSON said that it was an extraordinary movement to attempt to bring persons from different counties of the Commonwealth, as witnesses, &c; it was monstrous.

Mr. IRISH was surprised at proposition in bill, and at the source from which it came, viz: the chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, who had heretofore expressed the opinion that the law should be brought home to every man's door. This last principle had been the policy of the State, and he hoped would so continue. Let the suits be brought in the counties in which the defaulters were.

Mr. NILL, in some lengthy remarks, opposed the amendment of Mr. THOMPSON, and alleged the utter impossibility of pursuing the defaulters to the different counties.

On the amendment, it was not agreed to.

Mr. WALBORN offered the following amendment:

Provided further, That the jurymen summoned to try the aforesaid cases, be taken from the county or counties in which the corporations sued are located, except they be municipal corporations.

Discussion ensued between Messrs. NILL and WALBORN.

The amendment was withdrawn.

The second section was agreed to.

The committee rose, and the SPEAKER assumed the Chair.

The bill being before the House, Mr. FOSTER offered an amendment to the first section, as follows: after the word "due," to insert "and after having been entered of record in the county where such real estate is situated."

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. THOMPSON renewed his amendment to the second section.

On the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON and Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) and were as follow, viz:

YAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Campbell, Dodds, Eilmaker, Evans, Foster, Galley, Gray, Gritman, Irish, Kenegy, Laird, M'Dowell, Sheppard, Smith, (Berks,) Thompson, Wiley and Wilson—20.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Brodhead, Chase, Church, Custer, Durboraw, Eckman, Goepf, Graham, Green, Hamersly, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shafer, Shields, Smead, Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Wagen-seller, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wilcox, Wolf, Woodring and Lawrence, Speaker—43.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The second section was agreed to.

The bill passed.

Mr. BURLEY called up House bill No. 149.

The bill passed.

Mr. WITMAN withdrew certain papers. Agreed to.

Mr. HAMERSLY offered a report from the Divorce Committee, accompanied with an act divorcing Anna Priestly and Wm. R. Priestly.

The petition of Anna Priestly in the said case, was read.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that due notice had been served upon the respondent.

Mr. FOSTER regretted he was compelled to oppose the passage of the bill at the present time. It is alleged this petitioner is a girl of fourteen, drawn hastily into an indiscreet marriage. Now, it appears from the record that the parties were married a month ago, the petition was presented three days ago, notice served on the husband but yesterday, and to-day the bill is on its final passage! If all this petition alleges were true, (and one side of a story is always good till the other was heard,) was not the House about to act with all the haste and want of discretion which characterized this school girl, in contracting this marriage, in the hurry with which they were now (without reasonable notice to the other party) about to dissolve it. He might vote for the bill in a week or two hence, after hearing both parties, but if pressed to a vote now, must record himself against it, or any other hasty and impulsive legislation.

The first, and only section of the bill, was agreed to.

On the final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RAMSDELL and Mr. HAMERSLY, and were as follow, viz:

YAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Church, Custer, Dismant, Durboraw, Eckman, Eilmaker, Fleming, Goepf, Gray, Green, Hamersly, Jackson, Kenegy, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Mann, Mehaffey, M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Price, Proudfoot, Pughe, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Stephens, Styer, Wagen-seller, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Withrow, Woodring and Lawrence, Speaker—52.

NAYS—Messrs. Evans, Foster, Graham, Lawrence, (Washington,) Ramsdell, Shields, Smith (Berks,) and Wilson—8.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. WALBORN before voting "no" gave his reasons. He was greatly disposed to favor the applicant, and had long and favorably known her father. But a sense of justice obliged him, even unwillingly, to cast his vote in the negative, on the ground that a notice of but two days to the respondent was not ample.

Mr. NILL called up House bill No. 326, relative to the Fairmount market company of Philadelphia. (Mr. PATTERSON in the Chair.)

Mr. NILL moved to amend the first section by striking out all after the word "company," and inserting, as follows: "with a capital stock of $100,000 divided into 2000 shares of $50 each; and the said Fairmount market company, shall have and enjoy all the rights, privileges and immunities, and be subject to all the liabilities and restrictions contained in an act to incorporate the Eastern market company of Philadelphia, approved February 18, 1859, not inconsistent with this act: Provided, That the said Fairmount market company, shall be located in the Fifteenth ward of the city of Philadelphia."

Mr. WILCOX called up House bill No. 310, relative to the pay of damages sustained by Burke and Gonder, contractors.

The bill being on second reading,

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) and THOMPSON engaged in a lengthy argument, the latter denying that the State was responsible.

Senate amendments to House bill No. 7 were concurred in.

Senate amendments to House bill No. 122 were read and concurred in.

A message from the Governor was read, stating that he had approved the following acts: "A supplement to the Tyrone and Lockhaven railroad company."

Also, one to the Ironton railroad company.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) offered a resolution giving the use of the House to Gen. Duff Green, on Monday evening next, for the purpose of explaining his improvement and loan bill.

Mr. WAGENSELLER hoped it would not be adopted. He hoped the House would itself use the hall on Monday evening.

The resolution was agreed to.

The House adjourned until Monday afternoon at 3 P. M.

Mr. STYER'S reasons for voting against the bill re-organizing the board of guardians of the poor:

Although asserted here that a majority of the people of Philadelphia desire that the appointment of the board of guardians of the poor of said city shall be vested in the courts and council, and that the delegation from Philadelphia, though opposed to the principle involved, must bow to the wishes of their constituents. I deny that we have any evidence whatever that such is the desire of our constituents. Not a petition asking for the passage of this bill has been presented to this House; not a public meeting has been held, nor has any other manifestation of their sentiments been made, from which we are authorized to infer that they are ready to yield up their vested right to elect these officers, and confer upon the courts a power of political influence that cannot fail to prove disastrous to the purity and incorruptibility of the judiciary. That political papers have made charges of corruption against the present board of guardians of poor—that a hue and cry has been raised against individual members of that board, is no reason whatever for the passage of a bill which establishes the anti-democratic principle of taking power from the people, and concentrating it in the few; a bill, the tendency of which is to corruption of a far worse kind than any that can now exist. There may be, and in fact I believe there is, a necessity for a re-organization of the present board, but let it not be done by the perpetration of an error far more grave and far more disastrous in its consequences to our institutions and to the rights of the community. I regret to be compelled to differ from my colleagues, but I feel assured that I can only discharge my duties to my constituents and myself satisfactorily by pursuing that course which my conscience tells me to be right, regardless of consequences; and I will never vote, while I hold a seat in this body, to take power from the people to confer it upon the few; and have, therefore, voted against this bill, because it contravenes the great principles that lie at the foundation of all our institutions.

On the final passage of the appropriation bill on Friday, Mr. FLEMING gave the following reasons for his vote:

Mr. FLEMING—Mr. Speaker, before recording my vote on the final passage of the bill now under consideration, I desire to give my reasons, which are that having made an ineffectual effort to amend the fourth section of this bill by reducing the pay of members, for the session, to $500, the sum which I consider adequate for the time we ought to stay here, and also providing for the repeal of that part of the law of last year, increasing the compensation to $700, a measure which I believe is called for by our tax burdened people, being all they can afford to pay in the present condition of the finances of this Commonwealth, and a measure that would meet the views of my constituents, hoping this bill may be defeated, and we may have an opportunity of perfecting another one, more in accordance with my own views, and I am convinced, in accordance with the views of other members of this House, and as the bill contains several provisions which I cannot sustain, I therefore vote "no."

REMARKS OF MR. NILL,

OF FRANKLIN COUNTY,

On the amendment offered by Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) to the appropriation bill, appropriating the sum of twenty-four thousand dollars for the building of a monument in commemoration of those citizens who lost their lives in Mexico during the late war.

Mr. NILL said—

Mr. SPEAKER: The gentleman from Dauphin complains that members have, by their suggestions in the shape of amendments, attempted to throw ridicule on his project of putting up a monument in this place. I do not know whether he alludes to me or not. If he does, I assure him that—although the amendment I suggested in regard to embracing those who might be killed in the Paraguay war might seem to render me liable to the imputation—I do not mean to treat the question in that way. It is my purpose to give it that consideration which it merits. I trust the time will never come in which I shall attempt to cast any reflection on the officers or soldiers of my country who have distinguished themselves as those who have fought in Mexico have done. The officers and privates of that war won honors from its commencement to its close. No man with the heart of an American—no man at all actuated by the spirit of patriotism, can, in my judgment, too highly applaud their heroic deeds, or too highly value their important services. From the first victory at Palo Alto to the succeeding ones at Bena Vista, Monterey, the capture of Vera Cruz, hitherto deemed impregnable; the battle of Cerro Gordo, Jalapa, Chapultepac, Molina del Rey, and the fight in the streets of Mexico, which ended in the success of the American arms and in the unfurling of the United States standard on the citadel of the Montezumas, our armies were unrivalled in their martial achievements. Such uninterrupted successes have scarcely a parallel in history. The gentleman has adverted, with emotions of sympathy, to the departure of the Dauphin county volunteers from this place to the scene of their arduous labors. I can assure him that I well remember when this company passed through Chambersburg; also, when Captain Naylor's company and a large company of United States troops under Colonel Sumner, marched through the same town for their campaigns in Mexico. I can, too, remember with what demonstrations of friendship and of approbation the citizens of Chambersburg received them. But I do not stop here. In our county, Capt. C. T. Campbell recruited as fine a company as ever marched to the field of war. His call for recruits was met with alacrity. The farmer, mechanic, laborer, merchant and student, with cheerfulness, abandoned their respective vocations, donned the habiliments of war, and took up the line of march to regions beyond our southern borders. These men fought at Tampico, at the siege of Vera Cruz, and in many of the battles between that and the city of Mexico. They were brave and energetic, and fully proved themselves deserving of the highest commendation.

The bones of some men of this noble company remain on the plains and in the valleys of Mexico. Pennsylvania, from the Revolutionary war to this day, has always, by her contributions of money and of men, testified her devotion to the national welfare in the most trying times. Her sons, although often misrepresented, may well be proud of her patriotic position. Again, I tell the gentleman that in reference to the Mexican war, I go further than he does—I demand the consideration of its glorious results in our acquisition of territory in including a treaty of peace with that turbulent and distracted nation. It furnished us with a noble harbor on the Pacific, with territory for the large State of California, and with the immense territory of Utah and New Mexico. California, in an almost incredible short space of time, came into the Union as a free State, and no one can estimate the benefit derived from the auriferous products of this golden State on the monetary relations, not only of our own country, but of the civilized world. Again, I assert that we have reason to congratulate ourselves on the great results of the war with Mexico, and on the triumphant success of President Polk's administration, under which these acquisitions were obtained.

The gentleman has said that the officers and soldiers of the Revolution have had paeans of praise at all times and on all occasions sung to their honor. This is true so far as praise goes. The gentleman also alleges that the Revolutionary heroes have been pensioned, and that their declining years have been smoothed by the contributions of national bounty. Does he not know that for many years no soldiers were worse treated than the patriots of the Revolution? The government repudiated the continental currency, and by this act consigned many to the vale of poverty. Many a man of a martial bearing and spirit equal to Belisarius, was, through his country's neglect, left to suffer the greatest deprivation, and in sorrow and poverty, like the great Roman, permitted to wander from door to door, begging pennies to obtain a subsistence. This was greatly to the national discredit. Our SPEAKER ought also to call to his recollection that the pension laws granting appropriations to the soldiers of the Revolution were enacted long after the greater number of them had gone down to obscure but honored graves. Since about 1830 or 1831, pensions have been granted, and some eight or ten years after, they were extended to the widows of the warriors of that eventful period. So much for the accuracy of the gentleman's Revolutionary statements.

Here I will suggest what has often occurred to me; that is, that it would be advisable for our national government to imitate the French in the erection of a large establishment like the Hotel de Invalides, (I believe that is the name,) for the comfortable maintenance through life of the war-worn veterans of this powerful republic.

Now for the gentleman's arguments in relation to the Pennsylvania volunteers of the war of 1812. He has asserted at least twice, and he sticks to it, that no volunteers of this State in that war distinguished themselves. He has adverted to the defeat at Bladensburg, and seems to believe that that was the only battle in which militia and volunteers were engaged.—He should bear in mind that scarcely any from this State were at Bladensburg. But even the private soldiers at that place were, it is supposed, not all liable to censure. Whether they were or not, some of them, to my own knowledge, have obtained, within a few years, one hundred and sixty acres of land for their services. It is, however, not my duty to vindicate those who fought or ran at Bladensburg. It is my duty to set the gentleman right in regard to the bravery of Pennsylvania volunteers; to prove that they courageously maintained the honor of their native Commonwealth. Pennsylvania has at all times been noted for her military ardor. Brandywine, Valley Forge and Paoli are historical mementoes of her sufferings in the Revolution; while Generals Scott, Taylor, Worth and Butler bore testimony to the bravery of her sons in Mexico. This the gentleman concedes.

I will endeavor to correct his historical reminiscences of the war of 1812—justly called the second war of our Independence. With deference, I will inform him that the section of the State in which I reside raised a regiment that marched to Canada. This body of men were raised in Adams, Cumberland and Franklin counties. Col. Bull, who, I believe, was from Adams, commanded it.

Mr. LAWRENCE. I wish to ask the gentleman a question. He refers to a distinguished hero of Adams county as being in the war of 1812. I ask him if he does not mean the Buck-shot war?

Mr. NILL. Well, I believe there was hard fighting in that war. I presume the gentleman intends to perpetuate the memory of the soldiers of that war, as the scene of the principal battle was in Harrisburg.

Lieutenant Colonel Fenton was from Cumberland; Major James Wood was from Franklin; Captains Gordon, Steck and Dunn were also of Franklin, and so were Lieutenants Dick, Patton and Burns. Thomas Poe was adjutant, and a neighbor of mine (Mr. Hugh Davison) was one of the orderly sergeants. Samuel White was a captain from Adams. This debate having been sprung upon me, without giving time for examination, I cannot now name any other officers. This regiment volunteered to cross the line into Canada. It fought at Chippewa and at Lundy's Lane. There Col. Bull and Adjutant Poe, and a private, named M'Lelland, were killed. These men, with bravery and great heroism, fell in defence of their country, and now fill honorable graves, without a monument to point out their last resting place. Their virtues and patriotism are, and ever will be, cherished by their numerous friends and dear relatives.

At the same battle Major Wood and Lieutenant Dick were wounded. Capts. Dunn, and Gordon, and Lieutenant, now Gen. Burns, still live, and if it were needed, would corroborate my statement. None of these men ever entered the regular service. They served six months, were honorably discharged and returned to their respective homes. It is my impression that other parts of the State furnished their quota of volunteers, who were distinguished in the achievements of the times.

The gentleman also speaks reproachfully of the men who went as volunteers to defend Baltimore, and asserts that they returned without firing a gun. Does not he know that the British bombarded Baltimore; that their barges were destroyed at Fort M'Henry; and that General Ross, their commander, who had won laurels in Spain and Portugal, was shot? His death caused them to abandon that city. Had he lived, there might have been fighting enough for all the men our country had there. Is there any good reason for casting censure on the brave Pennsylvanians who, from patriotic motives, marched to Baltimore? I think not. My friend, however, appears to attach but little credit to the events of the war of 1812. Has he forgotten that in that war Gen. Scott first won his way to distinction? Has he forgotten that Generals Brown and Macomb gained their laurels in that war, and that for their eminent services they were promoted—Brown first, and Macomb next, to the office of Commander-in-chief of the American army? This office they respectively held through life. Has the gentleman forgotten Gen. Harrison? Or does he not know that when the savages and Indians at Fort Meigs, on our then south-western frontier, inhumanly slaughtered men, women and children, Gen. Andrew Jackson, as a militia General, was called into service; and showed such great talents that he, in a few months, was promoted to the office of Major General in the United States army, and terminated the war by the decisive victory at New Orleans—one of the greatest achievements recorded in history?—When the people of the nation were jubilant over the victory at Orleans, news that peace had been made was proclaimed, which furnished reasons for additional rejoicings. This closes my remarks on the war of 1812.

In the gentlemen's observations there is one thing that struck me as a curiosity. In enumerating his soldier heroes he began with Cain. As I have always been taught to believe that Cain was the first murderer, and I never was led to believe that the military men were associated with murderers, it caused me to doubt his appreciation of military genius. I can see no good cause, at any rate, for going back to such remote periods for examples. The old time warriors are so fabulous that in the language of a great poet, it may well be asked

"Where were the loves and war of earth,
Before Pelide's death and Homer's birth."

[Here Mr. LAWRENCE asked if the gentleman was quoting from the Bible? Mr. NILL replied that he was not, but that it was as good authority as any quoted by him. Mr. LAWRENCE said it was from Homer. Mr. NILL answered he believed it was from Byron.]

Again, I must give a passing notice to the gentleman's extraordinary views of what is required to secure a soldier's salvation. I understood him to say, and he did say, that as soon as a soldier died on the battle field, his disembodied spirit winged its way immediately to the pearly gates of Heaven, and that on its arrival St. Peter threw open the gate and it passed to a seat in bliss near the throne of God! What an expression! It induced me to believe that he had just been reading Byron's "Vision of Judgment." He, however, gets ahead of Byron; for this great poet, when George III. died, who had, as king, been commander-in-chief of the British army during all the wars that had their origin in the French revolution, allowed him, through much tribulation, almost against the will of St. Peter, to enter Heaven, where he left him singing the Hundredth Psalm! The gentleman, more irreverent than Byron, leaves us to infer that he would have put George at "Britannia Rules the Wave," or left an American soldier singing to the air of "Yankee Doodle!" What claims has the gentleman to orthodox faith? Are not his principles in this matter, to say the least of them, very singular? But with his religious sentiments I have no business; for them he is alone responsible.

During the last session of the Legislature I voted for an appropriation of six thousand dollars for this monument. I then deemed it a measure of doubtful expediency. The persons appointed to supervise its erection met, and decided that nothing less than thirty thousand dollars would be sufficient. They received and adopted a plan, and concluded that it should be erected of Italian marble, between eighty and ninety feet high, on the public grounds. This bill, by amendments, provides that it shall be put up by Pennsylvania workmen. This is right. But I am persuaded that if we commence with thirty thousand dollars it will not be more than half enough to complete it. At the next session it will be unfinished, and will stand as a memorial of discredit to the State, unless it is finished. Then, through importunity, another appropriation of perhaps thirty thousand dollars will be obtained, and that will prove inadequate. Then it will be so near to completion that it would be unwise not to give another; and in this manner the cost to the State will nearly reach one hundred thousand dollars.

I base my estimate of expenditures upon our past experience. It will be remembered that the Commonwealth had expended some millions on the North Branch canal—that she continued to appropriate money for its completion until she exhausted her credit, and was unable to pay the interest on her debt. Then this canal was abandoned and given for nothing to a company. It remained in the hands of the company until Governor Johnston's administration; then it was abandoned and once more taken under State protection. The people were assured that it would not cost much to finish it, and that when it was finished it would prove a profitable work. Year after year through the administrations of Governors Johnston, Bigler and Pollock, appropriations were made to it; every one, at the time, to be the last, until over four millions of dollars were expended; and when the canal was sold, it was still not quite finished! I admit that this monument is not a work of as much magnitude as the canal referred to, but I maintain that the same principle on a less scale, if we make this appropriation, will be resorted to to get money out of the treasury. The gentleman, in a threatening manner, says he means to have our votes put on the record on this subject. I assure him that I will cheerfully agree to have my name recorded against this project. I will abide the consequence. He has asked in a tone of triumph whether we will for thirty thousand dollars deny this monument to the memory of deceased soldiers, because of their wives and children.

He grew quite pathetic on this point. In reply I ask whether he believes that monumental marble can dry the tears or assuage the suffering and sorrow of the widow, or alleviate the afflictions or satisfy the hunger of the orphan. If he can prove that it will have this effect, I will cordially give it my support. It is hoped that the committee of the whole will negative this appropriation, but with whatever disposition they make of it, I will rest contented by being satisfied that I have discharged my duty by voting against it.

REMARKS OF MR. WARDEN, OF WESTMORELAND,

Delivered in Committee of the Whole of the House of Representatives, on Friday, Feb. 25, on his amendment to the section offered by Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) to the General Appropriation Bill, for the purpose of appropriating money to construct a monument in memory of those Pennsylvanians who fell in the Mexican war.

Mr. WARDEN said—

Mr. CHAIRMAN:—Inasmuch as I had the honor of offering the amendment, now pending before the committee, and as I have been charged with offering it for the purpose of embarrassing this section, I have thought proper to make a few remarks in regard to the matter. Sir, I offered it in good faith, and not for the purpose of embarrassing the section, as the gentleman, (Mr. LAWRENCE, of Dauphin,) has charged, but to relieve it from embarrassment and to meet objections that have been raised, and will be raised to it, in its original shape, on account of its partiality or discrimination in favor of one portion of our citizens over others who are equally worthy and meritorious.

Sir, we have Pennsylvanians with hearts large enough to include the soldiers of all our wars. We have Pennsylvanians, with hearts large enough to include in the proposed memento of honor, not only those brave and heroic Pennsylvanians who lost their lives in the late war with Mexico, but also those who fell in defence of their country in the war of 1812, as well as those brave and heroic men who crossed the ice-clad Delaware with their frost-bitten feet, amidst privations and sufferings unheard of before in the annals of history, and in the darkest hour of their country's need, turned the scales of war in their country's favor; or those brave men of the Pennsylvania Line, who, in obedience of their officers, had gone in a body to seek redress at their country's hands and demand supplies for their suffering wants—and were met by British emissaries, who attempted to bribe and seduce them from their duty—took those very emissaries and delivered them up to their officers, and when their country met their demands, returned to duty. For this reason I offered the proposed amendment to the section.

But, Mr. Chairman, I do not propose to make a lengthy speech. I will, however, while up, make a few remarks in reply to some charges that have been made by the gentleman from Dauphin, (Mr. LAWRENCE.) But first, let me say to that gentleman, that I am sorry I am placed in the unpleasant position of standing about half-way between him and his opponents.

But, sir, did not the gentleman make some very serious charges against the soldiers of the war of 1812? Did he not tell me that I had better not bring up the name of any Pennsylvanian who fought in that war, because it might not redound to the honor of Pennsylvania?

Now, sir, as a citizen of Westmoreland county, I feel bound to stand by and defend the honor of her citizens; and I do know that two companies went from that county, and were actively engaged in the war of 1812, and also, that they both did good service—one, a company of cavalry, commanded by Captain Markle; the other a foot company, commanded by Captain Alexander. I also know that Captain Markle's troop was engaged in the bloody massacre of Miesasiniwa, and that Lieutenant Watts, the second in command, fell, whilst leading his men to the charge; and further, that Westmoreland county boasts of no prouder or nobler name than his. And, sir, there are living in that county the remnants of those two veteran companies; and their friends, who, if they had heard my friend from Dauphin make the assertion he made here to day, would have set him down lower in their estimation than I trust, for the sake of his honor, he ever will be set. Because he, by "one fell-swoop" of his hand, has attempted to pass the dark curtain of disgrace over their honor, and bury it.

I know more, sir. I know that Col. Miller, who fought at Lundy's Lane, and who immortalized himself, when being asked if he could take the battery on the hill, coolly replied "I will try, General," and he did it—was a native of Pennsylvania, and a citizen of Fayette county, and it is fair to presume that, in that charge, he commanded or led on Pennsylvanians!

There is also living in Westmoreland county, a man whose name is Cooper, who occupied the position of Captain in the battle of Chippewa, whom I have heard describe the position of the Americans, and tell how the officer commanding his regiment, rode along the line, as the British columns advanced to the attack, with the words of "caution—steady men; steady men; steady men; they come;" and that one well-directed fire caused those advancing columns to recoil, that they rallied and advanced again, when they met a second and equally bloody reception, at the hands of the Americans; before which they broke and fled, leaving the field in possession of the victors. Need anything more be said in defence of the soldiers of 1812?

But, sir, the gentleman from Dauphin, has done honor to my county, in the course of his remarks, relative to the soldiers of the Mexican war, in mentioning the name of Col. Drum, one of the "bravest of the brave;" a name of which Westmoreland is truly and justly proud, as well as the company, which served in that war, under Captain Johnston, of which, perhaps, one-third of the number returned, after having acquitted themselves, honorably and bravely, on the field of battle.

Sir, I deny the charge that Pennsylvanians are cowardly! I do not believe that there was a Pennsylvanian at Bladenburg. And I defy the gentleman from Dauphin to point me to one place, where any large number of Pennsylvanians turned their backs to the enemy. Now, sir, I have seen fit to repel this charge, not only because the men of that war, are men I am bound to honor, but because there are soldiers still living in my own county, who fought in that war; and, sir, in honor of those brave men, now dead, who fell in both those wars—in honor of their names and memories, I will vote for this appropriation.

Now, sir, in regard to the question,—"Does Pennsylvania owe anything to her sons and soldiers, who went out and laid down their lives for their country, and whose bones are now bleaching upon the battle-fields of Mexico?" Those places, sir, where lie the precious, yet mortal remains of our brothers and fellow citizens, are not within the confines—the boundaries of our country—they are in the enemy's country, and therefore, those places cannot be held sacred or hallowed by us, as the sepulchre of our illustrious and heroic dead.

But, sir, the memories of many of those gallant soldiers are near and dear to us, and the only act we can do in honor of their names, and which their friends have a right to demand, is to erect this Monument, and thereby perpetuate their honor and fame. That this can, and should be done, in the hearts and memories of us all, and also of future generations, I am free to admit.

But, sir, it is fair to presume that three thousand Pennsylvanians lost their lives in the war with Mexico, alone, and the amount of this appropriation, divided amongst that number, would be but ten dollars to each man, which certainly is but a small remuneration for the services they rendered and the hardships they endured in the cause of their country. I trust there is not a citizen of Pennsylvania, who would not cheerfully give that small sum towards the erection of a Monument of the kind proposed, in the public grounds of the capitol, in order that the families of those men, and after they are dead and gone, their countrymen may point to the spot, and say, "erected in honor of the memory of the men who fell in the war with Mexico;" and (if the amendment carries,) "in honor of the men who lost their lives in the late war with Great Britain, and in honor of those men who died in the war of American Independence, and who contributed largely by their self-sacrificing patriotism, to give us one of the proudest destinies on the face of the earth." But, Mr. Chairman, as a large portion of the time of the committee has already been consumed in this discussion, I will not further trespass upon their time. In conclusion, I would say that I deemed it my duty to give utterance to the sentiments I have expressed, because I felt that the honor of my country was at stake. Trusting that the members of this committee will give this important matter the serious reflection to which it is entitled, I will now resume my seat.

No. 433.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

IRISH, Judiciary—Feb. 23.

AN ACT to alter the districts of the Supreme Court and regulate proceedings therein.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That for the purpose of holding the supreme court of Pennsylvania, the Commonwealth is hereby divided into three districts, denominated the Eastern district, the Middle district and the Western district; the Eastern district consists of the city of Philadelphia, and the counties of Delaware, Chester, Montgomery, Berks, Bucks, Lehigh, Schuylkill, Carbon, Northampton, Monroe, Luzerne, Pike, Wayne, Wyoming, Susquehanna and Bradford; the Middle district consists of the city and county of Lancaster, and the counties of Potter, Tioga, Clinton, Lycoming, Sullivan, Columbia, Montour, Northumberland, Union, Snyder, Centre, Blair, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Juniata, Perry, Dauphin, Lebanon, York, Adams, Cumberland, Franklin, Bedford and Fulton; the Western district consists of the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and the counties of Allegheny, Erie, Crawford, Warren, McKean, Elk, Clearfield, Jefferson, Forest, Clarion, Venango, Mercer, Beaver, Lawrence, Butler, Armstrong, Indiana, Cambria, Somerset, Westmoreland, Fayette, Green and Washington.

SEC. 2. That the judges of the said supreme court shall annually hold three terms of the said court at the places and during the times hereinafter specified, if the business pending in the said court shall require it, to wit: one term in the city of Philadelphia, for the Eastern district, commencing on the first Monday of January; and one term in the borough of Harrisburg, for the Middle district, commencing on the fourth Monday of April; and one term in the city of Pittsburgh, for the Western district, commencing on the first Monday of October; each of the said terms to continue as long as the business of the particular district may require, yet so as not to interfere with the commencement of the other terms, except in case of absolute necessity in the discretion of the said judges.

SEC. 3. That no writ, order or process of any kind shall be issued by said court, or any of the judges thereof requiring any party, respondent or defendant, to appear at any place not within the district where such respondent or defendant resides or is located.

SEC. 4. That the said judges may adjourn and continue the said terms respectively, as the condition of business and the convenience of the suitors may require; and the said court shall also have power to order special terms to be holden at the seat of justice of any county within this Commonwealth, for the purpose of hearing arguments and for the disposition of causes pending in the said court from the said county, or any other counties within the same judicial district.

SEC. 5. That the office of prothonotary of the said supreme court for the Northern district, is hereby abolished, and the books, papers, records and documents heretofore pertaining to and kept within the said district, shall be forthwith conveyed to and deposited in the office and placed in the custody of the prothonotary in and for the said Middle district, by the said late prothonotary of the said Northern district, or under his discretion or control; for which service he shall receive adequate compensation to be paid out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 6. That all existing laws inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

No. 445.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

GRATZ, Judiciary—Feb. 10.

AN ACT in reference to promissory notes, bills of exchange, et cetera.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in all cases, where suit at law may be instituted for the recovery of the amount due on any promissory note, due bill, bill of exchange, draft, check, or any other instrument of writing, in the nature thereof, no plea shall be held to be available, and to defence, shall be made or taken by the defendant or defendants, for want of proper and timely demand of payment or acceptance, or proper and timely notice of non-acceptance, or non-payment of the same, unless the respective places where such demand is to be made, and where such notice is to be given or served, or the place or places of residence or business of the respective parties thereto, shall be legibly and distinctly set forth thereon, unless the place where such demand should have been made, or where such notice should have been given or served, could have been ascertained by reasonable search and inquiry of the bank, or of the person or parties holding the same.

SEC. 2. That in all cases of omission, as aforesaid, promissory notes, due bills, bills of exchange, drafts, and such like instruments, shall be held to be payable and protestable at the places where they may be dated; and if they contain no place of date or demand, then at the place where they are deposited or held for collection; and in no case shall a notary public be required to go beyond the limits of the city or county, in which he may reside, for the purpose of making a demand of acceptance or payment.

SEC. 3. That in all cases where there is more than one endorsement on a promissory note, due bill, bill of exchange, draft, check, or any other instrument of writing in the nature thereof, and the party or parties entitled to notice thereon cannot be found, after reasonable search and inquiry, a notice of non-payment or of non-acceptance, for such party or parties, if left at the place of business or residence of the last endorser, shall be deemed and held sufficient to exonerate the notary public, who shall protest the paper in question, from all responsibility, for want of due and timely notice of the non-payment or non-acceptance thereof: Provided, That if the place of business or residence of the last endorser, shall be beyond the limits of the city or county where the demand was made, or where the obligation was payable, the notice may be sent by mail.

SEC. 4. That none of the provisions of this act, except the proviso to the third section, shall apply to paper which may have been issued prior to the date of its passage.

No. 150.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

GRATZ, Judiciary—March 4.

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT to the act incorporating the city of Philadelphia, providing for the abolishment of the board of guardians of the poor.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the present board of guardians of the poor of the city of Philadelphia, as constituted and organized by and under an act, entitled "A further supplement to incorporate the city of Philadelphia, passed February 2, 1854," shall be abolished, and shall cease and determine from and after the first Monday in July next, A. D. 1859; and that all laws and parts of laws providing for the organization of said board as now established, and under and by virtue of which said board of guardians of the poor is now constituted by the election of its members by the qualified electors of the several wards of the city of Philadelphia, mentioned in the eighteenth section of the act to which this is a further supplement, shall, from and after the said first Monday of July, 1859, be repealed, and thereafter be of no force or effect, so far as the same shall conflict in the provisions of this act; and that so much of said act as authorizes the qualified electors of said wards of the city of Philadelphia, annually, on the first Tuesday in May, to elect one citizen to serve as a member of said board, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SECTION 2. That on the first Monday in July next, A. D. 1859, and forever thereafter, until otherwise provided by law, the powers, duties, rights, liberties, authorities and immunities of the board of guardians of the poor of the city of Philadelphia, as constituted and organized under the provisions of the act mentioned in the first section of this act, shall be transferred and assigned to, and be assumed and exercised by nine reputable citizens and electors of said city of Philadelphia, to be selected in the following manner, to wit:—On the first Monday in June, 1858, the judges of the district courts, for the city and county of Philadelphia, shall appoint three reputable citizens, and electors of said city, to be members of the board of guardians of the poor, as constituted under the provisions of this act; one to serve one year; one to serve two years, and one to serve three years; and annually thereafter the said court shall appoint one person to be a member of said board. The court of common pleas shall, in like manner, and at the same time, appoint the same number of members of said board; and annually thereafter the said court shall appoint one member of said board. The select and common council of the city of Philadelphia, in joint convention, at any stated meeting, in June next, shall elect the same number of members of said board; one to serve one year; one to serve two years, and one to serve three years; and annually thereafter, at any stated meeting, in June, said councils, in joint convention, shall elect one member of said board to serve for three years.

SECTION 3. The members of said board, thus appointed and elected, shall meet on the first Monday in July next, 1849, at ten o'clock in the morning; and shall then assume and exercise all the powers, duties, rights, liberties, authorities and immunities of the present board of guardians of the poor.

SEC. 4. The present board of health of the city of Philadelphia, as constituted and organized by and under an act for establishing a health office, and to secure the port of Philadelphia from the introduction of pestilential and contagious diseases, and for other purposes, passed January 29, 18—, and an act, entitled "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the city of Philadelphia, passed February 2, 1854," shall be abolished, and shall cease and determine from and after the first Monday in July next, 1859; and all laws and parts of laws providing for the organization of said board as now established, and under and by virtue of which said board of health is now constituted, by the elections of its members by the qualified electors of the several wards of the city of Philadelphia, shall from and after the said first Monday in July, 1849, be repealed, and thereafter be of no force or effect, so far as the same shall conflict with the provisions of this act; and so much of said act as authorizes the qualified electors of each of the wards of the city of Philadelphia annually, on the first Tuesday in May, to elect one citizen to serve as a member of the said board of health, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SEC. 5. On the first Monday in July next, 1849, and forever thereafter, until otherwise provided by law, the powers, duties, rights, liberties, authorities and immunities of the board of health of the city and port of Philadelphia, as constituted and organized under the provisions of the act of Assembly mentioned in the fourth section of this act, and any and all other laws in relation to said board of health, shall be transferred and assigned to, and be assumed and exercised by nine reputable citizens and electors of said city of Philadelphia, who shall be elected in the following manner, to wit: on the first Monday in June, A. D. 1849, the judges of the district court for the city and county of Philadelphia shall appoint three reputable citizens and electors of said city to be members of the board of health, as constituted under the provisions of this act—one to serve one year, one to serve two years, and one to serve three years; and annually thereafter the said court shall appoint one person to be a member of said board of health; the court of common pleas shall in like manner and at the same time appoint the same number of members of said board; and annually thereafter the said court shall appoint one person to be a member of said board; the select and common councils of the city of Philadelphia, in joint convention, at any stated meeting in June next, shall elect the same number of members of said board—one to serve one year, one to serve two years, and one to serve three years; and annually thereafter, at any stated meeting in June next, said councils, in joint convention, shall elect one member of said board for three years.

SEC. 6. The members of said board of health, thus appointed and elected, shall meet on the first Monday in July next, A. D. 1849, at ten o'clock in the morning, and shall then assume and exercise all the powers, duties, rights, liberties, authorities and immunities of the present board of health.

SEC. 7. That in case a vacancy occur in the said board of guardians of the poor, or the said board of health, from death, resignation or otherwise, it shall be supplied and filled for the unexpired term of such member by the court which appointed, or the councils which elected, the member thus dying, resigning, or otherwise vacating his seat in the board of which he was a member.

SEC. 8. That upon conviction, in any court of criminal jurisdiction, of any member or members said board of guardians of the poor, or the said board of health, of any wilful misapplication of the funds or property of the said boards, or funds or property of the city of Philadelphia, or of any fraudulent and corrupt official act, he or they so offending and convicted, shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred, nor more than one thousand dollars, and undergo an imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, at the discretion of the court.

No. 262.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

GAZZAM, Corporations—Feb. 9.

AN ACT relative to the city of Pittsburg.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That no suit shall hereafter be brought by any city officer in the name of said city without notice in writing or in person to the regularly chosen solicitor of said city, who shall keep a regular docket of all such suits, and hand the same over to his successor in office.

SEC. 2. The councils of said city are hereby authorized to assess all the cost and expenses paid or assumed by said city of putting in force sections eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth of an act of Assembly, approved May sixteenth, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, entitled "An Act supplementary to an act to incorporate the city of Pittsburg," and furnish the same to the commissioners of the sinking fund; and if the said commissioners shall find the same to be correct, they shall pay the amount of said assessment into the city treasury out of the fund arising under said sections.

SEC. 3. The taxes and public assessments, made payable at the treasurer's office in said city by section four of an act approved May sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, shall be payable between the first day of June and the first day of October in each year, subject to a deduction of five per centum if paid on or before the first of August, and two per centum if paid between the first of August and fifteenth of September; on the third Monday in September annually, the treasurer shall give public notice in the newspapers, authorized as public printers, to all persons who have omitted to pay their taxes, that if not paid, without deduction, on or before the first day of October following, that five per centum will be added thereto; and that if not paid by the first of November following, warrants will be issued to collect the same, with ten per centum added to the original assessment—five per centum for the use of the city, and five per centum as compensation to the collector—which said additions are hereby authorized; and it shall be the duty of the treasurer to issue his warrants, as authorized in the fourth section of the said act of May sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, on or before the fifth of November in each year, directed to any competent citizen or citizens whom he may appoint for the collection of the unpaid taxes and assessments; and the said warrants shall be made returnable on or before the fifteenth day of January following, which return shall be final and complete; and all acts or parts of acts of Assembly hereby altered or supplied, or inconsistent with this act, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 4. The fiscal year of said city shall hereafter begin on the first day of February; the terms of all city officers shall also begin on that day; and the terms of those now holding office in said city is hereby extended to the first day of February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty; the time for making the annual appropriations as now provided for in an act approved April sixth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, is hereby changed; and the said appropriations shall hereafter be made in the month of January, subject to all the other provisions of the said act of Assembly.

No. 280.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BREWER, Judiciary—Feb. 10.

AN ACT relating to costs.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in all cases upon indictments in the courts of oyer and terminer and quarter sessions of this Commonwealth, when the defendant or defendants are acquitted, the court may in their discretion, direct the witnesses of defendant or defendants and costs of subpoenas, to be paid out of the county funds, when the defendant or defendants is or are insolvent, or for any cause unable to pay the same.

No. 306.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

WIGTON, Ways and Means—Feb. 11.

AN ACT relating to the licenses of billiard tables and ten-pin alleys used at watering places and summer resorts, in this Commonwealth.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be lawful for all persons owning or occupying watering places and summer resorts in this Commonwealth, to be licensed for the privilege of using billiard tables and ten-pin alleys for the term of three months in a year, and pay in that proportion of the rates now or hereafter required to be paid per annum.

SEC. 2. That all laws conflicting with the foregoing section are hereby repealed, so far as relates to alterations made by this act.

No. 303.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

GREEN, Ways and Means—Feb. 11.

AN ACT to repeal so much of the act of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight as increases the compensation of members of the Legislature.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That so much of the fourth section of the act of twenty-first of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, entitled "An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of government, the repairs of the public canals, and other general and special appropriations," as increases the compensation of members of the Legislature, be and the same is hereby repealed.

No. 451.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

MARSELIS, Banks—Feb. 25.

AN ACT relating to the banks of this Commonwealth.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the cashiers of the several banks of this Commonwealth shall, on the day of the first meeting of the board of directors of their respective banks in each month, make out a full and accurate statement or exhibit of the amount of the liabilities to the bank of the directors thereof, specifying the aggregate amount of such liabilities of each director, as maker, drawer and endorser for his own benefit, contracted either in his separate capacity, or as a member of a firm or copartnership, and the aggregate amount of such liabilities as endorser or surety for the benefit of any other person; which said statement or exhibit shall be certified by the cashier to be correct, and placed before the board of directors at said first meeting in each month, and be filed with the official papers of said bank, and preserved for reference by the directors; and when required to be exhibited to the stockholders at any general meeting of the same, held at the banking house in pursuance of any call allowed by the laws regulating said bank.

No. 305.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

SMITH, (Berks,) Ways and Means—Feb. 11.

AN ACT to increase the compensation of the judges of the supreme court.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the annual salary of the judges of the supreme court shall be increased six hundred dollars each, and their per diem allowance to six dollars.

No. 320.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

MARSELIS, Banks—Feb. 16.

AN ACT relative to the banks of this Commonwealth.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the several banks of this Commonwealth, from and after the passage of this act, be and they are hereby required to receive at par on deposit, and in payment of all debts due or to become due to them, and in payment of all claims or commercial paper received by them for collection, the notes of all solvent and specie paying banks of this Commonwealth; and the said banks are also hereby authorized to pay out in their discounts and all their business transactions, the notes of all such solvent and specie paying banks.

No. 258.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

SHAEFFER, Corporations—Feb. 9, 1859.

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT to the act incorporating the city of Philadelphia.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the sixth section of an act, entitled "A further supplement to the act incorporating the city of Philadelphia," approved the twenty-first day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, be, and the same is hereby repealed, and all proceedings thereunder, not finally adjudicated, be, and the same are hereby set aside and annulled.

No. 466.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

GAZZAM, Judiciary—Feb. 25, 1859.

SUPPLEMENT to the general banking law.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall be obligatory on the several banks of this Commonwealth to keep their notes, respectively, at par, in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, to wit: those located east of the Allegheny mountains shall keep their notes at par in the city of Philadelphia; and those located west of the Allegheny mountains, shall keep their notes at par in the city of Pittsburgh; any bank failing to comply with the provisions of this section, shall, for such length of time as its notes may be under par, as aforesaid, forfeit and pay to the State Treasurer, for the use of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, at a rate of two per cent. per annum, on every dollar of the average amount of the circulation of such bank for the preceding year; such forfeiture to be paid on or before the third Monday in November, in each year; it shall be the duty of the cashier of the several banks, to state in their annual exhibits, made to the Auditor General, the length of time that their notes have been under par as aforesaid: Provided, That no forfeiture or penalty shall be incurred under the provisions of this section until after the first day of August next.

No. 460.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) Claims—Feb. 25.

AN ACT to authorize the appointment of commissioners to examine and adjust certain claims, et cetera.

WHEREAS, It is just and proper that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should afford such of her citizens as have legal or equitable claims against her, an opportunity of showing the same:

AND WHEREAS, The said Commonwealth hath certain sums of money justly due and owing to her from James J. Dull, which claims are not disputed, but the said Dull alleges that the said Commonwealth is justly indebted to him as assignee of J. K. Moorhead and Henry L. Patterson, contractors on the Allegheny Portage railroad, for work, labor and materials done and furnished upon and to said road; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Governor of this Commonwealth be, and is hereby authorized to appoint three good and disinterested citizens of Pennsylvania, one of whom at least shall be a civil engineer, commissioners to settle and adjust the mutual claims of the parties aforesaid.

SEC. 2. That said commissioners shall as soon as practicable after their appointment by the Governor, sit at Harrisburg, and shall proceed with the duties imposed upon them by this act, by hearing evidence, et cetera; and shall, after adjusting claims of each of the parties aforesaid, strike a balance; which claims and balance they shall report to this or the next succeeding Legislature: Provided however, That if the just or legal claims of the said Dull, as proven before the said commissioners, shall exceed the sums owing by him to the Commonwealth, then and in such case the said Commonwealth shall charge him with the whole of any sum or sums which may be due from him and others, as joint contractors or co-obligors, leaving to said Dull his legal remedy over against such other joint contractors or co-obligors: Provided, That the expense of this commission shall be paid jointly by the parties interested.

No. 138.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

RUTHERFORD, Roads and Bridges—Jan. 29.

A SUPPLEMENT to the act relating to roads, highways and bridges.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That provisions of the thirty-fifth section of an act entitled "An Act relating to roads, highways and bridges," passed the thirteenth day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, is hereby extended to boroughs in the county of Fayette.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 48.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

SENATE.

MONDAY, March 7, 1859.

The Senate met and was called to order by the SPEAKER at 3 o'clock P. M.

The Journal of Saturday was read and approved.

Mr. KELLER appeared in his seat.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. BELL, (Judiciary,) reported as committed, "An Act relative to executors and administrators."

Mr. SCHELL, (Private Claims and Damages,) as committed, "An Act relative to the claim of William Porter, for damages sustained by the construction of the Erie extension of the Pennsylvania canal."

Mr. BALDWIN, (Roads and Bridges,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Middletown and Harrisburg turnpike road company."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 59, "An Act to appoint a road and bridge viewer in Somerset county."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. WRIGHT read in his place and presented to the chair a bill, entitled "An Act authorizing the erection of a new election division in the Twenty-third ward of the city of Philadelphia."

Also, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the directors of the poor and house of employment, for the townships of Oxford and Lower Dublin, in the county of Philadelphia."

Mr. STEELE, "An Act authorizing the Governor to appoint an auctioneer for the borough of Scranton."

Also, "A supplement to an act creating Denison township, Luzerne county, into a separate district, for road purposes."

Mr. GAZZAM, "An Act to incorporate the Pittsburg and East Liberty passenger railway company."

Also, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Pittsburg and Steubenville railroad company."

Mr. FETTER, "An Act authorizing the State

Treasurer to settle the accounts of the president judge of the Twentieth judicial district."

Mr. SHEAFFER, "An Act to incorporate the New Ephrata and Lititz turnpike road company."

Mr. PALMER, "A supplement to the acts incorporating the borough of Pottsville."

Also, "A supplement to an act incorporating the village of Port Carbon into a borough."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. GREGG offered the following resolution; which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That one thousand copies of the report of the trustees and superintendent of the Farmers' high school of Pennsylvania, for the year 1858, be printed for the use of the Senate."

Mr. FRANCIS offered the following; which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That the House of Representatives be requested to return to the Senate, bill on the Senate file No. 22.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. COFFEY, House bill No. 232, "An Act to refund to William Coulter certain moneys and expenses paid by him to the commissioners of the Nicholson court."

On motion of Mr. BELL, Senate bill No. 400, "An Act to incorporate the Delaware County passenger railway company."

On motion of Mr. BREWER, Senate bill No. 403, "An Act relating to deer in the counties of Adams, Berks, Franklin and Fulton."

On leave given, Mr. WRIGHT, from the Committee on Corporations, reported, as committed, "A further supplement to an act incorporating the directors of the poor and house of employment for the townships of Oxford and Lower Dublin, in the county of Philadelphia;" and, on his motion, said bill was taken up, and after being duly considered, passed finally.

On motion of Mr. MYER, House bill No. 217, "An Act relative to pathmasters in the township of Great Bend, Susquehanna county."

On motion of Mr. GREGG, Senate bill No. 439, "A supplement to an act, entitled 'An Act to incorporate the Lewisburg building association, having for its object the accumulation of a fund which shall be loaned to its members, to enable them to buy or build their own houses.'"

[This bill lies over on third reading.]

On motion of Mr. KELLER, House bill No. 164, "An Act to incorporate the Farmers' fire mutual insurance company, of Middle Pennsylvania."

On motion of Mr. STEELE, House bill No. 420, "An Act relative to elections in the First ward of the city of Carbondale, in Luzerne county."

On motion of Mr. PALMER, Senate bill No. 398, "An Act to incorporate the Mahanoy and Broad Mountain railroad company."

On motion of Mr. SCHINDEL, Senate bill No. 418, "An Act to authorize the Auditor General and State Treasurer to re-examine the account between the Commonwealth and the Northampton bridge company."

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, Senate bill No. 567, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Middletown and Harrisburg turnpike road company."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, Senate bill No. 109, "An Act to incorporate a company for the improvement of the drama."

On motion of Mr. GAZZAM, Senate bill No.

496, "An Act to repeal the second section of an act providing for the expenses of roads and poor in Pitt township, in the county of Allegheny, approved April 21, 1846."

On motion of Mr. FRANCIS, House bill No. 355, "An Act relative to the claim of William Porter, for damages sustained by the construction of the Erie extension of the Pennsylvania canal."

On the final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCOFIELD and Mr. FRANCIS, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Blood, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Keller, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield, Sheaffer, Schindel, Steele, Thompson, Turvey, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell. Speaker—26

NAYS—Messrs. Brewer and Nunnemacher—2.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, House bill No. 59, "An Act to appoint road and bridge viewers in the county of Somerset."

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, "An Act in regard to collectors in Tioga county."

On motion of Mr. SHAEFFER, (the Committee on Roads and Bridges having been discharged from its consideration,) "An Act to incorporate the New Ephrata and Lititz turnpike road company."

On motion of Mr. SCHINDEL, House bill No. 181, "An Act to regulate the compensation of county commissioners, poor directors, auditors and jurymen in the county of Northampton."

On motion of Mr. STEELE, House bill No. 421, "An Act relative to elections in Carbondale."

On motion of Mr. THOMPSON, House bill No. 342, "An Act to amend the road laws of Montgomery county."

On motion of Mr. BELL, House bill No. 331, "An Act to incorporate the Farmers' market company."

Mr. WRIGHT moved to amend by adding the following at the close of the first section:

"And said market house shall be located west of Sixth street and north of Market."

The amendment was briefly supported by Mr. WRIGHT, and opposed by Messrs. GAZZAM and BELL.

Pending its discussion, Mr. SCHELL moved a postponement of the bill; which was agreed to.

On leave given, Mr. SCHELL made the following statement:

I ask leave to read the following bill in place:

"An Act to authorize the school directors of Bedford to borrow money."

Some days ago I presented a similar bill, which passed both Houses, and received the signature of the Governor. On procuring a certified copy of the act, I discovered that the clerks, in transcribing the bill, had omitted the clause exempting from taxation for a period of five years, the bonds which the school directors of Bedford borough were authorized to issue in making the loan. For the purpose of correcting this mistake, I desire the passage of this bill, which is a copy of the first section of the original bill.

VETO MESSAGE.

A message from the Governor was received and read.

It is as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
Harrisburg, March 7, 1859. }

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—I have carefully considered the bill presented for my approval, entitled "An Act to incorporate the City building association," and, as I cannot approve its provisions, it is herewith returned to the House of Representatives, in which it originated, for re-consideration.

From the title of the bill, no other rational inference could be drawn, than that the object of the proposed corporation was to erect buildings for sale, or for the use of the corporators; but upon a careful examination of its provisions it will be discovered that the business contemplated is the loan of money to such of the shareholders as will bid upon competition the highest premium for its use. By this system, it is morally certain that he whose necessities are the greatest, will be the highest bidder, whilst it is equally certain that he can, of all others, the least afford to pay an exorbitant interest for the use or loan of money. The result will necessarily be, that the stockholders who have money to lend will make very large profits from the association, whilst those who are compelled to borrow will not only lose the capital paid by them, but, through the means of fines, assessments, forfeitures and premiums, will greatly endanger the loss of any other property they may own, and thus encumber.

Building associations in the city of Philadelphia, where it is proposed to locate the company named in this bill, may be incorporated by the court of common pleas of that city; but the court would be powerless to incorporate such an association as this bill contemplates, for in no proper sense could it be called a building association. If it is the province of the title to indicate truly the purposes of the enactment, this bill should be entitled "An Act to incorporate a company to loan money to such stockholders as will pay the highest premium for the loan."

At the last session of the General Assembly, a bill somewhat similar in its provisions to the one now before me, received the reluctant approval of the Executive; but subsequent information and reflection have entirely satisfied me that the incorporation of such associations is wrong in principle, and productive, practically, of the most mischievous results.

Entertaining these views, the bill under consideration cannot receive the Executive approval.

WM. F. PACKER.

On motion, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, March 7, 1859:

The SPEAKER called the House to order at 3 o'clock P. M.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Saturday.

Mr. WAGONSELLER moved to dispense with reading; agreed to.

Mr. WALKER offered a report from committee of conference, relative to House bill No. 280.

The report was read and accepted.

Mr. MEHAFFEY moved that House bill No. 494 be re-committed to the Committee on Canals and Inland Navigation; agreed to.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) offered a report from select committee, to whom was referred bill authorizing the appointment of measurer of paving stones.

The report was accepted.

Mr. PROUDFOOT moved to take up House bill No. 713; not agreed to.

Mr. LAWRENCE moved to re-consider House bill 343, being the appropriation bill; agreed to.

Mr. THOMPSON wished to know reasons for this course.

Mr. LAWRENCE said that it was merely to amend a section of the bill.

On the final passage of the bill, Mr. LAWRENCE moved to amend in third section, thirtieth line, by inserting the words: "the State Treasurer to detail one of his clerks to act as clerk to the commissioners of the sinking fund, without extra cost to the Commonwealth."

The amendment was agreed to.

The bill passed.

Mr. ROSE moved to re-consider House bill No. 22, "An Act repealing an act relative to roads and bridges in Mercer county:" agreed to.

Mr. ROSE moved to amend the second section of the bill, so as to make it read "the court of quarter sessions shall have power," instead of "it shall be the duty,"

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. ROSE offered to amend in the seventh line of the second section, by inserting "may" instead of "shall."

Agreed to; and the bill passed.

Mr. GRITMAN moved to consider House bill No. 552, relative to the improvement of the navigation of the river Lackawaxen; agreed to.

The bill was considered section by section.

Mr. PENNELL moved to consider Senate bill No. 304, relative to the powers of the high constable of the borough of Media.

Agreed to; and the bill passed.

Mr. MILLER moved to take up House bill No. 77, relative to the Meadville railroad company.

Agreed to; the bill passed finally.

Mr. McCLURE asked to make a statement. He disliked to call the orders of the day, and suggested that the regular orders of the day be at once proceeded with.

Mr. McDOWELL moved to proceed to the consideration of Senate bill No. 264, to incorporate the Birmingham insurance company.

The bill passed.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES.

Mr. BRODHEAD, one signed by nineteen citizens of Tunkhannock township, Monroe county, for the passage of an act to prevent the gathering and picking of cranberries in said township.

Also, one remonstrance against the passage of any acts authorizing any companies or individuals to construct any dam or dams across the Delaware river.

Mr. PROUDFOOT, six from citizens of Cambria county, to repeal the tonnage tax.

Also, one from the committee of the select and common council of Johnstown, for the passage of an act fixing permanently the location of certain streets, alleys and lots.

Also, two remonstrances against the passage of the same.

Also, one for the removal of the seat of justice from Ebensburg to Wilmore.

Mr. GALLEY, one from twenty-eight citizens of South Union township, Fayette county, for a change of place of holding elections in said township.

Also, a remonstrance of eighty-three citizens of said township against the same.

Also, a petition from citizens of Fayette county, for the repeal of all laws allowing a premium for scalps, and for the repeal of a law increasing the pay of commissioners, jurors and witnesses in said county.

Mr. WILCOX, one from citizens of Elk county, for a law to declare Johnston's run, in said county, a public highway.

Mr. STONEBACK, one from citizens of Pennsylvania, for the passage of a law making it obligatory on the several country banks of this Commonwealth to keep their notes at par in the cities of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Mr. FLEMING, seven petitions of citizens of Clarion county, asking for a law submitting the continuance of the present school system to a vote of the people of said county.

Mr. BRYSON, petitions signed by six hundred citizens of Lawrence county, for the passage of an act giving the courts discretionary power in the granting of licenses, and for other modifications in the license law; which were read.

Mr. DODDS, four from citizens of Butler county, for a law authorizing the commissioners of said county to pay W. T. White the same compensation which was paid to his predecessors in the same office in recording the general returns of said county.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Franklin township, Butler county, against all appropriations for local normal schools, or sectarian purposes.

Mr. THOMPSON, four of like import.

Also, one from citizens of Butler county, for a change in the militia law.

Mr. SHAFER, one from citizens of Chester county, for a prohibitory liquor law.

Mr. GRAHAM, one from three hundred and eleven citizens of Washington county, of like import.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) a remonstrance from citizens of Philadelphia, against the passage of the supplement to the Germantown passenger railroad charter.

Mr. PRICE, three of like import.

Mr. PINKERTON, one from citizens of Philadelphia, of like import.

Also, one from citizens of Schuylkill county, for an act for the better securing the payment of the wages of labor in Schuylkill county.

Mr. WIGTON, a remonstrance of citizens of Dublin township, Huntingdon county, against being annexed to Fulton county.

Also, a petition of citizens of Bedford county, for the repeal of the tonnage tax on freights passing over the Pennsylvania railroad.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Shirley township, Huntingdon county, against any change in the law for collecting taxes in said county, and extending the term of county treasurer.

Also, one of like import from citizens of Jackson township, Huntingdon county.

Also, a petition of citizens of Orbisanka, Huntingdon county, against fishing with nets and seines in the Anghwick creek.

Also, one from citizens of Shnleysburg, Huntingdon county, of like import.

Mr. ROSE, three from citizens of Mercer county, praying for the passage of an act to review the Mercer and Emlenton State road.

Also, two remonstrances from citizens of Findley township, Mercer county, against the passage of an act annexing the borough of Leesburg to Findley township, for school purposes.

Mr. IRISH, one from forty-seven citizens of Pittsburgh, for the abolition of the high school in said city.

Mr. WALKER, one from citizens of Southampton township, Somerset county, for the passage of an act reducing the term of teaching in the common schools in said county.

Also, one from citizens of Somerset county, for a law abolishing the office of county school superintendent in said county.

Mr. TAYLOR, one from citizens of Indiana county, for an act to abolish the office of county school superintendent.

Mr. SHIELDS, one from citizens of Westmoreland county, for the erection of the new county of "Ligonier."

Mr. PRICE, one from citizens of Lancaster county, for the incorporation of the New Ephrata and Litiz turnpike road company.

Mr. OAKS, one from citizens of Montour county, for the repeal of the act, entitled "An Act for the resumption of specie payments."

Mr. WITHROW, three remonstrances against the passage of an act to tax certain farms in the borough of M'Veytown, Mifflin county, for school purposes.

Mr. ELLMAKER, one from citizens of Lancaster county, praying that the Pennsylvania railroad and Valley railroad be required to fence in their roads.

Mr. GALLEY, remonstrance of eighty-three citizens of South Union township, against any change in the place of holding elections.

Mr. OAKS, one from citizens of the county of Montour, praying for the repeal of the act, entitled "An Act providing for the resumption of specie payments by the banks and for the relief of insolvent debtors, approved October 14th, 1857."

Mr. STONEBACK, one for the passage of a law making it obligatory upon banks of the Commonwealth, to keep their notes at par in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Mr. WALBORN, one from citizens of Philadelphia, for the repeal of the charter of the Germantown passenger railway company.

Mr. SHEPPARD, one from fifty-seven citizens of Philadelphia, for the passage of the supplement to the Green and Coates Street passenger railway.

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) one from citizens of Schuylkill county, for a law requiring the Little Schuylkill railroad company to fence their road.

Mr. WALKER, one from citizens of Somerset county, for the abolition of the office of county school superintendent.

Mr. WAGENSELLER, two remonstrances from citizens of Buffalo, West Buffalo and Lewisburg, against the passage of an act prohibiting fishing in Buffalo creek with seines or hoop-nets.

Mr. PUGHE, one from citizens of Blakeley township, Luzerne county, for a division of said township into two election districts.

Mr. JACKSON, four petitions of fifty-two citizens of Sullivan county, for a law authorizing suitable booms at and near the mouth of Loyalsock creek, and asking that the interests of lumbermen and the company may be protected.

Also, a petition of citizens of said county, asking for an act to prevent hunting deer with dogs in said county.

Mr. WILEY, one for the passage of a law prohibiting the surrender of human beings claimed as slaves on the soil of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WALBORN, one of like import.

Mr. CUSTER, four from citizens of Berks county, for the passage of an act to authorize and require the treasurer of the city of Reading to pay certain fees and costs in reference to the arrest of vagrants in said city.

Mr. THORN, one of citizens of Frankford, in favor of a modification of the Sunday law, so as to legalize the transit of passengers by public conveyance on Sunday.

Mr. WIGTON, two remonstrances of citizens of Huntingdon county, against any change in the law for collecting State and county taxes, and extending time of county treasurer.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) one for the passage of an act exempting the armory of the Ringold light artillery of said city from taxation.

Mr. BARLOW, one from citizens of Centre county, for the passage of a law authorizing the laying out of a State road in Centre county.

Mr. FOSTER, three from one hundred and ninety-eight citizens of Allegheny county, in favor of abolishing the high school.

Also, five remonstrances against the same.

Also, one for prohibiting the rendition of fugitive slaves.

Mr. PROUDFOOT, five from citizens of Cambria county, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. THOMPSON, one for a change of militia laws, by citizens of Butler county.

Mr. TAYLOR, one from citizens of Indiana county, for the abolishment of the office of county school superintendent.

Mr. WILSON, one from citizens of Beaver county, of like import.

Mr. WALKER, one of like import.

Mr. KETCHUM, one from citizens of Luzerne county, of like import.

Mr. NILL, one from citizens of Franklin county, of like import.

Mr. ECKMAN, one from stockholders of the Shaffertown academy, Lebanon county, for a reduction in the amount of their capital stock.

Mr. GRAHAM, one from six hundred citizens of Lawrence county, for the passage of an act giving the courts discretionary power in the granting of licenses, and for other modifications in the license law.

Mr. NILL, a remonstrance of citizens of Quincy township, Franklin county, against the passage of a law dividing said township into three election districts.

Mr. MEHAFFEY, one from citizens of Lycoming county, remonstrating against the passage of an act annexing part of Brady township to Union county.

Mr. NILL, one from citizens of Franklin county, against the enactment of a law taxing dogs.

Mr. MILLER, one from citizens of Crawford and Venango counties, for a change in the present license law.

Mr. THOMPSON, one from the treasurer and commissioners of Butler county, for the passage of an act now before the House relative to the collection of taxes.

Mr. CHURCH, two from citizens of Philadelphia, for a law compelling coal dealers to carry upon their carts a properly tested scale, so that those purchasing coal may satisfy themselves that they have received the quantity paid for.

Mr. EVANS, four of like import.

Mr. HAMERSLY, two of like import.

Mr. FISHER, two of like import.

Mr. THORN, two of like import.

Mr. WILEY, two of like import.

Mr. MATTHEWS, two of like import.

Mr. OAKS, two of like import.

Mr. SHEPPARD, four of like import.

Mr. NEALL, two of like import.

Mr. ABBOTT, two of like import.

Mr. GRATZ, two of like import.

Mr. WILLISTON, one from members of the bar of Tioga county, for the abolition of the arbitration law by the enactment of a referee law.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. WILLISTON offered the following:

WHEREAS, The Susquehanna river is a public highway, and drains part of the territory of New York: And whereas, There are several dams across the channel of said river that impede and destroy much of the property descending said river, and wholly obstruct shad and other fish in ascending, whereby not only the citizens of this State, but all the citizens of the State of New York are greatly injured in their rights; therefore,

Resolved, That the Judiciary Committee be instructed to inquire into the right to keep up and maintain said dams, and report to this House, by bill or otherwise, as they may deem proper.

Mr. WILLISTON favored his resolution in some remarks.

The resolution passed.

Mr. MILLER offered the following:

Resolved, That two thousand copies of the report of the committee, appointed by the House of Representatives in the session of 1858, to investigate the condition of certain banks, be printed for the use of the House.

Mr. GRITMAN offered to amend, by inserting "report and accompanying evidence."

Mr. KENEAGY moved to amend the amendment, by making it five thousand copies.

The amendment to the amendment was lost.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the final passage of the resolution,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WILLISTON and Mr. MILLER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bertolet, Brodhead, Campbell, Church, Ellmaker, Evans, Foster, Goepp, Green, Gritman, Keneagy, Laird, Matthews, M'Dowell, Miller, Neall, Peirce, Price, Pughe, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Thorn, Wilson and Woodring—24.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Fleming, Galley, Glatz, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Hamersly, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, MehaFFEY, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Rose, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Sinead, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Wageuseller, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Withrow, Zoller, and Lawrence, Speaker—54.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. PINKERTON moved to consider Senate bill No. 39.

Mr. M'CLURE asked that it be postponed until to-morrow.

Mr. PINKERTON inquired whether it would ever come up again if it was now postponed. The gentleman from Franklin had already had it postponed for three weeks.

Mr. M'CLURE said that he would have to move to postpone, if his request was not complied with.

The SPEAKER said that a motion to postpone would be out of order.

On suspending the rules to proceed to consideration, it was not agreed to.

Mr. WALBORN asked the use of the Hall for the pupils of the blind asylum of Philadelphia on the afternoon of the 15th inst., and made a motion to that effect.

Mr. THORN moved to insert evening instead of afternoon.

Mr. WALBORN defended his motion.

Mr. THORN offered his amendment.

Mr. IRISH said that the public business should not be delayed.

The resolution as amended was agreed to.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. MANN asked leave of absence for Mr. GOOD.

Mr. WALKER for Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bedford.)

Mr. KINNEY for Mr. BALLIET.

Mr. KENEAGY asked leave to withdraw certain papers; agreed to.

Mr. CHURCH called for the reading of a paper relative to the State Library, suggesting that three sets of the laws of this Commonwealth be obtained for the use of the House; and offered a resolution to this effect.

The resolution was postponed.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) from Committee of Ways and Means, reported as committed, "An Act for the relief of John S. Miller."

Mr. PATTERSON moved that the bill be put on Private Calendar for Tuesday; agreed to.

Reports of committees and bills in place were presented, both of which, together with the remainder of the petitions will be given in to-morrow's Record.

Mr. WILCOX moved to adjourn; agreed to.

The House insisted on its amendments to Senate bill No. 150.

A message from the Governor was received, which will be found in the report of the Senate proceedings of to-day.

The SPEAKER adjourned the House until to-morrow at 9½ o'clock, A. M.

No. 18.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

MARSELIS, Banks—March 5.

AN ACT to establish a general banking law.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That there is hereby established a separate and distinct department, which shall be charged with the execution of the laws heretofore passed, or that may be hereafter passed in relation to the banks of this Commonwealth, as well as with the execution of the provisions of this act.

SEC. 2. That the chief officer of the said department shall be denominated the superintendent of the banking department. He shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and shall hold his office for the term of three years. He shall receive an annual salary of three thousand dollars, to be paid quarterly in the first instance out of the treasury on the warrant of the Auditor General. He shall employ from time to time the necessary clerks, not exceeding three, to discharge such duties as he shall assign them, whose compensation shall be paid in the first instance monthly, on his certificate and upon the warrant of the Auditor General, out of the treasury. He shall appoint one of the said clerks to be his deputy, who shall possess the powers and perform the duties attached by law to the office of the principal during a vacancy in said office, and during the absence or inability of his principal. Within fifteen days from the time of notice of their appointments, respectively, the superintendent and his deputy shall take and subscribe the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution, and file the same in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The salary of the clerk who shall be appointed deputy shall be fifteen hundred dollars per annum, and that of the other clerks one thousand dollars per annum. The said superintendent shall give to the Commonwealth a bond in the penalty of fifty thousand dollars with two sureties, to be approved by the Governor, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, and he shall not, directly or indirectly, be interested in any bank during his continuance in office.

SEC. 3. That the superintendent of the banking department shall possess all the powers, perform all the duties, and be subject to all the obligations now conferred by law upon the Auditor General, or to which the Auditor General is subject in relation to banks; and all former laws are hereby so modified and amended that every power and duty thereby conferred on the Auditor General in any manner whatsoever relating to banks, shall, from and after the appointment of said superintendent, be transferred to and conferred upon him.

SEC. 4. That the said superintendent, with the approval of the Governor, shall devise a seal with suitable inscriptions for his office, a description of which, with a certificate of approval by the Governor, shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, with an impression thereof, which shall thereupon be and become the seal of office of the superintendent of the banking department, and the same may be renewed whenever necessary. Every certificate, assignment and conveyance executed by the said superintendent, in pursuance of any authority conferred on him by law, and sealed with his said seal of office, shall be received in evidence, and may be recorded in the proper recording offices in the same manner and with the like effect as a deed regularly acknowledged or proved; and all copies of papers in the office of the said superintendent, certified by him under the said seal, shall in all cases be evidence, in like manner as the original.

SEC. 5. That the rooms in the State capitol, heretofore occupied by the Canal Commissioners, are hereby assigned to the banking department; and the said superintendent shall, from time to time, furnish the necessary furniture, stationery, fuel, lights, and other proper conveniences for the transaction of the said business, the expense of which shall be paid on the certificate of the superintendent and the warrant of the Auditor General in the first instance out of the treasury.

SEC. 6. That all the expenses incurred, in and about the conducting the business of the said department, including the salary of said superintendent and his clerks, shall be defrayed and paid by the incorporated banks and banking institutions, in whose behalf they are incurred. The expenses incurred and services performed specially for any incorporated bank or banking institution, shall be charged to such incorporated bank or banking institution, and all other expenses of the said department, shall be charged to the said incorporated banks and banking institutions in proportion to the amount of capital stock of the same. If such charges are not paid, after due notice, the superintendent may apply the interest or any bonds in his hands belonging to said defaulting bank to the payment of the same; but if there be no bonds bearing interest in the hands of the superintendent, he may maintain an action in his name of office against the delinquent bank for the recovery of such charges, which, when received, shall be paid into the State Treasury. The superintendent nor any clerk in his office, shall take or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, or pay for any services rendered in the banking department, other than the compensation allowed by law; and any person violating this provision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 7. That it shall be the duty of the superintendent of the banking department to report annually to the Legislature, within three days from the commencement of the session, a summary of the state and condition of every incorporated bank or banking institution from which reports have been received for the preceding year, (at the several dates to which such reports refer,) with an abstract of the whole amount of banking capital returned by them, of the whole amount of their debts and liabilities; specifying particularly the amount of circulating notes outstanding, and the total amount of means and resources; specifying the amount of specie held by them at the time of the several returns, and such other information in relation to said banks and associations, as in his judgment may be useful. The said report shall also contain a statement of the amount of the expenses of the department during the year, and the amount, if any, for which the treasury shall be in advance; such number of copies of said report for the use of the Legislature as it may direct, and two hundred and fifty copies for the use of the department, shall be printed by the public printer, in readiness for distribution within twenty days from the commencement of the legislative session.

SEC. 8. That any person or association of persons may establish offices of discount, deposit and circulation upon the terms and conditions, and subject to the liabilities prescribed in this act; but the amount of the capital stock invested for banking purposes, shall not be less than fifty thousand dollars.

SEC. 9. That such person or persons, under his or their hands and seals, shall make a certificate, which shall specify

1. The name of such banking institute or association.

2. The place of business, designating the particular city, town or village, with the county where the said institution is to be located, and which location shall not be thereafter changed, without the consent of the Legislature.

3. The amount of the capital stock of such institution, or in case of an association, the number of shares into which the same shall be divided, together with any contemplated increase of capital stock.

4. The names and places of residence of the shareholders, and the number of shares held by each of them respectively.

5. The time of the commencement and the termination of said institution, the said certificate shall be proven or acknowledged and recorded in the office for recording of deeds, in the county where the said institution is to be located, and filed in the office of the superintendent of the banking department, certified copies of which, either from the record or from the superintendent's office may be used as evidence, in all courts or places for and against any such institution: Provided, That the superintendent of the banking department shall not receive and file in his department the certificate aforesaid, unless the same is accompanied with proof that at least six months previous public notice had been given of the intention of the person or persons named in said certificate, to establish him or themselves for the purposes mentioned in said certificate, and to apply for corporate powers in pursuance of this act.

SEC. 10. That the notice referred to in the preceding section, shall contain the name of the institution, the place of its location, the amount of the capital, the contemplated increase of capital, and the time when it is proposed to commence the business of banking, together with the length of time it is proposed to continue said business; and the said notice shall be published at least once a week for six months in one newspaper published in the county where the business of the institution is to be carried on.

SEC. 11. That when the certificate shall have been recorded and filed as aforesaid, the person or persons who shall have signed and acknowledged the same, and his or their successors, shall, for the term designated, not exceeding twenty years from the filing of said certificate in the office of the superintendent of the banking department, be a body politic and corporate, in fact and in law, by the name stated in such certificate; and by that name have succession, and be capable of suing and being sued; and the Governor shall, upon a certified copy of said certificate being produced before him, cause letters patent under the great seal of the Commonwealth to be issued to said corporation.

SEC. 12. That every person or association authorized to carry on the business of banking under this act, shall be held and adjudged to be a body corporate, with succession for the term mentioned in said certificate, and thereafter only so long as is necessary to close the affairs of such institution; and by its corporate name shall be competent to contract, prosecute and defend actions of every description as fully as natural persons; and process against such banking institution may be served upon its president or cashier, or by leaving a copy thereof at its usual place of business, during the usual hours of business; it shall have power to make and adopt a corporate seal, and to change and renew the same at pleasure; and shall, during the term aforesaid, if the said institution shall so long comply with the provisions of this act, have power to loan money, buy, sell and discount bills of exchange, notes and all other written evidences of debt, except such as it shall be prohibited by this act from buying, selling or discounting, receive deposits, buy and sell gold and silver coin and bullion, collect and pay over money, and transact every such other business as shall appertain to the business of banking, subject, however, to the provisions of this act; it may acquire and hold and convey such real estate as may be necessary to the proper transaction of business, and no more; but may, however, acquire title to any real estate pledged to secure any debt previously contracted or purchased, on an execution or order of sale, to satisfy any judgment or decree in its favor, or which shall have been conveyed to it in payment of any previous debt; but it shall hold any such real estate no longer than is necessary to secure the payment of said debt, interest and costs, for the collection and securing of the debt for which it was acquired: Provided, That if at any time before selling the same, the last preceding owner, his, her or their heirs or alienees, shall tender to said banking institution a sum sufficient to satisfy such debt, with interest, costs, taxes, and other necessary charges for the collection or securing of said debt, for which said real estate was acquired; then the said institution shall convey or release to such owner, his, her or their heirs or alienees, all right, title and interest therein.

SEC. 13. That the superintendent of the banking department shall cause to be engraved and printed in the best manner, to guard against counterfeiting, such number of circulating notes, commonly known as bank notes, in blank, of different denominations of not less than five dollars, to be issued by the banking institutions incorporated under this act, as he may deem necessary from time to time to carry into effect the provisions of this act; said notes shall be countersigned by the superintendent or his deputy, numbered and registered in his office, in such manner as may be directed by him, in a book or books kept for the purpose; and all notes issued by him shall be uniform; and they shall have stamped on them the words, "secured by the deposit of the public loan of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania;" the plates, dies and materials used in making said notes, shall remain in the custody of the said superintendent and under his direction.

SEC. 14. That every bank established under this act, upon legally assigning to and depositing with the superintendent of the banking department bonds or evidences of debt of this Commonwealth, shall be entitled to receive an equal amount of such notes of circulation, in blank, of the denomination such as it may desire, numbered, registered, countersigned and stamped as is herein provided, for the bonds and evidences of public debt, to be taken at their market value, not exceeding, however, the par value thereof.

SEC. 15. That the superintendent of the banking department may, at his discretion, exchange such bonds and evidences of public debt, or any of them, on receiving other bonds or evidences of public debt of this Commonwealth; and when any sum of the principal of the bonds and evidences of debt aforesaid shall be paid to him, he shall notify the banking association which transferred the same of such payment, and shall pay the same to such banking association on receiving other bonds or evidences of public debt aforesaid of an equal amount, or on returning an equal amount of the bills or notes delivered by him to such association for circulation; which bills, when delivered, shall be cancelled; and all bonds and evidences of debt of this Commonwealth received by the superintendent under the provisions of this section, shall be subject to all the regulations and restrictions prescribed by the different sections of this act.

SEC. 16. That any banking institution transferring the bonds or other evidences of public debt of this Commonwealth to the superintendent of the banking department, may receive the interest that shall accrue thereon, unless default shall be made in paying the bills or notes to be countersigned as aforesaid, or unless the said bonds or evidences of public debt so pledged shall become insufficient security for the payment of such bills or notes; and whenever in the opinion of the superintendent, the securities deposited according to the provisions of this act, shall become from any cause insufficient for the redemption of the notes or bills issued by him to such association, he shall thereupon immediately notify the president or cashier thereof, and require such banking institution within ten days, to place in his hands such an amount of securities of the description named in this act, together with that already paid in, not to exceed in the whole the market value first paid in, to secure in full the notes or bills issued as aforesaid; and if upon notice as aforesaid, such banking institution shall neglect to comply with the requirements made by the superintendent of the banking department, he shall without delay, proceed to redeem the notes of such banking institution, as prescribed by the several provisions of this act, in case any banking institution fail or neglect to pay their notes on demand made at the proper time and place.

SEC. 17. That the affairs of every banking institution, consisting of a corporation aggregate of not less than members, shall be managed by directors; the number to be fixed by by-laws to be enacted by the stockholders; and the said directors shall choose one of their number as president of the bank; every director shall be a citizen of this Commonwealth, and shall be a stockholder in the institution of which he is a director; and shall take an oath or affirmation that he will, so far as the duty devolves on him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of the institution, and not knowingly violate or willingly permit to be violated any of the provisions of this act; and that he is the bona fide owner in his own right, of the stock standing in his name on the books of the bank, and that the same is not hypothecated or in any way pledged as security for any loan obtained or debt owing; which oath, subscribed by himself and certified by the officer before whom it was taken, shall be filed and carefully preserved in the office of the recorder of deeds in the county in which the institution is located; but no person shall be president, cashier or director, or either, of more than one such institution at the same time; when such association shall consist of or a less number of associates, they may all act as directors or managers of the affairs of the bank; or the said associates may designate one or more of their number so to act; and each of the persons so acting, shall take, subscribe and cause to be filed the oath or affirmation prescribed by this section, and be in all respects subject to the provisions of this act relating to directors and officers.

SEC. 18. That the directors first elected shall hold their places until the first Monday in November next thereafter, and until their successors shall be elected and qualified; all subsequent elections shall be held annually upon the first Monday in November, and the directors so elected shall hold their places for one year, and until their successors are elected and qualified; but any director removing from the State, or ceasing to be the owner of stock, shall thereby vacate his place; any vacancy in the board shall be filled by appointment by the remaining directors; the director so appointed shall hold his place until the next annual election; and if from any cause an election of directors should not be made at the time appointed, the corporation shall not for that cause be dissolved, but an election may be held on any subsequent day; thirty days' notice thereof having been given in a newspaper printed in the county where the company is located.

SEC. 19. That in all elections for directors, and in deciding all questions at meetings of stockholders, each share shall entitle the holder thereof to one vote; stockholders may vote by proxy duly authorized in writing if executed within thirty days; but no officer, clerk, teller or bookkeeper of the company shall act as proxy; and no stockholder whose liability to the association is past due and unpaid, shall be allowed to vote.

SEC. 20. That no person or association of persons shall be permitted to commence or carry on the business of banking, under this act, unless its capital stock shall be at least fifty thousand dollars; nor shall the capital stock of any such company ever be increased to exceed one million. At least twenty-five per centum of the capital stock shall be paid in gold or silver coin, or their equivalent; but one-half, at least of which, twenty five per centum shall be in gold or silver coin, and shall be in the actual possession and bona fide the property of the bank at the time of commencing the business of banking, and at the place designated for carrying on such business.

SEC. 21. That the capital stock of each of the said corporations aggregate, shall be divided into shares of fifty dollars each, and shall be assignable on the books of the company, in such manner as the by-laws shall prescribe; but no shareholder shall have power to sell or transfer any shares held in his own right so long as he shall be liable either as principal, debtor, surety or otherwise, to the association for any debt, without the consent of a majority of the directors; nor shall such shareholder, when liable to the association for any debt that is overdue and unpaid, be entitled to receive any dividend, interest or profit, on such shares as long as such liabilities shall continue, but all such dividends, interests or profits, shall be retained and applied to the discharge of such liabilities.

SEC. 22. That if any shareholder or his assignee shall fail to pay any installment on his stock, when the same shall be required to be paid, the association may sell such stock at public auction, having given three weeks' previous notice thereof, in any newspaper in the county where the same is located, to the highest and best bidder for the same; and the excess, if any, after paying the expense of the sale, shall be refunded to the delinquent stockholder.

SEC. 23. That if any association authorized by the provisions of this act, shall refuse to pay its notes of circulation, or any of them in gold or silver coin of the lawful currency of the United States, on which, payment shall be lawfully demanded at its banking house or customary place of doing banking business during usual banking hours, the holders of such notes may cause the same to be protested for non-payment by a notary public, under his official seal, in the usual manner; and the superintendent of the banking department, on receiving and filing in his office such protest, shall forthwith give notice in writing, to the maker of such note or notes, to pay the same; and if they omit to pay the same for ten days after such notice, he shall thereupon declare such association to have committed an act of insolvency.

SEC. 24. That the superintendent of the banking department, upon receiving information that any banking association has committed an act of insolvency, shall forthwith appoint a committee of three judicious and discreet citizens of this Commonwealth, who shall receive five dollars per day each, and their traveling and necessary expenses, all of which to be paid said association, who shall make immediate inquiry into the truth of such information and report thereon to the superintendent; and if the said committee, or a majority of them, shall report that such association has suspended payment of its notes in gold and silver, he shall forthwith appoint a suitable receiver, who shall take immediate possession of the books, records, money, choses in action and property of such association of every description, including the securities deposited with the superintendent, and hold the same for the joint use of the creditors of the failing association; the compensation of such receiver shall be five dollars per day, and traveling and other necessary expenses, to be paid by said bank, whose assets they are appointed to take possession of.

SEC. 25. That the said receiver shall be required to give bond in such sum, and with such sureties as the superintendent and Governor shall deem sufficient; and under the direction of said superintendent, shall proceed to settle up the affairs of such association, and shall convert into money all its assets of every kind whatsoever, with the least possible delay, the money so made shall be applied

1. To pay all the liabilities incurred on account of the notes of circulation, to pay the same on demand, and set aside a sum sufficient to meet all the said notes outstanding.

2. Then to pay all the deposits of the institution.

3. To the payment and discharge of all the remaining liabilities of such association.

4. And the residue shall be divided among the stockholders in proportion to the stock by them respectively held

The said several classes of creditors to be paid in the order in which they are herein arranged and classified; but if it should happen that the assets and funds belonging to the said institution should prove insufficient to pay any of the said class of creditors, in the said order named, then the clear balance of assets remaining in the hands of the said receiver, shall be distributed among the creditors of that class, pro rata, according to the amount of their respective claims.

SEC. 26. That the directors of each association shall, semi-annually, on the first Monday in May and November, declare a dividend of so much of the net profits as they shall deem expedient, and pay the same to the stockholders on demand, at any time after the expiration of ten days therefrom; but such dividend shall, in no case, exceed the amount of the net profits actually acquired, so that the capital stock shall never be thereby impaired; and if the directors shall make any dividends which shall impair the capital stock, the directors consenting thereto shall be jointly and severally liable in any action of debt, scire facias, or bill in equity, in their individual capacities, to such corporation for the amount of the stock so divided; and each director present when such dividend shall be made, shall be adjudged to be consenting thereto, unless he forthwith enter his protest on the minutes of the board, and give public notice to the stockholders of the declaring of such dividend.

SEC. 27. That said banking institutions shall pay into the Treasury of the State, in the manner now directed by law for the payment of a tax on dividends, as follows: On all dividends which do not exceed six per centum per annum, eight per centum; on dividends exceeding six per centum, and not exceeding seven per centum, a tax of nine per centum; on dividends exceeding seven per centum, and not eight per centum per annum, a tax of ten per centum; on dividends exceeding eight per centum per annum, and not exceeding nine per centum, a tax of twelve per centum; on dividends exceeding nine per centum, and not exceeding ten per centum, a tax of thirteen per centum; on dividends exceeding ten per centum, and not exceeding eleven per centum, a tax of fifteen per centum; on dividends exceeding eleven per centum, and not exceeding twelve per centum, a tax of seventeen per centum; on dividends exceeding twelve per centum, and not exceeding fifteen per centum, a tax of twenty per centum; on dividends exceeding fifteen per centum, and not exceeding twenty per centum, a tax of twenty-five per centum; and on all dividends exceeding twenty-five per centum, a tax of thirty per centum.

SEC. 28. That the thirty-third section of the act, entitled "An Act to reduce the State debt, and to incorporate the Pennsylvania canal and railroad company," approved the twenty-ninth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, be and the same is hereby declared in full force and effect, and applicable to all associations that may be framed under the provisions of this act: Provided, That the capital stock shall not be subject to taxation for any other than State purposes

SEC. 29. That on each dividend day the cashier shall make a full, clear and accurate statement or exhibit of the condition of the association, as it shall be on that day, after declaring the dividend, which shall be verified by the oath of the president and cashier, setting forth:

1. The amount of the capital stock actually paid in and then remaining as the actual capital stock of the association.

2. The amount of the bills and notes of the association then in circulation, specifying the amount of each denomination.

3. The greatest amount of notes in circulation at any time since the making of the last previous statement, specifying the time when the same occurred.

4. The balances and debts of every kind due to banks or banking associations of this State, and the amount due to banks not of this State

5. The amount due to depositors.

6. The total amount of debts and liabilities of every description, and the greatest amount since the last previous statement, specifying the time when the same occurred.

7. The total amount of dividends declared on the day of making the statement.

8. The amount of gold and silver coin and bullion belonging to such association, and in possession at the time of making the statement, designating the amount of each; and the lowest amount of coin and bullion at any intermediate period, specifying the time when the same occurred.

9. The amount on hand of bills, bonds, notes and other evidences of debts, discounted or purchased by the association, specifying particularly the amount of suspended debt, the amount considered bad, the amount considered doubtful, and the amount in suit or judgment.

10. The value of the real and personal property held for the convenience of the association, specifying the amount of each.

11. The amount of real estate taken for debts due the association.

12. The amount of the undivided profits of the association.

13. The total amount of the liabilities to the association by the directors thereof collectively, specifying the gross amount of such liabilities as principal debtors, and the gross amount as endorsers or sureties.

14. The total amount of liabilities to the association by the stockholders thereof collectively, specifying the gross amount of such liabilities as principal debtors, and the gross amount as endorsers or sureties; which statement shall be forthwith transmitted to the superintendent of the banking department, and a copy thereof immediately published three times in one newspaper of the county in which said association is located.

SEC. 30. If any banking institution, against which the superintendent shall have instituted proceedings on account of any supposed act of insolvency as prescribed in this act, shall deny having committed such act of insolvency, such institution may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for a writ of injunction to suspend all further proceedings against such institution as an insolvent institution; and such court, after citing said superintendent to appear and show cause why such writ should not be granted; and after the finding of a jury, that such institution has at all times continued, and still continues to redeem in gold and silver coin its notes of circulation, shall make an order, enjoining the superintendent from all further proceedings against such institution on account of the supposed act of insolvency on which such proceedings were instituted; and thereupon, all the property and assets of such institution shall be restored to its directors.

SEC. 31. That if the superintendent of the banking department in any case fail to proceed in the manner prescribed in the foregoing sections of this act, in providing for the payment of the outstanding notes of circulation and other liabilities of the failing institution, and in closing the affairs of any institution that shall have committed an act of insolvency, the holders of any of its notes of circulation, or other creditors of such institution, may, in case payment of such notes of circulation or other claim has been refused when lawfully demanded, and remain unpaid, apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for its writ commanding the superintendent so to proceed; and it shall be the duty of the said court, after citing such institution, to appear and show cause why such writ should not issue, and upon the finding of a jury that such act of insolvency has been committed, to issue their writ commanding said superintendent forthwith to proceed in the manner pointed out in this act, to provide for the payment of outstanding notes of such institution, close up its affairs and make application of its assets.

SEC. 32. That if any banking institutions shall neglect or refuse to comply with any order of the superintendent made in accordance with the provision of this act, requiring such institution to reduce its circulation or to provide a larger amount of specie or other means, or to pay in its stock, or to do or cease to do any other matter or thing which said superintendent may deem necessary for the security of the noteholders and other creditors, then the superintendent may apply to any judge of competent jurisdiction by petition, in which the superintendent shall be made the petitioner, and the institution implicated, defendant, setting forth the substance of such order or orders, and such neglect or refusal on the part of the institution, its officers or agents; and the superintendent having made affidavit of such neglect or refusal, then it shall be the duty of such judge to allow an injunction and to enjoin such institution, its officers, agents and all others in its employ, or connected therewith, from doing, or suffering, or permitting to be done any business whatever, as a banking institution; from intermeddling with or in any manner disposing of the books, papers, money, choses in action, assets or property of the same until the further order of the judge to whom application has been made.

SEC. 33. That upon the allowance of any such injunction, the property, credits, securities, leins and assets of every description of such institution shall forthwith vest in the superintendent of the banking department, who shall appoint a receiver or receivers to take possession of the same, as is provided heretofore by this act; a certificate of the appointment of such receiver from the superintendent, shall be sufficient authority to him to take possession of the books, property and rights of every description of such institution, and shall be full authority to the sheriff of the county where the same is located, to give such receiver full possession of such books, property and rights, with the aid of the county if required, and said receiver shall be governed by the provisions of this act.

SEC. 34. That each institution shall at all times have on hand, in gold and silver coin or its equivalent, in its vaults, an amount equal to twenty-five per centum of all its circulating notes of every description whatsoever; and whenever the amount of its outstanding circulating notes shall exceed the above named proportion, no more of its notes shall be paid out or otherwise be put in circulation by such institution, nor shall it increase its liabilities by making any new loans or discounts, nor make any dividends of its profits, until the required proportion between its outstanding circulating notes and gold or silver coin or its equivalent shall be restored.

SEC. 35. That no banking institution shall at any time issue or have in circulation any note, draft, bill of exchange, acceptance, certificate of deposit, or other evidence of debt, which from its character or appearance shall be circulated, or intended to circulate as money, other than such notes of circulation as are by this act described, and which such institution is by this act authorized to issue for the purpose of being circulated as money.

SEC. 36. That every banking institution may take, reserve, receive and charge on any loan or discount made, or upon any note or bill of exchange, or other evidence of debt, at the rate of six per centum per annum on the amount of any such note, bill of exchange, or other evidence of debt so discounted, and no more: Provided however, That interest may be reserved or taken in advance at the time of making the loan or discount, according to the usual rules of banking; and the knowingly taking, reserving or charging on any debt or demand discounted or purchased by any banking institution, a rate of interest greater than that allowed by this section, shall be held and adjudged a forfeiture of such debt or demand; but the purchase or discount of a bona fide bill of exchange, or note payable at another place than the place of such purchase or discount, and the taking or reserving of interest thereon at the rate aforesaid, from the time of such purchase or discount, until the maturity of such bill or note shall not be held usurious, although exchange on the place where it is made payable, is at the time of such purchase or discount worth a premium; nor shall the discount or purchase of a bona fide bill or note payable at a place between which and the place of discount or purchase, exchange is in favor of the place of discount or purchase, and the taking in addition to the rate of interest aforesaid, the rate of exchange between such places, be deemed usurious.

SEC. 37. That all transfers of notes, bonds, bills of exchange, and other evidences of debt owing to any banking institution, or of deposits to its credit; all assignments of mortgages, or other securities on real estate or of judgments or decrees in its favor; all deposits of money, bullion or other valuable thing for its use, or for the use of any of its stockholders or creditors; all payments of money to either, made after the commission of an act of insolvency, or in contemplation thereof, with a view to prevent the application of its assets in the manner prescribed by this act, or with a view to the preference of one creditor to another, except in payment of its circulating notes, shall be held utterly null and void.

SEC. 38. That if the directors of any banking institution shall knowingly violate or knowingly permit any of the officers, agents or servants of such institution, to violate any of the provisions of this act, all the rights, privileges and franchises of such association shall thereby be forfeited; such violation shall, however, be determined and adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction, agreeably to the laws of this State, and the practice of such court, before the corporation shall be declared dissolved; and in case of such violation, every director who participated in or assented to the same, shall be held liable in his personal and individual capacity for all damages which the institution, its shareholders or any other persons, body politic or corporate, shall have sustained in consequence of such violation.

SEC. 39. That every president, director, cashier, teller, clerk or agent of any bank institution, who shall embezzle, abstract or willfully misapply any of the moneys, funds or assets of such institution; or shall, without authority from the directors, issue or put in circulation any of the notes of such banking association; or shall, without such authority, issue or put forth any certificate of deposit, draw any order or bill of exchange, make any acceptance, sign any note, bond, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage or other instrument of writing; or shall make any false entry on any book, report or statement of the institution, with an intent to injure or defraud any other company, body corporate or politic, or any individual person, or to deceive any officer or agent appointed to inspect the affairs of any institution, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; and upon conviction thereof, shall be confined in the penitentiary, at hard labor, not less than one nor more than ten years.

SEC. 40. That no provision in any act of assembly heretofore passed relating to banks, shall be applicable to the banking institutions formed under this act; and the Legislature hereby reserves the power to alter, revoke or annul this act; and also to alter, revoke or annul any charter granted to any banking institution under this act; in such manner, however, that no injustice shall be done to the corporators thereof; and such legislative reservation shall be distinctly stated in all letters patent granted by the Governor under this act.

SEC. 41. That any bank in this Commonwealth now in existence, may at its option, accept the provisions of this act, enjoy its privileges and become subject to its restrictions, in the manner hereinbefore provided.

NO. 482.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

FINNEY, Judiciary—March 2.

AN ACT to establish the Penn Industrial reform school.

WHEREAS, A number of citizens of this Commonwealth have associated themselves together for the purpose of establishing an Industrial reform school, for the physical, mental and moral instruction and reform of destitute, ignorant, idle, and vicious, and criminal, and weak, as may be fit subjects of education in labor and improvement in the arts, and desire the Legislature to grant them a charter to that effect; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That Ellis Lewis, Mordecai L. Dawson, William D. Kelly, J. J. Barclay, Cornelius S. Smith, Joseph R. Flanigen, Robert Morris, John Mason, William F. Murphy, Daniel L. Miller, John C. Murphy, James Tyson, A. L. Kennedy, Elijah Dallett, C. H. Rogers, Philip M. Price, John Reynolds, Alfred Huidekooper, John Barker, Gordon F. Mason, John Wilson, C. M. Reed, George A. Lyon, James Miles, George Griscom, G. J. Ball and their successors, and all who may become members, agreeably to the by-laws, are hereby incorporated as a body politic, known by the name, style and title of the Penn Industrial reform school, and by that style and title may sue and be sued, have a common seal purchase, receive, hold and convey any estate, real or personal, for the use and purposes of the said corporation, and to institute, erect and maintain a school or schools, embracing the departments of common school education, agriculture, the mechanic arts and labor, with such buildings, workshops, and such appurtenances, auxiliaries and instrumentalities, as in the judgment of the managers may best contribute to the safe keeping, instruction and reformation of those committed to their custody and guardianship.

SEC. 2. That until otherwise directed by the by-laws, the officers shall be a president, six vice presidents, a secretary, a treasurer and twelve managers, who shall conduct the affairs of the corporation; and for the purpose of electing said officers, the corporators may meet at such time and place as five or more thereof may designate and appoint, in the city of Philadelphia, at any time after the passage of this act.

SEC. 3. That the time and manner of admitting and continuing members, the amounts payable by members annually, or for life; the manner of calling special meetings; the duties of the officers; the time and place of the annual meeting for the election of officers; the manner of electing the same, and such other matters as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and its true object and intent may be provided by the by-laws: Provided, They do not conflict with the true intent and meaning of this act, or of the constitution, or any other law of this Commonwealth: And provided further, That the annual election shall be held before or as early as the first day of November in each year.

SEC. 4. That it shall and may be lawful for the board of managers, at their discretion to receive into their care and guardianship, all such as may be committed to their custody, in the same manner, to the same extent, and on the same conditions as are provided for in the acts incorporating the houses of refuge, and the accounts to be kept and settled in the same manner; and, in addition thereto, they may receive, at their discretion, any person charged with crime in any of the courts mentioned in the said acts incorporating the houses of refuge, without regard to age, who may be adjudged by the court trying the cause to be a fit subject of reform; and on that question the said court shall bear the statement of the defendant, if requested, detailing the circumstances under which the offence was committed, together with the birth and parentage, place of birth and former residence, education, course of life, and such other matters as they may judge necessary to decide the question of fitness, for the care and guardianship of the managers, which shall be substantially taken down in writing and transmitted, with the commitment, to the managers, when such affirmative decision is made, the said court designating the sentence of the law; and in case the managers, on personal examination and investigation of the cases, or upon further trial, ascertain the defendant not to be a fit subject for their care and management, then, and in that case, they shall have power to commit according to the sentence so designated by the court as aforesaid; if found by the said managers to be a fit subject for their care and guardianship, and the defendant should so prove throughout the period of their control and instruction, then the sentence to be regarded to all intents as null and void, and the managers shall furnish a certificate to the defendant, setting forth the facts in as full a manner as they may adjudge right and proper, as described.

SEC. 5. That the managers may receive in the same manner, such persons as the legal authorities of the houses of refuge may determine to be fit subjects for their care and guardianship, for the purposes of education, culture and reformation.

SEC. 6. That they may receive such as may be committed as vagrants, idlers, intemperate and disorderly persons as may be committed to their care, under authority of any of the courts or magistrates under the examination of said commitment, by the president judge of the proper district; and also, all such persons as may have fallen into habits of intemperance or other vices or errors, who may themselves or by their friends, without compulsion, commit themselves to the care and guardianship of the managers, as may be provided by the by-laws and as may be stipulated.

Sec. 7. That it shall be the duty of the managers, on or before the first day of December, in each and every year, to forward to the Governor and to each of the departments of State, a full detailed report of their proceedings during the year, up to the first day of November, with their views on the causes of crimes within the State, the most efficient means in their opinion of preventing and reforming it, and such other matters as they may deem of importance in furnishing information on that subject; and as soon thereafter as practicable, transmit a copy of said report to each of the judges of the several courts of record, to the president of each of the colleges, academies and high schools, and to each member of the Legislature.

Sec. 8. That the Governor, Attorney General, Superintendent of Common Schools, and the president of the Agricultural high school, for the time being, and the judges of the several courts, shall be entitled to visit freely all departments under the control and guardianship of the managers.

No. 481.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

FINNEY, Judiciary—March 2.

AN ACT to amend an act, entitled "An Act to apportion the city of Philadelphia into single senatorial and representative districts agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution," approved April twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

WHEREAS, By the third section of the act, entitled "An Act to apportion the city of Philadelphia into single senatorial and representative districts, agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution," approved April twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, the third election division of the Sixth ward is made to compose a part both of the sixth and seventh representative districts; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act the said third election division of the Sixth ward shall be deemed and taken as composing a part of the sixth representative district, as provided in said third section of the act, approved April twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; and said act shall be so taken and construed as if said third election division had not been made to compose a part of said seventh representative district.

No. 486.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

FINNEY, Judiciary—March 2.

A SUPPLEMENT to an act in relation to certain public officers and their sureties.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That all the powers and duties enjoined upon the courts of common pleas by the first section of the act to which this is a supplement, be and hereby are vested in any two judges of said courts; and any one of said judges is hereby empowered and required, on petition as therein declared, to award a citation to any such officer to appear at a time and place designated, to answer the matters alleged in said petition, and show cause why said officer shall not give other and further security; and to grant rules, on short notice, to be served on the opposite party, his agent or attorney, to take the depositions of witnesses, to be read on the hearing of the case.

Sec. 2. That upon due proof being made at the hearing of any of the facts or allegations specified in the said first section, and set forth in the petition and citation, the said judges shall, and they are hereby required forthwith to order and direct that said officer shall, within ten days thereafter, enter into a new official bond, with sureties, to be approved by any two of said judges, and to be recorded and filed, and held as and in lieu of the original bond, of which the sureties shall thereafter be fully discharged.

Sec. 3. That on the omission of said officer to give the new bond as aforesaid within the time required, the said judges shall immediately make an order as to the costs, and transmit an exemplification of the proceedings to the Governor, who shall forthwith remove such delinquent from office.

Sec. 4. That so much of the act to which this is a supplement, which is hereby altered or supplied, be and the same is hereby repealed.

No. 494.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BEILL, Judiciary—March 2.

AN ACT to regulate the practice and fees of sheriffs in cases of attachments.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in all cases of the attachment of a debt, obligation, duty or sum of money due and owing by a garnishee to the defendant, whether such attachment be made by virtue of a writ of foreign attachment or of a writ of attachment issued on a judgment, it shall not be lawful for the sheriff or other officer to whom such writ is or shall be directed, or his deputy, to require any bond or other security, to indemnify him against the execution of such writ or any fee therefor, nor any other or greater sum or fee for executing such writ, than is by law allowed for serving a writ of scire facias.

Sec. 2. That whenever the sheriff or other officer to whom any writ shall be directed, may by law demand a bond or obligation of indemnity before executing the same, it shall be lawful for such officer to demand or receive as a fee for preparing such bond or obligation, one dollar, and no more.

No. 211.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

NILL, Judiciary—Feb. 4.

AN ACT supplementary to the several acts, relative to the liens of mechanics and materialmen.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That when any master workman or contractor, shall on demand, refuse to pay any journeymen or laborer, employed in erecting or constructing, repairing or extending any building or property belonging, or adjacent thereunto, the wages due to him, it shall be the duty of such journeyman or laborer to give notice in writing to the owner or owners of such building, of such refusal, and of the amount due to him and so demanded; and the owner or owners of such building, shall thereupon be authorized to retain the amount so due, and claimed by any such journeyman or laborer out of the amount, owing by him or them to such master workman or contractor, giving him written notice of such claim and demand; and if the same be not paid or settled by said master workman or contractor, such owner or owners shall retain the amount claimed by said journeyman or laborer until a suit for the recovery of the same shall have been adjudicated by the proper authority; such journeyman or laborer for the same, judgment having first been obtained as aforesaid, shall entitle such owner or owners to any allowance thereof, in the settlement of accounts between him and such master workman or contractor, as so much paid on account: Provided, That the owner or owners of any building or buildings, against which such claim shall be made, shall not be required to pay the same until such journeyman or laborer shall have obtained final judgment against such contractor or contractors; and all costs shall be paid by such contractor or contractors; but if such contractor or contractors are unable to pay the costs, then and in that case, the costs to which the owner or owners may have been subjected, shall be deducted from the moneys coming to such journeyman, laborer or claimant, under the provisions of this act: And it is further provided, That such claimant or claimants, shall bring suit against such contractor or contractors, within one month after giving such notice; and if no suit is brought within said time, then the notice is to have no effect whatever.

No. 202.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

Mr. THORN, Ways and Means—Feb. 4.

RESOLUTION relative to the payment of certain moneys into the State Treasury by the Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Bank of Philadelphia.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the Auditor General, in settling the per centage allowed by the act of twenty-second day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, on the increase of the capital of the Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Bank of the city and county of Philadelphia, be and is hereby directed to charge no per centage on the restoration of the capital of said bank, to the amount allowed by and for which it has already paid a per centage under the provisions of the act of twentieth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, but to charge only the per centage imposed by the act of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, on such increase of capital beyond the amount allowed and already settled for under the act of one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six as may take place under the said act of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven.

No. 306.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

WIGTON, Ways and Means—Feb. 11.

AN ACT relating to the licenses of billiard tables and ten-pin alleys used at watering places and summer resorts, in this Commonwealth.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be lawful for all persons owning or occupying watering places and summer resorts in this Commonwealth, to be licensed for the privilege of using billiard tables and ten-pin alleys for the term of three months in a year, and pay in that proportion of the rates now or hereafter required to be paid per annum.

Sec. 2. That all laws conflicting with the foregoing section are hereby repealed, so far as relates to alterations made by this act.

No. 305.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

SMITH, (Berks,) Ways and Means—Feb. 11.

AN ACT to increase the compensation of the judges of the supreme court. the annual salary of the judges of the supreme court shall be increased six hundred dollars each, and their per diem allowance to six dollars.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 49.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, March 7, 1859.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES.

The following petitions were presented on Monday, March 7th, in addition to those published in the Record of March 8th. Also, the following bills in place and reports of committees:

Mr. PIEHCE, one from citizens of West Goshen, Chester county, for a change in their road laws.

Also, a remonstrance of Mary Miller, of Chester county, against a divorce.

Mr. SHEPPARD, one from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the Green and Coates Street supplement.

Mr. GOEPP, one from citizens of Northampton county, for an act to incorporate a company for the manufacture of iron at Freemansburg.

Also, one from citizens of same county, for the relief of Sabina Bachman.

Also, one from citizens of same county, for the removal of the county seat from Easton to Nazareth.

Mr. WOODRING, one from citizens of Northampton county, remonstrating against the act relative to the Delaware Division canal company.

Mr. SHEPPARD, one from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the supplement to the Green and Coates Streets passenger railroad.

Mr. WALBORN, one from citizens of Philadelphia, for the repeal of the charter of the Germantown passenger railroad company.

Also, one from citizens of Pennsylvania, for a law to prevent the surrender of any human being as a slave.

Mr. WILEY, one of like import.

Mr. HAMERSLY, a communication from James Gowen, Esq., of Philadelphia, for a reduction of tax now levied on live stock: which was ordered to be published in the Record.

Mr. BARNSELY, one from the president and cashier of the Doylestown Bank, for a law compelling the country banks to keep their notes at par in Pittsburg and Philadelphia.

Mr. WILSON, one from one hundred and fifty-five citizens of Beaver, Butler and Lawrence counties, for the passage of a law requiring those having dams across Big Conoquessing creek, in said counties, to erect schutes on the same, that the passage of fish up and down said streams may not be impeded.

Also, one from seventy-two citizens of Hamel township, Beaver county, for the repeal of the law creating the county school superintendents, and also for such a modification of the law as will give school directors the power of choosing their own teachers.

Mr. SMEAD, one from citizens of Philadelphia, against the passage of the supplement to the charter of the Germantown passenger railway company.

Mr. BARLOW, one from citizens of Centre county, for a State road from Schroyer's Gap by way of McCall's mills.

Mr. ELLMAKER, one from citizens of Lancaster county, for a law requiring the Pennsylvania Valley railroad to fence their road.

Also, one from citizens of Lancaster, against the appropriation of further money to the erection of the monument to the Pennsylvanians who fell in Mexico.

Also, one from the Friends' monthly meeting of Sadsbury township, Lancaster county, of like import.

Mr. KENEAGY, one from citizens of East and West Lampeter townships, Lancaster county, for a turnpike road.

Mr. GRITMAN, one from citizens of Blakely township, Luzerne county, for a division of said townships into two election districts.

Mr. PUGHE, one of like import.

Mr. RAMSDELL, one from citizens of Venango county, for a change in their road laws.

Mr. STEPHENS, one from citizens of Wayne county, remonstrating against the passage of an act relative to the Delaware Division canal company.

Mr. M'DOWELL, a remonstrance from the board of trade of Pittsburg, against the repeal of the tonnage tax; which was read.

Also, one from citizens of Pittsburg, for an act to incorporate the Penn Avenue passenger railroad company.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks.) one from citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of the passage of the supplement to the Green and Coates Street passenger railroad.

Also, one from citizens of Windsor township, Berks county, for an extension of the borough of Hamburg, in said county.

Also, one from citizens of Reading; for a law to exempt the armory of the Ringgold artillery company from taxation.

Also, one from citizens of Berks county, for a State road from Hammershotz church to a point near Haine's tavern.

Mr. SHAFER, one from citizens of Chester county, for a prohibitory liquor law.

Mr. GRAHAM, one from three hundred and eleven citizens of Washington county, of like import.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks.) a remonstrance from citizens of Philadelphia, against the passage of the supplement to the Germantown passenger railroad charter.

Mr. PRICE, three of like import.

Mr. PINKERTON, one from citizens of Philadelphia, of like import.

Also, one from citizens of Schuylkill county, asking for an act for the better securing the payment of the wages of labor in Schuylkill county.

Mr. IRISH, one from forty-seven citizens of Pittsburg, for the abolition of the high school in said city.

Mr. FAYLOR, one from citizens of Indiana county, for an act to abolish the office of county school superintendents.

Mr. SHIELDS, one from citizens of Westmoreland county, for the erection of the new county of Ligonier.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. PROUDFOOT, one to pay the claim of Henry E. Fendson.

Also, "An Act establishing the location of the streets, alleys and lots in a certain part of Johnstown, Cambria county."

Mr. WILCOX, one to declare Johnson's run, in Fox township, Elk county, a public highway.

Mr. CAMPBELL, one relating to the fees of registrars of wills and recorders of deeds.

Mr. IRISH, one to incorporate the Sewickly cemetery of Allegheny county.

Mr. PINKERTON, one to regulate the weighing of anthracite, bituminous and semi-bituminous coal.

Mr. PRICE, one incorporating the New Ephrata and Litiz turnpike road company.

Mr. LAIRD, a supplement to the act incorporating the Farmers' mutual fire insurance company of Harbor Creek, Erie county.

Also, one incorporating the Erie city hall association, approved April 2d, 1852.

Also, a further supplement to an act relating to incorporations, approved April 15, 1835.

Mr. STUART, one authorizing the trustees of the corporation of the Presbyterian church at Mechanicsburg, Cumberland county, to borrow a certain amount of money.

Also, one requiring the sheriff of Cumberland county to compel all persons committed to the jail of said county for vagrancy, to work.

Mr. ECKMAN, one authorizing the Auditor General to cancel any balance standing open against the Lebanon Bank, on dividends of said bank.

Mr. PEIRCE, one relating to roads in West Goshen, Chester county.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks.) joint resolutions relative to the removal of the seat of government of Pennsylvania, from Harrisburg to Philadelphia; which were read.

Mr. BARNSELY, one to reduce the State tax on real and personal estate.

Mr. ECKMAN, a supplement to the act incorporating the Shaffertown academy, in Lebanon county.

Mr. GOEPP, one relating to the appeal from the judgments of aldermen and justices of the peace.

Also, one relating to sealer of weights and measures.

Also, one for the relief of Sabina Bachman.

Mr. BARLOW, one for the better security of the payment of wages of laborers, mechanics, &c.

Mr. JACKSON, one to incorporate the LaPorte gas and water company.

Mr. M'CLURE, one to repeal the fourth section of an act establishing the new judicial district, approved March 27, 1842.

Also, one relative to elections in Letterkenny township, Franklin county.

Mr. KENEAGY, one to incorporate the Lampeter and Bridgeport turnpike company.

Also, a supplement to the act incorporating the Willow Street turnpike company.

Mr. BRODHEAD, a supplement to the act incorporating the Lehigh and Delaware railroad company.

Also, one to prevent the destruction of deer in Wayne, Pike and Montour counties.

Also, one to prevent the picking of Cranberries in Tunkhannock township, Monroe county.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, a supplement to the act relating to the Treverton coal and railroad company, in Northumberland county.

Mr. GRATZ, a supplement to the act relative to attachments and executions.

Mr. THORN, one relating to the purchase of certain real estate by the Philadelphia Bank.

Mr. WALBORN, one to incorporate the Green Hill market company.

Mr. FISHER, a further supplement to the act incorporating the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. MANN, one to extend the time for commencing the Coudersport railroad.

Mr. PALM, one to incorporate the Anthracite improvement company.

Mr. WAGENSELLER, one to change the place of holding elections in Union township, Union county.

Mr. WALKER, one to change the place of holding elections in Shade township, Somerset county.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) one to repeal the thirtieth section of an act passed April 16, 1850, entitled "An Act relating to banks."

Mr. WILSON, one authorizing the courts of common pleas to appoint trustees of sales of real estate in case of partition.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) one authorizing the laying out of a State road from Hemmershotz church to a point near Haine's tavern.

Also, one to exempt the armory of the Ringgold artillery of Reading, from taxation.

Mr. PRICE, one to incorporate the New Ephrata and Litiz turnpike company.

Also, one to increase the capital stock of the Columbia Bank.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. GOEPP, (Judiciary,) as committed, "An Act relating to fees of justices of the peace."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act relating to the distribution of the proceeds of real estate sold by the sheriff."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to the act relative to the courts of justice."

Also, (same,) "An Act to preserve the lien of mortgages in certain cases."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to sheriffs' sales of real estate by order of the orphans' courts in Philadelphia."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "Resolution proposing amendments to the Constitution."

Mr. DODDS, (Pensions and Gratuities,) as amended, "An Act for the relief of Catharine Keller, widow of a revolutionary soldier."

Mr. BRODHEAD, (same,) as committed, "An Act for the relief of Joseph Brady, a soldier in the Indian war."

Mr. ELLMAKER, (Canals and Inland Navigation,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Montour navigation improvement company."

Mr. THORN, (Railroads,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Richland and Schnylkill passenger railroad company."

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the East Berlin railroad company."

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) (Ways and Means,) as committed, "An Act for the relief of John S. Miller."

Mr. Smith, (Berks,) (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relating to county and township rates and levies."

SENATE.

TUESDAY, March 8, 1850.

A quorum of Senators being present, the SPEAKER called the Senate to order at the usual hour.

The Journal was read and approved.

The SPEAKER presented four petitions of citizens of Cambria county, praying for the passage of an act repealing the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad, under the conditions of the bill read by the Senator from Bedford.

Also, two petitions of citizens of Blair county, of like import.

Also, a petition of citizens of Cambria, in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, &c.

Mr. THOMPSON presented a remonstrance from the managers and stockholders of the Plymouth and Upper Dublin turnpike road company, against any law to alter their rates of toll.

Also, a petition of citizens and stockholders of the Spinnerstown and Goshenhoppen turnpike road company, for an extension of their road.

Also, two remonstrances from citizens of Montgomery county, against the passage of an act changing the mode of collecting taxes, so far as relates to said county.

Also, seven petitions of citizens of Pennsylvania, for a law to compel banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Mr. STEELE, a petition signed by one hundred citizens of Huntingdon township, Luzerne county, praying for an alteration of the common school law, so far as the appointment of county superintendent is concerned.

Mr. FETTER, a petition of citizens of New Buffalo and Watts townships, Perry county, praying for the passage of an act chartering the Northumberland and Juniata railroad company.

Also, a petition of citizens of Perry and Juniata counties, of like import.

Also, a petition of the president judge of the Twentieth judicial district, for the refunding of certain taxes illegally assessed and paid.

Mr. SCHELL, two petitions of citizens of Huntingdon county, praying for the passage of an act to prohibit fishing in Aughwick creek and its tributaries, in said county, with seines and nets.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of the borough of Johnstown, against the passage of an act legalizing a partial survey of said borough, made by John Brawley, Esq.

Also, a petition of citizens of Mount Union, Huntingdon county, praying for the passage of a law declaring the streets of said town public highways.

Also, two remonstrances of citizens of Huntingdon county, against the passage of the act providing for a change in the mode of collecting State and county taxes in said county, and extending the term of the county treasurer.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Bedford county, against the annexation of Middle Woodbury township, in said county, to Blair county.

Mr. YARDLEY, a petition of one hundred and twenty citizens of this Commonwealth, for a law compelling banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Also, a petition of the Doylestown Bank, of like import.

Also, a petition of citizens of Bucks county, for a law prohibiting persons from selling coal from canal boats along the Delaware Division canal, in said county.

Also, a petition of eighty-nine citizens of this Commonwealth, for a law authorizing the appointment of a measurer of paving stones in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. MARSELIS, a petition of citizens of Frankford and vicinity, in favor of a modification of the Sunday laws.

Messrs. WRIGHT, RANDALL and PARKER, petitions of like import.

Mr. WRIGHT, four petition of citizens of the rural districts in Philadelphia county, for free roads in the rural wards of said county.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Philadelphia, living along the line of the Germantown passenger railway, against a supplement to their charter.

Mr. BELL, one of like import.

Mr. PARKER, a remonstrance of citizens of Philadelphia, living on Green street, against the Green and Coates Streets supplement.

Mr. BELL, a petition of citizens of Chester county, in favor of a prohibitory liquor law.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, for the passage of a law enabling the Lodge of Odd Fellows of Pennsylvania to acquire stock in the Cochranville hall association.

Mr. SCHINDEL, a petition of citizens of Northampton county, in favor of an act for the relief of Mrs. Sabina Bachman.

Also, a petition of citizens of Allentown, in favor of an act now before the Legislature, to restrict sales by auction in Lehigh and Northampton counties.

Also, a petition of citizens of Northampton, Lehigh and Carbon counties, for the erection of a furnace or furnaces in Freemansburg.

Also, a petition of citizens of Northampton county, for a law requiring banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Also, a petition of citizens of Lehigh and Bucks counties, for the appointment of road commissioners, to lay out a State road in said counties.

Also, three remonstrances against the incorporation of the Delaware Division canal company.

Also, two petitions of citizens of Northampton county, for a law authorizing them to vote on the removal of the seat of justice of said county.

Mr. NUNEMACHER, eight petitions of citizens of Berks county, in favor of a law requiring the city of Reading to pay the fees for arresting vagrants in said city.

Also, a petition of one hundred and fifty citizens of Berks county, for a law prohibiting the hunting of deer in said county.

Mr. PALMER, four petitions of citizens of East Brunswick township, Schnylkill county, in favor of a law changing the place of holding elections in said township.

Also, a petition of citizens of Schnylkill county, for a law requiring the Little Schnylkill railroad to fence their road.

Mr. KELLER, a petition of citizens of Danville, for an act compelling the banks of this Commonwealth to resume specie payments.

Also, a petition of citizens of Snyder county, for a law securing a bounty on the scalps of minks and musk rats.

Mr. RUTHERFORD, three petitions of citizens of Harrisburg, in favor of a change in their borough charter.

Mr. SHAEFFER, a petition of citizens of Lancaster county, for the reduction of the tolls on turnpike and plank road companies.

Also, the petition of the president and cashier of the Columbia Bank, requiring the banks of this Commonwealth to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Also, a petition of citizens of Lancaster county, in favor of the act incorporating the New Ephrata and Litiz turnpike road company.

Also, petitions of citizens of East and West Lampeter townships, Lancaster county, for an act to incorporate a turnpike road from Bridgeport to Lampeter Square.

Mr. WELSH, a remonstrance of citizens of the borough of York and vicinity, against a law relative to fishing in said county.

Mr. COFFEY, a petition of citizens of Allegheny county, in favor of the incorporation of a passenger railway along Pennsylvania avenue, in the city of Pittsburgh.

Also, a petition of citizens of Cambria county, for the repeal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad, and praying that any unjust discrimination against local trade, may be prohibited.

Mr. PENNEY, three petitions of citizens of Pittsburgh, in favor of the abolition of the high school in said city.

Also, two remonstrances against the same.

Mr. GAZZAM, a petition of citizens of the same city, in favor of the repeal of the act establishing the high school in said city.

Also, a remonstrance of inhabitants of Pennsylvania, against the surrender of persons claimed as slaves.

Also, the resolutions of the board trade of Pittsburgh, against the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, a remonstrance of three hundred citizens of Fayette county, against the repeal of the tonnage tax; which, by request, was read.

Mr. FINNEY, a petition of citizens of Warren county, in favor of a new county, to be erected out of parts of Crawford, Warren and Venango.

Mr. BLOOD, a remonstrance of citizens of Brookville, against any enlargement of their borough limits.

Also, a petition of citizens of Burnside township, Clearfield county, in favor of a law incorporating the village of New Washington into a borough.

A communication from Dr. Parish, inviting the members of the Senate to the exhibition of some of the pupils of the Pennsylvania training school for imbecile children, in the Hall of the House of Representatives this evening, was presented by the SPEAKER, and read.

Mr. GREGG, the petition of citizens of New Washington, Clearfield county, in favor of the erection of said village into a borough.

Also, a petition of citizens of Lycoming county, for a law to secure the more prompt payment on the part of insurance companies.

Also, a petition of citizens of the same county, for a law authorizing the erection of a boom in Loyalsock creek, in said county.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. BELL, (Judiciary,) reported as committed, "Resolutions supplementary to a resolution authorizing the appointment of commissioners to revise the penal code."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to writs of error, appeals and certioraries, and to abolish the court of nisi prius."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act requiring notice of sales of real and personal estate, by executors and other trustees, to be given by handbills."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to the act providing for the regulation and inspection of buildings in the city of Philadelphia."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act providing for the challenging of jurors in civil cases."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to an act relative to the limitation of actions."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to the claim of James Malone."

Mr. FINNEY, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to prohibit the sale of coal by retail from canal boats on the Delaware division canal."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to the administration of justice in Mercer county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act requiring the payment of road and school tax by electors, at township elections."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to the partition of real estate in the several courts of this Commonwealth."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act authorizing inspectors of prisons to let the labor of convicts by contract."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to annul the marriage contract between William R. Priestly and Annie V. Priestly."

Mr. BREWER, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act providing for the erection of a house for the employment and support of the poor, in Carbon county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to increase the compensation of the erier in the district court of Allegheny county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to repeal an act relative to the Susquehanna and Waterford turnpike road company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to legalize the township election in Terrytown, Bradford county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act authorizing the commissioners of Washington county to pay certain moneys to Wm. Greenfield."

Mr. SCOFIELD, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to the heirs of James Rankin, dec'd."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, House bill No. 364, "An Act relative to the sale of burial lots in New Bethlehem, Clarion county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, House bill No. 366, "An Act relative to lists of voters in Washington county."

Also, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A further supplement to an act relative to supervisors and overseers of the poor in Wilkesbarre township, Luzerne county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to the removal of the dead to the Norristown City cemetery."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act providing for the erection of a house for the employment and support of the poor in Allegheny county."

Mr. BREWER, (Judiciary,) with amendment, "A supplement to the act incorporating the West Philadelphia passenger railway company."

Mr. WRIGHT, (Corporations,) as committed, House bill No. 261, "A supplement to the act incorporating the St. Paul's church, of Philadelphia."

Mr. SHAEFFER, (same,) as committed, "An Act to amend the charter of the Chestnut Hill iron ore company, Lancaster county."

Mr. STEELE, (Canals and Inland Navigation,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the master warden of the city of Philadelphia to remove sunken vessels in the Delaware and Schuylkill rivers."

Mr. THOMPSON, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 132, "A supplement to an act approved April 10, 1826, entitled 'An Act to protect the public in the full benefit and enjoyment of the works constructed for the purposes of inland navigation.'"

On motion of Mr. PALMER, said bill was taken up, and after being duly considered, passed finally.

House amendments to Senate bill No. 167, "An Act to incorporate the Newtown Square and Paoli plank road company," were, on motion of Mr. BELL, concurred in.

Mr. KELLER, from the Committee to Compare Bills, made report.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. SCOFIELD read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act relative to the board of prisoners in Warren county."

Mr. SCHINDEL, "An Act to establish the Fogelsville male and female academy, in Lehigh county."

Mr. FINNEY, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Meadville gas and water company."

Mr. KELLER, "An Act widening the eastern extension of Third street, in the town of Bloomsburg."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, "An Act authorizing the Auditor General to cancel the balance standing open against the Lehanon Bank, as a tax on dividends."

Also, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Shafferstown academy, in Lehigh county."

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

Senate bill No. 277, "An Act to extend the jurisdiction of the orphans' courts in cases of testamentary trusts," came up in order on third reading and passed finally.

Senate bill No. 439, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Lewisburg building association, having for its object the accumulation of a fund, which shall be loaned to its members to enable them to buy or build their own houses," came up in order and passed finally.

House bill No. 331, "An Act to incorporate the Farmers' market company," came up in order, the question being upon the amendment offered by Mr. WRIGHT, "that said market house shall be located west of Sixth street and north of Market street."

Mr. WRIGHT stated that he would not insist upon the amendment, and it was voted down; whereupon, he offered the following proviso, to come in at the end of the first section:

Provided, That the said company shall complete the erection of the market house within two years from the approval of this act, or otherwise forfeit their charter.

On motion of Mr. BELL, the amendment was amended, by striking out the word "two" and inserting the word "three."

The amendment as amended was agreed to, as also the section as amended, and the bill passed finally.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, the Senate proceeded to consider House bill No. 741, "An Act to annul the marriage contract between William R. Priestly and Annie V. Priestly."

Mr. COFFEY desired to call the attention of the Senate to one fact, previous to the consideration of this bill. So far as he was acquainted with the merits of the case, he was favorable to the bill; but he found upon his desk—and he presumed they had been placed upon the desks of all Senators and Representatives—a copy of the Philadelphia Ledger, containing a card of the husband of this lady, Mr. Priestly, asking for a suspension of public opinion, until such time as he could prepare a statement of facts in justification of himself. He presumed, from this circumstance, that he had some statement to make, and facts to present, in the case, which would seem to call for a postponement of the bill. He merely made the statement for the information of Senators.

Mr. TURNEY said the husband, Mr. Priestly, had been duly notified of the contemplated proceedings, but had taken no notice of it until he did so by the publication of the card alluded to. Every Senator was satisfied, he thought, of the merits of the case, and was as well prepared to act upon it to-day as they would be at any other time.

Mr. BELL remarked that when the bill was before the Judiciary Committee, they had been assured by the parents of the young lady, that although notice had been given to the husband of the contemplated proceedings, he was perfectly indifferent, and had paid no attention to it. He now finds that he has published a card asking for a suspension of public opinion, and conveying the information that he is desirous of preparing a statement of facts in his own vindication; and although he had no hesitation in voting for the bill, if the statements of the parents of the lady, and the lady herself were true, he thought it but fair and just, after the publication of the card of Mr. Priestly, that he should be afforded an opportunity of being heard, before its passage. For the purpose of testing the sense of the Senate upon the subject, he would move for its postponement for the present.

Mr. GAZZAM was under the impression, from his present knowledge of the case, that he would vote for the bill; but under the circumstances, he should vote for a postponement, in order to afford an opportunity to the other party of being heard.

Mr. SCHELL, also, so far as his knowledge of the facts extended, was prepared to vote for the bill; but he was willing that the husband should have an opportunity of being heard, and would, therefore, vote for a postponement.

Mr. PALMER said there could be no question of the fact, that this child of fourteen years, had been enticed, by this man Priestly into a marriage, without the knowledge or consent of her parents. He had been told that the husband had received eight day's notice of the fact that this application would be made, to which he had paid no attention.

Mr. FRANCIS did not know but that he should vote for the bill; but he would never vote for it, if both parties desire a hearing, until that he might have been afforded.

Mr. GREGG said the nature of the bill was perfectly understood by the Senate. The husband had received sufficient notice to have had a hearing; but he had paid no attention to that notice, and may not be here this session, even if the bill is postponed for the purpose of giving him a hearing. It was a case which ought to be acted upon with promptness and decision, and he hoped its consideration would not be postponed.

Mr. SCOFIELD remarked that no Senator, with his present knowledge of facts, will pretend to say that this bill ought not to pass. The Legislature has jurisdiction, and the case is one which recommends itself to them with peculiar force. No one pretended to deny that this man Priestly had clandestinely married a child—that he had met her on her way from school, and induced her to go with him to an obscure clergyman's, where they were married, after which she was sent home, with the understanding that they were not to cohabit for three years. It has been proved that notice was given him to appear; but even if notice had not been given, he knows about the application made for annulling the marriage, and has now published a card in the public papers, for the purpose of giving himself a little importance, and indulging in a little slander, for the purpose of annoying this child and her friends. He was prepared to vote for the bill now, and he hoped it would not be postponed.

Mr. GAZZAM said that however much he felt disposed to do justice towards this lady, he could not forget that the evidence upon which their favorable judgments had been predicated, was only ex parte; and although there might be nothing due to Priestly, there was something due to public policy. He should, he thought, upon the simple principle of justice, be afforded a fair opportunity of controverting the facts alleged by the applicants for this divorce. He had understood, from the statement of the Senator from Westmoreland, that the notice had been served upon him only three days ago, and that, too, by a man who can't write his own name, and attests the service by his mark. He preferred that the bill should be postponed. He might, then, be prepared to vote for it.

The motion to postpone was not agreed, and On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RANDALL and Mr. TURNER, and were as follows, viz:

Yeas.—Messrs. Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Gregg, Keller, Myer, Nunemacher, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Schell, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Thompson, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—22.

Nays.—Messrs. Francis, Gazzam, Randall and Yardley—4.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. RANDALL moved that the Senate proceed to the second reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 18, as reported by the special committee, entitled "An Act to establish a general banking law."

Mr. MYER said, he did not wish to do anything which would have a tendency to defeat the bill, or prolong discussion. When the bill had been before the Senate, before its reference to the select committee, there had been many objections made and amendments offered; and he was opposed to proceeding with the substitute reported, until ample opportunity had been afforded of examining it. He would, therefore, make a motion to postpone its consideration for the present.

Mr. RANDALL said, his simple object was to have the substitute read to the Senate. The question involved was an important one; and, as the session was drawing to a close, it was desirable that the bill should be put in some shape of forwardness as soon as possible. He had no wish, however, to press the matter today; but he hoped the Senator from Bradford would not make his motion to postpone, but allow the bill to go to third reading.

Mr. MYER withdrew his motion to postpone.

Mr. SCOFIELD expressed himself favorable to the first section of the bill. If it is voted down now, he said, it would be fatal to any bill of a similar character this session.

Mr. PENNEY was in favor of the bill, so far as he was acquainted with its provisions; but he was opposed to voting upon it with but a moment's warning, and without having had time to examine it.

Some questions of order arose between the SPEAKER and Senators, as to the manner of proceeding with the consideration of the bill, during which,

Mr. MYER renewed his motion to postpone for the present.

Mr. SCOFIELD said the first section was the leading feature of the bill, and if any amendment is desired, it can be proposed as well now as to-morrow. The question is, whether we will create a bank department, and no one can say he is not prepared to give his views today upon that question, as well as he will be by the proposed delay.

Mr. RANDALL said that this was a most important bill, and its provisions cannot be better understood, than by having it read to the Senate. His only object was to have it read, and for that purpose he would suggest that the Senate go into committee of the whole. He inquired of the SPEAKER, whether such a motion could be made.

Mr. FINNEY remarked that the only alteration of the bill is in creating a department through which all banks can come in. There were some features differing from the old bill, but the principal change was that contained in the first section. Unless it was taken up and disposed of now, it could not pass this session.

On the motion to postpone,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RANDALL and Mr. FINNEY, and were as follows, viz:

Yeas.—Messrs. Brewer, Fetter, Gregg, Mar-selis, Rutherford, Schell, Turney, Welsh, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—10.

Nays.—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Blood, Coffey, Craig, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Keller, Nunemacher, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Thompson and Wright—20.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. MYER moved that the bill be postponed until to-morrow, and that it be made the special order for every day until disposed of.

On motion of Mr. BREWER, the latter part of the resolution, "for every day until disposed of," was stricken out.

On the adoption of the resolution,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. RANDALL, and were as follows, viz:

Yeas.—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Brewer, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Keller, Marselis, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Thompson, Turney and Yardley—25.

Nays.—Messrs. Blood, Nunemacher, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—5.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. BREWER, the Senate proceeded to consider Senate bill No. 451, "An Act relating to the banks of this Commonwealth."

On its final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BREWER and Mr. COFFEY, and were as follows, viz:

Yeas.—Messrs. Brewer, Fetter, Keller, Marselis, Schell, Scofield, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—11.

Nays.—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Coffey, Craig, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Nunemacher, Palmer, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Thompson, Welsh and Yardley—16.

So the question was determined in the negative.

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, Senate bill No. 498, "An Act relative to the publication of the opinions of the judges of the supreme court in certain cases," was taken up, and having passed to third reading, lies over.

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, Senate bill No. 182, "A supplement to an act relative to the sale and conveyance of real estate," approved April 18, 1853, was brought before the Senate, and having gone through its various readings, passed finally.

Senate bill No. 481, "An Act to amend an act to apportion the city of Philadelphia into single senatorial and representative districts," approved April 22, 1853, came up, on motion of Mr. RANDALL, and, having passed to third reading, lies over.

Bills entitled as follows, passed finally:

"An Act relating to the limits of the borough of Wrightsville, York county." (On motion of Mr. WELSH.)

"An Act to authorize the school directors of Bedford to borrow money." (On motion of Mr. SCHELL.)

"An Act relative to vacating an alley in Columbia borough." (On motion of Mr. BALDWIN.)

House amendments to Senate amendments to Senate bill No. 22, "An Act relative to roads and bridges in Mercer county," were, on motion of Mr. FRANCIS, concurred in.

On motion of Mr. YARDLEY, the Senate proceeded to consider Senate bill No. 477, "An Act relating to the collection of State and county taxes in Bucks county."

The bill passed committee of the whole, when the hour of one having arrived, the Senate adjourned until ten o'clock to-morrow morning.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, March 8, 1859.

The SPEAKER called the House to order at 9½ o'clock, A. M.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. DeWitt.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved to dispense with the reading of the Journal; agreed to.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) from Committee on Claims, as committed, Senate bill No. 203; which was ordered to be placed on the Private Calendar.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved that the auction bill be re committed; agreed to.

Mr. HILL moved to consider Senate bill No. 149, relative to the borough of Pottstown; agreed to.

The bill passed.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE moved to consider House bill No. 255.

The motion was withdrawn.

Mr. WARDEN read in his place, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Pennsylvania railroad company." (Referred to Committee on Railroads.)

Mr. WILLISTON read "An Act amending the road laws of the county of Tioga." (Referred to Committee on Roads and Bridges.)

Mr. CHURCH moved that the Committee on Railroads be discharged from the consideration of the supplement to the Pennsylvania railroad, just read; agreed to.

The bill was ordered to be placed on the Private Calendar.

Mr. WILLISTON moved to discharge the committee from the further consideration of the bill just read by him; which was agreed to.

The bill was ordered on the Private Calendar.

Mr. GREEN read in place an act to vacate an alley in Columbia, and moved to proceed to a consideration of the bill; which was agreed to, and the bill passed.

Mr. OAKS moved to consider Senate bill No. 341, entitled "An Act to incorporate the Columbia County agricultural, horticultural and botanical association."

The committee was discharged from the consideration of said bill, and it was passed finally.

Mr. VAGENSELLER moved to take up House bill No. 235, entitled "An Act to pay the claim of Charles Fisher for damages sustained on the Susquehanna canal."

On final passage of bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. EVANS and Mr. WILLISTON, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Durboraw, Ellmaker, Fearon, Fisher, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Goepp, Gratz, Gray, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Keneagy, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Miller, Palm, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Price, Quigley, Rohrer, Shafer, Stuart, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Wolf, Woodring, Zoller, and Lawrence, Speaker—45.

NAYS—Messrs. Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Custer, Dodds, Eckman, Evans, Fleming, Good, Graham, Hill, Jackson, Neall, Nill, Ramsdell, Rose, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Thompson, Walker, Warden and Williston—24.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. ABBOTT moved to place House bill No. 709 on the Private Calendar for to-day; agreed to.

Mr. WIGTON moved to consider "An Act relative to the roads and bridges in Jackson township, Huntingdon county."

Agreed to; and the bill passed.

Mr. THORN asked leave to withdraw certain papers.

Leave was given.

PRIVATE CALENDAR.

The order of the day being the Private Calendar, it was taken up, and the following bills from the preceding Calendar were read, and prepared for a second reading.

House bill No. 556, "An Act to encourage the destruction of foxes in the county of Beaver."

No. 557. "A further supplement to an act regulating auctions in the city of Lancaster and other towns," passed April 7, 1834.

Senate bill, No. 563, "An Act for the relief of Augustus J. Kuhn, of Lancaster county, a soldier of the war of 1812."

No. 566. "An Act to incorporate the Pennsylvania annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church."

Sen. No. 300, "An Act to provide for the appointment of auditors in the county of Wyoming, and changing the time of holding borough elections."

House bill No. 568, "An Act to prevent hunting deer with dogs in Morris township, in the county of Tioga."

No. 555, "An Act for the reformation and employment of vagrants and drunkards and other drinking persons in the county of Allegheny."

Sen. 54. "An Act relating to certain school taxes in the county of Jefferson."

Sen. 119. "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Allegheny and Buffalo Run plank road company."

No. 572. "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the city of Erie."

OBJECTED BILLS FROM PRECEDING CALENDAR.

No. 269. "An Act erecting the county of Pine, out of parts of the counties of Indiana, Jefferson, Cambria and Clearfield."

Discussion ensued between Messrs. TAYLOR, ZOLLER, WILCOX, BOYER, (Clearfield,) WILLIAMS, (Bucks.) The bill was objected to.

No. 274. "An Act relative to passenger railway companies in the city of Philadelphia."

No. 329. "An Act to incorporate the Union market company of Philadelphia."

On motion of Mr. WILCOX, the House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of the following bills from the Private Calendar of Tuesday, March 1st. The bills passed, as follows:

No. 374. "An Act to incorporate the Lewisburg, Selinsgrove and Philadelphia railroad company."

No. 379. "An Act relative to taxing dogs in West Nottingham township, Chester county."

No. 381. "An Act for the relief of George D. Boyer, former treasurer of Schuylkill county."

No. 383. "An Act to provide for the collection of additional taxes in the township of Bingham, in the county of Potter."

No. 386. "An Act to liquidate the amount due on a certain judgment and to enforce the collection of the same."

No. 387. "An Act relative to foreign insurance companies in the county of Erie."

No. 390. "An Act annexing the borough of Leesburg, in Mercer county, to the township of Springfield, in said county, for school purposes."

No. 392. "An Act to divide the township of Wilkesbarre, in Luzerne county, into two wards."

No. 396. "An Act supplementary to an act incorporating the Milton savings institute."

On the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GRITMAN and Mr. EVANS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Campbell, Dismant, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Goepp, Graham, Green, Gratz, Hamersly, Harding, Hattenstine, Irish, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Matthews, M'Clure, McCurdy, McDowell, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Rose, Shafer, Shields, Stoneback, Stuart, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—63.

NAYS—Messrs. Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Custer, Glatz, Gritman, Quigley, and Smith, (Berks,)—7.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

No. 397. "An Act to incorporate the Media Bank."

On the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FOSTER and Mr. ROSE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barlow, Burley, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Graham, Gratz, Green, Harding, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, M'Dowell, Pennell, Peirce, Price, Shafer, Thompson, Wagenseller, Walborn, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bucks,) Willson, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—28.

NAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Evans, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Goepp, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Ketchum, Laird, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Thorn, Walker, Warden, Wilcox, Wiley, Williston, Woodring and Zoller—55.

So the question was determined in the negative.

No. 398. "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Mount Joy savings institution."

Mr. THORN moved to postpone for the present.

On the question,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GRITMAN and Mr. ABBOTT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Bayard, Burley, Ellmaker, Fearon, Graham, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Keneagy, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mehaffey, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Miller, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Proudfoot, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—33.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Barnsley, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Bryson, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Evans, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Goepp, Gray, Gritman, Hill, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Mann, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Peirce, Pughe, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Thompson, Warden, Wilcox, Williston and Woodring—47.

So the question was determined in the negative.

On the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GRITMAN and Mr. STEPHENS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Burley, Campbell, Ellmaker, Fearon, Graham, Green, Harding, Keneagy, Palm, Pennell, Price, Wigton, Wiley, Wilson and Lawrence, Speaker—16.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Barnsley, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Bryson, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Evans, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Goepp, Gratz, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Mann, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Peirce, Pughe, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Smith,

(Berks.) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks.) Williston and Woodring—58

So the question was determined in the negative.

On a motion to re-consider,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WITMAN and Mr. STEVENS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Barlow, Bayard, Burley, Campbell, Eckman, Ellmaker, Featon, Glatz, Graham, Green, Harding, Keneagy, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mahaffey, Matthews, Palm, Patterson, Taylor, Thorn, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Wilson, Wolf, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—28.

NAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Bryson, Caster, Dismant, Dodds, Durhoraw, Evans, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Goepf, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Hottentustine, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Maun, M'Curdy, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks.) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Thompson, Warden, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston and Woodring—49.

So the question was determined in the negative.

No. 400. "An Act incorporating the Bald Eagle boom company in Clinton county."

No. 403. "A supplement to an act incorporating the Sancona iron company."

No. 404. "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Reading railroad."

Discussion ensued between Messrs. SMITH, (Berks.) WALBORN, THORN, PINKERTON and PALM. Pending the passage of the bill,

The SPEAKER then adjourned the House until 3 o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

SPEAKER in the chair.

Mr. PEIRCE read in place, "An Act to authorize the State Treasurer to pay S. C. Williams certain claims for damages on the Philadelphia and Columbia railroad." (Referred to Committee on Claims.)

Mr. GLATZ moved to withdraw Senate bill No. 430, from the Committee on Corporations; agreed to.

Mr. PRICE stated that the assertion made during the morning session, that the general banking law had passed the Senate, was incorrect. The statement at the time had prejudiced certain bank bills on the Private Calendar.

Mr. WILLISTON explained that he had been misinformed during the morning session on the subject.

Mr. WOLF presented a petition from tax payers of York county, against the opening of a certain street.

Also, one for the abolition of county school superintendent.

PRIVATE CALENDER.

The Private Calendar being the order of the day, was taken up.

The bill which was pending at the adjournment of the morning session was considered, as follows:

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT to an act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Reading railroad.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall and may be lawful for the president and managers of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company to extend the Lebanon Valley branch of their railroad from its present termination in the borough of Harrisburg, so as to connect with the Northern Central railroad, at or near the town of Dauphin, in Dauphin county; and to enter in and upon and occupy such land, as may be necessary for the same, on the terms and conditions provided in the fourth section of the act, passed the first day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, entitled "An Act to authorize the Governor to incorporate the Lebanon Valley railroad company;" and in the construction and use of the extension aforesaid, the said company shall have, hold and enjoy all the right, privileges and immunities that are at present secured to them; and shall be subject to the same liabilities, restrictions and provisions, as are now imposed upon them by law in other parts of the road; and the said company is hereby authorized to purchase any part of any existing railroad for the purpose of completing the connection aforesaid: Provided, That before the said company shall avail themselves of the provisions of this act, they shall agree to pay into the Treasury of the Commonwealth, three mills per ton per mile on all tonnage passing over the whole length of their road, the same to be paid semi annually, and to continue in force as long as a similar tax is chargeable on the Pennsylvania railroad company.

The question being on the motion to postpone,

Mr. PINKERTON alluded to influences which had been brought to bear upon the Dauphin and Susquehanna railroad, to make it, as a member had said in the morning, a "huckleberry" road. The object of the present bill was not to lay down the track for a new road, but simply to oblige the Dauphin and Susquehanna company to sell that portion of their line between Harrisburg and Dauphin to the Philadelphia and Reading company at a sacrifice. For a long time past, the latter corporation had been trying to make the purchase, but on account of not being willing to give a fair price, had been unsuccessful. The last movement which they were prompting, was the present one.

The SPEAKER said that a discussion on the merits of the bill was not now in order, inasmuch as the motion before the House was only to postpone for the present. A motion to postpone indefinitely would bring up the merits of the bill.

Mr. PINKERTON withdrew the motion to postpone for the present, and moved to postpone indefinitely.

The motion being before the House,

Mr. PINKERTON continued. The efforts of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company, to break down the Dauphin and Susquehanna company, had been so successful, that over the latter road but a single car was now running daily, attached to a freight train, whereas two or three years ago three and four cars were taken. Even the little freight which was now carried between Dauphin and Harrisburg, was sought to be diverted by this proposition of the Reading company. The scheme, as he had before said, was one originated solely for the purpose of forcing the owners of the Dauphin and Susquehanna railroad into a sale at such prices as their opponents choose to give. Already a charter had been granted to a certain company to build a road between the points named.—Why was not this work constructed?

On the 2d of March the Dauphin and Susquehanna road had been sold to new parties, who knew nothing of the present proceedings, or of the injury which it was contemplated to inflict upon them. They were not here to defend themselves, and for this reason, if no other, the bill should be killed.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) had not much to say on the subject, but would simply assert that the Huckleberry road was good for nothing—never had been, and never would be—and he should vote to put it in the hands of men who would do something with it.

Mr. THORN, reviewing the arguments of Mr. PINKERTON, said that it was certainly true that at present not more than one car went over the road with passengers, and that it has had in fact no business at all. But the constituents of the gentleman from Schuylkill, (Mr. PINKERTON,) had lost nothing by the road, for they had never invested a cent. In fact, they had made money by its construction through their county. New York and Boston capital had been furnished, and $3,000,000 had been sunk among the rocks. The owners, when they reached the coal seams, for which they were striving, found that they were not worth working, and gave up in despair. Every body who was acquainted with the locality, knew this to be the fact.

The road had been built for a specific purpose, viz: to supply the Baltimore market with coal, and it had never been contemplated that it would be of advantage to Philadelphia.

How would the present bill force the Dauphin and Susquehanna company to sell at a sacrifice a road which it was probable no one who was forced to run two trains over it daily would take as a gift? If it ever was to be worth anything, it would become so by means of the connection which it was contemplated to form with the Reading road.

The gentleman from Schuylkill, (Mr. PINKERTON,) had said that a charter for the construction of a road between the points named was already in existence, and had inquired why the road was not built? Grant the present application, and the work of constructing the new line would commence very soon.

It was due to citizens of Philadelphia, who were interested in the Sunbury and Erie railroad, to make this connection, in order that the lake trade, which otherwise, on account of the imposition of the tonnage tax on the Harrisburg and Lancaster railroad, would be directed to Baltimore, might reach Philadelphia by way of Dauphin and Reading.

Mr. GOEPP favored the bill. If any proposition was well established, it was that increased facility of communication tended to benefit the community; and the members being here, neither for the good of the Dauphin and Susquehanna or the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, should do justice to their constituents by voting for the proposed measure. If the incorporators were willing to build the road, and thereby add to the wealth of the State and benefit the country, let the charter be granted, even though another opposing route was injured. Admitting, for the sake of the argument, that the Dauphin and Susquehanna railroad would suffer, the community would be benefited.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks.) The gentleman from Schuylkill, (Mr. PINKERTON,) had said that the officers of the Dauphin and Susquehanna company knew nothing of the charter now before the House, and that he was not opposing the project by their authority or at their instigation. The information which he (Mr. SMITH) possessed upon this point was essentially different, for he understood that when the Dauphin and Susquehanna company sold their property, they were anxious that the Reading company should be the purchasers, and that the latter corporation was willing to buy, but had no power to do so without the passage of a supplement to their charter. He did not deny but that if the bill was passed, the Reading company might find it advisable to purchase the road already constructed, near Dauphin, instead of building one for themselves.

In regard to damage and loss that would accrue to the Dauphin and Susquehanna company, that obligation had been already refuted. The very fact that the Lebanon Valley railroad had injured the former road, was a proof that it should never have been built, and it was well known that the project had really been foolish and resulted in a large loss of money.

Mr. McCLURE inquired whether there really was an act of Assembly, (as had been stated during the morning, by Mr. WALBORN,) authorizing either the Pennsylvania Central or Harrisburg and Lancaster railroad to build a road from Harrisburg to Dauphin.

Mr. WALBORN said that there certainly was such an act, and surveys had been made, and workmen were to have been put upon the line last week.

Mr. McCLURE said that in that case it certainly appeared improper to give a new company the privilege already conceded to an old one. The bill now before the House, in his opinion, was a clever snake, and its true meaning was that the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company designed to kill the Dauphin and Susquehanna, by destroying the possibility of a connection which the latter thoroughfare would make, which would place it in the position of a link in the through line between Harrisburg and New York. A contest between the two parties had been going on for years, and this was the last step which had been made to retard and embarrass the proposed connection. The bill would effectually accomplish this, if it unfortunately passed.

At least $300,000 had been expended to connect the Dauphin and Susquehanna railroad with the city of New York via Auburn and Allentown, and in a short time the thoroughfare would be one of the best and most important in the State. The gentleman on the opposing side, well knew that within five years the links from Harrisburg to New York would be complete, without their progress was interrupted by this proposed charter.

The Legislature of Pennsylvania had allowed many roads to be constructed, it was true, and after having given to the companies the right it was but just that they should be protected.

The aim of the present charter was to cut off a line which would be a rival to the Reading.

Mr. P/LM was glad that the true intents of the charter had been thus elucidated by the gentleman from Franklin. He coincided with the views which had just been expressed, and should himself have given them utterance had he not feared the power of the Philadelphia delegation.

Mr. WALBORN had reasons for asking the indefinite postponement, which were entirely different from any of those heretofore given. His objection to the charter was that it gave a key, by which roads paying no revenue to the Commonwealth might reach New York. The Dauphin and Susquehanna was a connecting link between Harrisburg and New York, and by allowing this connection to be made, freight could go over it to Elizabethport, without contributing one cent to the State revenues. The Pennsylvania and Harrisburg and Lancaster roads, from the high rates which they would be obliged to maintain, on account of the infliction of the tonnage tax, would lose business, and the State consequently would find her receipts from tolls between Harrisburg and Dillerville considerably diminished.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) wanted the gentleman to recollect that he had himself introduced a provision to the bill when it was in the hands of the committee, which inflicted a tonnage tax on the trade which would pass over the road contemplated by the supplement.

Mr. WALBORN admitted that he had made such a provision, and that the company would be obliged to pay three mills per ton per mile, as long as that tax was levied on the Pennsylvania railroad company.

The Lehigh Valley railroad, he said, would be completed so as to connect with the Sunbury and Erie railroad, almost as soon as the latter thoroughfare was opened to Erie. There would then be a line from Pittsburg to New York, in opposition to the Pennsylvania Central railroad, which would carry freight through from point to point without rendering tribute to the amount of one cent to the State. Was it likely, then, that the tonnage tax of three mills per mile on the Pennsylvania Central would be paid? And what result would follow, except the crippling of one of the greatest corporations of this or any other country? The Pennsylvania Central now actually paid a tax on bonds of $81,000, while for bonds of exactly the same amounts the Reading road paid but $4,000 premium. Was this just? In the one case the tax was levied on the company, and in the other on the English bondholders. Let even-handed justice be done, and he would vote with the advocates of the supplement. If one was to be taxed, tax the other in the same proportion.

Mr. THORN said the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. WALBORN,) seemed to value his vote highly, and by the proviso which he had tacked on to the charter, reminded him of a certain quack physician, who had only one remedy. Being called upon to attend a patient suffering with chills, he prescribed the medicine usually given for fits: "for," said he, "I cannot cure the chills, but will throw her into fits; and I'm death on fits!" His colleague seemed to be unable to obtain the repeal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad, and therefore was endeavoring to tack it on to all other roads in the State, and throw them into fits, in the hope that by some peculiar remedy, he might afterwards cure the whole batch of them.

His colleague (Mr. WALBORN,) had talked of a certain connection to be made with New York. Why how many such connections were contemplated at points within thirty miles of Harrisburg? Did the gentleman not know that a road was projected from Pinegrove to Lancaster, and that there were at least half a dozen such plans?

If the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, with sixty miles down grade, and the freight in its cars would not take it to Philadelphia instead of New York, it would be singular. It certainly would do so if allowed to make this connection at Dauphin; but if otherwise, then the infliction of the heavy rates arising from the tonnage tax would drive trade down the Susquehanna on the Northern Central railroad to Baltimore. To avoid this, place the controlling link in the hands of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, and let them seek the seaboard at Philadelphia.

The gentleman from Franklin (Mr. McCLURE,) had said that the Dauphin and Susquehanna railroad would be an important link, and the gentleman from Schuylkill (Mr. PALM,) had said that it would be worth nothing. This was a strange discrepancy.

He concluded by hoping that the bill would pass.

Mr. WALBORN said that the cars were now building to carry cattle over this road from Pittsburg to New York.

Since the year 1838 he had studied the railroad interests of the country, having at that time been connected with the Philadelphia and Columbia railroad. He had made himself acquainted with every fact, and had always advocated measures which would tend to benefit the metropolis of Pennsylvania.

As far as the question of revenue to the State was concerned, he was in reality opposed to taxing railroads; believing that duties levied upon them came directly from the pockets of the people. He had offered the proviso, however, to further the ends of justice. If it was, by any possibility, right for the Pennsylvania company to be taxed, it was equally so for the Reading.

If the House wanted to get rid of the bill they had better vote for its indefinite postponement.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) denied any intimation of having concealed the real objects of the bill, as alleged by the gentleman from Franklin,

(Mr. McCLURE.) If the object of the supplement was to make, and enable the Pennsylvania railroad company to make a connection with New York, he did not know it.

The natural effect would be to divert trade to Philadelphia, and it would be the object of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad to take freight over the Lebanon Valley railroad to Philadelphia instead of to New York. That would be their obvious policy, and with this fact so plainly before them, he was astonished that gentlemen, representing the metropolis, which was indebted more, perhaps, to the Philadelphia and Reading railroad than the Pennsylvania railroad, should offer any opposition.

As far as the question of revenue to the State was concerned, the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. WALBORN,) had no reason to oppose the supplement on these grounds, because he had himself offered a proviso imposing a tax on the Lebanon Valley, and, in fact, the whole link. The bill, as it stood, would add to the revenue.

Mr. PINKERTON said, that while it was true that the supplement provided that the Philadelphia and Reading railroad might purchase, it also gave them the right to lay a track side by side with that of the Dauphin and Susquehanna company, thereby effectually, by the power of opposition, forcing the latter company into a sale or a ruinous competition. The Philadelphia and Reading railroad had tried repeatedly, as he had before said, to buy the work between Dauphin and Harrisburg, but had failed on account of not being willing to give a reasonable price.

He disagreed with the gentleman from Northampton, (Mr. GOEPP,) that railroads should be built whenever asked, and that no regard should be paid to the rights of stockholders of those already in existence. The very object of acts of incorporation had been to afford protection. Five or six years ago, the Legislature gave power to the Dauphin and Susquehanna railroad to lay their track. Now the Legislature sought to injure them by allowing competition. If every one was to be allowed to build a road whenever disposed, why not pass a general law?

Mr. PINKERTON withdrew his motion to postpone indefinitely, and moved to postpone for the present.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that the Pennsylvania Legislature had allowed New Yorkers to extend their road to within a few miles of Auburn.—New York interests also controlled the Dauphin and Susquehanna railroad. It was to allow the Reading road to obtain for Philadelphia her just share of the business of the west and northeast, in opposition to those New York projects, that the present charter was solicited.

On the question,
Shall the bill be postponed?

It was not agreed to.

The bill being on second reading, it was moved that it be amended, so as to read that the tonnage tax should not apply to coal and lumber; carried.

Mr. THORN moved to amend the amendment, by striking out the entire proviso relative to the tonnage tax.

Further debate ensued between Messrs. WALBORN, THORN, NEALL, HAMERSLY, McCLURE and LAWRENCE, (Washington.)

Mr. THORN withdrew his amendment to the amendment.

The amendment exempting coal and lumber was accepted.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) offered to amend, by imposing the tonnage tax on that portion of the road to be purchased or constructed between Harrisburg and Dauphin.

Mr. THORN moved an amendment to the amendment, to strike out the entire tonnage tax proviso:

On the amendment to the amendment,
The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALBORN and Mr. PATTERSON, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Church, Eckman, Evans, Fearon, Foster, Goepp, Hamersly, Laird, Matthews, Sheppard, Smith (Berks,) and Thorn—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barnesley, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durbinaw, Edmunker, Glatz, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Green, Harding, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mahaffey, McClure, McCurdy, McDowell, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Price, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shafer, Smead, Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Thompson, Wagenseiler, Walhorn, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bucks,) Willistou, Wilson, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—62.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. FOSTER entered the following reasons for his vote:

The bill on the file of the House, No. 404, entitled "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Reading railroad," (authorizing that road to extend their road,) being under consideration, Mr. THORN moved to strike out a proviso imposing a tonnage tax on the company on the whole length of their road, "as long as a similar tax is chargeable on the Pennsylvania railroad company." I voted "aye," because I believed said proviso was inserted in the Committee on Railroads for the purpose of hereafter obtaining the influence of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company, in favor of abolishing the tax on tonnage on the Pennsylvania railroad, as necessary to their own relief; and because there were not the same reasons for imposing such tax upon the Philadelphia and Reading railroad as upon the Pennsylvania railroad company—the latter coming directly in competition with the public works, and compelling the State to dispose of them to that incorporation at its own price.

The question being, on the amendment of Mr. SMITH.

Mr. THOMPSON offered an amendment to the amendment: Provided, That the same tonnage should be charged on the Pennsylvania railroad.

The amendment to the amendment was accepted.

Mr. PATTERSON moved to amend the amendment of Mr. SMITH, by inserting the tax to be charged over the road from Dauphin to Reading; on this,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SMITH (Berks,) and Mr. PATTERSON, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Barnesley, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Custer, Dodds, Durbinaw, Edmunker, Foster, Glatz, Gray, Green, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Mann, Mahaffey, McClure, McCurdy, McDowell, Neall, Palm, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Rohrer, Shafer, Shields, Smead, Stuart, Taylor, Wagenseiler, Walborn, Warden, Wigton and Wolf—46.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Church, Dismant, Eckman, Evans, Fearon, Galley, Goepp, Gratz, Hamersly, Hill, Lawrence, (Washington,) Matthews, Nill, Oaks, Pennell, Quigley, Ramsdell, Sheppard, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Thompson, Thorn, Walker, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson and Lawrence, Speaker—30.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On the amendment as amended,

Mr. IRISH moved to strike out after the words "to be paid semi-annually."

Pending the question, the SPEAKER requested a suspension of the discussion.

Senate bill No. 625, authorizing school directors to borrow money, was passed.

House bill No. 402, to incorporate the Fall Brook railroad and coal company, was called up by Mr. WILLISTON.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) moved to amend by imposing a tonnage tax of three mills per mile.

The hour of five having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until 9½ o'clock, A. M.

COMMUNICATION

Of JAMES GOWEN, Esq., of Philadelphia, suggesting the propriety of a reduction of the tax now levied upon live stock.

MOUNT AIRY, March 4, 1859.

Hon. GEO. W. HAMERLY, H. R.:—

Dear Sir: Instead of memorializing the Legislature, I prefer invoking it through you, my immediate Representative, and shall esteem it a favor if you will present the grievance of the tax on cattle in such shape as will bring it before the Legislature, with the view of having the tax repealed.

Happily, the finances of the State are in a condition to justify the Legislature to attempt some reduction of the burdens so long and patiently borne by the citizens of Pennsylvania, and of which the broad shoulders of the farmers were made to carry the largest portion.

The condition and value of the cattle of Pennsylvania are far below the standard or estimate her soil and climate should warrant or suggest. I would not, however, be understood to maintain that this anomalous condition is wholly owing to the tax, but I have little hesitation in saying that it has retarded improvement in this important branch of the agricultural industry of the Commonwealth.

Had the tax been levied on each cow, without reference to her value, it might have led only to keeping fewer; but as it has been levied by a per centage on the value of the animals, it tended not only to limit their number, but to degrade them in character and quality.

It is a reproach to the husbandry of Pennsylvania that her product of beef, milk, butter and cheese, compares so unfavorably with that of New York and other States, to which Pennsylvania is made tributary, in the buying and consuming much of their beef, butter and cheese, all of which it should be her pride, as it is her interest, to produce a supply, at least for her own wants.

In conclusion, I pray you to make an effort to unuzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn, so far as the tax upon him is concerned.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES GOWAN.

No. 516.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

GRITMAN, Judiciary—Feb. 25.

AN ACT securing more effectually prompt payment on the part of insurance companies.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and immediately after the passage of this act, all insurance companies in the State of Pennsylvania, whether they be stock, mutual or otherwise, which have insured, or may hereafter insure, against loss or losses by fire or otherwise, real, personal or any other kind of property, to whatever amount, and said property insured, or any part thereof has been heretofore or shall hereafter be destroyed by any of the means it is insured against, whereby the amount insured or any part thereof becomes due and payable, or has at any time heretofore become due, and payable by the insurer to the insured, and any one or more of the said insurance companies thus liable, or to become liable, hath refused or shall hereafter refuse payment to the insured for the amount lost and insured against, for payment of which the insured have instituted suit or suits at law, pending and undetermined at the passage of this act, or may hereafter institute suit or suits at law, against the company or companies liable, and shall recover judgment for the amount insured or any part thereof, said company or companies sued shall from the time the amount or any part thereof shall become due, as contracted in the policy or policies of insurance, or where suits are now pending in such cases, from the date of the passage of this act until payment of the amount due and owing is made, be subject to and compelled to pay in addition to the principal and interest thereon claimed and recovered, or to be recovered on the policy itself, whatever damages a jury or arbitrators may choose to impose upon them; but in no case shall such damages exceed the rate of five per cent. per month, nor be less than two per cent. per month on the dollar; and whatever per cent. per month on the dollar shall be assessed as damages, under this act, shall be calculated on the principal sum due and owing the insured, in given judgment, in a suit or suits at law, to the day of judgment, rendered, and shall also be calculated on said judgment recovered, until paid the same as interest.

SEC. 2. That this act shall take effect immediately upon its passage and approval, and shall apply to all insurance companies against which suit or suits at law are now pending, except that the per cent. per month on the dollar above regulated, shall be calculated on suits brought heretofore and now pending only from the time of the passage and approval of this act.

No. 444.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

GRATZ, Judiciary—Feb. 25.

AN ACT relative to the time in which courts are required to file their charges and decide motions for new trials.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That whenever a judge of any of the courts of this Commonwealth shall be requested to reduce the opinion of the court to writing and file the same, of record agreeably to the twenty-fifth section of the act of the twenty-fourth of February, one thousand eight hundred and six, entitled "An Act to alter the judiciary system of this Commonwealth;" it shall be the duty of the judge who delivers the opinion of the court to reduce the same to writing, and file the same of record within thirty days thereafter, and in all cases tried before the passage of this act, in which the court have been requested to reduce their opinion to writing, and file the same as aforesaid; and the opinion has not been reduced to writing and filed, it shall be the duty of the judge who delivered the same to reduce the opinion to writing, and file the same of record within thirty days after the passage of this act.

SEC. 2. That in all in all civil suits tried in the several courts of this Commonwealth, in which verdicts are rendered in favor of the plaintiffs, and motions are entertained by the court, or rules granted for new trials, it shall be the duty of the court to decide upon and dispose of such motions and rules within thirty days after argument of such rule or motion; otherwise judgment shall be entered on such verdict, by the prothonotaries or clerks of the respective courts.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 50.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, March 9, 1859.

The Senate met and was called to order at the usual hour.

The SPEAKER in the Chair.

Prayer was offered by Rev. J. G. Martz.

The Journal of yesterday was partly read; when, on motion of Mr. FETTER, its further reading was dispensed with.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. WRIGHT, (Corporations,) reported with amendment, House bill No. 265, "An Act to incorporate the trustees of the Young Men's Christian association of Philadelphia."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 326, "An Act to incorporate the Fairmount market company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the poor house of Roxborough, in Philadelphia county."

Mr. STEELE, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the borough of Pottsville."

Mr. SHAEFFER, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act incorporating the village of Port Carbon into a borough."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the Tinklepaugh coal company to borrow money."

Mr. SCHELL, (same,) "A supplement to the several acts incorporating the Dauphin and Susquehanna coal company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Big Meuntain improvement company."

Mr. GAZZAM, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to incorporate the American piano and melodeon savings company of Pennsylvania."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Cochranville hall association."

Mr. STEELE, (Canals and Inland Navigation,) as committed, House bill No. 552, "A supplement to the act for the improvement of the navigation of the Lackawaxen river."

Mr. PENNEY, (Education,) as committed, House bill No. 637, "An Act to provide for the payment of certain moneys by the school directors in Williams township, Northampton county."

Mr. SCHINDEL, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act attaching the farm of Samuel Gladfelter, in Taylor township, Fulton county, to Clay Township school district, in Huntingdon county."

Mr. YARDLEY, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 360, "An Act to abolish a school district in Upper Salford township, Montgomery county."

Mr. CRAIG, (Private Claims and Damages,) with amendment, "An Act for the relief of Mrs. Sabina Bachman."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act for the relief of Cookman and Brother, of Philadelphia."

Mr. YARDLEY, from the Committee to Compare Bills, made a report.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. TURNEY read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act relative to verdicts and judgment in ejectment."

Mr. SHAEFFER, "A supplement to an act relative to common schools in the city of Lancaster."

Mr. THOMPSON, "An Act relative to the appointment of tax collectors in Montgomery county."

Also, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Chestnut Hill and Cheltenham railroad company."

Mr. COFFEY, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Ligonier bridge company."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. GAZZAM moved to reconsider the vote on Senate bill No. 451, "An Act relating to banks;" which was agreed to; and the further consideration of the bill was postponed for the present.

SPECIAL ORDER.

Senate bill No. 18, "An Act to establish a general banking law," came up in order on second reading.

The question being upon the first section.

Mr. MYER moved to strike out all after the enacting clause, and insert the original bill.

On which,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MYER and Mr. RANDALL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Brewer, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Rutherford, Schell and Yardley—7.

NAYS—Messrs. Blood, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Keller, Marselis, Nunemacher, Parker, Randall, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—20.

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring upon the first section of the bill, as reported by the special committee,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FETTER and Mr. SHAEFFER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Myer, Parker, Randall, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Thompson and Cresswell, Speaker—13.

NAYS—Messrs. Blood, Brewer, Fetter, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Nunemacher, Palmer, Rutherford, Schell, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Yardley—15.

So the question was determined in the negative, and the bill fell.

Mr. CRAIG paired off with Mr. BELL.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

Senate bill No. 498, "An Act relative to the publication of the opinions of the supreme court in certain cases," came up in order on third reading.

Mr. TURNEY hoped the bill would not pass. It can effect no good, and may, possibly result in injury. The opinion of a minority of the judges of the supreme court is not law, although it may be very good argument. Our law books are already large and voluminous enough, without still further encumbering them with these opinions. He cited a single case, in which the minority opinion of one of the judges would occupy one hundred pages or more. There was no call for the passage of the bill—it was not demanded either by the people or the profession, and he hoped it would not pass.

Mr. SCOFIELD said the same bill was before the Senate at the last session, and he had stated, yesterday, that it had passed unanimously; but he since found that the Senator from Westmoreland and the present SPEAKER had voted against it. The profession, he said, did demand the publication of discussions on questions before the supreme court. Dissenting arguments ought sometimes to be spread before the people, as well as the majority opinions, which are alone given to them. He instanced cases in which the publication of these opinions would have resulted beneficially. The volumes of reports will not be enlarged by their publication, for the law only authorizes the reporter to select such cases of minority decisions as he may deem necessary and important to the public and the profession.

Mr. TURNEY still further opposed the bill. He had no doubt the reporter would like to have it pass; it was of the same cloth as another bill which had been negatived, to bind the reports in sheep skin instead of calf, by which there was a speculation of some forty cents per volume.

On the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FETTER and Mr. SCOFIELD, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Coffey, Finney, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Miller, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield, Shaeffer, Steele, Welsh, Wright and Yardley—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Gazzam, Keller, Marselis, Nunemacher, Penney, Randall, Schindel, Thompson, Turney and Cresswell, Speaker—14.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senate bill No. 481, "An Act to amend an act to apportion the city of Philadelphia into single senatorial and representative districts," approved April 22, 1858, came up in order on third reading.

Mr. COFFEY opposed the bill upon constitutional grounds, and entered into a brief argument in support of his position, which

Mr. FINNEY answered, and supported the passage of the bill.

Mr. GAZZAM thought the case presented in the bill, was almost analogous to the correction of a clerical error. He saw no objection to the passage of the bill.

Mr. SCOFIELD seconded the views of Mr. COFFEY in opposition to the bill. The defect which it is proposed to remedy, looked like a mistake; but the Legislature is supposed to make no mistakes of that character. The passage of the bill, he thought, would establish a dangerous precedent.

On the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCOFIELD and Mr. RANDALL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Blood, Brewer, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Keller, Marselis, Nunemacher, Randall, Schell, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Gregg, Harris, Miller, Palmer, Parker, Penny, Rutherford, Scofield, Thompson and Yardley—12.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

House bill No. 226, "An Act to provide for the election of an additional law judge in Allegheny county" came up in order.

Mr. TURNEY did not wish to oppose the passage of the bill strenuously, but he thought there were good reasons why it should be voted down. He had gleaned some statistics, with regard to the judicial districts, which showed the following facts:

Westmoreland .....	51,726
Indiana .....	27,170
Armstrong.....	29,561	108,561
Washington.....	44,939
Fayette.....	39,112
Green.....	22,186	106,187
Somerset.....	24,416
Bedford.....	23,052
Fulton.....	7,597
Franklin.....	29,904	88,518
Beaver.....	26,689
Butler.....	30,346
Lawrence.....	21,079	78,114
Huntingdon.....	24,786
Blair.....	21,777
Cambria.....	17,773	64,335
Mercer.....	33,172
Venango.....	18,310
Clarion.....	23,565
Jefferson.....	13,518	88,568
Dauphin.....	35,754
Lebanon.....	26,071	61,825

In the city of Philadelphia the population, by the census of 1850, was 408,752. They have seven law judges, three in the common pleas, three in the district court, and one nisi prius. The population, divided by the number of judges, leaves 56,964 to each judge.

In Allegheny county, where it is proposed to create a new judge on account of the amount of business, there is a population of 138,290, with three law judges—one in the common pleas, and two in the district court, which gives to each judge a population of 46,096, which is less than any of the districts enumerated, and less than one-half of several. The population of a district is a fair test of the amount of business.

Mr. SCHELL said it was true that the county of Allegheny has less population than some other judicial districts of the Commonwealth; but the Senate must remember that cases of litigation are much greater in number in manufacturing localities than in agricultural. He considered the bill to provide an additional law judge just, and should vote for it.

Mr. PENNEY was willing that the Senator from Westmoreland, or any other Senator, should call attention to the relative position of Allegheny and other judicial districts. There was, he said, from three to five fold more litigation in the district of Allegheny than in any other district in western Pennsylvania.

Mr. GAZZAM said the statistics of the Senator from Westmoreland might do well enough, if they were applicable to this year; but if he was not mistaken, they had been taken from tables prepared ten years ago. Since that time there had been a vast proportionate increase in the legal business of Allegheny over that of the districts which had been cited. The bar and people of the county were unanimous in its favor, and he hoped it would pass.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

It was determined in the affirmative.

Bills entitled as follow lie over: "An Act to incorporate the Northumberland and Juniata Railroad company," and "An Act to alter the districts of the supreme court."

Senate bill No. 477, "An Act relative to the collection of State and county taxes in Bucks county" came up in order, and passed finally.

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, the Senate receded from its amendments to "An Act relative to taxes in Tioga county," in which the House of Representatives had refused to concur.

House amendments to Senate bill No. 341, "An Act to incorporate the Columbia County agricultural, horticultural and mechanical association," having been read, were, on motion of Mr. KELLER, concurred in.

Mr. RANDALL moved that the Senate insist upon its amendments to "A further supplement to the act consolidating the city of Philadelphia," (in which the House of Representatives has refused to concur,) and that a committee of conference be appointed; which was agreed to.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, the Senate proceeded to consider House bill No. 205, "An Act authorizing the payment of the claim of John C. Couch, of Huntingdon."

Mr. SCHELL stated that since the bill had been before the Senate, yesterday, he had examined the evidence relative to the claim, in the Canal Commissioners' office, and had satisfied himself that it was just. He gave a statement of the circumstances under which it originated, and the grounds upon which he urged its passage.

Mr. SCOFIELD said it was time to put a stop to the allowance of these claims. The public works have been disposed of, and yet almost countless claims are presented for alleged damages, or based upon other pleas; and unless the Legislature closes the door upon them, and refuses to pay them, there is no telling how long the State may be called upon to pay immense sums out of the treasury, without knowing whether the claimants are entitled to them or not. He was prepared to take a stand at once, and say to them all that the door is closed, and you cannot come in with these interminable demands.

Mr. SCHELL was not disposed to go so far as to repudiate an honest claim. The claim here presented is one for lumber furnished to the State; not for damages. It was founded upon a book account, and the evidence of its justness was on file. If the Senate was not satisfied, he was perfectly willing that the bill should lie over for a week, in order to afford time for a thorough examination of the facts.

Mr. SCOFIELD did not wish the bill to lie over on his account. He might not know any more of it at the end of a week than he does now. His objection was not to this claim, particularly, but to general claims of this character. He had about made up his mind to vote for no more, and he thought it was about time they should close the door upon them, and say the hole is stopped, the sink-hole is gone. He would vote against the bill.

The bill passed finally.

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, Senate bill No. 540, "A supplement to the law providing for the continuance of a system of education by common schools," was taken up, and having passed committee of the whole, lies over.

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, the Senate proceeded to consider Senate bill No. 11, "An Act to prohibit the issuing and circulation of bank notes of a less denomination than twenty dollars."

The first section being before the Senate, in committee of the whole,

Mr. SCOFIELD moved to amend, so that banks shall not be allowed to issue notes of any description.

Mr. SCOFIELD, in proposing his amendment, briefly advocated it, remarking that its adoption would put a stop to all this objectionable system, as it ought to, and effectually relieve the public of the whole series of evils, of which so many complaints are heard, and which so many propositions are made to remedy. Instead of taking the half-way steps proposed by the Senator from Bedford, they should strike at once at the roots of the system, as his amendment proposed.

The amendment was agreed to, as also the section as amended.

The second section was adopted.

After some time the committee rose, and the bill being upon second reading,

Mr. SCHELL moved to re-insert the part of the first section stricken out in committee of the whole.

Mr. MYER moved to postpone consideration of the bill indefinitely.

Mr. MILLER hoped the motion to postpone indefinitely would not prevail. He was glad to hear the Senator from Warren express such radical views upon the question of banking; but it was strange that parties who had done so much, to entail the banking system upon the State, should, all at once, become so radical that nothing was too bad to say against it.

Mr. MYER wished to ask the Senator from Washington a question. He desired to know to what party he alluded, in the action of the Legislature heretofore.

Mr. MILLER explained. The position occupied by the Democratic party, was in favor of a specie basis. They might, in many cases, have departed from that principle, but they have, at all times, been extremely careful in creating banks. He then entered into an advocacy of Mr. SCHELL'S amendment, as one which was designed to go still further than the present law in benefiting the people. No man, he said, can say that the five dollar note law has not been beneficial, and that it has not driven out the shillings with which the State was previously flooded. That law was one which they would soon find every State in the Union adopting—Every man knows that the harvest of banks is during the circulation of small notes. Many of them live upon this kind of circulation. If the step already taken has worked a benefit, let us take one step further, and work a greater benefit. He was in favor of taking that step, and at once. In looking abroad, we find no bank issues of a small denomination. In England there is no note of a less denomination than twenty-five dollars—there are found no shillings in either France or England, and what are the benefits?

If the Senate vote against the proposition of the amendment, they will vote to go backward instead of forward. Objection has been made to it, that it cannot be carried into effect. This was the same objection which had been made to the law forbidding issues of a less denomination than five dollars. The principle of the bill was a correct one, and he would stand up for it so long as he had a vote in this body.

Mr. SCHELL did not desire to discuss the subject, because he considered the bill as hopelessly lost. He was, however, confidently impressed with the benefits which would accrue from the passage of it, and briefly urged his reasons in favor of the propositions contained in the section which he had moved to restore to the bill.

Mr. SCOFIELD said the laws which had been gotten up for the regulation of banks afford no protection, under the present system, to the note-holder. He regarded the protection which they received, just such as would be afforded by a cobweb fence, which was designed to guard the inclosure from a whole herd of buffaloes.—And yet the Senator from Washington wants us to stand up to the work. That is just what we want him to do. We want him to come up and say if he is prepared to cut off all the objectionable features at once. In his propositions towards remedying the defects in our banking system, he reminded him of a drunken man who was desirous of reform. If he were to go to the Senator from Washington as a doctor, he would say to him, after ascertaining that he had been in the habit of taking a quart a day, that he must come down to a pint. He would advise reformation step by step, instead of saying to him—

"Lock your teeth, and ne'er undo 'em,
To suffer wet damnation to run through 'em."

He hoped the amendment would be voted down, and that the Senate would come to a direct vote upon the proposition to wipe out the worthless system at once.

Mr. MARSELIS did not desire to say much upon the question. He felt dull with regard to it, for the reason that he considered the course of the Senator from Warren and others, as intended to burlesque the whole matter. The views expressed by the Senator from Warren, he felt convinced, were insincere and ironical. He briefly advocated the amendment proposed by Mr. SCHELL, and concluded by saying that an opportunity was now presented to Senators, who were honest in their position upon the bank question, of carrying out their views.

Mr. RANDALL was sorry to hear the Senator from Bedford express himself so hopelessly as to the fate of his bill. For himself, he should not weary in well doing, and should persevere until the propositions of that bill succeed. He considered the proposition of the Senator from Warren an absurdity. It was impossible to cut off the circulation of all notes, and the inconveniences to trade and commerce which would result from such a course, would be incalculable.

A short and witty discussion, irrelevant to the question, took place between Messrs. SCOFIELD, SCHELL, COFFEY, MYER and GAZZAM, after which

Mr. GAZZAM advocated the proposition of the Senator from Warren, and expressed his opposition to the amendment of the Senator from Bedford.

Mr. SCOFIELD said he was a little mortified that the Senator from Philadelphia, (Mr. MARSELIS,) should doubt his sincerity in the expression of his sentiments with reference to the system of banking. He had but uttered the sentiments which he had cherished for years. He was serious in those views. He looked upon bank charters as deceitful. So long as we send out charters, we give to parties the opportunity of deceiving the people, and offer them temptations to defraud the public. The restraints placed upon them have no more power in controlling them, than had the green withs with which they sought to fetter the giant limbs of Samson. We are taught by our Savior, when we pray, to say, lead us not into temptation; and yet we send out these bank charters, and lead men into temptation, from which they often fall into errors, where friends and fortunes may be lost and swallowed up, and reputation forever ruined.

Mr. WELSH spoke at length upon the question, during which he said, that no man upon the floor of the Senate would go further than he in the support and advocacy of reform in the banking system of the Commonwealth.—But he deemed that all such measures, to be effectual and productive of good results, should be properly digested and most carefully discussed. The practical effect of all reforms should be calmly considered; and he held that it was unwise to deal in mere abstractions, no matter how correct they might appear in theory. He was in favor of radical reforms in the banking system, but he did not think the measure proposed by the Senator from Bedford of practical value, so long as the other States in the Union permitted their banking institutions to issue notes under the denomination of twenty dollars. He did not wonder at Senators from the city of Philadelphia advocating this proposition, because he regarded it as a positive discrimination in favor of the city banks, and against those in the country. As such, it was, in effect, no reform. It was well known that the city banks issued but few notes under twenty dollars, and banked almost entirely upon their immense deposits; while those in the rural districts were forced to rely almost altogether upon their circulation, which was principally in five and ten dollar notes, and depended but very little upon their depositors. As a practical question, the tendency of this measure would be to destroy the efficiency of the country banks, which, if they be of any use to the communities in which they are located, should be permitted to enjoy the privileges granted to them by their charters. As regards the system itself, he would not attempt to discuss that point at the present time, but he would simply say that, since he occupied a seat upon that floor, he had steadily opposed the increase of banking capital. He alluded to the argument of the Senator from Washington, that the absence of notes of a less denomination than five pounds in England, had tended to avert the financial storm which swept over this country, and asked the Senator if he had read the reports of ruin, disaster and bankruptcy in the Old World, that were brought to the United States at that fearful crisis? Did not the storm in all its remorseless fury reach England and other portions of Europe? Were there no large commercial houses in that country which had tottered to the ground, and became like reeds shaken by the wind? Some of the best and proudest commercial fabrics were forced to yield to the storm that had been felt so disastrously in this country; and among the number in some degree effected at that terrible crisis, was even the powerful and influential house of George Peabody, of London.

Mr. MILLER wished to ask the Senator from York where the storm had commenced?

Mr. WELSH replied that it made no difference where the breeze first started. The question was, whether, when the crisis came, the system advocated had been able to withstand the violence of the storm. It was a stronger argument to show the fallacy of the gentleman's position, that in spite of the restriction, in the very face of the English system, the merchants and people of England had been compelled to succumb to the blast. The mere fact that the banks in this country issued notes under the denomination of twenty dollars, had nothing to do with the recent revolutions in our currency. The cause was deeper and wider, and more general in its nature; which cause, at this time, he could not stop to discuss. He was clearly in favor of a specie currency, and would do anything in his power to protect the people from the growing evils which result from indiscriminate paper issues. If any reform be needed, and he did not question this fact, let it fall equally and alike upon all the banking institutions of this Commonwealth, which were established upon the same common basis, and belonged to the same common system. The point at issue was, would this measure correct the evils alluded to, when other States around us did not restrict their circulation in the same manner. It was purely a practical question, not an abstract one, and as such, should be treated in a practical manner. He did not ask for the adoption of any measure in reference to this subject, which was not calculated to benefit all classes in Pennsylvania; and it would always be his pride and pleasure to support and advocate any proposition which would result in the prosperity and happiness of her thriving and industrious citizens.

Mr. SCHELL said there were no banks in the district he represented. In his course upon the question of banks, he was only carrying out the views of his constituents; and he had no wish to quarrel with any one who goes against the bill proposed by him, or who complies with the wish of his constituents in laboring for any privileges demanded by them.

Mr. MILLER explained, that for the three years he had occupied a seat here, he had never voted for the charter of a single bank. An application for a charter had been made last winter from his district, and he had been written to and requested to take charge of the bill. He had called it up, but he had, at the same time, requested that it might be killed. That was his record upon the bank question.

Pending the discussion of this bill and the amendments, (Mr. MILLER having the floor,) a message was received from the Governor, and read, as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER.
Harrisburg, March 9, 1859. }

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—I have approved and signed the following acts of the General Assembly, viz:

"A supplement to an act to incorporate the borough of York."

"An Act relating to road views and damages in Northumberland county."

"An Act to authorize the Schuylkill Valley railroad company, in the county of Schuylkill, to extend their railroad from some suitable point near the town of Tuscarora, to connect with the Little Schuylkill railroad, at or near the town of Tamaqua."

"A supplement to the act to incorporate the Byberry and Bensalem turnpike road company, approved March 10, 1848."

"An Act to empower the judges of the court of common pleas of the counties of Beaver, Butler and Lawrence, to establish a tariff of fees and costs in equity cases."

"A supplement to an act to incorporate the Delaware and Schuylkill basin company, passed April 9, 1855."

"An Act to incorporate the Port Kennedy railroad company, of Montgomery county."

"A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Buffalo and Bradford railroad company," approved March 14, 1856.

"A further supplement to an act regulating the manner of voting at the general election in the counties of Wayne and Schuylkill."

"A further supplement to the act incorporating the Marshall savings institution of Philadelphia."

"A further supplement for the division of the borough of Allentown into wards."

"An Act to change the place of holding the general and township elections in the township of Upper Paxton, in Dauphin county."

"An Act for the sale of the real estate of Wm. H. Richter, deceased."

"An Act relating to the borough of Pottstown."

"An Act to annul the marriage contract between William R. Priestly and Annie V. M. Priestly."

"A supplement to an act to incorporate the Johnstown woolen manufacturing company."

"Resolution to pay D. R. McClain, late a member of the House of Representatives."

"Resolution to pay the expenses of the late committee, appointed by a resolution of the House of Representatives of 1858, to investigate the condition of certain banks."

"Resolution relative to the salary of George W. Wood, deceased, as a member of the House of Representatives."

"An Act relative to elections in Somerset county."

WM. F. PACKER.

On leave given, Mr. FINNEY read in his place, "An Act relative to the collection of additional road tax in the borough of Titusville, in Crawford county."

The hour of one having arrived, Senate adjourned to meet at three P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Agreeably to order, the Senate met at 3 o'clock.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. MARSELIS, (Banks,) reported as committed, "An Act authorizing the Philadelphia Bank to buy additional real estate."

Mr. BLOOD, (Pensions and Gratuities,) as committed, "An Act for the relief of Mary Washington, a widow of an old soldier."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. GREGG read in his place and presented to the chair, "An Act authorizing the construction of a ferry on the West Branch of the Susquehanna river, at Beaver's furnace, in Union county."

Mr. FETTER, "An Act to change the place of holding elections in Newville, Cumberland county."

Mr. FINNEY, "A supplement to an act relative to the regulation and limitation of sequestrations in case of the Erie canal company."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. HARRIS moved to reconsider the vote on Senate bill No. 18, "An Act to establish a general banking law;" and on his motion, consideration of the same was postponed for the present.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

Bills entitled as follow passed:

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, House bill No. 184, "An Act to exonerate James T. Leonard, prothonotary of Clearfield county, from the payment of costs, taxes, &c., on his commission."

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, Senate bill No. 556, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Blockley and Merion turnpike and plank road company."

On motion of Mr. BLOOD, Senate bill No. 426, "An Act to increase the pay of county commissioners and auditors of the county of Clarion."

On motion of Mr. COFFEY, Senate bill No. 402, "A supplement to an act incorporating the University of Kittanning."

On motion of Mr. FETTER, Senate bill No. 514, "An Act repealing a supplement to an act incorporating the borough of Newport, Perry county."

On motion of Mr. FINNEY, Senate bill No. 487, "An Act relative to the fees of the sheriff of Crawford county."

On motion of Mr. FRANCIS, House bill No. 553, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Venango railroad company."

On motion of Mr. GREGG, House bill No. 271, "An Act authorizing a change of the name, style and title of the Allegheny and Bald Eagle railroad, coal and iron company, in Centre county."

On motion of Mr. HARRIS, House bill No. 287, "A supplement to an act relative to the North Western coal and iron company."

On motion of Mr. KELLER, House bill No. 297, "An Act authorizing the judges of the court of quarter sessions of Columbia county, to settle the accounts of Cunningham township."

House bill No. 46, "An Act authorizing the registration of all inventories exhibited in the register's office of Lancaster county," passed committee of the whole, after being amended variously, and lies over on second reading.

On motion of Mr. MILLER, House bill No. 569, "An Act relative to the election of additional supervisors in Cross Creek township, Washington county."

On motion of Mr. SCHINDEL, "An Act to incorporate the Ario iron company."

On motion of Mr. PALM, House bill No. 281, "A supplement to the several acts incorporating the borough of Schuylkill Haven."

On motion of Mr. PARKER, House bill No. 260, "An Act to incorporate the People's insurance company, to be located in the city of Philadelphia."

On motion of Mr. MYER, Senate bill No. 423, "An Act in relation to Edith T. Greeno, of Cauton township, Bradford county."

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, Senate bill No. 528, "An Act to exempt certain real estate in Allegheny county from the payment of collateral inheritance tax."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, Senate bill No. 131, "An Act to incorporate the Union railroad company."

On motion of Mr. STEELE, House bill No. 552, "A supplement to an act for the improvement of the navigation of the Lackawaxen river."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, "An Act authorizing the Philadelphia Bank to buy additional real estate."

On motion of Mr. FETTER, "An Act to change the place of holding elections in Newville, Cumberland county."

On motion of Mr. SHAEFFER, Senate bill No. 557, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Dock coal company under the act of assembly of April 7, 1849, entitled 'An Act to encourage manufacturing operations in this Commonwealth, and the several supplements thereto.'"

On motion of Mr. SCHINDEL, Senate bill No. 91, "An Act to incorporate the Eastern iron company."

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, House bill No. 527, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Wellsboro and Tioga plank road company."

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, "An Act relative to the register of wills in Dauphin county."

House amendments to "A supplement to the act incorporating the Middletown and Harrisburg turnpike road company," were, on motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, concurred in.

On motion of Mr. THOMPSON, House bill No. 473, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the president and managers of the Belmont Avenue and Plank road company."

On motion of Mr. GAZZAM, "An Act to incorporate the Boatmen's insurance company."

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, "An Act for the relief of Mary Washington, a widow of an old soldier."

On motion of Mr. WELSH, Senate bill No. 518, "An Act to incorporate the Hanover gas company," came up, and passed committee of the whole.

The hour of five o'clock having arrived, its consideration was postponed, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, March 9, 1859.

The SPEAKER called the House to order at 9½ o'clock.

Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Hay, of the Lutheran church.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) moved to dispense with the reading of the Journal of yesterday.

Mr. HAMERSLY objected.

The Clerk read the Journal of Tuesday.

Mr. GLATZ moved to consider Senate bill No. 438, relative to the incorporation of the Union Evangelical Lutheran congregation of the borough of York.

The motion of Mr. GLATZ was agreed to.

The bill was considered section by section, and passed finally.

Mr. PINKERTON, leave being given, called up Senate bill No. 39, entitled "A further supplement to an act relative to a burial ground and school lot in Pottsville."

The bill being on third reading, it was amended so as to exempt the bonds and mortgages from taxation.

Mr. M'CLURE offered an amendment that the premises should be properly enclosed, and used for no other purpose than the one specified.

The amendment was agreed to.

The bill passed as amended.

Mr. FLEMING moved to consider Senate bill 407, entitled "An Act to repeal a part of the fourth section of an act to appoint road commissioners to take charge of a portion of the Warren and Ridgeway turnpike road, in Elk and Forest counties," approved the 15th day of April, A. D. 1858.

The motion was agreed to.

The bill not being on file, the motion was withdrawn.

Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) moved to reconsider the vote had upon the bill incorporating the Media Bank.

On this question,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GRITMAN, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Glatz, Graham, Gratz, Green, Harding, Ketchum, Kinaey, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mehaffey, Matthews, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Price, Prondfoot, Ronse, Shaffer, Styer, Thompson, Wagenseiler, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, and Lawrence, Speaker—44.

NAYS—Messrs. Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Church, Custer, Evans, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Goepp, Gray, Gritman, Hill, Jackson, Laird, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Pnghe, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thorn, Warden, Williams, (Bedford,) Willistoa, Woodring and Zoller—36.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. PENNELL moved to postpone consideration for the present.

Mr. GRITMAN moved to amend by postponing indefinitely.

On the amendment of Mr. GRITMAN,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GRITMAN and Mr. STEVENS, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Church, Custer, Dodds, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Goepp, Gritman, Hill, Jackson, Ketchum, Laird, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Pnghe, Quigley, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Warden, Williston and Woodring—26.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Campbell, Dismant, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Fisher, Galley, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Green, Harding, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Matthews, M'Curdy, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Rouse, Shafer, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—50.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question being taken on the motion to postpone for the present, it was agreed to.

Mr. ACKER, from Committee on Corporations, reported as committed, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Cochransville Hall association of Chester county, Pa."

Mr. ACKER moved to proceed to the consideration of the above; which was agreed to.

The bill passed finally.

Mr. WALBORN moved to consider House bill No. 405, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Fairmount and Arch Street railroad company of Philadelphia."

The bill being upon second reading.

The bill passed.

Mr. M'CLURE read in place "An Act relative to costs in certain criminal cases;" and moved that the House now proceed to a re-consideration of the vote had relative to the Green and Coates Street railroad company of Philadelphia, being House bill No. 160.

The motion was withdrawn.

PRIVATE CALENDAR.

Mr. M'CLURE moved to proceed to the consideration of Private Calendar. Agreed to.

House bill No. 404, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company," was first in order.

The bill was read, as follows:

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT to an act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Reading railroad.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall and may be lawful for the president and managers of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company to extend the Lebanon Valley branch of their railroad from its present termination in the borough of Harrisburg, so as to connect with the Northern Central railroad, at or near the town of Dauphin, Dauphin county, and to enter in and upon and occupy such land as may be necessary for the same on the terms and conditions provided in the fourth section of the act passed the first day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, entitled "An Act to authorize the Governor to incorporate the Lebanon Valley railroad company;" and in the construction and use of the extension aforesaid, the said company shall have, hold and enjoy all the right, privileges and immunities that are at present secured to them; and shall be subject to the same liabilities, restrictions and provisions, as are now imposed upon them by law in other parts of the road; and the said company is hereby authorized to purchase any part of any existing railroad for the purpose of completing the connection aforesaid: Provided, That before the said company shall avail themselves of the provisions of this act, they shall agree to pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth, three mills per ton per mile on all tonnage passing over the whole length of their road, the same to be paid semi-annually, and to continue in force as long as a similar tax is chargeable on the Pennsylvania railroad company.

The question was on the amendment of Mr. IRISH, to strike out all after the word "semi-annually."

Mr. THORN. The gentleman from Schuylkill had said that the bill would operate injuriously to the interests of his county, and the Dauphin and Susquehanna railroad. He did not believe that such would be the case. Another gentleman had opposed the bill because he imagined that its provisions were antagonistic to the Pennsylvania railroad company. Neither did he believe this to be the fact, but thought, on the contrary, that it would enure to the benefit of the metropolis of the Commonwealth and her people.

The bill had long been on file, and the people of the State knew what it contemplated. If it was opposed by any of the officers of the Pennsylvania railroad, he had yet to hear of it. Not one word had been written by them to him, and that was the fact with reference to a majority of his colleagues; and now there were sixteen members upon the floor from the city of Philadelphia. The gentleman from Blair perhaps had, but his constituents were only interested in the road to a certain extent. It passed through their county, but it happened to be the property of Philadelphians, in their individual and corporate capacities.

Repeated opinions had been expressed here, that the members from Philadelphia were sent expressly to look after the interests of the Pennsylvania railroad company, and astonishment has been evinced that those members would favor a bill, whose provisions were inimical to the interests of that corporation. He did not care for the opinions of the Pennsylvania railroad as conflicting with those of his constituents, but they were largely interested in its success. From these same constituents not one word of instruction relative to this matter had been forwarded to their representatives. He desired this fact especially to be known.

He did not believe that the interests of the Pennsylvania company were invaded by this bill. It seemed to provide merely for a fair and honorable rivalry, which would tend, either directly or indirectly, to benefit Philadelphia, and to give to her people their only desire, which was to reap some return for their outlay of capital.

The extension of the road, as proposed, would bring trade to Philadelphia, which would otherwise seek an outlet at Baltimore. This trade was that which would naturally follow the completion of the Sunbury and Erie railroad.

If gentlemen supposed that by the proviso contained in the supplement before the House, they could obtain an additional reason for the repeal of the tonnage tax, they were mistaken. Every day that that tax remained, the chances for its repeal were lessened, and if it was not repealed, and the additional one was imposed on the Lebanon Valley railroad, the people of the State would soon, like those of New Jersey, look entirely to railroads in the Commonwealth to pay their taxes; a result to be avoided by all possible means. The present amendment then, if it carried, would have a tendency, not to repeal the tax on the Pennsylvania railroad, but to fasten an incubus on the trade of the State.

Mr. WALBORN did not desire to discuss this question further, but having been referred to, could not but reply. Every one knew that he was opposed to the imposition of a tax on any railroad in the Commonwealth. His object in insisting upon the proviso to the present bill was to protect Philadelphia, and the interests of the Commonwealth, as long as the tax remained on the Pennsylvania railroad. If the bill was allowed to pass, and if by any circumstance the Reading railroad could build the road to Dauphin, a link would be formed that now, by its non-completion, prevents freight from passing to New York through our whole State, without paying any tribute. That little link of nine miles would afford a means of direct communication via the Allegheny Valley, Sunbury and Erie, Lebanon Valley and East Pennsylvania railroads, between Pittsburgh, Erie and New York. He would ask gentlemen who were interested in the welfare of the State, whether it was right thus to allow a free avenue of trade to be opened from east and west through Pennsylvania.

He was not upon the floor now to argue the repeal of the tonnage tax, but only asked that the interests of the Commonwealth, as far as they rested in existing roads, should be protected. If the bill under consideration passed without the proviso, the treasury would lose thousands of dollars, and serious injury would result to that great corporation, the Pennsylvania railroad company.

As regarded the interests of the Pennsylvania company, he was sorry that his colleague, (Mr. THORN,) had stated that the bill was not opposed by the officers of that corporation. His information was different; for in conversation with both the president and vice-president of the company, he had learned that they fully appreciated the injury which would result to their property.

Mr. IRISH offered an amendment to the amendment, to strike out the whole proviso, after the word "connection."

Mr. WALBORN said that by this the whole proviso would be destroyed.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. WALBORN,) used strange arguments. He did not insist upon the proviso because it was an act of justice or right, or because it was constitutional, but because he desired to embarrass gentlemen in voting on the bill. Now the gentleman was Chairman of the Railroad Committee, and the supposition was that when bills were reported from that committee, they were in good faith. The gentleman professed to be in favor of the repeal of the tonnage tax, and yet imposed it on the present bill. He should vote for the bill without the clause relative to the tax, and otherwise should oppose it.

Mr. WALBORN should vote against the bill, even in its present shape. His object in inserting the proviso had been to put it in such a shape that the corporators would not use it. They would never consent to pay the tonnage tax.

Mr. THORN said that this was an extraordinary admission, and he hoped would be put upon the record. Here was a gentleman clamoring for the repeal of the tonnage tax, and asserting that in this course he was sustained by his constituents, and yet he was opposing free trade, which would benefit Philadelphia, upon a road forty miles in length. This was consistency with a vengeance. From such hypocrisy, "Good Lord deliver us."

Mr. IRISH had offered his amendment that the House might act consistently. He was not aware that the people wanted the tonnage tax imposed on this road, or on any other road on which it did not already exist.

Where did the proposal come from to impose this tonnage tax, except from a corporation who attempted to dictate to the Legislature what they should do?

The question being on the amendment to the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALBORN and Mr. HARDING, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Bryson, Campbell, Church, Durboraw, Eckman, Evans, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Goepf, Good, Gratz, Hamersly, Irish, Kinney, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Matthews, Nill, Quigley, Shepard, Smith, (Berks,) Styer, Taylor, Thorn, Walker, Warden, Wilcox, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Wilson, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—38.

NAYS—Messrs. Aoker, Barnsley, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Ellmaker, Glatz, Graham, Green, Gray, Harding, Hill, Hottenstine, Keneagy, Ketchum, Mann, McClure, Neall, Palm, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pugh, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rouse, Shields, Smead, Stoneback, Thompson, Wagenseller, Walborn, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Withrow, Wolf and Woodring—41.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question being on the amendment,
It was disagreed to.

The question then being on the section as before amended.

Mr. PINKERTON offered an amendment, authorizing the Pennsylvania and Reading railroad to purchase the road, but not to construct a new one.

The amendment was lost.

The bill being on second reading,

The question, shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PATTERSON and Mr. HARDING, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Custer, Dismant, Eckman, Ellmaker, Evans, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Goepf, Good, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, McClure, McCurdy, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Peirce, Proudfoot, Rohrer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wilcox, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Woodring and Lawrence, Speaker—50.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Barnsley, Bayard, Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Church, Douds, Durbarow, Foster, Galley, Graham, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Keneagy, Kinney, Laird, Matthews, Miller, Palm, Pennell, Pinkerton, Price, Quigley, Rouse, Taylor, Thompson, Walborn, Wiley and Zoller—33.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

It was moved that the rules be suspended, and that the bill pass to a third reading; not agreed to.

PRIVATE CALENDAR.

The following bills being on second reading, were passed finally.

No. 406. "An supplement to an act incorporating the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company."

No. 411. "An Act changing the name of Prescott Packard Peck."

No. 412. "An Act relating to the records of Union county."

No. 415. "An Act authorizing the school directors of the borough of Auburn, in the county of Schuylkill, to borrow money."

No. 430. "An Act repealing an act relative to licenses on vehicles in the cities of Pittsburg and Allegheny, and the boroughs thereto adjoining."

No. 435. "An Act to authorize A. H. McHenry, guardian of minor children of the late Thomas Baab, to invest certain moneys belonging to such minor children in real estate."

No. 436. "An Act to provide for the recording of a plot in the town of Ridgway, Elk county."

No. 437. "An Act to abolish the office of sealer of weights and measures in Clearfield county," amended to include Green, Lebanon, Huntingdon, Elk and McKean counties.

Sen. 222. "An Act relative to the township of Croyle, in the county of Cambria."

Sen. 220. "A supplement to an act authorizing the appointment of an auctioneer in the borough and township of Wilkesbarre, Luzerne county, approved the 5th day of March, 1858."

No. 446. "A further supplement to the act consolidating the city of Philadelphia."

No. 128. "An Act to authorize the citizens of Butler township, Schuylkill county, hereafter to elect but one supervisor."

No. 271. "An Act to confer on Henry Broderick, of Carbon county, the rights and privileges of a child born in lawful wedlock."

No. 198. "An Act relating to trustees of Farmers' high school of Pennsylvania."

Mr. BARLOW moved to amend so as to make it illegal for the courts to grant licenses for the sale of liquor within two miles of the building.

Also, an amendment authorizing the transfer of the minerals belonging to the State, now in the Insane Asylum at Harrisburg, to be transferred to the Farmer's high school.

A rambling debate took place on these amendments.

Mr. M'CLURE called the previous question. The call was sustained.

The question being on the first amendment, The yeas and nays were required by Mr.

BARLOW and Mr. RAMSDELL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolct, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durbarow, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Graham, Gratz, Gritman, Hamersly, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Miller, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Proudfoot, Price, Pugh, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Rouse, Shaffer, Sheppard, Shields, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow and Woodring—68.

NAYS—Messrs. Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Glatz, Good, Gray, Harding, Keneagy, Laird, Neall, Smith, (Berks,) Styer, Thorn, Wolf, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—15.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The question being on the second amendment, The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WILLISTON and Mr. ECKMAN, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Barlow, Bayard, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Dodds, Durbarow, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Foster, Graham, Irish, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Miller, Oaks, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rose, Shaffer, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Wagenseller, Walker, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Willson, Withrow, and Zoller—45.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Church, Custer, Dismant, Galley, Glatz, Good, Gratz, Gray, Gritman, Harding, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Laird, Neall, Nill, Palm, Pinkerton, Price, Pugh, Rohrer, Rouse, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Styer, Thorn, Walborn, Warden, Witman, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Wolf, Woodring and Lawrence, Speaker—43.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The bill as amended passed finally.

Mr. M'CLURE asked leave to make a motion. Leave being given, he moved that when the House adjourns, it do so meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock; agreed to.

No. 451. "An Act to authorize the election of two additional supervisors in Washington and Richhill townships, Greene county."

No. 452. "An Act conferring upon Sarah Ann, Melissa, Warren B., Nancy, Ellen and Nicholas D. Evans, minor children of David C. Evans, deceased, and Catharine Evans, all the rights of children born in lawful wedlock."

No. 521. "An Act to incorporate the Boatman's life, stock and fire insurance annuity and trust company."

No. 523. "An Act supplementary to an act relating to roads, highways and bridges, in the counties of Warren, Venango and McKean, approved 9th of April, 1844."

No. 524. "An Act to make George William Eshelman an heir of J. Middleton Whitehill and his wife, Elizabeth S. Whitehill, and to confer on him the name of George William Whitehill."

No. 525. "An Act to incorporate the Boatman's insurance company."

House bill No. 503. "Supplement to an act incorporating the Mercer and New Castle railroad company."

No. 556. "An Act to incorporate the Pennsylvania annual conference of the Methodist Protestant church."

Senate No. 300. "An Act for the appointment of auditors in Tunkhannock, and changing the time of holding borough elections."

Mr. PRICE asked unanimous consent of House, to re-consider the vote on the final passage of House bill 398, to incorporate the Mount Joy savings institution.

The House granted its consent.

On the final passage of the bill, the further consideration was postponed for the present.

House bill No. 568. "An Act relative to the hunting of deer with dogs in Morris township, Tioga county."

No. 555. "An Act for the employment of vagrants in Allegheny county."

No. 54. "An Act relative to school taxes in the county of Jefferson."

Senate bill No. 119. "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Allegheny and Buffalo Run plank road company."

House bill No. 572. "A supplement to an act to incorporate the city of Erie."

Mr. LAIRD offered a new section; which was agreed to.

Mr. WILLISTON, leave being given, read in place a bill authorizing the collecting of taxes for support of the poor in Tioga county.

Also, petitions.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) read "An Act relative to justices of the peace in Pennsylvania."

Also, "An Act to authorize the managers of the Richland turnpike company to borrow money."

Mr. GLATZ, (from Committee of Corporations,) reported as committed, Senate bill No. 525. "An Act relative to Wrightsville, York county."

Mr. CHURCH read in place, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Eastern market company of Philadelphia."

Mr. EVANS offered a resolution requiring the Auditor General to give a statement of the present condition of accounts between the Commonwealth and Pittsburg and Connellsville railroad company, and moved to proceed to its consideration.

The motion was not agreed to.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented messages from the Governor, in writing, which was read, as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
Harrisburg March 9, 1859. }

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—I have approved and signed the following acts of the General Assembly, viz: On the 7th inst.:

"A supplement to an act to incorporate the borough of York."

On the 8th inst.:

"An Act relating to road views and road damages in Northumberland county."

"An Act to authorize the Schuylkill Valley railroad company, in the county of Schuylkill, to extend their railroad from some suitable point near the town of Tascara, to connect with the Little Schuylkill railroad, at or near the town of Tamaqua."

"A supplement to the act to incorporate the Byberry and Bensalem turnpike road company, approved March 10, 1848."

"An Act to empower the judges of the court of common pleas of the counties of Beaver, Butler and Lawrence, to establish a tariff of fees and costs in equity cases."

"A supplement to an act to incorporate the Delaware and Schuylkill basin company, passed April 9th, 1858."

"An Act to incorporate the Port Kennedy railroad company, of Montgomery county."

"A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Buffalo and Bradford railroad company," approved the 14th of March, A. D. 1856.

"A further supplement to an act regulating the manner of voting at the general election, in the counties of Wayne and Schuylkill, approved April 8, 1857."

"A further supplement to the act incorporating the Marshall savings institution of Philadelphia."

"A further supplement for the division of the borough of Allentown into wards."

"An Act to change the place of holding the general and township elections, in the township of Upper Paxton, Dauphin county."

"An Act for the sale of the real estate of Wm. H. Richter, deceased."

"An Act relating to the borough of Pottstown."

"An Act to annul the marriage contract between William R. Priestly and Anna V. M. Priestly."

"A supplement to an act to incorporate the Johnstown woolen manufacturing company."

On the 5th inst.:

"Resolution to pay D. R. McClain, late a member of the House of Representatives."

"Resolution to pay the expenses of the late committee appointed by a resolution of the House of Representatives of 1858, to investigate the condition of certain banks."

On the 8th inst.:

"Resolution relative to the salary of George M. Wood, dec'd, as a member of the House."

On the 9th inst.:

"An Act relative to elections in Somerset county,"

WM. F. PACKER.

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER.

Harrisburg, March 7, 1859.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—I have carefully considered the bill presented for my approval, entitled "An Act to incorporate the City building association," and, as I cannot approve its provisions, it is herewith returned to the House of Representatives, in which it originated, for reconsideration.

From the title of the bill, no other rational inference could be drawn, than that the object of the proposed corporation was to erect buildings for sale, or for the use of the corporators; but upon a careful examination of its provisions it will be discovered that the business contemplated is the loan of money to such of the shareholders as will bid upon competition the highest premium for its use. By this system, it is morally certain that he whose necessities are the greatest, will be the highest bidder, whilst it is equally certain that he can, of all others, the least afford to pay an exorbitant interest for the use or loan of money. The result will necessarily be, that the stockholders who have money to lend will make very large profits from the association, whilst those who are compelled to borrow will not only lose the capital paid by them, but, through the means of fines, assessments, forfeitures and premiums, will greatly endanger the loss of any other property they may own, and thus encumber.

Building associations in the city of Philadelphia, where it is proposed to locate the company named in this bill, may be incorporated by the court of common pleas of that city; but the court would be powerless to incorporate such an association as this bill contemplates, for in no proper sense could it be called a building association. If it is the province of the title to indicate truly the purposes of the enactment, this bill should be entitled "An Act to incorporate a company to loan money to such stockholders as will pay the highest premium for the loan."

At the last session of the General Assembly, a bill somewhat similar in its provisions to the one now before me, received the reluctant approval of the Executive; but subsequent information and reflection have entirely satisfied me that the incorporation of such associations is wrong in principle, and productive, practically, of the most mischievous results.

Entertaining these views, the bill under consideration cannot receive the Executive approval.

WM. F. PACKER.

On motion of Mr. GOEPP, it was agreed to consider the bill referred to in the veto message on Friday next.

Senate bill relative to the Middletown and Harrisburg turnpike road, was considered, on motion of Mr. WITMAN. The bill passed with an amendment, vacating a certain portion.

Mr. HAMERSLY read in place, "An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Foreign steamship company."

Mr. QUIGLEY read in place, "An Act to incorporate the Delaware and Schuylkill steam tug company."

Also, one to incorporate the Union building association.

Mr. HARDING, read in place, "An Act to change the name of W. C. Teviss, and moved to proceed to its consideration; agreed to, and the bill passed.

The SPEAKER adjourned the House until this afternoon at 3 P. M.

ERRATA.—In Mr. WALBORN'S speech of Tuesday, March 7, insert "Allegheny Valley railroad," as making a connection between New York and Pittsburg, instead of "Lehigh Valley railroad," or strike out the sentence "the Dauphin and Susquehanna was a connecting link between Harrisburg and New York," and insert "the roads east of Reading were connecting links between Harrisburg and New York."

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House convened again at 3 o'clock, and was called to order by the SPEAKER.

Mr. BARNESLEY, from the Committee to Compare Bills, made report; which was read.

BILLS IN PLACE.

The following bills, on leave, were read in place and presented to the Chair.

Mr. NILL, "An Act to incorporate a ferry across the Susquehanna river."

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) "An Act extending the limits of the borough of Bellville, Washington county, for school purposes."

Mr. PATTERSON, "An Act to incorporate the Odd Fellows' hall association, of Thompsonstown, Juniata county."

Also, "An Act annexing buildings of Wm. Brulton, to Beale township, Juniata county."

Also, "An Act to require the overseers of the poor of Delaware township, Juniata county, to give bonds."

Mr. WILCOX, "A supplement to an act for the greater security of title," &c.

Mr. MILLER, "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Meadville gas and water company," was taken up, and, on his motion, passed.

Mr. WITMAN, "An Act relative to the office of register of wills in Dauphin county," which, on his motion, was taken up and passed.

Mr. WALKER, "An Act to change the manner of voting in Somerset county."

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. LAWRENCE, of Washington, (Ways and Means,) as committed, "An Act to authorize the Auditor General to re-open and adjust the account of James Mitchell, late treasurer of Lawrence county."

Mr. THORN, (Railroads,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Lykens Valley railroad and coal company."

Mr. SIYER, (same,) with amendment, "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Citizens' passenger railroad company."

BILL PASSED.

On motion of Mr. THOMPSON, the House took up and passed the act erecting a certain part of Middlesex township, Butler county, into an independent school district.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. SMITH, (of Berks,) on leave, offered a resolution, that when the House adjourns, it do so to meet to-morrow morning at 9½ o'clock; which was read the second time.

Mr. WILLISTON stated the object for which it was proposed to hold the evening session, viz, to consider the personal liberty bill. He appealed to the American sentiment in the House to insist upon the consideration of the bill.

Mr. IRISH defended the evening session, and considered that after the House had fixed a certain evening for the bill, they should adhere to it.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) denied that his resolution had been intended to injure or affect the bill. His object had been solely to give expression to what he believed to be the sentiment of the majority of the House, that the night session was inconvenient.

Mr. GOEPP coincided with the views of Mr. SMITH in deprecating the session of to night.

Mr. WILLISTON admitted that as a rule three sessions per diem was too many. If the motion to dispense with this evening session, was modified so as to fix a certain time, it would be acceptable.

The resolution as modified by Mr. SMITH (Berks,) to dispense with the night session and fixing next Monday evening for the consideration of the bill, was agreed to, and the resolution passed.

On motion of Mr. ECKMAN, the rules being in this case dispensed with, the House took up and passed finally Senate bill No. 219, "An Act confirming the sale of the German school house and lot of ground in Myerstown, Lebanon county."

Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) on leave, read a bill to remove the seat of justice in Clearfield county from Clearfield to Curwensville."

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order, the House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of bills on the unfinished Calendar of last Tuesday.

The following were then passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence:

"An Act to encourage the destruction of foxes in Beaver county."

"A further supplement to the act regulating auctions in the city of Lancaster, &c."

"An Act for the relief of Augustus J. Koons of Lancaster county, a soldier of the war of 1812"

"A supplement to the act establishing and changing the places for holding the general elections throughout this Commonwealth."

Senate bill No. 151, "An Act to incorporate the Newtown gas light company," was passed finally.

"Supplement to an act consolidating the city of Philadelphia," was laid over under the rule.

"An Act incorporating the Union market company of Philadelphia."

"An Act erecting the county of Pine out of parts of Clearfield, Indiana, Cambria and Jefferson counties," came up in order.

Mr. TAYLOR offered the following amendment: Strike out all after the word "beginning," in the first section, till the word "three," in the eighth line, and insert the following:

"At a point on the line of Indiana and Jefferson counties, midway between the line of Clearfield county and the corner of Canoe and North Mahoning townships, in Indiana county, and running thence along the said line of Indiana and Jefferson counties, to the corner of the townships of Canoe and North Mahoning, in said county line, and to continue the same course of the line between said townships of Canoe and North Mahoning."

Mr. TAYLOR said—

There seems to be quite a rage for the erection of new counties, at the present session, as well as for the removal of seats of justice.—These new county projects are, doubtless, sometimes meritorious; but frequently they are not. In my opinion, speaking generally, new counties should only be erected where the public interests require their erection. They should not be erected, as they sometimes are, merely to promote the personal aggrandizement of a few speculators in town lots. Very frequently the formation of a small county, is a decided injury to the people. It multiplies courts and officers, and increases the burdens of taxation. Moreover, sir, there is another consideration of vastly more importance than is sometimes supposed. That is, the feebleness of a small county, in the councils of this great State. The county that has but one voice and one vote on this floor, is certainly sufficiently powerless; but divide your counties up into mere townships, until it requires two or three counties to send a single representative here, and such counties might almost as well be without a member in this House.

The large and populous counties always have, and do now, control legislation affecting the interests of the whole people. Sir, have our great public improvements, our railroads and canals, always sought the shortest and least expensive routes, the routes best calculated to develop the resources of our noble State? Certainly not. And why? Because of the controlling influence of the large and populous counties. The same is true in regard to other matters of legislation affecting the interests of every citizen. Let the city of Philadelphia have seventeen able and experienced representatives on this floor, and let them act in concert, which, whether fortunately or unfortunately, is not for me to say, they do not appear to do at present; and who can estimate the influence Philadelphia would exercise on our legislation? A power, sir, far beyond her mere numerical strength.

This Pine county project has been time and again before the Legislature during the last twelve years, and in a much less exceptionable shape than at present, and has been rejected by Legislatures of every political complexion. Now, sir, permit me briefly to examine its merits with the proposed boundaries. It is composed of parts of Clearfield, Cambria, Indiana and Jefferson counties. Clearfield is the only inconveniently large county of the four, and contains about twelve hundred square miles. Cambria, in length, thirty three miles; breadth nineteen miles; area six hundred and seventy square miles—a mountainous county—and Ebensburg, the seat of justice, is centrally situated. Indiana county, greatest length, thirty-three miles; breadth twenty-three miles; area seven hundred and seventy square miles; symmetrical in form; the seat of justice centrally located. Jefferson county has heretofore been clipped down by Elk and Forest counties to a small area. Now, it will be observed, that Clearfield is the only inconveniently large county. Yet, sir, Pine county clips the corners of these four counties, taking less than two hundred square miles of her territory, and still leaving a large portion of her people remote from her seat of justice, whilst Indiana county is asked to contribute about one hundred and sixty square miles, embracing part of Pine, most of Green, and all of Montgomery and Canoe townships, leaving Indiana county, at her northern extremity, a boot-leg about eleven miles in width. I cannot agree to any such mutilation of the noble little county I represent. Look at the diagram of Pine and the adjoining counties which I here present, and I think, sir, you will behold

"A monster of such hideous mien,
That, to be opposed, need but to be seen."

It bears on its face the evidence that speculations in town lots have more to do with it than the interests and convenience of the people.

Now, sir, as to the amendment which I have offered. It proposes to run a straight line from the point where Pine township intersects the line of Green to the Jefferson county line, giving Pine county part of Pine township, more than half of Green, and half of Montgomery and Canoe townships; sufficient for three conveniently sized townships—an area of about ninety square miles. The line which I propose runs along the ridge, or table land, dividing the eastern and western waters, and is a natural boundary. More than this I cannot agree to. I offer this amendment in sincerity and good faith. Let the advocates of Pine county, if they really desire to accommodate the people remote from the seat of justice, accept this amendment, and extend the lines somewhat into Clearfield county, and Pine county shall receive my vote and my support. I believe the people of Indiana generally, would be satisfied with the line I propose. Besides, since the construction of the branch of the Pennsylvania railroad to the borough of Indiana, there is, perhaps, less necessity than formerly for clipping Indiana county, because the business and trading interests of the people of that portion of the county embraced in Pine county, will draw them to Indiana, despite any county lines.

In conclusion, sir, allow me to say, that I have the honor to represent a people, who, for substantial thrift, intelligence, and unity of sentiment and feeling, are not excelled by those of any county in the Commonwealth. It is not without regret, that I consent to part with a citizen of our county, or a foot of our territory. But, believing that the line which I propose will not greatly injure Indiana county, whilst it will gratify a portion of my constituents, who believe that the erection of Pine county would be a benefit, I have submitted this amendment.

Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) said—

Mr. SPEAKER:—I do not know that I shall attempt to reply at length to the arguments of the gentleman from Indiana, (Mr. TAYLOR,) for any discerning mind cannot help but see at a glance, the certain fate of this meritorious question; for this simple matter of right and justice which the people praying for this new county have so long had refused them, at the hands of succeeding Legislatures, has not, I am confident, suffered much from the arguments advanced by the gentleman from Indiana.

I only desire to raise at this moment my earnest objections to the amendment offered by the gentlemen representing the opposition to this bill; for this under-handed mode of slaughter, is certainly extremely unkind; for the gentleman well knows that this amendment has the virtual effect to killing the bill, and we would prefer resting the matter here, to having it slaughtered by this side thrust, under the hypocritical pretence of good feeling and sincerity towards those who are asking this new county, and who have long suffered great inconveniences for the want of it. Now I sincerely hope this House will do us the justice of voting down this amendment, and allow us to come to a direct vote on the original bill; it will then at least have the honor of a free fight over it and a decent burial.

One word in reply to the assertions that the people of Indiana county, embraced in the proposed boundaries of this new county, are generally all opposed to it. Now the facts are just the reverse, for more than nine-tenths of all the people of Indiana county included in the lines of Pine county have petitioned this House for, and asked to be included in, the boundaries of the new county, which, however, this House, as well as the gentleman of Indiana, well knows; but we see the influences against this bill, and therefore can only ask this last simple act of justice, and that is, that this bill be not defeated, by accepting the amendment of the gentleman of Indiana, but permit the bill to fall, if fall it must, as originally prepared; for it is the only bill we can offer consistent with the constitution, and can therefore not consent to any other proposition.

On the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TAYLOR and Mr. WILCOX, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Campbell, Dodds, Dnboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fisher, Foster, Galley, Graham, Gratz, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Kinney, Mann, M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Nill, Patterson, Peirce, Prondfoot, Qoigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Ronse, Shafer, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Walker, Warden, Wigton, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow and Zoller—46.

NAYS—Messrs. Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Custer, Dismant, Evans, Fleming, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mehaffey, Matthews, Neall, Oaks, Price, Sheppard, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Walhorn, Witman, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Wolf, Woodring, and Lawrence, Speaker—33.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. PROUDFOOT offered the following amendment; which was agreed to:—Strike out the words after the words, "county line," in the fourteenth line of the first section to wit: "thence south-west to the south-east corner of Chest township, in Cambria county; thence along the eastern and southern line of said township," and insert the following, viz: "thence west along the Clearfield and Cambria county line to the north-west corner of Chest township; thence south along the line of Chest and Susquehanna townships."

The question now being, will the House agree to the bill as amended? it was determined in the negative.

"An Act relative to passenger railways in the city of Philadelphia," came up in order.

Mr. THORN moved to strike out the word "now" in the fourth line; which was agreed to.

Mr. EVANS moved to amend, as follows:

Provided, That this act shall not effect any proceedings now pending, or judgments obtained in the city of Philadelphia; which was agreed to, and the bill as amended passed.

Mr. WILLIAMS asked and obtained the unanimous consent of the House to strike from the act incorporating the Union market company certain words.

On motion of Mr. WILLISTON, the House resumed the consideration of the act to incorporate the Fall Brook railroad and coal company.

The bill, on motion of Mr. HAMERSLY, was so amended as to bring it under the provisions of the general railroad law; and by fixing the capital stock at two thousand shares, with the privilege of increasing to four thousand shares; and by inserting the usual tax clause.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 51.

The fourth section of the bill, giving the said company certain privileges, on his motion, was struck out.

On motion of Mr. FOSTER, the individual liability clause was inserted.

The bill, as amended, was then passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

On motion of Messrs. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) and CHURCH, the House re-considered the vote had on the final passage of the act to incorporate the Union market company of Philadelphia.

On motion of Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) said bill was so amended as to locate the house east of Eighth and north of Market streets.

On motion of Mr. STUART, the rules being in this case dispensed with, the House proceeded to the consideration of House bill No. 756, "An Act to authorize the trustees of the corporation of the Presbyterian church and congregation of Mechanicsburg, Cumberland county, to borrow money;" which was passed and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. RAMSDELL moved that the rules be suspended, and that the House proceed to the consideration of bill No. 107, "An Act relative to reserved tracts or outlots in the borough of Franklin, Venango county."

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend the same by striking out "twenty cents per acre" and inserting "the original purchase money."

Mr. NILL moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. RAMSDELL strongly and zealously advocated the passage of the bill. And a discussion ensued between Messrs. RAMSDELL, NILL, FOSTER and ROSE.

Pending whose remarks, the Clerk of the Senate being introduced, House bill No. 431, "An Act to incorporate the Farmers' market company, with amendments;" which were read and non-concurred in.

The hour of five having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until to-morrow morning at 9½ o'clock.

SENATE.

THURSDAY, March 10, 1859.

The Senate met and was called to order by the SPEAKER at the usual hour.

Prayer by Rev. James Colder, of the Fourth Street Bethel, Harrisburg.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. TURNEY, (Finance,) reported as committed, "An Act to settle the accounts of the president judge of the Twentieth judicial district."

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, (the committee of the whole being dispensed with,) the Senate proceeded to consider the same; which, having gone through its various readings, passed finally.

Mr. HARRIS, (Pensions and Gratuities,) as committed, House bill No. 372, "An Act for the relief of Rachel George, a widow of an old soldier."

Mr. NUNEMACHER, (Roads and Bridges,) as committed, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Quakerstown and Spinnerstown turnpike road company."

Mr. FETTER, (same,) with amendment, "A supplement to the act to authorize the sale and purchase of the falls of Schuylkill bridge."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, (same,) as committed, "An Act to widen the eastern extension of Third street, in the town of Bloomsburg, Columbia county."

Mr. STEELE, (same,) as committed, "A supplement to an act to erect part of the township of Denison, in the county of Luzerne, into a separate district, for road purposes, &c."

Mr. BREWER, (Militia,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act authorizing the Adjutant General to issue arms to the Scott Legion, of Philadelphia."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. STEELE, "An Act to incorporate the Wilkesbarre and Pittston railroad company."

Mr. THOMPSON, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Spinnerstown and Goshenhoppen turnpike road company."

Mr. TURNEY, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Altoona gas company."

Mr. MILLER, "An Act to authorize an additional notary public in the borough of Causburg, Washington county."

Mr. SCHELL, "An Act authorizing the payment of the claim of Andrew Wise, of Huntingdon county."

Mr. SCHINDEL, "An Act to erect the borough of Catasaqua, in Lehigh county, into a separate independent school district."

Mr. MILLER, "An Act to authorize appeals in pauper cases."

Mr. CRAIG, "An Act to authorize the laying out of a State road in Carbon and Monroe counties."

Mr. WRIGHT, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Chestnut Hill water company."

Mr. BLOOD, "An Act relative to certain school accounts of Porter township school district, in the county of Jefferson."

On motion of Mr. KELLER, "An Act for the relief of the heirs of Conrad Weiser, deceased," was re-committed to the Committee on Finance.

On motion of Mr. FRANCIS, "An Act relative to the administration of justice in Mercer county," was re-committed to the Committee on Judiciary.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

"An Act to incorporate the Eastern iron company," came up in order on third reading.

On its final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. SCHINDEL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Brewer, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Miller, Nunemacher, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield, Schaeffer, Schindel, Thompson, Turney, Welsh, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—25.

NAYS—Messrs. Keller, Marselis and Wright—3.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senate bill No. 518, "An Act to incorporate the Hanover gas light company," came up in order, and (the latter clause of the second section having been stricken out,) passed finally.

Senate bill No. 11, "An Act to prohibit the issue and circulation of bank notes of less denomination than twenty dollars," came up in order; the question being upon the motion to postpone consideration of the bill indefinitely.

Mr. HARRIS said the time of the Senate had been taken up in the discussion of this subject, upon former occasions, and this bill had been discussed at some length yesterday. He had no disposition to occupy the time of the Senate in its further discussion now. He would vote for the indefinite postponement of the bill for several reasons. He was satisfied that the bill is wrong, and that the proposition submitted yesterday, by the Senator from Warren, was still more wrong. That proposition was to cut off at one fell-swoop, all notes, of whatever denomination, thus destroying our entire currency. He regarded it as an ex post facto law, and that it was, therefore, unconstitutional and unjust. He was opposed to this eternal tinkering with our currency, and this ceaseless attempt to regulate our banks. The Senate had been told, at different times, that the banks had been the cause of all our business depressions and difficulties; that they were responsible for all contractions and expansions. He did not believe a word of it. The same bill was introduced last session, and voted down, after having been discussed ably and at length. He was in favor of the indefinite postponement, and he would vote for the motion.

On the motion to postpone indefinitely.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCHELL and Mr. HARRIS, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Craig, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Rutherford, Shaeffer, Schindel, Thompson, Welsh and Yardley—18.

NAYS.—Messrs. Blood, Brewer, Fetter, Keller, Marselis, Miller, Nunemacher, Randall, Schell, Scofield, Steele, Turney, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—14.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

House bill No. 46, "An Act authorizing the registration of all inventories exhibited in the registers' office of the several counties of this Commonwealth," came up in order on second reading.

On its final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BREWER and Mr. COFFEY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Brewer, Keller, Miller, Palmer, Shaeffer and Thompson—6.

NAYS—Messrs. Blood, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Marselis, Myer, Nunemacher, Parker, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—24.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Senate bills Nos. 4 and 540, lie over.

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, the Senate re-considered its vote on the final passage of Senate bill No. 131, "An Act to incorporate the Union railroad company."

The bill being again before the Senate, Mr. RANDALL offered the following proviso, to come in at the end of the first section:

Provided, That said company shall not have the right to occupy the surface of any street for the laying of a railroad track east of Twenty-second street or west of Front street.

The proviso was adopted, and the bill passed finally.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. YARDLEY, Senate bill No. 367, "An Act to incorporate the Centre Valley turnpike road company."

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, "An Act for the relief of Rachel George, a widow of an old soldier."

On motion of Mr. BLOOD, (the Committee on Roads and Bridges having been discharged from its consideration,) House bill No. 317, "An Act to appoint road commissioners to take charge of a portion of the Milesburg and Smethport turnpike road, in the counties of Clearfield and Elk."

[This bill lies over on second reading.]

On motion of Mr. BALDWIN, Senate bill No. 490, "An Act to annex part of the lands of Eli Liebieuberger, in Elizabeth township, Lancaster county, to Pean township, in the same county."

On motion of Mr. COFFEY, Senate bill No. 443, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Kittanning gas company."

On motion of Mr. CRAIG, (the Committee on Roads and Bridges having been discharged from its consideration,) "An Act authorizing the laying out of a State road in Carbon and Monroe counties."

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, House bill No. 326, "An Act to incorporate the Fairmount market company."

On motion of Mr. MARSELIS, Senate bill No. 504, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Commercial fire insurance company of Pennsylvania."

On motion of Mr. GAZZAM, Senate bill No. 524, "An Act to incorporate the Western coal and iron company," was taken up.

Mr. TURNEY opposed the bill, upon the ground that there was no limit to the amount of its capital, and because it was calculated to strike a fatal blow at private enterprises, which are now carried on by private capital. He also denounced it as calculated to establish a monopoly, dangerous and disastrous.

Mr. GAZZAM defended the bill, as one calculated only to do good; to develop the resources of four counties, and in no wise tending to create a monopoly, such as is feared by the Senator from Westmoreland.

Mr. SCHELL opposed the bill, upon the ground that its capital was unlimited; one of its sections empowering the company to borrow money to an unlimited extent. He was not opposed to the general features of the bill, but he could not go for any grant of such unheard of unlimited privileges. If the objectionable features were stricken out, he had no wish to prevent its passage.

Mr. GAZZAM explained the provisions of the bill, and defended it from the injurious tendencies ascribed to it by the Senators from Westmoreland and Bedford.

Mr. TURNEY again spoke in opposition to the bill, as one designed to interfere with the interests of others already engaged in business; and also because it gave to the company a monopoly. Its operations, he said, were restricted to no locality in the four counties enumerated; the company may erect their buildings in the city of Pittsburg or elsewhere. Nor were they restricted to any article of manufacture in iron. They may manufacture railroad iron, shovels, knives and forks, or any other article of iron, and with their unlimited capital and two thousand acres of land; they have power to do an immense amount of mischief. The bill, he said, contained a snake, not an ordinary snake, but one of the worst kind, whose hiss and rattle could already be heard. He hoped it would be voted down.

The unanimous consent of the Senate having been obtained, the bill was amended, on motion of Mr. COFFEY, by striking out the words "and other minerals," in the eleventh line of the first section.

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, the proviso to the sixth section was stricken out, and in the proviso to the fourth section, the words "and the sum so borrowed shall not exceed $100,000," were inserted.

On the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr.

TURNEY and Mr. GAZZAM, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Coffey, Finney, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Parker, Penney, Rutherford, Shaeffer, Thompson and Yardley—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Blood, Brewer, Fetter, Keller, Marselis, Nunemacher, Schell, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Crosswell, Speaker—11.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. SCHINDEL paired off with Mr. RANDALL.

On motion of Mr. YARDLEY, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Harrisville and Centreville turnpike road company."

On motion of Mr. PALMER, House bill No. 224, "An Act to repeal an act regulating the manner of voting at the general election in the counties of Wayne and Schuylkill, so far as the same relates to Schuylkill county."

On motion of Mr. SHAEFFER, Senate bill No. 475, "An Act to incorporate the Lancaster and Sunbille turnpike road company."

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, (the Committee on Roads and Bridges having been discharged from its consideration,) "An Act to repeal certain road laws in Jackson township, Huntingdon county."

On motion of Mr. MILLER, House bill No. 240, "An Act to incorporate the California seminary and Normal school in Washington county."

On motion of Mr. MYER, Senate bill No. 511, "An Act to incorporate the Towanda and Athens telegraph company."

On motion of Mr. KELLER, Senate bill No. 627, "An Act to widen the eastern extension of Third street, in the town of Bloomsburg, Columbia county."

On the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GREGG and Mr. KELLER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Brewer, Keller, Marselis, Myer, Nunemacher, Palmer, Randall, Schell, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Wright and Crosswell, Speaker—16.

NAYS—Messrs. Coffey, Finney, Gregg, Miller, Penney, Scofield and Welsh—7.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. SCHINDEL, House bill No. 327, "An Act to change the name of the Denuska gas company, in the borough of Allentown, Lehigh county."

[This bill was variously amended on motion of Mr. SCHINDEL.]

Mr. FRANCIS, from the Committee to Compare Bills, made a report.

On motion of Mr. PALMER, Senate bill No. 436, "An Act extending the limits of the borough of Orwigsburg, Schuylkill county."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, Senate bill No. 553, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Philadelphia and Trenton railroad company."

Mr. SCOFIELD, on leave given, reported from the Committee on Election Districts, "An Act to change the place of holding elections in Liberty township, Montour county;" and, on his motion, said bill was read, considered and passed finally.

The report of the committee of conference on House bill No. 336, "An Act relative to the appointment of an additional constable at Brady's Bend, Armstrong county," was read; and, on motion, adopted.

Mr. PALMER asked and obtained leave to withdraw the memorial of Edward Bayer, relative to the Wellsboro' and Tioga plank road company.

On leave given, Mr. RANDALL read in his place "A supplement to an act enabling joint tenants, tenants in common, and adjoining owners of mineral lands, to manage and develop the same."

Mr. SCHINDEL, "An Act to amend the charter of the borough of Catasqua."

The hour of one having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the Senate until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, March 10, 1859.

The SPEAKER called the House to order at 9½ o'clock, A. M.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Bartine, of the Methodist Episcopal church, Harrisburg.

The Clerk read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE moved a suspension of the rules, and that the House proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 405, "An Act changing the venue of a certain case from Union to Northumberland county."

Mr. MCCLURE called for a division of the question.

On the suspension of the rules,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PATTERSON and Mr. HOTTENSTINE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Campbell, Church, Custer, Dismant, Fearon, Fleming, Galley, Glatz, Goepf, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Laird, M'Curdy, Neall, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Pughe, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shafer, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Warden, Witman, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) Wolf, Woodring and Lawrence, Speaker—44.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Barlow, Bryson, Burley, Dodds, Durboraw, Ellmaker, Evans, Foster, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Green, Hamersly, Kenagy, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Matthews, M'Clure, Miller, Nill, Patterson, Sheppard, Thompson, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) and Withrow—32.

So the question was determined in the negative, two-thirds not voting affirmatively.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. GOEPP, on leave, offered a resolution, that those bills ordered to be placed on the Private Calendar, be printed and made the special order for next Monday afternoon, immediately after the reading of the Journal; which was adopted.

Mr. NILL, on leave, introduced a resolution, that Wednesday and Friday afternoons of each week be set apart for the purpose of considering public bills.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved so to amend as to make it Wednesday morning in lieu of afternoon; which was agreed to.

And the resolution, as amended, was adopted.

On motion of Messrs. ACKER and PENNELL, the vote by which the House non-concurred in the Senate amendment to House bill incorporating the Farmers' market company of Philadelphia, was re-considered.

The question recurring,

Will the House concur with Senate amendments?

It was determined in the negative.

PETITIONS, &c., PRESENTED.

Mr. PROUDFOOT read in his place and presented to the Chair six petitions from citizens of the borough of Johnstown, county of Cambria, praying for the passage of an act legalizing a survey made of a portion of the streets, alleys and lots in said borough.

Mr. SHIELDS, one from citizens of Westmoreland, Indiana, Cambria and Somerset, in favor of the new county of Ligonier, from parts of said counties.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, one from fifty-four citizens of Northumberland county, for the repeal of the present license law, and for the substitution of the act passed at the session of 1856.

Mr. HILL, a petition from citizens of Montgomery county, for an extension of the Spinnerstown and Goshenhoppen turnpike road.

Also, four petitions from citizens of same county, for an act making it obligatory on the several banks of this Commonwealth to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Also, one from citizens of same county, requiring the commissioners to appoint the constables collectors of taxes.

Also, three remonstrances from citizens of same county, against any law changing the mode of collecting taxes in said county.

Also, three remonstrances from citizens of same county, against any act authorizing the Plymouth and Upper Duolin turnpike company to increase their rates of toll.

Mr. RAMSDELL, a petition from citizens of Venango and Mercer counties, praying for a law authorizing a re-survey of that part of the Emlenton and Mercer State road, leading from Mercer to Clintonville.

Also, the memorial of John A. Kilpatrick, Wm. Christy and James Scott, Jr., road commissioners of Clinton township, praying for a re-survey of said road.

Also, one from Geo. Crawford and Jno. Wareham, road commissioners of Irwin township, Venango county, of like import.

Also, one from James M'Kinley, a path-master in Irwin township, same county, of like import.

Mr. PROUDFOOT, one in favor of the removal of the seat of justice in Clearfield county, to the town of Curwensville.

Mr. ROHRER, a petition to remove the place of holding the election in South Buffalo township, Armstrong county.

Also, a remonstrance against granting a view of a State road leading from Kellersburg, Armstrong county, to New Bethlehem, Clarion county.

Also, the remonstrance of the hurgess and town council of Kittanning, against any curtailment of the limits thereof.

Also, the petition of the uniformed militia of Armstrong county, praying for their quota of military funds.

Mr. CUSTER, three petitions, signed by one hundred and seventy-seven citizens of the county of Berks, for the passage of an act to authorize and require the treasurer of Reading to pay certain fees and costs in reference to the arrest of vagrants in said city.

Also, one from citizens of Berks county, for the passage of an act to make it obligatory upon the several banks of this Commonwealth to keep their notes at par in the city of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Mr. SHAFER, the petition of one hundred and six citizens of Chester county, praying for the passage of a law compelling the banks of this Commonwealth to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Mr. ACKER, the petition of landholders on the line of the Philadelphia and Chester Valley railroad, asking the passage of a law requiring said companies to fence said roads.

Mr. FEARON, one from citizens of Clinton county, in favor of an appropriation to the Polytechnic college at Philadelphia.

Mr. TAYLOR, two petitions in favor of the new county, to be called Ligonier.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) one numerous signed by citizens of Bucks county, asking that a law may be passed authorizing the appointment of a measurer of paving stone in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. WIGTON, a remonstrance from citizens of Clay township, Huntingdon county, against any part of Dublin township being annexed to Fulton county.

Mr. WAGENSELLER, the petition of Jacob

Seahold, for the passage of an act divorcing him from his wife Christie Ann.

Also, one from citizens of Juniata county, for a change in the place of holding elections in Monroe township, said county.

Also, one from citizens of Union county, asking the repeal of the law creating the office of county school superintendent.

Mr. KINNEY, two memorials and petitions from citizens of Bradford county, praying for a law assessing damages along the line of the North Branch canal.

Mr. SMEAD, two of like import.

Mr. ECKMAN, the petition of seventy citizens of Lebanon county, for the repeal of the present license law.

Mr. STONEBACK, two from citizens of Montgomery county, for a law to require country banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Mr. NILL, two from citizens of Dublin township, Huntingdon county, praying that part of said township may be annexed to Fulton county.

Also, one from citizens of Franklin county, for the passage of a law taxing dogs.

Mr. WARDEN, one from citizens of Hempfield and East Huntingdon townships, Westmoreland county, asking for a modification of the present school law.

Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) eighteen petitions from citizens of Clearfield county, in favor of the removal of the seat of justice from Clearfield to Curwensville.

Mr. BURLEY, five of like import.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bedford,) three of like import.

Mr. WILCOX, three remonstrances numerous signed against the same.

Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) two remonstrances of like import.

Also, the petition of citizens of New Washington, Clearfield county, praying to be incorporated into a borough.

Also, one from citizens of Clearfield and Centre counties, praying for the incorporation of a plank road company.

Mr. KETCHUM, one of Richard Dimker, executor of John Wragg, for authority to sell certain real estate.

Also, one of citizens of Luzerne county, for the repeal of the act, relative to the appointment of collectors of State and county taxes, passed February 1, 1856.

Also, a remonstrance from citizens of Blakely township, Luzerne county, against the division of said township into two election districts.

Also, a petition of numerous citizens of Madison township, Luzerne county, for a change in the road laws relating to said township.

Mr. FISHER, petitions of citizens of Philadelphia, for the passage of an act to secure to the people of Philadelphia the right of free travel over certain highways.

Mr. HAMERSLY, one of like import.

Mr. WILEY, one of like import.

Mr. NEALL, one of like import.

Mr. THORN, one of like import.

Mr. WILEY, two petitions in favor of Sunday travel.

Mr. EVANS, one of like import, from the citizens of Frankford and vicinity.

Mr. JACKSON, two remonstrances from one hundred and seventy-five citizens of Sullivan county, against the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. GRAHAM, six petitions of three hundred and seventy-seven citizens of Washington county, to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Somerset township, against the passage of an act authorizing the election of an additional number of supervisors in said township.

Mr. OAKS, the remonstrance of the citizens of Pennsylvania living along the route of the Germantown passenger railway, against granting them additional privileges

Mr. HAMERSLY stated that this petition, like many others purporting to be numerous signed by residents along the route of the Germantown passenger railroad, remonstrating against the granting of any further privileges to that company, was in reality only signed by two bona fide residents on the line. The signers gave their residences, and the fact just stated was apparent. It was a fraud upon the House.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) the petition of citizens of Hanover township, Washington county, asking for power to elect one supervisor in each sub-school district in said township.

Also, one from citizens of West Pike Run, East Bethlehem and the borough of Beallsville, in the county of Washington, asking for the enlargement of the Beallsville school district.

Also, one from citizens of Canonsburg and vicinity, in favor of a law prohibiting the sale of ardent spirits.

Mr. TAYLOR, remonstrance from citizens of Indiana county, against the abolition of the office of county school superintendent.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Indiana county, against the abolition of the office of county school superintendent.

Mr. ELLMAKER, two petitions of citizens of Lancaster county, for a law authorizing the Governor to incorporate a company to survey, lay out and construct a turnpike road from the borough of New Ephrata, in said county, to be known as the New Ephrata and Litiz turnpike road company.

Also, two from citizens of West Chester and Sadsbury townships, Chester county, for the passage of an act authorizing a majority of commissioners to levy and collect a tax, for the purpose of defraying the expenses of constructing a State road in Lancaster and Chester counties.

Mr. PALM, two petitions from citizens of East Brunswick township, Schuylkill county, praying to have the place for holding their elections changed to the house of Geo. Dreihelbis.

Mr. STUART, a petition of numerous citizens of the borough of Newville, Cumberland county, to change their place of holding borough and general election, to the east end of the public school house in said borough.

Mr. BRODHEAD, three signed by three hundred and forty residents of Monroe county, asking for the passage of an act to compel the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad company, to fence both sides of their road, or pay for the destruction of property.

Also, one for a State road from Kresgeville, Monroe county, to the State road from Stroudsburg to Mauch Chunk, near Lynford Troch, in Carbon county.

Mr. BARNSLY, one from citizens of Philadelphia and Bucks counties, asking that the Farmers' mutual fire insurance company of Philadelphia and Bucks, may be exempt from the provisions of a bill on file, entitled "An Act relating to insurance companies in Philadelphia and Allegheny."

Mr. BRYSON, petition of citizens of Pollock township, Lawrence county, for the passage of an act authorizing the election of three supervisors and overseers of the poor for said township.

Mr. FOSTER, a remonstrance from one hundred and thirty-two citizens of Indiana township, Allegheny county, against any change in their road laws.

Mr. WOLF presented a remonstrance from tax-payers of the borough of Loganville, York county, against the passage of the bill for the opening of certain streets and alleys in said borough.

Also, thirteen petitions from nineteen hun-ded tax-payers of York county, asking for the repeal of the law authorizing the appointment of county school superintendent of common schools, so far as relates to York county.

Mr. GLATZ, six, with eight hundred names, of like import.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) one from citizens of Reading, vesting certain real estate to Rebecca Smith.

Also, one from citizens of Ountaunlee township, Berks county, for the repeal of the sixth section of an act passed 14th April, 1853, exonerating the supervisors of said township from repairing certain foot-bridges.

Mr. FLEMING, one from citizens of Piney township, Clarion county, for a change of place of holding the elections in said township.

Mr. PINKERTON, two petitions of the township of East Brunswick, Schuylkill county, asking to change the place of holding elections in said township.

Mr. M'CLURE, one of four hundred citizens of Franklin county, against the proposed tax on dogs.

Mr. KENEAGY, one from the managers, &c., of the Bear Valley turnpike road company, for a repeal of a portion of their charter.

Mr. PRICE, one from citizens of Lancaster county, making it obligatory upon the banks of this Commonwealth, to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Also, the petition of one hundred tax payers of Conestoga and Marietta townships, Lancaster county, praying that an act be passed to allow the county commissioners, to build a bridge over Pequa creek, where the citizens of said township have subscribed their quota for said purpose, according to law.

Mr. ROSE, a petition from citizens of Mercer county, for the passage of an act to revive the Mercer and Embleton State road.

Mr. WOODRING, the petition of citizens of Northampton county, for the passage of an act to compel the country banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Mr. GOEPP, one from same, for the passage of an act incorporating a company for the manufacture of iron, at Freemansburg, in said county.

Mr. QUIGLEY, a petition for the passage of a law regulating the weighing of coal at the consumers door; which was read, as follows:

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21, 1859.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned respectfully represents, that he is the inventor of apparatus to be carried and used with the ordinary cart, by which the load of coal can be weighed at the place of its delivery.

As most of the opposition coming from the honest part of the coal dealers, is through fear of being put in the power of a monopoly of one plan for weighing the coal, I have deemed it proper to state to your honorable body, that there are now three modes by which coal can be weighed at the place of delivery, and if a law is enacted for the protection of consumers of coal, there is no doubt that there will be more, so that competition will insure coal dealers being supplied with apparatus at a moderate cost.

One of my plans weighs a quarter of a ton at the time, in a box suspended from a scale attached to a light frame resting on the top sides of the tail of the cart body; this box is hung nearly on a balance, and when tilted the contents is discharged on the ground. By moving a lever, the box is held up to the body of the cart, to be carried with it.

In the other plan, the scale frame is long enough to rest on the top rims of the road wheels, which form its support, and the body of the cart is raised clear of the axle-tree, by apparatus attached to the scale, and it is weighed with its contents, and the load is then dumped as usual.

In both plans, one wheel may be ten inches higher than the other, without altering the accuracy of the scale.

The light scale frame is carried on the front part of the cart, and when its contents is not required to be weighed, it may be detached and left at the coal yard.

In both arrangements, a single weight, sealed by the inspector, has a fixed place on the beam, so as to prevent confusion from the use of notches or figures.

Respectfully yours,

O. C. JONES.

Mr. THOMPSON, the petition of citizens of Butler county, for a change in the present militia law.

Mr. MEHAFFY, one from citizens of Burnside township, Clearfield county, for a law to incorporate the village of New Washington into a borough.

Mr. GALLEY, one of three hundred citizens of Fayette county, against the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Also, two of eighty-six citizens, for the repeal of the law exempting three hundred dollars' worth of property from execution.

Mr. ECKMAN, the petition of seventy-six citizens of the town of Myerstown, Lebanon county, to grade, curb and pave Main street in said town.

Mr. GOOD, a petition from citizens of Bucks and Lehigh counties, praying for a public road.

Also, three petitions from the officers of the Allentown Bank, for the passage of an act making it obligatory on the several banks of this Commonwealth to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved that the rules be suspended in order to receive reports from committees and bills in place; which was agreed to.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. LAIRD, (Claims,) with amendment, "An Act to pay the claim of S. Miles Green, of Huntingdon county."

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) (same,) as committed, "An Act to authorize the State Treasurer to pay J. C. Williamson for loss sustained on the Philadelphia and Columbia Railroad;" which was ordered to be placed on the Private Calendar.

Mr. FEARON, (Agriculture,) as committed, "An Act to prevent the killing of wild turkeys in Huntingdon county."

Mr. DISMANT, (same,) with amendment, "A further supplement to an act for the better preservation of game and insectivorous birds."

Mr. BERTOLET, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to regulate the standard weight of oats."

Also, as committed, Senate bill No. 403, "An Act relating to deer in certain counties."

Mr. GALLEY, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to prevent the destruction of deer in the counties of Wayne, Pike and Monroe."

Also, as committed, "An Act to prevent the gathering and picking cranberries in Tunkhannock township, Monroe county."

Mr. GOOD, (Militia System,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to the State arsenal at Philadelphia."

Also, as committed, "An Act for the sale of the armory of the Fredericksburg Guards, of Lebanon county, a disbanded corps."

Also, as committed, "An Act for the relief of Thomas Richter, collector of military taxes in 1856."

Mr. WILEY, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "A supplement to the act to annul the fifth section of the militia law."

Also, with a negative recommendation, "An Act relative to the Scott Legion, of Philadelphia."

Mr. MATTHEWS, (Banks,) as committed, Senate bill No. 319, "A supplement to an act incorporating the mutual saving and loan association of Philadelphia."

Mr. GLATZ, (same,) as committed, Senate bill relative to the banks of this Commonwealth, &c.

Mr. MEHAFFY, (same,) as committed, "Supplement to an act to incorporate the West Philadelphia mutual saving fund and trust company."

Mr. PATTERSON, (same,) with amendment, "Supplement to the act to increase the capital stock of the Columbia Bank."

Also, as committed, "Supplement to an act incorporating the Six-Penny saving fund of Philadelphia."

Mr. BARLOW, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Market Street saving fund of Philadelphia."

Mr. WILLIAMS, of Bucks, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to repeal the thirtieth section of the act of April 16, 1850, regulating banks."

Mr. STUART, (Roads and Bridges,) as committed, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Watsonstown bridge company, approved the 9th day of May, 1854."

Mr. CHURCH, (Corporations,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Passenger Railroad relief association."

Mr. BOYER, of Schuylkill, (Mines and Minerals,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Patterson coal company."

Mr. PINKERTON, (same,) as committed, "An Act to extend the charter of the Forest improvement company."

Mr. PROUDFOOT, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Cambria coal company."

Also, (same,) as committed, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Cambria iron company."

Mr. WILCOX, (same,) as committed, "An Act to authorize the Bostwick iron company to mine coal, &c."

Mr. NEALL, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the Lost Creek iron company."

Mr. PUGHE, (same,) with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the Mt. Alto iron company."

Mr. HILL, (same,) as committed, "An Act to incorporate the East Danville iron company."

Mr. HAMESLEY, (Divorcees,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to annul the marriage contract between Elisha G. Ney and his wife Mary Ann."

Mr. FOSTER, (same,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to annul the marriage contract between Jacob Koons and Esther his wife."

Mr. HAMERSLY, (select,) with amendment, "An Act modifying existing auctions laws of this Commonwealth."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. IRISH, "An Act relating to livery stable keepers in Allegheny county."

Mr. ACKER, "A further supplement to an act laying a tax on dogs, &c., approved April 4, 1831."

Mr. FLEMING, "An Act for the removal of the place of holding elections in Piney township, Clarion county."

Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) "An Act to incorporate the village of New Washington into a borough."

Also, "An Act to incorporate the Coudersport and Allegheny River railroad company."

Also, "An Act to incorporate the Kylerstown, Morrisdale and Philipsburg plank road company."

Mr. WITMAN, "An Act to incorporate the Farmers' and Mechanics' mutual insurance company."

Mr. WILCOX, "An Act declaring Newells creek, in M'Kean county, a public highway." Calendar for next Tuesday.

Mr. GRAY, "An Act for the erection of an alms house in Greene county."

Mr. PATTERSON, "A supplement to an act relating to roads and bridges in Jackson township, Huntingdon county. Calendar for Tuesday."

Mr. KENEAGY, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Beaver Valley turnpike road company."

Mr. PRICE, "An Act authorizing Adam Leferre, executor, to sell certain real estate."

Also, "An Act for the relief of the late firm of Loagnecker & Moderwell."

Also, "An Act to authorize the supervisors of Conestoga and Martic townships, in Lancaster county, to pay one third of the cost of the erection of a county bridge."

Mr. ECKMAN, "An Act to grade, curb and pave Maw street, of Myerstown, Lebanon county."

Mr. BRYSON, "An Act authorizing the electors of Pollock township, Lawrence county, to elect supervisors and overseers of the poor, for said township."

Mr. GOOD, "An Act to lay out a State road, in Bucks and Lehigh counties."

Mr. BRODHEAD, "An Act compelling the Delaware and Western railroad company to fence their road."

Mr. KETCHUM, "An Act to alter the road laws in Madison township, Luzerne county."

Also, "An Act authorizing the executors of John Wragg, late of Luzerne county, dec'd, to sell certain real estate."

Also, "A supplement to the act, entitled 'An Act incorporating the Valley and Mountain turnpike and plank road company.'"

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) "An Act for the repair of certain foot bridges over the Maiden creek, in Ountaunlee township, Berks county."

Also, "An Act relative to the estate of William B. Smith, late of the city of Reading, Berks county, dec'd."

Mr. WOLF, "An Act to prevent the hawking and peddling without license, in the county of York."

Mr. HAMERSLY, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Chestnut Hill water company, approved April 24, 1856."

Also, "A supplement to an act passed 27th of February, 1798, relative to the production of books and papers upon the trial of a cause."

Mr. QUIGLEY, "An Act to prohibit the importation of fish into Philadelphia at improper seasons of the year."

Mr. GRATZ, "An Act to authorize execution of process in certain cases in equity concerning property within the jurisdiction of the court, on defendants not resident or found therein."

Mr. GOEPP, "An Act to restrict sales by auction in the counties of Northampton and Lehigh."

Mr. CHURCH, "An Act to incorporate the Southwestern market company of Philadelphia."

Mr. HILL, "Supplement to the act incorporating the Spinnerstown and Goshenhoppen turnpike road company."

Also, "An Act supplementary to an act to incorporate the Chestnut Hill and Cheltenham railroad company."

Mr. STEPHENS, "A joint resolution relative to the payment of the annuity for the right of way through this Commonwealth by the New York and Erie railroad company."

Mr. ROHRER, "An Act relative to the limits of the borough of Kittanning being curtailed."

Also, "An Act fixing the place of holding elections in South Buffalo township, Armstrong county."

Mr. GRATZ, leave being given, from the Committee on Divorces, reported, with a negative recommendation, "An Act to annul the marriage contract between J. B. Miles, of Clinton county, and his wife Mary."

Mr. LAWRENCE, of Washington, (Railroads,) as committed, Senate bill No. 398, "An Act to incorporate the Broad Mountain and Mahanoy railroad company."

Mr. EVANS, (Vice and Immorality,) with a negative recommendation, "An Act to prevent the manufacture, sale or gift of intoxicating liquors."

Mr. ROHRER, from the committee of conference, appointed on the part of the House, relative to the differences between the two Houses on the bill for the election of an additional constable for Brady's Bend, Armstrong county, made report; which was read and adopted.

BILLS CALLED UP.

Mr. ROHRER asked the unanimous consent of the House to call up Senate bill No. 294, "An Act relating to recorders of deeds."

Objections were made.

Mr. DISMANT called up the act for the relief of the estate of James Rogers, deceased; which was passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WILCOX called up House bill No. 210, "An Act authorizing the State to pay the claim of Gonder and Burke."

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) renewed the debate which had been pending when this question was previously before the House. He attempted to refute the arguments against the passage of the bill, which had been advanced on that occasion by the gentleman from Butler, (Mr. THOMPSON.) He urged the legality of the appropriation, and the justice of the claim of Messrs. Burke and Gonder.

Mr. THOMPSON replied. He denied the justice or legality of the claim set forth and advocated by Mr. LAWRENCE. The same application was urged in 1856, and was refused. If the claim was then considered unjust it was no better now.

Mr. NEALL called the previous question; which was not sustained.

Mr. THORN favored the views which had been expressed by Mr. THOMPSON. The courts of justice would not entertain the claim for five minutes.

Mr. ROSE thought that sufficient time had been occupied by this question, and he gave notice that after the forthcoming reply of the gentleman from Dauphin, (Mr. LAWRENCE,) he would call the previous question.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Dauphin,) replied at length.

Mr. ROSE called the previous question.

Which was sustained.

On the question,

Shall the bill be read the second time.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CLURE and Mr. ROSE, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Burley, Ellmaker, Green, Harding, Keneagy, Lawrence, (Washington,) Matthews, Patterson, Price, Quigley, Styer, Walborn, Wilcox, Wilson and Lawrence, Speaker—15.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Campbell, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dods, Eckman, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Mann, Mehaffey, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Peirce, Pinkerton, Pughe, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rose, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Withrow, Wolf, Woodring and Zoller—68.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. BRYSON called up Senate bill 223, "An Act relating to auctions and auctioneers within the county of Lawrence;" which was considered and passed finally.

Mr. BOYER, of Schuylkill, called up Senate bill No. 161, "An Act to incorporate the Greenwood cemetery company, in the borough of Tamaqua;" which was considered and passed finally.

Mr. BOYER, of Clearfield, called up House bill No. 544, "An Act to incorporate the Anderson Creek public road and navigation company;" which was considered and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. M'CLURE moved that the House reconsider the vote had on the final passage of the act, entitled "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Green and Coates Street passenger railroad."

Mr. WALBORN hoped that the friends of the bill would vote "aye" on the motion to reconsider.

Mr. M'CLURE could not see why they should vote "aye." He should vote "no" expressly to make the passage of the bill final.

Mr. WALBORN said that the friends of the bill were very well satisfied to allow it to remain where it was. He called upon its friends to vote "aye."

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) said that he should vote "aye."

On the motion to re-consider,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CLURE and Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Church, Durhoraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Glatz, Graham, Green, Harding, Hottenstine, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, M'Curdy, Miller, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Peirce, Price, Pughe, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Styer, Taylor, Thompson, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—51.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Bertolet, Brodhead, Campbell, Custer, Dismant, Dods, Evans, Fisher, Foster, Galley, Good, Gratz, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Jackson, Laird, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Neall, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Thorn, Warden, Wiley and Woodring—34.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The question recurring on the final passage of the bill,

A motion was made by Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THORN and Mr. NEALL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Durhoraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fearon, Glatz, Graham, Green, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, M'Curdy, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Price, Pughe, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Styer, Thompson, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—46.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Campbell, Custer, Dismant, Dods, Evans, Fisher, Foster, Galley, Good, Gratz, Gray, Gritman, Hamersly, Hill, Jackson, Laird, Matthews, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Neall, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Taylor, Thorn, Warden, Wiley, Williston and Woodring—36.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed the House that the Senate non concurred in the House amendments to the supplement to the act incorporating the city of Philadelphia, and that they had appointed a committee of conference.

On motion of Mr. GRATZ, a similar committee was appointed on the part of the House.

Mr. LAIRD obtained the unanimous consent of the House to make an amendment to the act, entitled "A further supplement to the act incorporating the city of Erie."

Adjourned till this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

On motion of Mr. HAMERSLY, the House resumed the consideration of private bills, giving each member his call in alphabetical order.

CONSIDERATION OF PRIVATE BILLS.

Mr. BURLEY called House bill No. 376, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Western transportation company;" which was considered and passed finally; and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. BAYARD called up the act to incorporate the Milford turnpike road company; which was considered and passed finally; and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. ECKMAN called up Senate bill No. 299, "Supplement to an act to incorporate the South Mountain railroad company, approved 6th day of May, 1854;" which was considered and passed finally.

Mr. BROBHEAD called up House bill No. 618, "An Act extending the provisions of an act concerning the appointment of road views and road damages in the county of Northampton to the county of Monroe;" which was considered and passed; and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. FEARON called up House bill No. 484, "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Flemington and Lock Haven plank road and turnpike road company;" which was considered and passed; and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. FLEMING called up Senate bill No. 405, "An Act to appoint a road commissioner to take charge of a portion of the Warren and Ridgway and of the Warren and Strattonville State roads, in Forest county;" which was considered and passed finally.

Mr. DURBORAW called up the act to incorporate the East Berlin railroad company; which was considered and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. HAMERSLY called up House bill No. 789, "An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia and Foreign steamship company;" which was considered and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. NEALL called up House bill No. 599, "A further supplement to the act consolidating the city of Philadelphia;" which was considered and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. FOSTER called up Senate bill No. 239, "An Act to incorporate the Chartiers and Robinson Township turnpike road company;" which was considered and passed finally.

Mr. GALLEY called up House bill No. 199, "An Act to reduce the expenses of collecting taxes in Fayette county;" which was considered and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. GLATZ called up Senate bill No. 382, "An Act relative to auctions in the borough of York;" which was considered and passed.

Mr. GOEPP called up House bill No. 510, "An Act to incorporate the Bethlehem mining company;" which was considered and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WOLF called up Senate bill, entitled "An Act authorizing the commissioners of York county to borrow money;" which was considered and passed finally.

Mr. GRAHAM called up House bill No. 516, entitled "An Act for the appointment of sequestrator on the Pittsburg and Washington turnpike road;" which was considered.

Mr. FOSTER moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GRAHAM opposed the motion briefly, and urged the passage of the bill.

The motion to postpone was not agreed to, and the bill was passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. THORN called up bill No. 795, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Lykens Valley railroad and coal company;" which was considered and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. PUGHE called up House bill No. 513, "An Act authorizing William Hull, of Blakeley township, Luzerne county, to sell certain real estate;" which was considered and passed finally, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. THORN moved that the House resume the consideration of House bill No. 382, "An Act to adjust the account of F. Knox Morton, former treasurer of Philadelphia city and county;" which was agreed to.

Mr. THORN asked the unanimous consent of the House to insert a preamble to the bill; which was read.

Mr. GRITMAN objected.

Mr. THORN briefly explained the principal features of the preamble.

Mr. GRITMAN withdrew his objection, and the amendment was inserted.

The bill then passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. BARLOW called up Senate bill No. 336, "An Act relating to road and bridge viewers in Centre county;" which was considered and passed finally.

Mr. HARDING called up House bill No. 816, "An Act to incorporate the Market Street savings fund of Philadelphia;" which was considered.

On final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAMERSLY and Mr. GRITMAN, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barlow, Bayard, Burley, Campbell, Eckman, Fearon, Fisher, Goepf, Gratz, Hamersly, Harding, Keneagy, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, M'Curdy, Nill, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Price, Rouse, Shafer, Styer, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—37.

NAYS—Messrs. Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Custer, Dismant, Durboraw, Evans, Fleming, Galley, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gray, Gritman, Hill, Jackson, Laird, Miller, Neall, Oaks, Rohrer, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Warden, Wilcox, Wiley, Wolf and Woodring—35.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. HILL called up House bill No. 543, "An Act to incorporate the Whitemarsh and Cheltenham turnpike road company;" which was considered and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE called up House bill No. 205, "An Act changing the venue of a certain action from Union to Northumberland county;" which was read.

Mr. PATTERSON opposed the passage of the bill, and knew no reason why the venue should be changed.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE declared that the change was necessary, and offered an affidavit to this effect, signed by the plaintiff, Mrs. Rebecca Quinn; which was read.

Mr. WAGENSELLER, feeling proud to be the representative of Union county, denied the necessity of the change of venue. The case was a painful one, but the course which he must adopt was clearly marked out. The affidavit, just read, did not recite the facts. The juries of Union county were not to be bought and sold as intimated in that affidavit. Judge Wilson was a man above reproach, and Judge Jordan, if he was called upon to try the case, would do so fairly.

The Judiciary Committee had reported the bill with a negative recommendation, and this was generally supposed to be equivalent to a legal decision.

He then read the brief of title under which the land was held by the parties whose cause he advocated, and who were the defendants in the suit, in which a change of venue was asked.

The petition of this defendant was then read, opposing the change of venue.

The hour of five having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until to-morrow morning at 9½ o'clock.

No. 313.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

CHASE, Ways and Means—Feb. 12.

[AS PASSED THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES' MARCH 4, 1859.]

AN ACT to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Government, and other general and special appropriations.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the following sums be, and the same are hereby specifically appropriated to the several objects hereinafter mentioned, for the year commencing on the first day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, to be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 2. For the salary of the Governor of the Commonwealth, four thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, seventeen hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, one thousand four hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Auditor General, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, one thousand seven hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Surveyor General, one thousand six hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Attorney General, three thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Adjutant General, six hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Superintendent of Common Schools, one thousand four hundred dollars.

For the salary of the State Librarian, eight hundred dollars.

For the salary of the State Treasurer, inclusive of his compensation as commissioner of the sinking fund, one thousand seven hundred dollars: Provided, That the foregoing salaries shall be paid quarterly at the office of the State Treasurer.

SEC. 3. For clerk and messenger hire, in the Executive and State departments, six thousand dollars.

For contingent expenses in the Executive and State departments, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, one thousand seven hundred dollars; stationery, four hundred and fifty dollars; fuel and lights, one hundred and twenty-five dollars; cleaning offices, one hundred dollars; blank books, fifty dollars; repairs, fifty dollars; geological survey, freights and packages, one hundred and fifty dollars; new carpets in Executive chamber, two hundred dollars; miscellaneous expenses, one hundred and fifty dollars.

For clerk and messenger hire in the Auditor General's office, eight thousand one hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, five hundred dollars; stationery, three hundred and fifty dollars; fuel, seventy-five dollars; miscellaneous, seventy-five dollars.

For clerk and message hire in the Surveyor General's office, eight thousand seven hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage, four hundred dollars; stationery, two hundred dollars; fuel, seventy dollars; stove and repairs, sixty dollars; white-washing and scrubbing, fifty dollars; miscellaneous, fifty dollars, and for stationery furnished in one thousand eight hundred and fifty seven, by George Bergner, not heretofore provided for, fifty-seven dollars and eighty-six cents.

For clerk hire in the Attorney General's office, eight hundred dollars; and hereafter the Attorney General shall be allowed eight hundred dollars annually for clerk hire.

For clerk and message hire in the school department, three thousand nine hundred dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: stationery and blank books, three hundred and fifty dollars; postage, including telegraphic dispatches, one thousand two hundred dollars; fuel, light, and cleaning office, sixty dollars; packing and distributing blank forms, laws and decisions, reports, et cetera, to the several districts, six hundred dollars; miscellaneous, fifty dollars.

For clerks, messenger, and night-watch in the Treasurer's office, including compensation of clerk to commissioners of the sinking fund, five thousand four hundred and fifty dollars.

For contingent expenses, as follows: postage and telegraphic dispatches, four hundred and seventy-five dollars; express charges, one hundred dollars; stationery and blank books, two hundred and fifty dollars; fuel and light, seventy-five dollars; miscellaneous, one hundred and fifty dollars.

For miscellaneous expenses of the State Library as follows: repairing telescope, forty dollars; press for stamping, twenty-five dollars; making fires, sweeping, cleansing and white-washing, postage, freight, expenses of purchasing books, stationery, et cetera, three hundred dollars; miscellaneous books and newspapers, six hundred dollars; law books, English and Irish reports, elementary books and civil law, one thousand dollars; Pennsylvania Reports, for exchanges, three hundred and twenty dollars; binding, one hundred and fifty dollars; and assistant, one hundred and fifty dollars.

SEC. 4. For the payment of the expenses of the Legislature, including the pay and mileage of the members, clerks and officers thereof, and the amount authorized by law for stationery, newspapers and lights, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

SEC. 5. For packing and distributing the laws and journals of the Legislature, to be performed under the direction of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, seven hundred dollars.

SEC. 6. For the public printing, folding, stitching and binding, thirty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary on the settlement of the account of the contractor under his contract entered into in pursuance of the act approved the ninth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, entitled "An Act in relation to public printing."

SEC. 7. For the payment to the borough of Harrisburg, for supplying the public buildings with water, as per act of twenty-eighth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty, six hundred dollars.

For payment to the Harrisburg gas company, for gas for public buildings and walks, two thousand dollars, or so much thereof as shall be found due by the Auditor General, under the contract with the company, in pursuance of the charter of said company and its supplement, to be paid on the warrant of the Governor.

SEC. 8. For miscellaneous expenses, to be accounted for in the usual manner, three thousand dollars.

SEC. 9. For the support of the common schools, to be paid on warrants drawn by the superintendent in favor of the several school districts of the Commonwealth, in proportion to the number of resident taxables therein, two hundred and eighty thousand dollars.

SEC. 10. For the payment of pensions and gratuities, ten thousand dollars.

SEC. 11. For the payment of the salaries and per diem allowance of the judges of the supreme court, eighteen thousand seven hundred dollars.

SEC. 12. For the payment of the salaries of the judges of the district court, and the president and associate law judges of the court of common pleas of the city of Philadelphia, sixteen thousand eight hundred dollars.

SEC. 13. For the payment of the salaries of the judges of the district court, and president judge of the court of common pleas of Allegheny county, eight thousand four hundred dollars.

SEC. 14. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the president and associate law judges of the several courts of common pleas in this Commonwealth, except in the city of Philadelphia and the county of Allegheny, fifty-five thousand dollars.

SEC. 15. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the associate judges of the several courts of this Commonwealth, twenty-five thousand dollars.

SEC. 16. For the payment of the interest on the funded debt of the Commonwealth, that will fall due on the first days of July and August next, and the first days of January and February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, two millions of dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

SEC. 17. For the payment of the guaranty of interest for the Danville and Pottsville railroad company, by the act of the eighth of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, and the act of twelfth April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, eight thousand five hundred and seventeen dollars and fifty cents, being the interest in full, on said guaranty, up to the first day of August, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine; to the Bald Eagle and Spring Creek navigation company, by the act of seventh April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, ten thousand dollars: Provided however, That said companies are hereby required to make it appear satisfactorily to the Attorney General that the said appropriations are due from the Commonwealth; and it shall be the duty of the Attorney General so to certify to the treasurer before any of the moneys herein appropriated are paid.

SEC. 18. For the payment of the salaries of the officers of the Western penitentiary, ten thousand one hundred and fifty dollars; also, for gratuities paid to discharged convicts for the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, agreeably to the eighth section of the act of twenty-second of April, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-nine, and the several supplements thereto, three hundred and eight dollars; and for paving in front of the prison, under the compulsory paving law of Allegheny city, the further sum of three thousand one hundred and eighteen dollars.

SEC. 19. For the payment of the salaries of the officers of the Eastern penitentiary, twelve thousand eight hundred and ninety-five dollars; which sum may be drawn from the treasury in equal quarterly portions, on or after the fifteenth day of the months of June, September and December of the present year, and March of next year.

SEC. 20. For the house of refuge of Philadelphia, the sum of twenty thousand dollars.

SEC. 21. For the house of refuge of Western Pennsylvania, in the county of Allegheny, eighteen thousand and five hundred dollars, to be applied as follows: for the salaries of officers, eight thousand and five hundred dollars; additions and repairs, four thousand dollars; and for the payment of debts, six thousand dollars.

SEC. 22. For the Western Pennsylvania hospital, five thousand dollars; and for the purpose of erecting suitable buildings, the further sum of twenty thousand dollars, the last mentioned sum to be paid to said institution upon a bond being executed to the Commonwealth in said sum, with security to be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, conditioned for the full erection and completion of said buildings without further aid from the Commonwealth.

SEC. 23. For the Pennsylvania State lunatic hospital, the sum of twenty thousand dollars; to be applied to the payment of salaries, the support of the house, the renewal of furniture and fixtures, and to such repairs and improvements as may be required: Provided however, That no part of the money appropriated in this section, except the salaries of its officers, shall be paid unless the accounts of repairs and expenses be found correct by the Auditor General.

SEC. 24. For the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the blind, twenty-two thousand dollars.

SEC. 25. For the instruction of indigent pupils in the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the deaf and dumb, twenty-three thousand dollars: Provided, That the sums appropriated for the instruction of the blind, and deaf and dumb, shall be paid to said institutions, in proportion to the number of indigent pupils received by each, from the several counties of this Commonwealth, at the rates prescribed by law; evidence of the number of pupils to be furnished to the State Treasurer.

SEC. 26. For the Pennsylvania training school for feeble minded children, such amount as said institution may be entitled to receive under the provisions of the sixth section of the act incorporating said school, approved the seventh of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three; and for the purpose of completing the buildings now in progress, the further sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, to be paid to said institution upon a bond being executed to the Commonwealth in said sum, with security, to be approved by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, conditioned for the full completion of said buildings without further aid from the Commonwealth.

SEC. 27. For the Northern Home for friendless children, five thousand dollars: Provided, that the said Northern Home for friendless children shall be subject to the provisions contained in the third section of an act, entitled "A supplement to an act to incorporate the subscribers to the articles of association, for the purpose of establishing and conducting an institution for the confinement and reformation of youthful delinquents, under the title of the House of Refuge," approved March twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six.

SEC. 28. For the Penn Asylum for indigent widows and single women, five thousand dollars.

SEC. 29. For the Orphans' Home at Zelig-nople, one thousand dollars.

SEC. 30. For the salary of the superintendent of the public printing, eight hundred dollars.

SEC. 31. To Richard J. Haldeman, publisher of the Legislative Record, compensation at the rate of seven dollars per page, for the numbers published at the present session, the amount to be certified as due by the committee on printing of both Houses, and that the fortieth section of an act, entitled "An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of government and other general and special appropriations," approved twenty-first April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, so far as it relates to the continuance of the contract, for the printing of a Legislative Record, with R. J. Haldeman, he and the same is hereby repealed: Provided, That the repeal hereby provided for shall not take effect until at the expiration of the present session.

SEC. 32. To each of the fire companies of Harrisburg, now organized and in operation, one hundred dollars.

SEC. 33. For the preservation and repairs of the capitol, and improvement of the public grounds, inclusive of the compensation of the superintendent and watchman of the public buildings and grounds, the sum of three thousand dollars: Provided, That all moneys expended and contracts made, shall be at the direction and under the authority of the Secretary of State and the Auditor General.

SEC. 34. For the payment of the expenses of the committee selected to try the contested election case, from the Third Representative district of Philadelphia, incurred by two sessions held in the city of Philadelphia, the sum of six hundred and seventy-five dollars.

SEC. 35. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay John A. Smull, for services rendered the House of Representatives, the same compensation now allowed by law for an assistant clerk; and for services performed during the last recess, in arranging the papers of last session, et cetera, and for the same services to be performed during the next recess, the further sum of three hundred dollars.

SEC. 36. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives, the amounts necessary to pay the pages and folders employed during the present session, at the rate of one dollar per day each, for the time the Legislature is in session, and the further sum of ten dollars each to said pages and folders, except J. P. Hoffman, and G. H. Lenhart, who shall be paid the same amount as the assistant door-keepers are entitled to by this bill.

SEC. 37. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay John C. Morgan, Andrew W. Kimmell, William R. Gardy, James Williams, Samuel M'Donnel and John D. Reese, assistant door-keepers, for extra services after night, in and about the Hall, during the present session, one hundred dollars each.

SEC. 38. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay L. Rogers three dollars per day, for thirty-eight days, with the usual mileage, for services in the contested election case of Matthews versus M'Clean, together with thirty dollars for expenses, while in the employ of the committee in Philadelphia.

SEC. 39. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay George Manley, at the rate of one dollar and fifty cents per day, for services in cleansing and keeping in order the out-building of the two houses; the actual number of days employed, to be certified to by the Clerk of the House.

But such is not their mission. For a wise purpose, upon the adoption of the Constitution, the States referred to merge themselves into one undistinguishable whole, but chose to preserve their individuality as separate and distinct States, the wisdom of which every day's experience does hourly reveal.

Whence, therefore, the Constitution is violated, it is their duty to resist the assault. In such an emergency, it behooves the States to exercise the powers they have reserved to themselves.

It is the only resource in our power—it is the only instrumentality by which the tendency to centralization and usurpation can be resisted. It is, in short, the only means by which the Constitution can be preserved. Then is it not the duty of the State to declare itself upon this occasion?

Have I not demonstrated—first, that the Constitution does provide for a trial, by jury, in the cases alluded to in the Constitution? second, that the Constitution, not having been repealed or altered in any part, the provision is still in force? third, that it is the duty of the State to see that this vital provision shall be uniformly enforced? Can we, in the face of the acknowledged truth of the facts alleged, escape this conclusion?

But I have consumed far more time than I had intended, and will give way for others who may wish to engage in this discussion.

I have endeavored to establish two propositions—first, that it is the legal right, and the moral duty of the State, to withhold her aid and her sanction, by forbidding the use of her jails and the services of her officers, in assisting to consign innocent human beings to the jaws of slavery; second, that there is such a thing as a constitutional right to a trial by jury, where the question is that of liberty, and that it is the solemn and imperative duty of the State to maintain that right at every cost and at all hazards.

If you believe this, support this bill; if you believe this, vote for it; and I predict that the day will come when you will look back upon that vote with pride and satisfaction.

In saying these things, sir, I do not present myself as the special champion of the colored people, or any other cast or class in society; but I loathe injustice and oppression, whoever may be its victims. Moreover, sir, I love my native State. The names of her early patriots are dear to me. I am proud of her benevolent institutions; of her system of common schools; of the industrious, patriotic and intelligent character of her people; to promote her welfare and preserve her good name, is the first wish of my heart. I love the glorious principles upon which her institutions are based, and cannot see her depart from them without raising my humble voice to prevent it.

No. 481.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

FINNEY, Judiciary—March 2.

AN ACT to amend an act, entitled "An Act to apportion the city of Philadelphia into single senatorial and representative districts agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution," approved April twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

WHEREAS, By the third section of the act, entitled "An Act to apportion the city of Philadelphia into single senatorial and representative districts, agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution," approved April twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, the third election division of the Sixth ward is made to compose a part both of the sixth and seventh representative districts; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act the said third election division of the Sixth ward shall be deemed and taken as composing a part of the sixth representative district, as provided in said third section of the act, approved April twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; and said act shall be so taken and construed as if said third election division had not been made to compose a part of said seventh representative district.

No. 486.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

FINNEY, Judiciary—March 2.

A SUPPLEMENT to an act in relation to certain public officers and their sureties.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That all the powers and duties enjoined upon the courts of common pleas by the first section of the act to which this is a supplement, he and hereby are vested in any two judges of said courts; and any one of said judges is hereby empowered and required, on petition as therein declared, to award a citation to any such officer to appear at a time and place designated, to answer the matters alleged in said petition, and show cause why said officer shall not give other and further security; and to grant rules, on short notice, to be served on the opposite party, his agent or attorney, to take the depositions of witnesses, to be read on the bearing of the case.

SEC. 2. That upon due proof being made at the hearing of any of the facts or allegations specified in the said first section, and set forth in the petition and citation, the said judges shall, and they are hereby required forthwith to order and direct that said officer shall, within ten days thereafter, enter into a new official bond, with sureties, to be approved by any two of said judges, and to be recorded and filed, and held as and in lieu of the original bond, of which the sureties shall thereafter be fully discharged.

SEC. 3. That on the omission of said officer to give the new bond as aforesaid within the time required, the said judges shall immediately make an order as to the costs, and transmit an exemplification of the proceedings to the Governor, who shall forthwith remove such delinquent from office.

SEC. 4. That so much of the act to which this is a supplement, which is hereby altered or supplied, he and the same is hereby repealed.

No. 494.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BEIL, Judiciary—March 2.

AN ACT to regulate the practice and fees of sheriffs in cases of attachments.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in all cases of the attachment of a debt, obligation, duty or sum of money due and owing by a garnishee to the defendant, whether such attachment be made by virtue of a writ of foreign attachment or of a writ of attachment issued on a judgment, it shall not be lawful for the sheriff or other officer to whom such writ is or shall be directed, or his deputy, to require any bond or other security, to indemnify him against the execution of such writ or any fee therefor, nor any other or greater sum or fee for executing such writ, than is by law allowed for serving a writ of scire facias.

SEC. 2. That whenever the sheriff or other officer to whom any writ shall be directed, may by law demand a bond or obligation of indemnity before executing the same, it shall be lawful for such officer to demand or receive as a fee for preparing such bond or obligation, one dollar, and no more.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 52.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

SENATE.

FRIDAY, March 11, 1859.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock, A. M. The SPEAKER in the Chair.

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, the reading of the Journal was dispensed with.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. RANDALL asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. BELL, for two days from to-day.

Mr. WRIGAT for Mr. BLOOD, for to-day.

Mr. TURNEY for Mr. SCHINDEL.

The SPEAKER presented an abstract of the accounts of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company.

Also, the petition of the board of directors of the Glen Hope and Little Bald Eagle turnpike road company, for the repeal of the second section of an act relative to said company.

Also, the proceedings of the town council of the borough of Altoona, in relation to a bill to incorporate a gas and water company in said borough.

Also, a remonstrance against the removal of the county seat of Clearfield county, together with a brief statement concerning the same.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Clearfield county, against the passage of House bill No. 317, "An Act to appoint road commissioners to take charge of a portion of the Milesburg and Smethport turnpike road, in the counties of Clearfield and Elk."

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, &c.

Mr. THOMPSON presented four petitions of citizens of Pennsylvania, for a law to compel banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Also, a petition from citizens of Montgomery county, for a law making constables tax collectors in said county.

Also, two remonstrances of citizens of the same county, against any change in the mode of collecting taxes.

Mr. MILLER, a petition of citizens of Washington county, for a law authorizing the payment of one dollar per day to school directors while engaged in public service, and for a change in the manner of payment of the salary of county superintendent.

Mr. YARDLEY, a petition of sixty-nine citizens of the Commonwealth, for the passage of a law compelling banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Also, a petition of the Farmers' mutual fire insurance company of Bucks and Philadelphia, praying to be exempted from the action of a bill regulating insurance companies in Philadelphia and Allegheny counties.

Mr. SCHINDEL, three petitions of citizens of Lehigh county, for a law compelling banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Also, a petition of the officers and directors of the Allentown Bank, of like import.

Mr. BALDWIN, one from citizens of Pennsylvania, of similar import.

Mr. PENNEY, four remonstrances of citizens of Pittsburgh, against an act abolishing the high school of said city.

Also, a petition of citizens of Indiana township, Allegheny county, in favor of a law relating to roads in said township.

Also, four remonstrances against the same.

Mr. NUNEMACHER, two petitions of citizens of Berks county, for the passage of an act compelling banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Also, three petitions of citizens of Berks county, for a law requiring the city of Reading to pay the fees for arresting vagrants in said city.

Mr. WRIGHT, a memorial of citizens around Fairmount, praying for a change of route in laying the track of the Race and Vine Streets railway.

Also, two petitions of citizens of Frankford and vicinity, praying for a modification of the Sunday laws.

Mr. MARSELIS, two of like import.

Mr. RANDALL, a petition of citizens of Philadelphia, in favor of an act allowing the Philadelphia and Trenton railroad company to extend their road to Third and Willow streets.

Mr. SCHELL, a remonstrance of citizens of Huntingdon county, against any change in the manner of collecting taxes in said county, and against any extension of the term of county treasurer.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Huntingdon county, against the annexation of any part of said county to Fulton county.

Also, a petition of citizens of Bedford county, praying for the repeal of the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania railroad, on condition that said company lessen the charge on local freight five mills per ton per mile.

Mr. GAZZAM, a petition of citizens of Pittsburgh, praying that the high school in said city be abolished.

Also, a petition of citizens of Pittsburgh and vicinity, praying for an act to incorporate the Pittsburgh and East Liberty passenger railroad company.

Mr. PALMER, three petitions of citizens of Schuylkill county, for a law requiring the Little Schuylkill railroad company, to fence their road.

Mr. CRAIG, a remonstrance of citizens of Monroe county, against the repeal of the tonnage tax.

Mr. MYER, four memorials of H. W. Tracy, William Watkins, H. W. Patrick and others, a committee appointed at a public meeting called to consider the question of the assessment of damages on the North Branch canal, said memorials signed by other citizens.

Also, the petition of citizens of Bradford county, representing that the Williamsport and Elmira railroad, did, when obtaining the right of way, agree to fence their road, and that they were compelled to do so by the terms of their charter, and asking that a law may be passed compelling said company to do so.

Also, four petitions of citizens of Sullivan county, in favor of the erection of a boom on Loyalsock creek.

Mr. SCOFIELD, a petition of citizens of Kinzua township, Warren county, for an act to increase their road tax.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of M'Kean county, against a law declaring Knapp's creek, in said county, a public highway.

Mr. GREGG, a remonstrance of citizens of Hartleton, Union county, against any law interfering with their present charter granted by the courts.

Also, the proceedings of a meeting at Laporte, Sullivan county, in favor of the erection of a boom on Loyalsock creek.

Mr. SHAEFFER, a petition of the president, cashier and directors of the Lancaster Bank, in favor of a law compelling banks to keep their notes at par.

Mr. COFFEY, two petitions of citizens of Indiana and Westmoreland counties, in favor of the erection of a new county, to be called Ligonier.

Also, a number of petitions of citizens of Johnstown, praying for an act to legalize a survey of said borough.

Also, a number of petitions of citizens of Armstrong county, in favor of the supplement to the militia law.

Mr. RUTHERFORD, a petition of citizens of Shaferstown, Lebanon county, praying for an alteration in the charter of the Shaferstown academy.

Also, a petition of citizens of Myerstown, Lebanon county, for an act to better regulate streets in said town.

Also, a petition of citizens of Lebanon county, in favor of the repeal of the present license laws.

Also, a petition of citizens of Harrisburg, praying for an appropriation to M'Adamize State street in said borough.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. YARDLEY, (Education,) reported with a negative recommendation, "An Act to erect the borough of Catasqua into a separate independent school district."

Mr. PENNEY, (same,) as committed, "An Act relative to certain accounts in Portor township school district, Jefferson county."

Mr. WELSH, (same,) with a negative recommendation, House bill No. 390, "An Act annexing the borough of Leesburg, in Mercer county, to the township of Springfield, in said county, for school purposes."

Mr. BALDWIN, (Roads and Bridges,) as committed, "An Act for the extension of Lehman street, in the Twenty-second ward of the city of Philadelphia."

Mr. FETTER, (same,) as committed, "An Act authorizing the establishment of a ferry on the West Branch of the Susquehanna."

BILL IN PLACE.

Mr. RUTHERFORD read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Ac providing for the grading, curving and paving of Main street, in Myerstown, Lebanon county."

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. SCHELL offered the following resolution, which was twice read and considered.

Resolved, That when the Senate adjourns this afternoon, it adjourn to meet on Monday at the usual hour.

On its adoption,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCOFIELD and Mr. WELSH, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Coffey, Craig, Gazzam, Marselis, Palmer, Parker, Rutherford, Schell, Shaeffer, Schindel, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Brewer, Fetter, Gregg, Harris, Miller, Myer, Nunemacher, Penney, Randall, Scofield, Steele, Thompson, Turney and Welsh—14.

So the question was determined in the negative.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

Senate bills Nos. 4 and 540 and House bill No. 317 lie over.

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, House bill No. 36, "An Act relating to costs in certain cases," was re-committed to the Committee on the Judiciary.

BILLS CONSIDERED.

On motion of Mr. PENNEY, (the Committee on Corporations having been discharged from consideration of the same,) the Senate proceeded to consider House bill No. 576, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Western transportation company."

The bill having gone through its various readings, passed finally.

On motion of Mr. MYER, the Senate reconsidered its vote on the resolution to adjourn until Monday.

The resolution being again before the Senate, on its adoption,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WELSH and Mr. MYER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Craig, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Keller, Marselis, Palmer, Parker, Rutherford, Schell, Shaeffer, Schindel, Thompson, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—18.

NAYS—Messrs. Fetter, Gregg, Harris, Miller, Nunemacher, Penney, Randall, Scofield, Steele and Welsh—10.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senate bill No. 280, "An Act relating to costs," was taken up, on motion of Mr. BREWER.

This bill, having passed committee of the whole and second reading, lies over.

On motion of Mr. MYER, the Senate proceeded to consider Senate bill No. 483, "A supplement to an act to exempt property to the value of three hundred dollars from levy and sale on execution and distress for rent, approved April 9, 1849," as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the widow or children of any decedent, entitled to retain three hundred dollars out of such decedent's estate, by the laws of this Commonwealth; and every person entitled to the exemption provided for in the act, entitled "An Act to exempt property to the value of three hundred dollars from levy and sale on execution for distress for rent," approved the ninth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine, may elect to retain the same or any part thereof, out of any bank notes, money, stocks, judgments, or other indebtedness to such person: Provided, That the same shall be taken at its nominal value without appraisalment.

SEC. 2. That any person otherwise entitled to the exemption provided for in this act and the act to which this act is a supplement, shall not be deprived thereof, in consequence of any contract hereafter made, by which the right to claim such exemption shall be waived or released.

The question being upon the first section of the bill,

Mr. PALMER moved to strike out the proviso, and insert, in lieu thereof, the following: "And that in all cases hereafter, when property shall be set apart for the widows and children of any decedents, the same shall be appraised and set apart to said widow and children by the appraisers of the other personal estate of said decedent."

Upon the motion to strike out the proviso, a brief discussion, in explanation of the legal effects of the bill and amendment, took place between Messrs. PALMER, FINNEY, SCOFIELD, and TURNEY—the first three favoring the motion, and the latter opposing the bill, as unnecessary and unjust.

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. PENNEY moved further to amend, by striking out all from the word "Commonwealth," in the fifth line, to the word "forty-nine," in the ninth line, inclusive.

Upon this motion there was a further discussion between Senators.

Mr. MYER opposed the motion, briefly giving his reasons therefor.

Mr. PENNEY defended the propriety of his motion to strike out that portion of the section, and discussed the legal effects of the bill. He also gave his views upon the three hundred dollar law, adverted to by the Senator from Bradford.

Mr. SCOFIELD supported the bill as designed to operate beneficially for the poor, in its exemptions, and replied, briefly, to the arguments in support of the amendment.

Mr. PALMER addressed the Senate in reply to the legal arguments of the Senator from Allegheny, as to the operation of the law, and briefly in support of the original section.

Upon agreeing to the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PENNEY and Mr. SCOFIELD, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Penney, Thompson and Cresswell, Speaker—4.

NAYS—Messrs. Brewer, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Nunemacher, Palmer, Parker, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield, Shaeffer, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Yardley—24.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Upon the second section there was a continuation of the discussion—Mr. TURNEY in opposition to the bill, as designed to operate injuriously upon the very class which were intended to be benefitted, originally, by the three hundred exemption law.

Mr. SCHELL acknowledged there would be great weight in the position of the Senator from Westmoreland, if the question was the repeal of the exemption law. He was pleased with the section—it comes up to his idea of what the law should do to protect the poor man.

Mr. SCOFIELD seconded the views of the Senator from Bedford. The law, as it stands, is virtually repealed; and the object of the present bill is to give to the law the beneficial effects which it was intended to produce. He portrayed the gradual steps which had been taken by the Commonwealth in the work of protecting the poor and laboring classes from the rigors of former laws—from a period when even the body of a deceased debtor might be seized by a relentless creditor, to the time when they came nobly up, and said that every man who was thrifty enough to save for himself and family a little home, should be protected in its enjoyment.

Mr. PALMER moved to amend the second section by adding the following proviso:

Provided, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to contracts made for the renting of a dwelling house, or for other things necessary for the support and maintenance of the wife or family of any such person.

Mr. PALMER explained the effects of his amendment, as designed still further to benefit the poor man. The family of a poor man must have a roof over their heads, and the wife and children must have bread; and without this guaranty they have but poor opportunities of obtaining these comforts.

Mr. FRANCIS did not intend occupying the attention of the Senate long. He would vote for the section without any amendment. Every exemption which had been made, for the last five years, had been made under the pretext of this amendment, that it was intended for the support of the family. He would deprive every man of the power to waive the exemption which has been extended to his family—he would say to them, you shall not wrong them by waving that exemption in favor of a remorseless creditor—you shall not have the power of sacrificing your home. He did not know but it would be better to-day, that all laws compelling the payment of debts were abolished, and the credit of every man put upon the ground of his character. If that were done, character would be worth something. Does any man trust another upon character now? No—it is not because of his character, but because of the power which the law gives him to exact payment. He was in favor of the section, and hoped it would be adopted without any amendment.

On the adoption of the amendment offered by Mr. PALMER,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PALMER and Mr. GREGG, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Harris, Marselis, Miller, Nunemacher, Palmer, Penney, Randall, Shaeffer, Thompson, Turney, Welsh, Wright, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—18.

NAYS—Messrs. Brewer, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Myer, Parker, Rutherford, Schell, Scofield and Steele—10.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. MYER advocated the measure upon the simple principle that it would be beneficial not only to the poor man, but to the people of the Commonwealth. He was in favor of the section, and hoped it would be adopted.

Mr. GREGG briefly advocated the propriety of the original section, and could see no advantage which was to result from the amendment. He was opposed to the section, however, as amended, and should vote against it.

Mr. GAZZAM was more in favor of the section before it was amended, although he was not certain that he should not vote for it now. The section, originally, was honestly intended to effect the object of the Legislature, which was to protect the poor man in the rights of the three hundred exemption law.

The bill by consent lies over.

On leave given, Mr. TURNEY read in his place, "An Act to prevent the destruction of trout in the counties of Westmoreland, Somerset, Fayette and Blair."

House amendments to "An Act relative to a school lot and burial ground in the borough of Pottsville," were read, and on motion of Mr. PALMER, concurred in.

House amendments to Senate bill, "An Act relative to the trustees of the Farmers' high school," were read, and on motion, lie over.

House amendments to "An Act relative to the township of Croyle, in Cambria county," were, on motion, concurred in.

The hour of one having arrived, the Senate adjourned until 3 o'clock, P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Agreeably to order, the Senate met at three o'clock.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. PARKER, House bill No. 265, "An Act to incorporate the trustees of the Young Men's Christian building association of Philadelphia."

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, Senate bill No. 308, "An Act to incorporate the Mutual fire insurance company of Annville, Lebanon county."

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, "An Act for the relief of the Somerset borough school district, in Somerset county."

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, Senate bill No. 561, "An Act to authorize Walter J. Smith to erect a ferry over the Allegheny river at Warren."

On motion of Mr. GREGG, the Senate concurred in House amendments to "An Act relative to the trustees of the Farmers' high school of Pennsylvania."

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. STEELE, from Committee on Corporations, reported, with amendment, "An Act to divide the borough of Scranton into two wards."

Mr. WRIGHT, from the Committee to Compare Bills, made a report; which was read.

BILLS IN PLACE.

On leave given, Mr. GAZZAM read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "A supplement to the act incorporating the borough of Duquesne, Allegheny county."

Also, a petition of citizens of the borough of Duquesne, for the passage of the said supplement.

Mr. WELSH, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the borough of York."

On motion of Mr. GAZZAM, (the Committee on Corporations having been discharged from its consideration,) "A supplement to an act incorporating the borough of Duquesne, Allegheny county."

On motion of Mr. STEELE, House bill No. 640, "An Act to divide the borough of Scranton into two wards."

On motion of Mr. THOMPSON, House bill No. 360, "An Act to abolish the separate school district erected out of a portion of the township of Upper Salford, in Montgomery county."

On motion of Mr. TURNEY, (the Committee on Roads and Bridges having been discharged from its consideration,) House bill No. 419, "An Act to incorporate the Layton bridge company, in Fayette county, and to authorize the commissioners of said county to make a donation to said company."

(This bill lies over on second reading.)

On motion of Mr. WELSH, (the Committee on Corporations having been discharged from its consideration,) "A further supplement to the act incorporating the borough of York."

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, House bill No. 261, "A supplement to the act incorporating St. Paul's Church, in the city of Philadelphia."

On motion of Mr. FRANCIS, House bill No. 411, "An Act changing the name of Prescott Packard Peck."

On motion of Mr. BREWER, (the Committee on Railroads having been discharged from its consideration,) House bill No. 771, "An Act to incorporate the East Berlin railroad company."

On motion of Mr. STEELE, Senate bill No. 484, "An Act to divide the borough of Pittston, in Luzerne county, into two wards."

On motion of Mr. BALDWIN, (the Committee on Roads and Bridges having been discharged from its consideration,) House bill No. 541, "An Act to incorporate the Millport turnpike road company."

On motion of Mr. STEELE, Senate bill No. 226, "An act relating to the collection of State and county taxes in Luzerne county, and for other purposes."

On motion, the Senate adjourned until Monday at 3 o'clock, P. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

FRIDAY, March 11, 1859.

The House was called to order at 9½ o'clock, A. M., by the SPEAKER.

The Clerk read the Journal of yesterday; when, on motion of Mr. WILCOX, the further reading of the same was dispensed with.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the annual report of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company.

On motion of Mr. STUART, Senate bill, entitled "An Act relative to elections in the borough of Newville, Cumberland county, was taken up and passed finally.

Mr. PEIRCE, on leave, read a bill relative to roads in East Marlboro and New London townships, Chester county; which, on his motion, was taken up and passed, and ordered to be sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. PINKERTON asked and obtained leave of absence for E. H. Rauch, one of the Transcribing Clerks for a few days from to-day.

Mr. WITHROW, on leave, read a bill to provide for the election of an additional supervisor in Wayne township, Mifflin county; which, on his motion, was taken up and passed, and ordered to be sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. EVANS moved that the House proceed to the consideration of the resolution relative to the Pittsburg and Connellsville railroad; which was agreed to.

The resolution was again read.

And on the question,
Shall the same pass?

It was determined in the affirmative.

Agreeably to order, the House resolved itself into committee of the whole, (Mr. FEARON in the Chair,) on bill No. 19, "An Act exempting parsonages from taxation."

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That all lots of ground not exceeding one-half of an acre, belonging to and owned by one or more congregation of any religious denomination in said State, on which a parsonage building is erected for the use of the resident pastor of such congregation or congregations, and which is used and possessed for no other purpose, shall be exempted from the payment of all taxes now assessed, or which may hereafter be assessed for State, county, borough, road or school taxes.

On motion of Mr. THORN, the committee rose, and asked leave to sit again on the second Monday in May.

Mr. NILL defended the bill, as being just and necessary.

On the motion of Mr. THORN to postpone,
The yeas and nays were required by Mr. NILL and Mr. RAMSDALL, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Barnsley, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Foster, Galley, Goepp, Gratz, Gray, Hill, Kinney, Laird, Mann, Neall, Pennell, Peirce, Rouse, Shafer, Smead, Stoneback, Styer, Witman, Wolf and Woodring—24.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Church, Durhoraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Evans, Fleming, Graham, Green, Gritman, Hamersly, Hottenstine, Irish, Kencagy, Lawrence, (Washington,) M'Curdy, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Pughe, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stuart, Thorn, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow and Lawrence, Speaker—51.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring,

When shall the committee have leave to sit?

Mr. HAMERSLY moved that it have leave to sit again on Friday next; which was agreed to.

Mr. GRAY, on leave, read in his place and presented to the chair, "An Act to provide for the erection of a house for the support and employment of the poor in Greene county."

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole, (Mr. ROHRER in the chair,) on bill No. 31; which was read, as follows:

AN ACT to authorize commutation of the death penalty in certain cases.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That when in any case of conviction and sentence, for murder in the first degree, facts shall come to the knowledge of the Governor, which raise a reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the person convicted, but not sufficient, in his judgement, to justify an absolute pardon, it shall be lawful for him to commute the penalty of death for that of imprisonment in the State penitentiary of the proper district, there to be kept in solitary confinement, at labor, during the natural life of said convict, and fed and clothed and treated as provided by the act, entitled "A further supplement to an act, entitled 'An Act to reform the penal laws of this Commonwealth,' approved the twenty-third day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and twenty-nine."

The bill was reported negatively by the committee of the whole.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the report of the committee?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PENNELL and Mr. NEALL, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Barnsley, Burley, Campbell, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Ellmaker, Evans, Fearon, Fleming, Glatz, Goepp, Graham, Gritman, Irish, Jackson, Ketchum, Laird, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mehaffey, M'Clure, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Quigley, Rohrer, Shields, Stephens, Stoneback, Taylor, Thompson, Walhorn, Warden, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Wolf, Woodring, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—45.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Barlow, Bayard, Bertollet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Durhoraw, Eckman, Foster, Galley, Gratz, Gray, Hamersly, Harding, Hill, Keneagy, Kinney, Mann, M'Curdy, Miller, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Pughe, Ramsdell, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stuart, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walker, Witman and Withrow—42.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. THORN moved that the rules be suspended for the purpose of considering bills reported with an affirmative recommendation; which was agreed to.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole (Mr. CHURCH in the Chair,) on bill No. 145, "An Act declaring dogs in this Commonwealth to be personal property."

Mr. PRICE moved to amend the bill, so as to read,

"That from and after the passage of this act, every dog or bitch owned by or belonging to any person in this Commonwealth, is and the same is hereby declared to be nuisances, and such dogs or bitches shall be as much the subject of extermination as any other kind of obnoxious animals; and any person not exterminating any such dog or bitch, shall be liable to prosecution and indictment in the court of quarter sessions of the proper county, and convicted thereof, shall be punished as in other cases of negligent duty."

Mr. HAMERSLY moved to postpone indefinitely.

Mr. WILLISTON moved its reference to the Divorce Committee.

Mr. HARDING said that the bill was one of importance to the residents of Philadelphia, where dog-stealing was practiced.

Mr. WILCOX moved further to amend by requiring all dogs to be registered.

Mr. PENNELL asked that the gentleman from Lancaster would withdraw his amendment, in order that he might introduce a new one.

The amendment to the amendment was not carried.

The amendment was also voted down.

Mr. ZOLLER was of opinion that to exterminate all dogs would be a harsh measure. In his county he had to pay a dog tax of one dollar. This fact rendered it evident that dogs were property. He advocated a general tax on canines throughout the State.

Mr. KINNEY wanted to know what the amendment of Mr. WILCOX meant. He offered an amendment, that a list of dogs be kept at each poll on election day in Philadelphia.

Ruled out of order.

The committee rose, reported progress, and asked leave to sit again; which was not agreed to.

Mr. NILL moved so to amend, by making it a misdemeanor to steal any such dog or bitch. Mr. WALBORN, alleging that dogs were valuable in many cases, advocated the bill.

Rambling remarks were made by Messrs. RAMSDALL, WILSON, PRICE and FOSTER.

Mr. PENNELL wished to make the law apply only to such counties in the State where its provisions might be desired. He moved an amendment to this effect.

Mr. NILL withdrew his amendment.

The Chair was of opinion that Mr. PENNELL'S amendment was not properly in order.

Mr. THORN moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed indefinitely.

Mr. HARDING spoke a few words in favor of the bill.

On the motion of Mr. THORN, it was agreed to.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole, (Mr. ZOLLER in the chair,) on bill No. 151, "An Act preventing the intermarriage of the white and black races," as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be unlawful for any black man to marry a white woman, or black woman to marry a white man.

SEC. 2. That any person or persons who shall marry in this Commonwealth contrary to the first section of this act, and any justice of the peace, alderman, clergyman, minister or other person, who shall join in marriage any person contrary to this act, and every person who shall be present at such marriage, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; and shall, upon conviction thereof in any court of quarter sessions having jurisdiction thereof, be fined, at the discretion of said court, any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars; which shall go, one half to the prosecutor, and the other half to such county as may have jurisdiction of such case; and shall be imprisoned in the county jail of such county any time not exceeding one year.

Mr. WILLISTON moved to amend the first section, as follows: Strike out the word "white," where it occurs, and insert the word "democrat."

Mr. WILCOX moved to strike out "black," and insert "republican."

The amendments were not agreed to.

Mr. WALKER moved to amend the bill by striking out from the bill in the fourth line the words, "be present at" and insert "aid or abet in;" which was not agreed to.

On motion of Mr. HAMERSLY, the committee rose, reported progress, and asked leave to sit again; which was not granted.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) moved to insert the words, "yellow or colored," after the word "black" wherever it occurs.

Mr. WILLISTON moved to amend the amendment by substituting the word "Democrat" for the word "white," wherever it occurs; which was not agreed to.

The amendment to the amendment was not agreed to.

Mr. MILLER moved the indefinite postponement of the bill.

On the motion,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) and Mr. MILLER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Barlow, Bayard, Bryson, Burley, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durhoraw, Fearon, Foster, Galley, Goepp, Graham, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Hill, Irish, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, M'Dowell, Miller, Neall, Nill, Patterson, Peirce, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Stonehack, Taylor, Thompson, Thorn, Wagenseller, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow, Woodring and Zoller—50.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Barnsley, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Campbell, Eckman, Ellmaker, Fleming, Glatz, Good, Gray, Gritman, Harding, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Laird, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Rouse, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stuart, Walker, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—34.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. M'CLURE, on leave, from the Committee on the Judiciary System, reported with amendment, "An Act relating to marriages;" and, on his motion, said bill was placed on Calendar for this morning.

The House resolved itself into Committee of the whole, (Mr. HARDING in the Chair,) on bill No. 180.

AN ACT to prevent the defacing of Bank notes.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act it shall not be lawful for any person or persons, corporation or body corporate within this Commonwealth, to deface any bank note or acknowledgment of indebtedness of the nature, character and appearance of a bank note, issued by any bank lawfully incorporated by the Legislature of this Commonwealth, and authorized to issue the same, by writing, printing, stamping, or in any other way impressing or inscribing thereon, either on the face or the back thereof, any card, advertisement or other inscription calculated or intended to announce, and make known the occupation or place of any person, firm or corporation, and to pass off, pay out, or circulate any such bank note or other acknowledgment of indebtedness, as aforesaid, so defaced, as aforesaid.

SEC. 2. That every person who shall violate the provisions of the first section of this act, shall be taken and deemed to have committed a misdemeanor, and shall upon conviction thereof, in the court of quarter sessions of the peace of the county wherein which the said violation shall have been committed, be fined in any sum not less than twenty dollars and not more than fifty dollars.

Mr. FOSTER thought that the bill might properly be entitled one to prevent men from paying their debts.

He moved to amend by adding the words, "except in payment of indebtedness."

Mr. GOEPP stated the object of the bill, which was to prevent brokers and others from using them as an advertising medium. It was, of course the right of a man to put what he chose on a bank note, if he did not afterwards issue it. The act merely sought to protect the banks by preventing their currency from being mutilated.

Mr. SMITH wished to know whether the act did not make it a penal offence for people to pass out notes which others had defaced.

Mr. GOEPP denied that the offence would be complete, unless the party both made and passed off the inscription.

Mr. KINNEY wished to know what defacing consisted in.

Mr. GOEPP replied, in putting on a note the card or place of business, and not in merely writing the name.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved that the committee rise, report progress, and ask leave to sit again. Leave to sit again was refused.

(Mr. M'CLURE in the Chair,) the bill was read to the House.

Mr. GOEPP moved to insert "place of business" instead of "place;" which was agreed to.

Mr. FOSTER renewed his amendment, which was made in committee of the whole, to add to the section "except in payment of indebtedness;" which was agreed to.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved to postpone indefinitely; which was agreed to.

The House, (Mr. M'CLURE in the Chair,) proceeded to the consideration of bill No. 47, "An Act relating to marriages."

Mr. MILLER moved to postpone the further consideration of the bill indefinitely.

On the motion,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MILLER and Mr. NILL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Barnsley, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Dismant, Fleming, Glatz, Gritman, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Miller, Patterson, Pennell, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rouse, Smith, (Berks,) Stonehack, Styer, Taylor, Walhorn, Wiley, Williston, Wilson and Wolf—28.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Barlow, Bayard, Brodhead, Burley, Campbell, Church, Custer, Dodds, Durhoraw, Eckman, Evans, Fearon, Foster, Galley, Goepp, Good, Graham, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Hill, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Keneagy, Kinney, Laird, Mehaffey, M'Clure, M'Curdy, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Rohrer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Stephens, Thompson, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wilcox, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Withrow, Woodring, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—57.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment of Mr. ROHRER, to strike out "or others," in the sixth line?

The bill reads as follows:

AN ACT relating to marriages.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That so much of the act approved the fourteenth day of February, Anno Domini one thousand seven hundred and thirty, as relates to the infliction of penalties on clergymen or others, for performing the marriage ceremony, contrary to said act, shall apply to such cases only, in which clergymen or others knowingly and wilfully violate the provisions of said act.

The amendment of Mr. ROHRER was withdrawn.

Mr. ABBOTT moved to substitute the word "negligently," for the word "knowingly," in the amendment made in the committee.

Mr. NILL thought the effect of the above amendment would be to defeat the objects of the bill. It would bring us back to the old law.

The amendment was withdrawn by Mr. ABBOTT.

Mr. GOEPP moved to amend by striking out the amendment inserted by the Judiciary Committee, which is as follows: "Shall apply to such cases only in which clergymen or others, knowingly and wilfully violate the provisions of said act," which would leave the bill as on the files.

Mr. GOEPP referred to the present law of marriage, and the expanded sense of which the words "marriage ceremony" were susceptible. He favored this bill.

Mr. WILLISTON said that instead of a repeal of the original act, as was contemplated by the amendment, it should be made more stringent. He cited the recent divorce case before the Legislature, and hoped that no action would be taken which would tend to weaken the bonds between parent and child.

Mr. GOEPP repeated the essentials of the marriage ceremony, and said that as the law in reference to ministers and justices of the peace now stood, it inflicted a penalty on persons who were merely present when two parties decided and agreed to enter into a marriage contract. The clergy desired the passage of the bill before the House.

Mr. WALBORN did not believe that any clergyman had suffered under existing laws.—He opposed any repeal of the stringent provision now enforced in relation to ministers and justices of the peace who performed improper marriage ceremonies.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) said that in the eastern States it was the law to publish the vows for three weeks. In Ohio a license was necessary. Was it proper to turn Pennsylvania into a Gretna Green? He hoped the law would be allowed to remain as it was.

Mr. WILLISTON did not doubt but that the clergymen desired the passage of the law, for it was them who it was designed to punish.

On the amendment of Mr. GOEPP,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GOEPP and Mr. WILCOX, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Goepf, Irish, Keneagy, Kinney, Laird, M'Curdy, Nill, Price, Smead, Styer, Thompson and Wilcox—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Ahcott, Acker, Barnsley, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Galley, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Green, Gritman, Hamersly, Harding, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, M'Clure, Miller, Neall, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Rohrer, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Withrow, Wolf and Zoller—70.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring on the bill, on second reading,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WILLISTON and Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Barlow, Bayard, Brodhead, Campbell, Church, Durboraw, Fearon, Foster, Goepf, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Hill, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Keneagy, Kinney, Mehaffey, M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Neall, Nill, Pinkerton, Price, Pughe, Rohrer, Sheppard, Shields, Smead, Thompson, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wilcox, Williams, (Bedford,) Withrow, Woodring, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—44.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Barnsley, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Bryson, Burley, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Fleming, Galley, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gray, Gritman, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Miller, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Rouse, Shafer, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Taylor, Walborn, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson and Wolf—45.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. THORN moved that the House consider Senate bill No. 617, "An Act relative to the Philadelphia Bank," which was subsequently withdrawn.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole, (Mr. STYER in the Chair,) on Senate bill No. 35, "An Act to extend to prothonotaries and clerks the power to administer oaths.

Mr. BARNESLEY moved to strike out the words "he compelled to," in the sixth line of the first section.

Mr. WILSON opposed the amendment; which was not agreed to.

The bill passed committee of the whole, as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the prothonotaries and commissioned clerks of courts of this Commonwealth, shall have a general power to administer oaths and affirmations: Provided, That no prothonotary or clerk shall be compelled to administer the same in any matter not pertaining to the proper business of his office.

Sec. 2. That oaths and affirmations heretofore administered by the several prothonotaries and clerks of courts shall be valid and effectual, though not done in conducting the business of their respective offices: Provided, That this confirmation shall not include cases heretofore judicially acted upon and adversely decided.

The committee rose and reported the bill as committed.

The bill was read the second time, and passed finally.

The House next proceeded to the consideration, on second reading, of bill No. 195, "Resolution extending the time and continuing the salary of the editor of the Colonial Records."

The bill was again read.

Mr. THOMPSON moved to postpone the further consideration of this bill indefinitely.

On this motion,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DODDS and Mr. KINNEY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Barnsley, Barlow, Bryson, Burley, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durhoraw, Evans, Fleming, Glatz, Graham, Gray, Hottenstine, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Palm, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Pughe, Rose, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Wagenseller, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wilcox, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—39.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Campbell, Church, Eckman, Fearon, Foster, Galley, Goepf, Good, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Hill, Irish, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Laird, Mann, Mehaffey, M'Clure, M'Curdy, McDowell, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Patterson, Pennell, Price, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Shafer, Sheppard, Thorn, Walborn, Wigton, Wiley, Wilson, Withrow, and Woodring—45.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question being,

Will the House agree to the amendment, providing that the salary of the said editor shall not be paid for a period beyond the 1st of June, 1859?

Mr. THOMPSON thought the bill was an imposition, and spoke against its passage.

Mr. THORN followed in a few remarks in favor of the bill.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) wished to know how long since Mr. Hazard was appointed editor.

Mr. THORN could not accurately inform him, but thought about ten years since.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) said Mr. Hazard had already received $12,000.

Mr. THOMPSON considered the bill as an imposition. The salary of the editor had already been continued too long. The Colonial Records were of no use to any one. He hoped that members would vote against giving a single dime of additional salary.

Mr. THORN advocated the passage of the appropriation.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) said that Samuel Hazard had already received some $12,000 from the State, and he was opposed to having him pensioned thus any longer. Personally he had the kindest feelings towards the editor. He should vote against the pension.

Mr. HARDING deprecated the want of interest in the history of the State which was evinced by the gentleman.

The amendment was disagreed to.

Mr. WILSON offered the following amendment to the bill.

That the Secretary of the Commonwealth be and he is hereby directed to purchase for the use of those members and officers of the present Legislature, who have not heretofore received the same, full sets of the Colonial Records and Pennsylvania Archives: Provided, That the price shall not exceed the amount paid for the same in 1857.

Mr. WILSON, feeling an interest in the early history of the country, earnestly advocated the passage of the bill.

Mr. STEPHENS trusted that the system of members voting themselves salaries would not be inaugurated this session.

On the amendment,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. QUIGLEY and Mr. BAYARD, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Church, Durboraw, Evans, Fearon, Galley, Good, Gratz, Gray, Hamersly, Harding, Hill, Irish, Ketchum, Kinney, Laird, Mahaffey, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Neall, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Styer, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Wiley, Wilson, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—45.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Barnsley, Barlow, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Fleming, Foster, Glatz, Goepf, Graham, Green, Hottenstine, Jackson, Keneagy, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, M'Curdy, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Proudfoot, Rohrer, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Withrow and Wolf—39.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

Mr. KINNEY had voted for the amendment, but hoped the whole bill would be voted down.

Mr. SMEAD opposed the passage of the bill.

On the section, as amended,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. STEPHENS and Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Bayard, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Church, Durboraw, Evans, Fearon, Goepf, Good, Gratz, Hamersly, Harding, Hill, Irish, Keneagy, Laird, Mahaffey, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Patterson, Price, Quigley, Ramsdell, Shafer, Sheppard, Shields, Styer, Thorn, Wagonseller, Walborn, Walker, Wiley, Wilson and Zoller—36.

NAYS—Messrs. Acker, Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Brodhead, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eesman, Foster, Galley, Graham, Gray, Hottensine, Jackson, Kerehum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Proudfoot, Rohrer, Rose, Rouse, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stonehack, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Withrow, Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—46.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. NILL moved that the rules be suspended, in order to enable him to make a motion; which was agreed to.

Mr. NILL moved that when this House adjourns, it will do so, to meet this afternoon at three o'clock, to consider public bills.

Mr. ROHRER moved to amend by making this afternoon's session in lieu of to-morrow afternoon's, and to adjourn to-morrow at twelve.

Mr. WILCOX moved to amend the amendment, by adjourning this afternoon at five o'clock.

Mr. FOSTER moved to amend, that when the House adjourns this afternoon at three o'clock, it do so to meet again at three o'clock, on Monday afternoon.

Pending the consideration of which, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until to-morrow morning, at nine and a half o'clock.

No. 516.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

GRITMAN, Judiciary—Feb. 25.

AN ACT securing more effectually prompt payment on the part of insurance companies.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and immediately after the passage of this act, all insurance companies in the State of Pennsylvania, whether they be stock, mutual or otherwise, which have insured, or may hereafter insure, against loss or losses by fire or otherwise, real, personal or any other kind of property, to whatever amount, and said property insured, or any part thereof has been heretofore or shall hereafter be destroyed by any of the means it is insured against, whereby the amount insured or any part thereof becomes due and payable, or has at any time heretofore become due and payable by the insurer to the insured, and any one or more of the said insurance companies thus liable, or to become liable, hath refused or shall hereafter refuse payment to the insured for the amount lost and insured against, for payment of which the insured have instituted suit or suits at law, pending and undetermined at the passage of this act, or may hereafter institute suit or suits at law, against the company or companies liable, and shall recover judgment for the amount insured or any part thereof, said company or companies sued shall from the time the amount or any part thereof shall become due, as contracted in the policy or policies of insurance, or where suits are now pending in such cases, from the date of the passage of this act until payment of the amount due and owing is made, be subject to and compelled to pay in addition to the principal and interest thereon claimed and recovered, or to be recovered on the policy itself, whatever damages a jury or arbitrators may choose to impose upon them; but in no case shall such damages exceed the rate of five per cent. per month, nor be less than two per cent. per month on the dollar; and whatever per cent. per month on the dollar shall be assessed as damages, under this act, shall be calculated on the principal sum due and owing the insured, in given judgment, in a suit or suits at law, to the day of judgment, rendered, and shall also be calculated on said judgment recovered, until paid the same as interest.

SEC. 2. That this act shall take effect immediately upon its passage and approval, and shall apply to all insurance companies against which suit or suits at law are now pending, except that the per cent. per month on the dollar above regulated, shall be calculated on suits brought heretofore and now pending only from the time of the passage and approval of this act.

No. 444.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

GRATZ, Judiciary—Feb. 25.

AN ACT relative to the time in which courts are required to file their charges and decide motions for new trials.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That whenever a judge of any of the courts of this Commonwealth shall be requested to reduce the opinion of the court to writing and file the same, of record agreeably to the twenty-fifth section of the act of the twenty-fourth of February, one thousand eight hundred and six, entitled "An Act to alter the judiciary system of this Commonwealth;" it shall be the duty of the judge who delivers the opinion of the court to reduce the same to writing, and file the same of record within thirty days thereafter, and in all cases tried before the passage of this act, in which the court have been requested to reduce their opinion to writing, and file the same as aforesaid; and the opinion has not been reduced to writing and filed, it shall be the duty of the judge who delivered the same to reduce the opinion to writing, and file the same of record within thirty days after the passage of this act.

SEC. 2. That in all in all civil suits tried in the several courts of this Commonwealth, in which verdicts are rendered in favor of the plaintiffs, and motions are entertained by the court, or rules granted for new trials, it shall be the duty of the court to decide upon and dispose of such motions and rules within thirty days after argument of such rule or motion; otherwise judgment shall be entered on such verdict, by the prothonotaries or clerks of the respective courts.

No. 483.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

FINNEY, Judiciary—March 2.

A SUPPLEMENT to an act in relation to certain public officers and their sureties.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That all the powers and duties enjoined upon the courts of common pleas by the first section of the act to which this is a supplement, be and hereby are vested in any two judges of said courts; and any one of said judges is hereby empowered and required, on petition as therein declared, to award a citation to any such officer to appear at a time and place designated, to answer the matters alleged in said petition, and show cause why said officer shall not give other and further security; and to grant rules, on short notice, to be served on the opposite party, his agent or attorney, to take the depositions of witnesses, to be read on the hearing of the case.

SEC. 2. That upon due proof being made at the hearing of any of the facts or allegations specified in the said first section, and set forth in the petition and citation, the said judges shall, and they are hereby required forthwith to order and direct that said officer shall, within ten days thereafter, enter into a new official bond, with sureties, to be approved by any two of said judges, and to be recorded and filed, and held as and in lieu of the original bond, of which the sureties shall thereafter be fully discharged.

SEC. 3. That on the omission of said officer to give the new bond as aforesaid within the time required, the said judges shall immediately make an order as to the costs, and transmit an exemplification of the proceedings to the Governor, who shall forthwith remove such delinquent from office.

SEC. 4. That so much of the act to which this is a supplement, which is hereby altered or supplied, be and the same is hereby repealed.

No. 306.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

WIGTON, Ways and Means—Feb. 11.

AN ACT relating to the licenses of billiard tables and ten-pin alleys used at watering places and summer resorts, in this Commonwealth.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be lawful for all persons owning or occupying watering places and summer resorts in this Commonwealth, to be licensed for the privilege of using billiard tables and ten-pin alleys for the term of three months in a year, and pay in that proportion of the rates now or hereafter required to be paid per annum.

SEC. 2. That all laws conflicting with the foregoing section are hereby repealed, so far as relates to alterations made by this act.

No. 439.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

M'CLURE, Judiciary—Feb. 25.

AN ACT relating to rate of interest.

hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the act regulating the rate of interest, passed the twenty-eighth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, shall be so construed as not to affect actions pending under the former usury laws; and at the time of the passage of the act of the twenty-eighth May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; and it is the intention of the Legislature that no plaintiff, in any cause, shall be prejudiced by the passage of the last mentioned act, but that the said act is prospective only in its operation.

No. 432.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

IRISH, Judiciary—Feb. 25, 1859.

AN ACT for the better security of personal liberty, to prohibit the use of the jails and prisons of this Commonwealth in the recapture of fugitive slaves, and to prevent persons holding office under the authority of the State, from engaging or assisting therein.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the meaning of the first, second and thirteen sections of an act, entitled "An Act for the better security of personal liberty, and preventing wrongful imprisonments," approved the eighteenth day of February, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-five, and the fifth section of an act, entitled "An Act to prevent kidnapping, preserve the public peace, prohibit the exercise of certain powers heretofore exercised by judges, justices of the peace, aldermen and jailors in this Commonwealth, and to repeal certain slave laws," approved the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven, is hereby declared to be that any person imprisoned or restrained of his liberty is entitled as of right and of course to the writ of habeas corpus, except in the cases mentioned in the first, fifth and sixth sections of the said act, approved the eighteenth day of February, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-five, and persons convicted or in execution upon civil or criminal process.

SEC. 2. That the provisions of the third section of the said act, entitled "An Act to prevent kidnapping, et cetera," approved the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven, shall apply to the act of Congress, approved the eighteenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, entitled "An Act to amend and supplementary to the act, entitled 'An Act respecting fugitives from justice, and persons escaping from the service of their masters'."

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the courts having jurisdiction in cases of writs of habeas corpus under existing laws, or any judge thereof, except associate judges of the courts of common pleas, on application of any party to a proceeding, in any writ of habeas corpus, whether the court may be in session or not, and in term, time or vacation, to order a trial by jury, as to any facts stated in the return of the officer, or as to any facts alleged, if it shall appear by the return of the officer or otherwise, that the person whose restraint or imprisonment is in question is claimed to be held to service or labor in another State, and to have escaped from such service or labor, and may admit such person to bail in any sum, not exceeding one thousand dollars; in such case issue may be joined by a general denial of the facts alleged, the plea may be not guilty, and the jury shall have the right to return a general verdict, and the same discretion as juries have in the trial of criminal causes; and the finding of a verdict of not guilty shall be final and conclusive.

SEC. 4. That the court or judge before whom the writ of habeas corpus is made returnable, shall, unless a jury is already in attendance, award a venire, commanding the sheriff of the county to summon a jury in the manner provided in case of a challenge made and sustained to the array of jurors by the one hundred and forty-sixth and one hundred and forty-seventh sections of an act, entitled "An Act relative to the organization of the courts of justice," approved the fourteenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four; in case one jury shall disagree the issue may be submitted to another jury, or continued to the next term, at the discretion of the court; and in every case of disagreement another jury may be summoned and qualified as above provided forthwith, or at a future day in the discretion of the court or judge before whom the writ is returned, until a verdict shall finally be rendered upon the issue; and if by reason of challenges or otherwise, there shall not be a full jury of persons summoned present, the deficiency shall be supplied in the manner provided by the one hundred and forty-fourth section of the aforesaid act, approved the fourteenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four.

SEC. 5. That if any claimant shall appear to demand the custody or possession of the person for whose benefit said writ is issued out, such claimant shall state in writing the facts on which he relies with precision and certainty; and neither the claimant of the alleged fugitive, nor any person interested in his alleged obligation to service or labor, nor the alleged fugitive, shall be permitted to testify at the trial of the issue; and no confessions, admissions or declarations of the alleged fugitive against himself shall be given in evidence; upon every question of fact, involved in the issue, the burden of proof shall be on the claimant; and the facts alleged and necessary to be established, must be proved by the testimony of at least two credible witnesses or legal evidence equivalent thereto, and by the rules of evidence known and secured by the common law; and no ex parte deposition or affidavit shall be received in proof in behalf of the claimant; and no presumption shall arise in favor of the claimant, from any proof that the alleged fugitive or any of his ancestors had been actually held as a slave, without proof that such holding was legal.

SEC. 6. That no sheriff, deputy sheriff, coroner, constable, jailer or other person holding office under authority of this Commonwealth; or the police of any city, town or borough; or any district, county, city, town or borough officer; or any officer or other member of the volunteer militia of this Commonwealth, shall hereafter arrest, imprison, detain or return, or aid in arresting, imprisoning, detaining or returning, any person for the reason that he is claimed or adjudged to be a fugitive from service or labor.

SEC. 7. That no jail, prison or other place of confinement, belonging to or used by either the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any county, city or borough therein, shall be used for the detention or imprisonment of any person for the reason that he is claimed or adjudged to be a fugitive from service or labor; or any person accused or convicted of any offence created by either of the said acts of Congress, mentioned in the second section of this act; or accused or convicted of obstructing or resisting any process, warrant or order, issued under either of said acts; or of rescuing or attempting to rescue any person arrested or detained under any of the provisions of either of said acts; nor for the imprisonment of any person arrested on mesne process or on execution, in any suit for damages or penalties accruing or being claimed to accrue in consequence of any aid rendered to any escaping fugitive from service or labor.

SEC. 8. That any sheriff, deputy sheriff, coroner, constable, jailer or other officer or person mentioned in the sixth section of this act, who shall violate or offend against the provisions of this law, shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by fine not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars for the use of the county wherein the issue is tried; and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for any period not less than three nor more than twelve months, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 9. That all the provisions of law, as to writ of habeas corpus, heretofore existing and in force, so far as applicable, and so far as not hereby changed, shall apply to the cases arising under this act.

SEC. 10. That nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to so much of the said act, of the twelfth of February, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-three, as relates to fugitives from justice.

SEC. 11. That this act shall take effect from and after its passage; and all acts or parts of acts, inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

No. 202.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

MR. THORN, Ways and Means—Feb. 4.

RESOLUTION relative to the payment of certain moneys into the State Treasury by the Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Bank of Philadelphia.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the Auditor General, in settling the per centage allowed by the act of twenty-second day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, on the increase of the capital of the Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Bank of the city and county of Philadelphia, be and is hereby directed to charge no per centage on the restoration of the capital of said bank, to the amount allowed by and for which it has already paid a per centage under the provisions of the act of twentieth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, but to charge only the per centage imposed by the act of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, on such increase of capital beyond the amount allowed and already settled for under the act of one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six as may take place under the said act of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven.

No. 482.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

FINNEY, Judiciary—March 2.

AN ACT to establish the Penn Industrial reform school.

WHEREAS, A number of citizens of this Commonwealth have associated themselves together for the purpose of establishing an Industrial reform school, for the physical, mental and moral instruction and reform of destitute, ignorant, idle, and vicious, and criminal, and weak, as may be fit subjects of education in labor and improvement in the arts, and desire the Legislature to grant them a charter to that effect; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That Ellis Lewis, Mordecai L. Dawson, William D. Kelly, J. J. Barclay, Cornelius S. Smith, Joseph R. Flanigen, Robert Morris, John Mason, William F. Murphy, Daniel L. Miller, John C. Murphy, James Tyson, A. L. Kennedy, Elijah Dallett, C. H. Rogers, Philip M. Price, John Reynolds, Alfred Huidekoopcr, John Barker, Gordon F. Mason, John Wilson, C. M. Reed, George A. Lyon, James Miles, George Griscom, G. J. Ball and their successors, and all who may become members, agreeably to the by-laws, are hereby incorporated as a body politic, known by the name, style and title of the Penn Industrial reform school, and by that style and title may sue and be sued, have a common seal purchased, receive, hold and convey any estate, real or personal, for the use and purposes of the said corporation, and to institute, erect and maintain a school or schools, embracing the departments of common school education, agriculture, the mechanic arts and labor, with such buildings, workshops, and such appurtenances, auxiliaries and instrumentalities, as in the judgment of the managers may best contribute to the safe keeping, instruction and reformation of those committed to their custody and guardianship.

SEC. 2. That until otherwise directed by the by-laws, the officers shall be a president, six vice presidents, a secretary, a treasurer and twelve managers, who shall conduct the affairs of the corporation; and for the purpose of electing said officers, the incorporators may meet at such time and place as five or more thereof may designate and appoint, in the city of Philadelphia, at any time after the passage of this act.

SEC. 3. That the time and manner of admitting and continuing members, the amounts payable by members annually, or for life; the manner of calling special meetings; the duties of the officers; the time and place of the annual meeting for the election of officers; the manner of electing the same, and such other matters as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and its true object and intent may be provided by the by-laws: Provided, They do not conflict with the true intent and meaning of this act, or of the constitution, or any other law of this Commonwealth: And provided further, That the annual election shall be held before or as early as the first day of November in each year.

SEC. 4. That it shall and may be lawful for the board of managers, at their discretion to receive into their care and guardianship, all such as may be committed to their custody, in the same manner, to the same extent, and on the same conditions as are provided for in the acts incorporating the houses of refuge, and the accounts to be kept and settled in the same manner; and, in addition thereto, they may receive, at their discretion, any person charged with crime in any of the courts mentioned in the said acts incorporating the houses of refuge, without regard to age, who may be adjudged by the court trying the cause to be a fit subject of reform; and on that question the said court shall hear the statement of the defendant, if requested, detailing the circumstances under which the offence was committed, together with the birth and parentage, place of birth and former residence, education, course of life, and such other matters as they may judge necessary to decide the question of fitness, for the care and guardianship of the managers, which shall be substantially taken down in writing and transmitted, with the commitment, to the managers, when such affirmative decision is made, the said court designating the sentence of the law; and in case the managers, on personal examination and investigation of the cases, or upon further trial, ascertain the defendant not to be a fit subject for their care and management, then, and in that case, they shall have power to commit according to the sentence so designated by the court as aforesaid; if found by the said managers to be a fit subject for their care and guardianship, and the defendant should so prove throughout the period of their control and instruction, then the sentence to be regarded to all intents as null and void, and the managers shall furnish a certificate to the defendant, setting forth the facts in as full a manner as they may adjudge right and proper, as described.

SEC. 5. That the managers may receive in the same manner, such persons as the legal authorities of the houses of refuge may determine to be fit subjects for their care and guardianship, for the purposes of education, culture and reformation.

SEC. 6. That they may receive such as may be committed as vagrants, idlers, intemperate and disorderly persons as may be committed to their care, under authority of any of the courts or magistrates under the examination of said commitment, by the president judge of the proper district; and also, all such persons as may have fallen into habits of intemperance or other vices or errors, who may themselves or by their friends, without compulsion, commit themselves to the care and guardianship of the managers, as may be provided by the by-laws and as may be stipulated.

SEC. 7. That it shall be the duty of the managers, on or before the first day of December, in each and every year, to forward to the Governor and to each of the departments of State, a full detailed report of their proceedings during the year, up to the first day of November, with their views on the causes of crimes within the State, the most efficient means in their opinion of preventing and reforming it, and such other matters as they may deem of importance in furnishing information on that subject; and as soon thereafter as practicable, transmit a copy of said report to each of the judges of the several courts of record, to the president of each of the colleges, academies and high schools, and to each member of the Legislature.

SEC. 8. That the Governor, Attorney General, Superintendent of Common Schools, and the president of the Agricultural high school, for the time being, and the judges of the several courts, shall be entitled to visit freely all departments under the control and guardianship of the managers.

No. 433.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

IRISH, Judiciary—Feb. 25.

AN ACT to alter the districts of the Supreme Court and regulate proceedings therein.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That for the purpose of holding the supreme court of Pennsylvania, the Commonwealth is hereby divided into three districts, denominated the Eastern district, the Middle district and the Western district; the Eastern district consists of the city of Philadelphia, and the counties of Delaware, Chester, Montgomery, Berks, Bucks, Lehigh, Schuylkill, Carbon, Northampton, Monroe, Luzerne, Pike, Wayne, Wyoming, Susquehanna and Bradford; the Middle district consists of the city and county of Lancaster, and the counties of Potter, Tioga, Clinton, Lycoming, Sullivan, Columbia, Montour, Northumberland, Union, Snyder, Centre, Blair, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Juniata, Perry, Dauphin, Lebanon, York, Adams, Cumberland, Franklin, Bedford and Fulton; the Western district consists of the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and the counties of Allegheny, Erie, Crawford, Warren, McKean, Elk, Clearfield, Jefferson, Forest, Clarion, Venango, Mercer, Beaver, Lawrence, Butler, Armstrong, Indiana, Cambria, Somerset, Westmoreland, Fayette, Green and Washington.

SEC. 2. That the judges of the said supreme court shall annually hold three terms of the said court at the places and during the times hereinafter specified, if the business pending in the said court shall require it, to wit: one term in the city of Philadelphia, for the Eastern district, commencing on the first Monday of January; and one term in the borough of Harrisburg, for the Middle district, commencing on the fourth Monday of April; and one term in the city of Pittsburgh, for the Western district, commencing on the first Monday of October; each of the said terms to continue as long as the business of the particular district may require, yet so as not to interfere with the commencement of the other terms, except in case of absolute necessity in the discretion of the said judges.

SEC. 3. That no writ, order or process of any kind shall be issued by said court, or any of the judges thereof requiring any party, respondent or defendant, to appear at any place not within the district where such respondent or defendant resides or is located.

SEC. 4. That the said judges may adjourn and continue the said terms respectively, as the condition of business and the convenience of the suitors may require; and the said court shall also have power to order special terms to be holden at the seat of justice of any county within this Commonwealth, for the purpose of hearing arguments and for the disposition of causes pending in the said court from the said county, or any other counties within the same judicial district.

SEC. 5. That the office of prothonotary of the said supreme court for the Northern district, is hereby abolished, and the books, papers, records and documents heretofore pertaining to and kept within the said district, shall be forthwith conveyed to and deposited in the office and placed in the custody of the prothonotary in and for the said Middle district, by the said late prothonotary of the said Northern district, or under his discretion or control; for which service he shall receive adequate compensation to be paid out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 6. That all existing laws inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

No. 481.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

FINNEY, Judiciary—March 2.

AN ACT to amend an act, entitled "An Act to apportion the city of Philadelphia into single senatorial and representative districts agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution," approved April twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

WHEREAS, By the third section of the act, entitled "An Act to apportion the city of Philadelphia into single senatorial and representative districts, agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution," approved April twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, the third election division of the Sixth ward is made to compose a part both of the sixth and seventh representative districts; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act the said third election division of the Sixth ward shall be deemed and taken as composing a part of the sixth representative district, as provided in said third section of the act, approved April twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; and said act shall be so taken and construed as if said third election division had not been made to compose a part of said seventh representative district.

No. 494.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

BELL, Judiciary—March 2.

AN ACT to regulate the practice and fees of sheriffs in cases of attachments.

in all cases of the attachment of a debt, obligation, duty or sum of money due and owing by a garnishee to the defendant, whether such attachment be made by virtue of a writ of foreign attachment or of a writ of attachment issued on a judgment, it shall not be lawful for the sheriff or other officer to whom such writ is or shall be directed, or his deputy, to require any bond or other security, to indemnify him against the execution of such writ or any fee therefor, nor any other or greater sum or fee for executing such writ, than is by law allowed for serving a writ of scire facias.

SEC. 2. That whenever the sheriff or other officer to whom any writ shall be directed, may by law demand a bond or obligation of indemnity before executing the same, it shall be lawful for such officer to demand or receive as a fee for preparing such bond or obligation, one dollar, and no more.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 53.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

SATURDAY, March 12, 1859.

The House was called to order at 9½ o'clock, by the SPEAKER.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. Miles of the Baptist church.

The Clerk read the Journal of yesterday.

BILL CONSIDERED.

Mr. FEARON moved that the House proceed to the consideration of the act, entitled "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Clinton County coal company," &c.; which was agreed to; whereupon said bill was taken up and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

The bill is as follows:

WHEREAS, The Clinton County coal company were authorized by the eleventh section of an act of Assembly of this Commonwealth, passed the eighteenth of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, to borrow any sum or sums of money not exceeding two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, on bonds secured by mortgage of the whole or any part of the property or road belonging to the company, and the corporate privilege thereto belonging:

AND WHEREAS, The said Clinton County coal company did, on the first day of February, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, borrow the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and did issue the bonds of the said company, and did execute a mortgage bearing even date with said bonds on the whole of the property and road belonging to the company, and the corporate privilege thereto belonging, to secure the payment of the said bonds and the interest thereon accruing:

AND WHEREAS, The said company failed to pay the interest or principal of said bonds, and the whole property, railroad and corporate privilege of said company having been sold on and in pursuance of the terms of said mortgage, and purchased by a trustee for the use of said bondholders; and the said bondholders, as such owners, being desirous to enjoy the corporate privileges of the said Clinton County coal company: therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall and may be lawful for the bondholders of the Clinton County coal company, for whose use the property, railroad and corporate privileges were purchased at sale under the mortgage, to have, hold and enjoy the said property and corporate franchise in as full and ample a manner as the same were held by said Clinton County coal company before said sale took place.

SEC. 2. That it shall be lawful for said bondholders to organize a company under the name of the Eagleton coal company, and by that name may sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, with the rights and privileges aforesaid.

SEC. 3. That the capital stock of said company shall be and consist of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and shall be divided into fourteen thousand shares of twenty-five dollars each, of which the property so purchased shall constitute part, at such price as may be agreed upon between said bondholders and those who may associate with them, and the balance of the stock to be paid by those who may subscribe for the same.

SEC. 4. That it shall be lawful for the said bondholders, for the purpose of organizing said company, to elect from their number, a president, treasurer and five directors, who shall hold their offices until the next annual election, and until other persons shall be duly elected to fill their places; and the subsequent elections of said company to be held at the times, places, and in the manner provided by the act of incorporation of the said Clinton County coal company.

SEC. 5. That the stockholders of the said Eagleton coal company, shall be jointly and severally liable in their individual capacities for all debts due mechanics, workmen and laborers employed by, and for materials furnished to said company; to be sued for and collected as provided in the twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth sections of an act incorporating the Lackawana iron and coal company, approved April fifth, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and shall pay such taxes on dividends as is or may be required by law.

Mr. FISHER moved that the House proceed to the consideration of Senate bill No. 174, "An Act to make decrees for the payment of money in equity proceeding, liens upon real estate, &c.; which was agreed to.

The bill could not be found.

Mr. PENNELL, on leave, read "An Act relating to dog tax in the township of Thornbury, Delaware county, and county of Crawford."

On his motion, said bill was taken up and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. CAMPBELL, (Roads and Bridges,) reported with amendment, "An Act incorporating the Robison and Eyster bridge company."

Also, as committed, "An Act relating to roads in West Goshenhoppen township, Chester county."

On motion of Mr. SHAFER, said bill was passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WILSON moved that the House proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 504, "An Act providing for the fencing of part of the Pittsburgh and Cleveland railroad, for the protection of property in Beaver county;" which was agreed to; whereupon said bill was taken up and passed the House, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Messrs. STYER and PATTERSON moved to re-consider the vote had upon the final passage of the bill erecting the new county of Pine out of parts of Indiana, Cambria, Jefferson and Clearfield counties.

Mr. M'CLURE moved that the motion to re-consider be postponed for the present, because those most interested in the bill were now absent.

Mr. STYER made the motion only to bring the bill within the prescribed limits.

Mr. KINNEY hoped the motion would not carry, as Mr. TAYLOR was out of his seat, and he had requested him to oppose any motion to take up the bill.

Mr. TAYLOR had made a like request of Mr. SHIELDS.

Mr. PATTERSON explained why he seconded the motion.

The motion to postpone was not agreed to.

The motion to re-consider was carried.

Mr. BRYSON, on leave, read an act, entitled "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Westminster collegiate institute, approved April 27, 1852;" which, on his motion, was taken up and passed the House, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. ROUSE moved that the House proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 662, "An Act to authorize the supervisors of Whetmore township, M'Kean county, to build a road;" which was agreed to; whereupon said bill was taken up and passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) on leave, read "An Act vacating temporarily part of a public road in Berks county;" on his motion, said bill was taken up and passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. PRICE moved that the House proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 398, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Mt. Joy savings institution;" which was agreed to; whereupon said bill was taken up.

On final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. EVANS and Mr. JACKSON, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Balliet, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Burley, Campbell, Church, Durboraw, Fearon, Green, Harding, Irish, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mahaffey, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Price, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Rouse, Shafer, Styer, Wagenseller, Walker, Witman, Wigton, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Wilson, Withrow, Wolf, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—39.

NAYS—Messrs. Boyer, (Clearfield,) Chase, Custer, Dismant, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Graham, Gray, Hamersly, Hottenstine, Jackson, Laird, Rohrer, Shields, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Warden and Wiliston—22.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. CHURCH desired to explain his vote.—He had all through the session voted against banks and saving funds, because he disliked the extreme system upon which, at present, they were organized. He thought banks should be free to all, subject to certain stringent provisions, and he was in hopes that a safe system would be inaugurated by the Legislature to meet the demands of trade in the premises. The matter had been started in the upper House, but he was sorry to say the bill reported did not meet with such favor as gave assurance it would pass. Under the circumstances, believing that in certain localities greater banking facilities were wanted, and having no lively hope of a general law throwing banks open to all, Mr. CHURCH would vote "aye," and when the bill came up for final passage, if a general law is not in the Senate in fair progress, he would give it his undivided support.

Mr. MEHAFFEY moved that the House proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 461, "An Act authorizing the State Treasurer to pay the Towanda bridge company fifteen hundred dollars, &c.," which was agreed to, and the bill was read.

Mr. KINNEY moved to substitute a new bill, as follows:

WHEREAS, By the thirty-sixth section of "An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of government," and passed 13th day of May, 1857, the sum of eighty thousand dollars was appropriated to the Upper North Branch canal, upon the estimate of Wm. R. Maffit, superintendent of that line of canal, included in which estimate was the sum of three thousand dollars to the Towanda bridge company:

AND WHEREAS, by the fifty-sixth section of the same act, the further sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars was appropriated to the Towanda bridge company, both of which was for the purpose of repairing said bridge and building a towing path attached thereto, for the use of the Commonwealth:

AND WHEREAS, The Board of Canal Commissioners did on the 12th day of July, A. D. 1856, in pursuance of the provisions of the act of assembly above mentioned, enter into a contract with the treasurer of the Towanda bridge company, for the repairing of their bridge with the towing path attached, for the use of the Commonwealth, for which said bridge company were to be paid the sum of nine thousand dollars out of the money appropriated as afore-said:

AND WHEREAS, There is a balance of fifteen hundred dollars remaining due and unpaid upon said contract; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and required to pay over to the Towanda bridge company, the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, being a balance due them in pursuance of a contract with the Board of Canal Commissioners, made the 12th day of July, 1856; said sum to be paid out of the balance remaining in the treasury by order of the Board of Canal Commissioners, for that purpose, out of the appropriations made by sections thirty-six and fifty-six of the "Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of government," approved May 13th, 1856.

Mr. KETCHUM opposed the bill. It had been sufficiently discussed before. This fifteen hundred dollars was for the construction of a towing path, which was strictly a part of the Susquehanna canal. The Commonwealth was no longer liable for claims upon the canal. This claim evidently came within the provisions of the act of 1858 in regard to the sale of the State canals, and if it was not to be paid by the Commonwealth, the precedent would be one of the most prejudicial character.

Mr. HAMERSLY said that there was an understanding that none but private bills should be taken up this morning, and that none should be touched that would provoke discussion.

Mr. KINNEY did not design to enter into a long discussion. He said that the bridge was built before the North Branch canal was located. The money asked for, was that belonging to the bridge company, and not that belonging to the State. The appropriation had been made, and the State Treasurer now only asked for authority to hand over to the county their own money. In pursuance of the act of the Legislature, the Canal Commissioners entered into a contract with this company to build the bridge for $10,000; the amount was to be paid as the work progressed; $7,500 was paid in pursuance of that contract.

Mr. WILISTON said that if he could vote for this bill without making it a precedent, which would result injuriously to the State, he would do so.

Mr. CHASE moved to re-commit to Committee on Ways and Means; agreed to.

Mr. JACKSON moved that the House proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 605, "An Act extending the general manufacturing laws for the manufacture of leather to the county of Sullivan," which was agreed to; whereupon said bill was taken up and passed.

On motion of Messrs. PATTERSON, WILCOX, WILISTON and MANN, the counties of Juniata, M'Kean, Tioga and Potter were embraced within the provisions of the above act.

Mr. PATTERSON offered a joint resolution to authorize the Surveyor General to issue a patent to Jno. William, Jr.; and on his motion, said bill was taken up and passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. CHURCH called up House bill No. 685, "An Act to incorporate the Industrial Home for girls, (Mr. M'CURDY in the Chair;) which was considered, and passed Committee of the Whole.

The bill being on second reading,

Mr. PINKERTON moved to amend the sixth section to come in in the seventh line, "or any other president judge of the courts of this Commonwealth;" which was agreed to; and the bill passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. IRISH called up House bill No. 431, "An Act entitled 'A further supplement to the act regulating banks,'" which was considered and passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WALKER called up Senate bill No. 185, "An Act to incorporate the Johnstown and Ashtola tram road and railroad company," (Mr. BAYARD in the Chair.)

Mr. STEPHENS moved to amend the seventh section, by striking out all after the word "provided," and insert the following, "a tax of one half of one per centum on their capital stock;" which was not agreed to; and the bill as originally drawn was passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. CHASE called up House bill No. 377, "An Act to provide for the more speedy payment of taxes against corporations."

Mr. HAMERSLY stated that as the bill was one in which several of his colleagues felt considerable interest, he moved that its further consideration for the present be postponed.

The motion to suspend the rules, in order to proceed to the consideration of the above bill, was not agreed to.

Messrs. GOEPP and BOYER (of Clearfield,) moved that the House re-consider the vote had upon final passage of the act relative to passenger railway companies in Philadelphia; agreed to.

Mr. SMITH (of Berks,) moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present; agreed to.

Mr. ZOLLER moved that the act providing for the publication of the laws of the Commonwealth be re-committed to the Judiciary Committee; which was agreed to.

Mr. BARLOW, on leave, read "An Act to incorporate the Pine Grove turnpike road company, of Centre county," and on his motion, said bill was taken up and passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. CUSTER, on leave, read "An Act to change the name of the Keystone Lancers," and, on his motion, said bill was taken up and passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WILLISTON called up bill No. 784, "An Act relative to the collection of poor tax on unseated lands in the county of Tioga;" which was considered and passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Messrs. MANN and HOTTENSTINE amended the above bill, by making the provisions of the act apply to the counties of Potter and Northumberland.

Mr. KINNEY called up House bill No. 714, "An Act providing for the fencing of the Williamsport and Elmira railroad in the counties of Bradford and Lycoming;" which was considered.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) moved to amend the bill, as follows:

Provided, That the fences hereby authorized and required to be erected, shall only be so erected upon lands the owners of which have not already received compensation for the erection of such fences.

Which was agreed to; and the bill, as amended, passed; and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. BALLIET called up Senate bill No. —, "An Act to incorporate the Perryville bridge company;" which was considered and passed finally.

Mr. WARDEN called up House bill No. —, "Further supplement to the act to incorporate the Pennsylvania Central railroad company;" which was considered and passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. SHEPPARD made report from the Committee to Compare Bills; which was read.

Mr. SHAFER called up House bill No. 497, "Supplement to the act to incorporate the Phoenix iron company."

Mr. ROHRER moved the House adjourn until Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. HAMERSLY moved to adjourn at 12 o'clock.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved to amend the amendment, by adjourning to meet again at 9 o'clock on Monday morning; which was not agreed to.

The amendment was not agreed to.

The question being,

Will the House agree to the original motion?

It was not agreed to.

The above bill was then considered and passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. PROUDFOOT called up Senate bill, entitled "A further supplement to the act to incorporate the Cambria iron company;" which was considered and passed finally.

Mr. PALM called up Senate bill No. 395, "An Act to incorporate the Mahanoy railroad company." The Clerk was unable to find the bill.

Mr. HOTTENSTINE, on leave, read an act relating to a review of parts of a road in Northumberland county; which, on his motion, was taken up.

On motion of Mr. JACKSON, it was postponed for the present.

Mr. HAMERSLY called up Senate bill No. 248, "An Act relative to the Northumberland improvement company;" which was considered and passed finally.

Mr. WAGENSELLER called up House bill No. 542, "An Act relating to public roads in Snyder county;" which was considered and passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. PATTERSON amended the bill by embracing the county of Juniata within the provisions of the bill.

Mr. M'CLURE, on leave, read an act to incorporate the ministers and elders constituting the First United Presbyterian synod of the west.

Also, "An Act to incorporate the ministers and elders of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian church of North America;" and, on his motion, said bills were ordered to be placed on Calendar for Tuesday.

Mr. M'CLURE called up the act relative to elections in St. Thomas and Letterkenny townships, Franklin county; which was considered and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. SMEAD called up Senate bill No. 6, "An Act to incorporate the Towanda water company;" which was considered and passed finally.

Mr. KETCHUM called up House bill No. 69, "An Act to incorporate the borough of New Columbus, Luzerne county;" which was considered and passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. CHURCH, (Corporations,) reported with amendment, "An Act to incorporate the South Western market company."

Also, (as committed,) "An Act to incorporate the South Philadelphia steamboat company."

Also, (as committed,) Senate bill No. 259, "Supplement to an act to incorporate the Commonwealth insurance company of Harrisburg;" and on his motion, the above bill was taken up and passed finally.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) on leave, read "An Act relative to directors of the poor and house of employment, in the county of Washington;" and on his motion, said bill was taken up and passed, and was sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. M'CURDY called up House bill No. 464, "An Act for the relief of James Hamilton, of Carlisle, Pennsylvania;" which was considered and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. HAMERSLY, on leave, offered a resolution, that when this House adjourns it do so to meet on Monday at three, P. M.

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) moved to amend, by adjourning to-day at twelve and a half o'clock.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved to amend the amendment, by inserting "nine" instead of "3 P. M.;" which was not agreed to.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the resolution as amended,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LAWRENCE and Mr. GRAHAM, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Bayard, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Cnster, Dismant, Glatz, Goepp, Good, Gray, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Ketchum, Kinney, Mann, Mehaffey, M'Clure, M'Dowell, Palm, Patterson, Peirce, Proudfoot, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stoneback, Warden, Wilcox and Wulston—31.

NAYS—Messrs. Balliet, Barlow, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Dodds, Durboraw, Fearon, Foster, Graham, Jackson, Laird, Lawrence (Washington,) M'Curdy, Ramsdell, Rouse, Wagenseller, Walker, Wigton, Williams, (Bedford,) Wolf and Lawrence, Speaker—23.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. M'DOWELL called up Senate bill No. 639, "Supplement to an act to incorporate the borough of Luzerne;" which was considered and passed finally.

The hour of twelve and a half o'clock having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until next Monday afternoon, at three o'clock.

SENATE.

MONDAY, March 14, 1859.

The Senate met and was called to order by the SPEAKER at 3 o'clock P. M.

The Journal of Friday's proceedings was partly read; when, on motion of Mr. WELSH, its further reading was dispensed with.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. FETTER, (Agriculture and Domestic Manufactures,) reported, as committed, "An Act encouraging the destruction of foxes in Beaver county."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to prevent the destruction of trout in the counties of Somerset, Westmoreland, Fayette and Blair."

Also, (same,) as committed, "An Act to prevent the hunting of deer with dogs, in Morris township, Tioga county."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 379, "An Act relative to taxing dogs in West Nottingham, Chester county."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 561, "An Act to repeal an act to prevent the destruction of rabbits in Fayette and Westmoreland counties."

Mr. BALDWIN, (Roads and Bridges,) as committed, "An Act providing for the grading, paving and curbing of Main street, in Myerstown, Lebanon county."

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. FINNEY read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act for the appointment of policemen and settlement of claims on account of the poor in the borough of Meadville."

Mr. GREGG, "An Act relative to overseers of poor in the borough of Lewisburg, Union county."

Mr. PALMER, "An Act to incorporate the Schuylkill transportation company."

Also, "An Act to incorporate the Pottsville and Minersville railroad company."

Mr. MYER, "An Act to incorporate the Weyssauk railroad company."

Mr. PENNEY, "A supplement to an act incorporating the village of East Birmingham into a borough."

Mr. TURNEY, "An Act authorizing the town council of Hollidaysburg to license drays and carts."

Mr. RUTHERFORD, "A supplement to the act incorporating the borough of Harrisburg."

Mr. CRAIG, "An Act to incorporate the Packer iron company."

Mr. FETTER, "An Act relative to supervisors in Perry county."

On motion of Mr. FETTER, this bill was taken up, and after going through its various readings, passed finally.

Mr. FINNEY, "A joint resolution relative to the claim of Thomas Morley;" and on his motion, (the Committee on Finance having been discharged from its consideration,) the Senate proceeded to consider the same.

The resolution is as follows:

WHEREAS, Thomas Morley is a claimant for damages sustained in the construction of the North Branch canal, and a bill is now pending before the Legislature for the payment of such damages:

AND WHEREAS, The purchasers of the North Branch canal are liable for the same, if any have been sustained, by the provisions of the act of April 21, 1858, entitled "An Act for the sale of the State canals:"

Resolved, That the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate be required to notify the president of the company owning the said North Branch canal, to appear forthwith before the Judiciary Committee of the Senate, to show cause, if any the said company has, why such damages should not be ascertained, and the payment thereof be made by said company.

Pending the discussion upon this resolution;

On motion of Mr. MILLER, its consideration was postponed until to-morrow.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. BALDWIN offered the following resolution; which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That the House of Representatives be requested to return to the Senate House bill No. 777, "An Act relative to vacating an alley in the borough of Columbia."

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

House bill No. 419, "An Act to incorporate the Layton bridge company, in Fayette county, and to authorize the commissioners of said county to make a donation to said company," came up in order, on second reading, and after being slightly amended, on motion of Mr. TURNEY, passed finally.

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented a message from the Governor, which was read, and is as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
Harrisburg, March 14, 1859. }

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—I have approved and signed the following Acts of the General Assembly, viz:

"An Act to incorporate the Council Ridge and White Haven railroad company."

"A supplement to the act to incorporate the Newtown Square and Paoli plank road company."

"An Act to extend the powers of the high constable of the borough of Media, in Delaware county."

"An Act to incorporate the Birmingham insurance company."

"An Act to authorize the school directors of the borough of Bedford to borrow money."

"A further supplement to the act to incorporate the Meadville railroad company."

"A supplement to an act to improve the navigation of the river Lackawaxen."

"A further supplement to an act to incorporate the North Western coal and iron company."

"An Act relative to roads in the township of Great Bend, in the county of Susquehanna."

"An Act authorizing the court of quarter sessions of Columbia county to appoint auditors for Conyngham township, in said county."

"An Act to incorporate the Suffolk park association."

"An Act to incorporate the Boatmen's insurance company."

An Act to incorporate the Columbia County agricultural, horticultural and mechanical association."

"An Act to incorporate the Fairmount and Manayunk steamboat company."

WM. F. PACKER.

BILLS CONSIDERED.

On motion of Mr. FINNEY, (the Committee on Corporations having been discharged from its consideration,) House bill No. 572, "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the city of Erie," was taken up, and, after being duly considered, passed finally.

Mr. BALDWIN moved to reconsider the vote on the final passage of "An Act relative to vacating an alley in Columbia," whereupon,

Mr. WELSH moved to postpone consideration of the same for the present, on which

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAEFFER and Mr. WELSH, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Craig, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—4.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Blood, Coffey, Fetter, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Nunemacher, Parker, Palmer, Penney, Randall, Rutherford, Scofield, Shaeffer, Steele, Thompson and Turney—24.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The motion to reconsider was agreed to, and the bill being again before the Senate, it was lost.

On leave given, Mr. BELL read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act relative to sureties of county treasurers."

Bills entitled as follows passed finally:

On motion of MILLER, House bill No. 451, "An Act to authorize the election of two additional supervisors in Washington and Rich Hill townships, Green county."

On motion of Mr. GREGG, House bill No. 484, "A supplement to an act incorporating the Lock Haven and Flemington turnpike and plank road company."

On motion of Mr. HARRIS, Senate bill No. 551, "A supplement to an act authorizing the laying out of a State road from New Castle, Lawrence county, to Emlenton, Venango county."

House bill No. 266, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Big Mountain improvement company," on motion of Mr. KELLER, was taken up, and considered.

On its final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCOFIELD and Mr. KELLER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Craig, Fetter, Keller, Nunemacher, Penney, Rutherford, Scofield, Shaeffer, Thompson, Turney and Cresswell, Speaker—11.

NAYS—Messrs. Finney, Randall, Welsh and Wright—4.

A quorum of Senators not having voted, Mr. KELLER demanded a call of the Senate, whereupon the Clerk proceeded to call the roll, and the following gentlemen answered to their names:

Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Francis, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Nunemacher, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Rutherford, Scofield, Shaeffer, Steele, Thompson, Turney, Welsh, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—26.

The hour of five having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the Senate until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, March 14, 1859.

The House met at 3 o'clock, and was called to order by Mr. S. B. CHASE, Speaker pro tem.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Saturday.

Mr. RAMSDELL offered a resolution, that the House will hold no session on Wednesday and Thursday afternoon, and that the use of the Hall be granted to the Democratic State Convention on the afternoon and evening of those days; which was read the second time.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved to amend, by striking out Thursday afternoon.

Mr. THORN moved to amend, by giving the Convention the use of the Hall the whole of Wednesday; which was agreed to.

The resolution, as amended, was adopted.

Mr. GLATZ, on leave, from the Committee on Corporations, reported as committed, "A further supplement to the act incorporating the borough of York;" and, on his motion, said bill was taken up, considered and passed; and ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. MILLER asked and obtained the unanimous consent of the House to strike from House bill No. —, "An Act relative to dog tax," the provision extending the same to Crawford county.

Mr. GOEPP, on leave, presented the following bills:

"An Act to incorporate the Lehigh iron company."

"An Act to incorporate the Rebecca iron company."

"A further supplement to the act relative to the organization of courts of justice."

"An Act to incorporate the American piano and melodeon saving fund society of Pennsylvania."

Mr. OAKS, on leave, presented "An Act authorizing the widening and extension of Market street, Bloomsburg, Columbia county." On his motion, said bill was taken up, and passed the House.

Mr. STUART, "An Act authorizing the directors of the poor, and of the house of employment, for the county of Cumberland, to rebuild the barn and other buildings lately destroyed by fire." On his motion, said bill was taken up, and passed the House.

Mr. FISHER, on leave, from the Committee on Corporations, reported, as committed, "An Act relative to the Weccacoe and Moyamensing meadow company." On his motion, said bill was taken up, and passed the House.

Mr. SMEAD, on leave, presented "An Act to authorize the town council of the borough of Towanda to levy a special money tax." On his motion, said bill was taken up, and passed the House.

Mr. MILLER, on leave, from the Committee on Corporations, reported, as committed, the following bills:

"An Act relating to the Columbia water company."

"An Act to incorporate the New Castle water company."

"An Act to amend the charter of the borough of Jersey Shore."

"Supplement to an act to incorporate the Lewisburg building association," &c.

"Supplement to an act to incorporate the Odd Fellows hall association of Pittsburg, county of Allegheny."

"An Act to incorporate the Bedford gas company."

"An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia company for the improvement of the drama."

Mr. MILLER moved that the rules be suspended, and that the House proceed to the consideration of the last mentioned bill.

Mr. WALBORN called for a division of the question.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the first division to suspend the rules? it was determined in the negative.

SPECIAL CALENDAR OF PRIVATE BILLS.

Agreeably to order, the House proceeded to the consideration of bills on the Special Calendar, whereupon the following were read, and no objections being made laid aside for second reading:

Sen. 309. "A further supplement to the act to incorporate the Harrisburg female seminary."

No. 755. "An Act for the relief of John S. Miller."

No. 757. "An Act to declare Johnson's run, in Fox township, Elk county, a public highway."

No. 760. "A supplement to the Willow Street turnpike road company."

No. 761. "An Act for the relief of Sabina Bachman, of Northampton county."

No. 762. "An Act relative to the Trevorton coal and railroad company."

No. 763. "An Act relating to the purchase of certain real estate by the Philadelphia Bank."

No. 764. "An Act to incorporate the Green Hill market company."

No. 765. "A further supplement to an act incorporating the Coudersport, Portage and Allegheny River railroad company, approved the 12th day of April, A. D. 1851."

No. 766. "An Act to incorporate the Anthracite improvement company."

No. 769. "An Act to exempt the armory of the Ringgold Light Artillery, of Reading, Berks county, from taxation."

No. 770. "An Act for the division of North and South Union townships, in the county of Fayette, for all purposes."

Sen. 203. "An Act to provide for the payment of the claim of Peter S. M'Cullough."

No. 775. "An Act relative to the road laws of Tioga county."

No. 709. "An Act to incorporate the Ridge Avenue and Manayunk Passenger railway company."

No. 785. "An Act to authorize the president and managers of the Milford and Richland turnpike road company to borrow money."

Sen. 525. "An Act relating to the limits of the borough of Wrightsville, York county."

No. 787. "Supplement to an act passed February 18, 1859, incorporating the Eastern market company of the city of Philadelphia."

No. 790. "An Act to incorporate the Union building association."

No. 791. "An Act to incorporate the Delaware and Schuylkill steam tug company."

No. 793. "An Act authorizing the Auditor General to open and re-settle the account of James Mitchell, late treasurer of Lawrence county."

No. 794. "An Act extending the limits of the borough of Beallsville, in the county of Washington, for school purposes."

No. 795. "A further supplement to an act to incorporate the Lykens Valley railroad and coal company, in Dauphin county, approved 7th day of April, 1830."

No. 796. "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Citizens' Passenger railroad company, approved 25th day of March, 1858."

No. 799. "An Act changing the manner of voting in Somerset county."

BILLS OBJECTED TO.

By Mr. JACKSON, "An Act to incorporate the Richmond and Schuylkill passenger railroad company, in the city of Philadelphia."

By Mr. NILL, "An Act repealing the fourth section of an act to establish a new judicial district, &c., approved 21st March, 1842."

On motion of Mr. THORN, the House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of bills on Special Calendar; whereupon, said bills were taken up and passed, and ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence:

Sen. 309. "A further supplement to the act to incorporate the Harrisburg female Seminary."

No. 755. "An Act for the relief of John S. Miller."

No. 757. "An Act to declare Johnson's run, in Fox township, Elk county, a public highway."

No. 760. "A supplement to the Willow Street turnpike road company."

No. 761. "An Act for the relief of Sabina Bachman, of Northampton county."

No. 762. "An Act relating to the Trevorton coal and railroad company."

No. 763. "An Act to allow Philadelphia Bank, to buy additional real estate."

No. 764. "An Act to incorporate the Green Hill market company."

No. 765. "A further supplement to an act incorporating the Coudersport, Portage and Allegheny River railroad company, approved the 12th day of April, A. D. 1851."

No. 766. "An Act to incorporate the Anthracite improvement company."

No. 769. "An Act to exempt the armory of the Ringgold Light Artillery, of Reading, Berks county, from taxation."

No. 770. "An Act for the division of North and South Union townships, in the county of Fayette, for all purposes."

Sen. 203. "An Act to provide for the payment of the claim of Peter S. McCullough."

No. 775. "An Act relative to the road laws of Tioga county."

No. 709. "An Act to incorporate the Ridge Avenue and Manayunk passenger railway company."

No. 785. "An Act to authorize the president and managers of the Milford and Richland turnpike road company to borrow money."

Sen. 525. "An Act relating to the limits of the borough of Wrightsville, York county."

No. 790. "An Act to incorporate the Union building association."

No. 791. "An Act to incorporate the Delaware and Schuylkill steam tug company."

No. 793. "An Act authorizing the Auditor General to open and re-settle the account of James Mitchell, late treasurer of Lawrence county."

No. 794. "An Act extending the limits of the borough of Bealsville, in the county of Washington, for school purposes."

No. 799 "An Act changing the manner of voting in Somerset county."

Mr. GRAY moved to include Greene county in the above act; which was agreed to.

An Act to incorporate the Green Hill market company, came up in order on second reading.

Mr. ACKER offered the following amendment, which was agreed to, as follows: That the said corporation shall have no power to prohibit or restrict by any by-law, rule or regulation, any person who shall rent or occupy a stall in any such market building, from exposing to sale and selling at said stall in such quantities as he may think proper, beef, mutton, pork, veal and poultry, which shall be slaughtered or killed on his farm; nor from exposing to sale and selling at said stall butter, cheese, sausages and chopped meat, which shall be manufactured or prepared for market on his said farm; nor from exposing for sale and selling at said stall any article or articles killed or slaughtered, made, manufactured or prepared for market on his said farm; which was agreed to, and the bill as amended passed, and was ordered to be sent to the Senate for concurrence.

"A supplement to the act incorporating the Eastern market company," came up in order on second reading.

Mr. PENNELL moved to amend the bill, by striking out all after the enacting clause, and inserting the following; which was agreed to, as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the said company shall have power to purchase and hold real estate in any part of the said city east of Fifth street, south of Market and north of Chestnut streets, for the same purposes and intents; and in all respects shall have the same corporate rights and privileges in relation thereto as are set forth in the act aforesaid.

Mr. ACKER moved the following amendment:

Sec. 2. That the said corporation shall have no power to prohibit or restrict, by any by-law, rule or regulation, any person who shall rent or occupy a stall in any such market building, from exposing to sale, and selling at said stall in such quantities as he may deem proper, beef, pork, mutton, veal and poultry, which shall be slaughtered or killed on his farm, nor from exposing to sale, and selling at such stall, butter, cheese, sausages and chopped meats, which shall be manufactured or prepared for market on said farm, nor from exposing for sale, and selling at said stall, any article or articles killed or slaughtered, made or manufactured, or prepared for market on said farm.

Which was agreed to; and the bill, as amended, passed the House, and was ordered to be sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. JACKSON withdrew his objections to House bill No. 752, "An Act to incorporate the Richmond and Schuylkill passenger railway company of Philadelphia."

Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) renewed the objections.

Mr. NILL offered a resolution that the use of the Hall be granted to J. H. Latrobe, on Thursday evening, for the purpose of delivering a lecture on African Colonization; which was not adopted.

On motion of Mr. CHURCH, (the Committee on Claims being discharged from the further consideration of the same,) Senate bill No. 416, "An Act to authorize the Auditor General to open and re-settle the account of the Franklin fire insurance company of Philadelphia," was taken up and passed finally.

Mr. MILLER asked and obtained leave to make a statement. He (Mr. M.) stated that on Saturday last, while he was absent from the House, the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. PENNELL) read in his place a bill relating to a tax on dogs in Thornbury township, Delaware county, which the House proceeded to consider. Some friend, desirous of serving the people of Crawford county, moved to extend the provisions of said bill to that county; which was agreed to. This bill provides for the repeal of a law imposing a tax on dogs in the township referred to, and that the tax collected the present year should be paid in to the county treasury. This bill being extended to Crawford county amounts to nonsense,—that county having no such law to be repealed.

Mr. MILLER asked the unanimous consent of the House to amend said bill by striking out the amendment which relates to Crawford county; which was agreed to.

Adjourned until this evening at 7½ o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The House was called to order at 7½ o'clock, P. M.

Mr. CHASE in the Chair.

A message from the Governor was received and read.

Senate amendments to House bill No. 771 were read and concurred in.

Senate amendments to House bill No. 327 were read and concurred in.

Senate amendments to House bill No. 365 were read and concurred in.

The Senate non-concurred in House amendments to Senate bill No. 107, and notified the House of the appointment of a committee of conference.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) moved that the House proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 307, "An Act giving justices of the peace power with a jury of six to hear and finally determine charges for crime of a certain character, within this Commonwealth, and to lessen the expenses in criminal proceedings."

Mr. WILLISTON inquired of the SPEAKER whether this motion could now properly be entertained, when this evening had been set apart for a special purpose, viz: The consideration of House bill No. 432.

The SPEAKER said that the motion involved a suspension of the rules, and that the vote of two-thirds of the House would accomplish this at any time.

Mr. WILLISTON asked leave to make a statement. Leave being given, he said that the bill which the gentleman from Washington (Mr. LAWRENCE) had called up, was certainly one of importance. He was in favor of it, and desired to act upon it before the adjournment; but this was the second time which had been set apart for the consideration of the bill of the gentleman from Allegheny, (Mr. IRISH,) and he did not think that the question of personal liberty could be avoided by any motion like that of Mr. LAWRENCE, although it might be postponed for one evening. It was not a parliamentary way to dispose of a question which some of the members did not choose to have called up.

Mr. LAWRENCE (Washington) wanted to have the vote taken on the bill which he had called up, and which was one of great public importance.

Mr. IRISH was not conscious of having done anything to warrant the gentleman from Washington (Mr. LAWRENCE) in the course which he was pursuing. If that gentleman had thought proper to have introduced a bill in which he felt a special interest, he (Mr. IRISH) would have been the last man in existence to have come forward and asked that it might be postponed. This was already, as had been stated, the second time set apart for the consideration of the Personal Liberty bill. He was interested in its provisions, and only asked that he might be treated fairly by the members of the House.

Further debate took place between Messrs. WILLISTON, GRITMAN, MILLER and HILL.

On the motion of Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WILLISTON and Mr. ROSE, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS.—Messrs. Barlow, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Graham, Gray, Gritman, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mehaffey, M'Curdy, Miller, Nill, Oaks, Pennell, Proudfoot, Shepard, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Witman, Wigton and Williams, (Bedford,)—32.

NAYS.—Messrs. Abbott, Ackers, Balliet, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Custer, Durboraw, Evans, Foster, Glatz, Goepp, Good, Gratz, Hamersly, Hill, Hottenstine, Irish, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Mann, Peirce, Ramsdell, Rose, Shafer, Smead, Stoneback, Stuart, Warden, Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wilson, Wolf, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—30.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. ZOLLER moved to adjourn.

Not agreed to.

The House then resolved itself into committee of the whole to consider House bill 432. (Mr. MANN in the Chair.)

The bill was read as follows:

AN ACT for the better security of personal liberty, to prohibit the use of the jails and prisons of this Commonwealth in the re-capture of fugitive slaves, and to prevent persons holding office under the authority of the State, from engaging or assisting therein.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the meaning of the first, second and thirteenth sections of an act, entitled "An Act for the better security of personal liberty, and preventing wrongful imprisonments," approved the eighteenth day of February, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-five, and the fifth section of an act, entitled "An Act to prevent kidnapping, preserve the public peace, prohibit the exercise of certain powers heretofore exercised by judges, justices of the peace, aldermen and jailors in this Commonwealth, and to repeal certain slave laws," approved the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven, is hereby declared to be that any person imprisoned or restrained of his liberty is entitled as of right and of course to the writ of habeas corpus, except in the cases mentioned in the first, fifth and sixth sections of the said act, approved the eighteenth day of February, one thousand seven hundred and eighty five, and persons convicted or in execution upon civil or criminal process.

SEC. 2. That the provisions of the third section of the said act, entitled "An Act to prevent kidnapping, et cetera," approved the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven, shall apply to the act of Congress, approved the eighteenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, entitled "An Act to amend and supplementary to the act, entitled 'An Act respecting fugitives from justice, and persons escaping from the service of their masters'"

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the courts having jurisdiction in cases of writs of habeas corpus under existing laws, or any judge thereof, except associate judges of the courts of common pleas, on application of any party to a proceeding, in any writ of habeas corpus, whether the court may be in session or not, and in term, time or vacation, to order a trial by jury, as to any facts stated in the return of the officer, or as to any facts alleged, if it shall appear by the return of the officer or otherwise, that the person whose restraint or imprisonment is in question is claimed to be held to service or labor in another State, and to have escaped from such service or labor, and may admit such person to bail in any sum, not exceeding one thousand dollars; in such case issue may be joined by a general denial of the facts alleged, the plea may be not guilty, and the jury shall have the right to return a general verdict, and the same discretion as juries have in the trial of criminal causes; and the finding of a verdict of not guilty shall be final and conclusive.

SEC. 4. That the court or judge before whom the writ of habeas corpus is made returnable, shall, unless a jury is already in attendance, award a venire, commanding the sheriff of the county to summon a jury in the manner provided in case of a challenge made and sustained to the array of jurors by the one hundred and forty-sixth and one hundred and forty-seventh sections of an act, entitled "An Act relative to the organization of the courts of justice," approved the fourteenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four; in case one jury shall disagree the issue may be submitted to another jury, or continued to the next term, at the discretion of the court; and in every case of disagreement another jury may be summoned and qualified as above provided forthwith, or at a future day in the discretion of the court or judge before whom the writ is returned, until a verdict shall finally be rendered upon the issue; and if by reason of challenges or otherwise, there shall not be a full jury of persons summoned present, the deficiency shall be supplied in the manner provided by the one hundred and forty-fourth section of the aforesaid act, approved the fourteenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four.

SEC. 5. That if any claimant shall appear to demand the custody or possession of the person for whose benefit said writ is issued out, such claimant shall state in writing the facts on which he relies with precision and certainty; and neither the claimant of the alleged fugitive, nor any person interested in his alleged obligation to service or labor, nor the alleged fugitive, shall be permitted to testify at the trial of the issue; and no confessions, admissions or declarations of the alleged fugitive against himself shall be given in evidence; upon every question of fact, involved in the issue, the burden of proof shall be on the claimant; and the facts alleged and necessary to be established, must be proved by the testimony of at least two credible witnesses or legal evidence equivalent thereto, and by the rules of evidence known and secured by the common law; and no ex parte deposition or affidavit shall be received in proof in behalf of the claimant; and no presumption shall arise in favor of the claimant, from any proof that the alleged fugitive or any of his ancestors had been actually held as a slave, without proof that such holding was legal.

SEC. 6. That no sheriff, deputy sheriff, coroner, constable, jailer or other person holding office under authority of this Commonwealth; or the police of any city, town or borough; or any district, county, city, town or borough officer; or any officer or other member of the volunteer militia of this Commonwealth, shall hereafter arrest, imprison, detain or return, or aid in arresting, imprisoning, detaining or returning, any person for the reason that he is claimed or adjudged to be a fugitive from service or labor.

SEC. 7. That no jail, prison or other place of confinement, belonging to or used by either the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any county, city or borough therein, shall be used for the detention or imprisonment of any person for the reason that he is claimed or adjudged to be a fugitive from service or labor; or any person accused or convicted of any offence created by either of the said acts of Congress, mentioned in the second section of this act; or accused or convicted of obstructing or resisting any process, warrant or order, issued under either of said acts; or of rescuing or attempting to rescue any person arrested or detained under any of the provisions of either of said acts; nor for the imprisonment of any person arrested on mesne process or on execution, in any suit for damages or penalties accruing or being claimed to accrue in consequence of any aid rendered to any escaping fugitive from service or labor.

SEC. 8. That any sheriff, deputy sheriff, coroner, constable, jailer or other officer or person mentioned in the sixth section of this act, who shall violate or offend against the provisions of this law, shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by fine not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars for the use of the county wherein the issue is tried; and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for any period not less than three nor more than twelve months, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 9. That all the provisions of law, as to writ of habeas corpus, heretofore existing and in force, so far as applicable, and so far as not hereby changed, shall apply to the cases arising under this act.

SEC. 10. That nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to so much of the said act, of the twelfth of February, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-three, as relates to fugitives from justice.

SEC. 11. That this act shall take effect from and after its passage; and all acts or parts of acts, inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

Mr. IRISH said—

Mr. SPEAKER: I have frequent cause to regret, and never so much as on occasions of this kind, when a good cause is badly off for friends, that I am unfortunately the possessor of such poor and unhappy brains for speaking. Nevertheless, Mr. SPEAKER, I feel that I should have been recreant to my duty had I suffered this session of the Legislature to pass without introducing the bill which is now before you; and, having introduced it, it seems proper that I should briefly state the reasons which have impelled me to do so. I do not propose, however, to enter upon any extended discussion of the various sections contained in the bill at this particular time, for it may turn out, as I hope and believe it will, that the measures proposed are not so badly off for friends in this body as I had feared; and that there are those present who are ready and willing to engage in their support, and afford me an opportunity to listen, rather than engage in the debate myself, which would be much more in accordance with my own feelings.

In the first place, Mr. SPEAKER, it is to be remembered, that there are three fundamental tenets or conditions upon which our liberties are based, and upon which the structure of our government has been framed. They are the free and untrammelled right to the writ of habeas corpus, the right of trial by jury, and the full, fair and free exercise of the elective franchise. Whenever any one of these primary conditions of free government shall be destroyed, the downfall of liberty will be at hand. And, sir, it matters not whether these rights are invaded in the person of the highest and greatest dignitary in the land, or in the person of the humblest black man who ever set eye on the northern star, it is equally criminal, and equally pernicious in its consequences to society. The purpose of this act is the better to secure some of these rights which have been systematically invaded, and at the same time afford the State, through its representatives, an opportunity to declare its verdict upon the fugitive slave law of 1850.

For the information of those who may not have found time to examine the bill for themselves, I will state that the first section declares the true intent and meaning of the act of 1785 to be, that any person restrained of his liberty is entitled, as of right and of course, to the writ of habeas corpus.

The second section extends the provisions of the act of 1847, which prohibits the judges and justices of the peace of this Commonwealth from issuing warrants for the apprehension of fugitives from labor under the act of Congress of 1793, to the fugitive slave act of 1850.

The third section directs that it shall be the duty of the judges, whenever it shall appear that the person whose liberty is in question is claimed as a fugitive from service or labor in another State, to award a trial by jury according to the forms of the common law; and the fourth and fifth sections point out the manner of summoning the jury and trying the cause. The act further provides, that no sheriff or other person holding office under authority of this Commonwealth shall engage in the recapture of fugitive slaves; and lastly, that the jails and prisons of the State shall not be used to second and promote the operation of the fugitive slave act of Congress of 1850.

Such, sir, is the substance of the bill before you. Are the measures proposed by it, right and proper?

In the judgment of the Legislature of this State, in the year 1847, some of them at least were so considered.

That Legislature enacted that no judge or justice of the peace should exercise the functions of his office for the re-capture of fugitives under the act of 1793. Since that time, what is known as the fugitive slave law has been permitted to blacken the pages of our national statute book. Since that time, the slave power, by means of this law, has thrown its long lash over the North, in a vain attempt to make it catch her slaves.

It becomes the dignity of Pennsylvania, one of the greatest among the free States of our country, to say now, as she said in 1847, that her people shall not be taxed to maintain courts, and judges, and justices, for any such unworthy and inhuman purpose.

But, sir, the Legislature of that day went further, and provided that not even the jails and prisons of this State should be used to carry out the behests of the law of 1793. There is something, Mr. SPEAKER, in this chapter of Pennsylvania legislation, of which we may well be proud—there is something in it, which discloses that the great heart of the Commonwealth was still loyal to liberty, and mindful of the great principles contained in her declaration of rights.

Since that day, sir, we have fallen upon evil times. Since that day, the Democratic party, the wheel-horse of the slave power, has stalked through our Legislature, leaving characteristic tracks behind him—one of which is the repeal of this very law. In the year of 1852, I think it was, under the malign influence of the facile Bigler, who then occupied the gubernatorial chair, a Democratic Legislature repealed the act to which I have alluded.

The bill under consideration proposes to restore that section to its place upon the statute book. Shall it not be done? Will it require any argument to convince this Republican House that it ought to be done? I am loth to believe that even the Democratic members of this body will suffer this opportunity to pass without recording their names in its favor.

The section which prohibits persons holding office under authority of the State, from assisting in the re-capture of fugitives, rests upon the same basis and is sustained by the same reasons as the sections to which I have just alluded.

We shall be told, however, that if we pass this act, it will be in violation of the Constitution of the United States. That instrument provides that no person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall be discharged from such service or labor by any law or regulation therein, but shall be delivered up, on the claim of the party to whom such service or labor is due.—Now, sir, who is it that is required to deliver up fugitives? Is it the State, or Federal Government? The idea that the State government is required to perform this service, is contradicted by the fugitive slave law itself. The Federal Government, by the terms of this act, has appropriated to itself the business of hunting down the fugitive.

It is keen and greedy for the work, and ought not to be superseded therein by the State authorities. Besides, sir, it is not to be supposed that the States which have no interest in, or love for the slave system—the moral and religious convictions of whose people revolt at its injustice and oppression—will lend themselves to the business of slave-catching. No sir, the great heart of the North is opposed to it, and the laws should be made to correspond with its feelings and convictions.

Why, then, do we hesitate to adopt this measure? Is there a man upon this floor that would himself assist in taking a fugitive? Sir, I will do my Democratic brethren the justice to say, that I believe there is not one of them, not even the loudest declaimer against this bill, who could under any circumstances, be induced to do it? If I give them more credit than they deserve, I should like to see them stand up and avow it. For my own part I consider such service not only "disagreeable," but infamous; and the northern man who will engage in it, as unworthy of the enjoyment of the rights and privileges of a free man.

Why, then, shall the slave power be permitted to employ the machinery of our State government, for the purpose of catching her slaves? Why, above all, should the moral influence of the great State of Pennsylvania, be left to sanction by her silence, the cruelest and meanest form of despotism to be found on the face of the globe?

There is no such thing, sir, as avoiding the issue which events are pressing upon the country. The time is coming when Pennsylvania must submit with implicit obedience to the dominion of the slave power, or assert her rights and her dignity as becomes a sovereign State.

Indeed the time has come already, when our manufactories are stopped, our workmen idle, and all our industrial pursuits crippled and paralyzed, because it does not suit the slave power to give us a tariff. Are you willing to surrender your manhood at the dictation of this grinding monopoly of labor at the South?

Are you willing that the officers of the law, maintained, supported, and commissioned by the State, shall play the part of pimps to that slave power which is making paupers out of us?

Let it be understood then, so far as Pennsylvania is concerned at least, that when a slave escapes, the South must catch him for herself, or let him go—that the power and authority of the State, shall never be prostituted to fasten shackles upon the poor and the friendless.

In the next place we come to that clause in the bill, which provides that persons claimed as fugitives from service or labor in another State, shall be entitled to a trial by jury. I presume we shall be told that this would be unconstitutional because it is in the teeth of the fugitive slave act of 1850.

The Constitution of the United States provides that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law; that in all criminal prosecutions the accused shall be tried by jury, and that in civil cases where the sum exceeds twenty dollars, the defendant shall also be entitled to a jury trial. Are we to be told in the face of this plain and unmistakable language, that a mere act of Congress can take away the right of trial by jury, where the question is of such grave importance as that of liberty? If, then, the fugitive slave act conflicts, both with the terms, and the spirit of the Constitution, by which, as a State, shall we abide? Which is the higher law, the Constitution, or an act of Congress? The fundamental law, or legislation in pursuance of that law?

Again we are told that the supreme court has pronounced the act of 1850 to be constitutional, and thereby settled the question. Sir, neither an act of Congress, nor a decision of the supreme court, nor both together, can alter or amend the Constitution. If that instrument guarantees to the people the right to trial by jury, neither the Legislature nor the judiciary can dispense with it.

The supreme court has just as much power and authority for declaring the office of the President of the United States to be hereditary, as it has for invading the right of trial by jury in any case contemplated by the Constitution. Will any member upon this floor, contend, that the Constitution, which guarantees the right to a trial by jury in a case of an assault and battery, or petty larceny—even in every civil case where the amount in question exceeds the sum of twenty dollars, denies it where the question is not of a few dollars and cents, not of a few days imprisonment, not of a paltry fine to be imposed by a court of justice, but in an issue which is to determine our right to liberty itself—a right which we, sir, are accustomed to hold dearer than life, and which there is not a member of this body but would rather lay down his life than surrender? Are we to be told in the face of the very words of the Constitution, that in an issue of such grave and solemn importance as this, we have not a right to call upon a jury of our countrymen to try whether the facts alleged are true or false?

Ah! but gentlemen will say that although they and I are entitled to the enjoyment of the right to trial by jury under the Constitution, there is a portion of the population who are not, and they are the colored people of this country.

If the Constitution did not address itself to the whole people—if the clause which relates to trial by jury had provided that it should apply to every body, except black men—there might be something in this objection. But even then it would not exclude the mulatto, the quadroon, or any other shade of complexion except only the purely black, for we most always construe in favor of liberty.

But, sir, I find no such words in the Constitution—they are not there—and I repeat that neither Congress nor the supreme court have any power to put them there.

Besides, sir, there is another phase of this question. It is conceded on all hands, that white men have a right to invoke a trial by jury when their liberties are in question, and it is conceded that the Constitution does not designate any particular kind of offence, (unless it be in the land or naval forces,) in the trial of which a jury may be dispensed with. It follows therefore, that if colored people are to be deprived of this right, it is not because of the character of the offence with which they may be charged, but simply because they are colored. That is the ground upon which it is put by the supreme court, "that they have no rights which white men are bound to respect." Now what are the facts? Did Pennsylvania ever so understand the Constitution? Can any gentleman point to an instance, from the formation of the government down to this hour, where a person charged with an offence or sued for a debt was denied the right to be heard by a jury on the ground that he was colored? No, sir, it cannot be done. Pennsylvania never so understood the Constitution, her uniform practice demonstrates directly the reverse. If then it is conceded that colored people have the right to trial by jury in some cases, where, I ask is the authority for denying it to them in others? It will not do to say that all are so entitled, except fugitive slaves, for how shall the State know which of them are fugitives, and which are not, except by a verdict of a jury.

It is neither just, nor consistent, nor becoming the majesty of a State, to guarantee to its people the enjoyment of a sacred right like this in the trial of questions which involve merely the property, the reputation or the temporary confinement of the person, and deny it when the issue is life-long slavery on the one hand, and the precious boon of liberty on the other. What though the victim be black? What though he be the humblest member of the entire community? Does that excuse the State for suffering her fundamental law to be violated?

If it may be done in one instance, may it not be done in another? If it may be done in the person of a fugitive from services to-day, may it not be in that of some other to-morrow? When once a breach is made in the guards which are set to protect our liberties, the steps are easy to their entire overthrow. All history shows by what easy stages such fatal results have been so often accomplished. We need not go far, sir, for an example of the evils to which I allude—it is only to Mason and Dixon's line. Behold the poor whites of the South—what is their condition? What has become of their rights, their power and their influence? They are gone—they are a myth, sir. So far as their voice or influence is concerned in the conduct of the government, but one little step removed from the very slaves whom they effect to dispense.

Three hundred and fifty thousand petty tyrants, the slave holders of the South, wield all her powers, and reap all her honors.

Is there nothing in the spectacle which the South presents to awaken our solicitude?

There, sir, is aristocracy gone to seed; there, we behold a banded power, backed by untold millions of capital invested in human chattels, gradually sinking its poorer classes into the condition of serfs.

Moreover, that colossal power casts its shadow far beyond the limits of the slave states. It has become the monarch of the time, and rides like death on the pale horse over the nation. Our good old Commonwealth trembles at its approach, and falls off from her allegiance to her early professions. I would that a little courage could be infused into her councils: I would that she could be prevailed upon to assert her rights and her dignity, and fearlessly disavow the high and solemn duties which the evils of the times impose. She has proclaimed to her people, and to the world, through her own constitution, that the right of trial by jury shall be inviolate, not sometimes, not in particular cases, but always, and in every case? I ask that she shall adhere to this declaration! I ask that she shall be consistent! I ask that she shall either repeal that clause in her constitution, or see that it be enforced. Is there anything unreasonable in this? Is there anything in it which a true Pennsylvanian should hesitate for one moment to sanction? Yet it may be urged, that although it is as clear as the noon-day sun, that both the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of our own State do guarantee to every member of society the right to trial by jury; there is an act of Congress which forbids it in certain cases, and the supreme court having decided that act to be constitutional, we have no right to go behind it. Now, sir, one word as to that point.

If the position which I have assumed, be correct, that decision of the supreme court involves the repeal of a clause in the constitution. The conclusion is unavoidable and inevitable. Then, sir, where are we? If the states are prepared to sanction a proceeding like this, in one case. It may easily be done in another, and we have no constitution. If they are prepared to stand idly by, and see the pillars of the constitution, one by one, thrown down by a usurping hand, then farewell to the constitution forever.

But such is not their mission. For a wise purpose, upon the adoption of the Constitution, the States refused to merge themselves into one undistinguishable whole, but chose to preserve their individuality as separate and distinct States, the wisdom of which every day's experience does hourly reveal.

When, therefore, the Constitution is violated, it is their duty to resist the assault. In such an emergency, it behooves the States to exercise the powers they have reserved to themselves.

It is the only resource in our power—it is the only instrumentality by which the tendency to centralization and usurpation can be resisted. It is, in short, the only means by which the Constitution can be preserved. Then is it not the duty of the State to declare itself upon this occasion?

Are you not satisfied—first, that the Constitution does provide for a trial, by jury, in the cases alluded to in this bill? second, that the Constitution, not having been repealed or altered in any part, the provision is still in force? third, that it is the duty of the State to see that this vital provision shall be uniformly enforced? Can we, in the face of the acknowledged truth of the facts alleged, escape this conclusion?

But I have consumed far more time than I had intended, and will give way for others who may wish to engage in this discussion.

I have endeavored to establish two propositions—first, that it is the legal right, and the moral duty of the State, to withhold her aid and her sanction, by forbidding the use of her jails and the services of her officers, in assisting to consign innocent human beings to the jaws of slavery; second, that there is such a thing as a constitutional right to a trial by jury, where the question is that of liberty, and that it is the solemn and imperative duty of the State to maintain that right at every cost and at all hazards.

If you believe this, support this bill; if you believe this, vote for it; and I predict that the day will come when you will look back upon that vote with pride and satisfaction.

In saying these things, sir, I do not present myself as the special champion of the colored people, or any other cast or class in society; but I loathe injustice and oppression, whoever may be its victims. Moreover, sir, I love my native State, and I would have her the Gibraltar of freedom, as well as the Keystone of the Union. I am proud of her benevolent institutions; of her system of common schools; of the industrious, patriotic and intelligent character of her people. To promote her welfare and preserve her good name, is the first wish of my heart. I love the glorious principles upon which her institutions are based, and cannot see her depart from them without raising my humble voice to prevent it.

[The balance of the evening's proceedings will appear in to-morrow's Record.]

No. 540.—FILE OF THE SENATE.

MILLER, Education—March 2.

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT to an act for the regulation and continuance of a system of education by common schools.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That when the directors or controllers and teachers of the several school districts in this Commonwealth shall have made the selection of books provided for in the twenty-fifth section of an act for the regulation and continuance of a system of education by common schools, approved the eighth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, the books so selected shall be used for a period of not less than three years, and no change or alteration shall be made within that period.

SEC. 2. That it shall not be lawful, after the passage of this act, for the directors or controllers of common schools of any school district in this Commonwealth, to employ any female as teacher in the common schools who has not attained the age of eighteen years, and no male applicant under the age of twenty years.

SEC. 3. That before any director of common schools hereafter elected shall discharge any of the duties imposed upon him by existing laws, he shall be qualified by oath or affirmation, to be administered by an acting justice of the peace or alderman, to faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of his said office.

SEC. 4. That it shall not be lawful for the school directors or controllers of the common schools of any school district in this State, in determining the amount of tax to be levied in their district for school and building purposes, to exceed eight mills on the dollar on any and all property subject to taxation by existing laws for school purposes.

SEC. 5. That all independent school districts heretofore formed, either by enactment of the Legislature or by any court of common pleas of this Commonwealth, he and the same are hereby abolished; and that it shall not be lawful for the said courts, after the passage of this act, to establish or continue any independent district for school purposes.

SEC. 6. That the qualified electors of the several cities, boroughs and counties of this Commonwealth shall, at the next general election, determine by ballot whether the office of county superintendent of common schools shall be abolished or not; and that the ballots so voted shall be for the county superintendent and against the county superintendent; and the result of said election shall be certified by the proper officers in the mode prescribed by existing laws in relation to the returns for State officers; and if a majority of the votes polled should be against the abolition of said office, then the same shall remain as provided for by existing laws; but if a majority of the votes so polled should be in favor of the abolition of the office, then the said office is to be so declared abolished by the State superintendent of common schools, to take effect on the first Monday in January next succeeding said election; notice of the same to be sent by said State superintendent to the several superintendents in the Commonwealth.

SEC. 7. That in case the people should decide in favor of the abolition of the office of county superintendent, as hereinbefore provided for, then it shall be the duty of the board of directors or controllers of common schools of the several districts of this Commonwealth to annually appoint three competent persons, who shall constitute a board of examiners, for the examination of applicants for employment as teachers, in conjunction with the aforesaid directors or controllers; and no other person, except such as shall be recommended by said examiners, shall be employed as teachers.

No. 615.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

THOMPSON, Judiciary—March 3.

A SUPPLEMENT to the act for the relief of insolvent debtors.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That so much of the seventeenth section of the act of the General Assembly, passed the sixteenth day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, as provides that the said debtor shall not be entitled to his discharge from imprisonment or arrest until he shall have been in actual confinement during a term of at least sixty days, be, and the same is hereby, repealed in its operation in all suits now pending, or hereafter to be instituted, where, and in which, the process or judgment is founded on an action for actual force: Provided, That the person, or persons, defendant in said suit or judgment, were either, or any of them, sheriffs, or their deputies, constables, police, or peace officers, in the discharge of their official duties as such public police officers, appointed, or elected, under, or by virtue of, any law of this Commonwealth, and that the actual force for, or on account of, which said suit was brought, or said judgment obtained, was exerted, or exercised, by said officers, in their official capacity, as aforesaid, which said fact shall be pleaded by affidavit of said person, or persons, defendant at any time, and he a full discharge from said imprisonment.

No. 589.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

NILL, Judiciary—March 3.

A SUPPLEMENT to the act for the better preservation of game and insectivorous birds, approved April twenty-first, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful for any person to expose for sale in this State, between the first day of February and the first day of November, any canvass hack, redhead or blackhead duck, under a penalty of five dollars for each and every offence, to be recoverable as provided for in the sixth section of the act to which this is a supplement.

SEC. 2. That it shall not be lawful for any person to buy or cause to be bought, or carry out of this State, for the purpose of supplying any private or public house, or market, any canvass hack, redhead or blackhead duck, unless the same shall have been shot or taken in the proper season, under a penalty of five dollars for each and every such offence, to be recoverable as above specified.

SEC. 3. That the possession by any person in this Commonwealth of any of the game above specified, shot, killed or otherwise destroyed out of season as aforesaid, shall be prima facie evidence to convict under this act.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1859.

No. 54.

Terms of the Legislative Record.

Extra copies of the LEGISLATIVE RECORD will be furnished daily, or when ordered, to Members of the Legislature, and others, at the following rates:

Twenty-five copies,	$ 50
Fifty copies,	75
Seventy-five copies,	1 25
One hundred copies,	1 50
One copy for the session,	1 50
Ten copies during session,	10 00
Twenty-five copies during session,	20 00
Fifty copies " " "	40 00

Members desiring extra copies of the RECORD, will please leave their names and the number of copies wanted, at the Patriot and Union office, or at the desks of the Reporters for the RECORD, in either House, on the day previous to the issue.

EVENING SESSION—CONCLUDED.

MONDAY, March 14, 1859.

Mr. WILLISTON, giving wide scope to the argument, considered the slavery question in its various lights, reviewing the responsibilities of the people of the country and the Commonwealth.

Mr. ROSE moved that the committee rise, report progress and ask leave to sit again.

The motion was withdrawn in order to allow Mr. ZOLLER to make some remarks.

Mr. ZOLLER said he endorsed the sentiments which had been expressed by his colleague, (Mr. IRISH,) and partially agreed with the views of the gentleman from Tioga, (Mr. WILLISTON.) He had made the motion to adjourn, in the early part of the evening, in order that the subject might be postponed for a few days. In the main, he should vote for the bill before the House, if he found nothing objectionable in it, and if he heard more discussion upon it.

Mr. ROSE renewed his motion.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,
"When shall the committee have leave to sit again?"

Leave was given for it to sit on this evening two weeks.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) from Committee on Banks, offered a report relative to the incorporation of the North Western saving institution of Philadelphia.

Mr. HAMERSLY, (Committee on Corporations,) "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Chestnut Hill water company."

"An Act to incorporate the Belle Isle salt manufacturing company of Philadelphia."

"An Act to consolidate the stock of the Manayunk gas company."

Mr. THORN moved to adjourn; agreed to.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, March 15, 1859.

A quorum of Senators being present, the SPEAKER called the Senate to order at the usual hour.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. DeWitt, of the New School Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg.

The Journal was read and approved.

The SPEAKER presented two petitions of three hundred citizens of Middle Woodbury township, Bedford county, praying to be annexed to Blair county.

Also, a petition of citizens of the borough of Johnstown, praying for the repeal of a law authorizing the appointment of an auctioneer in said borough.

Also, a remonstrance of citizens of Cambria county, against any change in the mode of election of county treasurer in said county.

Also, a petition of citizens of Blair county, for the repeal of the tonnage tax, according to the bill read by Mr. SCHELL.

Also, the twelfth annual report of the inspectors of the county prison of Philadelphia.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, &C.

Mr. YARDLEY presented three petitions of citizens of Pennsylvania, in favor of a law compelling banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Mr. PALMER, seven petitions of citizens of Schuylkill county, of like import.

Mr. THOMPSON, four petitions from citizens of Montgomery and adjacent counties, of similar import.

Also, four remonstrances against the passage of an act requiring county treasurers to collect taxes in Montgomery county.

Also, a petition of citizens of Montgomery county, for a law requiring the commissioners to appoint constables tax collectors.

Mr. GAZZAM, a petition of citizens of Pittsburg and vicinity, praying for an act incorporating the Pittsburg and East Liberty passenger railway company.

Also, two memorials of citizens of Philadelphia, praying for the passage of an act for the registration of births, marriages and deaths in that city.

Also, two petitions of citizens of Pittsburg, praying for the repeal of the law establishing a high school in said city.

Also, a remonstrance of the school directors of the Eighth ward of the city of Pittsburg, against the repeal of the act establishing a high school in said city.

Mr. SCHINDEL, a remonstrance of the stockholders of the Milford and Richland turnpike road company, against any law allowing them to borrow money.

Mr. STEELE, two remonstrances of citizens of Scott township, Luzerne county, against being included within the limits of the city of Carbondale.

Mr. MYER, a petition of citizens of Ulster, Bradford county, in favor of the assessment of damages on the North Branch canal.

Mr. SCHELL, a petition of citizens of Huntingdon county, for a law prohibiting fishing in Aughwich creek and its tributaries with nets and seines.

Also, a petition of citizens of Bedford county, for a law authorizing the sale of their poor house and the purchase of another.

Mr. PENNEY, two remonstrances of citizens of Pittsburg, against the abolition of the high school in said city.

Also, a petition of sundry citizens of Allegheny county, praying for a law compelling the Monongahela navigation company to erect harbors for coal boats on the Monongahela river.

Also, a petition of six hundred and ninety-nine citizens of Allegheny county, in favor of the passage of House bill No. 555, "An Act for the reformation and employment of vagrants, drunkards and other disorderly persons in Allegheny county."

Mr. BLOOD, a petition of citizens of Clarion and Jefferson counties, for the passage of an act declaring Mill creek a public highway.

Mr. BELL, a petition of citizens of this Commonwealth, for a law compelling banks to keep their notes at par in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Also, a petition of citizens of Pennsylvania, for a law compelling railroad companies to fence their roads.

Mr. WRIGHT, six petitions of citizens of the rural districts of Philadelphia county, for the right of free travel over certain highways.

Mr. TURNEY, a remonstrance of citizens of Clearfield county, against Senate bill No. 317, "An Act to appoint road commissioners to take charge of a portion of the Milesburg and Smethport turnpike road, in the counties of Clearfield and Elk."

A communication was received from the principal of the institution for the instruction of the blind, inviting the members of the Senate to be present at the exhibition of some of the pupils of said institution, this evening, in the hall of the House of Representatives.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. GREGG, (Finance,) reported, as committed, House bill No. 237, "An Act authorizing the Auditor General and State Treasurer to examine and report the claim of the bail of Henry D. Rodearmel, late supervisor of the Susquehanna division of the Pennsylvania canal."

On his motion, said bill was taken up, and after being duly considered, passed finally.

Mr. RUTHERFORD, (Roads and Bridges,) as committed, House bill No. 523, "A supplement to an act relative to roads, highways and bridges in Warren, Venango and McKean counties."

Also, (same,) as committed, House bill No. 618, "An Act extending the provisions of an act concerning the appointment of road viewers and road damages in Northampton county to Monroe county," passed April 22, 1858.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. PALMER read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act relative to auctions and auctioneers in the borough of Pottsville."

Mr. SHAEFFER, "An Act to incorporate the trustees of the synod of the German Reformed church in the United States."

Mr. YARDLEY, "An Act authorizing the appointment of a mensurer of paving stones, in the city of Philadelphia."

Mr. SCHELL, "An Act to legitimate Margaret Hart."

Also, "An Act to repeal an act, relative to the appointment of an auctioneer for the borough of Johnstown."

Mr. BLOOD, "An Act to declare a part of Big Mill creek, in the counties of Clarion and Jefferson, a public highway."

Mr. WRIGHT, "An Act authorizing the ministers, deacons, elders and trustees of the German Reformed church in Philadelphia, in the province of Pennsylvania, to sell and convey certain real estate."

Mr. MILLER, "An Act to cure an irregularity."

ty in the act incorporating the borough of Carmichael, and declaring certain judicial proceedings therein valid."

On his motion, (the Committee on Corporations having been discharged from its consideration,) the Senate proceeded to consider the same, and after going through its various readings, the bill passed finally.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

House bill No. 266, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Big Mountain improvement company," came up in order, on third reading, and passed finally.

Senate bills Nos. 4, 317, 483 and 540, and House bill 280, lie over.

BILLS CONSIDERED.

On motion of Mr. PARKER, the Senate resumed the consideration of Senate bill No. 359, on third reading, "A supplement to the act incorporating the Germantown passenger railway company."

On its final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BELL and Mr. PARKER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Miller, Nunemacher, Parker, Raudall, Rutherford, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Welsh and Cresswell, Speaker—21.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Blood, Keller, Marselis, Myer, Palmer, Penney, Thompson, Wright and Yardley—10.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. SCHELL paired off with Mr. BREWER.

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, "A supplement to the act incorporating the borough of Harrisburg," was taken up, and after going through its various readings, and being amended, the bill passed finally.

HOUSE AMENDMENTS

House amendments to Senate bill, "An Act to incorporate the Chartiers and Robinson Township turnpike road company," were concurred in.

House amendments to Senate bill No. 405, "An Act to appoint a road commissioner to take charge of a portion of the Warren and Brookville, and the Warren and the Strattonville State roads, in Forest county," were concurred in.

A motion was made to concur in House amendments to Senate bill No. 35, "An Act to extend the powers of prothonotaries and clerks to administer oaths."

Upon this motion, a brief discussion in explanation of the objects and provisions of the bill, took place between Messrs. BELL and PENNEY in favor, and Messrs. RANDALL, MARSELIS, WRIGHT and PALMER in opposition.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BELL and Mr. RANDALL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Myer, Penney, Rutherford, Thompson, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Coffey, Craig, Keller, Marselis, Miller, Nunemacher, Palmer, Parker, Randall, Schell, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Turney and Wright—18.

So the question was determined in the negative.

House amendments to Senate bill No. 161, "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Greenwood cemetery, in the borough of Tamaqua," were, on motion, concurred in.

House amendments to "A supplement to the act incorporating the borough of York," were, on motion, concurred in, as also,

House amendments to House bill No. 409, "An Act changing the place of holding general and special elections in Jackson township, Huntingdon county."

BILLS CONSIDERED.

On motion of Mr. STEELE, the Senate proceeded to consider Senate bill No. 183, "An Act to provide for the payment of certain claims."

The Senate having resolved itself into committee of the whole, Mr. STEELE offered a substitute, which, on motion of Mr. TURNEY, was amended by the addition of a new section, and the substitute as amended passed committee of the whole.

Mr. MYER had no desire to enter into a discussion of the bill at the present time; but he thought there were so many defects in the bill that the injustice of it must be apparent to every Senator. The people along the section of the canal on which he resides desire some uniform system of settling these damages, and they prefer that the power shall be vested in the courts. This bill gives the power to the Governor, and from his decision there is no appeal. He wished, if the Senator from Luzerne desired to press the passage of the bill, to propose an amendment. He preferred that the bill should lie over, when he would be prepared to submit his amendment.

Mr. WRIGHT preferred the amendment to the original bill, but it still did not suit his views, and he was also desirous that the bill should lie over for the present.

Mr. BELL thought there was no reason why this power should be vested in the Governor, however pure and honest he might be. He was opposed to the bill unless it was amended, and he hoped it would be postponed for the present.

The bill lies over.

Bills entitled as follow, passed finally:

On motion of Mr. FETTER, House bill No. 756, "An Act authorizing the trustees of the Presbyterian church at Mechanicsburg to borrow money."

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, Senate bill No. 560, "An Act to enable the commissioners of Scheffeld township, Warren county, to levy an additional road tax." (This bill was so amended as to include the township of Kinzua.)

On motion of Mr. NUNEMACHER, House bill No. 410, "An Act to prevent the destruction of partridges in certain counties of this Commonwealth."

On motion, Bucks county was stricken out.

On motion of Mr. PALMER, Senate bill No. 422, "An Act providing for the recording of certain papers in the county of Schuylkill."

On motion of Mr. PARKER, House bill No. 422, "An Act relative to the sale of the Falls of the Schuylkill bridge."

On motion of Mr. MYER, Senate bill No. 588, "An Act to legalize a township election in Terrytown."

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, Senate bill No. 606, "An Act authorizing the Tinklepaugh coal company to borrow money."

On motion of Mr. HARRIS, House bill No. 556, "An Act to prevent the destruction of deer in Beaver county."

On motion of Mr. BELL, House bill No. 379, "An Act relative to taxing dogs in West Nottingham township, Chester county."

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, Senate bill No. 538, "An Act for the relief of the Liberty township school district, in Bedford county."

On motion of Mr. BELL, House bill No. 845, "An Act relative to roads in East Marlborough, Chester county."

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, House bill No. 356, "An Act for the relief Stephen H. Laughlin."

On the final passage of this bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr.

SCOFIELD and Mr. SCHELL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Bell, Finney, Francis, Gazzam, Palmer, Parker, Penney, Schell, Shaeffer, Steele, Thompson, Wright and Cresswell, Speaker—14.

NAYS—Messrs. Coffey, Craig, Gregg, Harris, Marselis, Miller, Myer, Nunemacher, Randall, Scofield, Schindel, Welsh and Yardley—13.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. CRAIG, House bill No. 618, "An Act extending the provisions of an act concerning the appointment of road viewers and road damages in Northampton county, to Monroe county," passed April 22, 1858.

On motion of Mr. THOMPSON, Senate bill No. 593, "An Act authorizing the removal of the dead from the burying ground deeded to the First Methodist Episcopal church of Norristown, Montgomery county, to the Norris City cemetery."

On motion of Mr. GREGG, (the Committee on Corporations having been discharged from its consideration,) "An Act relative to overseers of the poor in Lewishurg, Union county."

On motion of Mr. YARDLEY, "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Trenton City bridge company."

On leave given, Mr. FINNEY offered the following resolution; which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That the Senate will hold a session this afternoon, for the consideration of private bills.

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, the Senate proceeded to consider Senate bill No. 424, "An Act authorizing the commissioners of Bedford county to sell the property owned and occupied for the use of the poor of said county."

This bill, having passed committee of the whole and second reading, lies over.

On leave given, Mr. TURNEY, from the Committee on Finance, reported as committed, "An Act to equalize tax on corporations."

Mr. WELSH offered the following resolution; which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That if the House of Representatives concur, the Governor be requested to return Senate bill No. 438, "An Act to incorporate the Union Evangelical Lutheran congregation of the borough of York."

On leave given, Mr. WRIGHT read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act to incorporate the Philadelphia ocean steamship company."

The hour of one having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the Senate until this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Agreeably to order, the Senate met at three o'clock.

BILL IN PLACE.

Mr. KELLER read in his place and presented to the Chair, a bill, entitled "An Act authorizing the widening and extension of Market street, in Bloomsburg, Columbia county, and authorizing executors to sell certain real estate."

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. BLOOD, (the Committee on Corporations having been discharged from its consideration,) House bill No. 544, "An Act to incorporate the Anderson Creek public road and navigation company."

On motion of Mr. WRIGHT, Senate bill No. 603, "A supplement to the act incorporating the poor house of the township of Roxborough, in the county of Philadelphia."

On motion of Mr. BLOOD, Senate bill No. 634, "An Act to re-audit the school accounts of Porter township school district, in the county of Jefferson."

On motion of Mr. BELL, "A supplement to an act approved February 16, 1859, entitled 'A supplement to an act approved April 3, 1851, entitled 'An Act regulating boroughs, so far as relates to the borough of Phoenixville.'

On motion of Mr. FRANCIS, House bill No. 523, 'An Act, entitled 'A supplement to an act relating to roads, highways and bridges in the counties of Venango, M'Kean and Warren.'

On motion of Mr. MILLER, (the Committee on Corporations having been discharged from its consideration,) House bill No. 546, 'An Act for the appointment of a sequester on the Pittsburgh and Washington turnpike road.'

This bill lies over on second reading.

On motion of Mr. FETTER, House bill No. 846, 'An Act to provide for the election of an additional supervisor in Wayne township, Mifflin county.'

On motion of Mr. SCHELL, Senate bill No. 542, 'An Act to repeal an act to prevent the destruction of fish in Yellow creek, Bedford county.'

On motion of Mr. GREGG, Senate bill No. 637, 'An Act to establish a ferry over the West Branch of the Susquehanna river, near the furnace of Beaver, Gettis, Marsh & Co., in Union township, Union county.'

On leave given, Mr. SCHELL reported, from the Committee on Private Claims and Damages, as committed, House bill No. 235, 'An Act to pay the claim of Charles Fisher.'

On motion of Mr. KELLER, the Senate proceeded to consider the same; and the bill having passed committee of the whole, lies over (objections having been made,) under the rule.

On motion of Mr. MILLER, House bill No. 612, 'An Act to change the boundaries of the town of California, in the county of Washington.'

On motion of Mr. STEELE, Senate bill No. 361, 'A further supplement to the act incorporating the Susquehanna railroad company.'

(This bill was variously amended, on motion of Messrs. STEELE and MYER.)

On motion of Mr. NUNEMACHER, House bill No. 854, 'An Act to change the name of the Keystone Lancers.'

On motion of Mr. PALMER, Senate bill No. 67, 'A further supplement to an act relative to huckstering in the counties of Berks and Lebanon.'

(The bill was amended, on motion of Mr. PALMER.)

On motion of Mr. RUTHERFORD, Senate bill No. 293, 'An Act to authorize the removal of the dead interred in the grounds connected with St. Stephen's church, Harrisburg.'

On motion of Mr. YARDLEY, Senate bill No. 529, 'An Act to incorporate the Huntingdon Valley railroad company.'

Mr. SHAEFFER, on leave given, reported, from the Committee on Corporations, as committed, 'An Act to incorporate the trustees of the synod of the German Reformed church in the United States;' and, on his motion, said bill was taken up, considered and passed finally.

On motion of Mr. SCOFIELD, (the Committee on Finance having been discharged from its consideration,) House bill No. 383, 'An Act to provide for the collection of additional taxes, in the township of Bingham, Potter county.'

On motion of Mr. BELL, House bill No. 263, 'An Act to incorporate the members of the Olivet Methodist Episcopal church, in the village of Coatesville, Chester county.'

On motion of Mr. STEELE, Senate bill No. 626, 'A supplement to an act to erect a part of the township of Denison, Luzerne county, into a separate district for road purposes,' &c.

On motion of Mr. SHAEFFER, Senate bill No. 595, 'An Act to amend the charter of the Chestnut Hill iron ore company.'

[This bill was slightly amended.]

On motion of Mr. MYER, Senate bill No.

506, 'An Act to incorporate the Towanda gas and water company.'

House amendments to Senate bill No. 359, 'A supplement to the act incorporating the Germantown passenger railway company;' were received and read.

Mr. WRIGHT moved that the bill together with the amendments be printed; on which

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. RANDALL, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Fetter, Francis, Marsellis, Nunemacher, Palmer, Penney, Randall, Schindel, Steele, Wright and Yardley—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Blood, Coffey, Craig, Finney, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Miller, Myer, Parker, Rutherford, Scofield, Shaeffer, Thompson, Turney, Welsh and Cresswell, Speaker—17.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. SCHELL paired off with Mr. BREWER. Mr. SCHELL moved that the bill and amendments be re-committed to the Committee on Railroads.

On which motion,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BELL and Mr. RANDALL, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Marsellis, Nunemacher, Palmer, Penney, Schindel and Wright—7.

NAYS—Messrs. Blood, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Miller, Myer, Parker, Randall, Rutherford, Scofield, Shaeffer, Steele, Thompson, Turney, Welsh, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—21.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. BELL moved that the Senate now adjourn

And on this question,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BELL and Mr. PARKER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Fetter, Marsellis, Nunemacher, Palmer, Penney, Randall, Schell, Schindel, Thompson, Wright and Yardley—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Coffey, Craig, Finney, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Miller, Myer, Parker, Rutherford, Scofield, Shaeffer, Steele, Turney, Welsh and Cresswell, Speaker—19.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments made by the House?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WRIGHT and Mr. PARKER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Baldwin, Blood, Coffey, Craig, Fetter, Finney, Gazzam, Gregg, Harris, Keller, Miller, Parker, Rutherford, Scofield, Shaeffer, Schindel, Steele, Turney, Welsh, Yardley and Cresswell, Speaker—21.

NAYS—Messrs. Marsellis, Myer, Nunemacher, Palmer, Penney and Wright—6.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On motion, the Senate adjourned, until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, March 15, 1859.

The House was called to order at 9½ o'clock, by the SPEAKER.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Gans, of the German Reformed church.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday; when, on motion of Mr. LAWRENCE, (Washington,) the reading of the same was dispensed with.

Mr. PROUDFOOT moved that the rules be suspended, and that the House proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 713, 'An Act to incorporate the Ebensburg and Cresson railroad company.'

Mr. HAMERSLY gave notice that as the calendar was quite lengthy, he would hereafter call for the orders of the day.

The above bill was then taken up and passed the House, and, ordered that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. THORN moved that the rules be suspended, and that the House proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 672, 'A further supplement to the act incorporating the Home manufacturing company.'

Mr. MILLER called for a division of the question.

And on the first division,

Will the House suspend the rule?

It was determined in the negative.

PRIVATE CALENDAR.

Apresably to order, the House proceeded to the consideration of bills on Private Calendar; whereupon the following were read, and no objections being made, were laid aside for second reading:

No. 455. 'An Act to change the name of Chrysostom Charles Sweny, to Chrysostom Charles M'Laughlin.'

No. 457. 'An Act to repeal a supplement to an act relating to a burial ground in the borough of Pottsville, approved the 21st day of April, A. D. 1856.'

Sen. 276. 'An Act in relation to certain mortgages therein stated'

No. 460. 'An Act to authorize the appointment of commissioners to examine and adjust certain claims, &c.'

No. 462. 'An Act authorizing the Auditor General to issue a certificate for the amount of the claim due to Barbara Hileman's estate.'

No. 463. 'An Act for the relief of Jacob Rauch, of Mifflin county.'

No. 465. 'An Act for the relief of Joseph Danfield.'

No. 466. 'An Act to incorporate the Philomathean institute of Union township, Berks county.'

Sen. 224. 'An Act relating to the Norristown academy.'

'A supplement to an act to incorporate the city of Carhondale,' was passed over for the present, on motion of Mr. GRITMAN, on account of the absence of Mr. PUGHE, who has the bill in charge.

No. 470. 'An Act appropriating locks Nos. 8 and 10, of the French Creek and Franklin line of the Pennsylvania canal, to the use of the county of Venango.'

No. 471. 'An Act empowering Sabina R. Sloan to sell certain real estate.'

No. 473. 'An Act to incorporate the Donglassville and Yellow House turnpike road company.'

No. 474. 'An Act to lay out a public road from Shoemaker's mill to the borough of Muncy, Lycoming county.'

Sen. 14. 'An Act authorizing the laying out of a State road leading from Schroyer's Gap, in Clinton county, by way of M'Call's mills, in Union county, to Spruce Run gap, in Union county, to intersect the Benzler road in said county.'

No. 476. 'A supplement to the act incorporating the Perrysville, East Waterford and Waterloo plank road company, approved 18th day of April, 1853.'

No. 477. 'An Act to view and lay out a State road from the borough of Lock Haven, in the county of Clinton, to Snow Shoe, in Centre.'

Sen. 120. 'A supplement to an act to incorporate the Hiltown turnpike road company.'

No. 481. 'An Act authorizing the laying out of a State road from the mouth of Clarion river, in the county of Clarion, to Franklin, in the county of Venango.'

No. 482. "An Act to compel the supervisors of roads in the township of Crawford, in Clinton county, to give security."

No. 483. "A supplement to an act incorporating the Patterson, Johnstown, Penn Mills and Concord plank road company."

No. 485. "An Act to revive and extend the act incorporating the Ziegler'sville and Kutztown turnpike road company."

No. 486. "An Act relative to the making and repairing of the public roads in Norwegian township, Schuylkill county."

No. 487. "An Act in reference to supervisors in Somerset township, Washington county."

Sen. 237. "An Act to incorporate the Pennsylvania and Maryland Line turnpike company."

No. 490. An Act to incorporate the Wrightsville and Canadocholy turnpike road company."

No. 492. "An Act to run and define a part of the boundary line between the counties of Mifflin and Huntingdon."

No. 493. "An Act to empower John Ranson to put a sheer boom in the Loyalsock creek."

Mr. JACKSON said:

Mr. SPEAKER:—Some four weeks since a bill was read in place by the gentleman from Lycoming, (Mr. MEHAFFEY,) entitled "An Act to incorporate the Montour navigation improvement company." I looked, sir, upon this bill as one proposing to give a single company the monopoly of the waters of the Loyalsock creek, and its main tributaries, proposing as it did to authorize said company to erect a boom or booms, a dam or dams, artificial reservoirs, mills, sash and door factories, planing mills, &c., and also giving them the power of floating logs, &c., upon said creek,—now, sir, whilst all these privileges were proposed, after a careful examination of the bill, I could find no provisions made for the protection of the lumbermen and others residing upon the waters of said creek; neither, sir, was there any liability clause attached to this bill. In pursuance of my duty, I sent copies of this bill to my constituents, residing in Sullivan county, and on the waters of said creek. I asked for their opinion on the subject, and you, sir, have seen their answers contained in the numerous and lengthy remonstrances which, as their representative, I have had the honor to present to this House. I do not intend to discuss the merits of that bill at this time, for I intend doing so when it comes up for action in the House, and will then insist upon such amendments as will protect the interests of my constituents. I only refer to it now, sir, because there is considerable excitement in Sullivan county in relation to the subject; and I believe that my course upon the subject of booms in Loyalsock creek has been misrepresented.

I am here, sir, sworn to protect the interests of my constituents, and I honestly intend to do so to the best of my abilities. I have no personal interest in the matter; but I am proud of little Sullivan. I know that her coal, iron and lumber, must eventually place her in a position that her citizens can look upon with pride. Settled as it is, by persons of limited means, who went there for the purpose of making and securing homes for themselves and their families. Persons proverbial for their honesty and integrity. I look upon every project calculated to place the interests of the many at the mercy of the few with distrust. Now, sir, whilst this is true, it is no less true, that the interests of the people require that the Loyalsock creek should be improved, and whilst I have opposed, and will oppose any monopoly, or any company in which the interests of all my constituents in Sullivan county is not protected, I wish it distinctly understood that I do not oppose the bill now under consideration.

I do not oppose it, because in the bill itself there is nothing wrong. It grants no special privileges, except the right to erect and maintain sheer booms on Mr. Ranson's own premises, and requires that they be so constructed as to admit, at all times, a free, safe and easy passage for rafts and other craft floating upon the said stream, and providing that all laws now in force, relating to the manner of declaring dams unsafe for navigation, public nuisances, and providing remedies for injuries to personal property thereby sustained, be extended to the said sheer booms. I do not believe that any of my constituents, when they understand the provisions of this act, will have any objections to it; on the contrary, I believe that with the amendments just attached, they will find and acknowledge that it is to their interest to have these sheer booms at the mouth of the creek, because they too can have the use of them in securing their own logs, by paying reasonable charges.

No objections being made, said bill was laid aside for second reading.

No. 495. "An Act to repeal an act to establish a ferry over the river Susquehanna at or near Ulster, in Bradford county, approved 27th day of March, 1855, and the several supplements thereto, approved respectively, May 5, 1855, and March 24, 1856."

No. 496. "Supplement to the act authorizing Henry Wilton to construct a dam or breakwater in the river Susquehanna, approved April 3, 1851."

No. 498. "A supplement to an act to incorporate the Quakake railroad company."

Sen. 243. "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Lewisburg Centre and Spruce Creek railroad company."

Sen. 77. "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Meadville railroad company, approved the 20th day of May, 1857."

No. 502. "An Act to incorporate the Towanda and Wapassena railroad company."

No. 503. "A further supplement to an act authorizing the Governor to incorporate the Bear Mountain railroad company, and for other purposes, passed 13th day of July, 1842."

No. 509. "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Navigation railroad company, approved April 20, 1854."

No. 514. "A further supplement to the act to incorporate the borough of Reading, Berks county, into a city, passed 16th day of March, 1857."

Mr. MCCLURE asked to have House bill No. 759, "An Act repealing the fourth section of an act to establish a new judicial district, approved 21st March, 1847," which was agreed to.

No. 515. "An Act extending the provisions of the fifteenth section of the act of April 2, 1853, entitled 'An Act to incorporate the Rosamont cemetery company; relative to judicial proceedings, assessments and jurors in Columbia and Montour; to a certain State road; to the bounty on fox scalps in Luzerne county; to hunting in certain counties, &c.;' to Wyoming county."

No. 532. "An Act to prevent the destruction of trout during the spawning season, in the counties of Lycoming, Clinton and Sullivan."

No. 534. "An Act to prevent the destruction of fish in the Susquehanna river and its tributaries."

On motion of Mr. ECKMAN, Kishacoqui lake creek was embraced within the provisions of the above act.

No. 535. "An Act to encourage the destruction of foxes in Clinton county."

No. 536. "An Act to prevent fishing with nets, seines and set nets, in East Conococheague creek, below the borough of Chambersburg, on the lands owned by Bernard Wolf and William Hleser, known as the Hollywell paper mill property."

No. 537. "An Act to prevent the hunting of deer with dogs in the county of Sullivan."

Mr. JACKSON moved to amend, by including the county of Wayne; which was agreed to.

Mr. WITMAN moved to include Dauphin county; agreed to.

Sen. 70. "An Act to repeal an act for the protection of sheep and taxing of dogs in the county of Blair."

No. 545. "An Act relating to public highways in East Bradford township, Chester county."

No. 547. "An Act authorizing the Frankford and Bristol turnpike road company to reduce the width of said road between certain points."

No. 550. "An Act supplementary to the act, incorporating the Erie and Waterford plank road company."

No. 551. "An Act to require the Pennsylvania railroad company to change the location of a certain road in Wayne township, Mifflin county."

No. 587. "Supplement to an act to protect fruit and punish trespass," &c.

No. 636. "An Act authorizing the State Treasurer to pay Andrew McClelland, grandson of John McClelland, a balance of money due said John McClelland for services rendered in the Indian war of 1782."

No. 588. "A supplement to an act relating to hunting and fishing in the counties of Huntingdon, Carbon, Luzerne, Dauphin, Mifflin, Elk, Pike, Monroe and Butler, approved 24th day of March, 1848, extending the same to the county of Wayne."

No. 590. "An Act to increase the pay of State and county tax in the several townships and boroughs of Delaware county."

No. 596. "An Act to change the time of meeting of the county auditors of Northumberland county."

No. 598. "A supplement to an act to give jurisdiction in equity to the supreme court and the court of common pleas for the county of Philadelphia, in cases of disputed boundaries, approved 15th day of April, 1858."

No. 607. "An Act relating to party walls in the county of Allegheny."

No. 610. "An Act to authorize and require the treasurer of the city of Reading, Berks county, to pay certain costs and fees."

No. 611. "An Act authorizing the auditors of Forest county to re-audit the State account of William R. Coon, former treasurer of said county."

No. 632. "An Act for the relief of Anna Stackhouse, the widow of an old soldier."

No. 634. "An Act to authorize the payment of the claim of Emanuel Will, of Lancaster county."

No. 638. "An Act to incorporate the Towanda library association."

No. 646. "An Act for the better regulation of the Mercer County and Shenango Valley agricultural society."

Mr. OAKS moved to include the county of Montour; which was agreed to.

No. 648. "An Act to repeal the act, approved 20th April, 1855, supplementary to an act, approved 31st March, 1856, to regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors, so far as the said supplementary act applies to the county of Potter."

"An Act to lay out a State road in Westmoreland and Allegheny counties."

"An Act to lay out a State road from DuShore, Sullivan county, to a point near Wells' ferry, Bradford county."

Sen. 467. "A supplement to the act to incorporate the Hanover savings fund society, of York county."

"An Act relating to roads and bridges in Washington county."

No. 650. "An Act relating to Reed street, in the city of Philadelphia."

No. 652. "A further supplement to an act passed 28th February, 1839, incorporating the Royersford bridge company, and several supplements thereto."

No. 653. "An Act to incorporate the Spinnerstown and Hosensack turnpike road company."

No. 654. "An Act relative to supervisors of public highways in Jenner township, Somerset county."

No. 655. "An Act vacating certain lanes and alleys of the out lots of the borough of Beaver, Beaver county."

No. 657. "An Act declaring Toombs run a public highway."

No. 660. "An Act relative to vacating certain streets in the city of Philadelphia."

No. 663. "An Act concerning the appointment of road viewers and road damages in Lehigh county."

No. 664. "An Act to raise the compensation of supervisors of Spring creek township, Elk county."

Mr. PINKERTON moved to include the county of Schuylkill; which was agreed to.

No. 665. "An Act declaring a bridge between the counties of Armstrong and Clarion a county bridge."

No. 668. "An Act to incorporate the Warwick manufacturing company."

Sen. 92. "An Act to extend the Forest improvement company."

No. 672. "A further supplement to the act incorporating the Home manufacturing company."

No. 673. "A supplement to the act incorporating the Mutual Deposit insurance company."

"An Act relating to insurance companies and associations in the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny."

Sen. 307. "An Act to incorporate the Zoological society of Philadelphia."

Sen. 161. "Supplement to the act to incorporate the Greenwood cemetery company, of the borough of Tamaqua."

No. 679. "An Act to incorporate the Evangelical Lutheran synod of West Pennsylvania."

No. 681. "An Act to incorporate the Drivers' beneficial association, No. 1, of the State of Pennsylvania."

OBJECTED BILLS.

By Mr. STEPHENS, "An Act to incorporate the Huntingdon County Bank."

By Mr. ACKER, Senate bill No. 122, "A further supplement to an act to appoint commissioners to view, lay out and construct a State road in Lancaster and Chester counties, approved April 15, 1857."

By Mr. RAMSDELL, "An Act to provide for the erection of a new county out of parts of the counties of Crawford, Warren and Venango."

By Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) "An Act to incorporate the Westonville, Mantua and Fairmount passenger railway company."

By Mr. NEALL, "An Act for the assessment and recovery of damages upon the North Branch and Wyoming canals."

By Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) "An Act to prohibit the importation of fish at improper seasons into Philadelphia."

By Mr. SHEPPARD, "An Act to incorporate the Chemical company of Pennsylvania."

By Mr. STYER, "An Act relating to insurance companies and associations in the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny."

By Mr. NEALL, "An Act to incorporate the Commercial trust company."

By Mr. BOYER, (Clearfield,) "An Act to incorporate the Hydropathic college and institution of Loretto."

BILL RE-CONSIDERED.

Messrs. THORN and WAGENSELLER moved that the House re-consider the vote had on the final passage of the bill authorizing the Auditor General, Attorney General and State Treasurer, to examine the claim of John S. Miller; which was agreed to.

Mr. THORN asked and obtained the unanimous consent of the House, to strike out the amendment offered to the bill by him, yesterday, thus restoring the bill to its original form.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. PATTERSON said that the claimant only desired justice to be done.

Mr. WILLISTON said that provision was made for such cases by the act for the sale of the public works.

Mr. MCCLURE said that if the money was not due to Miller, he did not want it. He only asked that his account might be submitted to the proper accounting officers. He was an honest and respectable man, and had been made bankrupt by this contract. This was the only bill of the session in which the accounting officers were called upon to audit the account.

Mr. NILL would not object to any thing decided upon by the Auditor General, but did object to singling out a bill in this manner. There was no evidence that this bill was any more meritorious than others of the same nature.—There were numbers of claimants who said that they had been made bankrupt by the Commonwealth. It was an old story.

Mr. WILLISTON said that the advocates of the bill had failed to answer his question, viz: whether such cases were not provided for by the act for the sale of the State canals. If the bill was referred to the Auditor General, and he was instructed to report to the House, he might vote in favor of a just appropriation.

Mr. PATTERSON moved to postpone for the present.

Mr. NILL moved to amend by postponing indefinitely.

On the amendment to postpone indefinitely, The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bedford,) and Mr. NILL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Campbell, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Foster, Glatz, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Kinney, Nill, Oaks, Rose, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Walker, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston and Wolf—28.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Bayard, Bryson, Burley, Church, Durhoraw, Eckman, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Good, Gratz, Gray, Green, Hamersly, Kenegy, Mann, McClure, McCurdy, Neall, Palm, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Rouse, Sheppard, Stuart, Styer, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Warden, Wilcox, Wilson, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—39.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to postpone the bill for the present.

VETO MESSAGE.

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented a message from the Governor, which was read, as follows, viz:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER.

Harrisburg, March 15, 1859 }

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith return to the House of Representatives, in which it originated, a bill, entitled "An Act to incorporate the Union school directors in Wattsburg, in the county of Erie," without my approval.

The object of the bill seems to be to secure the erection of school buildings in the borough of Wattsburg, at a cost not exceeding three thousand dollars, at the joint expense of the tax-payers of the borough, and of the townships of Amity and Venango, and yet securing to the former only the use of "one of the rooms on the first floor," and to the two townships neither authority to use a room or send a pupil to the school.

The seventh section authorizes the directors mentioned in the bill "to manage the said buildings" after they are completed, but no regulations or limitations whatever are prescribed, not even so far as to designate the purpose for which they shall be used. The directors are authorized to "rent the buildings to competent teachers," but no obligations or restrictions are imposed upon either, nor are any parties or uses designated to which the rent shall be applied, nor is there any thing in the act to prevent the application of the money to the private purposes of the directors, without accountability to any body. Or, they "may employ teachers, and conduct the same as may best suit the public and those concerned;" but who are meant by "the public," and "those concerned," is left to conjecture. The power to "employ teachers and conduct the same" is unreserved and absolute, without any restrictions upon the directors, or any accountability on their part to the people whose money is used in the erection of the buildings. It is not stated who may be admitted to the school as pupils, or upon what condition; nor are the rights of the people embraced in the territory in any manner defined. No intimation is given as to what kind of schools are to be kept in the buildings; whether sectarian or secular, private or public; nor whether under the general school law or otherwise.—Part of the machinery of the common school system is to be used to secure the erection of the buildings; but further than that, the school system is wholly ignored, and its benefits, so far as the proposed buildings are concerned, denied to the citizens who are compelled to aid in their erection. The bill is also otherwise crude and incongruous, uncertain as to its objects and operation, and exceedingly imperfect in its details.

For these reasons the bill cannot receive the Executive approval, and is therefore returned for re-consideration.

WM. F. PACKER.

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication from the Principal of the Pennsylvania Institution for the instruction of the blind; which was read.

Adjourned until this afternoon at 3 o'clock, P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The SPEAKER called the House to order at 3 o'clock, P. M.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) moved that the House re-consider the vote had on the final passage of the act to pay the claim of Burke & Gonder; which was agreed to.

A motion was made by Mr. WILLIAMS, (Bucks,) that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

On the motion to postpone the bill for the present, Mr. WARDEN moved to postpone indefinitely.

On the motion,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ROSE and Mr. NILL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Acker, Bailet, Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Campbell, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Evans, Fleming, Foster, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gratz, Gray, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Mann, Mahaffey, McCurdy, Miller, Nill, Oaks, Peirce, Pinkerton, Ramsdell, Rose, Rouse, Shafer, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Thorn, Walker, Warden, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Williston, Wolf and Woodring—53.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Burley, Church, Durhoraw, Ellmaker, Fearon, Fisher, Hamersly, Harding, Kenegy, Lawrence, (Washington,)

M'Clure, Palm, Patterson, Price, Proudfoot, Quigley, Sheppard, Styer, Wagenseller, Walborn, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Wilson, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—27.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. WILSON, on leave, presented four petitions signed by two hundred and fifty-one citizens of Beaver county, in favor of the repeal of the law creating the office of county school superintendent.

Also, one from twenty-nine citizens of same county, in favor of a law to afford relief from the evil effects of the present license law.

Also, one from forty-two citizens of same county, in favor of a law to prevent the rendition of fugitive slaves.

Mr. WILCOX asked, but was refused leave, to introduce a resolution that five hundred copies of the report of the managers of the Farmers' High school, he printed in the German language for the use of the House.

A motion was made by Mr. BARNESLEY, that the House re-consider the vote had on the act to prevent the defacing of bank notes.

And on the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

A motion was made by Mr. KINNEY, that the further consideration of the same be postponed for the present; which was agreed to.

The House resumed the consideration of the act for the relief of John S. Miller.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. M'CLURE reiterated the assertion which he had made during the morning session, that Mr. Miller had been rendered bankrupt by this contract. The Committee on Claims of last session had unanimously reported in favor of the application, and the same committee this session had taken a similar course. Two standing committees of the House had thus sanctioned the measure. The relief asked, was not for the benefit of Mr. MILLER, but for his creditors. The money, if the appropriation passed, would go into court, and be paid out to them.

On the final passage,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) and Mr. NILL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Burley, Church, Durboraw, Ellmaker, Fearon, Fisher, Graiz, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Keneagy, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) McHaffey, M'Clure, McDowell, Miller, Palm, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rouse, Styer, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Warden, Wigton, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—41.

NAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Barlow, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Campbell, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Foster, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gray, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Kinney, Mann, M'Curdy, Nill, Oaks, Rose, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Walker, Witman, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Wolf and Woodring—40.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Several of the members having voted after the name of the SPEAKER was called, thus changing the result of the vote; objections were made; whereupon,

On motion of Mr. M'CLURE, the vote first had was re-considered.

And the question again recurring,

Shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CLURE and Mr. PATTERSON, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Burley, Church, Durboraw, Ellmaker, Evans, Fear-on, Fisher, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) McHaffey, M'Clure, McDowell, Miller, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rouse, Styer, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Warden, Wigton, Wilcox, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—41.

NAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Campbell, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Fleming, Foster, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gray, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Kinney, Mann, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Walker, Witman, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Wolf and Woodring—42.

So the question was determined in the negative.

REPORT OF A COMMITTEE.

Mr. WALBORN, on leave, from the Committee on Railroads, reported, with amendments, the act to authorize the Germantown passenger railway company and the Green and Coates Streets passenger railway company, jointly to lay a single track on Fourth and Eighth streets, city of Philadelphia.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (of Washington,) moved that the rules be suspended, and the House proceed to the consideration of the above bill; which was agreed to.

Said bill was then taken up, and the title being under consideration,

Mr. WILLISTON wished to make some remarks before the vote upon the final passage of the bill. The claims of the two contesting parties, the Germantown and Green and Coates, were not unfamiliar to the House, and heretofore their names had been used separately—never in conjunction, as in the present bill. Heretofore they had come into the Legislature, like the bristling lion and the tiger, diametrically opposed. To-day, however, they entered like the Siamese twins.

In itself this was a trifling question, and had perhaps derived its original importance from the fact that the incidentals attached to it were of more account than the subject itself.

He had been startled in the early part of the session, upon returning to Harrisburg after a temporary absence, to find that a blaze of excitement had sprung up within a week. He had asked what was the matter, and could receive no reply, except the ominous words "Germantown" and "Green and Coates." At last he had ascertained the truth, which simply was that two rival corporations had, by some inexplicable means, turned the Legislature upside down.

Mr. GRITMAN wished to inquire whether the gentleman, when he had heard of Germantown and Green and Coates, had heard any allusions made to the underground railway.

Mr. WILLISTON said that he had, because he belonged to that corporation, and there was rarely an occasion when he went home that he did not, in one way or another, help operate that railroad.

This, however, was not to the point. The excitement from the first outbreak seemed to increase, and men who had enlisted under honest motives, became more deeply interested. Such expressions were at length heard as "that's our man. He's fixed on Green and Coates." "That's one of our party; nothing can move him; he's fixed on Germantown."

Now, he did not know exactly what fixed meant.

It was a well settled maxim that men should not only be honest, but should seem to be honest, and avoid even the appearance of evil doing. Now, it would be impossible for the members in the House to vote in favor of the bills without being liable to the charge of being "fixed."

And in this matter the third House had taken the most especial interest. At different times it was apparent that there was a likelihood of one of the bills coming up for consideration, and on such occasions the lobby members had rushed in with force, like a parcel of hounds led by a hurly two hundred and fifty pound captain of the hunt.

The Chairman said that it was not proper to allude to members by name.

Mr. WILLISTON replied that he had not done so.

From these things, which he had just narrated, it was evident that if a bill should pass, connecting these two heretofore rival companies, the House would incur a just suspicion of seeming false.

To avoid this he appealed to the members personally and as legislators of the great State of Pennsylvania to refuse the bill, and not even to appear to be corrupted by outside influences. If this bill was to pass he feared that they would justly incur the suspicion of having been influenced by unfair means. The character of the Legislature should not be trifled with.

If the city of Philadelphia needed a road in the streets named in the bill, he would join in the formation of a bill fifteen lines in length, which would bestow upon the councils the right to grant the privilege. He had already suggested this, and had been met by the answer, apparently half serious, that "the Legislature was cheaper than the local government."

God forbid that such an imputation should rest upon the Legislature, of which he had heretofore considered it an honor to be a member.

Mr. FOSTER said he understood this was a compromise measure, between the high contracting parties who had got up the bill; but he feared the committee of conference represented those companies alone, and that the State's interests had not been looked to. He recollected distinctly that one of the bills, which had been swallowed up in this one now under consideration, contained a clause giving the State fifty thousand dollars for the privileges we are granting in the bill before us. This, it was true, was a compromise measure; but he thought the inducement held out to the State was compromised away entirely. He was willing, as the companies had given up some of the claims in former bills, that the State should do the same; but she should not be asked to give up all. He therefore moved to go into committee to insert the following additional section:

"That before this act shall go into effect, the passenger railroad companies mentioned shall each deposit with the State Treasurer bonds of their respective companies to the amount of $5,000 each, payable to the State in five equal payments without interest, which shall have been recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of Philadelphia, and be a first mortgage on the property and chartered privileges of said roads respectively, until paid."

Mr. THORN moved to amend the amendment by adding "and that the same be appropriated to the payment of Allegheny bonds."

Mr. FOSTER doubted if the gentleman would vote for the section, should he accept his modification.

The motion to go into committee of the whole was not agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WILLISTON and Mr. ROSE, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Balliet, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Burley, Campbell, Chase, Church, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Durboraw, Eckman, Ellmaker, Evans, Fearon, Fisher, Fleming, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gray, Green, Gritman, Hamersly, Harding, Hill, Jackson, Keneagy, Ketchum, Kinney, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, M'Clure, McDowell, Miller, Neall, Nill, Oaks, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rouse, Shafer, Sheppard, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Stuart, Styer, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Walker, Warden, Witman, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bedford,) Williams, (Bucks,) Wolf, Woodring, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—79.

YEAS—Messrs. Barnsley, Foster, Hottenstine, Irish, M'Curdy, Rose and Williston—7.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Agreeably to order, the House resumed the consideration of bills on Private Calendar,

Whereupon the following were read, and no objections being made, laid aside for second reading.

No. 683. "An Act to incorporate the Washington fire insurance company, to be located in the city of Philadelphia."

No. 684. "An Act to incorporate the Penn steamship and steam boiler manufacturing company."

Mr. MILLER offered the following:

Resolved, That as the pupils of the Pennsylvania Institute for the instruction of the blind have visited Harrisburg for the purpose of exhibiting before the Legislature, the Sergeant-at-Arms be directed to keep the doors closed until 7 o'clock, P. M., against all persons except to members, officers and reporters of the Legislature, and those who may accompany them; which was adopted.

Messrs. WILEY and NEALL moved a reconsideration of the vote by which the act for the relief of Jno. S. Miller was negatived.

Mr. WILLISTON opposed the reconsideration, as he had opposed the bill when it was before the House. The act selling the main line of the works of the Pennsylvania railroad contained a clause providing that all claims against the canal should be paid by the purchaser, and yet the Legislature seemed disposed to entertain this application. He was astonished, and yet perhaps without cause; for he had little faith or hope in this House on questions of propriety or integrity.

Mr. NEALL said that his colleague and himself had moved for a reconsideration, because it was their right, and because they had thought proper. As to how they cast their votes, they were not responsible to the gentleman from Tioga, but to their constituents.

Mr. M'CLURE defended the bill, and said that if the members understood it, there would not be twenty opposing votes in the House. The impression seemed to prevail that if the bill passed, the State would have to pay the money. This was a mistake. It would not take one dollar out of the treasury, because the Pennsylvania railroad company would be liable for it to the Commonwealth.

Mr. SHEPPARD had been absent when the previous discussion took place upon this subject, and had not thoroughly understood it when the vote was taken. Now, however, he would vote to reconsider.

Mr. WILLISTON again opposed the bill strongly, and denied having personally alluded to any one, as Mr. NEALL had intimated. He did not wish to give vent to sentiments which, smarting under the recent action of the House, he entertained, and the utterance of which might perhaps exclude him from the hall; not, however, that he considered it much honor to retain his present position.

Mr. IRISH moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HILL moved to postpone the same indefinitely.

And on this motion, the yeas and nays were required by Mr. SMITH, (Berks,) and Mr. BOYER, (Schuylkill,) and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Barnsley, Barlow, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Fleming, Foster, Good, Graham, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Ketchum, Kinney, Nill, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stoneback, Walker, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston and Wolf—25.

NAYS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Bryson, Burley, Church, Ellmaker, Evans, Fearon, Gratz, Gray, Green, Hamersley, Harding, Irish, Keneagy, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, M'Clure, M'Curdy, M'Dowell, Miller, Neall, Palm, Patterson, Peirce, Pinkerton, Price, Proudfoot, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rouse, Sheppard, Stuart, Styer, Thorn, Wagenseller, Warden, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Wilson, Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—46.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to postpone the bill for the present?

It was determined in the negative.

The question again recurring,

Shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WILLISTON and Mr. M'CLURE, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Boyer, (Clearfield,) Burley, Church, Durboraw, Ellmaker, Evans, Fearon, Fisher, Gratz, Green, Hamersly, Harding, Irish, Keneagy, Ketchum, Lawrence, (Washington,) Mann, Mehaffey, M'Clure, Miller, Neall, Palm, Patterson, Pennell, Peirce, Price, Proudfoot, Quigley, Ramsdell, Rohrer, Rouse, Sheppard, Stuart, Styer, Thorn, Wagenseller, Walborn, Warden, Wigton, Wilcox, Wiley, Williams, (Bucks,) Zoller and Lawrence, Speaker—46.

NAYS—Messrs. Barnsley, Barlow, Bayard, Bertolet, Boyer, (Schuylkill,) Brodhead, Bryson, Chase, Custer, Dismant, Dodds, Eckman, Fleming, Foster, Glatz, Good, Graham, Gray, Gritman, Hill, Hottenstine, Jackson, Kinney, Nill, Rose, Shafer, Smead, Smith, (Berks,) Stephens, Stoneback, Walker, Williams, (Bedford,) Williston, Wilson and Wolf—35.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The hour of five having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until next Thursday morning, at nine and a half o'clock.

NO. 616.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

THOMPSON, Judiciary—March 3.

AN ACT to protect the wages of labor.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in all assignments of property, whether real or personal, which may hereafter be made by any person or persons, firm, company or association, whether chartered or not, to trustees or assignees, on account of inability or pretended inability at the time of such assignment to pay his, her, their or its debts, the wages and salaries of persons employed by such person or persons, firm, company or association shall be preferred and paid by such assignees or trustees, before any other creditors of such assignor or assignors.

SEC. 2. That in case of the death of any person resident within this Commonwealth, the wages or salaries of any person employed by him shall be first paid out of his estate before any other debts, except necessary funeral expenses, and medicine, and attendance, furnished in the last sickness; and in case of the dissolution of any firm, company or association, as aforesaid, or of the private sale, or transfer, or any determination whatsoever of the business of such firm, company or association, the wages and salaries of persons employed by them, shall be a lien upon their property, and shall be first paid out of the estate, effects and assets of such firm or company.

SEC. 3. That in all cases of executions, landlord's warrants, attachments, veuditioni exponas, levavi facias, and writs of a like nature, hereafter to be issued for the sale of real or personal property, against any person or persons, firm, company or association as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the sheriff, or other officer executing such writ, to give to the persons employed by the defendant in said writ notice of the issuing thereof by twenty printed handbills, put up in public places in the neighborhood of the property to be sold, at least two weeks before the proposed sale, requiring them to make known to him at least five days before the sale of said property, the kind and amount of their respective claims against such defendant; and when the claims shall have been so made known it shall be the duty of the sheriff or other officer to pay out of the proceeds of the sale under said writ the amount due to each of the persons so employed.

SEC. 4. That it shall and may be lawful for any person or persons to whom claims on account of wages or salaries may be due, from any person, firm, company or association, as aforesaid, when any such claim amounts to the sum of twenty-five dollars, to proceed to collect the same by distraining therefor in the same manner as is provided for the collection of rent, under the first section of the act of twenty-first March, Anno Domini one thousand seven hundred and seventy-two, giving a remedy by distress for rent: Provided, That the property of the actual debtor shall alone be liable to such distress.

SEC. 5. That the claims for wages, or on account of salaries mentioned in the foregoing sections, shall be a lien on the real estate of the persons, firm, company or association, liable to pay the same, prior and superior to all other liens upon said real estate, except the liens of judgments and mortgages, given for the purchase money of the property on which they are liens, and the liens of mechanics and materialmen, filed under the act of sixteenth of June, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, and its supplements, and except as may be in the foregoing sections excepted: Provided, That the persons who may be required to pay the claims intended to be preferred by the provisions of this act, shall, in every case, first exhaust the proceeds of the personalty, if there be such, before resorting to the realty, and that no one claim so preferred, or hereby made a lien, shall exceed the sum of one hundred dollars.

M'CLURE, Judiciary—Feb. 25.

AN ACT relating to rate of interest.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, the act regulating the rate of interest, passed the twenty-eighth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, shall be so constructed as not to affect actions pending under the former usury laws; and at the time of the passage of the act of the twenty-eighth May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; and it is the intention of the Legislature that no plaintiff, in any cause, shall be prejudiced by the passage of the last mentioned act, but that the said act is prospective only in its operation.

No. 723.—FILE OF THE HOUSE.

HAMEL SLY, Select—March, 3.

AN ACT to modify the existing auction laws of the Commonwealth, and to provide more effectually for the collection of the State tax or duty on auction sales.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That any citizen of the United States and of the State of Pennsylvania, paying into the State Treasury the sum of two thousand, and giving bonds in the sum of five thousand dollars, with two or more sufficient securities, to be approved of by the judges of the court of common pleas of said city, the Governor thereupon shall grant him a commission of the first class for one year, to make sales by auction or by public outcry, or on commission, of real estate, stock, vessels, loans and of any and every description of merchandize and personal property whatsoever, and to any amount, in the city of Philadelphia.

SEC. 2. That upon any citizen as aforesaid paying into the State Treasury the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, and giving bonds with securities as aforesaid, the Governor shall grant him a commission of the second class for one year, to make sales in said city by auction or by public outcry, or on commission, of real estate, stocks, loans, vessels, and of any and every description of merchandize and personal property whatsoever; providing the sales so made of merchandize and personal property in any one year does not exceed the sum of one million five hundred thousand dollars.

SEC. 3. That upon any citizen as aforesaid paying into the State Treasury the sum of one thousand dollars, and giving bonds with securities in the sum of three thousand dollars, the Governor shall grant him a commission of the third class for one year to make sales in said city, by auction or by public outcry, or on commission, of real estate, stocks, loans, vessels and of any and every description of merchandize and personal property whatsoever; providing the sales so made of merchandize and personal property in any one year does not exceed the sum of one million of dollars: Provided, That in case the sales of any auctioneer taking out a commission under the second or third class shall exceed the maximum amount authorized by this act, he shall pay into the State Treasury at the close of each year in which his sales shall so exceed said maximum, the sum of five hundred dollars in addition to the amount paid for his original commission.

SEC. 4. That said auctioneers shall pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth, a tax or duty of one-fourth of one per centum on all sales of loans or stocks, and shall also pay into the treasury aforesaid, a tax or duty of one and a half per cent. on all other sales to be made as aforesaid, except on groceries, domestic goods or merchandize, real estate or shipping, as required by and subject to the provisions of existing laws; and it shall be the duty of the auctioneer having charge of such sales, to collect and pay over to the State Treasurer the said duty or tax, and give a true and correct account of the same quarterly, under oath or affirmation.

SEC. 5. That any citizen as aforesaid obtaining an auctioneer's commission of either class, shall, at the time of taking out said commission, be compelled to make oath that he will conform in all things to the true intent and meaning of the several auction laws of this Commonwealth, according to the best of his knowledge, information and belief; and shall also make return at least once each and every year to the State Treasurer of the total amount of sales made by him at auction or on commission of merchandize and personal property; the same to be a true and correct account under oath or affirmation before an alderman of the said city of Philadelphia.

SEC. 6. That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons to make sale by auction or by public outcry in the city of Philadelphia, of real estate, stocks, loans, vessels, merchandize and personal property of any description, except it be by a duly commissioned auctioneer of the said city: Provided, That this act shall not be construed as to interfere with any sales authorized by the courts of said city, or in consequence of any legal proceeding whatever.

SEC. 7. That any person or persons found guilty of selling at auction or public outcry in the city of Philadelphia, except a duly commissioned auctioneer, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon the conviction thereof in the court of quarter sessions of the peace of the said county, be sentenced to pay a fine of five hundred dollars; one-half to go to the informer, and the other half to go to the public school fund of the city of Philadelphia; and for the second offense, he shall be sentenced to pay a like fine, and undergo an imprisonment in the county jail for thirty days; the fine to be applied as in the first offense.

